
15 Then shall the man bring his wife unto the priest, and[i]he shall bring her offering for her, the [j]tenth part of an ephah of barley meal; he shall pour no oil upon it, nor put frankincense thereon; for it is an offering of jealousy, an offering of memorial, bringing iniquity to remembrance.
16 And the priest shall bring her near, and set her before the LORD:
17 And the priest shall take holy [k]water in an earthen vessel; and of the [l]dust that is in the floor of the tabernacle the priest shall take, and put it into the water:
18 And the priest shall set the woman before the LORD, [m]and uncover the woman's head, and put the offering of memorial in her hands, which is the jealousy offering: and the priest shall have in his hand the bitter water that causeth the curse:
19 And the priest shall charge her by an oath, and say unto the woman, If no man have lain with thee, and if thou hast not gone aside to uncleanness with another instead of thy husband, be thou free from this bitter water that causeth the curse:
20 But if thou hast gone aside to another instead of thy husband, and if thou be defiled, and some man have lain with thee beside thine husband:

(3) Test of jealousy

21 [a]Then the [b]priest shall charge the woman with an oath of cursing, and the priest shall say unto the woman, The LORD make thee a curse and an oath among thy people, when the LORD doth make thy thigh to rot, and thy belly to swell;
22 And this water that causeth the curse shall go into thy bowels, to make thy belly to swell, and thy thigh to rot: And the woman shall say, Ā-mĕn', ā-mĕn'.
23 And the priest shall [c]write these curses in a book, and he shall [d]blot them out with the bitter water:
24 And he shall cause [e]the woman to drink the bitter water that causeth the curse: and the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter.
25 Then the priest shall take the jealousy offering out of the woman's hand, and shall wave the offering before the LORD, and offer it upon the altar:
26 And the priest shall take an handful of the offering, even the memorial thereof, and burn it upon the altar, and afterward shall cause the woman to drink the water.
27 And when he hath made her to drink the water, then it shall come to pass, that, if she be defiled, and have done trespass against her husband, that the water that causeth the curse shall enter into her, and become bitter, and her belly shall swell, and her thigh shall rot: and the woman shall be a curse among her people.
28 And if the [f]woman be not defiled, but be clean; then she shall be free, and shall conceive seed.
29 This is the law of jealousies, when a wife goeth aside to another instead of her husband, and is defiled;
30 Or when the spirit of jealousy cometh upon him, and he be jealous over his wife, and shall set the woman before the LORD, and the priest shall execute upon her all this law.
31 Then shall the [h]man be guiltless from iniquity, and this woman shall bear her iniquity.

123 CHAPTER 6

5 Voluntary Nazarite vows.
(1) Fourteen laws of separation

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
2 Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and say unto them, When either man or [i]woman shall [j]separate themselves to vow a vow of a Năz'a-rite, to separate themselves unto the a This was the 2nd charge of the priest to the woman (v 19 with 21)

b 14 acts of the priest:
1 Bringing the accused woman near (v 16) 18)
2 Setting her before the Lord (v 16,
3 Putting holy water in an earthen vessel (v 17)
4 Putting dust of the tabernacle in the holy water 18)
5 Uncovering the woman's head (v
6 Putting her offering in her hands
7 Holding the bitter water in his own hand 19-20)
8 Charging the woman by an oath (v
9 Charging her again by an oath (v 21-22)
10 Writing the curses in a book (v 23)
11 Blotting them out with bitter water
12 Causing the woman to drink of the bitter water that would bring a curse (v 24, 26-27)
13 Taking the jealousy offering out of her hands and waving it before the Lord (v 25)
14 Offering it upon the brazen altar, taking a handful of the offering and burning it (v 25-26)

c Not only could Moses write, but ordinary priests could also write; thus, writing was a common thing in those times (v 23; Ex. 17:14, note) d The curses were written down with an ink that could be wiped off with a water-filled sponge which would be returned to the bitter water, so that the woman would virtually drink the very words of the curse. Even today, it is said that in certain pagan countries the natives seek to obtain the full force of a written charm by drinking the water into which they have washed it

e The drinking of the water symbolized the acceptance of the curse by the woman, if she was guilty (v 24, 26-27)

f The drink itself could only produce the bitter effects of the curse as described, by a special act of God. Generally, it may be assumed that if a woman was guilty such an ordeal would bring her to confession before submitting voluntarily to such a curse

g An innocent woman would naturally submit to such a trial as described here, to prove her innocence and win her husband's confidence again

3 blessings to the innocent:
1 The trial confirmed her innocence (v 28)
2 It set her free from further embarrassing accusations of her husband
3 Besides being spared the curse of the bitter water, the innocent woman was blessed with children

h No punishment was provided for the man even though he, being of a jealous disposition and having no reason to accuse his wife, caused her to go through such a trial needlessly. Unfounded jealousy is cruel (Song 8:6) and unlawful; but lawful jealousy is a protection to the home. Even God revealed Himself by the name Jealous to show Israel that He would not share their worship with other gods (Ex. 34:14; Dt. 4:24; 5:9; 6:15; Josh. 24:19; Ezek. 39:25; Nah. 1:2; Zech. 1:14; 8:2). God's experiences with the nation could have prompted Him to show leniency toward the jealous-hearted man - giving him the opportunity as here, to prove his accusations against his wife either founded or unfounded

i Nearly always the term Nazarite is thought of as referring to men, but according to this a woman could also take the Nazarite vow and separate herself unto God and His service (v 2). See Women in Index

j Heb. pāla, to separate; distinguish. It is not the same word(Heb. nazar) meaning to hold aloof; abstain from food, drink, and all defilement; which is also trans. separate in v 2-3, and separateth in v 5-6. The Heb. nezer, from nazar is trans. separation, meaning something set apart, in v 4-5, 8, 12, 13, 18, 19, 21. The Heb. nazir, also from nazar is trans. Nazarite in v 2, 13, 18, 19, 20, 21; Judg. 13:5, 7; 16:17; Lam. 4:7; Amos 2:11-12, and means a separated or consecrated person From the Nazarite idea came the Rechabites (Jer. 35), the Essenes, Anchorites, Hermits, Monks, and other monastic orders. To say that Christ was a Nazarite is unscriptural, for He drank a 10 commands - a Nazarite:

1 He shall separate himself from wine and strong drink (v 3)
2 He shall not drink vinegar of wine
3 Or vinegar of strong drink
4 Or liquor of grapes
5 He shall not eat ripe grapes (v 4)
6 Or dried grapes
7 He shall eat nothing made of the vine, from the kernels to the husk
8 He shall have no razor come upon his head during his Nazariteship (v 5) 9 He shall be holy 10 He shall not be defiled for the dead, even for father, mother, sister, or brother (v 6-8)

b 4fold pattern of divine relationship:
1 Separation (6:1-12)
2 Worship (6:13-21)
3 Blessing (6:22-27)
4 Service (7:1-89)

c Yayin, Bible facts about wine, p. 152

d Heb. az shekar, strong or harsh intoxicant (facts about wine, p. 152)

e Heb. chomets, vinegar, from chamets, to be pungent, sour, fermented (v 3; Ruth 2:14; Ps. 69:21; Pr. 10:26; 25:20, Cp. Mt. 27:34, 48; Mk. 15:36; Lk. 23:36; Jn. 19:29-30)

f Heb. mishrah, to loosen; macerate; steeped juice of the grapes mashed and soaked in water (v 3; Song 7:2, Cp. Ex. 22:29)

g Fresh or ripe grapes (v 3)

h We call them raisins (v 3)

i That is, juices, liquors, fresh grapes, raisins, jellies, jams, cakes or anything else made of grapes (v 4)

j A sour drink was made of the stones of unripe grapes, and cakes were made of the husks (Heb. zag, skins of grapes, Hos. 3:1)

k Heb. ta'ar, a knife or razor. It is trans. razor (v 5; Ps. 52:2; Isa. 7:20; Ezek. 5:1, Cp. Judg. 13:5; 16:17; 1 Sam. 1:11); shave (8:7); sheath (1 Sam. 17:51; 2 Sam. 20:8; Ezek. 21:3-5, 30); and scabbard (Jer. 47:6)

l Among the Jews an abundance of hair was considered a mark of physical strength and perfection, and baldness a mark of physical imperfection (Lev. 21:20; 2 Ki. 2:23; Isa. 3:24). The free growth of hair on the heads of Nazarites represented the dedication of a person with his whole strength and powers to the service of God (v 5)

m If a Nazarite touched a dead body, even accidently, he was defiled and needed to shave his head and offer a sacrifice (v 9-12)

n In this respect he was like the high priest who was not supposed to defile himself for the dead, even for his father, mother, brother, or sister (Lev. 21:10-15)

o Here the unshorn locks of the Nazarite are called his consecration. This simply means they were a sign or physical mark of such consecration (v 5-8). Even unpruned grape vines during the sabbatical year were considered Nazarite. The Heb. for undressed in Lev. 25:5, 11 is from nazir, trans. Nazarite in this chapter (note j, v 2)

p See 7 commands - defilement of a Nazarite, p. 163

q Heb. kaphar, cover (note a, Ex. 29:33)

r There was no moral sin involved in such defilement for the dead; nevertheless, the atonement or covering for this uncleanness was necessary to make the person wholly acceptable with God as a Nazarite (v 11)

s Heb. qadash, sanctify (note e, Ex. 29:21). This means he should start his consecration, sanctification, or setting apart of himself to God anew, beginning again to let his hair grow and abstaining from all forbidden things as before he was defiled. The only difference between the old and new consecrations was that the days of the old one were lost (v 12)

t Heb. naphal, to fall. The idea is that the past consecration days would be lost; that is, they would not be counted and a new start would have to be made. The days were not to be remembered just as the righteousness of a righteous man shall not be remembered when he goes back into sin (Ezek. 3:20; 18:24; 33:12-13)

u 8 commands - Nazariteship completed:
1 When a Nazariteship is fulfilled and the days of his vow are completed, the Nazarite shall be brought to the door of the tabernacle (v 13)
2 He shall offer his offering to God:
(1) A yearling male lamb (cost

LORD:
●3 He [a]shall [b]separate himself from [c]wine and [d]strong drink, and shall drink no [e]vinegar of wine, or vinegar of strong drink, neither shall he drink any [f]liquor of grapes, [g]nor eat moist grapes, or [h]dried.
●4 All the days of his separation shall he eat [i]nothing that is made of the vine tree, from [j]the kernels even to the husk.
●5 All the days of the vow of his separation there shall [k]no razor come upon his head: until the days be fulfilled, in the which he separateth himself unto the LORD, he shall be holy, and shall let the [l]locks of the hair of his head grow.
●6 All the days that he separateth himself unto the LORD he shall come at [m]no dead body.
●7 He shall not make himself unclean [n]for his father, or for his mother, for his brother, or for his sister, when they die: because the [o]consecration of his God is upon his head.
●8 All the days of his separation he is holy unto the LORD.

(2) Interrupted vows (Dt. 25:21)

●9 And if any man die very suddenly by him, and he hath defiled the head of his consecration; then he [p]shall shave his head in the day of his cleansing, on the seventh day shall he shave it.
●10 And on the eighth day he shall bring two turtles, or two young pigeons, to the priest, to the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
●11 And the priest shall offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, and make an [q]atonement for him, for that [r]he sinned by the dead, and shall [s]hallow his head that same day.
●12 And he shall consecrate unto the LORD the days of his separation, and shall bring a lamb of the first year for a trespass offering: but the days that were before [t]shall be lost, because his separation was defiled.

(3) Completed vows: 12 laws

●13 ¶ And this is the law of the Năz'a-rite, when the days of his separation are fulfilled: [u]he shall be brought unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation:
●14 And he shall offer his offering unto the LORD, one he lamb of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering, and one ewe lamb of the first year without blemish for a sin offering, and one ram without blemish for peace offerings, ●15 And a basket of unleavened bread, cakes of fine flour mingled with oil, and wafers of unleavened bread anointed with oil, and their meat offering, and their drink offerings.
●16 And the priest shall bring them before the LORD, and shall offer his sin offering, and his burnt offering:
●17 And he shall offer the ram for a sacrifice of peace offerings unto the LORD, with the basket of unleavened bread: the priest shall offer also his meat offering, and his drink offering.
●18 And the [a]Năz'a-rite shall shave the head of his separation at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and shall take the [b]hair of the head of his separation, and put it in the fire which is under the sacrifice of the peace offerings.
●19 And the priest shall take the [c]sodden shoulder of the ram, and one unleavened cake out of the basket, and one unleavened wafer, and shall put them upon the hands of the Năz'a-rite, after the hair of his separation is shaven:
●20 And the priest shall [d]wave them for a wave offering before the LORD: this is holy for the priest, with the wave breast and heave shoulder: and after that the Năz'a-rite may drink wine.
21 This is the law of the Năz'a-rite who hath vowed, and of his offering unto the LORD for his separation, beside that that his hand shall get: according to the vow which he vowed, so he must do after the law of his separation.

5 Priestly benediction

■22 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying,
●23 [e]Speak unto Aăr'on and unto his sons, saying, On this wise ye shall bless the children of Iş'ra-el, saying unto them, 24 [f]The LORD [g]bless thee, and keep thee:
25 The LORD make his face shine upon thee, and be gracious unto thee:
26 The [h]LORD lift up his countenance upon thee, and give thee peace.
●27 And they shall [i]put my name upon the children of Iş'ra-el; and I will bless them.

CHAPTER 7 124

III Religious laws and events (Lev. 7:1-10:10). 1 Dedication of the altar. (1) Gifts of the twelve princes

AND it came to pass [j]on the day that Mō'ses [k]had fully set up the tabernacle, and had anointed it, and sanctified it, and all the instruments thereof, both the altar and all the vessels thereof, and had anointed them, and sanctified them;
2 That [l]the princes of Iş'ra-el, heads of the house of their fathers, who were the princes of the tribes, and were over them that were numbered, offered:
3 And they brought their offering before the LORD, [m]six covered wagons, and twelve oxen; a wagon for two of the princes, and for each one an ox: and they brought them before the tabernacle.

(2) Gifts accepted by Moses

■4 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying,

a Nazarite vows were for various lengths of time. Only a few are on record as lasting a lifetime, such as the experience of Samson (Judg. 13:5, 7; 16:17); Samuel (1 Sam. 11:11), and John the Baptist (Lk. 1:15). Samson is called a Nazarite, but Samuel and John are not so-named; only the law of Nazarite applied to them. Paul once took a Nazarite vow, it seems from Acts 21:23-27

b As the Nazarite wore his hair without cutting it in honor to God during his vow, it was only fitting that when the vow was finished, his hair should be cut off and offered to God in the tabernacle sacrifice of peace offering which represented communion with God

c Sodden means boiled

d All wave offerings belonged to the priest who made the sacrifices and atonement for the Nazarite upon completing his vow (v 20)

e 2 commands - priestly benediction:
1 Speak to Aaron and his sons that on this wise shall they bless Israel (v 23-27)
2 They shall pronounce My name over Israel in blessing them (v 27)

f 6fold blessing upon Israel, Jehovah:
1 Bless you (v 24)
2 Keep you 25)
3 Make his face to shine upon you (v
4 Be gracious to you 26)
5 Lift up His countenance upon you (v 6 Give you peace

g 6 things Jehovah is to His people:
1 The Blesser of His people (v 24)
2 The Preserver
3 The Provider (v 25)
4 The Lover of His people
5 The Caretaker (v 26)
6 The Peace Giver

h The repetition of Jehovah 3 times suggests the Divine Trinity, Jehovah the Father, Jehovah the Son, and Jehovah the Holy Ghost, and corresponds with the apostolic benediction (2 Cor. 13:14, Cp. Mt. 28:19; 1 Jn. 5:7, note)

i Heb. sym, to put or call a name (v 27). It means they shall pronounce My sacred name over Israel in blessing them, or bless the people by My authority

j On the 1st day of the 1st month, 11 1/2 months after leaving Egypt (Ex. 40:2; Num. 33:3) k 5 acts of Moses (v 1): 1 Set up the tabernacle

2 Anointed the tabernacle
3 Sanctified the tabernacle of 4 Anointed all the instruments therein
5 Sanctified the instruments thereof Instruments here refers to all the furnishings of the tabernacle - the ark and the mercy seat, the golden and brazen altars and all their vessels, the table of showbread and all its vessels, the candlestick and all its vessels, and the laver and its foot (Ex. 40)

l These 12 princes are listed in 1:5-16

m The offerings were 6 covered wagons and 12 oxen - one wagon for every 2 tribes and one ox for each of the 12 tribes (v 3)

$20.00) for a burnt offering (v 14)
(2) A yearling female lamb (cost $20.00) for a sin offering offering
(3) A ram (cost $20.00) for a peace
(4) A basket of unleavened bread (v 15) with oil
(5) Unleavened cakes mingled
(6) Unleavened wafers anointed with oil (v 15)
(7) Meat offering
(8) Drink offering
3 The priest shall bring the sacrifices and offerings before the Lord and offer them (v 16-17)
4 The Nazarite shall shave his head at the door of the tabernacle, and burn the hair in the fire of the peace offerings (v 18)
5 After he is shaved the priest shall take the boiled shoulder of the ram, 1 unleavened cake, and 1 unleavened wafer, and put them upon the hands of the Nazarite (v 19)
6 The priest shall wave them for a wave offering before the Lord (v 20)
7 They, together with the wave breast and heave shoulder, shall be holy for the priest
8 After this, the Nazarite shall be free to drink wine and do other things as before his vow (v 20-21)
Provision was thus made in Nazarite law for a man or woman to become a Nazarite for a period of time, or for the whole life, as decided by the individual a 2 commands - gifts of princes:

1 Take the gifts of the princes that they may do service, helping to transport the tabernacles (v 5)
2 Give them to the Levites according to their service

b The wagons were divided between the 2 branches of the Levites that were not required to carry their loads upon their shoulders - 2 wagons for Gershonites, and 4 wagons for Merarites, because they had the heavier burdens, the foundation sockets and other parts of the tabernacle which would be hard to carry (v 7-9 with 3:25-26, 31-32, 36-37; 4:4-15, 21-33)

c The Kohathites carried the furniture upon their shoulders, not being allowed to haul it in wagons or put it upon pack animals (v 9)

d The brazen altar was dedicated for 12 days and each prince made his offering according to his day (v 11-12, 18, 24, 30, 36, 42, 48, 54, 60, 66, 72, 78)

e Judah's offering: (see note i, below)

1 silver charger - 130 shekels @64¢ each (over 5 lbs.)	$ 83.20
1 silver bowl - 70 shekels @ 64¢ (2 2/3 lbs.)	44.80
1 gold spoon (full of incense) - 10 shekels @ $9.69 1/2 a shekel	96.95
3 young bullocks @ $325.00 each	975.00
6 rams @ $20.00 each	120.00
6 lambs @ $20.00 each	120.00
6 kids @ $20. 00 each	120.00
Total	$1,559.95

Meat (food) offerings for above:

16 1/2 gallons flour @ 80¢ each	$13.20
39 quarts of oil @ $1.40 each	54.60
39 quarts of wine @ $1.60 each	62.40
Grand total	$1,690.15

f Heb. gearah, a deep bowl or dish. The vessel was used to knead bread in or mix various ingredients of the showbread, cakes, etc. (v 13, 19, 25, 31, 37, 43, 49, 55, 61, 67, 73, 79, 84, 85). Cp. Mt. 14:8, 11; Mk. 6:25, 28; Ezra 1:9

g A shekel of silver was worth 64¢ (v 13)

h Heb. mizraq, a bowl or basin. This was used to catch the blood of animals and to carry water from the laver (v 13, 19, 25, 31, 37, 43, 49, 55, 61, 67, 73, 79, 84, 85). Cp. 2 Kl. 25:15; 1 Chr. 28:17; Jer. 52:18-19; Amos 6:6; 14:20

i The charger weighed a little over 5 pounds and the bowl about 2 2/3; but how much flour they held is not known. From 15:1-11 we learn that specified amounts of flour were to be offered with each animal - a tenth deal (1/2 gal.) with each lamb and kid; 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) with each ram; and 3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) with each bullock. For Judah's offering (note e, above) the flour required would be: 4 1/2 gallons for the 3 bullocks; 6 for the 6 rams; 3 for the 6 lambs; 3 for the 6 kids - a total of 16 1/2 gallons of flour (over 2 bushels), which at the estimated price of 80¢ a gallon would amount to $13.20. The oil required would be: 1/2 hin for each of the 3 bullocks (9 qts.); 1/3 hin for each of the 6 rams (12 qts.); 1/4 hin for each of the 6 lambs (9 qts.); 1/4 hin for each of the 6 kids (9 qts.) - a total of 39 quarts of oil, which at the estimated price of $1.40 a quart would amount to $54.60. The wine required (in same amounts as the oil) would be a total of 39 quarts which, at the price of $1.60 each would amount to $62.40. These totals - flour $13.20, oil $54.60, wine $62.40 - added to Judah's other offerings of $1,559.95 would make the grand total: $1,690.15. A like offering was made by each of the other tribes, bringing the full amount from all 12 tribes to $20,281.80

j A shekel of gold had the value of $9.69 1/2 (v 14)

k The number of animals for each tribe's offering was 21 - a total of 252 for the 12 tribes:

Young bullocks	36
Rams	72
Yearling lambs	72
Yearling kids of the goats	72
Total for the 12 days	252

In the individual listings of the animals for each tribe, it is said that the burnt offering was a young bullock and the peace offerings were two oxen (v 15, 17). In v 87-88 where totals are given it is said that the oxen for both the burnt offering and the peace offerings were bullocks. For this reason we have listed

6 [e]Take it of them, that they may be to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation; and thou shalt give them unto the Lē'vites, to every man according to his service.

(4) Offerings of the princes: A First day: Judah's offering of $1,690.15

10 And the princes offered for dedicating of the altar in the day that it was anointed, even the princes offered their offering before the altar.

11 And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, They shall offer their offering, [d]each prince on his day, for the dedicating of the altar.

12 ¶ And he that offered his offering the first day was Näh'shŏn the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb, of the tribe of Jū'dah:

13 And his [e]offering was one silver [f]charger, the weight thereof was an hundred and thirty [g]shekels, one silver [h]bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them were [i]full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

(5) Second day: Issachar's offering of $1,690.15

18 ¶ On the second day Nĕ-thăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar, prince of [l]Ĭs'sa-char, did offer:

19 He [m]offered for his offering one silver charger, the weight whereof was an hundred and thirty shekels, one silver bowl of seventy shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary; both of them full of fine flour mingled with oil for a meat offering:

a Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun camped east of the tabernacle (2:1-9)

b Zebulun's offering: the same as Judah's, the total estimated value amounting to $1,690.15. See notes e, i, v 13 c All meat offerings were of food, mostly flour, oil, and wine - not the flesh of animals

d It will be noticed that the 12 offerings of the princes were exactly alike. They were actually gifts from the tribes, not from the princes personally. This indicated that all the tribes of Israel were equally indebted to God for blessings, so all should testify of their obligation to Him and share alike in expressing thanksgiving. The vessels were all sacrificial ones, and the animals were all clean beasts fit for sacrifice. Everything was intended to show the gratitude and worship of the nation. Such equality excluded all jealousy and competing with one another to see who could give the best or most costly things to God. Thus, the sin of emulation was nipped in the bud. See Gal. 5:26

e The tribes of Reuben, Simeon, and Gad were encamped on the south side of the tabernacle (2:10-16)

m Issachar's offering: the same as Judah's, the total estimated value being $1,690.15. See notes e, i, v 13 n Heb. kaph, a hollow hand, spoon. It was a hollow cup with a handle for dipping (v 14, 20, 26, 32, 38, 44, 50, 56, 62, 68, 74, 80, 84, 86). Cp. 4:7; 1 Kl. 7:50; 2 Kl. 25:14; 2 Chr. 4:22; 24:14; Jer. 52:18-19

7 commands - defilement of a Nazarite (6:9)

1 If a Nazarite is accidently defiled by the dead, he shall go through a cleansing for 8 days (v 9-10)

2 On the 7th day he shall shave his head (v 9)

3 On the 8th day he shall bring 2 pigeons or turtledoves (estimated cost today $2.00) to the priest at the tabernacle door (v 10)

4 The priest shall offer one for a sin offering and the other for a burnt offering and make an atonement for him (v 11)

5 The Nazarite shall hallow (sanctify, set apart) his head the same day

6 He shall consecrate unto the Lord the days of his separation, and shall bring a yearling lamb for a trespass offering (v 12)

7 The days of his past consecration shall be lost. He shall begin his separation again, because of being defiled by the dead

6 things complainers remembered (11:5)

1 Fish. They are mentioned 62 times in Scripture, being classed as both clean and unclean food (Lev. 11; Dt. 14)

2 Cucumbers. They were a variety some different from ours - about a foot in length and very delicious. See Isa. 1:8

3 Melons. These were said to be watermelons which grew in abundance in Egypt where the river Nile covered the land and receded, leaving the ground very rich. They were used in Egypt as meat, drink, and medicine

4 Leeks. The Heb. word trans. leeks here is trans. grass in 1 Kl. 18:5; Job 8:12; 40:15; Ps. 104:14. It is said this was a vegetable peculiar to Egypt and something like clover. The common people ate it as a delicacy

5 Onions. They were the same as ours except that they were sweet to the taste and the juices did not make the eyes burn

6 Garlick. This vegetable was evidently plentiful in Egypt in the days of Moses, being one of the more popular foods among the poorer classes

c Gad's offering: the same as Judah's (notes c, l, v 13), with a total estimated value of $1,690.15 d Whether this was the sabbath day or not, we know that the butchering and all necessary work connected with the sacrifices continued without a break for 12 days. This means that much work was done on one or two sabbaths during the period, according to which day of the week the sacrificing began. As in the law of Christ, doing good on the sabbath day was required (Mk. 2:24-3:7). See Sabbath in the Index

Source of quails (11:31)

The wind was from the Lord, being His means of causing the quails in flight to come near and all around the camp of Israel. Many quails are said to visit Egypt during the spring months, crossing the Red Sea into the Sinai peninsula. Pliny writes of them coming into Italy in great numbers, and so exhausted with long flight that if they sighted a boat so many would settle thereon that it would sink it. Quails multiply in such numbers as to form clouds in migration. Mother-birds lay from 12 to 20 eggs each, in a season. Quails always fly with the wind when crossing a body of water lest they tire so much they fall. In the case of Israel's feast of quails, God simply caused them to fly out of their regular course by a strong wind, and thus made them come near the camp of Israel a day's journey all around. They came flying 2 cubits (slightly over 4 ft. counting 25 inches to the cubit) above the ground so they could be conveniently caught and killed - some to be dried in the sun for future use (v 31)

The biggest quail hunt in history (11:32)

The people killed quails for 2 full days and 1 night - until the least that gathered had 10 homers (v 32). Each homer contained 10 baths or 10 ephahs (Ezek. 45:11) which would be 10 times 1 bushel and 3 pints (the measure of 1 ephah) or nearly 10 1/2 bushels. One person killing 10 such homers then, would heap to himself about 105 bushels of the birds. Since the record says the people gathered quails, implying all grown-ups and not the men of war only, let us suppose that at least 3,000,000 of the estimated 6,100,800 (of note b, Ex. 12:37) took part in this. On the basis of a dressed quail being the size to fill a pint container, with 64 pints to the bushel we can figure that the one who gathered the least (105 bushels) had 6,720 pints or 6,720 quails in his heap. All of the 3,000,000 grown-ups gathering no more than the least amount would bring the total to 20,160,000,000 quails caught and killed on this occasion. Counting these to be worth the low estimate of $1.00 each on today's market, we see that the greedy Israelites most likely gathered upwards of 20 billion dollars worth of quails!

1 Preparation of the red heifer (v 3-7)
2 Burning the heifer (v 8)
3 Gathering ashes of the heifer (v 9-10)
4 Touching a dead body (v 11-16)

9 Touching a grave
10 Sprinkling water of separation upon the unclean person (v 18-21)

The red-heifer law (19:12)

The red-heifer law was an unusual one, being ordained for ceremonial cleansing or purification from bodily defilement. The heifer was provided at public expense, because it was used for the good of the whole community. The sacrifice was red, symbolizing blood; and was the only sacrifice designated by color. It was given to Eleazar, not the high priest, for it incurred uncleanness and no high priest could be so defiled (v 6-7 with Lev. 21:10-12). The red heifer was killed outside the camp, symbolizing Christ crucified outside the camp (v 3 with Heb. 13:12; Lev. 24:14). Its blood being sprinkled before the tabernacle 7 times (v 4), symbolized the acceptance of the sacrifice by God. Any man could be made clean or sanctified by another, using the water of separation (v 12-16, 17-21). It took 2 applications and 7 days to make an unclean person clean (v 17-21). Egyptians had a similar sacrifice made to Typhon, their evil being, once a year, their sacrifice being a red bull instead of the heifer

(17) New communion with God

89 And when Mo'ses was gone into the tabernacle of the congregation to speak with him, then he heard the voice of one speaking unto him from off the mercy seat that was upon the ark of testimony, from between the two cherubims: and he spake unto him.

CHAPTER 8 125

2 The priesthood (Lev. 8; Ex. 28). (1) Service of Aaron

AND the LORD spake unto Mo'ses, saying,
2 Speak unto Aar'on, and say unto him, When thou lightest the lamps, the seven lamps shall give light over against the candlestick.

3 And Aar'on did so; he lighted the lamps thereof over against the candlestick, as the LORD commanded Mo'ses.

4 And this work of the candlestick was of beaten gold, unto the shaft thereof, unto the flowers thereof, was beaten work: according unto the pattern which the LORD had shewed Mo'ses, so he made the candlestick.

(2) Command to consecrate the Levites (Ex. 29)

5 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mo'ses, saying,
6 Take the Le'vites from among the children of Is'ra-el, and cleanse them.
7 And thus shalt thou do unto them, to cleanse them: Sprinkle water of purifying upon them, and let them shave all their flesh, and let them wash their clothes, and so make themselves clean.
8 Then let them take a young bullock with his meat offering, even fine flour mingled with oil, and another young bullock shalt thou take for a sin offering.
9 And thou shalt bring the Le'vites before the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt gather the whole assembly of the children of Is'ra-el together:
10 And thou shalt bring the Le'vites before the LORD: and the children of Is'ra-el shall put their hands upon the Le'vites:
11 And Aar'on shall offer the Le'vites before the LORD for an offering of the children of Is'ra-el, that they may execute the service of the LORD.
12 And the Le'vites shall lay their hands upon the heads of the bullocks: and thou shalt offer the one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering, unto the LORD, to make an atonement for the Le-vites.
13 And thou shalt set the Le'vites before Aar'on, and before his sons, and offer them for an offering unto the LORD.
14 Thus shalt thou separate the Le'vites from among the children of Is'ra-el: and the Le'vites shall be mine.

(3) Service after consecration (Lev. 3:11-51; 18:1; Ex. 29)

15 And after that shall the Le'vites go in to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation: and thou shalt cleanse them, and offer them for an offering.

16 For they are wholly given unto me from among the children of Is'ra-el; instead of such as open every womb, even instead of the firstborn of all the children of Is'ra-el, have I taken them unto me.

17 For all the firstborn of the children of Is'ra-el are mine, both man and beast: on the day that I smote every firstborn in the land of E'gypt I sanctified them for myself.

18 And I have taken the Le'vites for all the firstborn of the children of Is'ra-el.

19 And I have given the Le'vites as a gift to Aar'on and to his sons from among the children of Is'ra-el, to do the serv-

a See Ex. 25:31-40, notes
b 9 commands - consecration of Levites:
1 Take the Levites from among Israel and cleanse them (v 6)
2 Do this to cleanse them: sprinkle water of purification upon them, and let them shave all their flesh, and wash their clothes (v 7)
3 Then offer 2 bullocks, one for a burnt offering with his meat offering, and the other for a sin offering (v 8, 12)
4 Bring the Levites and all Israel before the tabernacle (v 9)
5 Bring the Levites before the Lord, and have the children of Israel put their hands upon them (v 10)
6 Aaron shall offer the Levites before the Lord as an offering from Israel to execute the service of the Lord (v 11)
7 The Levites shall lay their hands upon the heads of the bullocks and offer one for a sin offering, and the other for a burnt offering to make an atonement for themselves (v 12)
8 Set the Levites before Aaron, and before his sons, and offer them for an offering to the Lord (v 13)
9 Thus you shall separate the Levites from among Israel and they shall be Mine (v 14) c In 3:44-51 the Levites were traded for the firstborn of all Israel to be the ministers of God. Here we have their formal consecration to that service by ceremonial cleansing, atonement, and laying on of hands (v 5-14)
d 3 acts of ceremonial cleansing:
1 Sprinkling water of purification upon them (v 7). The water was no doubt taken from the laver and prepared in the manner specified in 19:1-22. The literal meaning is water of the sin offering, as it was made by sprinkling the ashes of a red heifer into the water which was then sprinkled on the people (Heb. 9:12-14)
2 Shaving all their flesh
3 Washing their clothes
e After the ceremonial cleansing 2 young bullocks were offered for the Levites to make atonement for them (v 8-12)
f The amount of flour and oil offered with a bullock was 3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) of flour and 1/2 hin (3 qts.) of oil (15:8-9). This bullock was offered as a burnt offering, and the other one as a sin offering (v 8, 12)
g Both the Levites and all Israel were gathered together at the tabernacle for this solemn consecration. All Israel was commanded to lay hands upon the Levites. This was to signify that Israel freely and completely gave them to Jehovah as His servants and freed them from all secular work in order that they might devote themselves wholly to the spiritual, physical, and educational needs of the nation
h This was a formal dedication of the Levites by prayer and laying on of hands of Aaron and all the people (v 11)
i The congregation laid hands on the Levites as a symbol of imparting their blessing upon them and assuring them of their support and co-operation. In turn the Levites laid their hands upon the bullocks as a sign of imparting their sins to the animals being offered to make atonement for their sins (v 12)
j In v 9-10 we have Israel's part in the consecration of the Levites outlined; in v 11 we have Aaron's part; and in v 13 we have the priests' part k Levites were considered as belonging to God from the time of this consecration (v 14-26)
l There was a definite time for the Levites to begin their ministry - after they were properly exchanged for the firstborn (3:44-51; 8:15-19), and after their formal consecration (v 6-14)
m Here the Levites are again spoken of as being given by God to Aaron and the priests to serve all Israel in the tabernacle work (v 19)

7fold work of Levites:
1 To take down, transport, and erect the tabernacle (1:50-51)
2 Protect the tabernacle (1:53)
3 Serve priests in all work of the tabernacle worship (3:9; 8:15, 22; 18:21-23; 1 Chr. 6:48; 35:3-18)
4 Be ministers of God (3:12, 39-49; 2 Chr. 13:9-10; 23:6; 30:27; 31:2)
5 Provide music for worship (2 Chr. 5:12; 7:6; 29:30; 30:15-27)
6 Praise God (2 Chr. 8:14)
7 Teach (2 Chr. 35:3; Neh. 8:9)

a The Levites were to carry on the work of the tabernacle, performing the services needed to keep Israel free from sin, condemnation, sickness, and hell. All atonement for Israel was made to this end, that God might be in their midst. The priests were to make proper atonement for the nation as a whole, and for the sins of each individual. Sin was to be kept in check so that no plague would be among them (v 19). Sickness and plagues were connected with sin and rebellion. God had promised to take away sickness upon obedience(Ex. 25) and to keep Israel in perfect health upon continued obedience (Ex. 15:26; Lev. 26; Dt. 28). He healed every one so that there was not a feeble one in all their tribes (Ps. 105:37; 107:20). The means of healing and health were made a part of the Mosaic covenant; furthermore, a special covenant was made with them (Ex. 15:26). Such physical provision was continued in all the writings of Israel's prophets and inspired men (Ps. 91; 103:1-4; Isa. 53 and 58). God sent Jesus to them and the Gentiles later, to confirm and carry on the same program (Mt. 4:23-24; 8:1-17; Mk. 16:15-20; Jn. 10:10; 14:1-15; Acts 10:38). After that the apostles confirmed and carried on the program (Acts 3:6, 16; 4:12; 5:15-16; 15:4, 12; Rom. 15:17-19, 29; 1 Cor. 1:6-7; 12:1-11; Jas. 5:14-16; 1 Pet. 2:24)

b It will be noticed here that freedom from plagues is connected with atonement (v 19). Certain plagues were stayed when atonement was made (16:46-47; 25:13; 2 Sam. 24:18-25). Others were stayed in answer to prayer (11:2; 12:13; Gen. 20) c 4 things done by and for Levites (v 21):

1 They were purified
2 They washed their clothes
3 Aaron offered them as an offering to the Lord to be ministers
4 Aaron made atonement for them

d If they had gone into the tabernacle to serve and minister without proper consecration and before they were completely set apart and accepted by God they would have been destroyed, as were Nadab and Abihu (Lev. 10:1-10). God was zealous to see that everything was in order in the new program e 3 commands - age of ministers:

1 From 25 years old and upward shall the Levites serve in the tabernacle for the congregation (v 24)
2 They shall cease service in the tabernacle at the age of 50 years (v 25)
3 The older ministers (after 50 years of age) shall cease from the actual hard service of the tabernacle and do less laborious tasks, assisting in other ways with their younger brethren (v 26)

f See note c, 4:3 for an explanation of the seeming contradiction regarding the age of service

g Heb. tsaba, to amass an army of soldiers or servants; assemble; perform; do service (v 24, Cp. v 25; 4:30, 35, 39, 43). It is trans. assembled (Ex. 38:8; 1 Sam. 2:22); assembling (Ex. 38:8); fight (Isa. 29:7-8; 31:4). The idea is that from 25 to 50 years of age the Levites were to stand ready to be called to actual service in the tabernacle. All of them could not serve at the same time, so they were to be in reserve to serve in their appointed times

h This proves that ministers over 50 years old were not entirely retired, but were to assist their brethren in various ways, when called upon to do so (v 26)

i The exact day of the month when God spoke is not stated here, but evidently it was after the setting up of the tabernacle on the 1st day of this month, and during the 12 days of dedication of the altar as in 7:1, 11-84. It must have been before the 14th of the month, for the lambs of the passover were to be killed on this day (Ex. 12:3-6). This would be about a year after leaving Egypt that these words were spoken (33:3)

j 2 commands - the passover:
1 Let the children of Israel keep the passover at the appointed time (v 2)
2 On the 14th day of this month, at even, you shall keep it; according to all the rites and ceremonies shall you keep it (v 3) k Moses passed the new instructions on to Israel, and the 2nd passover was kept at the appointed time at Sinai (v 4-5). This passover is the last one recorded ice of the children of Is'ra-el in the tabernacle of the congregation,[a] and to make an atonement for the children of Is'ra-el [b]that there be no plague among the children of Is'ra-el, when the children of Is'ra-el come nigh unto the sanctuary.

(4) Commands obeyed: Levites consecrated and service begun

20 And Mō'ses, and Aär'on, and all the congregation of the children of Is'ra-el, did to the Lē'vites according unto all that the LORD commanded Mō'ses concerning the Lē'vites, so did the children of Is'ra-el unto them.

21 [c]And the Lē'vītes were purified, and they washed their clothes; and Aär'on offered them as an offering before the LORD; and Aär'on made an atonement for them to cleanse them.

22 And [d]after that went the Lē'vītes in to do their service in the tabernacle of the congregation before Aär'on, and before his sons: as the LORD had commanded Mō'ses concerning the Lē'vītes, so did they unto them.

(5) Change in age of service (Cp. Lev. 4:1-4)

●23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying,
●24 [e]This is it that belongeth unto the Lē'vītes: [f]from twenty and five years old and upward they shall go in to[g] wait upon the service of the tabernacle of the congregation:
●25 And from the age of fifty years they shall cease waiting upon the service thereof, and shall serve no more:
●26 But [h]shall minister with their brethren in the tabernacle of the congregation, to keep the charge, and shall do no service. Thus shalt thou do unto the Lē'vītes touching their charge.

126 CHAPTER 9

3 Second passover (Lev. 23:4). (1) New commands given

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ses in the wilderness of Sī'nāi, in the [i]first month of the second year after they were come out of the land of E'gypt, saying,
●2 [j]Let the children of Is'ra-el also keep the passover at his appointed season.
●3 In the fourteenth day of this month, at even, ye shall keep it in his appointed season: according to all the rites of it, and according to all the ceremonies thereof, shall ye keep it.
4 And [k]Mō'ses spake unto the children of Is'ra-el, that they should keep the passover.
5 And they [l]kept the passover on the fourteenth day of the first month at even in the wilderness of Sī'nāi: according to all that the LORD commanded Mō'ses, so did the children of Is'ra-el.

(2) New questions raised concerning the passover

6 ¶ And there were [a]certain men, who were defiled by the dead body of a man, that they could not keep the passover on that day: and they came before Mō'ses and before Aär'on on that day:
7 And those men said unto him, We are defiled by the dead body of a man: [b]wherefore are we kept back, that we may not offer an offering of the LORD in his appointed season among the children of Is'ra-el?
8 And Mō'ses said unto them, Stand still, [c]and I will hear what the LORD will command concerning you.

(3) New law of the passover

●9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ses, saying,
●10 [d]Speak unto the children of Is'ra-el, saying, If any man of you or of your posterity shall be unclean by reason of a dead body, or be in a journey afar off, yet [e]he shall keep the passover unto the LORD.
●11 The fourteenth day of the second month at even they shall keep it, and eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs.
●12 They shall leave none of it unto the morning, nor break any bone of it: according to all the ordinances of the passover they shall keep it.
●13 But the man that is clean, and is not in a journey, and forbeareth to keep the passover, even the same soul shall be cut off from among his people: because he brought not the offering of the LORD in his appointed season, that man shall bear his sin.
●14 And if a stranger shall sojourn among you, and will keep the passover unto the LORD; according to the ordinance of the passover, and according to the manner thereof, so shall he do: ye shall have one ordinance, both for the stranger, and for him that was born in the land.

4 Guiding Presence (Ex. 13:21)

15 ¶ And [f]on the day that the tabernacle was reared up [g]the cloud covered the tabernacle, namely, the tent of the testimony: and at even there was upon the tabernacle as it were the appearance of fire, until the morning.
16 So it was alway: the cloud covered it by day, and the appearance of fire by night.
17 And when the cloud was taken up from the tabernacle, then after that the children of Is'ra-el journeyed: and in the place where the cloud abode, there the children of Is'ra-el pitched their tents.
18 At the commandment of the LORD the children of Is'ra-el journeyed, and at the commandment of the LORD they pitched: as long as the cloud abode upon the tabernacle they rested in their tents.
19 And when the cloud tarried a It is not known who they were. Some have supposed that they were Mishael and Elizaphan who had buried Nadab and Abihu (Lev. 10:4). In this case only one body was involved as is clear from v 6-7. Whoever the men were it is evident that they were the cause of new commands being given concerning the passover (v 9-14)

b Question 1. Next, 11:4

c Obtaining answers through Moses was as easy as going into the tabernacle and inquiring of God (7:89)

d 8 commands - the passover:
1 Speak to Israel saying that if any man is unclean or on a journey afar off he shall still keep the passover (v 10)
2 He shall keep it on the same day and at the same time of the day one month later than the usual time (v 11)
3 He shall eat it with unleavened bread and bitter herbs
4 He shall leave none of it until the morning, nor break any bone of it (v 12)
5 He shall keep it according to all the laws of the passover
6 If a man who is clean and not on a journey refuses to keep the passover, he shall be cut off (v 13)
7 If a stranger sojourning among you desires to keep the passover unto the Lord, he shall keep it according to all the laws, as an Israelite (v 14)
8 You shall have one ordinance for the stranger in your midst and one born in the land

e This means that if he is back from his journey he shall keep the passover. No man was allowed to keep it when out of the land, away from where the tabernacle or temple was located. Paul and others travelled from all parts of the Roman Empire to keep the various feasts at Jerusalem (Acts 2:1-14; 20:16; 1 Cor. 16:8). There was but one place of sacrifice (Lev. 17; Dt. 12:3-26; 14:23-25; 16:2-16; 18:6; 26:2-9)

f This was the 1st day of the 1st month, exactly 11 1/2 months after leaving Egypt (33:3; Ex. 40:2)

g This symbol of Divine Presence first appeared at the exodus itself (Ex. 13:21-22; 14:19-24). It had followed them from Egypt to Sinai (Ex. 16:10; 19:9, 16; 24:15-18; 34:5; 40:34-38; Lev. 16:2, 13). Now it settled down over the tent of the testimony where the ark, the golden altar, the table of showbread, and the candlestick were (v 15-23; 10:11-12, 34; 11:25; 12:5, 10; 14:14; 16:42; Dt. 1:33; 5:22; 31:15, Cp. 1 Ki. 8:10-11; 2 Chr. 5:13-14; Neh. 9:19)

until they came into Canaan (Josh. 5:10-11). See 10 passovers, note a, Ex. 12:23

l In some details the present passover was different from the one in Egypt. For one thing, blood could not be applied to door posts and lintels when Israel dwelled in tents. That part was evidently for Egypt only

Enchantments explained (24:1)

Heb. nachash. It is trans. divine (Gen. 44:15); divineth (Gen. 44:5); learned by experience (Gen. 30:27); diligently observe (1 Ki. 20:33); serpent 31 times (Gen. 3:1-14; 49:17; Ex. 4:3; Num. 21:6-9; Dt. 8:15; 2 Ki. 19:4; Job 26:13; Ps. 58:4; 140:3; Pr. 23:32; 30:19; Eccl. 10:8, 11; Isa. 27:1; 14:29; 65:25; Jer. 8:17; 46:22; Amos 5:19; 9:3; Mic. 7:17); enchanter (Dt. 18:10); and enchantment (Lev. 19:26; Num. 23:23; 24:1; 2 Ki. 17:17; 21:6; 2 Chr. 33:6). These are all the ways the word is trans. and from this list we must get the true meaning of Balaam's enchantments as in this verse. In view of the fact that we have proof of his being a true prophet of God in the beginning, it seems the verse would be easier understood if nachash had been trans. diligently observe (as in 1 Ki. 20:33). It would then read: "he went not, as at other times, to diligently observe, but he set his face toward the wilderness." It is clear from Scripture that on previous occasions he went to meet Jehovah and received His word of prophecy to speak to Balak (23:3-5, 15-17). Nothing is said about practising divination; it is clear that he went to meet Jehovah and was met by Him until he finally decided to break with Him and teach Balak how to cause the downfall of Israel through enticing them to sin

a That is, resided there, not that they were confined to their tents (v 20, 22)
b This suggests that some journeys or parts thereof were at night. It could be that many times they were late finding a proper place to camp and the fire of the cloud gave them light to travel and get settled even in darkness (v 21)
c This shows that the times they tarried at certain places were not always the same, and that theirs was not a daily travel with resting only at night (v 22) d It was a miracle for a people as restless and self-willed as the Israelites to be obedient to all the commands of God in travel and rest. The cloud by day and the pillar of fire by night were so supernatural that they helped the people to stay obedient in travel. God chose to keep them so dependent upon Himself, and so submissive to His will that they would learn obedience to Him (v 23) e 11 commands - blowing trumpets:
1 Make 2 trumpets of silver; of a single piece you shall make each one (v 2)
2 Use them for calling assemblies, for war, for journeying, and for making camps (v 2-10)
3 When both are blown all Israel shall assemble at the door of the outer court (v 3)
4 When one is used, then the princes of Israel shall gather (v 4)
5 When you blow an alarm the 3 camps on the east (Judah, Issachar, Zebulun) shall go forward (v 5; 2:3-9)
6 When you blow the 2nd time, the 3 camps on the south (Reuben, Simeon, Gad) shall take their journey (v 6; 2:10-16)
7 When you blow for a general assembly it shall not be a sound of alarm (v 7) pets (v 8)
8 The priest shall blow the trum-
9 This shall be an ordinance to you forever in your generations
10 If you go to war, then you shall blow an alarm with the trumpets (v 9)
11 In the day of gladness, in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, you shall blow with your trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over your peace offerings as a memorial to the Lord (v 10)
f At this time there were only 2 sons of Aaron who were priests, so only 2 trumpets were made (v 2; 3:1-4). In the time of Joshua there were 7 trumpets which were made of rams' horns and used for special purposes (Josh. 6:4). In the time of Solomon there were 120 priests with trumpets (2 Chr. 5:12)
g The blowing long on both trumpets called the whole assembly together (v 3). A long blowing on one alone called only the princes together (v 4). An alarm was in short, sharp tones instead of a continuous note, unless there was a long one at the end (v 5). The 1st alarm caused the camps on the east to move; the 2nd caused those on the south to move (v 6); the 3rd and 4th caused those on the north and west to move. These last 2 camps are not mentioned here, but the Sept. reads, "and when you blow the third alarm, the camps on the west shall begin their march; and when you blow the fourth alarm, the camps on the north shall begin their march." Here we have the greatest order and discipline for the Israelitish camps. No military march of others could be better regulated; and no doubt no other great organization was better trained to respond quickly to their duties. This is understandable, for Moses was once a great military man of Egypt

7 evil effects of the evil report (14:1)

1 All the congregation cried aloud and wept all night (v 1)
2 All Israel murmured against Moses and Aaron (v 2)
3 It caused them to wish they were dead, that they had died in Egypt or even in the wilderness, in preference to facing the giants and possible death by their hands them (v 3)
4 Israel accused God of deceiving
5 They arose in open rebellion to make a captain and return to Egypt (v 3-4, 9)
6 It produced fear and cowardice (v 3, 7)
7 It caused mob violence against their hitherto respected and trusted leaders (v 10) long upon the tabernacle many days, then the children of Is'ra-el kept the charge of the LORD, and journeyed not.

20 And so it was, when the cloud was a few days upon the tabernacle; according to the commandment of the LORD they [a]abode in their tents, and according to the commandment of the LORD they journeyed.

21 And so it was, when the cloud abode from even unto the morning, and that the cloud was taken up in the morning, then they journeyed: whether it was by day or [b]by night that the cloud was taken up, they journeyed.

22 Or whether it were two days, or a month, [c]or a year, that the cloud tarried upon the tabernacle, remaining thereon, the children of Is'ra-el abode in their tents, and journeyed not: but when it was taken up, they journeyed.

23 [d]At the commandment of the LORD they rested in the tents, and at the commandment of the LORD they journeyed: they kept the charge of the LORD, at the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'şeş.

5 Eleven occasions for blowing of trumpets

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

2 [e]Make thee [f]two trumpets of silver; of a whole piece shalt thou make them: that thou mayest use them for the calling of the assembly, and for the journeying of the camps.

3 And when they shall blow with them, all the assembly shall assemble themselves to thee at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

4 And if they blow but with one trumpet, then the princes, which are heads of the thousands of Is'ra-el, shall gather themselves unto thee.

5 When ye [g]blow an alarm, then the camps that lie on the east parts shall go forward.

6 When ye blow an alarm the second time, then the camps that lie on the south side shall take their journey: they shall blow an alarm for their journeys.

7 But when the congregation is to be gathered together, ye shall blow, but ye shall not sound an alarm.

8 And the sons of Aâr'on, the priests, shall blow with the trumpets; and they shall be to you for an ordinance for ever throughout your generations.

9 And if ye go to war in your land against the enemy that oppresseth you, then ye shall blow an alarm with the trumpets; and ye shall be remembered before the LORD your God, and ye shall be saved from your enemies.

10 Also in the day of your gladness, and in your solemn days, and in the beginnings of your months, ye shall blow with the trumpets over your burnt offerings, and over the sacrifices of your peace offerings; that they may be to you for a memorial before your God: I am the LORD your God.

IV Journey: Sinai to Kadesh-barnea (Lev. 10:11-12:16). 1 Sinai to Wilderness of Paran

11 ¶ And it came to pass [a]on the twentieth day of the second month, in the second year, that the cloud was taken up from off the tabernacle of the testimony.

12 And the children of Is'ra-el took their journeys out of the wilderness of Sī'nāi; and the cloud rested in the [b]wilderness of Pā'ran.

13 And they first took their journey according to the commandment of the LORD by the hand of Mō'şeş.

2 Order of the march (Num. 2)

14 ¶ In the [c]first place went the standard of the camp of the children of Jū'dah according to their armies: and over his host was Näh'shŏn the son of Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb.

15 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Is'sachar was Nē-thăn'e-el the son of Zū'ar.

16 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Zĕb'ulŭn was Ē-lī'ab the son of Hē'lon.

17 And the [d]tabernacle was taken down; and the sons of Ġēr'shŏn and the sons of Mĕ-rā'rī set forward, bearing the tabernacle.

18 ¶ And the standard of the camp of Reu'ben set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Ē-lī'zur the son of Shĕd'e-ur.

19 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Sĭm'e-on was Shē-lū'mĭ-el the son of Zū-rĭ-shăd'da-ī.

20 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Găd was Ē-lī'a-săph the son [e]of Deū'el.

21 And the [f]Kō'hath-ītes set forward, bearing the sanctuary: and the other did set up the tabernacle against they came.

22 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Ē'phrăĭm set forward according to their armies: and over his host was Ē-lĭsh'a-mā the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.

23 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Mā-nās'seh was Gă-mā'lĭ-el the son of Pĕ-dăh'zur.

24 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Bĕn'ja-mĭn was Ăb'ĭ-dăn the son of Gĭd-e-ō'nĭ.

25 ¶ And the standard of the camp of the children of Dăn set forward, which was the rereward of all the camps throughout their hosts: and over his host was Ă-hĭ-ē'zēr the son of Ăm-mĭ-shăd'da-ī.

26 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Ash'ēr was Pā'ġi-el the son of Ŏc'ran.

27 And over the host of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lī was Ă-hī'rā the son of Ē'nan.

a This was 14 months and 5 days after leaving Egypt (v 11; 33:3). In the course of events, the account of Jethro in Ex. 18 belongs between v 10 and 11. See Dt. 1:7-14 where the choosing of the judges took place after leaving Sinai, but was recorded in Ex. 18 before Sinai
b The wilderness of Paran was of great extent. It was bounded on the north by Palestine, on the east by the valley of Arabah, on the south by the mountains of Sinai, and on the west by the Mediterranean. It seems from this passage that it was near Sinai (v 12), but the full narrative in v 33; 11:3, 34-35 shows the journey to be 4 days to Hazeroth and then another march to the wilderness of Paran (12:16)
c 14fold order of the march to Canaan:
1 Judah led by Nahshon (v 14; 2:3)
2 Issachar led by Nethaneel (v 15; 2:5)
3 Zebulun led by Eliab (v 16; 2:7)
4 The Gershonites and Merarites with the tabernacle (v 17; 4:24-28, 31-33)
5 Reuben led by Elizur (v 18; 2:10)
6 Simeon led by Shelumiel (v 19; 2:12)
7 Gad led by Eliasaph (v 20; 2:14)
8 The Kohathites carrying the sanctuary and furniture (v 21; 4:4-15) 18)
9 Ephraim led by Elishama (v 22; 2:10 Manasseh led by Gamaliel (v 23; 2:20) 22)
11 Benjamin led by Abidan (v 24; 2:12 Dan led by Ahiezer (v 25; 2:25)
13 Asher led by Pagiel (v 26; 2:27)
14 Naphtali led by Ahira (v 27; 2:29) d The actual structure of the tabernacle was borne by the Gershonites and Merarites immediately after the camp of Judah which consisted of Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun (v 14-17; 2:3-9). They could perhaps have the tabernacle set up by the time of Kohathites arrived with the sacred vessels and furniture (v 21). Kohathites followed the camp of Reuben consisting of Reuben, Simeon, and Gad (v 18-21; 2:10-16)

Iniquity defined (18:1)

Heb. avon, perverseness: to be bent or crooked; to be wrung out of course. It signifies not merely that which is wrong, but the tendency to do wrong. This inclination lies in the disposition and nature and not merely in an act of transgression of the law. It is nothing more or less than the spirit and nature of the devil working in the children of disobedience (Jn. 8:44; Eph. 2:1-3; 1 Jn. 3:8; Rev. 12:9)

The Levites were to be under Aaron and the succeeding high priests in any service they were allowed by law to perform in the tabernacle service (v 3-6). They were limited to certain duties in the tabernacle court and around the brazen altar, to transporting and erecting the tabernacle and to some other services. They were not to come near the vessels of the sanctuary and the golden altar inside the tabernacle itself. Breaking the law on this point carried the death penalty (v 3, 7). The priests were to have charge of all sacrifices of the brazen altar and all services inside the holy and most holy places a This was the son of Moses' father-in-law, Jethro (Ex. 3:1; 4:18) also called Raguel (v 29), Reuel (Ex. 2:18), and Hobab (Judg. 4:11). If the Hobab here and the one in Judg. 4:11 were the same person then father-in-law in Judg. 4:11 should have been trans. brother-in-law. There can be no doubt about the identity of this person when all scriptures are considered. The Heb. word used in all these passages is the same and simply means any relative by marriage, Father and son were both called Hobab, the one of v 29 being the brother-in-law of Moses and the one of Judg. 1:16; 4:11 being his father-in-law. See Father-in-law of Moses, p. 83

b This is a proverbial expression still used in the East. It means that Hobab would show them where water, fuel, and pasture might be found, warn them of places of danger, and point out the best ways to travel. From Judg. 1:16; 4:11 and 1 Sam. 15:6 it seems that some of the children of Jethro went up with Israel, God led the general body of Israel, but there were always scouts and smaller groups that made journeys from the main section to look out for the nation's various needs. Thus Hobab would be a great help to them because of his acquaintance with the desert

c See note b, v 12

d Much of the activity of Israel centered around the ark (v 33, 35; Josh. 3:3-17; 4:5-18; 6:4-13; 7:6; 8:33; 1 Sam. 4)

e These were the words Moses spoke when Israel set forth on the journey and when they made camp

3 requests of Moses (v 35-36):
1 Rise up, Lord, and let Your enemies be scattered
2 Let them that hate You flee before You
3 Return, O Lord, unto the many thousands of Israel

f Heb. anan, to mourn; complain (v 1; Lam. 3:39, Cp. Judg. 21:22; 1 Sam. 1:16; Job 7:11, 13; 9:27; 10:1; 21:4; 23:2; 31:38; Ps. 55:2; 77:3; 142:2; 144:14; Acts 25:7; Jude 16). This complaining was speaking against God (Ps. 78:19). It was open rebellion and this He would no longer tolerate, so He sent fire among the worst ones and consumed them to the uttermost parts of the camp (v 1). They had complained before the law was given (Ex. 14:11-15; 15:24-26; 16:2-4, 9, 20, 27, 28, 17:2-4), but such persons were not punished then as since the law (v 1, 33; 14:29-35; 16:31-35, 45-50; 21:5-9; 25:1-9; Ex. 32:27-35)

g Judgment brought repentance, so Moses prayed for the people and the plague was stayed (v 2-3)

h Heb. Taberah, burning (v 3; Dt. 9:22)

i The mixed multitude of v 4; Ex. 12:38 would be the descendants of the original servants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob besides a few Egyptians who had married Israelites (Lev. 24:10), and the Kenites who also went with Israel (note b, above; note b, Ex. 12:37). After the captivity they were also called mixed (Neh. 13:3) and mingled people (Ezra 9:2. Cp. Jer. 25:20, 24; 50:37; Ezek. 30:5)

10 plagues in Numbers:
1 Fire - for misuse of tongue (11:1-3)
2 Sickness - misuse of tongue and lust for flesh (11:4-35)
3 Leprosy - misuse of tongue and jealousy (12:1-16)
4 Death - misuse of tongue and rebellion (14:28-35)
5 Sickness - misuse of tongue and rebellion (16:31-33; 14:37)
6 Earthquake - misuse of tongue and rebellion (16:1-3, 29-33)
7 Fire - misuse of tongue and rebellion (16:1-3, 34-35)
8 Sickness - misuse of tongue and rebellion (16:41-50) 5-9)
9 Serpents - misuse of tongue (21:5-10)
10 Sickness - adultery and idolatry (25:1-9)

j 25 excuses for backsliding and sin:
1 Lust of the flesh, lust of the eyes, and pride of life (Gen. 3:6; 1 Jn. 2:15-17)
2 Jealousy (Gen. 4:4-5; 37:3-11, 18-36; Judg. 8; 12; 1 Sam. 18:8-26:2)
3 Fear of man (Gen. 12:12-15; 20:2, 11; 26:7)
4 Sex perversion (Gen. 19; Rom. 1)
5 Desire for children (Gen. 19:31-38)
6 Covetousness (Gen. 25:27-34; 27:1-33; Num. 22; 2 Pet. 2:15; Jude 11; Josh. 7)
7 Thirst (Ex. 15:23-26; 17:1-7)

28 Thus were the journeyings of the children of Is'ra-el according to their armies, when they set forward.

3 Moses again tempted to lean on the arm of flesh (Cp. Ex. 4:10-12; 18:1-26; Num. 11:17)

29 ¶ And Mō'ses said [a]unto Hō'bāb, the son of Rā-gū'el the Mĭd'i-an-īte, Mō'ses' father in law, We are journeying unto the place of which the LORD said, I will give it you: come thou with us, and we will do thee good: for the LORD hath spoken good concerning Is'ra-el.

30 And he said unto him, I will not go; but I will depart to mine own land, and to my kindred.

31 And he said, Leave us not, I pray thee; forasmuch as thou knowest how we are to encamp in the wilderness, and [b]thou mayest be to us instead of eyes.

32 And it shall be, if thou go with us, yea, it shall be, that what goodness the LORD shall do unto us, the same will we do unto thee.

4 Three days' journey: the Guiding Presence (Ex. 13:21)

33 ¶ And they departed from the mount of the LORD [c]three days' journey: and [d]the ark of the covenant of the LORD went before them in the three days' journey, to search out a resting place for them.

34 And the cloud of the LORD was upon them by day, when they went out of the camp.

5 The daily invocation

35 And it came to pass, when the ark set forward, that Mō'ses said, [e]Rise up, LORD, and let thine enemies be scattered; and let them that hate thee flee before thee.

36 And when it rested, he said, Return, O LORD, unto the many thousands of Is'ra-el.

128 CHAPTER 11

6 Seventh of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.). Second of 11 plagues: 31st miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

AND when the people [f]complained, it displeased the LORD: and the LORD heard it; and his anger was kindled; and the fire of the LORD burnt among them, and consumed them that were in the uttermost parts of the camp.

2 And the people [g]cried unto Mō'ses; and when Mō'ses prayed unto the LORD, the fire was quenched.

3 And he called the name of the place [h]Tăb'e-rah: because the fire of the LORD burnt among them.

7 Eighth of 12 complaints of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

4 ¶ And the [i]mixt multitude that was among them [f]fell a lusting: and the children of Is'ra-el [a]also wept again, and said, [b]Who shall give us flesh to eat?

5 We [c]remember the fish, which we did eat in Ē'gypt freely; the cucumbers, and the melons, and the leeks, and the onions, and the garlick:

6 But now our soul is dried away: there is nothing at all, beside this [d]manna, before our eyes.

7 And the manna was [e]as coriander seed, and the colour thereof as the colour of bdellium.

8 And the people went about, and gathered it, and ground it in mills, or beat it in a mortar, and baked it in pans, and made cakes of it: and the taste of it was as the taste of fresh oil.

9 And when the dew fell upon the camp in the night, the manna fell upon it.

8 Tenth of 11 complaints of Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

10 ¶ Then Mō'ses heard the people [f]weep throughout their families, every man in the door of his tent: and the anger of the LORD was kindled greatly; Mō'ses also was displeased.

11 And Mō'ses said unto the LORD, [g]Wherefore [h]hast thou afflicted thy servant? and wherefore have I not found favour in thy sight, that thou layest the burden of all this people upon me?

12 Have I conceived all this people? have I begotten them, that thou shouldest say unto me, Carry them in thy bosom, as a nursing father beareth the sucking child, unto the land which thou swarest unto their fathers?

13 Whence should I have flesh to give unto all this people? for they weep unto me, saying, Give us flesh, that we may eat.

14 I am not able to bear all this people alone, because it is too heavy for me.

15 And if thou deal thus with me, kill me, I pray thee, out of hand, if I have found favour in thy sight; and let me not see my wretchedness.

9 Seventy helpers promised to Moses (two reasons, Ex. 18:13-27 and Num. 11:14)

●16 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ses, [i]Gather unto me [f]seventy men of the elders of Is'ra-el, whom thou knowest to be the elders of the people, and officers over them; and bring them unto the tabernacle of the congregation, that they may stand there with thee.

●17 [k]And I will come down and talk with thee there: and I will take of the spirit which is upon thee, and will put it upon them; and they shall bear the burden of the people with thee, that thou bear it not thyself alone.

10 Flesh promised for a month until they become sick

●18 And say thou unto the people, [l]Sanctify yourselves against a This word proves that the children of Israel were not the same as the mixed multitude and had not integrated with other people. Very rarely would an Israelite marry one of another nation. Judah did (Gen. 38); and Moses (Ex. 2-3; Num. 12); and Boaz (Ruth 4). Here and there it happened, but this was contrary to God's will in general and to the law in particular (23:9; Dt. 7:1-6)

c See 6 things complainers remembered, p. 163

d The manna was given on the journey to Sinai and became the staple food of Israel for 40 years - until they entered Canaan (Ex. 16; Dt. 8:3, 16; Josh. 5:12)

e 2fold description of manna:
1 Like coriander seed in size and shape (v 7; Ex. 16:31). Coriander was cultivated extensively around the Mediterranean, the seeds of which were used in medicines, and as flavoring in in soups and salads
2 In color, manna was like bdellium, or a white gum or white pearl. See note h, Ex. 16:31

f This would be something hard for a man to go through; so it is no wonder that Moses was sore displeased and God was angry (v 1, 10)

g Questions 3-7, Next, v 18

h Moses was like the usual human being under pressure and accused God of causing him all this trouble. He considered it an affliction to be under such a load, and felt he was not favored of God when he was given the responsibility of taking Israel out of Egypt. He was in such despair that he requested to die (v 11-15)

i 2 commands - relief of Moses (v 16):
1 Gather the 70 elders of Israel
2 Bring them to the tabernacle of the congregation

j Just when and by whom the 70 elders were chosen, appointed, or elected is not known; but they existed about a year before this mention of them (Ex. 24:1-11). Here they were commissioned and anointed with the Holy Spirit to take part in the responsibility of Moses as head of the nation (v 16, 24-25). Rabbins say that this was the beginning of the Sanhedrin. Just where the 70 came from as to tribes is not known, but if 6 had been taken from each of the 12 tribes there would have been 72 men. One thing is clear and that is, they were the elders of Israel (v 16. Cp. Ex. 3:16; 5:6; 24:9; Lev. 4:15) k 1st prophecy in Num. (11:17-20, fulfilled). Next, 14:21

4 predictions of God:
1 I will come down and talk with you when the elders are gathered at the tabernacle door (v 17)
2 I will take My spirit which is upon you and put it upon the elders: and they shall help you bear the burden of the people
3 You shall eat flesh tomorrow...the Lord will give you flesh to eat (v 18)
4 You will have flesh enough to last a month - until it comes out of your nostrils and becomes loathsome to you (v 19-20)

l Again, the true meaning of sanctify is shown to be: to set apart (v 18)

d 10 sins of the people:
1 Complaining (v 1, 18-20)
2 Lusting for flesh (v 4)
3 Weeping and mourning in bitterness of soul against God (v 4, 10, 18, 20)
4 Expressing in words their memories of the past and regretting they left Egypt (v 5, 20)
5 Making a comparison between the past and the present (v 5-6)
6 Being dissatisfied with God's provision for their daily needs (v 6, 18-20)
7 Provoking God to anger (v 1, 10)
8 Provoking their leader to sin against God by complaining and praying to die by the hand of God (v 10-15)
9 Manifesting unbelief in God's power to provide for them (11:4, 6, 18-23)
10 Despising the Lord (v 20)
e Question 9, Next, v 22
f Moses had seen many seemingly impossible miracles take place by God's power, but this promise of providing flesh a full month was just about the limit of impossibilities to him. Moses' response was: Shall all the flocks and herds be slain to fulfil Your promise? Or, shall all the fish in the sea be caught to satisfy so many? (v 21-22)
g Questions 10-12, Next, v 29
h God can ask questions also. It is interesting to see the many answers of God in the form of questions. See p. 931; also p. 319-323 of N. T.
i God intended to prove to Moses and all others again that nothing was impossible with Him, that He was not a liar, and that any and every word coming out of His mouth would be fulfilled (v 23, Cp. 23:10; Ps. 89:34; 119:89, 90, 160; Isa. 46:11; 55:10-11; 2 Cor. 1:20; Tit. 1:2; Heb. 10:23)
j 6 acts of God and Moses:
1 Moses went out and told the people the words of the Lord (v 24)
2 He gathered the 70 elders
3 He set them round about the tabernacle in the sight of Israel (v 25)
4 The Lord came down in a cloud (v 5
5 He spoke to Moses 6 He took of the Spirit that was upon Moses and gave it to the 70 elders k This fulfilled the prophecy of v 17. Here is an example of a man having a great anointing of the Holy Spirit, and a part of the power being taken from him by the Lord, to be divided and used to anoint 70 others. This meant that if Moses did not want to do all the work God had called him to do, he did not need all the Spirit-anointing enabling him to do this work. Jethro had advised Moses to have others help him judge the people. He had followed this advice and appointed leaders over 10's, 50's, 100's and 1,000's. The 70 elders seem to have been a special panel of judges or leaders being anointed with the Holy Spirit (v 25-29, Cp. Ex. 18:14-27; Dt. 1:12-16). See Q. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.
l It is noticeable that any degree, measure, or gift of the Holy Spirit, if and when one receives it, makes him able to do immediately whatever the Spirit anoints him to do (1 Cor. 12:1-11) m Literally, and added not, that is, they prophesied at this time and not afterwards. Their anointing was to judge and govern, not to prophesy. Even on this occasion only two of them continued to prophesy after the others had ceased n They were numbered among the 70 elders; and when they went into the camp after the meeting of v 24-25 they continued to prophesy in the camp, not going back to the tabernacle to do their prophesying (v 26-27). Joshua thought that all such prophesying should be done at the tabernacle, but he was gently rebuked by Moses who showed no jealousy whatsoever, but rather desired that all Israel would be thus anointed with the Spirit (v 28-30)

of their own accord
o God always required the men whom He dealt with in those days to come to the tabernacle where He manifested Himself between the cherubim on the mercy seat of the ark (v 4; 11:16, 24)
p Another proof that God goes from place to place as other persons do (v 5; Gen. 11:5-10; 18:33) to [a]morrow, and ye shall eat flesh: for ye have[b]wept in the ears of the LORD, saying, [c]Who shall give us flesh to eat? for it was well with us in E'gypt: therefore the LORD will give you flesh, and ye shall eat.

▸19 Ye shall not eat one day, nor two days, nor five days, neither ten days, nor twenty days;
▸20 But even a whole month, until it come out at your nostrils, and it be loathsome unto you: [d]because that ye have despised the LORD which is among you, and have wept before him, saying, [c]Why came we forth out of E'gypt?

11 Eleventh of 11 complaints of Moses (Ex. 3:11, refs.)

21 And Mo'ses said, The people, among whom I am, are six hundred thousand footmen; and [f]thou hast said, I will give them flesh, that they may eat a whole month.
22 [g]Shall the flocks and the herds be slain for them, to suffice them? or shall all the fish of the sea be gathered together for them, to suffice them?

12 God again assures Moses (Ex. 3:12; 4:2-17; 6:1; 16:4)

■23 And the LORD said unto Mo'ses, [h]Is the LORD's hand waxed short? [i]thou shalt see now whether my word shall come to pass unto thee or not.

13 Seventy elders prophesy: 32nd miracle

24 ¶ And Mo'ses [j]went out, and told the people the words of the LORD, and gathered the seventy men of the elders of the people, and set them round about the tabernacle.
25 And the LORD came down in a cloud, and spake unto him, and [k]took of the spirit that was upon him, and gave it unto the seventy elders: and it came to pass, that, [l]when the spirit rested upon them, they prophesied, and [m]did not cease.

14 Moses again shows meekness and wisdom See Num. 12:3

26 But there remained two of the men in the camp, the name of the one was El'dad, and the name of the other Me'dad: and the spirit rested upon them; and [n]they were of them that were written, but went not out unto the tabernacle: and they prophesied in the camp.
27 And there ran a young man, and told Mo'ses, and said, El'dad and Me'dad do prophesy in the camp.
28 And Jo'shu-a the son of Nun, the servant of Mo'ses, one of his young men, answered and said, My lord Mo'ses, forbid them.
29 And Mo'ses said unto him, [o]Enviest thou for my sake? would God that all the LORD's people were prophets, and that the LORD would put his spirit upon them!
30 And Mo'ses gat him into the camp, he and the elders of Is'ra-el.

15 Quails given: 33rd miracle (Ex. 16:13)

31 ¶ And there went forth a wind [a]from the LORD, and brought quails from the sea, and let them fall by the camp, as it were a day's journey on this side, and as it were a day's journey on the other side, round about the camp, and as it were two cubits high upon the face of the earth.

16 Eight hundred forty gallons of quail; 6,720 quails to each of 3,000,000 people. Total: 2,520,000,000 gallons or 20,160,000,000 quails. Cost: over 20 billion dollars @ $1.00 each

32 And the people[b]stood up all that day, and all that night, and all the next day, and they gathered the quails: he that gathered least gathered[c]ten homers: and they [d]spread them all abroad for themselves round about the camp.

17 Third of 11 plagues: 34th miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

33 And [e]while the flesh was yet between their teeth, ere it was chewed, the wrath of the LORD was kindled against the people, and the LORD smote the people with a very great plague.
34 And he called the name of that place [f]Kib'roth-hat-ta'a-vah: because there they buried the people that lusted.

18 Journey: Kibroth-hattaavah to Hazeroth (Num. 12:16)

35 And the people journeyed from Kib'roth-hat-ta'a-vah unto [g]Ha-ze'roth; and abode at Ha-ze'roth.

129 CHAPTER 12

19 Rebellion of Miriam and Aaron. (1) Complaint against Moses

AND [h]Mir'i-am and Aar'on spake [i]against Mo'ses [j]because of the [k]E-thi-o'pi-an woman whom he had married: for he had married an E-thi-o'pi-an woman.
2 And they said, [l]Hath the LORD indeed spoken only by Mo'ses? hath he not spoken also by us? And [m]the LORD heard it.
3 (Now the man Mo'ses was very [n]meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth.)

(2) God defends Moses

■4 And the LORD spake suddenly unto Mo'ses, and unto Aar'on, and unto Mir'i-am, Come out ye three [o]unto the tabernacle of the congregation. And they three came out.
5 And the LORD [p]came down in the pillar of the cloud, and stood c An homer was about 10 1/2 bushels; 10 homers, 105 bushels (v 32) d After stripping the birds of their feathers they cured them or dried them in the hot sun (v 32)

e Not only were the Israelites not used to flesh food, having eaten the manna for some months now, but they had the curse of God upon them which caused many of the people to die (v 33-34)
f Literally, the graves of lust (Dt. 9:22; 1 Cor. 10:6)
g Hazeroth was the first place after Sinai where Israel encamped a number of days. It was on the road to Kadesh about a 4-day march or around 40 miles north-east of Sinai. It perhaps was the same place as the fountain of Hudhurah or the fountain of Afn a little further north. These lie in the midst of a wild, bleak, and barren desert (v 35)
h Miriam, named first here, was the first in the rebellion (v 10, Cp. Gen. 3:2-6). There must have been a secret jealousy in Aaron also to follow her in such ungodliness

Note that half the murmurings were for food and water; 3 were because of jealousy; and the other 2 were prompted by bitterness and cowardice k Heb. Kuyshiy, Cushite, or descendant of Cush, a son of Ham (Gen. 10:6-8; 1 Chr. 1:8-10; Isa. 11:11). It is trans. Cushi (2 Sam. 18:21-32; Jer. 36:14; Zeph. 1:1) and Ethiopian (v 1; 2 Chr. 12:3; 14:9-13; 16:8; 21:16; Isa. 20:4; Jer. 13:23; 38:7-12; 39:16; 46:9; Ezek. 30:9; Dan. 11:43; Amos 9:7; Zeph. 2:12), Moses married a Midianite, a daughter of the priest of Midian (Ex. 2:15-25; 3:1; 4:18-26; 18:1-27; Num. 10:29-36; Judg. 1:16; 4:11; 1 Sam. 15:6). The land of Midian in Arabia was the land of Cush as well as Ethiopia because one branch of Cush settled there in ancient times. Midian was a son of Abraham through Keturah (Gen. 25:1-4). Therefore, Moses married a descendant of the son of Abraham, and not a member of the negro race, as some think. She was simply a Cushite because of dwelling in the land of Cush, in the same sense that a German or an Italian is an American because of citizenship and dwelling in America. Just as being an American does not identify one as to color and race, so being a Cushite did not identify Zipporah as to these matters. Some say that she was a second wife of Moses, but we have no grounds for this supposition

l Questions 14-15, Next, v 8
m All things are naked and open before God, as Paul declared (Heb. 4:12-13) n Heb. anav, depressed in mind or circumstances. It is trans. meek (v 3; Ps. 22:26; 25:9; 37:11; 76:9; 147:6; 149:4; Isa. 11:4; 29:19; 61:1; Amos 2:7; Zeph. 2:3) and poor (Job 24:4). It is from a root word meaning affliction, so could be trans. "Moses was more afflicted" because of the great burden of all the people. However, most renderings use the words meek, humble, devout, pious, patient, and gentle. If these give the true sense, then this is simply a statement of fact regarding his personal character and very necessary to the proper understanding of this incident, being prompted by the Holy Spirit, the real author, and not by self-love on the part of Moses (v 3). The words are inserted here to explain how Moses did not take steps to defend or vindicate himself and show why God so promptly intervened (v 4). It should be noted that the Holy Spirit records the good points about men, whenever it is wise to do so, as well as their faults, as is clear from 20:12; Ex. 4:24; Dt. 1:37. This recording of both the strength and weaknesses of a man proves all the more that the Bible's authors were inspired, for men do not usually record their own faults in the door of the tabernacle, and called Aär'on and Mir'i-am: and they both came forth.

6 And he said, Hear now my words: If there be a [a]prophet among you, I the LORD [b]will make myself known unto him in a vision, and will speak unto him in a dream.

7 My servant Mō'ṣeṣ is [c]not so, [d]who is faithful in all mine house.

8 With him will I speak mouth to mouth, [e]even apparently, and not in dark speeches; and [f]the similitude of the LORD shall he behold: [g]wherefore then were ye [h]not afraid to speak against [i]my servant Mō'ṣeṣ?

9 And the [j]anger of the LORD was kindled against them; and he departed.

(3) Fourth of 11 plagues: 35th miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

10 And the cloud departed from off the tabernacle; and, behold, Mir'i-am became [k]leprous, white as snow: and Aär'on looked upon Mir'i-am, and, behold, she was leprous.

(4) Confession of Aaron

11 And Aär'on said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [l]Alas, my lord, I beseech thee, lay not the sin upon us, wherein we have done foolishly, and wherein we have sinned.

12 Let her not be as [m]one dead, of whom the flesh is half consumed when he cometh out of his mother's womb.

(5) Remedy and healing

13 And Mō'ṣeṣ cried unto the LORD, saying, [n]Heal her now, O God, I beseech thee.

■14 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [o]If her father had but spit [p]in her face, should she not be ashamed seven days? [q]let her be shut out from the camp seven days, and after that let her be received in again.

15 And Mir'i-am was [r]shut out from the camp seven days: and the people [s]journeyed not till Mir'i-am was brought in again.

(6) Journey: Hazeroth to Kadesh-barnea (Dt. 1:19; Num. 13:26)

16 And [t]afterward the people removed from Hā-zē'roth, and pitched in the wilderness of Pā'ran.

130 CHAPTER 13

V Rebellion of Israel at Kadesh-barnea (Num. 13:1-14:45). 1 The twelve spies

[A]ND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

●2 [u]Send thou men, that they may search the land of Cā'nāan, which I give unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el: of every tribe of their fathers shall ye send a man, every one a ruler among them.

●3 And Mō'ṣeṣ by the commandment of the LORD sent them from the wilderness of Pā'ran: [a]all those men were heads of the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

4 And these were their names: of the tribe of Reu'ben, Shăm-mū'ā the son of Zăc'cur.

5 Of the tribe of Sim'e-on, Shā'phat the son of Hō'rī.

6 Of the tribe of Jū'dah, [b]Cā'leb the son of Jē-phūn'neh.

7 Of the tribe of Is'sa-char, I'gāl the son of Jō'ṣeph.

8 Of the tribe of E'phrā-im, Ō-shē'ā the son of Nūn.

9 Of the tribe of Běn'ja-mīn, Pāl'tī the son of Rā'phu.

10 Of the tribe of Zēb'u-lūn, Gād'dī-el the son of Sō'dī.

11 Of the tribe of [c]Jō'ṣeph, namely, of the tribe of Mā-nās'seh, Gād'dī the son of Sū'sī.

12 Of the tribe of Dān, Ām'mī-el the son of Gē-māl'lī.

13 Of the tribe of Āsh'ēr, [d]Sē'thur the son of Mī'chaēl.

14 Of the tribe of Năph'ta-lī, Näh'bī the son of Vōph'sī.

15 Of the tribe of Gād, Gē-ū'el the son of Mā'chī.

16 [e]These are the names of the men which Mō'ṣeṣ [f]sent to spy out the land. And Mō'ṣeṣ called [g]Ō-shē'ā the son of Nūn Jē-hōsh'u-ā.

2 Commission to search Canaan: doubt of God's word (Ex. 3:17; 13:5; Dt. 1:20-40; 8:7; 11:10)

17 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ sent them to spy out the land of Cā'nāan, and said unto them, Get you up this way [h]southward, and go up [i]into the mountain:

18 And [j]see the land, what it is; and the people that dwelleth therein, whether they be strong or weak, few or many;

19 And what the land is that they dwell in, whether it be good or bad; and what cities they be that they dwell in, whether in tents, or in strong holds;

20 And what the land is, whether it be fat or lean, whether there be wood therein, or not. And be ye of good courage, and bring of the fruit of the land. [k]Now the time was the time of the firstripe grapes.

3 Forty days' searching Canaan to see if God's word was true (Ex. 3:17; 13:5; Dt. 1:20-40; 6:10-16; 8:7; 11:10)

21 ¶ So they went up, and searched the land [l]from the wilderness of Zin unto Rē'hŏb, as men come to Hā'math.

22 And they ascended by the south, and came unto Hē'bron; where Ā-hi'man, Shē'shāi, and Tāl'māi, the [m]children of Ā'nāk, were. [n](Now Hē'bron was built seven years before Zō'an in E'gўpt.)

23 And they came unto [o]the brook of Ĕsh'cŏl, and cut down from thence a branch with one cluster of grapes, and they bare it between two upon a staff; and they brought of the pomegranates, and of the figs.

24 The place was called the brook Ĕsh'cŏl, because of the cluster of grapes which the children of Iṣ'ra-el cut down a Heb. nably, an inspired man; a prophet. See 78 prophets of Scripture, p. 731 b This was essential to the prophetic ministry. All true prophets were called of God and given His revelation and personal guidance (Acts 3:21; Heb. 1:1-3). Generally, God revealed Himself in a dream or vision (v 6) c This means that Moses was not an ordinary prophet, but much more (v 7. Cp. Dt. 18:18-19)

d 3 ways Moses more than usual prophet:
1 Being a servant over God's house (v 17; Heb. 3:1-6), Israel is called God's house in the same sense the N.T. church is the house of God (1 Tim. 3:15; Heb. 3:6; 10:21; 1 Pet. 2:5; 4:17) and household of God (Gal. 6:10; Eph. 2:19)
2 Speaking with God mouth to mouth (v 8). This means that God and Moses actually saw each other and spoke mouth to mouth with audible voices as men do, without the aid of a third person between them (Ex. 33:11; 14:14; Dt. 5:4; 34:10. Cp. Josh. 6:22; 2 Jn. 12)
3 Seeing God's actual spirit body (v 8). This Moses surely experienced (Ex. 24:9-11; 33:11, 18-23, notes). See 44 appearances of God, p. 63
e Moses received the Word of God direct from Him and plainly, not through the medium of a dream, vision, parable, or dark saying (v 8) f Heb. temunah, something portioned out, as a shape, embodiment. It is trans. similitude (v 8; Dt. 4:12-16. Cp. Dan. 10:16; Jas. 3:9); image (Job 4:16. Cp. note y, Gen. 1:26); and likeness (Ex. 20:4; Dt. 4:23-25; 5:8; Ps. 17:15. Cp. note z, Gen. 1:26). That outward bodily form is referred to is clear from every one of these scriptures. See note r, Jn. 4:24
g Question 16, Next, v 14
h Men in all ages have been bold enough to speak against the servants of God, Prophets, priests, Levites, apostles, and laymen serving God have been martyred by hundreds and thousands. Others have been evil spoken of and threatened with horrible sufferings and death (Mt. 23:35; Acts 4; 8; 9; 16; 22; 2 Cor. 11; Heb. 11). Predictions of multitudes more to be martyred are given in Rev. 6:9-11; 12:1-5, 17; 15:2-4; 17:6-7; 20:4-6. There must have been a feeling of great bitterness and jealousy toward Zipporah for Miriam to have stooped so low as to take a stand against her own brother, Moses. As far as we know from the record, her sister-in-law, Zipporah showed no malice toward her i Occurs 6 times (v 7, 8; Josh. 1:2, 7; 2 Ki. 21:8; Mal. 4:4)
j See Anger in Index. Note its results, v 10 k See 10 cases of leprosy, note g, Ex. 4:6
l See how quickly rebellion was broken up. At the first sign of judgment Aaron begged Moses to be merciful. Very few think of mercy for others until they need it for themselves (v 11-12) m Some diseases termed leprosy by the ancients were nothing short of a living death. See note a, Lev. 13:3. Miriam seems to have been cursed with the most loathsome kind as suggested in v 12-as one dead with the flesh consumed.
n Moses, as usual, not only manifested a spirit of meekness in the face of bitter opposition to himself, but also mercy and forgiveness (v 13)
o Question 17, Next, 14:3. The idea here is that if her earthly father had spit in her face she would have been greatly humiliated; how much more should she be humiliated when rejected by God for wrongdoing (v 14)
p Spitting in the face was held by orientals as a sign of great contempt (Job 30:10; Isa. 1:6; Mk. 14:65)
q Forgiveness is not always easy to get from man, but from God, who is all merciful, it is given for the asking r For Miriam's punishment or reaping she was to be quarantined for 7 days (Lev. 13:4, 5, 21, 26). By this time she was between 85 to 90 years of age, which made it all the more humiliating s This was the first place Israel had camped for several days after leaving Sinai. Miriam's sin caused them to remain here at least 7 days (v 15)
t After Miriam had been brought back into camp, having been healed of leprosy (v 10-16) u 2 commands - spies to search Canaan:
1 Send men to search out the land of Canaan (v 2)
2 You shall send one man from every tribe. This was done while Israel was in the wilderness of Paran (v 2-3) a The names in this list (v 4-15) are not the same as the ones in the list of persons who numbered the people (1:5-15). The men in both lists though, were heads of the house of their fathers (1:4), heads of the thousands of Israel (1:16), captains of the tribes (2:3-32), and heads of Israel (13:3), so we know the two groups served as leaders in Israel, maybe as 24 of the 70 elders over the nation

b Caleb from Judah, and Joshua (Oshea) from Ephraim, were the ones of the 12 spies who brought back a true report and urged the people to go up and possess the land (13:30; 14:24, 30, 38). Though not of the ruling tribe which was Judah (Gen. 49:10), Joshua became the 2nd great leader of Israel, succeeding Moses (Dt. 34:9-12; Josh. 1:1-18; 3:7-8) as ruler of the nation (v 6-8) c Joseph is put for Manasseh here (v 11) and Ephraim for Levi (v 8) d Sethur from the Heb. sathar, to hide or conceal, signifies something hidden or mysterious. This is one of many names having a numerical value of 666; that is, the Heb. letters (which also serve as numbers) add up to 666 in Sethur. Neither this name nor any other in history of like numerical value can be identified with the future Antichrist (see notes on Rev. 13)
e 12 spies chosen to search Canaan, p. 164
f Moses sent the spies to satisfy a request of the people (Dt. 1:19-22). God had already told them about the land (Dt. 8:7-9), so if they had believed Him and gone boldly in to possess it the 40 years wasted in the wilderness would not have been g Oshea should be spelled Hoshea, meaning saviour or salvation. It was changed by Moses to Jehoshua or Joshua, meaning he shall save, or the salvation of God, a letter of the name of God being added to the former name. This was not the first time he was called Joshua (Ex. 17:9)
h Meaning, by the Negeb, or south country, a well defined tract of land in the south of Canaan, extending northward from Kadesh to Hebron, and from the Dead Sea to the Mediterranean i The hill country of southern and central Canaan, mostly within the borders of Judah and Ephraim, from Hebron north to the plain of Jezreel and to Mt. Carmel on the Mediterranean j 3 things spies ordered to find out:
1 What kind of land Canaan was - good or bad; fat or lean; wooded or barren (v 18-20)
2 What kind of people - strong or weak; many or few; small or large (v 18)
3 Kind of cities - open or walled (v 19)
k Grapes ripen in southern Palestine in July and August, and the vintage continues to be gathered in September and October as grapes ripen northward. This indicates the time of year the spies went into Canaan, Israel quit Sinai the 20th of May (10:11); spent a month at Kibroth-hattaavah where the quails were given (11:20, 31-35); and spent 7 days at least, at Hazaroth (11:35-12:16), so it was about the first part of July when the spies entered Canaan (v 20) l The wilderness of Zin was in the northern portion of Paran and Rehob was in the north part of Palestine (2 Sam. 8:3). From here they returned south to Hebron (v 22), and to the brook of Eshcol where grapes, pomegranates, and figs were gathered to take home where they would soon make their report (v 23-33). See 20:1; 27:14; 33:36; 34:3-4; Dt. 32:51; Josh. 15:1, 3 m The progenitor of the Anakims was Arba (Josh. 14:15; 15:13). Hebron was called Kirjath-Arba (Gen. 23:2, 19). Ahiman, Sheshai, and Talmai were tribes of giants of the Anakim giant races. About 50 years later Caleb defeated them (Josh. 15:14; Judg. 1:10) n This explains that Hebron was built before Zoan in Egypt, which was the Tanis of heathen historians, and the capital of lower Egypt. Thus Hebron was of greater antiquity than the proud city of which the Egyptians boasted highest antiquity o The brook of Eshcol was perhaps in the rich valley south of Hebron (v 23). The word eshcol means cluster (Gen. 14:13)

This place is mentioned 4 times in Scripture (13:23-24; 32:9; Dt. 1:24). It was part of the Judah portion in the allotment of land under Joshua a There is no spiritual significance to the word forty here. There are no hidden meanings to the plain historical statements of Scripture. We are to take them as literally as we would if found in any other book, for God uses human words in the same sense that men do and for the same reason - to convey a message in understandable language. We are to take God to mean exactly what He says - no more and no less - and we are not to add to His words (Dt. 4:2; 12:33; Pr. 30:6; Rev. 22:18-19)

b Kadesh-barnea where Israel had camped during the 40 days (Dt. 1:19). Called En-mishpat (Gen. 14:7). It was 24 miles south of Hebron - a place on the south border of Canaan (v 26; 20:1, 14-22; 27:14; 32:8; 33:36-37; 34:4; Dt. 1:2, 19, 46; 2:14; 9:23; Josh. 10:41; 14:6-7; 15:3; Judg. 11:16-17; Ps. 29:8; Ezek. 47:19; 48:28). Here Miriam died and Moses and Aaron rebelled (Num. 20:1-13) c They had a cluster of grapes on a pole carried by 2 men, to preserve the bunch and keep it from being bruised before they showed it to Israel. Certain travelers have reported seeing bunches in Palestine and Syria weighing 25 to 45 pounds each and with grapes the size of plums. Other fruit displayed included pomegranates and figs (v 23-24)

d 5fold majority report of spies, p. 164

e This is the conclusion of what we have seen. Note we saw in v 28, 32, 33. This would be the expected conclusion of the natural man who looks to natural things and walks by sight instead of faith (2 Cor. 5:7). This is always the language of unbelief - we saw; we are not able; we are not as strong as they. Caleb and Joshua walked by faith, saw by faith, and acted by faith. The language of faith is always optimistic - we are well able; the Lord will bring us into the land, and give it to us; the giants are bread for us; they are defenceless; the Lord is with us; do not fear (v 30; 14:7-9)

f See Dt. 1:28; 3:5; Josh. 6:5, 20

g Caleb was from Judah (v 6)

h 2fold minority report of the spies:
1 We agree to all the majority report as far as fruitfulness of the land, the strength of the walled cities, and the size of the inhabitants (v 27-33)
2 We disagree with the report regarding our inability to go up against these giants. Let us go up at once, and possess the land, for we are well able to overcome it (v 30)

i This was the conclusion of faith

j This was the conclusion of unbelief, which is the result of sight when God is left out k Note the judgment on the evil report, or slander of God and Israel (14:37)

l This could refer to one of two things:
1 To the inhabitants constantly fighting with one another over possession of the land inhabitants
2 To a plague that was destroying the m Here it says all the people were of great stature - giants, in whose sight the Israelite spies were as small as grasshoppers (v 32-33). See Giants, p. 62

n This proves that giants reproduced giants. The ones here were sons of Anak, who was also the son of a giant (v 33). The terms sons of the giant and born to the giant (2 Sam. 21:16-22) and children of the giant (1 Chr. 20:4-8) prove further that giants had offspring. All Anakims were giants (Dt. 2:11). Josephus speaks of giants whose bodies were so large and their countenances so entirely different from other men that they were surprising to the sight and terrible to the hearing. He delcares that their bones were still exhibited in his day, which was in the time of Christ (Josephus, book V, ch. 2)

o This is an exaggeration, but to say the least, they were great in stature

p 7 evil effects of the evil report, p. 167

q If every idle word is to be judged (Mt. 12:36), idle prayers will be doubly judged for they enter the realm of the supernatural and sacredness, calling upon God to share in their excesses. Solomon calls the prayers of the wicked an abomination to the Lord (Pr. 15:8). Israel certainly had this prayer answered, for the whole of the old generation, except Joshua and Caleb, died throughout a period of 40 years, beginning at once (v 2; 14:23-37) from thence.

25 And they returned from searching of the land [a]after forty days.

4 Report of the 12 spies

26 ¶ And they went and came to Mō'şeş, and to Aär'on, and to all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el, unto the wilderness of Pā'ran, to [b]Kā'-desh; and brought back word unto them, and unto all the congregation, and [c]shewed them the fruit of the land.

27 And they told him, and said, [d]We came unto the land whither thou sentest us, and surely it floweth with milk and honey; and this is the fruit of it.

28 [e]Nevertheless the people be strong that dwell in the land, and the [f]cities are walled, and very great: and moreover we saw the children of Ā'năk there.

29 The Ăm'a-lĕk-ites dwell in the land of the south: and the Hit'tites, and the Jĕb'u-sites, and the Ăm'ŏr-ites, dwell in the mountains: and the Cā'năan-ites dwell by the sea, and by the coast of Jŏr'dan.

30 And [g]Cā'leb stilled the people before Mō'şeş, and [h]said, Let us go up at once, and possess it; for we are [i]well able to overcome it.

31 But the men that went up with him said, We be [j]not able to go up against the people; for they are stronger than we.

32 And they brought up an [k]evil report of the land which they had searched unto the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, The land, through which we have gone to search it, is a land that [l]eateth up the inhabitants thereof; [m]and all the people that we saw in it are men of a great stature.

33 And there we saw the giants, the sons of Ā'năk, which come [n]of the giants: and [o]we were in our own sight as grasshoppers, and so we were in their sight.

131 CHAPTER 14

5 Ninth of 12 complaints (Ex. 5:19, refs.): 2nd of 5 rebellions of Israel (Ex. 6:9, refs.)

AND [p]all the congregation lifted up their voice, and cried; and the people wept that night.

2 And all the children of Iş'ra-el murmured against Mō'şes and against Aär'on: and the whole congregation said unto them, [q]Would God that we had died in the land of Ĕ'gўpt! or would God we had died in this wilderness!

3 And [r]wherefore hath the LORD brought us unto this land, to fall by the sword, that our wives and our children should be a prey? were it not better for us to return into Ĕ'gўpt?

4 And they said one to another, Let us make a captain, and let us return into Ĕ'gўpt.

6 Usual procedure of Moses in time of trouble (Num. 16: 4, 22, 45; 20:6; Dt. 9:18, 25)

5 [a]Then [b]Mō'şeş and Aär'on fell on their faces before all the assembly of the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el.

7 Boldness and faith of Joshua and Caleb (Num. 14:30, 38)

6 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-ä the son of Nūn, and Cā'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh, which were of them that searched the land, rent their clothes:

7 And they spake unto all the company of the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, The land, which we passed through to search it, is an exceeding good land.

8 If the LORD [c]delight in us, then he will bring us into this land, and give it us; a land which floweth with milk and honey.

9 Only rebel not ye against the LORD, neither fear ye the people of the land; for [d]they are bread for us: their [e]defence is departed from them, and the LORD is with us: fear them not.

8 Unbelief of Israel

10 But [f]all the congregation bade stone them with stones. And the glory of the LORD appeared in the tabernacle of the congregation before all the children of Iş'ra-el.

9 Second time God determines to destroy Israel (Ex. 32:7, refs.)

11 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [g]How long will this people provoke me? and [h]how long will it be ere they believe me, for all the signs which I have shewed among them?

12 [i]I will smite them with the pestilence, and disinherit them, and will make of thee a greater nation and mightier than they.

10 Moses again changes the mind of God by his 5th intercession (Ex. 32:11, refs.)

13 ¶ And Mō'şeş said unto the LORD, [j]Then the Ĕ-gўp'tians shall hear it, (for thou broughtest up this people in thy might from among them;)

14 And they will tell it to the inhabitants of this land: [k]for they have heard that thou LORD art among this people, that thou LORD art seen face to face, and that thy cloud standeth over them, and that thou goest before them, by day in a pillar of a cloud, and in a pillar of fire by night.

15 ¶ Now [l]if thou shalt kill all this people as one man, then the nations which have heard the fame of thee will speak, saying,

16 Because the LORD was not able to bring this people into the land which he sware unto them, therefore he hath slain them in the wilderness.

17 And [m]now, I beseech thee, let the power of my LORD be great, according as thou hast spoken, saying, a Before this Caleb and Moses had tried to bring Israel to obedience, but had failed (13:30; Dt. 1:29), so the only thing to do now was to seek God's intervention (v 5)

b Note the acts of the 4 men:
1 Moses and Aaron fell on their faces before all the assembly (v 5)
2 Joshua and Caleb rent their clothes and pleaded with Israel to believe the wonderful report about the land, assuring them that Jehovah would give them victory in conquering the inhabitants of Canaan (v 6-9)

c This is the secret of all blessing from God; He blesses men He delights in 4 examples of God delighting in men:

1 Israel (Dt. 10:15; Isa. 62:4)
2 David (2 Sam. 22:20; Ps. 18:19)
3 Solomon (1 Ki. 10:9; 2 Chr. 9:8)
4 Messiah (Ps. 22:8; Isa. 42:1)

6 things God delights in:
1 Just weights (Pr. 11:1)
2 The upright (Pr. 11:20)
3 They that deal honestly (Pr. 12:22)
4 Prayer of the upright (Pr. 15:8)
5 The way of good men (Ps. 37:23)
6 Mercy (Mic. 7:18)

d Meaning we will swallow them up. A figurative expression for utterly defeating another (v 9). It makes reference to the manna, which melted when the sun arose and became hot (Ex. 16:21). Likewise, the inhabitants would melt when Israel attacked them, not having Jehovah for their shadow or defence (v 9; Ex. 15:15; Josh. 2:9, 11; Isa. 13:7; 19:1; Ezek. 21:7)

e Heb. tsel, shadow; shade; defence. It speaks of their protection of support being taken away, as in note d, above

f This was the climax of their present rebellion; and if God had not undertaken the people would have killed their leaders and started back to Egypt, to perish on the way (v 10)

g Questions 20-21. Next, v 27

h This could be asked of so many today who are filled with constant questionings as to the fulfillment of the promises of God. It could have applied to the apostles themselves, for they saw many signs and wonders for more than 3 years, than had to be rebuked by Christ for their unbelief and hardness of heart (Mk. 16:14; Lk. 24:25)

i God threatened to destroy the whole nation here like He did before as recorded in Ex. 32:10-14. Moses was offered the opportunity of becoming the progenitor of a greater nation but he declined the honor because of his love for the people (v 12-20) j Moses used the same tactics in prayer that had proved successful the last time God threatened to destroy the nation. He pleaded for God's honor to be upheld, in fulfilling before all other nations, those things which He had promised regarding Israel (v 13-20 with Ex. 32:10-14). What others would think of God if He failed to do what He had vowed was a powerful argument, and needful here for this reason: the promises, covenants, and dealings of God with men are based upon obedience and He is free to curse for disobedience, according to His plan, as well as to bless for obedience, regardless of what others think k 4 things the heathen had heard (v 14):

1 That God was among the Israelites
2 That He was seen face to face
3 That God's cloud overshadowed Israel continually
4 That He led them on their journeys with a cloud by day and a pillar of fire by night
Such facts had a great effect upon the heathen. No wonder they had no heart to fight (see note d, above)

l The argument was that all the fear which had been built up in the enemies of Israel by God's miraculous powers would be nullified if He now destroyed the people all at once (v 13-20). This moved the Lord to spare Israel from sudden destruction; and so, He planned to destroy them gradually over a period of 40 years (v 23-35). The possibility of criticism because of failure to carry out a plan is a powerful weapon. It saved the nation twice (v 13-20; Ex. 32:10-14)

m Moses now appealed to God's love, mercy and promises (v 17-20). God's character must be upheld as well as His plan carried out to completion a 5 characteristics of God (v 18):

1 Longsuffering
2 Great in mercy
3 Forgiving iniquity and transgression
4 By no means clearing the guilty
5 Visiting the iniquity of fathers upon the children to the 4th generation

b With proper atonement made God forgives when sin is confessed and put away; but all His longsuffering, love, and mercy will not permit Him to bless men while they continue in sin and rebellion (1 Jn. 1:9)

c This is equivalent to repeating the unalterable fact that "Whosoever hath sinned against me, him will I blot out of my book" (Ex. 32:32-33). God will not clear the guilty as long as he chooses to remain guilty, refusing to repent and accept His means of salvation. Until they turn to Him, God is under obligation to visit men for their sins and punish them accordingly (v 18; Ezek. 18:4, 20-24; Lk. 13:1-5; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 10:9-10; 1 Jn. 1:9) d This is the sinner's prayer of the O. T. and is the same in substance as the publican's prayer of the N. T. (Lk. 18:13)

e Having acknowledged God's forgiveness many times since leaving Egypt, Moses here asked God to repeat His forgiveness as in times past (v 19)

f A speedy answer of God to the prayer of Moses, demonstrating again how quickly He answers a request for forgiveness. The moment a sinner confesses, turns from sin to God with a whole heart, and believes Him for forgiveness, the forgiveness is granted (v 20; Isa. 55:7; Rom. 10:9-10; 1 Jn. 1:9)

g 2nd prophecy in Num. (14:21-24). V 21 is unfulfilled, but will be fulfilled in the Millennium (Isa. 4:4-5; 11:9; 35:2; 66:18-19). V 22-24 are fulfilled, Next, v 28

h See v 28; Ezek. 18:3; 20:33; Rom. 14:11

i Some consider this an unconditional covenant, but there is no contract stated here between God and another person. It simply predicts and vows that sin on earth will be put down and that God's kingdom will be established eternally over all, as before rebellion was started by Lucifer and Adam. The purpose of Christ's 1,000-year reign on earth will be to accomplish this and bring all enemies into subjection (1 Cor. 15:24-28; Eph. 1:10; Rev. 20)

j Here we have the reason for the old generation of Israel being cut off (v 22-23)

k 10 times Israel tempted God:
1 By murmuring and accusing God of deceiving them and deliberately leading them into a trap so the Egyptians could kill them (Ex. 14:11-12)
2 By murmuring at Marah for water (Ex. 15:23-26)
3 By murmuring for flesh and bread before reaching Sinai (Ex. 16:1-18)
4 By willful disobedience in leaving manna until morning (Ex. 16:19-22)
5 By murmuring for water at Rephidim (Ex. 17:1-7)
6 By making a golden calf and quickly going back to idolatry (Ex. 32)
7 By murmuring at Taberah (Num. 11:1-3)
8 By murmuring for flesh (Num. 11:4-35)
9 By unbelief in God and His words and asking that spies be sent into the land as if they doubted He told the truth (Num. 13:1-25 with Dt. 1:20-25)
10 By rebellion at Kadesh (Num. 13:26-14:37; Dt. 1:26-46)

l This did not exclude Joshua, for he is mentioned after this (v 30); nor did it exclude the priests (Josh. 14:1; 22:13)

m These people being gathered as a strong force to fight with Israel, God advised them to turn back toward the Red Sea so as to escape trouble. He did not want them to start wars with the people since the nation was to wander in the wilderness 40 years (v 25, 33, 42-45)

o 3rd prophecy in Num. (14:28-35, fulfilled). Next, 16:5

p All that had been numbered of the 12 tribes from 20 years old and upward were to die in the wilderness (v 29-35). Those under 20 years of age who, they feared would be a prey to their enemies, were to be the ones to go into the land (v 31). This shows that the fear of man is many times without foundation. When God is in a thing man never needs to fear the results. God is greater than all and will fulfil His Word

18 The LORD[a] is longsuffering, and of great mercy, [b]forgiving iniquity and transgression, [c]and by no means clearing the guilty, visiting the iniquity of the fathers upon the children unto the third and fourth generation.

19 [d]Pardon, I beseech thee, the iniquity of this people according unto the greatness of thy mercy, and [e]as thou hast forgiven this people, from Ĕ'gўpt even until now.

20 And the LORD said, [f]I have pardoned according to thy word:

11 God reveals His eternal purpose in the earth (Eph. 1:10; 2:7; 3:11; 1 Cor. 15:24-28)

*21 [g]But as truly [h]as I live, [i]all the earth shall be filled with the glory of the LORD.

12 God's new plan concerning Israel revealed

22 [j]Because all those men which have seen my glory, and my miracles, which I did in Ĕ'gўpt and in the wilderness, and have tempted me now these [k]ten times, and have not hearkened to my voice;

23 Surely they shall not see the land which I sware unto their fathers, neither shall any of them that provoked me see it:

24 [l]But my servant Că'leb, because he had another spirit with him, and hath followed me fully, him will I bring into the land whereinto he went; and his seed shall possess it.

25 [m](Now the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes and the Că'năan-ītes dwelt in the valley.) To morrow turn you, and get you into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.

13 Fifth of 11 plagues: 36th miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

*26 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Aâr'on, saying,

27 [n]How long shall I bear with this evil congregation, which murmur against me? I have heard the murmurings of the children of Iş'ra-el, which they murmur against me.

*28 [o]Say unto them, As truly as I live, saith the LORD, as ye have spoken in mine ears, so will I do to you:

29 Your carcases shall fall in this wilderness; and [p]all that were numbered of you, according to your whole number, from twenty years old and upward, which have murmured against me,

30 Doubtless ye shall not come into the land, concerning which I sware to make you dwell therein, save Că'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh, and Jŏsh'u-á the son of Nŭn.

31 But your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, them will I bring in, and they shall know the land which ye have despised.

32 But as for you, your carcases, they shall fall in this wilderness.

33 And your children shall wander in the wilderness forty years, and [q]bear your whoredoms, until your carcases be wasted in the wilderness.

34 [r]After the number of the days in which ye searched the land, even forty days, each day for a year, shall ye bear your iniquities, even forty years, and ye shall know [s]my breach of promise.

35 I the LORD have said, I will surely do it unto all this evil congregation, that are gathered together against me: in this wilderness they shall be consumed, and there they shall die.

14 Sixth of 11 plagues: 37th miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

36 And the men, which Mō'şeş sent to search the land, who returned, and made all the congregation to murmur against him, by bringing up a slander upon the land, 37 Even [t]those men that did bring up the evil report upon the land, died by [u]the plague before the LORD.

15 Reward for Joshua and Caleb (Num. 14:6-8, 30; 26:25; 32:12)

38 But Jŏsh'u-á the son of Nŭn, and Că'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh, which were of the men that went to search the land, [v]lived still.

16 Israel's first false repentance (Num. 17:12-13; 21:7)

39 And Mō'şeş told these sayings unto all the children of Iş'ra-el: [w]and the people mourned greatly.

40 ¶ And they rose up early in the morning, and gat them up into the top of the mountain, saying, Lo, we be here, and will go up unto the place which the LORD hath promised: for we have sinned.

17 Third rebellion (Ex. 6:9): second war (Ex. 17:8). First defeat of Israel (Cp. Josh. 7:1) 41 And Mō'şeş said, [x]Wherefore now do ye transgress the commandment of the LORD? but it shall not prosper.

•42 Go not up, for the LORD is not among you; that ye be not smitten before your enemies.

43 For the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes and the Că'năan-ītes are there before you, and ye shall fall by the sword: [y]because ye are turned away from the LORD, therefore the LORD will not be with you.

44 But they presumed to go up unto the hill top: nevertheless the [z]ark of the covenant of the LORD, and Mō'şeş, departed not out of the camp.

45 Then the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes came down, and the Că'năan-ītes which dwelt in that hill, and smote them, and discomfited them, even unto Hôr'mah.

a Suffer because of your whoredoms, the backslidings of their parents (v 33)

b This passage has been used as a basis of teaching in the theory that a day means a year and a year means a day in prophecy; but such was never the intention of this or any other passage where days and years are so mentioned. A day here and in similar cases, means 24 hours and a year means the usual 365 days. See such a theory explained under The times of the Gentiles, p. 873

c This means: My withdrawal from My original intentions of taking you into the land (v 34). In reality you are the ones that have broken your promises and have so rebelled that you force Me to turn from you and punish you (v 22, 27-35)

d Referring to the 10 spies who made the evil majority report, and not to Joshua and Caleb (v 30, 36-38)

e What kind of plague they died of is not stated. The Heb. maggephah means pestilence, or stroke (v 37; 16:48-50; 25:8-9, 18; 26:1; 31:16; Ps. 106:29-30; Zech. 14:12-18). A special stroke or plague was permitted by God to punish them for the great evil of causing the whole congregation of Israel to rebel and be killed in the wilderness, and the program of God to be delayed for 40 years. Think of 10 men causing all this because of their fear and cowardice!

f This was the reward of these two godly, fearless, and true men of Israel (v 38). Life is always the best reward of all

g When Moses told the people of God's judgment in delaying the nation's entrance into Canaan for 40 years, and they realized their possession of the land would be after the death of all men above 20 years of age, they mourned greatly and presumed to go up in spite of the pronouncement of God; but it was too late (v 39-45). When people became abandoned to rebellion as here, God is obliged to abandon them to judgment and all the weeping and wailing to avoid it can be of no avail (Mt. 25:41, 46; Lk. 16:19-31; Rev. 14:9-11; 20:11-15; 21:8; 22:15)

h Question 23. Next, 16:3

i This was the cause of defeat. They even presumed to go up without Moses and the ark of the Lord (v 44). They were defeated as Moses predicted (v 45)

j This suggests that the ark was to be taken along with Israel on any important mission, instead of remaining always in the holy of holies (v 44). See Josh. 3:3-17; 4:5-18; 6:4-13; 1 Sam. 3:3; 4:3-22; 5:1-11; 6:1-21; 7:1-2

8 commands - monthly sacrifices (28:11)

1 At the beginning of each month through the year offer 2 young bullocks, 1 ram, and 7 lambs without blemish of the first year, for a burnt offering (v 11, 14)

2 For each bullock offer 3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) flour mingled with oil (1/2 hin or 3 qts.) for a meat offering (v 12; 15:9)

3 Offer 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) flour mingled with oil (1/3 hin or 2 qts.) for the ram (v 12; 15:6)

4 Offer 1 tenth deal (1/2 gal.) flour mingled with 1/4 hin (1 1/2 qts.) of oil for each lamb (v 13; 15:4-5)

5 For each bullock offer 1/2 hin (3 qts.) of wine for a drink offering (v 14; 15:9-10)

6 Offer 1/3 hin (2 qts.) of wine for a drink offering for the ram (v 14; 15:6-7)

7 Offer 1/4 hin (1 1/2 qts.) of wine for each lamb for a drink offering (v 14; 15:4-5)

8 Offer a kid of the goats for a sin offering to the Lord, with 1 tenth deal (1/2 gal.) flour mingled with oil (1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts.) and with 1/4 hin (1 1/2 qts.) of wine for a drink offering (v 5, 7, 15; 15:4-5)

Estimated cost of monthly sacrifice:

1 kid of the goats	20.00
8 gal. flour @ 80¢	6.40
2 bullocks @ $325.00 each	$650.00
1 ram	20.00
7 lambs @ $20.00 each	140.00
20 qts. oil @ $1.40	28.00
20 qts. wine @ $1.60	32.00
Total cost	$896.40

1 Speak to Israel saying that when you come into the land and make a burnt offering, or any sacrifice in performing a vow, in freewill offerings, or in your solemn feasts, and you make a sweet savour unto the LORD, then you shall offer with your offering a meat offering of a tenth deal (1/2 gal.) of flour mingled with 1/4 part of an hin (1 1/2 qts.) of oil, and 1/4 part of an hin (1 1/2 qts.) of wine for a drink of - fering for each lamb or kid of the goats sacrificed (v 2-5)

2 For each ram you shall offer a meat offering of 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) of flour mingled with 1/3 part of an hin (2 qts.) of oil; and for a drink offering you shall offer 1/3 part of an hin (2 qts.) of wine for a sweet savour to the LORD (v 8-10,11-12)

b Note that God still had it in mind for Israel to come into the land, so His turning them away from the land did not do away with His plan (14:25). It only postponed it for 40 years (14:28-35). During the next 19 chapters we have the record of Israel's wandering in the wilderness during the 40-year period of the curse of 14:28-35, or the journey from Kadesh-barnea to the plains of Moab by Jericho on the east of Jordan (33:50). The message of 15:2,18-19 about going into the promised land was spoken to encourage the younger generation to believe that they would enter it. The ordinances given here were addressed to all Israel for them to obey when they came into the land; so we take it that most of the 40 years of wandering were in the past and the period was drawing to a close. During this time it is likely that not many sacrifices were offered by reason of the scarcity of animals, wheat, wine, and other things essential to offerings. The commands to make such offerings were given in view of entrance into the land where these supplies would be in abundance c 4 classes of offerings with which meat and drink offerings were to be offered:

1 Burnt offerings (v 3)
2 Sacrifices in performing vows
3 Freewill offerings
4 Offerings for the solemn feasts

d All these were to be sweet savour offerings (v 3, 7, 10, 13-14). See Lev. 1:1-3:17 regarding such offerings

e 4 sources of offerings:
1 From the herds - cattle of all kinds (cows, oxen, bullocks, calves, heifers, v 3, 8, 11; Lev. 1-9; 3:1-17)
2 From the flocks-rams, lambs, sheep, goats, and kids (v 3,5,6,11; Lev. 1:10-13)
3 From the flocks - pigeons and turtledoves (Lev. 1:14-17)
4 From the fields - wheat fields, olive trees, and vineyards (v 4-10; Lev. 2)

f A tenth deal - 1/2 gallon quarts g A fourth part of an hin of oil - 1 1/2 h A fourth part of an hin of wine - 1 1/2 i 2 tenth deals - 1 gallon quarts j A third part of an hin of oil - 2 quarts k A third part of an hin of wine - 2 quarts l 3 tenth deals - 1 1/2 gallons m Half an hin of oil - 3 quarts n Half an hin of wine - 3 quarts o For each bullock offered, regardless of the total number sacrificed, 1 1/2 gallons of fine flour, 3 quarts of oil, and 3 quarts of wine were to be offered (v 8-12)

p For each ram offered, regardless of the total number sacrificed, 1 gallon of fine flour, 2 quarts of oil, and 2 quarts of wine were to be offered (v 6-7, 11-12)

q For each lamb or kid of the goats, regardless of the total number sacrificed, 1/2 gallon of fine flour, 1 1/2 quarts of oil, and 1 1/2 quarts of wine were to be offered (v 2-5, 11-12)

r This refers to native born Israelites in contrast with strangers mentioned in the next verse. Reference was made to prospective residence in Canaan and all the new legislation was made in view of the time Israel would be settled in the land (v 13-16)

s 3 commands - one law for all:
1 All true Israelites shall do these things after the manner prescribed by law in all offerings (v 13)

VI Wanderings: from Kadesh (Num. 15:1-20:21; Dt. 2:1-16). 1 What to offer with lambs

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come into the land of your habitations, which I give unto you,

3 And will make an offering by fire unto the LORD, a burnt offering, or a sacrifice in performing a vow, or in a freewill offering, or in your solemn feasts, to make a sweet savour unto the LORD, of the herd, or of the flock:

4 Then shall he that offereth his offering unto the LORD bring a meat offering of a tenth deal of flour mingled with the fourth part of an hin of oil.

5 And the fourth part of an hin of wine for a drink offering shalt thou prepare with the burnt offering or sacrifice, for one lamb.

2 What to offer with rams

6 Or for a ram, thou shalt prepare for a meat offering two tenth deals of flour mingled with the third part of an hin of oil.

7 And for a drink offering thou shalt offer the third part of an hin of wine, for a sweet savour unto the LORD.

3 What to offer with cattle

8 And when thou preparest a bullock for a burnt offering, or for a sacrifice in performing a vow, or peace offerings unto the LORD:

9 Then shall he bring with a bullock a meat offering of three tenth deals of flour mingled with half an hin of oil.

10 And thou shalt bring for a drink offering half an hin of wine, for an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

11 Thus shall it be done for one bullock, or for one ram, or for a lamb, or a kid.

12 According to the number that ye shall prepare, so shall ye do to every one according to their number.

4 One law for all alike (Ex. 12:49; Num. 15:29)

13 All that are born of the country shall do these things after this manner, in offering an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

14 And if a stranger sojourn with you, or whosoever be among you in your generations, and will offer an offering made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD; as ye do, so he shall do.

15 One ordinance shall be both for you of the congregation, and also for the stranger that sojourneth with you, an ordinance for ever in your generations: as ye are, so shall the stranger be before the LORD.

16 One law and one manner shall be for you, and for the stranger that sojourneth with you.

5 Heave offering (Ex. 29:23)

17 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

18 Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land whither I bring you,

19 Then it shall be, that, when ye eat of the bread of the land, ye shall offer up an heave offering unto the LORD.

20 Ye shall offer up a cake of the first of your dough for an heave offering: as ye do the heave offering of the threshingfloor, so shall ye heave it.

21 Of the first of your dough ye shall give unto the LORD an heave offering in your generations.

6 Congregation ignorance offering (Lev. 4:13-21)

22 ¶ And if ye have erred, and not observed all these commandments, which the LORD hath spoken unto Mō'ṣeṣ,

23 Even all that the LORD hath commanded you by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ, from the day that the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ, and henceforward among your generations;

24 Then it shall be, if ought be committed by ignorance without the knowledge of the congregation, that all the congregation shall offer one young bullock for a burnt offering, for a sweet savour unto the LORD, with his meat offering, and his drink offering, according to the manner, and one kid of the goats for a sin offering.

25 And the priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and it shall be forgiven them; for it is ignorance: and they shall bring their offering, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD, and their sin offering before the LORD, for their ignorance:

26 And it shall be forgiven all the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and the stranger that sojourneth among them; seeing all the people were in ignorance.

7 Individual ignorance offering (Lev. 4:1-12)

27 ¶ And if any soul sin through ignorance, then he shall bring a she goat of the first year for a sin offering.

28 And the priest shall make an atonement for the soul that sinneth ignorantly, when he sinneth by ignorance before the LORD, to make an atonement for him; and it shall be forgiven him.

29 Ye shall have one law for him that sinneth through ignorance, both for him that is born among the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them.

8 No mercy for wilful sins a 3 commands - heave offerings:

1 Speak to Israel saying that when you come into the land, then you shall offer the bread (wheat, v 20) of the land as an heave offering to the Lord (v 18-19)
2 You shall offer a cake of your first dough for an heave offering to the Lord (v 20)
3 Observe this practice throughout your generations (v 21)

b For notes on heave offerings see Index

c 5 commands - ignorance offerings:
1 If the congregation has erred and not observed all the commandments that the Lord has spoken by Moses, then if any sin has been committed through ignorance, the congregation shall offer a bullock and a kid of the goats for a sin offering with the required meat and drink offerings (v 22-24)
2 The priest shall make an atonement for all the congregation of Israel and their sin shall be forgiven them (v 25-26)
3 For the sin of ignorance of an individual, the person shall bring a she goat of the first year (with the required meat and drink offerings) and make a sin offering to the Lord (v 1-5, 27)
4 The priest shall make an atonement for the soul that sins ignorantly and he shall be forgiven (v 28)
5 There shall be one law for all who commit the sin of ignorance, both the Israelite and the stranger (v 29)

d According to the manner means according to the law or ordinance (v 16,24)

e 3 sacrifices for ignorance:
1 For the congregation: 1 young bullock (estimated cost, $325.00) for a burnt offering with his meat and drink offerings of 1 1/2 gal. of fine flour ($1.20 @ 80¢ a gal.), 3 qts. of oil ($4.20 @ $1.40 a qt.), and 3 qts. of wine ($4.80 @ $1.60 a qt.) for a sweet savour offering (v 8-12, 24) and
2 A kid of the goats for a sin offering (estimated cost $20.00), with 1/2 gal. of fine flour (40¢), 1 1/2 qts. of oil ($2.10 @ $1.40 a qt.), and 1 1/2 qts. of wine ($2.40 @ $1.60 a qt.) to make atonement (v 1-5,24). Total estimated cost of sacrifices for the congregation would be $360.10
3 For an individual: 1 she goat of the first year (estimated cost $20.00), for a sin offering with 1/2 gal. of fine flour (40¢), 1 1/2 qts. of oil ($2.10 @ $1.40 a qt.) and 1 1/2 qts. of wine ($2.40 @ $1.60 a qt.). Total estimated cost of sacrifice for an individual would be $24.90

2 Strangers also shall observe all the law concerning any offering that they shall offer to the Lord (v 14)
3 One ordinance and one law shall be for the Israelites and the strangers in the land (v 15-16)

4 commands - 2nd day of feast of tabernacles (29:17)

1 On the 2nd day of the feast (Oct. 16), you shall offer 12 young bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs of the first year without spot (v 17)
2 Their meat and drink offerings shall be according to their number and after the usual manner (v 18). See notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28 for amounts of flour, oil, wine
3 Offer 1 kid of the goats for a sin offering, with the meat and drink offerings (v 19; 15:3-11; Ex. 29:40)
4 Offer these (12 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid) besides the daily sacrifices and their meat and drink offerings

The cost of sacrifices for the 2nd day of the feast of tabernacles would be the same as that for the 1st day, less the cost of 1 bullock, and 1 1/2 gallons of flour, 3 qts. of oil and 3 qts. of wine (for meat and drink offerings with a bullock). There being 12 bullocks sacrificed on the 2nd day instead of 13 as on the 1st day, it would reduce the total cost in the amount of $335.20-$325.00 for the bullock; $1.20 for the flour; $4.20 for the oil; and $4.80 for the wine. This would make the estimated cost of sacrifices on the 2nd day come to $4,449.50 a The great numbers of deaths as a result of sin in Israel up to this point no doubt caused many to dread the future. To settle their minds God again made it clear that there was a difference between the sins of ignorance (v 22-29; Lev. 4), and presumptuous sins (v 30-31). The responsibility of both the nation (v 22-27) and individuals concerning this matter was clearly set forth (v 27-29)

b A presumptuous sin is one committed wilfully, knowingly, and openly in defiance of the law; a sin of ignorance is an act of breaking the law without knowing that the law is being violated (v 30-31 with v 22-29; Lev. 4) c The penalty for presumptuous sins was death (v 30-31), but there was mercy and forgiveness through atonement for sins of ignorance (v 22-29)

d 34 main events of the 40 years, p. 164

e All unnecessary work was forbidden under penalty of death (v 32-36; Ex. 20:8-11, notes)

f Second arrest in Israel (v 34)

g The penalty for presumptuous sin (v 30-31, 35). The man knew better, but evidently defied the law. Cp. Heb. 10:28

h This was done to impress upon all Israel the seriousness of breaking the law

j 3 commands - blue ribbon:
1 Speak to Israel telling them to make fringes upon the borders of their garments (v 38)
2 They shall put upon the fringes a ribbon of blue
3 It shall be a sign to you to remember and do all the commandments of the Lord, that you may not seek after your own heart and your own eyes to go a whoring after other gods, and that you may be holy unto God (v 39-40)

k Heb. tsiytsith, a floral or wing-like projection; a forlock of hair; a tassel; fringe. Trans. fringe (v 38-39) and lock (Ezek. 8:3). Not the same as gedil, a twisted thread; a tassel; wreath; fringe, as in Dt. 22:12

l Heb. hanaph, edge; corner. The corners of the garments are what is referred to. The Sept. and other versions trans. it corners (v 38-39)

m Heb. pathiyl, twine; bound; lace; line; thread. From this we gather that the ribband of blue of v 38 means thread of blue. The word for fringe here means tassel, so the idea is that tassels were to be sewed on the corners of the mantles or outer garments with a thread of blue. The ordinary outer Jewish garment was a rectangular piece of cloth. Tradition maintains that the threads of the tassels were white to symbolize righteousness, that there was a conspicuous blue thread among them to symbolize the commandments were of heavenly origin, and that the arrangement of threads and knots was of great importance, for they symbolized the 613 precepts which the law was believed to contain. That there were more than 613 precepts can be seen from the notes on p. 113

Regarding the ribbon of blue, some versions read: "a cord of blue: Fasten the tassels to the corners with a blue thread; put on the fringe of the skirt a ribbon of blue: Attach the tassels on the corners of their robes by a violet thread: place upon the fringes cords of purple; on the tufts at the corners you will put a blue ribbon." Whether it was a blue ribbon as we know ribbons, the tassels were sewed on with blue thread, or blue cords were used in the tassels themselves, one thing is certain - when Israel saw the fringes or tassels they were reminded of the law and their responsibility to obey it, and their calling to be a holy people unto Jehovah (v 38-40). Such outer garments of quadrangular cloth are still used in synagogue prayers. In Christ's time the Pharisees enlarged their fringes hoping thereby to prove their great piety (Mt. 23:5) n Korah the Levite, the son of Izhar the son of Kohath (Ex. 6:18, 21, 24) began a rebellion against Moses with Dathan and Abiram co-operating. These caused 250 of Israel's chief princes to rebel (v 1-3). They wanted more authority in the congregation and contended that Moses and Aaron had too much. All sought to exalt themselves and demote Moses and Aaron who held en-

133 CHAPTER 16

11 Rebellion of Korah (Num. 26:9; 27:3; Jude 11). (1) Korah's excuse for rebellion

NOW [n]Kō'rah, the son of Iz'-här, the son of Kō'hath, the son of Lĕ'vi, and Dā'than and Ă-bī'ram, the sons of Ĕ-lī'-ab, and Ōn, the son of Pĕ'leth, sons of Reu'ben, took men:

2 And they rose up before Mō'ṣeṣ, with certain of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, two hundred and fifty princes of the assembly, famous in the congregation, men of renown:

3 And they gathered themselves together against Mō'ṣeṣ and against Aâr'on, and said unto them, Ye take too much upon you, seeing all the congregation are holy, every one of them, and the LORD is among them: [o]wherefore then lift [b]ye up yourselves above the congregation of the LORD?

(2) Real cause of rebellion: seeking the priesthood

4 And when Mō'ṣeṣ heard it, he [e]fell upon his face:

★5 And he spake unto Kō'rah and unto all his company, saying, [d]Even to morrow the LORD will shew who are his, and who is holy; and will cause him to come near unto him: even him whom he hath chosen will he cause to come near unto him.

●6 [c]This do; [f]Take you censers, Kō'rah, and all his company;

●7 And put fire therein, and put incense in them before the LORD to morrow: and it shall be that the man whom the LORD doth choose, he shall be holy: ye take too much upon you, ye sons of Lĕ'vi.

8 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Kō'-rah, Hear, I pray you, ye [g]sons of Lĕ'vi:

9 [h]Seemeth it but a small thing unto you, that the God of Iṣ'ra-el hath [i]separated you from the congregation of Iṣ'ra-el, to bring you near to himself to do the service of the tabernacle of the LORD, and to stand before the congregation to minister unto them?

10 And he hath brought thee near to him, and all thy brethren the sons of Lĕ'vi with thee: and [j]seek ye the priesthood also?

11 For which cause both thou and all thy company are gathered together against the LORD: and [k]what is Aâr'on, that ye murmur against him?

(3) Dathan and Abiram's excuse for rebellion

12 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ sent to call Dā'than and Ă-bī'ram, the sons of Ĕ-lī'ab: which said, [l]We will not come up:

13 Is it a small thing that thou hast brought us up out of a land that floweth with milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness, except thou make thyself altogether a prince over us?

14 Moreover thou hast not brought us into a land that floweth with milk and honey, or given us inheritance of fields and vineyards: wilt thou put out the eyes of these men? we will not come up.

(4) Wrath of Moses: preparation for acceptance with God

15 And Mō'ṣeṣ was [m]very wroth, and said unto the LORD, Respect not thou their offering: I have [n]not taken one ass from them, neither have I hurt one of them.

●16 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto Kō'rah, [o]Be thou and all thy company before the LORD, thou, and they, and Aâr'on, to morrow:

b 8 accusations against Moses and Aaron:
1 You take too much upon you, exercising more authority than you have the right (v 3)
2 You think you are the only holy ones but all in the congregation are holy 3 You lift yourselves up above the congregation of the Lord
4 You have brought us out of Egypt, the real land of milk and honey, to kill us in the wilderness (v 13)
5 You make yourself a prince over us
6 You have not brought us into the promised land of milk and honey (v 14)
7 You have not given us inheritance of fields and vineyards as you have promised 8 You blind the eyes of the people to the fact that you keep none of your promises

d 4th prophecy in Num. (16:5, fulfilled). Next, v 28

e Moses plainly set forth the test that would prove God's choice (v 6-19). Korah accepted the challenge knowing that he had the congregation back of him. He thought God would go along with the people's choice (v 19), but in this he was wrong. God made the choices, not the people; and He was to teach them that this must always be the case

f 3fold challenge and test (v 6-7):
1 Take censers tomorrow
2 Put fire in them
3 Put incense in them before the Lord

g Korah was the only Levite of the 3 ringleaders. The other Levites addressed could have been children and near relatives of Korah (v 8, 32)

h Questions 25-29. Next, v 22

i 3 purposes of God in choice of Levites:
1 To separate them from Israel (v 9)
2 To bring them near to Himself to serve in the tabernacle worship
3 To have them stand before the congregation to minister to them

j This was the real purpose of Korah; and if it depended upon popular support he already had the priesthood, for all Israel was with him (v 2, 11, 16, 19)

k It was the office of Aaron that Korah sought, so he naturally was the target of the murmuring (v 10-11)

l Just why they were afraid to come out is not stated, but it was perhaps because they feared judgment and were too proud to acknowledge their part in the rebellion. That they were still bitter is clear from their accusations against Moses (v 13-14). Their stubbornness caused Moses to become very angry (v 15) m This was no doubt an impressive prayer which Moses made in his anger. He appealed to God to stand by him and his brother, Aaron and not to follow popular opinion (v 15, 19)

n 2 things Moses not guilty of as leader:
1 I have not taken one ass from them
2 I have not hurt one of them (v 15)

o 2 final instructions of the contest:
1 You (Korah), your company, and Aaron come before the Lord tomorrow (v 16)
2 Let each man of you have a censer, put fire and incense in it and bring before the Lord (v 17) viable positions in Israel. The rebellion spread from these 253 men, all famous in Israel, until 14,700 died (v 49) besides the original 3 rebels, their families (v 29-34) and the 250 princes (v 35). It could be that Korah felt slighted because he was placed under Elizaphan who was of the younger branch of Kohathites and yet made head of all Kohathites (3:27, 30). Korah camped among the Kohathites next to Reuben on the south of the tabernacle which made it convenient to talk over grievances. Reubenites were perhaps discontented because the birthright had been taken away from them and they had not been given what they considered their proper place among the tribes. Korah's object was not to abolish the distinction between the Levites and the people, but to win the priesthood for himself and kinsmen (v 10). This design was hidden under the pretext that all the people were holy and should be equal

22 And they [e]fell upon their faces, and said, O God, [f]the God of the spirits [g]of all flesh, shall one man sin, and [h]wilt thou be wroth with [i]all the congregation?

■23 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●24 [j]Speak unto the congregation, saying, Get you up from about the tabernacle of Kō'rah, Dā'than, and Â-bī'ram.

25 And Mō'şeş rose up and went unto Dā'than and Â-bī'ram; and the [k]elders of Iş'ra-el followed him.

27 So they gat up from the tabernacle of [l]Kō'rah, Dā'than, and Â-bī'ram, on every side: and Dā'than and Â-bī'ram came out, and [m]stood in the door of their tents, [n]and their wives, and their sons, and their little children.

(8) Seventh of 11 plagues: 38th miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

★28 [o]And Mō'şeş said, [p]Hereby ye shall know that the LORD hath sent me to do all these works; for I have not done them of mine own mind.

29 If these men die the common death of all men, or if they be visited after the visitation of all men; then the LORD hath not sent me.

30 But [q]if the LORD make a new thing, and the earth open her mouth, and swallow them up, with all that appertain unto them, and they go down [r]quick into the [s]pit; then ye shall understand that these men have [t]provoked the LORD.

31 ¶ And it came to pass, [a]as he had made an end of speaking all these words, that the ground clave asunder that was under them:

32 And the [b]earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their houses, and all the men that appertained unto Kō'rah, and all their goods.

33 They, and all that appertained to them, went down [c]alive into the [d]pit, and the [e]earth closed upon them: and they [f]perished from among the congregation.

34 And all Iş'ra-el that were round about them fled at the cry of them: for they said, Lest the earth swallow us up also.

(10) Memorial of judgment for rebellion

●37 [h]Speak unto Ê-le-ā'zar the son of Aâr'on the priest, that he take up the censers out of the burning, and scatter thou the fire yonder; for they are hallowed.

●38 The censers of these sinners [i]against their own souls, let them make them broad plates for a covering of the altar: for they offered them before the LORD, therefore they are hallowed: and they shall be a sign unto the children of Iş'ra-el.

39 And Ê-le-ā'zar the priest took the brasen censers, wherewith they that were burnt had offered; and they were made broad plates for a covering of the altar:

40 To be a memorial unto the children of Iş'ra-el, that no stranger, which is not of the seed of Aâr'on, come near to offer incense before the LORD; that he be not as Kō'rah, and as his company: as the LORD said to him by the hand of Mō'şeş.

(11) Tenth complaint (Ex. 5:19, refs.) and 5th rebellion of Israel (Ex. 6:9, refs.)

41 [j]But on the morrow all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el murmured against Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on, saying, Ye have killed the people of the LORD.

42 And it came to pass, when the congregation was gathered against Mō'şeş and against Aâr'on, that they looked toward the tabernacle of the congregation: and, behold, the cloud covered it, and [k]the glory of the LORD appeared.

43 And Mō'şeş and Aâr'on came before the tabernacle of the congregation.

(12) Fourth time God determines to destroy Israel (Ex.

a Altogether there were 254 censers if Dathan and Abiram were present (v 17)

b The rebels were bold and confident believing the whole congregation was with them and thinking their cause was just (v 18,19). Because of being so popular they perhaps did not consider it possible that God would take such a drastic stand against them. But God used the occasion to teach man a great lesson - that popularity means nothing to Him, and that His law must be obeyed and His will be done even if thousands perish. God had to take such action for the best good of Israel herself at that time, as well as for the good of coming generations c 7 times glory appeared in wilderness:

1 When Israel murmured for food (Ex. 16:10) 23)
2 When altar was dedicated (Lev. 9:
3 When Israel rebelled at Kadesh (14:10) 19)
4 When they rebelled with Korah (16:
5 When they rebelled because the 250 princes were destroyed (16:42)
6 When they rebelled for water (20:6)
7 When Moses was ready to die (Dt. 31:15)

d Command - Separate yourselves from Israel (v 21). Instead of doing so, Moses and Aaron fell upon their faces to plead for mercy and for Israel to be spared from threatened destruction (v 22). A moment before Moses himself was very wroth (v 15), but when Israel became a subject of God's wrath he could forget his own and spend his strength to save the people (v 22)

e See note c, v 4

f This term is used twice (v 22; 27:16). It simply means that all men will have to give an account to God for their lives and conduct (Job 12:10; 2 Pet. 2:9). All are in God's hands to be judged and sent to their own destiny, according to the way they have lived. The righteous go to heaven when they leave their flesh bodies (2 Cor. 5:8; Phil. 1:21-24; Heb. 12:23; Rev. 6:9-11), and the wicked go to hell to await the resurrection, being preserved there to be judged (Isa. 14:9; Lk. 16:19-31; Rev. 20:11-15)

g This expression, spirits of flesh, found only here and in 27:16, sets forth the Bible doctrine of immortality of the souls and spirits of all men, and the distinct difference between the material and spiritual natures of man (see points A-U, The doctrine of man, p. 619

i Moses was very wroth with a few (v 15), but he complained against God for being wroth with all the people (v 21-22)

j 2 commands - separation:
1 God's command to separate from the tents of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram (v 24)
2 Moses' command to separate from their tents, lest the people be consumed (v 26)

k This shows that the elders of Israel who had the Holy Spirit upon them (11:16-17, 25) did not rebel and were not a part of the 253 men who led the rebellion (v 1-4)

l Evidently these 3 men had tents near one another, as all the Kohathites and Reubenites camped south of the tabernacle (2:10; 3:29); so as they were standing in their tent doors with their wives, sons, and daughters, they were swallowed up by the earth (v 27-34)

m They stood in their tent doors in defiance of Moses and his power (v 27)

n The wives and only those sons and children who joined in the rebellion perished. Even sons of Korah who did not rebel did not die with their father (26:11). This explains much and frees God of any blame regarding the destruction of innocent members of these families

s Heb. sheol, the place of departed spirits; the unseen world; hell (v 30, 33). See notes on Hell in Index

t Provoking God has been a great sin in all generations. Israel's history shows that they repeatedly provoked Him to anger. See Provoke and Anger in Index a This, the fulfillment of v 28-30, shows how quickly prophecy can be fulfilled (v 31-33)

b This was an earthquake timed by the Lord to happen the moment Moses finished prophesying (v 21). The earth opened from the surface to the center where sheol (hell) is located (v 33; Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10) c Heb. chay, alive; life; living; lives. It is trans. quick (v 30; Ps. 55:15; 124:3; Isa. 11:3); alive 31 times (v 33; Gen. 43:7, 27-28; 45:26, 28; 46:30); life 141 times (Gen. 1:20, 30; 2:7, 9; 3:14, 17, 22, 24; 6:17; 7:11, 15, 22; 18:10, 14; 23:1); living 100 times (16:48; Gen. 1:21, 24, 28; 2:7); live 43 times (14:21, 28); liveth 59 times (Judg. 8:19; 1 Sam. 14:39, 45); and in other ways to express life, not extinction of being or unconsciousness. It is used of God (Dt. 5:26; Josh. 3:10; 1 Sam. 17:26, 36; 2 Ki. 19:4, 16; Ps. 42:2; 84:2; Isa. 37:4, 17; Jer. 10:10; 23:36; Dan. 6:20, 26; Hos. 1:10); of living heavenly creatures (Ezek. 1:5-22; 3:13; 10:15-20); and of other eternal, never-dying and immortal things; so the true meaning here is that the rebels went down into sheol where their lives continued, giving proof again to the fact of immortality of the soul and spirit

d Heb. sheol, the unseen world; the place of departed spirits; hell. Here and in v 30 and Job 17:16 sheol is trans. pit, instead of hell. See notes on Hell, p. 620

e The earth closed upon them and they perished from among the congregation; but they did not perish in the sense of becoming non-existent. Their bodies died, but their immortal souls and spirits went to sheol to remain in consciousness until the resurrection of the wicked dead at the end of the Millennium. Then their bodies will be resurrected, made immortal and reunited with the soul and spirit to be judged and sent to the eternal hell. See Hell, p. 620 and Gehenna, note m, Lk. 12:5

f Heb. abad, to wander away; lose oneself; to be lost; to be destroyed from the human scene (v 33; Ps. 10:16; 119:92; Jer. 48:36; 49:7; Mic. 7:2). It never means annihilation

g Instead of being swallowed up by the earth as their ringleaders of v 28-33, the 250 rebels perished in a fire sent from God. This was the 3rd fire from the Lord to destroy rebels (v 35; 11:1-3; Lev. 10:1-9). These offered strange fire and incense as did the sons of Aaron who were destroyed by fire, as in Lev. 10 h 2 commands - brazen memorial:

1 Speak to Eleazar that he take the 250 censers out of the fire (which burned the 250 princes) and scatter the fire, for they are hallowed (sanctified) to the Lord (v 37)
2 Make plates from them to cover the brazen altar as a sign to Israel regarding the rebellion and to warn all that no person other than the seed of Aaron shall come near to offer incense before the Lord (v 38-40)

i That offered fire before Jehovah to the destruction of their own lives (v 38)

j It seems the natural man cannot cease warring against God. These people did not yet have enough punishment, and were back for more. They now complained against Moses and Aaron, accusing them of killing the people of the Lord (v 41). They failed to learn one thing from their many plagues and judgments - that it was God, not Moses, who was punishing them for the very thing they were now doing. What they might have done if left alone can only be imagined, for on previous occasions they wanted to kill their leaders and return to Egypt (14:10; 15:35-36). Thus, to protect His servants God found it necessary to come on the scene again and destroy many thousands (v 42-50)

k It seems that the appearance of the glory of God was a sign that He wanted to deal with His people (v 42; 14:10; 16:19; 20:6, etc.). As seen in note c, v 19, it appeared on various occasions, each time as a sign of the invisible presence of God to deal with Israel for breaking His law. God dwells in a light which no man can approach unto; therefore, no man can see Him in that light (1 Tim. 6:16). In times past He has had to hide Himself or conceal His infinite self so that the ones to whom He appeared would not be destroyed. Even in the new earth He will be seen out of His great light (Rev. 21:3; 22:4-5) a Again God commanded Moses to be separated from the congregation so He could destroy it; and again Moses fell on his face to plead with Him to spare the people (v 45. Cp. v 21-22; 14:5-20; Ex. 32)

b 4 steps to stop plague (v 46):
1 Taking a censer in hand
2 Putting fire therein from off altar
3 Putting incense on the fire
4 Making an atonement for sin

c Note that in all the plagues upon Israel the remedy used was such spiritual means as prayer and atonement, or judgment. The plague experiences were recorded for our benefit, as examples to us that we might profit by them (1 Cor. 10:1-14). They teach us that where mercy was granted the approach to God was by some spiritual means Remedies of 10 plagues in Numbers:

1 Prayer stopped plague 1 (11:1-3)
2 Judgment was used in plague 2 (11:33)
3 Prayer and confession of sin were effective in plague 3 (12:10-16)
4 Judgment was used in plague 4 (14:28-35)
5 Judgment in plague 5 (14:36-37)
6 Judgment in plague 6 (16:29-33)
7 Judgment in plague 7 (16:35)
8 Atonement halted plague 8 (16:46)
9 A symbol of the sin being atoned for was effective in plague 9 (21:6-9; cp. Jn. 3:14) (25:1-9)
10 Judgment was used in plague 10

d Counting the 253 that died "about the matter of Korah" there were altogether 14,953 besides some women and children of Korah, Dathan, and Abiram (v 27-35, 49)

e He returned from the holy place where incense and blood were offered to God to stay the plague (v 46, 50)

f 3 commands - priesthood confirmed:
1 Speak to Israel that they take 12 rods, one to a tribe and write the names of the heads of the tribes upon them (v 2-3, 6)
2 Write Aaron's name upon the rod for the tribe of Levi (v 3)
3 Lay the rods up in the tabernacle before the Lord where I meet with you (v 4). The rod of the man whom I shall choose for the priesthood, shall blossom (v 5)

g There were 13 rods altogether, 12 for the 12 tribes and the rod of Aaron for the tribe of Levi among them (v 2-3, 6). We therefore conclude that the names upon the 12 rods were as listed according to encampment around the tabernacle (2:3-35), and not according to birth as in Gen. 29:32-30:24; 35:16-20

h Some of the Levites had taken part in the rebellion of Korah, and it was necessary for God to confirm His choice of Aaron even to them, so that none would ever seek to usurp the office of the priesthood again. The honoring of Aaron in making atonement to stay the plague of 15:45-50 was sufficient proof of the choice of Aaron, but God saw fit to make additional proof in the test of the rods (17:1-11)

i This was in the holy place where the ark was and where God promised to meet with and talk with Moses (v 4, 7-10; Ex. 29:42-43; 30:6, 36)

j 6th prophecy in Num. (17:5, fulfilled). Next, 20:12

k This makes it clear whose names were on the rods (v 6)

l Just where the rods were laid in the holy place is not stated, but we do know that after the test was finished Aaron's rod was put inside the ark (v 10; Heb. 9:4). It seemed to be missing from the ark in the days of Solomon (1 Ki. 8:9), and could have been lost when taken by the Philistines (1 Sam. 4-7) m The whole tent, including the holy place and most holy place made the tabernacle of witness. The word witness refers to the tables of stone of the 10 commandments n 3 things happened to Aaron's rod (v 8): 1 It brought forth buds

2 It produced blossoms
3 It yielded almonds
Everything that happened to the rod was miraculous and contrary to nature. To see a dead, dry stick do this overnight surely was convincing even to the most skeptical and rebellious ones against Aaron. It is called Aaron's rod 2 times in Scripture (v 17; Heb. 9:4). See note c, Ex. 14:16

32:7): Ninth of 10 plagues (Ex. 32:33) - 40th miracle

■44 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●45 [a]Get you up from among this congregation, that I may consume them as in a moment. And they fell upon their faces.

●46 ¶ And Mō'şeş said unto Aâr'on, [b]Take a censer, and put fire therein from off the altar, and put on incense, and go quickly unto the congregation, and [c]make an atonement for them: for there is wrath gone out from the LORD; the plague is begun.

47 And Aâr'on took as Mō'şeş commanded, and ran into the midst of the congregation; and, behold, the plague was begun among the people: and he put on incense, and made an atonement for the people.

48 And he stood between the dead and the living; and the plague was stayed.

49 Now they that died in the plague were fourteen thousand and seven hundred, [d]beside them that died about the matter of Kō'rah.

50 And Aâr'on [e]returned unto Mō'şeş unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation: and the plague was stayed.

CHAPTER 17 134

12 Aaron's rod buds: 41st miracle

[f]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●2 [g]Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and take of every one of them a rod according to the house of their fathers, of all their princes according to the house of their fathers [g]twelve rods: write thou every man's name upon his rod.

●3 And thou shalt write [h]Aâr'on's name upon the rod of Lē'vī: for one rod shall be for the head of the house of their fathers.

●4 And thou shalt lay them up in the tabernacle of the congregation before the testimony, [i]where I will meet with you.

★5 [j]And it shall come to pass, that the man's rod, whom I shall choose, shall blossom: and I will make to cease from me the murmurings of the children of Iş'ra-el, whereby they murmur against you.

6 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and every one of their princes gave him a rod apiece, [k]for each prince one, according to their fathers' houses, even twelve rods: and the rod of Aâr'on was among their rods.

7 And Mō'şeş laid up the rods before the LORD [l]in the [m]tabernacle of witness.

8 And it came to pass, that on the morrow Mō'şeş went into the tabernacle of witness; and, behold, the [n]rod of Aâr'on for the house of Lē'vī was budded, and brought forth buds, and bloomed blossoms, and yielded almonds.

9 And Mō'şeş brought out all the rods from before the LORD unto [a]all the children of Iş'ra-el: and they looked, and took every man his rod.

●10 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [b]Bring Aâr'on's rod again before the testimony, to be kept for a token against the rebels; and thou shalt quite take away their murmurings from me, that they die not.

11 And Mō'şeş did so: as the LORD commanded him, so did he.

13 Second false repentance of Israel (Num. 14:39-43)

12 And the children of Iş'ra-el spake unto Mō'şeş, saying, [c]Behold, we die, we perish, we all perish.

13 Whosoever cometh any thing near unto the tabernacle of the LORD shall die: [d]shall we be consumed with dying?

CHAPTER 18 135

14 Levitical priesthood confirmed (Num. 3:11; 8:15)

[e]AND the LORD [f]said unto Aâr'on, Thou and thy sons and thy father's house with thee shall [g]bear the [g]iniquity of the sanctuary: and thou and thy sons with thee shall bear the iniquity of your priesthood.

●2 And thy brethren also of the tribe of Lē'vī, the tribe of thy father, bring thou with thee, that they may be joined unto thee, and minister unto thee: but thou and thy sons with thee shall minister [h]before the tabernacle of witness.

●3 And they shall keep [i]thy charge, and the charge of all the tabernacle: only they shall not come nigh the vessels of the sanctuary and the altar, that neither they, nor ye also, die.

●4 And they shall be joined unto thee, and keep the charge of the tabernacle of the congregation, for all the service of the tabernacle: and a stranger shall not come nigh unto you.

●5 And ye shall keep the charge of the sanctuary, and the charge of the altar: that there be no wrath any more upon the children of Iş'ra-el.

6 And I, behold, I have taken your brethren the Lē'vites from among the children of Iş'ra-el: to you they are given as a gift for the LORD, to do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.

●7 Therefore thou and thy sons with thee shall keep your priest's office for every thing of the altar, and within the [j]veil; and ye shall serve: I have given your priest's office unto you as a service of gift: and the stranger that cometh nigh shall be put to death.

●8 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Aâr'on, Behold, I also have given thee the charge of [k]mine heave offerings of all the hallowed things of the children of Iş'ra-el; unto thee have I given them [l]by reason of the anointa All Israel saw the miracle of the dry rod budding, blossoming and producing almonds in one night (v 8-9)

b Command - Bring Aaron's rod again before the testimony, to be kept as a sign against the rebels, so that their murmurings will cease (v 10)
The word again proves that it had already been before the testimony. It refers to the previous night of being laid up before the Lord with the other 12 rods to see which one would be chosen. This time it was to be put into the ark itself beside the testimony as a memorial of God's choice (v 10; Heb. 9:4). The testimony referred to here was the 2 tables of the law on which the 10 commandments were written. The first night the rod was before the testimony but now it was to be permanently placed inside the ark

c So many people had died in the plague which was sent because of the rebellion of Korah, and in other plagues directed by God from the tabernacle, that Israel was now terror-stricken and in despair of ever being able to approach the tabernacle (v 12-13). God therefore gave the Levites assurances of renewed blessings and provided laws to be observed in the service of the tabernacle (18:1-32) which would protect the people from bearing any iniquity of the tabernacle. He gave the laws of the red heifer, which were laws of separation for all Israel, enabling them to be made clean so as to approach the tabernacle (19:1-22)

d Question 31. Next, 20:4

e 10 commands - renewed priesthood:
1 Aaron, his sons and his father's house with him shall be responsible for the iniquity of the sanctuary (v 1)
2 They shall be responsible for the iniquity of the priesthood
3 All the Levites shall serve the priesthood, but Aaron and his sons shall be the only ones to minister before the tabernacle of witness (v 2)
4 The Levites shall keep the charge of the tabernacle and have oversight of all the tabernacle work (v 3)
5 They shall not come near the vessels of the sanctuary and the golden altar so that none of you (priests or Levites) may die
6 They alone shall help the priests in the tabernacle service; no stranger shall come near to help in such service (v 4)
7 You priests shall keep the charge of the sanctuary and the charge of the golden altar that there be no wrath upon Israel again (v 5)
8 You shall have the Levites as a gift from Me to help you in the service of the tabernacle for the congregation (v 6)
9 You, Aaron and sons, shall keep the priest's office in the service of the golden altar in the holy place and the ark in the most holy place beyond the vail; no stranger shall come near to help in this lest he die (v 7)
10 You, Aaron the high priest, shall have charge of My heave offerings of all the sanctified things of Israel by an ordinance forever (v 8)

f Aaron and his sons, the priests, were to be answerable for all sins committed by Israel and make proper atonement for the people in the service of the sanctuary and the priesthood (v 1)

g See Iniquity defined, p. 167

h The Levites as a whole were to serve before and not in the tabernacle of witness, the tent of the ark containing the tables of the law which was a witness of the contract between God and Israel (v 2). Priests only were to minister in this tent of the witness (v 3, 5, 7)

i See Work of Levites, note m 8:19; p. 167

j The vail refers to the one separating the holy place from the most holy place, into which the high priest alone could go once a year to make atonement (Heb. 9:7)

k Both the wave and heave offerings were parts of the peace offerings and consecrated to the priests for their services (Ex. 29:24-27; Lev. 7:14, 30-34; 8:27; 9:21; 10:14-15; 14:12, 24; 23:10-15; Num. 6:19-20; 15:19-21; 18:8, 11, 19, 26-32)

l This qualification is the reason God gave for the high priest having full charge of all affairs of Israel in holy things (v 8) a 10 "devoted" things for priests:

1 Oblations of Israel (v 9)
2 Meat (food) offerings
3 Sin offerings
4 Trespass offerings
5 Heave offerings (v 11)
6 Wave offerings
7 The best of the oil (v 12)
8 The best of the wine
9 The best of the wheat
10 The firstfruits of the land

b 3 holy places of the tabernacle:
1 The most holy place beyond the vail where the ark was (Ex. 26:33)
2 The holy place where the golden altar, candlestick, and table of showbread were (Ex. 26:33)
3 The outer court (Lev. 6:16, 26, 29). It is called the most holy place here because it was most holy compared to the rest of Israel's camp (v 10 with Lev. 6:16)

c This could only refer to the heave offering of the hallowed things, a portion of which was reserved for the priests. Only the males of the priests' family could eat of these particular things (v 8-10). The heave and wave offerings in general were for the whole family of the priests, whoever was clean (v 11, 13, 19; Lev. 22:3-16)

d 20 sacrificial gifts to priests:
1 Sin-offerings (Lev. 6:25-26)
2 Trespass offerings (Lev. 7:1-6)
3 Peace offerings (Lev. 7:31-34; 23:19-20) 10)
4 Part of the sheaf offerings (Lev. 23:
5 Part of meat offerings (Lev. 2:10)
6 The 2 loaves (Lev. 23:17)
7 The showbread (Lev. 24:9)
8 Part of the oil (Lev. 14:10)
9 Heave offerings (v 11; Lev. 7:12-14)
10 Wave offerings (v 11; Lev. 7:34)
11 Part of Nazarite lambs (6:17-20)
12 Firstborn of clean beasts (18:15; Dt. 15:19-20)
13 The firstfruits (Lev. 16:13; Dt. 18:4)
14 The tithes (v 21, 24, 28)
15 The cake (15:20)
16 Firstborn redemption money (v 15)
17 Lambs given to redeem firstborn of unclean beasts (Ex. 12:2, 12-13; 34:20)
18 Certain unclaimed things (5:8) 8) 19 Skins of certain sacrifices (Lev. 7:
20 Levite cities and suburbs (Josh. 21)
These things were promised to the Levites because they had no inheritance in Israel and could not give themselves to agriculture and stock raising (v 20-28; Dt. 18:1-8)

e 3:12; Ex. 13:2, 12; 34:19; Lev. 27:26

f 5 shekels or $3.20 was the redemption price of a firstborn child (v 16)

g A gerah was about 3 1/5 cents

h The firstborn of clean animals belonged to the priests and Levites and were not redeemable (v 17); but the firstborn of unclean animals could be redeemed with a clean one; or its price could be given to the priesthood instead (Ex. 13:13)

i See note c, above

j Salt, being scarce and precious and used in every sacrifice (Lev. 2:13) as well as to preserve meat, it became the symbol of incorruptibility of God's covenant, and the perpetuity of man's obligation to Him. The term, a covenant of salt referred to the solemnizing of any inviolable covenant (v 19). See point 13, p. 57, col. 4

10fold prophecy of Messiah (24:17)

1 I (Balaam) shall see Him, but not now (v 17). Balaam and all other men will see Him, for every knee shall bow and every tongue shall confess His Lordship (Phil. 2:9-11). Even all rebels in hell will be tormented forever in His presence (Rev. 14:9-11, Cp. Isa. 66:22-24). The literal meaning here is, "I shall have a full view of Him, but the time is far distant," that is, the person I am prophesying about does not now exist among these Israelites, nor shall He appear in this generation

2 He shall rise as a Star out of Jacob (v 17). The word star has been a symbol of regal power among all nations, being often used to herald the rise of, and future glory of a monarch

3 A Sceptre shall rise out of Israel (v 17). This same thing was predicted by the prophet Jacob (Gen. 49:10, Cp. Ps. 45:6; Heb. 1:8). It expresses the ruling power of the Messiah who was to come ing, and to thy sons, by an ordinance for ever.

15 Ten devoted things for the priests and Levites

●9 This shall be thine of the most holy things, reserved from the fire: [a]every oblation of theirs, every meat offering of theirs, and every sin offering of theirs, and every trespass offering of theirs, which they shall render unto me, shall be most holy for thee and for thy sons.
●10 In [b]the most holy place shalt thou eat it; [c]every male shall eat it: it shall be holy unto thee.
●11 And this is thine; the heave offering of their gift, with all the wave offerings of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: I have given them unto thee, and to thy sons and to thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: every one that is clean in thy house shall eat of it.
●12 All the best of the oil, and all the best of the wine, and of the wheat, the firstfruits of them which they shall offer unto the LORD, them have I given thee.
●13 And whatsoever is first ripe in the land, which they shall bring unto the LORD, shall be thine; every one that is clean in thine house shall eat of it.
●14[d] Every thing devoted in Iṣ'ra-el shall be thine.

16 Law of the firstborn (Ex. 13:1, refs.)

●15 [e]Every thing that openeth the matrix in all flesh, which they bring unto the LORD, whether it be of men or beasts, shall be thine: nevertheless the firstborn of man shalt thou surely redeem, and the firstling of unclean beasts shalt thou redeem.
●16 And those that are to be redeemed from a month old shalt thou redeem, according to thine estimation, for the money [f]of five shekels, after the shekel of the sanctuary, which is twenty [g]gerahs.
●17 But [h]the firstling of a cow, or the firstling of a sheep, or the firstling of a goat, thou shalt not redeem; they are holy: thou shalt sprinkle their blood upon the altar, and shalt burn their fat for an offering made by fire, for a sweet savour unto the LORD.
●18 And the flesh of them shall be thine, as the wave breast and as the right shoulder are thine.

17 Twelfth or Covenant of Salt (Lev. 2:13; Gen. 1:14, 6)

●19 [i]All the heave offerings of the holy things, which the children of Iṣ'ra-el offer unto the LORD, have I given thee, and thy sons and thy daughters with thee, by a statute for ever: it is a [j]covenant of salt for ever before the LORD unto thee and to thy seed with thee.

18 No inheritance for the priests and Levites

●20 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Aâr'on, [a]Thou [b]shalt have no inheritance in their land, neither shalt thou have any part among them: I am thy part and thine inheritance among the children of Iṣ'ra-el.
●21 And, behold, I have given the children of Lē'vī all the tenth in Iṣ'ra-el for an inheritance, for their service which they serve, even the service of the tabernacle of the congregation.
●22 Neither must the children of Iṣ'ra-el henceforth come nigh the tabernacle of the congregation, lest they bear sin, and die.
●23 But the Lē'vītes shall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall bear their iniquity: it shall be a statute for ever throughout your generations, that among the children of Iṣ'ra-el they have no inheritance.

19 All tithes of Israel for the Levites

●24 But the tithes of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, which they offer as an heave offering unto the LORD, I have given to the Lē'vītes to inherit: therefore I have said unto them, Among the children of Iṣ'ra-el they shall have no inheritance.

20 Tithes of the tithes for the high priests

■25 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,
●26 Thus speak unto the Lē'vites, and say unto them, [c]When ye take of the children of Iṣ'ra-el the tithes which I have given you from them for your inheritance, then ye shall offer up an heave offering of it for the LORD, even a tenth part of the tithe.
●27 And this your heave offering shall be reckoned unto you, as though it were the corn of the threshingfloor, and as the fulness of the winepress.
●28 Thus ye also shall offer an heave offering unto the LORD of all your tithes, which ye receive of the children of Iṣ'ra-el; and ye shall give thereof the LORD's heave offering to Aâr'on the priest.

21 All free will offerings for the Levites after heave offering is taken out

●29[d] Out of all your gifts ye shall offer every heave offering of the LORD, of all the best thereof, even the hallowed part thereof out of it.
●30 Therefore thou shalt say unto them, When ye have heaved the best thereof from it, then it shall be counted unto the Lē'vites as the increase of the threshingfloor, and as the increase of the winepress.
●31 And ye shall eat it in every place, ye and your households: for it is your reward for your service in the tabernacle of the a Again God made it clear that He was to be the inheritance of the priests and Levites, and that they were to have no part in the inheritance of Canaan. The things dedicated to God, those that He reserved from the offerings of Israel and the tithes were to be for the support of the ministry, and in this sense God was their inheritance (v 20-21)

b 4 commands - support of Levites:
1 You (Aaron and all other priests and Levites) shall have no inheritance in Israel and no part among them in national settlement (v 20)
2 The tithes of all Israel shall be given to the tribe of Levi for their services (v 21, 24)
3 The children of Israel shall not come near the tabernacle to help the ministers in their service, lest they die (v 22)
4 The Levites only shall do the service of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they shall be responsible for the atoning work of Israel (v 23)

c 2 commands - support of high priest:
1 When you take tithes of all Israel, then you shall set aside and offer as an heave offering 1/10 of the tithes and give it to the high priest (v 26)
2 This portion of the tithes from the whole of the Levites shall be considered as though you had dedicated your own wheat and grapes that you had raised (v 27-28)

d 4 commands - support of Levites:
1 You (Israel) shall offer the best part of each gift for an heave offering to the Lord (v 29)
2 When you have heaved the best of your offerings to the Lord, the remaining part shall be given to the Levites and they shall eat of it as freely as if they had produced it in their own fields (v 30)
3 It shall be for the service of the Levites in the tabernacle work (v 31)
4 You shall not pollute the holy things, lest you die (v 32)

(Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 7:13-14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15)

4 He shall smite the corners (extremity or uttermost parts) of Moab (v 17, Cp. Ps. 60:8; Isa. 11:14; 16:1-5; 25:10; Jer. 48:47; Dan. 11:40-41)

5 He shall destroy the children of Sheth (Seth, v 17, Cp. 1 Chr. 1:1). Seth here refers to all mankind, for all descended from Seth through Noah (Gen. 5); that is, none but Sethites were preserved through Noah and his sons. Messiah will reign until all enemies are put under His feet - those of the human race and otherwise (1 Cor. 15:24-28)

6 He shall possess Edom (v 18, Cp. Ps. 60:8-9; Isa. 11:14; 63:1-5; Dan. 11:40-41; Amos 9:12; Oba. 1:1-21). Edom, Seir, and Esau refer to the same country (Gen. 32:3; 36:8, 21)

7 He shall cause Israel to do valiantly (v 18, Cp. Isa. 11:14; Zech. 12:5-9; 14:14)

8 He shall come out of Jacob (v 17, 19, Cp. Gen. 49:10; Isa. 9:6-9; 49:26; 65:9; Mt. 1:1-2; Lk. 1:32-33)

9 He shall have dominion (v 18, Cp. Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 9:10; 14:9; 1 Cor. 15:24-28; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

10 He shall destroy him that remaineth of the city (v 19). This pictures a conqueror who defeats his enemies in battle and then seeks out those that have escaped, to deal with them accordingly. This, Christ will do after Armageddon when He gathers the nations and determines who shall or shall not enter the kingdom (Mt. 25:31-46)

3 people in Scripture had trances: (24:4)

1 Balaam (v 4, 16)
2 Peter (Acts 10:10; 11:5)
3 Paul (Acts 22:17)

A trance is the state in which one seems to have passed out of the body, being insensible to ordinary surroundings. Here the eyes were open (v 4, 16). The word trance has been supplied by the translators here. The thought is that of falling down to the ground; though the translators are no doubt right in supposing that he was also in a trance a Israel was supposed to give from the best of their crops and animals and honor God with the firstfruits of all their increase as a token of appreciation for His many blessings in making such things possible (v 32. Cp. Pr. 3: 9-10; Mt. 22:37)

b 28 commands - water of separation:
1 Speak to Israel that they bring to you (Moses and Aaron) a red heifer without spot, or blemish, and which has never worn a yoke (v 2)
2 Give her to Eleazar the priest (v 3)
3 He shall bring her forth outside the camp
4 One shall slay her before the face of Eleazar (v 4)
5 The priest shall take of her blood with his finger, and sprinkle it directly before the tabernacle of the congregation 7 times
6 One shall burn the heifer in his sight, including her skin, flesh, blood, and dung (v 5)
7 Eleazar shall take cedar wood, hyssop, and scarlet, and cast the same into the midst of the burning heifer(v 6)
8 He shall then wash his clothes, bathe in water, come into camp and be unclean until evening (v 7)
9 The one who burns the heifer shall wash his clothes, bathe in water, then come into camp and he unclean until evening (v 8)
10 Another that is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up in a clean place outside the camp (v 9)
11 The ashes shall be kept for the congregation of the children of Israel for a water of separation as a purification for sin
12 The man who gathers the ashes shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until evening (v 10)
13 This shall be a statute for the Israelites and the stranger among them, forever
14 He that touches a dead body shall be unclean 7 days (v 11)
15 He shall purify himself with the water of separation on the 3rd day and be clean on the 7th day (v 12)
16 If he does not purify himself on the 3rd day he shall not be clean on the 7th day
17 He that touches the dead body of any man, and does not purify himself defiles the tabernacle of the Lord, and shall be cut off from Israel (v 13)
18 All that are in a tent where a man dies shall be unclean 7 days (v 14)
19 Every open vessel in the tent shall be unclean (v 15)
20 He that touches one slain in the field, or any other dead body, a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean 7 days (v 16)
21 For an unclean person, some of the ashes of the heifer shall be put in running water in an open vessel (v 17)
22 A clean priest shall take hyssop, dip it in the water of purification, and sprinkle it upon the tent, upon the vessels, and upon the persons that were in the tent, or upon him that has touched a bone, one dead or slain, or a grave (v 18)
23 The clean priest shall sprinkle upon the unclean person on the 3rd day and on the 7th day (v 19)
24 The 7th day the priest shall purify himself, wash his clothes, bathe in water, and be unclean until evening
25 Any unclean person who does not purify himself shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he has defiled the sanctuary of the Lord and the water of separation has not been sprinkled upon him (v 20)
27 It shall be a perpetual statute that the priest who sprinkles the water of separation shall wash his clothes and be unclean until evening (v 21)
27 He that touches the water of separation shall be unclean until evening (v 21, 22)
28 Everything the unclean person touches shall be unclean (v 22)

c Eleazar was made chief of all the Levites at the 1st numbering (3:32; 4: 16). He was the one given responsibility at the time referred to in the last few chapters (16:37, 39; 19:3, 4), perhaps because it was about the time that Aaron would die. The next reference about him is when he became high priest and Aaron died (20:23-29) congregation.

●32 And ye shall bear no sin by reason of it, when ye have heaved from it the [c]best of it: neither shall ye pollute the holy things of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, lest ye die.

136 CHAPTER 19

22 Water of separation: (1) Thirtyfold preparation: red heifer ashes and water kept on hand to ceremonially purify sin

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣes and unto Aär'on, saying,
●2 This is the ordinance of the law which the LORD hath commanded, saying, [b]Speak unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they bring thee a red heifer without spot, wherein is no blemish, and upon which never came yoke:
●3 And ye shall give her [c]unto Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, that he may bring her forth without the camp, and [d]one shall slay her before his face:
●4 And Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest shall take of her blood with his finger, and sprinkle of her blood directly before the tabernacle of the congregation seven times:
●5 And one shall burn the heifer in his sight; her skin, and her flesh, and her blood, with her dung, shall he burn:
●6 And the priest shall take cedar wood, and hyssop, and scarlet, and cast it into the midst of the burning of the heifer.
●7 Then the priest shall wash his clothes, and he shall bathe his flesh in water, and afterward he shall come into the camp, and the priest shall be unclean until the even.
●8 And he that burneth her shall wash his clothes in water, and bathe his flesh in water, and shall be unclean until the even.
●9 And a man that is clean shall gather up the ashes of the heifer, and lay them up without the camp in a clean place, and it shall be kept for the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el for a[e]water of separation: it is a purification for sin.
●10 And [f]he that gathereth the ashes of the heifer shall wash his clothes, and be unclean until the even: and it shall be unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and unto the stranger that sojourneth among them, for a statute for ever.

(2) Purpose of the ashes and the water of purification

●11 ¶ He that toucheth the dead body of any man[g]shall be unclean seven days.
●12 He shall [h]purify himself with it on the third day, and on the seventh day he shall be clean: but if he purify not himself the third day, then the seventh day he shall not be clean.
●13 Whosoever toucheth the dead body of any man that is dead, and purifieth not himself, defileth the tabernacle of the LORD; and that soul [e]shall be cut off from Iṣ'ra-el: because the [b]water of separation was not sprinkled upon him, he shall be unclean; his uncleanness is yet upon him.
●14 [c]This is the law, when a man dieth in a tent: all that come into the tent, and all that is in the tent, shall be unclean seven days.
●15 And every open vessel, which hath no covering bound upon it, is unclean.
●16 And whosoever toucheth one that is slain with a sword in the open fields, or a dead body, or a bone of a man, or a grave, shall be unclean [d]seven days.

(3) How to use the water of purification and the ashes

●17 And for an unclean person they shall take of the ashes of the burnt heifer of purification for sin, and running water shall be put thereto in a vessel:
●18 And a [c]clean person shall take hyssop, and dip it in the water, and sprinkle it upon the tent, and upon all the vessels, and upon the persons that were there, and upon him that touched a bone, or one slain, or one dead, or a grave:
●19 And the clean person shall sprinkle upon the unclean on the third day, and on the seventh day: and on the seventh day he shall purify himself, and wash his clothes, and bathe himself in water, and shall be clean at even.
●20 But the man that shall be unclean, and shall [i]not purify himself, that soul shall be cut off from among the congregation, because he hath defiled the sanctuary of the LORD: the water of separation hath not been sprinkled upon him; he is unclean.
●21 And it shall be a perpetual statute unto them, that he that sprinkleth the water of separation shall wash his clothes; and he that toucheth the water of separation shall be unclean until even.
●22 And whatsoever the unclean person toucheth shall be unclean; and the soul that toucheth it shall be unclean until even.

CHAPTER 20 137

23 Back to Kadesh-barnea after 38 years of wandering (Num. 15:1). (1) Death of Miriam

THEN came the children of Iṣ'ra-el, even the whole congregation, into the desert of Zin in the [k]first month: and the people abode in Kā'desh; [j]and Mir'i-am died there, and was buried there.

(2) Eleventh complaint of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

2 And there was [i]no water for the congregation: and they gathered themselves together a It would be willful neglect and presumptuous sin to know the law and refuse to obey it (v 13; 15:30-31)

b It was called this because of being used ceremonially in the cleansing or sanctification of men from uncleanness of religious and bodily defilements (v 9, 13, 17-21)

c This law shows the purpose of the water of separation. Its primary use was in ceremonial purification of persons becoming unclean by death in the family. This is indicated by the fact that the touching of a dead body, a bone of a dead body, or a grave are referred to 7 times out of 10 wherein the causes of uncleanness are mentioned in this chapter. The other 3 causes were incurred in the preparation of the red heifer and the water of purification (see note g, v 11)
All members of a household where a person died were to use the water of separation, for all became defiled and needed to be purified (v 14). In such a vast population there would be a daily need of this water, which suggests that many red heifers may have been killed from time to time. Some Jewish writers say the ashes were made yearly and the sprinkling ingredients were added and distributed to all cities and towns of Israel at that time; but the language of v 9 and 17 seems to indicate that the mixture of running water and ashes was made fresh when needed. The main purpose of the rite no doubt, was to prevent the Israelites from imitating the superstitious customs of the Egyptians who kept their dead around them in mummified form. This law encouraged a speedy burial for all, the maintaining of graveyards at a distance from the dwelling places, and helped prevent the spread of disease in the camp. Fields had to be cleaned up of persons slain in battle, whether Israelites or others - strangers and foreigners (v 16)

d Uncleanness lasted 7 days in the case of one being defiled by the dead (v 11-12, 14), and for the other reasons of v 14-16, but only one day in the case of being defiled in connection with the sacrifice of the red heifer (v 7-10), in applying the water of separation to others (v 19), or touching it (v 21)

e This explains the they of v 17. It seems that any clean person, not necessarily a priest, could apply the water of separation (v 17-21). It also explains how the water of separation was used

f Note how important God considered even the ceremonial cleansing. One was cut off if he did not submit to it, so how much more would one be cut off if he did not give evidence of a real cleansing from sin, of which the outward ceremonial cleansing was only a figure (v 13, 20)

g This was after the events of the 40 years of wandering - from 14:28-35 to this point in the history of Israel

h The 1st month of the 40th year after leaving Egypt (v 1 with 33:38; Dt. 1:3)

i Miriam (v 1) and Aaron (v 28-29) were perhaps the last of the old generation to die (except Moses, Joshua, and Caleb), fulfilling 14:28-35. Miriam died in Kadesh, and Aaron on Mt. Hor. Moses died later on Mt. Pisgah, but before Israel entered Canaan; and was buried by God, Himself in a valley of Moab. Kadesh is where Israel had rebelled about 38 years before this j 3 times "no water" for Israel:

1 At Marah (Ex. 15:22)
2 At Rephidim (Ex. 17:1)
3 At Kadesh (20:1-2)

d 5 distinct parties in this sacrifice:
1 Israel to bring the red heifer (v 2)
2 Eleazar to receive red heifer (v 3)
3 Another man to slay her and burn her with fire (v 3, 5, 8)
4 Still another to gather up the ashes and store them in a clean place (v 9-10)
5 A clean person to sprinkle the water upon the unclean (v 17-21)

e It was called the water of separation because it was used in the ceremonial cleansing of defiled persons wanting to separate themselves from uncleanness. In the same sense the water of purification is so-called in 8:7

f He that gathered the ashes became as unclean as others (v 10-11)

g 10 things rendering one unclean, p.165

h See The red-heifer laws, note b, v 2 a An old English word - past tense of chide, meaning to scold, reprove, reprimand, rebuke, blame, contend with (v 3) b This follows the common pattern of man's first utterance when he is overcome with discouragement and despair (v 3; 14:2; Ex. 16:3; Josh. 7:7; 2 Sam. 18:33)

c Questions 32-33. Next, v 10 d Man's complaints are usually senseless, as here. If the nation had obeyed God in the first place they would have been through the wilderness and out of it now for 38 years. They, themselves were responsible for their being in such an evil place. God did not say the wilderness would be a place of seed, figs, vines, pomegranates, and good water - like Canaan. Through their sin they had missed being in the wonderful place God promised them, so their complaints against Him were groundless
e See note c, 16:4
f 2 commands - water from the rock:
1 Take the rod, gather the assembly together (v 8)
2 Speak to the rock before their eyes and it shall give forth water for all Israel and their stock
g This is the rod by which he wrought many miracles (v 8; notes q, Ex. 4:20 and c, 14:16)
h To speak to the rock is all that was required of Moses, and it would have been very effective in proving to Israel the intended truth of benefits to be received from the Messiah who was typified by the rock (1 Cor. 10:4). The rock had already been smitten once, typifying the crucifixion of Christ which was to be once and only once for all men (Ex. 17:6; Rom. 10; Heb. 9:25-28). Merely speaking to the rock at this time would have brought the same benefits as smiting it before. The same is true now regarding Christ - all one is required to do is ask and receive (Mt. 7:7-11; 21:22; Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 15:7, 16; 16:23-26)
i 4 acts of Moses:
1 He took the rod, obeying the commands of v 8 (v 9)
2 Gathered the assembly, obeying what he was told to do in v 8 (v 10)
3 Spoke to Israel instead of the rock, transgressing the instructions of v 8 4 Smote the rock twice when he should have spoken to it only, thus transgressing the commands of v 8 (v 11)
j Question 34. Next, 21:5
k Speaking harshly to Israel and not speaking to the rock as commanded, was not only unbecoming to one of Moses' position, but an act of unbelief (v 12). It called attention to "we" - Moses and Aaron - as the source of supply, not Jehovah (v 10). This act of breaking down in the actual discharge of duty as God's representative to Israel was truly one unworthy of the great work entrusted to him in the development of the spiritual and typical program God was making known to the whole world through that nation. Thus, Moses did not sanctify God (set Him apart as sacred and reverend) before all the people (v 12). Aaron could have checked this rash, impatient, and disobedient act of Moses, for he was given the instructions along with Moses (v 6-8), but he did not do so. Hence, he was a partner with Moses in the same action of unbelief and sin; and both were cut off from entering the promised land (v 12-13)
l The chief reason for this being such a serious sin against Jehovah, and one that displeased Him greatly, was that the rock was the spiritual rock of Israel, identified with the Messiah; and smiting it typified His crucifixion. To smite the rock twice meant crucifying Christ afresh. Thus God punished for transgression in type, the same as He will punish for reality, though not as severely as He will punish one who actually crucifies to himself the Son of God and puts Him to an open shame (Heb. 6:4-9; 10:26-29)
m Water came out abundantly as it did when the rock was first smitten (Ex. 17:6; 1 Cor. 10:4), typifying that the benefits of the crucifixion are abundant to all men, even hardened rebels; but, as here, men must accept and use the provision made for them or it will be in vain as far as they are concerned against Mō'ṣeṣ and against Aâr'on.

3 And the people [a]chode with Mō'ṣeṣ, and spake, [b]saying, Would God that we had died when our brethren died before the LORD!

4 And [c]why have ye brought up the congregation of the LORD into this wilderness, that we and our cattle [d]should die there?

5 And wherefore have ye made us to come up out of É'ġўpt, to bring us in unto this evil place? it is no place of seed, or of figs, or of vines, or of pomegranates; neither is there any water to drink.

(3) Usual procedure of Moses in trouble (Num. 14:5, refs.)

6 And Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on went from the presence of the assembly unto the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, and they [e]fell upon their faces: and the glory of the LORD appeared unto them.

(4) Moses and Aaron sin

●7 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

●8 [f]Take the [g]rod, and gather thou the assembly together, thou, and Aâr'on thy brother, and [h]speak ye unto the rock before their eyes; and it shall give forth his water, and thou shalt bring forth to them water out of the rock: so thou shalt give the congregation and their beasts drink.

9 And Mō'ṣeṣ [i]took the rod from before the LORD, as he commanded him.

10 And Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on gathered the congregation together before the rock, and he said unto them, [j]Hear now, ye rebels; [k]must we fetch you water out of this rock?

11 And Mō'ṣeṣ lifted up his hand, and with his rod he smote the [l]rock twice: and the [m]water came out abundantly, and the congregation drank, and their beasts also.

(5) Penalty for striking the rock instead of speaking to it (v 7-11; Dt. 32:48-52; 1 Cor. 10:4)

✱12 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on, [o]Because ye [p]believed me not, to sanctify me in the eyes of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, therefore ye shall not bring this congregation into the land which I have given them.

13 This is the water of [q]Mēr'i-bah; because the children of Iṣ'ra-el strove with the LORD, and he was sanctified in them.

(6) At Kadesh: Edom refuses passage through the country

14 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ [r]sent messengers from Kā'desh unto the king of É'dom, Thus saith thy brother Iṣ'ra-el, Thou knowest all the travail that hath befallen us:

15 How our fathers went down into É'ġўpt, and we have dwelt in É'ġўpt a long time; and the É-ġўp'tians vexed us, and our fathers:

16 And when we cried unto the LORD, he heard our voice, and sent an angel, and hath brought us forth out of É'ġўpt: and, behold, we are in Kā'desh, a city in the uttermost of thy border:

17 Let us pass, I pray thee, through thy country: we will not pass through the fields, or through the vineyards, neither will we drink of the water of the wells: we will go by the king's high way, we will not turn to the right hand nor to the left, until we have passed thy borders.

18 And É'dom said unto him, Thou shalt not pass by me, lest I come out against thee with the sword.

19 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el said unto him, We will go by the high way: and if I and my cattle drink of thy water, then I will pay for it: I will only, without doing any thing else, go through on my feet.

20 And he said, Thou shalt not go through. And É'dom came out against him with much people, and with a strong hand.

21 Thus É'dom refused to give Iṣ'ra-el passage through his border: wherefore Iṣ'ra-el turned away from him.

VII Wanderings: Kadesh to Jordan (Num. 20:22-25:18; Dt. 2:17-3:29). 1 Journey: Kadesh to Mount Hor

22 ¶ And the children of Iṣ'ra-el, even the whole congregation, [s]journeyed from Kā'desh, and came unto mount Hôr.

2 Death of Aaron: 123 years old (Num. 33:37-39): Eleazar becomes second high priest

●23 And the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ and Aâr'on in mount Hôr, by the coast of the land of É'dom, saying, ✱24 [t]Aâr'on shall be gathered unto his people: for he shall not enter into the land which I have given unto the children of Iṣ'ra-el, [u]because ye rebelled against my word at the water of Mēr'i-bah.

●25 [v]Take Aâr'on and É-le-ā'zar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hôr:

●26 And strip Aâr'on of his garments, and put them upon É'le-ā'zar his son: and Aâr'on shall be gathered unto his people, and shall die there.

27 And Mō'ṣeṣ did as the LORD commanded: and they went up into mount Hôr [w]in the sight of all the congregation.

28 And Mō'ṣeṣ stripped Aâr'on of his garments, and put them upon É-le-ā'zar his son; and Aâr'on died there in the top of the mount: and Mō'ṣeṣ and É-le-ā'zar [x]came down from the mount.

a 7fold historical account of Israel:
1 Our fathers went down into Egypt (v 15; Gen. 46:1-47:31)
2 We have dwelled in Egypt a long time (215 yrs., v 15; note o, Gen. 15:13)
3 The Egyptians vexed us and our fathers (over 80 yrs., v 15; Ex. 1:1-12:42)
4 When we cried unto the Lord, He heard us (v 16; Ex. 3:7-12)
5 He sent an angel (v 16; Ex. 3:2; 12:29; 14:19; 23:20-23; 32:34; 33:2)
6 He has brought us out of Egypt (v 16; Ex. 12:40-19:2; Num. 10:11-20:1)
7 We are at Kadesh (20:1 with 33:38)
This is one of the shortest and most comprehensive histories of a nation - covering about 253 years b 7fold request and promise to Edom:
1 Let us pass through your country (v 17) or vineyards
2 We will not go through your fields
3 We will not drink of the water of your wells
4 We will go by the king's highway
5 We will not turn to the right hand or to the left, until we have passed through your borders
6 If we or our cattle drink any of your water we will pay for it (v 19)
7 We will go through on foot without bothering anything
c Edomites were the descendants of Esau. They had been multiplying for the many years Israel had been in Egypt. Even when Jacob came from Haren, Esau already had hundreds of soldiers (Gen. 32:6). Now the whole nation mobilized to oppose the passage of Jacob's descendants through their land (v 18, 21); but God instructed Israel not to fight with them (Dt. 2:4-9) d Israel now started on the last section of their journey to Canaan, going around Moab and Edom to come into the land from the east of Jordan (v 22)

g 2 commands - change of high priests:
1 Take Aaron and Eleazar his son, and bring them up unto mount Hor (v 25)
2 Strip Aaron of his garments, and put them upon Eleazar (v 26)
h Israel was permitted to see the change in high priests, so they would all know God's choice regarding the successor. The purpose was to keep down rebellion, as in chapter 16 i The 3 men went up but only 2 came down. Evidently Aaron was buried in the mount (v 28)

o This is the official reason for Moses and Aaron not being permitted to enter the promised land (v 12, 24; Dt. 3:18-29). It is referred to several times by Moses as one of the most regrettable things that ever happened to him. Think of it! The man who spent the most of 120 years either in preparation or the actual work of getting his people out of bondage and bringing them to the promised land, at the last moment, was not permitted to see the work completed! This does not mean that he was eternally lost or cut off from heaven but that he was denied the fulfilment of his life-long desire, through disobedience. The experience should be an everlasting lesson to all free moral agents to come, showing them that perfect obedience is required of the Supreme Moral Governor of the universe (Eph. 2:7; 3:10-11) p 7 sins of Moses here:
1 Angrily and provokingly called his people rebels (v 10)
2 Emphasized what we must do instead of glorifying God
3 Went beyond divine command (v 8), addressing Israel instead of the rock
4 Definitely transgressed the command by failing to speak to the rock
5 Smote the rock twice in anger (v 11; Ps. 106:32-33)
6 Failed to believe God (v 12)
7 Failed to sanctify Him in the eyes of the people (v 12. Cp. Dt. 32:51) q Meaning strife, water of strife (v 13; 27:14; Dt. 32:51; Ps. 106:32. Cp. Ex. 17:2) r Israel had remained at Kadesh this time 3 or 4 months (20:1 with 33:38). In order to reach the banks of Jordan by the shortest route they needed to go due east from Kadesh and pass through the mountains of Edom; hence, the request of v 14-17. A similar request was made to Moab (Judg. 11:17)

a Days of mourning for the dead: For 1 Jacob - 70 days (Gen. 50:3-4)
2 Jacob-7 days in Canaan(Gen. 50:10)
3 Aaron - 30 days (Num. 20:29)
4 Moses - 30 days (Dt. 34:8)
5 Lazarus - 4 days (Jn. 11:17, 31, 39)
6 Christ - 3 days (Mt. 12:40; Jn. 20:11)

b This should read, "the Canaanite, king of Arad," as Arad was a city in the southern part of Canaan, about 20 miles south of Hebron (v 1; Josh. 12:14)

c Heb. Atharîym, the name of a place in south Canaan. The Sept. and some other versions read, "by the way of Atharim." The ordinary Heb. word for spies is ragal which is so translated elsewhere (Gen. 42:9, 11, 14, 16, 30, 31, 34; Josh. 6:23; 1 Sam. 26:4; 2 Sam. 15:10). The spies did not take this route of Israel when going into Canaan. They went north from Kadesh, and now Israel was going southeast from Kadesh to Mt. Hor and around Edom and Moab to enter Canaan from the east of Jordan (v 4-35; 22:1; 33:37-50). Thus, Atharim must have been the name of a place, not the route of the spies d 7 wars of Moses in the exodus:

1 Victory over Egyptians (Ex. 14:1-31)
2 Victory over Amalekites (Ex. 17:8-16)
3 Defeat by Canaanites and Midianites when God abandoned the nation (14:41-45; Dt. 1:44-46)
4 Victory over Canaanites (21:1-4)
5 Victory over Amorites (21:21-32; Dt. 2:24-37) Dt. 3:1-21)
6 Victory over Bashanites (21:33-35; Dt. 3:1-11)
7 Victory over Midianites (25:17-18; 31:1-54)

e Israel in defeat vowed to Jehovah who then helped them turn defeat into victory (v 2-3). This was to teach Israel that their strength came from Him and that only through Him could they expect to conquer Canaan and possess the land

f Utterly destroyed this part of the Canaanites; but, since Israel did not intend to remain here at this time, the country was taken over again by those that were left of the Canaanites. They were then defeated again when Israel took over the land later. Cp. Judg. 1:17

g Hormah means utter destruction or ban, and speaks of the fact that Canaanites were destroyed or banned from the country

h The direct route to Moab through the valleys of Edom was closed to them (20:18, 20), so they were compelled to go southward a distance and then eastward and northward to Moab (Dt. 2:3). They spent a number of days going through the Arabah, a mountain plain of loose sand, gravel, and rock, with very little food and water; and so, the people became discouraged again and began to complain (v 4-5)

i Question 35, Next, 22:9

j It was like saying: No bread and no water, but only this vile contemptible bread that falls from heaven daily and which we have eaten for 40 years (v 5) k Heb. saraph (burning, poisonous, fiery) nachash (snake, serpent). These were called fiery serpents because of the heat, violent inflamation, and thirst caused by their bites, not because of their color (v 6-9; Dt. 8:15). They caused many to die, but produced repentance and confession of sin (v 6-7)

l Prayer was again relied upon for deliverance from a plague and it was effective. Moses was told to make a brazen serpent and put it on a pole so that all who would look upon it might be healed (v 7-9) m The brazen serpent here was clearly a type of Christ bearing the sins and sicknesses of all men (v 8; Mt. 8:17; Jn. 3:14; 10:10; 1 Pet. 2:24; Isa. 53). See 35 facts about sickness and healing, p. 264 of N. T.

n 9fold type of Christ:
1 The serpent itself was a symbol of sin; and Christ was made sin for us that we might be made free from sin (2 Cor. 5:21)
2 The serpent was lifted up on a pole; and Christ was lifted up on a cross (Jn. 3:14-15)
3 The sick of Israel received healing by looking on the brazen serpent; others have received healing by looking to Christ (Mt. 8:17; Jn. 3:14-15; 1 Pet. 2:24; Isa. 53)
4 As the Israelites who looked on the serpent continued to live, so those who

CHAPTER 21 138

3 Third war (Ex. 17:8, refs.). Victory over the Canaanites

AND when [b]king Ă'răd the Că'năan-ite, which dwelt in the south, heard tell that Iṣ'ra-el came by the way of[c] the spies; then he[d] fought against Iṣ'ra-el, and took some of them prisoners.

2 And Iṣ'ra-el [e]vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou wilt indeed deliver this people into my hand, then I will utterly destroy their cities.

3 And the LORD hearkened to the voice of Iṣ'ra-el, and delivered up the Că'năan-ites; and they [f]utterly destroyed them and their cities: and he called the name of the [g]place Hôr'mah.

4 Journey: Mt. Hor to Red Sea

4 ¶ And [h]they journeyed from mount Hôr by the way of the Red sea, to compass the land of Ĕ'dom: and the soul of the people was much discouraged because of the way.

5 Twelfth complaint of Israel (Ex. 5:19, refs.)

5 And the people spake against God, and against Mō'ṣeṣ, [i]Wherefore have ye brought us up out of Ĕ'gўpt to die in the wilderness? for there is [j]no bread, neither is there any water; and our soul loatheth this light bread.

6 Tenth of 11 plagues: 42nd miracle (Ex. 32:33, refs.)

6 And the LORD sent [k]fiery serpents among the people, and they bit the people; and much people of Iṣ'ra-el died.

7 Third false repentance of Israel (Num. 14:39, refs.)

7 ¶ Therefore the people came to Mō'ṣeṣ, and said, We have sinned, for we have spoken against the LORD, and against thee; [l]pray unto the LORD, that he take away the serpents from us. And Mō'ṣeṣ prayed for the people.

8 Serpent of brass: 43rd miracle - life for a look (Jn. 3:14)

8 And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Make thee a fiery serpent, and set it upon a pole: and it shall come to pass, that every one that is bitten, when [m]he looketh upon it, shall live.

9 And Mō'ṣeṣ made a serpent of brass, and put it upon a pole, and it came to pass, that if a serpent had bitten any man, when he [m]beheld the [n]serpent of brass, he [o]lived.

9 Journey: Red Sea to Pisgah: 3rd song of Israel (Ex. 15:1, 20)

10 ¶ And the children of Iṣ'ra-el [a]set forward, and pitched in Ō'both.

11 And they journeyed from Ō'both, and pitched at Ĭ'e-ăb'a-rĭm, in the wilderness which is before Mō'ab, toward the sunrising.

12 ¶ From thence they removed, and pitched in the valley of Zā'red.

13 From thence they removed, and pitched on the other side of Ar'nŏn, which is in the wilderness that cometh out of the coasts of the Am'ôr-ītes: for Ar'nŏn is the border of Mō'ab, between Mō'ab and the Am'ôr-ītes.

14 Wherefore it is said in [a]the book of the wars of the LORD. What he did in the Red sea, and in the brooks of Ar'nŏn, 15 And at the stream of the brooks that goeth down to the dwelling of Ar, and lieth upon the border of Mō'ab.

16 ¶ And from thence they went to Bĕ'er: that is the well whereof the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, Gather the people together, and I will give them water.

17 ¶ Then Iṣ'ra-el sang this song, [b]Spring up, O well; sing ye unto it:

18 The princes digged the well, the nobles of the people digged it, by the direction of the lawgiver, with their staves. And [c]from the wilderness they went to Măt'ta-nah:

19 And from Măt-ta-nah to Nă-hă'lĭ-el: and from Nă-hă'lĭ-el to Bā'mŏth:

20 And from Bā'mŏth in the valley, that is in the country of Mō'ab, to the top of Pĭs'gah, which looketh toward Jĕsh'ĭ-mŏn.

10 Fourth war (Ex. 17:8, refs.). Two victories: (1) Victory over Sihon, King of the Amorites (Dt. 2:24-37; Gen. 15:16)

21 ¶ And Iṣ'ra-el [d]sent messengers unto Sī'hŏn king of the Am'ôr'ītes, saying,

22 Let me pass through thy land: we will not turn into the fields, or into the vineyards; we will not drink of the waters of the well: but we will go along by the king's high way, until we be past thy borders.

23 And Sī'hŏn would not suffer Iṣ'ra-el to pass through his border: but Sī'hŏn gathered all his people together, and went out against Iṣ'ra-el into the wilderness: and he came to Jā'hăz, and fought against Iṣ'ra-el.

24 And Iṣ'ra-el smote him with the edge of the sword, and possessed [e]his land from Ar'nŏn unto Jăb'bŏk, even unto the children of Am-mŏn: for the border of the children of Am-mŏn was strong.

25 And Iṣ'ra-el took all these cities: and Iṣ'ra-el dwelt in all the cities of the Am'ôr-ītes, in Hĕsh'bŏn, and in all the villages thereof.

a See Journey - 13 camps, p. 182

b What this book of the wars of the Lord refers to is not known, unless it is the writing spoken of in Ex. 17:14, for nothing more is said about it. What God did in the Red Sea is recorded in Ex. 14-15, but what He did in the brooks of Arnon is not stated in Scripture. It is clear here that it had something to do with Israel's entrance into the plains of Moab (v 13-14)

c 9th prophecy in Num. (21:16, fulfilled). Next, v 34. Beer was one of the places where the Lord supernaturally gave the people water - this time out of a well which was dug at the direction of Moses (v 16-18). This made at least 3 miraculous supplies of water (Ex. 17:6; 20:7-13; 21:16-18)

d Here we have the words of the song which Israel sang at the time of the miraculous supply of water from the well (v 17-18)

e The places named in v 18-20 are not mentioned in the list of chapter 33, but we take it that Israel made camps at all of them

f Israel sent messengers to Sihon, king of the Amorites, requesting to pass through their land, promising not to bother his fields and vineyards, or drink of the waters of his well, and explaining they would go along the king's highway until they were through his country (v 21-22). Sihon was stubborn and refused Israel passage. Perhaps he had heard of the resistence of the Edomites and Moabites and how Israel, instead of fighting, took another route. It could be that he expected the same to happen again; and so, be gathered his armies together. But, this time God permitted Israel to fight and gave them victory over this giant and his forces (v 23-32)

God could have enabled Israel to defeat the Edomites and Moabites, but He was not yet ready for them to do so; therefore, He commanded them to go around those lands. In the Millennium, however, such lands will be under the Messiah and Israel (Num. 24:17-19; Ps. 60:8-12; Isa. 11:24; 63:1). All the land from the Indian Ocean on the south to Hamath on the north, and from the Mediterranean on the west to the Euphrates on the east will be included in the future kingdom of Israel (Gen. 15:18-21; Ezek. 48). Even during the prosperous reigns of David and Solomon and some of the other kings these lands were ruled by Israel; but for the time when the nation came out of Egypt and the land was too large for them, it was God's will for them to let Edom and Moab remain as they were. In the case of Sihon, Og, and many other kings and nations it was in God's plan to take their lands and give them to Israel immediately, in fulfillment of the covenants with Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob g The kingdom of Sihon extended along the mountain range and plateau east of Jordan from the river Jabbok on the north to the river Arnon on the south. Sihon had taken this land from Moab (v 28)

truly look to Christ will live eternally (Jn. 3:14-15)

5 God provided no other remedy for the Israelites at this time; so Christ is the only remedy for those who wish salvation (Jn. 3:14-16; Acts 3:16; 4:12; Rom. 10:9-10)

6 As the Israelites had to have faith in the brazen serpent as the remedy for their sin and sickness, so men today must have faith in Christ (Jn. 3:14-16; Eph. 2:8-9)

7 As God's power was the invisible force in the brazen-serpent remedy, so it is with salvation through Christ (Mt. 1:21; Rom. 1:16; Col. 2:12-13)

8 As the serpent on the pole brought peace and reconcilation with God, so Christ on the cross brought peace and reconciliation with Him (Col. 1:20-21)

9 As confession of sin and prayer were necessary for Israel to receive the benefits of the brazen-serpent remedy, so they are necessary to obtain the benefits of Christ and the cross (Jn. 3:14-16; Rom. 10:9-10; 1 Jn. 1:9)

o Israel later made a god of this brazen serpent and it was finally destroyed in the days of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 18:4) p These people received physical life whereas, those who look upon Christ receive eternal life (Jn. 3:14-16)

a Heshbon, the capital of Sihon, now called Heshbon and located east of where the Jordan runs into the Dead Sea, is in ruins (v 25-34; 32:3, 37; Dt. 1:4; 2:24-30; 3:2, 6; 4:46; 29:7; Josh. 9:10; 12:2-5; 13:10-27; 21:39; Judg. 11:19, 26; 1 Chr. 6:81; Neh. 9:22; Song 7:4; Isa. 15:4; 16:8-9; Jer. 48:2, 34, 45; 49:3)

b Heb. mashal, to rule; exercise authority. This word supplies the title of the book of Proverbs itself (see note a, Pr. 1:1). It is used here of a poem contained in v 27-30 c This refers to the conquest of Moab by Sihon, giant king of the Amorites (v 26)

d Chemosh was the national deity of the Moabites. He was here taunted by Israel for permitting his subjects to be defeated and their land taken by their enemies. See Bible facts about false gods, p. 116

e Referring to the conquering of Sihon by Israel. This defeat of such a prominent and powerful military king of the Amorites was often mentioned as a warning to those who would rise up against Jehovah and His people (v 30; Dt. 1:4; 31:4; Josh. 2:10; Judg. 11:19-21; 1 Ki. 4:19; Neh. 9:22; Ps. 135:11; 136:19; Jer. 48:45)

f Jaazer was about 10 miles north of Heshbon. It is probably the same as the modern ruins of Sir or es-Sir. The conquest of Jaazer by the Israelites completed the victory over the Amorite kingdom of Sihon, and prepared the way for the next conquest and the settlement of the tribes of Reuben and Gad in pasture lands (32:1-42). This city is called Jazer in 32:1, 3, 35

g Og, the giant king of Bashan, ruled over 60 cities (v 33-35; Dt. 3:1-12). His defeat took place soon after that of Sihon at Edrei (v 33; Josh. 12:4). Og and his people were utterly destroyed (Dt. 3:6). He is described as the last of one branch of the giant races after the flood, the Rephaim, and as having a bedstead of iron, 18 ft. 9 in. long and 8 ft. 4 in. wide (Dt. 3:11). This information gives us an idea of how tall the giants were, of whom the spies said, "so we were in their sight" as grasshoppers (13:22-33). See Giants, p. 62. The victory over Og is often referred to in Israelite history (Dt. 1:4; 4:47; 31:4; Josh. 2:10; 9:10; 13:12, 30; Ps. 135:11; 136:20). His territory was given to the tribes of Reuben, Gad, and half the tribe of Manasseh (32:33; Dt. 3:12-13)

j Another proof that giants had offspring (v 35; 13:33; 2 Sam. 21:16-22; 1 Chr. 20:4-8)

k This was after the defeat of Sihon, king of the Amorites (v 2). They now possessed all the land north of the river Arnon - the northern border of Moab. Israel camped east of Jordan opposite Jericho, ready to enter the land of Canaan itself (Josh. 2:1-6:27). The book of Deuteronomy was spoken and written here, between the conquest of Sihon and Og and the conquest of Jericho as in Josh. 2:1-6:27. While here the experience of Balaam and the other events of 22:1-36:13 took place, as well as the whole of the events of Deuteronomy l Balak was sore afraid of Israel after seeing others so easily destroyed by them; so he schemed to get the nation cursed by Balaam, hoping then they could be defeated. Although the plan failed, Balak learned the secret of how Israel might surely be defeated - by causing them to commit sin so that God, Himself would curse them. We see an example of this in 25:1-9 which tells of the time 24,000 were destroyed in a plague

m Moab, Midian, Balak and Balaam are prominent in the next 4 chapters (22:1-25:18), being mentioned 116 times. Moab was a son of Lot (Gen. 19:37); and Midian was the son of Abraham (Gen. 25:2). Balak was a Moabite (v 4), and Balaam was an Edomite, a descendant of Esau, a son of Isaac (Gen. 36:31-32)

n The story of Balaam is one of the most interesting in Scripture. He is a subject of controversy. Many think he was a mere soothsayer used by God temporarily; but the opposite is true - that he was a genuine prophet of God until he finally betrayed Israel for reward. It is 26 For Hĕsh'bŏn was the city of Si'hŏn the king of the Am'ŏr-ites, who had fought against the former king of Mō'ab, and taken all his land out of his hand, even unto Ar'nŏn.

27 Wherefore they that speak in proverbs say, Come into Hĕsh'bŏn, let the city of Si'hŏn be built and prepared:

28 For there is a fire gone out of Hĕsh'bŏn, a flame from the city of Si'hŏn: it hath consumed Ar of Mō'ab, and the lords of the high places of Ar'nŏn.

29 Woe to thee, Mō'ab! thou art undone, O people of Chĕ'mōsh: he hath given his sons that escaped, and his daughters, into captivity unto Si'hŏn king of the Am'ŏr-ites.

30 We have shot at them; Hĕsh'bŏn is perished even unto Dī'bŏn, and we have laid them waste even unto Nō'phah, which reacheth unto Mĕd'e-bā.

31 ¶ Thus Is'ra-el dwelt in the land of the Am'ŏr-ites.

32 And Mō'şes sent to spy out Ja-ā'zēr, and they took the villages thereof, and drove out the Am'ŏr-ites that were there.

(2) Victory over Og, King of Bashan (Dt. 3:1-17)

33 ¶ And they turned and went up by the way of Bā'shăn: and Og the king of Bā'shăn went out against them, he, and all his people, to the battle at Ĕd're-ī.

34 And the LORD said unto Mō'şes, Fear him not: for I have delivered him into thy hand, and all his people, and his land; and thou shalt do to him as thou didst unto Si'hŏn king of the Am'ŏr-ites, which dwelt at Hĕsh-bŏn.●

35 So they smote him, and his sons, and all his people, until there was none left him alive: and they possessed his land.

CHAPTER 22 139

11 Balak and Balaam (Num. 22:1-25:18). (1) Balak distressed

AND the children of Is'ra-el set forward, and pitched in the plains of Mō'ab on this side Jôr'dan by Jĕr'ī-chō.

2 ¶ And Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por saw all that Is'ra-el had done to the Am'ŏr-ites.

3 And Mō'ab was sore afraid of the people, because they were many: and Mō'ab was distressed because of the children of Is'ra-el.

4 And Mō'ab said unto the elders of Mĭd'ī-an, Now shall this company lick up all that are round about us, as the ox licketh up the grass of the field. And Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por was king of the Mō'ab-ites at that time.

(2) First message of Balak to Balaam: God forbids him to go

5 He sent messengers therefore unto Bā'laam the son of Bĕ'or to Pĕ'thôr, which is by the river of the land of the children of his people, to call him, saying, Behold, there is a people come out from Ē'gypt: behold, they cover the face of the earth, and they abide over against me:

6 Come now therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people; for they are too mighty for me: peradventure I shall prevail, that we may smite them, and that I may drive them out of the land: for I wot that he whom thou blessest is blessed, and he whom thou cursest is cursed.

7 And the elders of Mō'ab and the elders of Mĭd'ī-an departed with the rewards of divination in their hand; and they came unto Bā'laam, and spake unto him the words of Bā'lak.

8 And he said unto them, Lodge here this night, and I will bring you word again, as the LORD shall speak unto me: and the princes of Mō'ab abode with Bā'laam.

9 And God came unto Bā'laam, and said, What men are these with thee?

10 And Bā'laam said unto God, Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp'por, king of Mō'ab, hath sent unto me, saying,

11 Behold, there is a people come out of Ē'gypt, which covereth the face of the earth: come now, curse me them; peradventure I shall be able to overcome them, and drive them out.

12 And God said unto Bā'laam, Thou shalt not go with them; thou shalt not curse the people: for they are blessed.

13 And Bā'laam rose up in the morning, and said unto the princes of Bā'lăk, Get you into your land: for the LORD refuseth to give me leave to go with you.

14 And the princes of Mō'ab rose up, and they went unto Bā'lăk, and said, Bā'laam refuseth to come with us.

(3) Second message of Balak to Balaam: God permits him to go

15 ¶ And Bā'lăk sent yet again princes, more, and more honourable than they.

16 And they came to Bā'laam, and said to him, Thus saith Bā'lăk the son of Zĭp-por, Let nothing, I pray thee, hinder thee from coming unto me:

17 For I will promote thee unto very great honour, and I will do whatsoever thou sayest unto me: come therefore, I pray thee, curse me this people.

18 And Bā'laam answered and said unto the servants of Bā'lăk, If Bā'lăk would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the word of the LORD my God, to do less or more.

19 Now therefore, I pray you, tarry ye also here this night, that I may know what the LORD will say unto me more.

20 And God came unto Bā'laam at night, and said unto him, If the men come to call thee, rise up, and go with them; but yet the word which I shall a Perhaps the people who followed him from Edom to the new country of Assyria (v 5)

b They sit, ready to make war, having subdued the Amorites and Bashanites (v 5) c Balaam had a reputation for making predictions that were remarkedly fulfilled (v 6). His fame had either reached Balak hundreds of miles away; or he had this reputation while still in Edom and before settling in Assyria. Balaam's father was, or had been, king of Edom (Gen. 36:31-32)

d This refers to money which procures divination, or as interpreted in 2 Pet. 2:15, "the wages of unrighteousness." Pagans knew only of enchantments, magic, and witchcraft, and therefore, thought this was how Balaam made predictions. Such does not prove that this was Balaam's method when prophesying regarding Israel, for Scripture teaches that he made his predictions by God as other prophets. See 35 Bible facts about Balaam, p. 198

e He had absolute faith that Jehovah would answer him that night, and this alone proves that he knew God, knew how to get answers from Him when he inquired, and was in the habit of making contacts with Him (v 8-20)

f Notice how quickly God came to Balaam in all of his efforts to contact Him (v 9, 12, 19-20; 23:4-5, 15-16; 24:1-4, 15-16)

g Question 36, Next, v 28

h Balaam spoke to God, not to demons through enchantments, which shows that he was acquainted with God and had contact with Him, as any other true prophet. He is called a prophet in 2 Pet. 2:15-16

i God, not demons, forbade Balaam to go and curse Israel. The reason: "they are blessed" (v 12)

j Balaam was faithful to God at this time in giving these elders His message, in sending them back home, and in refusing to disobey God (v 13-14)

k For Balak there was so much at stake that he would not give up easily. Upon failing to secure the services of Balaam, he sent more princes than before, these more honorable and with greater offers of reward, even anything that the prophet would ask (v 15-17)

l Again, Balaam answered as a truly consecrated prophet of God, refusing to go beyond the word of Jehovah for any amount of reward (v 18). But, he failed in the matter of sending the new messengers back, after knowing already the will of God concerning Balak's request. Furthermore, his willingness to inquire of the Lord again, to see if He had changed His mind or would permit him to go, showed a weakness - the love of money or rewards (v 18-19). These were his first steps in backsliding. They weakened his will to resist, and caused him to conclude that there would be no harm in going if he spoke only the word of God

m Under this temptation - to get the offered rewards by speaking only what he was told, Balaam asked the present representatives of Balak to tarry for the night. He was hoping, no doubt, to convince Jehovah that there would be no harm in his going if he promised to speak only His words (v 19). This shows the true character of Balaam. He was afraid to disobey God, and yet he was anxious to secure the reward. Never before, perhaps, had he known such an opportunity to make his gift pay in a material way n God, seeing the struggle he was having, and possibly knowing that he would at last go regardless of the outcome, gave Balaam permission to go with two reservations:

1 That the men would come and call him while he was resting that very night (v 20)

2 That he would speak the words which God would give him

o From this story men get the doctrine of the direct (or perfect) and permissive wills of God. Balaam already had the direct and first will of God; then through further efforts secured the permissive and secondary will of God (v 20) evident that he became a soothsayer after Jehovah left him because of his sin and refused to inspire him by the Holy Spirit. See 35 Bible facts about Balaam, p. 198

a The distance between Pethor and Moab was 500 and 600 miles, or about 20-days journey. This means that Balaam had plenty of time to consider the offer of great reward - at least 40 days, allowing the first messengers 20 days for the journey home and the second messengers 20 days to come to Pethor

b 10 reasons for God's anger:
1 Balaam's disrespect for God's word and integrity in forbidding him to go (v 12-20) 17, 37; 24:11)
2 His covetousness for reward (v 7,
3 His hypocrisy in seeking to persuade God to let him go (v 19)
4 His seeming desire and attempt to curse Israel(v 14; Dt. 23:4-5; Josh. 24:10)
5 His stubbornness regarding going in spite of God's command (v 19-35)
6 His lack of desire to do God's best and perfect will (v 12-22)
7 His perverseness (v 32)
8 His refusal to wait until the men called for him, and arising early to go with the enemies of Israel (v 20)
9 His seeking to persuade God to cooperate with him, through repeated sacrifices, so he could get the reward (v 19; 23:1-3, 14-15; 24:1)
10 His willingness to use every means in seeking to get the reward (v 8, 19; 24:1; 2 Pet. 2:15-16; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14). God foresaw the backsliding of His prophet and how covetousness would lead him to sin, and more - even the destruction of many people as the outcome of the doctrine of Balaam

c The Angel of the Lord who, as any other person, went from place to place bodily here (v 22, 24, 26, 31), was no doubt one of the Divine Trinity. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63

d The Angel was real enough bodily and visible enough for even the ass to see (v 23, 25, 27). Spirit beings with spirit bodies can be seen by some and not by others of the same company (v 31; Dan. 10:7; Acts 9:7). Balaam's eyes were finally opened so that he could see the Angel with his natural eyes also (v 31). There was a sword in His hand ready to destroy Balaam (v 31-33. Cp. 1 Chr. 21:16). See The Spirit world, p.632

e This miracle must be taken literally, as interpreted by Peter, "the dumb ass speaking with man's voice" (2 Pet. 2:16). The happening has been a puzzle to believers and the subject of ridicule and reproach with infidels; but there is no reason for this unless the Christian admits and the infidel asserts that God is limited in power. The believer will not and the infidel dare not, unless he is willing to face Him in judgment. We conclude that this was a true happening and the account was given to make clear the truth of the supernatural in Scripture

21 And Bā'laam rose up in the morning and saddled his ass, and [a]went with the princes of Mō'ab.

(4) Balaam and the talking ass: 44th miracle

22 ¶ And [b]God's anger was kindled because he went: and the [c]angel of the LORD stood in the way for an adversary against him. Now he was riding upon his ass, and his two servants were with him.

23 And the ass [d]saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his sword drawn in his hand: and the ass turned aside out of the way, and went into the field: and Bā'laam smote the ass, to turn her into the way.

24 But the angel of the LORD stood in a path of the vineyards, a wall being on this side, and a wall on that side.

25 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she thrust herself unto the wall, and crushed Bā'laam's foot against the wall: and he smote her again.

26 And the angel of the LORD went further, and stood in a narrow place, where was no way to turn either to the right hand or to the left.

27 And when the ass saw the angel of the LORD, she fell down under Bā'laam: and Bā'laam's anger was kindled, and he smote the ass with a staff.

28 And the LORD [e]opened the mouth of the ass, and she said unto Bā'laam, [f]What have I done unto thee, that thou hast smitten me these three times?

29 And Bā'laam said unto the ass, Because thou hast mocked me: I would there were a sword in mine hand, for now would I kill thee.

30 And the ass said unto Bā'laam, Am not I thine ass, upon which thou hast ridden ever since I was thine unto this day? was I ever wont to do so unto thee? And he said, Nay.

(5) Lord and Balaam: second permission to go to Balak

31 Then the LORD opened the eyes of Bā'laam, and he saw the angel of the LORD standing in the way, and his [g]sword drawn in his hand: and he bowed down his head, and [h]fell flat on his face.

■32 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Wherefore hast thou smitten thine ass these three times? behold, I went out to withstand thee, because thy way is [i]perverse before me:

33 And the ass saw me, and turned from me these [h]three times: unless she had turned from me, surely now also I had slain thee, and saved her alive.

34 And Bā'laam said unto the angel of the LORD, I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against [j]me: now therefore, [k]if it displease thee, I will get me back again.

●35 And the angel of the LORD said unto Bā'laam, [a]Go with the men: but only the word that I shall speak unto thee, that thou shalt speak. So Bā'laam went with the princes of Bā'lāk.

(6) Balaam and Balak: first view of Israel

36 ¶ And when Bā'lāk heard that Bā'laam was come, he went out to meet him unto [b]a city of Mō'ab, which is in the border of Ar'nŏn, which is in the utmost coast.

37 And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, [c]Did I not earnestly send unto thee to call thee? wherefore camest thou not unto me? am I not able indeed to promote thee to honour?

38 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Lo, [d]I am come unto thee: have I now any power at all to say any thing? the word that God putteth in my mouth, that shall I speak.

39 And Bā'laam went with Bā'lāk, and they came [e]unto Kir'jath-hū'zoth.

40 And [f]Bā'lāk offered oxen and sheep, and sent to Bā'laam, and to the princes that were with him.

41 And it came to pass on the morrow, that Bā'lāk took Bā'laam, and brought him up into the high places of Bā'al, that thence he might see the utmost part of the people.

CHAPTER 23 140

(7) Balaam offers seven rams on seven altars

AND Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, [g]Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here [h]seven oxen and seven rams.

2 And Bā'lāk did as Bā'laam had spoken; and Bā'lāk and Bā'laam offered on every altar a bullock and a ram.

3 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, Stand by thy burnt offering, and I will go: [i]peradventure the LORD will come to meet me: and whatsoever he sheweth me I will tell thee. And he went to an high place.

(8) God meets with Balaam and gives him a prophecy

4 And God met Bā'laam: and he said unto him, [j]I have prepared seven altars, and I have offered upon every altar a bullock and a ram.

■5 And the [k]LORD put a word in Bā'laam's mouth, and said, Return unto Bā'lāk, and thus thou shalt speak.

(9) Balaam's first prophecy of Israel to Balak

6 And he returned unto him, and, lo, [l]he stood by his burnt sacrifice, he, and all the princes of Mō'ab.

★7 [m]And he took up his parable, and said, Bā'lāk the king of Mō'ab hath brought me [n]from Ā'ram, out of the mountains of a Balaam, though given final permission to go on to Moab, was restricted to speak only what Jehovah would give him to speak (v 35)

b This was perhaps Ar of Moab, which was one of the chief cities (21:15, 28; Dt. 2:9, 18, 29; Isa. 15:1). The Heb. word for city here is ar or ir

c Questions 41-44. Next, 23:8

d Balaam made it clear that he was powerless to say anything which God did not put in his mouth, and stated his intentions of not doing so (v 38)

e Meaning city of streets (v 39)

f Balak, it seems, went up to the high places of Baal for sacrifice, leaving Balaam and the princes below, for there is no evidence that Balaam was a worshipper of Baal. It was from these high places of Baal that Balaam was taken on the morrow to get his first glimpse of the Israelites (v 40-41)

g As a preface to his work of prophecy, Balaam's instructions required Balak to build 7 altars and prepare him 7 oxen and 7 rams to offer upon them - an oxen and a ram for each altar (v 1-2). When this was done Balaam then instructed Balak to stand by while he went to meet Jehovah (v 3). Upon going to one of the high places God did meet with him and put a word in his mouth (v 3-5)

h Estimated cost of these sacrifices:

7 oxen @ $325. 00 each. . . .	$2,275.00
7 rams @ $20. 00 each.	140.00
Total.	$2,415.00

i This again confirms the fact that he knew by experience, how to get in touch with God (v 3)

j The sacrifices and the 7 altars were made for worship of Jehovah, not for use in enchantments, as some believe (v 1-4). Balaam would not have told God this, if they were offered to another - a false god. He could not have possibly expected an answer from Jehovah if he had been an idolater offering sacrifices to idol gods. Being given an answer under such circumstances would have made God a partaker of idolatry and given grounds for others to go into idolatry and enchantments k Jehovah put a word in Balaam's mouth, not demons, as would have been the case if he had used witchcraft or was dealing with familiar spirits when he prophesied concerning Israel. Nothing of this kind is hinted in the story of Balaam thus far. By the time Joshua called him a soothsayer (Josh. 13:22) he had already despised his calling which made it possible for him to become one

l Balaam returned from meeting God and stood by the burnt sacrifices with the princes of Moab and Balak, and gave his first prophecy (v 6-10)

m 11th prophecy in Num. (23:7-10). Next, v 18. The actual prophetical part, as in v 9, has been fulfilled. The other statements are merely historical and a wish to die like the righteous; but this did not happen, for Balaam died in judgment by the sword of Israel (31:8). The statements of N. T. scriptures also confirm the fact that he was a lost man (2 Pet. 2:15-16; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14). He is another example of a man who was one time in God's favor but lost out through sin and rebellion

n This verse proves that Balaam was brought from Mesopotamia, and not from Egypt as is sometimes supposed (v 7; Dt. 23:4)

4 commands - 3rd day of feast of tabernacles (29:20)

1 On the 3rd day of the feast (Oct. 17), you shall offer 11 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs of the first year (v 20)
2 Their meat and drink offerings shall be according to their number and after the usual manner (v 21). See notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28 for amounts of flour, oil, wine
3 Offer 1 goat for a sin offering, with the meat and drink offerings (v 22;
4 Offer these (11 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 goat) besides the daily sacrifices and the meat and drink offerings

The cost of sacrifices for the 3rd day of the feast would be the same as that for the 2nd day, less $335.20 (the estimated cost of 1 bullock, his meat and drink offerings) because only 11 bullocks were offered instead of 12 as on the 2nd day (note f, above). Therefore, the total est. cost would be $4,114.30 a This was part of the reason for God being angry - a prophet of His even considering a journey wherein the proposition was that he would try to curse and defy Israel (v 7)

b Questions 45-49, Next, v 17

c This prophetic future of Israel has been fulfilled from that time until now. They have never lost their identity as a people; and have never intermarried with other races, except for a very few. They have maintained their own customs, traditions, and religion, segregated from the peoples among whom they have dwelled, and will continue to do so (Gen. 12:1-3; 17:6-8; Isa. 11:10-12; Ezek. 48). Dwelling alone, literally means living in peace and security away from the strife, sins, and religions of the mingled peoples of the earth (Jer. 49:31; Mic. 7:14). Not be reckoned among the nations, literally means that they would remain a distinct people from all others, and that God would not deal with them on the basis of being one with the Gentiles. They will always be a separate class of people (1 Cor. 10:32), and a distinct nation

d This is a reference to the seemingly innumerable people scattered over the plains of Moab. To Balaam they seemed endless in number. The term, the dust, was used in the covenant of God with Abraham (Gen. 13:16) and Jacob (Gen. 28:14. Cp. Gen. 15:5; 22:17; 26:4)

e By the Holy Spirit Balaam spoke of the fourth-part of Israel, not knowing himself perhaps that Israel was made up of 4 great camps (v 10)

f Balaam's request was never granted, and he, himself determined this by loving the wages of unrighteousness and by selling out his relationship with God for riches and honor. He had the wonderful opportunity of proving true to God and of dying the death of the righteous; but instead, he went headlong and headstrong into seeking the reward he came for, even to the extent of teaching men to sin. He thereby caused thousands to be destroyed

g Balaam well knew of the life and death of some of the righteous men - Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, and others who died in the faith, looking for a city to come (Heb. 11:4-22). To die the death of the righteous one must be righteous, and to be resurrected as the righteous, one must have the hope of the righteous (Rev. 22:11)

h Again Balak was disappointed in Balaam. Everything went contrary to plan, and so it always is with those who plot evil. Things may go smoothly for the wicked for awhile, but in the end their experience is that of gall and bitterness (v 11; Pr. 5:4; 14:12-13; 20:21)

i Once again Balaam replied that he was under obligation to speak what God gave him to speak, even though he wanted the reward (v 12)

j Balak seemed to think that the prophet's inspiration and words came from the many people he saw, so he now sought to bring Balaam to a place where only a small part of the people could be seen, hoping that the next prophecy would be more to his own liking (v 13)

k This was located north of the first 7 altars, nearer the camp of Israel, but where less of it could be seen. Here 7 more altars were built and $2,415.00 worth of oxen and rams were again sacrificed, making altogether an estimated amount of $4,830.00 worth of animals sacrificed up to this point (v 14)

l Balak was again asked to stand by the altars and sacrifices while Balaam went to meet the Lord and inquire of Him what to say next (v 15)

m The Lord met Balaam again, putting a word of prophecy in his mouth and sending him to prophesy before Balak (v 16)

13 And Bā'lāk said unto him, Come, I pray thee, with me unto another place, from whence thou mayest see them: thou shalt see [j]but the utmost part of them, and shalt not see them all: and curse me them from thence.

14 ¶ And he brought him into the field of [k]Zō'phim, to the top of Pis'gah, and built seven altars, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

16 [m]And the LORD met Bā'laam, and put a word in his mouth, and said, Go again unto Bā'lāk, and say thus.

(13) Balaam's second prophecy of Israel to Balak

17 And when he came to him, behold, he stood by his burnt offering, and the princes of Mō'ab with him. And Bā'lāk said unto him, [n]What hath the LORD spoken?

18 [o]And he took up his parable, and said, Rise up, Bā'lāk, and hear; hearken unto me, thou son of Zīp'por:

19 [p]God is not a man, [q]that he should lie; neither the son of man, that he should repent: hath he said, and shall he not do it? or hath he spoken, and shall he not make it good?

20 Behold, I have received commandment to bless: and he hath blessed; and I cannot reverse it.

21 [r]He hath not beheld iniquity in Jā'cob, neither hath he seen perverseness in Iṣ'ra-el: the LORD his God is with him, and the shout of a [s]king is among them.

22 God brought them out of E'gypt; he hath as it were the strength of an [a]unicorn.

23 [b]Surely there is no enchantment against Jā'cob, neither is there any divination against Iṣ'ra-el: [c]according to this time it shall be said of Jā'cob and of Iṣ'ra-el, What hath God wrought!

24 Behold, the people shall rise up [d]as a great lion, and lift up himself as a young lion: [e]he shall not lie down until he eat of the prey, and drink the blood of the slain.

(14) Effect upon Balak

25 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, [f]Neither curse them at all, nor bless them at all.

26 [g]But Bā'laam answered and said unto Bā'lāk, [h]Told not I thee, saying, All that the LORD speaketh, that I must do?

(15) Balak again takes Balaam to view Israel from another point and offers fourteen sacrifices on seven altars

27 ¶ And Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, [i]Come, I pray thee, I will bring thee unto another place; peradventure it will please God that thou mayest curse me them from thence.

28 And Ba'lāk brought Bā'laam unto the [j]top of Pē'or, that looketh toward [k]Jēsh'i-mōn.

29 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, [l]Build me here seven altars, and prepare me here seven bullocks and seven rams.

30 And Bā'lāk did as Bā'laam had said, and offered a bullock and a ram on every altar.

141 CHAPTER 24

(16) Balaam falls into a trance and utters a third prophecy of Israel to Balak

AND when Bā'laam saw that it [m]pleased the LORD to bless Iṣ'ra-el, he went not, as at other times, to seek for [n]enchantments, but he set his face toward the wilderness.

2 And Ba'laam lifted up his eyes, and he saw Iṣ'ra-el abiding in his tents according to their tribes; and the [o]spirit of God came upon him.

b Some Bible scholars hold that this verse indicates Balaam was practicing enchantments to bring about the curse on Israel; but there is no proof for such a conclusion either here or in any other verse up to this point. r Heb. rosh, heads; rulers; captains (v 4; 1:16; 7:2; 13:3; Ex. 6:14, 25; 18:25). There were 1,000 of the chief men of Israel included in the 24,000 count of v 9, and excluded from the 23,000 mentioned in 1 Cor. 10:8. The 23,000 fell in one day and altogether 24,000 were slain s Heb. yaqa, to sever; to dislocate; to impale; to hang up; or be out of joint (v 4; 2 Sam. 21:6, 13). They were nailed to a stake, as in crucifixion. The Vulgate renders it crucify. It was the leaders, the heads of the people that were to be hung. Most versions read leaders or chiefs of the people
t These were the 70 elders ordained as judges, as in 11:16-17, 25-29. The 70 killing 1,000 would mean that each man slew 14 or 15 men (v 5) u This shows how bold and presumptuous some of these rebels were, both in breaking the law and encouraging others in Israel to sin. He was a prince of Israel and she was a princess of Midian, which indicates that this was no chance meeting but rather the result of a deliberate plan on the part of Midian and Moab. They concentrated their efforts on the leaders, getting 1,000 of them to sin and then many others followed. The plot would have caused most of Israel to sin if the rebels had not been stopped v Evidently the plague of v 9 had already broken out in the camp and the more godly were gathered at the door of the tabernacle to weep when Zimri committed this outrage of v 6
w Phinehas, seeing the daring act of Zimri, quickly took a javelin in his hand and killed them both; so the plague was stopped (v 7-8) 1, 11:4) his king shall be higher [a]than A'gag, and [b]his kingdom shall be exalted.

8 God brought him forth out of E'gypt; he hath as it were the strength of an [c]unicorn: he shall eat up the nations his enemies, and shall break their bones, and pierce them through with his arrows.

9 He couched, he lay down as a lion, and as a great lion: [d]who shall stir him up? [e]Blessed is he that blesseth thee, and cursed is he that curseth thee.

(17) Effect upon Balak

10 ¶ And Bā'lāk's anger was kindled against Bā'laam, and he smote his hands together: and Bā'lāk said unto Bā'laam, I called thee to curse mine enemies, and, behold, thou hast altogether blessed them [f]these three times.

11 [g]Therefore now flee thou to thy place: I thought to promote thee unto great honour; but, lo, the LORD hath kept thee back from honour.

12 And Bā'laam said unto Bā'lāk, [h]Spake I not also to thy messengers which thou sentest unto me, saying,

13 If Bā'lāk would give me his house full of silver and gold, I cannot go beyond the commandment of the LORD, to do either good or bad of mine own mind; but what the LORD saith, that will I speak?

(18) Balaam's fourth prophecy of Israel to Balak

14 And now, behold, I go unto my people: come therefore, and I will advertise thee what this people shall do to thy people [i]in the latter days.

*15 ¶ And he took up his parable, and said, Bā'laam the son of Bē'or hath said, and the man whose eyes are open hath said:

16 He hath said, which [j]heard the words of God, and knew the knowledge of the most High, which [k]saw the vision of the Almighty, falling into a trance, but having his eyes open:

17 I shall see [l]him, but not now: I shall behold him, but not nigh: there shall come a Star out of Jā'cob, and a Sceptre shall rise out of Iṣ'ra-el, and shall smite the corners of Mō'ab, and destroy all the children of Sheth.

18 And E'dom shall be a possession, Sē'ir also shall be a possession for his enemies; and Iṣ'ra-el shall do valiantly.

19 Out of Jā'cob shall come he that shall have dominion, and shall destroy him that remaineth of the city.

(19) Balaam's fifth prophecy: against Amalek

*20 ¶ And when he looked on Am'a-lēk, he took up his parable, and said, [p]Am'a-lēk was the first of the nations; but his latter end shall be that he perish for ever.

(20) Balaam's sixth prophecy: against the Kenites

*21 [d]And he looked on the Kēn'ites, and took up his parable, and said, [b]Strong is thy dwellingplace, and thou puttest thy nest in a rock.

22 Nevertheless the Kēn'ite shall be wasted, until [c]Ās'shur shall carry thee away captive.

(21) Balaam's seventh prophecy: against Asshur and Eber

*23 [d]And he took up his [e]parable, and said, Alas, [f]who shall live when God doeth this!

24 And ships shall come from the coast of [g]Chit'tim, and shall afflict [h]Ās'shur, and shall afflict [i]E'bĕr, and he also shall perish for ever.

25 And [j]Bā'laam rose up, and went and returned to his place: and Bā'lāk also went his way.

CHAPTER 25 142

12 Israel sins through Balaam's teaching (Num. 31:16; 2 Pet. 2:15; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14)

AND Iṣ'ra-el abode in [k]Shit'tim, and the people began to commit whoredom [l]with the daughters of Mō'ab.

2 And [m]they called the people unto the sacrifices of their gods, and the [n]people did eat, and bowed down to their gods.

3 And Iṣ'ra-el [o]joined himself unto [p]Bā'al-pē'or: and the anger of the LORD was kindled against Iṣ'ra-el.

13 Eleventh of 11 plagues: 45th miracle (Ex. 32:33)

4 And the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ, [q]Take all the [r]heads of the people, and [s]hang them up before the LORD against the sun, that the fierce anger of the LORD may be turned away from Iṣ'ra-el.

5 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto [t]the judges of Iṣ'ra-el, Slay ye every one his men that were joined unto Bā'al-pē'or.

6 ¶ And, behold, [u]one of the children of Iṣ'ra-el came and brought unto his brethren a Mid'i-an-īt-ish woman in the sight of Mō'ṣeṣ, and in the sight of all the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, who were [v]weeping before the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

7 And when Phin'e-has, the son of E-le-ā'zar, the son of Aār'on the priest, [w]saw it, he rose up from among the congregation, and took a javelin in his hand;

8 And he went after the man of Iṣ'ra-el into the tent, and thrust both of them through, the man of Iṣ'ra-el, and the woman through her belly. So the plague was stayed from the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

9 And those that died in [x]the plague were [y]twenty and four thousand.

14 Thirteenth or Levitic Covenant (See p. 57-58)

a 16th prophecy in Num. (24:21-22; fulfilled). Next, v 23
b The Kenites here were a branch of the Midianites, not the same as those mentioned in Gen. 15:18-21. They had a rocky or mountain stronghold which seemed impregnable, but Balaam predicted their overthrow and captivity to Assyria (v 21-22). Moses' father-in-law is called a Kenite (Judg. 1:16; 4:11, 17; 5:24; 1 Sam. 15:6; 27:10; 30:29; 1 Chr. 2:55)
c The captivity Balaam referred to here was that of the 10 tribes and their allies, and later the remaining Jews, who were taken to Babylon, which ruled Assyria (2 Kl. 17 and 25)
d 17th prophecy in Num. (v 23-24; unfulfilled). Next, 33:55
e The word parable as used in 23:7, 18; 24:3, 15, 20, 21, 23; Job 27:1; 29:1; Ps. 94:4; 78:2; Pr. 26:7, 9; Ezek. 17:2; 20:49; 24:3; Mic. 2:4; Hab. 2:6 is mashal, which means a pithy maxim; a simile; a discourse; parable; proverb. It is the same as used in Pr. 1:1 (see note a, there) f The prophecy was to be fulfilled in the distant future; no person of that generation would still be living when it took place (v 23). The fulfillment will be when multitudes will be killed off during the tribulation and battle of Armageddon (Isa. 3:25-4:1; 63:3-6; Joel 3:12-16; Zech. 13:8-9; 14:1-15; 2 Th. 2:7-10; Jude 14-15; Rev. 6:1-19:21)
g The island of Cyprus west of Palestine. In Dan. 11:30 Chittim refers to the Romans who ruled the island in the days of Antiochus Epiphanes, but here it refers to the Greeks and Syrians who will be under the Antichrist in the day of the final fulfillment of this prophecy. Both the Assyrians and Hebrews will be afflicted by the Antichrist, and then he, himself will be defeated to perish forever (v 24). According to Dan. 8:7-9, 20-25; 11:35-45; Zech. 9:13; Rev. 13 and 17, the Grecian Empire will be revived by the Antichrist who will take over Assyria, Palestine, and many other lands, then fight against Jesus Christ at Armageddon, and at last, be cast into the lake of fire forever (Rev. 19:11-21; 20:10). Chittim or Kittim was a son of Javan the progenitor of the Greeks (Gen. 10:4) h Asshur was the son of Shem who founded the Assyrian Empire (Gen. 10:11, 22; 1 Chr. 1:17; Ezek. 27:23; 32:22; Hos. 14:3). The Assyrians became prominent in connection with Israel in the days of Menahem and Azariah or Uzziah (2 Ki. 15:19-19:36; 20:6; 23:29; 2 Chr. 28:16-32:22; Isa. 10; 36:1-37:37)
i Eber, a great-grandson of Shem, was the father of Peleg, progenitor of Abraham (Gen. 10:21, 25; 11:10-32). The word means "the other side," or "across," and the form "Hebrew" which is derived from it, is intended to denote the people or tribe that came "from the other side of the river Euphrates" or from Haran, from whence Abraham migrated to Canaan (Gen. 11:31; 12:1-7)
j The last mention of Balaam, p. 198 k Called Abel-shittim in 33:49
l Began to take part in sex orgies with the prostitutes of Baal who were consecrated to their gods to commit such sins in order to attract more devotees to their religion (v 1) m The prostitutes of Moab and Midian who were set apart as the most beautiful women of these nations to tempt and seduce the men of Israel to commit the sins of idolatry and fornication or adultery (v 2) n Not all the people, but many of them, and the number was growing. According to v 4, 9, and 1 Cor. 10:8 there were 1,000 heads (chief men) and 23,000 others who fell this way 6 of the 10 commandments broken:
1 Thou shalt have no other gods before Me (Ex. 20:3)
2 Thou shalt not bow down to them, nor serve them (Ex. 20:4-5)
3 Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain (Ex. 20:7)
4 Honor thy father and thy mother (Ex. 20:12) (Ex. 20:14)
5 Thou shalt not commit adultery
6 Thou shalt not covet (Ex. 20:17)
These, besides other commands, were broken so the death penalty was carried out (v 4, 7-9, 18)
o Yoked or united to Baal (v 3)

a He became the 3rd high priest (v 12-13; 31:6; Josh. 22:30; Judg. 20:27-28). God gave him an everlasting priesthood because of his zeal for righteousness in slaying the rebels of v 6-8 (see Ps. 106:30). He will be an everlasting priest like all redeemed who are made kings and priests to reign on the earth (Rev. 1:5; 5:10; 20:4-6; 22:4-5)

b The devil thought that through the chief rulers of Israel the whole nation could be induced to sin (v 14-15). 1,000 leaders did go into depravity and were fully converted to Baal 18)

c Command - Vex the Midianites (v 16-d This gives the reason for making war on the Midianites. The command to war was carried out with great success as in ch. 31

e The day referred to in 1 Cor. 10:8

f The plague of 25:9

g Command - Number Israel (v 2-4). This numbering of the tribes was preparatory to the war with Midian as in ch. 31, and the immediate conquest of Canaan afterward with a view to a more equitable allotment of the land to be conquered

h The numbering of men from 20 years old and upward who were able to war was the basis of registration for army duty, while the basis of registration for actual service in the priesthood was from 30-50 years old (note c, 4:3)

i 4 families of Reuben, 43,730:
1 Hanoch, head of Hanochites (v 5)
2 Pallu, head of Palluites
3 Hezron, head of Hezronites (v 6)
4 Carmi, head of Carmites

4 assurances of God's integrity (23:19)

1 He cannot lie like man (v 19). See 30 Limitations of God, p. 638

2 He cannot repent like man, that is, He does not change His promises when under pressure to do so, even when it is more convenient for Him or to His advantage (v 19). This is not the same in meaning as God regretting He had made man (Gen. 6:6, note), or being obligated by the sinfulness of man not to fulfil with him the promises which depend on obedience (1 Sam. 15:35). It is not the same as changing His mind to bless people who have come to repentance when He previously intended to curse them for disobedience (Ex. 32:14; Judg. 2:18; Ps. 106:45); and it does not refer to changing His mind when He sees that people have enough punishment (2 Sam. 24:16). The repenting which God cannot do is that of changing His mind concerning promises made to the righteous. He will not and cannot fail to meet His obligations to them; He cannot say No to one and Yes to another who claims His promises. If both are righteous and meeting the terms of covenants He has laid down as the basis of blessing, He will not be a respecter of persons; He will treat all men alike

3 What He says, He will do (v 19). This literally means that He will fulfil His obligations in all covenants and promises, not only to keep His word in blessing men, but also in cursing them. He is as zealous to fulfil His word one way as another. The soul that sins, whoever he is, shall die (Gen. 2:17; Ex. 32:32-33; Ezek. 18:4, 24-25; Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-10; Gal. 5:19-21; 6:7-8). God cannot and will not give any man freedom to sin without cursing, or freedom to obey without blessing

4 He will make it good - what He has spoken (v 19). This is essentially the same as that of point 3, above, being doubly expressed to confirm God's faithfulness, the unchangeableness of His character and the fact that He will keep His word. It is worthy of note that God emphasized this truth here, for Balak was hoping that something would result in a curse upon Israel. Balaam needed this message, for he had a secret longing for the reward should Israel be cursed. God simply told both Balaam and Balak, and all men in general, that His callings, promises, and covenants with Israel had already gone out of His mouth and that:
(1) He would not lie (v 19)
(2) He would not change His mind
(3) He would do it
(4) He would make it good

10 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
11 [a]Phin'e-has, the son of Ĕ-le-ā'zar, the son of Aār'on the priest, hath turned my wrath away from the children of Iş'ra-el, while he was zealous for my sake among them, that I consumed not the children of Iş'ra-el in my jealousy.
12 Wherefore say, Behold, I give unto him my covenant of peace:

18 [d]For they vex you with their wiles, wherewith they have beguiled you in the matter of Pē'or, and in the matter of Cōz'bī, the daughter of a prince of Mĭd'ī-an, their sister, which was slain in the [e]day of the plague for Pē'or's sake.

CHAPTER 26 — 143

VIII Laws and events at Jordan (Num. 21:1-36:13). 1 New generation numbered (Cp. Num. 1). (1) Command to number

AND it came to pass after the [f]plague, that the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş and unto Ĕ-le-ā'zar the son of Aār'on the priest, saying,
2 [g]Take the sum of all the congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el, from [h]twenty years old and upward, throughout their fathers' house, all that are able to go to war in Iş'ra-el.
3 And Mō'şeş and Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest spake with them in the plains of Mō'ab by Jôr'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chó, saying,
4 Take the sum of the people, from twenty years old and upward; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş and the children of Iş'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt.

(2) Reuben: 43,730 - loss of 2,770 over Num. 1:20-21

5 ¶ Reu'ben, the eldest son of Iş'ra-el: [i]the children of Reu'ben; Hā'nŏch of whom cometh the family of the Hā'noch-ites: of Pāl'lu, the family of the Pāl'lu-ites:

7 These are the families of the Reu'ben-ites: and they that were [a]numbered of them were forty and three thousand and seven hundred and thirty.
8 And the sons of Pāl'lu; Ĕ-lī'ab.

10 And the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up together with Kō'rah, when that company died, what time the fire devoured two hundred and fifty men: and they became a sign.
11 Notwithstanding the children of Kō'rah died not.

16 Of Ŏz'nī, the family of the Ŏz'nites: of Ē'rī, the family of the Ē'rites:

18 [e]These are the families of the children of Găd according to those that were numbered of them, [f]forty thousand and five hundred.

(5) Judah: 76,500 - gain of 1,900 over Num. 1:26-27

20 And the sons of Jū'dah after their families were; of Shē'lah, the family of the Shē'lan-ites: of Phā'rĕz, the family of the Phär'zites: of Zĕ'rah, the family of the Zär'hites.

a The new numbering of Reuben was 43,730 - a loss of 2,779 since the 1st numbering of 1:20-21

b See 2 numberings compared, note c, 1:20. This again emphasizes the hatred of God for the rebellion of Korah and company, and confirms the fact of 16:27-35 that Korah was swallowed by the earth with Dathan and Abiram instead of being burned with the 250 princes (v 9-10). The children of Korah did not die in the judgment with the rebels, not being in the rebellion with their father (v 11). Heman, the singer was of this family (1 Chr. 6:22-38; 25:5). There were 10 psalms made for the sons of Korah (Ps. 42-49 and 84-88)

c The largest decrease in any of the tribes between the 2 numberings occurred in Simeon. To this tribe belonged Zimri, who was chief leader among those who sinned in the matter of fornication and worship of Baal. He took the Midianite woman into his tent in the presence of weeping Israelites, and was killed by Phinehas. As chief of his tribe it could be that more Simeonites followed him than members of other tribes; and perhaps more Simeonites were killed in the 24,000 of 25:9

d 5 families of Simeon, 22,200:
1 Nemuel, head of Nemuelites (v 12)
2 Jamin, head of Jaminites
3 Jachin, head of Jachinites
4 Zerah, head of Zarhites (v 13)
5 Shaul, head of Shaulites (v 14)
Ohad is not mentioned here, but he is in Gen. 46:10

e The new total for Simeon was 22,200 - a loss of 37,100 since the numbering of 1:22-23 (v 14)

f 7 families of Gad, 40,500:
1 Zephon, head of Zephonites (v 15)
2 Haggi, head of Haggites
3 Shuni, head of Shunites
4 Ozni, head of Oznites (v 16)
5 Eri, head of Erites
6 Arod, head of Arodites (v 17)
7 Areli, head of Arelites

g The new total for Gad was 40,500 - a loss of 5,150 since the 1st numbering of 1:24-25

h For this story see Gen. 38

i 5 families of Judah, 76,500:
1 Shelah, head of Shelanites (v 20)
2 Pharez, head of Pharzites
3 Zerah, head of Zarhites
4 Hezron, head of Hezronites (v 21)
5 Hamul, head of Hamulites
The first three of the above list were sons of Judah; the remaining two (Hezron and Hamul) were grandsons. It seems those two were recognized in place of Judah's wicked sons (Er and Onan) whom God slew (notes c and h, Gen. 38:3, 9). Especially does this seem to be so when we consider that Hezron and Hamul were the sons of Pharez born to Judah by Tamar; and that Tamar had been the wife of both Er and Onan in their lifetime 39 Of Shū'pham, the family of the Shū'pham-ītes: of Hū'pham, the family of the Hū'pham-ītes.

40 And the sons of Bĕ'lá were Ärd and Nā'a-man: of Ärd, the family of the Ärd'ītes: and of Nā'a-man, the family of the Nā'a-mītes.

(14) Grand total: 601,730 - loss of 1,820 over Num. 1:44-46 (unknown numbers died in the 11 plagues and 5 wars in 40 years (Ex. 17:8, refs.; 32:33, refs.)

51 These were the numbered of the children of Is'ra-el, [t]six hundred thousand and a a The new total for Judah was 76,500 - a gain of 1,900 over the numbering in 1:26-27

b 4 families of Issachar, 64,300:
1 Tola, head of Tolaites (v 23)
2 Pua, head of Punites
3 Jashub, head of Jashubites (v 24). It is supposed that this man was the Job of the book of Job, Cp. Gen. 46:13
4 Shimron, head of Shimronites
c The new total for Issachar was 64,300 - a gain of 9,900 over the numbering in 1:28-29 d 3 families of Zebulun, 60,500:
1 Sered, head of Sardites (v 26)
2 Elon, head of Elonites
3 Jahleel, head of Jahleelites
e The new total for Zebulun was 60,500 - a gain of 3,100 over the numbering in 1:30-31
f The sons of Joseph, Manasseh and Ephraim, took the place of Joseph and Levi in the 12 tribes that made up the nation of Israel (v 28) g This subject of no sons in a family was introduced here and continued in 27:1-11 for various reasons perhaps:
1 To show us that some families, possibly many, did not have sons. In this one there were 5 daughters, one named Noah (v 33). She and the Noah who built the ark are the only persons so-named in Scripture
2 To show us that the total number of Israelites would not be the count of sons able to war, alone. (This work gives a conservative estimate of all children in Israel. See note b, Ex. 12:37)
3 To show us that laws were made to take care of the claims of daughters with regard to inheritances (27:1-11; 36:1-13)
h 8 families of Manasseh, 52,700:
1 Machir, head of Machirites (v 29)
2 Gilead, head of Gileadites
3 Jeezer, head of Jeezerites (v 30)
4 Helek, head of Helekites
5 Asriel, head of Asrielites (v 31)
6 Shechem, head of Shechemites
7 Shemida, head of Shemidalites (v 8 Hepher, head of Hepherites 32)
Not all of these were sons; some were even great-grandsons who became heads of families
i The new total for Manasseh was 52,700 - a gain of 20,500 over the numbering in 1:34-35. This tribe showed the largest gain among the tribes in the 38 years; and this could be the reason Manasseh was placed before Ephraim in this numbering, whereas, it was not the case in the numbering of ch. 1
j 4 families of Ephraim, 32,500:
1 Shuthelah, head of Shuthalhites (v 2 Becher, head of Bachrites 35)
3 Tahan, head of Tabanites
4 Eran, head of Eranites (v 36)
Not all of these were sons; one was a grandson who became prominent among the families of Ephraim (v 36) k The new total for Ephraim was 32,500 - a loss of 8,000 since the numbering in 1:32-33. This tribe lost equally as many as Naphtali (v 48-50), and each lost more than any other tribe except Simeon (v 12-14). Some tribes lost, others gained in numbers during the 38 years between the 2 numberings

5 tribes that lost men:

1 Reuben (v 5-11; 1:21)	2,770
2 Simeon (v 12-14; 1:23)	37,100
3 Gad (v 15-18; 1:25)	5,150
4 Ephraim (v 35-37; 1:33)	8,000
5 Naphtali (v 48-50; 1:43)	8,000
Total loss of 5 tribes	61,020

7 tribes that gained men:

1 Judah (v 19-22; 1:27)	1,900
2 Issachar (v 23-25)	9,900
3 Zebulun (v 26-27; 1:31)	3,100
4 Manasseh (v 28-34; 1:35)	20,500
5 Benjamin (v 38-41; 1:37)	10,200
6 Dan (v 42-43; 1:39)	1,700
7 Asher (v 44-47; 1:41)	11,900
Total gain of 7 tribes	59,200

The losses of the 5 tribes being greater than the gains of the 7 tribes over the 38-year period, left Israel a net loss of 1,820 men able to make war (cp. note c, 1:20)

Leah's 6 sons:

1 Judah - increase of 1,900
2 Issachar - increase of 9,900
3 Zebulun - increase of 3,100
4 Levi - increase of 1,000
5 Reuben - decrease of 2,770
6 Simeon - decrease of 37,100

a 7 families of Benjamin, 46,600:
1 Bela, head of Belaites (v 38)
2 Ashbel, head of Ashbelites
3 Ahiram, head of Ahiramites 39)
4 Shupham, head of Shuphamites (v
5 Hupham, head of Huphamites
6 Ard, head of Ardites (v 40)
7 Naaman, head of Naamites
These were not all sons; some were grandsons who became heads of prominent families in the tribe (v 40). Altogether Benjamin had 10 sons when he went into Egypt (Gen. 46:21), which makes it clear that not all became heads of families b The new total for Benjamin was 45,600 - a gain of 10,200 over the numbering in 1:36-37. This was the 3rd largest gain in all the tribes during the 38 years between the 2 numberings
c 1 family of Dan, 64,400:
1 Shuham, head of Shuhamites (v 42)
It is noticeable that from one son there came 64,400 whereas, in other families with many more sons there came fewer numbers in offspring d The new total for Dan was 64,400 - a gain of 1,700 over the numbering in 1:38-39
e 5 families of Asher, 53,400:
1 Jimna, head of Jimnites (v 44)
2 Jesui, head of Jesuites
3 Beriah, head of Berlites
4 Heber, head of Heberites (v 45)
5 Malchiel, head of Malchielites
Some of these were grandsons, as it appears from v 45
f The new total for Asher was 53,400 - a gain of 11,900 over the numbering in 1:40-41. This was the 2nd largest gain in all the tribes during the 38 years between the 2 numberings
g 4 families of Naphtali, 45,400:
1 Jahzeel, head of Jahzeelites (v 48)
2 Guni, head of Gunites
3 Jezer, head of Jezerites (v 49)
4 Shillem, head of Shillemites h The new total for Naphtali was 45,400 - a loss of 8,000 since the numbering in 1:42-43
i The grand total of all the tribes was 601,730 (exclusive of Levi) which means there was a net loss of 1,820 in the whole 12 tribes during the 38-year period between the 2 numberings

The tribes of Leah's sons, including Levi (who was not counted with the men of war in note c, 1:20) had a gain of 15,900 through the years and a loss of 39,870 which gave them a net decrease of 23,970 in the 2nd count. Concerning Levi's increase of 1,000 see note b, 3:39

Rachel's 2 sons:

1 Benjamin - increase of 10,200
2 Joseph:
(1) Manasseh - increase of 20,500
(2) Ephraim - decrease of 8,000
The tribes of Rachel's sons had a gain of 30,700 and a loss of 8,000 which gave them a net increase of 22,700

Zilpah's 2 sons:

1 Asher - increase of 11,900
2 Gad - decrease of 5,150
Net increase: 6,750

Bilhah's 2 sons:

1 Dan - increase of 1,700
2 Naphtali - decrease of 8,000
Net decrease: 6,300

With the Levites having a gain of 1,000 and being counted, the tribes as listed above had increases totalling 29,450 from Rachel's sons (22,700) and Zilpah's sons (6,750) with decreases totalling 30,270 from Leah's sons (23,970) and Bilhah's sons (6,300). This gave Israel a net loss of 820 between the 1st and 2nd numberings (cp. count of tribes without Levi, note c, 1:20)

It is interesting to note that the 2nd numbering of the 4 camps of Israel gave evidence that: In the east camp of Judah, Issachar, and Zebulun, all increased; in the south camp of Reuben, Simeon, and Gad, where Korah's rebellion (16:1-35), and Zimri's sin (25:1-18) were committed, all decreased; in the west camp both Benjamin and Manasseh increased while Ephraim (next to the rebellious south camp) decreased; and, in the north camp Dan and Asher increased while Naphtali decreased a It is clear from this that one of the reasons for numbering the people was to make proper division of the land according to the number in each tribe. The land was to be divided by lot with the larger tribes receiving the larger portions of land. Since God governed the lot the tribes were to be satisfied with their portion (v 53-56). See note on the Urim and Thummim, p. 118

b 3 commands - division of the land:
1 Divide the land to these 12 tribes which you have numbered (v 53)
2 To the many you shall give the more inheritance, and to the few you shall give the less inheritance (v 54)
3 The land shall be divided by lot; according to the names of their fathers shall they inherit (v 55-56)

c 3 general families of Levites (v 57):
1 Gershon, head of Gershonites
2 Kohath, head of Kohathites
3 Merari, head of Merarites

d 5 family divisions of Levites (v 58):
1 Libni, head of Libnites (3:18)
2 Hebron, head of Hebronites (3:19)
3 Mahli, head of Mahlites (3:20)
4 Mushi, head of Mushites (3:20)
5 Korah, head of Korahites (3:19; 16:1)
Just why these 5 branches are recorded here and others of 3:18-20 omitted is not stated; but this much is clear - the passage introduces the Amram branch of Kohathites from which Aaron, Moses, Miriam, and the priesthood came (v 58-61)

e Amram, the son of Kohath who was the son of Levi, married Jochebed, the daughter of Levi; that is, he married his own aunt (v 59; 3:17). The children of this couple were Aaron, Moses, and Miriam. Aaron's sons, Nadab, Abihu, Eleazar, and Ithamar were the ones ordained as priests (v 60). Nadab and Abihu died for their sin of being intoxicated while ministering in the priest's office (v 61; Lev. 10:1-10)

f This explains how she could be young enough to marry her nephew, Amram (v 59)

g The new total for the tribe of Levi was 23,000 from a month old and upward - a gain of 1,000 over the 1st numbering, if we take the 22,000 of 3:39 which excludes the 300 leaders (included in the count of 3:22, 28, 34). Otherwise, the gain would be only 700 for the 38-year period. See note v, 3:39

h Eleazar was the 2nd high priest (20:23-29), and his son, Phinehas became the 3rd (note a, 25:11)

i The prophecy of 14:21-35 was literally fulfilled, for not one was left of the old generation from 20 years old and upward, except Joshua and Caleb (v 64-65)

j Some 40 years before (14:21-35)

k Therefore, none of the men who entered Canaan (besides Caleb and Joshua), were over 60 years old (14:24, 30, 38)

7 statements about Israel (23:21)

1 Freedom from iniquity and perverseness (v 21). This is not difficult to understand in view of the state of Israel at that time. In the recent past this would not be true; but at the present the whole nation was cleansed by atonement, and was no longer sinful and perverse. The most simple explanation comes from the fact that the Heb. word for iniquity is aven, a word used with idolatry in particular and proving that idols are all vanity and nothing; and from the fact that the Heb. word for perverseness is amal, meaning trouble, labor, and toil of the oppressive and afflictive kind. It could, therefore, be rendered as in other versions. The Sept., for instance, renders it: "There shall be no calamity in Jacob, nor shall misery be seen in Israel." Rotherham translates it: "He has not discovered trouble in Jacob, neither hath he seen wretchedness in Israel," Moffatt has it: "I see no scathe for Jacob, I mark no misery for Israel."

2 The Lord is with him (v 21). God proved this all through the wilderness journey, and confirmed it recently by the defeat of Sihon and Og, giant kings of the Amorites and Bashanites (21:21-35)

3 The shout of a king is among them (v 21). This refers to a shout of praise for their victories, and for God being thousand seven hundred and thirty.

2 Land to be divided equally

52 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
53 Unto [a]these the land [b]shall be divided for an inheritance according to the number of names.
54 To many thou shalt give the more inheritance, and to few thou shalt give the less inheritance: to every one shall his inheritance be given according to those that were numbered of him.
55 Notwithstanding the land shall be divided by lot: according to the names of the tribes of their fathers they shall inherit.
56 According to the lot shall the possession thereof be divided between many and few.

3 Levites numbered: 23,000 - 1,000 gain over Num. 3:39

57 ¶ And [c]these are they that were numbered of the Lē'vītes after their families: of Gēr'shŏn, the family of the Gēr'shon-ītes: of Kō'hath, the family of the Kō'hath-ītes: of Mĕ-rā'rī, the family of the Mĕ-rā'rītes.
58 [d]These are the families of the Lē'vītes: the family of the Lĭb'nītes, the family of the Hē'bron-ītes, the family of the Mäh'lītes, the family of the Mū'shītes, the family of the Kō'rath-ītes. And Kō'hath begat [e]Äm'răm.
59 And the name of Äm'răm's wife was Jŏch'e-bĕd, the daughter of Lē'vī, whom her mother bare to Lē'vī [f]in Ē'gўpt: and she bare unto Äm'răm Aär'on and Mō'şeş, and Mĭr'i-am their sister.
60 And unto Aär'on was born Nā'dăb, and Ä-bī'hū, Ĕ-le-ā'zar, and Ĭth'a-mär.
61 And Nā'dăb and Ä-bī'hū died, when they offered strange fire before the LORD.
62 And those that were numbered of them were [g]twenty and three thousand, all males from a month old and upward: for they were not numbered among the children of Iş'ra-el, because there was no inheritance given them among the children of Iş'ra-el.

4 A new generation entirely except Joshua and Caleb (Num. 14:38, refs.)

63 ¶ These are they that were numbered by Mō'şeş and [h]Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, who numbered the children of Iş'ra-el in the plains of Mō'ab by Jôr'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō.
64 [i]But among these there was not a man of them whom Mō'şeş and Aär'on the priest numbered, when they numbered the children of Iş'ra-el in the wilderness of Sī'nāi.
65 For the LORD had [j]said of them, They shall surely die in the wilderness. And there was not left a man of them, [k]save Că'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh, and Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nŭn.

CHAPTER 27 144

5 Question of inheritances for daughters (Num. 36)

THEN came the daughters of Zĕ-lŏ'phe-hăd, the son of Hē'phĕr, the son of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mā'chĭr, the son of Mā-năs'seh, of the families of Mā-năs'seh the son of Jō'şeph: and these are the names of his daughters; Mäh'lah, [b]Nō'ah, and Hŏg'lah, and Mĭl'cah, and Tĭr'zah.
2 And they stood before Mō'şeş, and before Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and before the princes and all the congregation, by the door of the tabernacle of the congregation, saying,
3 Our father died [c]in the wilderness, and he was not in the company of them that gathered themselves together against the LORD in the company of Kō'rah; but died in his own sin, and had no sons.
4 [d]Why should the name of our father be done away from among his family, because he hath no son? [e]Give unto us therefore a possession among the brethren of our father.
5 And Mō'şeş brought their cause before the LORD.

6 New inheritance laws (Num. 36)

6 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
7 [f]The daughters of Zĕ-lŏ'phe-hăd speak right: thou [g]shalt surely give them a possession of an inheritance among their father's brethren; and thou shalt cause the inheritance of their father to pass unto them.
8 And thou shalt speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, If a man die, and have no son, then ye shall cause his inheritance to pass unto his daughter.
9 And if he have no daughter, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his brethren.
10 And if he have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his father's brethren.
11 And if his father have no brethren, then ye shall give his inheritance unto his kinsman that is next to him of his family, and he shall possess it: and it shall be unto the children of Iş'ra-el a statute of judgment, as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

7 Moses prepares for death: reason he could not enter the land (Num. 20:12; Dt. 32:48)

12 ¶ And the LORD said unto Mō'şeş, [h]Get thee up into this mount [i]Ăb'a-rĭm, and see the land which I have given unto the children of Iş'ra-el.
13 And when thou hast seen it, thou also shalt be gathered unto thy people, as Aär'on thy brother was gathered:
14 [j]For ye rebelled against my commandment in the desert of Zĭn, in the strife of the congregation, to [k]sanctify me at the a While Israel was still in the plains of Moab across the Jordan from Jericho, and after the tribes were numbered so as to receive proper inheritances, the 5 daughters of Zelophehad of the tribe of Manasseh, came to Moses to inquire about inheritances for families which had no sons (v 1-5). Moses took their case to Jehovah and He answered (v 6-11)

b This is one Noah who was a woman (v 1; 26:33; 36:11). The only other Noah of Scripture is the one of Gen. 6-9 who built the ark

c He was evidently one of those destined to destruction for rebellion as in 14:21-35. He did not rebel with Korah and his company, but died for his own sins otherwise before he had sons (v 3; Josh. 17:3; 1 Chr. 7:15)

d Question 56, Next, 31:15

e This is the first example in Scripture of women pleading for their rights before the judges and leaders of a nation (v 4-5). Their case concerned inheritances. Up to this time only sons could inherit lands from a father after his death and no provision was made for daughters

f God always sanctions that which is right and just for all concerned (v 7)

g 6 commands - inheritances:
1 Give the daughters of Zelophehad his inheritance (v 7)
2 If a man dies having no son, you shall cause his inheritance to pass to his daughter (v 8)
3 If he has no son or daughter, you shall give his inheritance unto his brethren (v 9)
4 If he has no brethren, his inheritance shall be given to his father's brethren (v 10)
5 If his father has no brethren, his inheritance shall go to his nearest kinsmen (v 11)
6 This shall be a statute of judgment to the children of Israel

h Command - Moses to prepare for death by going up into mount Abarim to see the land which he was forbidden to enter because of his sin (v 12-14)

i Abarim was a mountain range, westward from Heshbon. From its summit Israel could see the wastes of the Dead Sea and the valley of Jordan. The particular mountain of this range which he climbed was Nebo (Dt. 32:49), also called Pisgah (Dt. 34:1)

j 20:10-13; Dt. 1:37; Ps. 106:32

k To sanctify always means to set apart for a sacred or divine use. Therefore, to sanctify God would mean to set Him apart in one's heart and conduct, as the Divine One to be feared, rendering Him obedience with reverence (1 Pet. 3:15)

4 God brought them out of Egypt (v 22). The record of this is clear in Ex. 12-19
5 He hath the strength of an unicorn (v 22). Heb. reem, a wild bull. Some think the rhinoceros, a wild buffalo, or wild antelope is referred to (v 22; 24:8; Dt. 33:17; Job 39:9-10; Ps. 22:21; 29:6; 92:10; Isa. 34:7)
6 There is no enchantment against Jacob or any divination against Israel (v 23). God was in their midst protecting them from all enchantment and witchcraft
7 A great future (v 23-24). It will be told of Israel now they conquered their enemies by the help of Jehovah. They shall rise up as a great lion and devour their enemies like a young lion

6 commands - law of daily sacrifices (28:2)

1 You shall offer My offerings and the bread of My sacrifices made by fire, for a sweet savour unto Me, in their appointed times (v 2)
2 You shall offer daily 2 perfect lambs of the first year for burnt offerings (v 3, 8)
3 Offer one lamb in the morning, and the other in the evening (v 4, 8)
4 Offer with each lamb 1/10 ephah (nearly a gallon - 3 qts. 1 pt.) flour for a meat offering, mingled with 1/4 hin (1 1/2 qts.) beaten oil (v 5)
5 Offer a drink offering of 1/4 hin (1 1/2 qts.) wine with each lamb (v 7)
6 You shall pour out the wine in the holy place for a drink offering

8 Joshua appointed leader by laying on of hands (Dt. 31:7, 14; 34:9)

■15 ¶ And Mō'şeş spake unto the LORD, saying,

16 [b]Let the LORD, the [c]God of the spirits of all flesh, [d]set a man over the congregation, 17 Which may go out before them, and which may go in before them, and which may lead them out, and which may bring them in; that the congregation of the LORD be not as sheep which have no [e]shepherd.

■18 ¶ And the LORD [f]said unto Mō'şeş, [g]Take thee [h]Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nŭn, a man [i]in whom is the spirit, and [j]lay thine hand upon him;

●19 And set him [k]before Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation; and [l]give him a charge in their sight.

●20 [m]And thou shalt put some of thine honour upon him, that all the congregation of the children of Ĭş'ra-el may be obedient.

●21 And he shall [n]stand before Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, who shall ask counsel for him after the judgment of Ū'rim before the LORD: at his word shall they go out, and at his word they shall come in, both he, and all the children of Ĭş'ra-el with him, even all the congregation.

22 And Mō'şeş did as the LORD commanded him: and he took Jŏsh'u-ā, and set him before Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and before all the congregation:

23 And he laid his hands upon him, and gave him a charge, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'şeş.

145 CHAPTER 28

9 Law of daily sacrifices (Ex. 29:38-46)

[a]AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,

●2 Command the children of Ĭş'ra-el, and say unto them, My offering, and my bread for my sacrifices made by fire, for a sweet savour unto me, [o]shall ye observe to offer unto me in their due season.

●3 And thou shalt say unto them, This is the offering made by fire which ye shall offer unto the LORD; two lambs of the first year without spot day by day, for a continual burnt offering.

●4 The one lamb shalt thou offer in the morning, and the other lamb shalt thou offer at even;

●5 And a [p]tenth part of an ephah of flour for a meat offering, mingled with the [q]fourth part of an hin of beaten oil.

●6 It is a continual burnt offering, which was ordained in mount Sĭ'nāi for a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

●7 And the drink offering thereof shall be the [q]fourth part of an hin for the one lamb: [c]in the holy place shalt thou cause the [d]strong wine to be poured unto the LORD for a drink offering.

●8 And the other lamb shalt thou offer at even: as the [e]meat offering of the morning, and as the drink offering thereof, thou shalt offer it, a sacrifice made by fire, of a sweet savour unto the LORD.

10 Weekly sacrifices

●9 ¶ And [f]on the sabbath day two lambs of the first year without spot, and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, and the drink offering thereof:

●10 This is the burnt offering of every sabbath, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

11 Monthly sacrifices

●11 ¶ And in the beginnings of your months ye [g]shall offer a burnt offering unto the LORD; two young bullocks, and one ram, seven lambs of the first year without spot;

●12 And three tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one bullock; and two tenth deals of flour for a meat offering, mingled with oil, for one ram;

●13 And a several tenth deal of flour mingled with oil for a meat offering unto one lamb; for a burnt offering of a sweet savour, a sacrifice made by fire unto the LORD.

●14 And their drink offerings shall be half an hin of wine unto a bullock, and the third part of an hin unto a ram, and a fourth part of an hin unto a lamb: this is the burnt offering of every month throughout the months of the year.

●15 And one kid of the goats for a sin offering unto the LORD shall be offered, beside the continual burnt offering, and his drink offering.

12 Yearly sacrifices: (1) The Passover (Lev. 23:4)

16 [h]And in the fourteenth day of the first month [i]is the passover of the LORD.

●18 In the first day shall be an holy convocation: ye shall do no manner of servile work therein:

●20 And their meat offering shall be of flour mingled a 20:13, 24; Dt. 32:51; 33:8; Ps. 81:7

b Moses prepared for death in 8 ways:
1 By praying for a new leader(v 16-17)
2 Ordaining Joshua (v 18-23; Dt. 31:7-8, 14-15; 34:9)
3 Giving the final laws to Israel (28:1-30:16; 35:1-36:13)
4 Destroying Midian as God had commanded (26:16-18; 31:1-54)
5 Settling some in the newly conquered lands east of Jordan (32:1-42)
6 Writing a summary of the journeys of Israel from Egypt to Canaan(33:1-50)
7 Making preparations for others to enter the promised land (33:51-34:29)
8 Writing Deuteronomy, a record of Israel during the 38 years of wandering, and repeating the many Mosaic laws, and giving Israel his last words, counsels, laws, prophecies, warnings, blessings, and last song (Dt. 1:1-34:12) c Heb. Elohim, Gods; God in relation to creation. See p. 280 of N. T. God is the Creator and Sovereign of the spirits of all flesh. The term is used only here and in 16:22; it clearly sets forth the doctrine of immortality of the souls and spirits of all men, and the distinct difference between the material and spiritual natures of men. See points A-U, The doctrine of man, p. 619

d Israel's government was a theocracy, a God-rule. God was their invisible King who chose certain men to lead His people (v 16). There were no political parties, campaigns, or elections of popular men, as in our republic. As long as Israel continued under this form of government, depending on God and living right, they had victory and miraculous experiences; but when they demanded a king so as to be like other nations they came to an end like others that forgot God. When they come back to God the theocracy will be restored to remain forever (Gen. 49:10; Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 20:1-10; 22:4-5)

e Speaking to God of Israel's great need, Moses compared it to a shepherd and his sheep. He prayed for a leader who, like a shepherd going before the sheep and leading them in and out to pasture, would care for Israel (v 16-17)

f In all the books of Moses, it is noticeable how quickly God answered him. It was as simple as asking any other person a question and receiving an immediate answer (v 16-18). This happened not only once, but many times, proving a personal contact with God that few others have had, even under grace, the better covenant, with better means of access to God (2 Cor. 3:6-18; Heb. 4:14-16; 8:6; 10:19-23)

g 5 commands - ordination of Joshua:
1 Take Joshua, a man in whom is the Spirit, and lay your hand upon him(v 18)
2 Set him before Eleazar the priest, and all Israel; and give him charge in their sight (v 19)
3 Put some of your honor upon him, that Israel may be obedient (v 20)
4 He shall stand before Eleazar the priest, who shall ask counsel for him after the judgment of Urim before the Lord (v 21) and come in 5 At his word all Israel shall go out h Of the old generation that came out of Egypt, Joshua was the only man left besides Moses and Caleb(14:21-35; 26:65). Moses was soon to die, leaving only Joshua and Caleb to enter Canaan with the new generation. Never in any reference is there the least hint of jealousy on Caleb's part because Joshua was chosen to take the place of Moses. God always knows who is best for every job, and when He makes a decision, as here, it should never be questioned i 7 examples of the Holy Spirit said to be IN, INTO and WITHIN men:

1 Joseph (Gen. 41:38)
2 Moses (Isa. 63:10-11)
3 Joshua (Num. 27:18)
4 David (Ps. 51:10)
5 Ezekiel (Ezek. 2:2; 3:24)
6 Daniel (Dan. 4:8-9, 18; 5:11-14; 6:7 Disciples (Mt. 10:20) 3)
All the prophets and saints of O. T. times had the Holy Spirit in them in a measure, but these are the only ones who are mentioned thus. The Spirit filled, came upon, and moved many in the O. T. days. See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.

j Laying hands upon men publicly has been practiced in all ages when blessing them or ordaining and setting them a An hin was 6 quarts; 1/4 hin, 1 1/2 quarts (v 7; 15:4-5)

b Daily cost of 2 lambs, oil, and wine:

2 lambs @ $20.00 each	$40.00
3 qts. oil @ $1.40 each	4.20
3 qts. wine @ $1.60 each	4.80
1 gal. flour	.80
Total estimated daily cost	$49.80

Total cost of daily sacrifices, 1 year (365) days. $18,177.00
Cost of additional 2 lambs, with flour, oil, and wine, for each of 52 weekly sabbaths (note f, below). 2,589.60
Total for entire year. . . $20,766.60
See notes i-l, Ex. 29:38-40 for an estimated total cost of this for 1,718 years to 70 A. D. when Jerusalem was destroyed - excluding the 70 years of captivity. (Above totals are for a 365-day year; notes for 1,718 years are based on 365 1/4 days to the year)

c The holy place refers to the outer court. The daily wine was poured out here, perhaps around the brazen altar and upon the burnt offerings to symbolize the blood that was to be shed so copiously for the sins of the whole world. Wine in the N. T. Lord's Supper ordinance is symbolic of the shed blood of Christ (Mt. 26:28; Lk. 22:20; 1 Cor. 10:16; 11:23-30). This made 3 quarts poured out daily to be dried in the sun and burned up with the sacrifices

d Heb. shekar, an intoxicant; alcoholic liquor; strong drink. It was made from barley, honey, and dates. Perhaps the indication here is that Israel had substituted this for grape wine while in the wilderness where there were no vineyards to supply the nation as when they became settled in the land. See note r, Lev. 10:9

e The meat and drink offerings were required with the daily animal sacrifices, as a reminder that the people should dedicate their property and fruits of their labors, as well as their own persons to God (v 8)

2 The feast of unleavened bread (28:17-25; Ex. 12:8, 15-20; Lev. 23:6-8)
3 The feast of firstfruits at Pentecost (28:26-31). This was the firstfruits of wheat harvest 23:23-25)

k Because he had the breastplate with the Urim and Thummim to give the judgments of Jehovah (Ex. 28:30, note)

l Giving charge was a solemn rite, and so it should be today when men are ordained to the ministry (v 19)

m Impart to him part of your dignity and authority, so Israel will know that he is vice-leader under you, and will resume leadership at your death (v 20)

n This teaches that Joshua was inferior to Moses in authority and always would be, for Moses had enjoyed the authority of absolute power over the high priest, being the first priest actually to carry out the program received at Sinai. Moses had unrestricted and direct communion with God which neither Joshua nor any other ruler ever did enjoy. Now the leader of Israel was to ask counsel of God through the high priest who had the Urim and Thummim and was entrusted with the privilege of inquiring of Jehovah. Joshua failed to get this counsel in the matter of the Gibeonites and was deceived (Josh. 9)

o 6 com. - law of daily sacrifices, p. 187

p The tenth part of an ephah was nearly a gallon - about 3 quarts, 1 pint (v 5; 15:4; 29:4; Ex. 29:40)

q An hin being 6 quarts, the 1/4 hin of oil would be 1 1/2 quarts (v 5; 15:5) a Flour offered with different sacrifices:

1 With every bullock: 3 tenth deals or 1 1/2 gallon (v 20, 28; 15:9; 28:3, 9, 14)
2 With every ram: 2 tenth deals or 1 gallon (v 20, 28; 15:6; 28:3, 9, 14)
3 With every lamb: 1 tenth deal or 1/2 gallon (v 4-5, 9, 13, 21, 29; 29:4; Ex. 29:40; Lev. 14:10, 21). There was one exception to this law of 1 tenth deal for every lamb: on the day of firstfruits connected with the passover and barley harvest, twice as much 2 tenth deals or 1 gal.) was offered with a lamb when the sheaf was waved before Jehovah (Lev. 23:11-14)
4 With each kid of the goats: 1 tenth deal or 1/2 gallon (v 22; 15:3-4)
Besides the above, flour was also made into cakes or loaves and offered to Jehovah (Ex. 29:2; Lev. 2:1-16; 5:11; 6:15, 20; 7:12; 24:5; Num. 6:15; 7:13)

b Cost of sacrifices for the week - feast of unleavened bread:

14 bullocks @ $325.00 each	$4,550.00
7 rams @ $20.00 each	140.00
49 lambs @ $20.00 each	980.00
7 goats @ $20.00 each	140.00
56 gal. flour @ 80¢ each	44.80
140 qts. of oil @ $1.40 each	196.00
140 qts. of wine @ $1.60 each	224.00
Total estimated cost	$6,274.80

c Wine offered with different sacrifices:
1 With every bullock: 1/2 hin or 3 quarts (v 24; 15:9-10)
2 With every ram: 1/3 hin or 2 quarts (v 14; 15:7)
3 With every lamb or kid: 1/4 hin or 1 1/2 quarts (v 7; 15:5; Ex. 29:40; Lev. 23:12-13)

d There were 2 sabbaths in 7 days, not 2 in 8 days as would be true of regular weekly sabbaths (v 18, 25). The servile work mentioned refers to laborious work as done by servants and slaves

e This day of the firstfruits was in connection with Pentecost and the wheat harvest (v 26), which would be 7 weeks later than the day of firstfruits spoken of in Lev. 23:10-14, and which took place in connection with the passover and feast of unleavened bread at the time of barley harvest. The day of firstfruits here, is said to be "after your weeks be out," meaning the weeks before Pentecost. Pentecost:

f 5 commands - feast of firstfruits at 1 On the day of the feast of firstfruits, when you bring your new meat offering (first offering of the new crop of wheat), you shall have an holy convocation, and do no servile work on that day (v 26)
2 You shall offer burnt offerings for a sweet savour to Jehovah - 2 young bullocks, 1 ram, 7 lambs of the first year without blemish (v 27)
3 You shall offer their meat offerings of flour mingled with oil (v 28-29)
4 Offer on that day a kid of the goats (with meat and drink offerings) to make an atonement (v 30; 15:5)

In Lev. 23:15-22 the animals to be sacrificed at Pentecost are listed as: 7 lambs, 1 bullock, 2 rams, 1 kid of the goats, and 2 additional lambs as peace offerings. It seems that all these as well as the sacrifices of v 27-31 (commanded in connection with the firstfruits) were to be offered on that day - the day of firstfruits at Pentecost. The estimated cost of these additional animals, their meat and drink offerings would be $638.60 (note q, Lev. 23:18). Added to the $896.40 of note g, below, it would bring the total cost of sacrifices at Pentecost to $1,535.00

g Cost of offerings - feast of firstfruits at Pentecost:

2 bullocks @ $325.00 each	$650.00
1 ram	20.00

a 7 commands - great day of atonement:
1 On the 10th day of the 7th month (October) you shall have an holy convocation (v 7) day
2 You shall afflict your souls on that
3 You shall not do any work thereon
4 You shall offer burnt offerings as a sweet savour to Jehovah - 1 young bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs of the first year without blemish (v 8)
5 Their meat offering shall be of flour mingled with oil - 3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) of flour to a bullock, 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) to one ram, 1 tenth deal (1/2 gal.) for each lamb (v 9-10; note a, 28:20). For amounts of oil, see note h, 28:28; and for drink offerings, see note c, 28:24
6 Offer 1 kid of the goats for a sin offering, with his meat and drink offerings (v 11; notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
7 Offer these (1 bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs, 1 kid) besides the "sin offering of atonement" (of Lev. 16), and the daily burnt offerings with their meat and drink offerings (v 11)

Cost of these special sacrifices on the day of atonement would be the same as in note j, v 2 for the feast of trumpets - $561.20. It seems that besides the animals commanded to be offered here, there were others, for the priest and congregation, as in Lev. 16, to be sacrificed on the great day of atonement. Their estimated cost ($405.00; note i, Lev. 16:3) and that of their meat and drink offerings ($33.60) added to the $561.20 would bring the total cost on atonement day to $999.80

5 Offer these besides the burnt offering of the month and the daily burnt offerings and their meat and drink offerings (v 6)

j See Cost of feast of trumpets, p.195

a 4 commands - 4th day of tabernacles:
1 On the 4th day of the feast (Oct. 18), offer 10 bullocks, 2 rams, and 14 lambs of the first year without blemish (v 23)
2 Their meat and drink offerings shall be according to their number and after the usual manner (v 24: notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
3 Offer 1 kid of the goats for a sin offering, with his meat and drink offerings (v 25; 15:3-11; Ex. 29:30)
4 Offer these (10 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid) besides the daily offerings and their meat and drink offerings (v 25)
The cost of sacrifices for the 4th day of the feast would be the same as that for the 3rd day, less $335. 20 (the estimated cost of 1 bullock, his meat and drink offerings) because only 10 bullocks were offered instead of 11 as on the 3rd day (note g, v 20). This would make the total estimated cost of offerings on the 4th day amount to $3,779,10 b 4 commands - 5th day of tabernacles:

1 On the 5th day of the feast (Oct. 19), offer 9 bullocks, 2 rams, and 14 lambs of the first year without spot (v 26)
2 Offer them with their meat and drink offerings according to their number and after the usual manner (v 27: notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
3 Offer 1 goat for a sin offering, with his meat and drink offerings (v 28: 15:3-11; Ex. 29:40)
4 Offer these (9 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 goat) besides the daily offerings with their meat and drink offerings (v 28)
The cost of sacrifices for the 5th day of the feast would be the same as that for the 4th day, less $335. 20 (the estimated cost of 1 bullock, his meat and drink offerings) because only 9 bullocks were offered instead of 10 as on the 4th day (note a, above). This would make the total estimated cost of offerings on the 5th day amount to $3, 443. 90 c 4 commands - 6th day of tabernacles:

1 On the 6th day of the feast (Oct. 20), offer 8 bullocks, 2 rams, and 14 lambs of the first year without blemish (v 29)
2 Offer them with their meat and drink offerings according to their number and after the usual manner (v 30; notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
3 Offer 1 goat for a sin offering, with his meat and drink offerings (v 31; 15:3-11; Ex. 29:40)
4 Offer these (8 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 goat) besides the daily offerings with their meat and drink offerings (v 31)
The cost of sacrifices for the 6th day of the feast would be the same as that for the 5th day, less $335. 20 (the estimated cost of 1 bullock, his meat and drink offerings) because only 8 bullocks were offered instead of 9 as on the 5th day (note b, above). This would make the total estimated cost of offerings on the 6th day amount to $3, 108. 70

d 4 commands - 7th day of tabernacles:
1 On the 7th day of the feast (Oct. 21), offer 7 bullocks, 2 rams, and 14 lambs of the first year without blemish (v 32)
2 Offer them with their meat and drink offerings according to their number and after the usual manner (v 33; notes a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
3 Offer 1 goat for a sin offering, with the meat and drink offerings (v 34; 15:3-11; Ex. 29:40)
4 Offer these (7 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 goat) besides the daily offerings with their meat and drink offerings (v 34)
The cost of sacrifices for the 7th day of the feast would be the same as that for the 6th day, less $335. 20 (the estimated cost of 1 bullock, his meat and drink offerings) because only 7 bullocks were offered instead of 8 as on the 6th day (note c, above). This would make the total estimated cost of offerings on the 7th day amount to $2, 773. 50

e See 7 commands, p. 193. On the eighth day of the feast there were special ceremonies besides the sacrifices and offerings. A priest would draw water from the pool of Siloam, in a golden vessel, and bring it to the temple at the time of the burning of the morning sacrifice on the altar. He would then pour this water, mingled with wine, upon the sacrifice while the people sang with great joy to Jehovah. After the festivities of this day the booths were removed and the people went home, to remain until the following April when yearly feasts would begin again, and end in October 40 And Mō'şeş told the children of Iş'ra-el according to all that the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

147 CHAPTER 30

13 Law of vows: (1) Vows of mature men (Lev. 27:1)

AND Mō'şeş spake unto the heads of the tribes concerning the children of Iş'ra-el, saying, This is the thing which the LORD hath commanded.
●2 If a man vow a vow unto the LORD, or swear an oath to bind his soul with a bond; he shall not break his word, he shall do according to all that proceedeth out of his mouth.

(2) Vows of single women (Lev. 27:4-6; Dt. 23:21)

●3 If a woman also vow a vow unto the LORD, and bind herself by a bond, being in her father's house in her youth;
●4 And her father hear her vow, and her bond wherewith she hath bound her soul, and her father shall hold his peace at her: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she hath bound her soul shall stand.
●5 But if her father disallow her in the day that he heareth; not any of her vows, or of her bonds wherewith she hath bound her soul, shall stand: and the LORD shall forgive her, because her father disallowed her.

(3) Vows of married women (Lev. 27:4-8; Dt. 23:21)

●6 And if she had at all an husband, when she vowed, or uttered ought out of her lips, wherewith she bound her soul;
●7 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her in the day that he heard it: then her vows shall stand, and her bonds wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.
●8 But if her husband disallowed her on the day that he heard it; then he shall make her vow which she vowed, and that which she uttered with her lips, wherewith she bound her soul, of none effect: and the LORD shall forgive her.

(4) Vows of widows and divorcees (Dt. 23:21, refs.)

●9 But every vow of a widow, and of her that is divorced, wherewith they have bound a The continual burnt offerings were the daily sacrifices of 2 lambs, one each in the morning and the evening. Throughout this chapter they are referred to as the continual burnt offering (v 6, 11, 16, 19, 22, 25, 28, 31, 34, 38). They were to be offered regardless of all other offerings

b Each sacrifice had its own meat and drink offerings (note a, c, h, 28:20, 24, 28)
c There were 7 set feasts of Jehovah, besides the weekly sabbath feast (Lev. 23, notes). They were: the passover; feast of firstfruits; unleavened bread; Pentecost; trumpets; day of atonement; and feast of tabernacles. See notes on chapters 28 and 29 d Vows were accompanied with certain offerings, each of which required its own meat and drink offerings (Lev. 27, notes)
e 5 kinds of offerings here:
1 Freewill offerings (mentioned 16 times: 15:3; 29:39; Lev. 22:18-23; 23:38; Dt. 12:6, 17; 16:10; 23:23; 2 Chr. 31:14; Ezra 1:4; 3:5; 7:13, 16; 8:28; Ps. 119:108). These were any offerings given to God of the free will
2 Burnt offerings and burnt sacrifices (284 times: 7:15-87; 28:3-31; 29:2-39; Gen. 8:20; 22:2-13; Ex. 40:6-29; Lev. 1:1-17; 4:7-34; 6:9-30; 7:2-37; 8:17-28; 9:1-24; etc.). These were offerings of animals and food given to God and burned wholly or partially
3 Meat offerings (135 times: 15:3-10; 28:6-31; 29:3-39; Ex. 29:41; Lev. 2:1-15; 6:14-23; etc.). These were always of food offered to God, from grains and vegetables or products of them. They were never of animal food, but always accompanied animal offerings (15:3-10)
4 Drink offerings (58 times: 6:15-20; 15:3-10, 24; 28:7-31; 29:7-39; Gen. 35:14; Ex. 29:40-41; etc.). These were always of wine and were required with each sacrifice (15:3-10)
5 Peace offerings (82 times: 6:14-26; 7:17-88; 10:10; 15:8; 30:4-14; Ex. 20:24; 24:5; 29:28; 32:6; Lev. 3:1-9; 4:10-35; 7:11-37; Dt. 20:11-12; etc.). These were any offerings to Jehovah to give thanks and manifest fellowship with Him
Other offerings, the trespass offerings, sin offerings, sweet savour offerings, and non-sweet savour offerings, which come under the above general class of offerings are dealt with in Lev. 1:1-8:31, notes f 7 commands - vows of men and women:
1 If a man makes a vow to Jehovah and binds his soul by an oath, he shall not break his word, but shall perform all that comes from his mouth (v 1-2. Cp. Ps. 15:4)
2 If an unmarried woman makes a vow to Jehovah, binding herself by an oath, it shall stand and she shall perform it, unless her father refuses to permit it to stand in the day that he hears of it. If he objects to her vow in that day, then it shall not stand, and the Lord will forgive her because her father objected (v 3-5)
3 If a married woman makes a vow to Jehovah and binds herself with an oath, it shall stand and she shall perform it, unless her husband objects to it in the day that he hears of it. If he objects to it in that day, then it shall not stand, and the Lord will forgive her because her husband objected (v 6-8)
4 If a divorced woman or a widow makes a vow and binds her soul with an oath to Jehovah, it shall stand (v 9)
5 If the vow of a divorced woman or a widow was made while she had a husband, it shall stand, unless her husband objected to it the day he heard of it. If her husband objected that day, it shall not stand, and the Lord will forgive her, because her husband objected (v 10-12)
6 Every vow and binding oath that a married woman makes may be established by her husband or made void. If he holds his peace day after day, then he establishes her vow, but if he objects the day he hears about it, it shall not stand (v 13-14)
7 If a husband hears a wife's vow or her oath, and does not object to it the day he hears about it, then later makes it void by objecting to her fulfilling it, he shall bear her iniquity for causing her to break it (v 15)

a This refers to a widow having made a vow while her husband was alive, or a divorced woman having made one before the husband divorced her (v 9-12). Married women are dealt with in v 6-8 b Here God recognized the authority and rights of the husband, as being greater than His own claim on the married woman regarding certain things. He did this to emphasize the proper lordship of the man over the woman, and to keep peace in the home (1 Cor. 11:3; 1 Pet. 3:6). Jehovah simply left such matters up to the family unit, thus revealing Himself as a just and righteous God, always consecrated to the unity of the home. It may be said at this point, that Christianity is not a religion of breaking up homes, but of keeping them together. To this end, the Holy Spirit gave the laws concerning marriage and divorce in Mt. 19; 1 Cor. 7, which see. Also see Marriage and Divorce in the Index

c This means that if the husband did not object on the day that he heard of the vow of his wife, he then had to let it stand (v 6-8, 11-14). He could not go beyond that one day, thinking the matter over, and he could not permit his wife to begin paying her vow, then decide that he did not want her to continue. If he caused her to break her vow after the first day he heard of it, then he was to pay the penalty of the broken vow which she would have had to pay if she, herself had broken it (v 15). Only daughters and wives could be freed from vows if objected to by fathers and husbands. No provision was stated for annulling vows of boys and young men; but it is supposed that they were held responsible to Jehovah for their vows unless objected to by those having authority over them with power to permit or not to permit them to fulfil vows. Parents were to determine the case of their children; and husbands the case of their wives. Rabbins say that under the age of 12, boys were under the sole authority of their parents, and consequently had no power to make vows

Vows were supposed to be lawful and made concerning right things, to be considered binding. Making a rash vow to do evil did not make it right, or an act of righteousness. Instead of being kept, rash vows were to be repented of and proper atonement made for such sin. The performance of unlawful vows constituted unlawful acts. The whole chapter teaches that making vows is a serious matter. Scripture does not require the making of vows; it only gives commands concerning them IF they are made. Care should be taken in the making of a vow, for it is better not to make one than to make it and break it. Lawful ones should be kept even if a person swears to his own hurt (Ps. 15:4) d Bonds seem to be different from vows. The vow was positive, and the bond negative and restrictive. By a vow a man might dedicate himself, or some of his possessions, to God; or vow to accomplish some work for Him. By a bond he would cut himself off from some privilege. A vow involved an obligation to do, and a bond involved an obligation to forbear doing

e 2 commands - war on Midian:
1 Avenge the children of Israel of the Midianites (v 2)
2 Choose from every tribe 1,000 men and send them to war (v 4)

f The purpose of this war was to destroy the people who had caused Israel to sin, as in ch. 25

g The priest went with the men of war, taking the holy trumpets. See 25:7-15

Captive virgins could be wives, but not slaves (Dt. 21:10-14)

f This was done to avoid further and future trouble from these males who would grow up to take vengeance if possible. Examples of what might have happened can be seen in Hadad and others after the males were nearly all destroyed (1 Ki. 11:14-40)

g Every soldier had to go through 7 days of ceremonial cleansing, because of having touched dead men. Such a law was made before this (5:2; 6:6, 11; 9:6-10; 19:11-18). All clothing worm, every vessel, and all other things that had become unclean had to be purified (v 20) their souls, shall stand against her.

10 And if she vowed in her husband's house, or bound her soul by a bond with an oath;

11 And her husband heard it, and held his peace at her, and disallowed her not: then all her vows shall stand, and every bond wherewith she bound her soul shall stand.

12 But if her husband hath utterly made them void on the day he heard them; then whatsoever proceeded out of her lips concerning her vows, or concerning the bond of her soul, shall not stand: her husband hath made them void; and the LORD shall forgive her.

13 [b]Every vow, and every binding oath to afflict the soul, her husband may establish it, or her husband may make it void.

14 But [c]if her husband altogether hold his peace at her from day to day; then he establisheth all her vows, or all her[d]bonds, which are upon her: he confirmeth them, because he held his peace at her in the day that he heard *them.

15 But if he shall any ways make them void after that he hath heard them; then he shall bear her iniquity.

16 These are the statutes, which the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ, between a man and his wife, between the father and his daughter, being yet in her youth in her father's house.

CHAPTER 31 148

14 Fifth war (Ex. 17:8, refs.). Judgment on Midian because of causing Israel to sin (Num. 25:16). (1) War declared

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying,

2 [e][f]Avenge the children of Iṣ'ra-el of the Mid'i-an-ites: afterward shalt thou be gathered unto thy people.

3 And Mō'ṣeṣ spake unto the people, saying, Arm some of yourselves unto the war, and let them go against the Mid'i-an-ites, and [f]avenge the LORD of Mid'i-an.

(2) The picked army

4 [g]Of every tribe a thousand, throughout all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el, shall ye send to the war.

5 So there were delivered out of the thousands of Iṣ'ra-el, a thousand of every tribe, twelve thousand armed for war.

6 And Mō'ṣeṣ sent them to the war, a thousand of every tribe, them and [g]Phin'e-has the son of E'le-a'zar the priest, to the war, with the holy instruments, and the [h]trumpets to blow in his hand.

(3) Midian defeated

7 And they warred against the Mid'i-an-ites, as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ; and they slew all the males.

8 And they slew the kings of Mid'i-an, [a]beside the rest of them that were slain: namely, E'vi, and Rē'kem, and Zûr, and Hûr, and Rē'bā, five kings of Mid'i-an: Bā'laam also the son of Bē'or they slew with the sword.

(4) Partial obedience to the laws of conquest (Ex. 23:20-33; Dt. 7:1-5)

9 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el took all the women of Mid'i-an captives, and their little ones, and took the spoil of all their cattle, and all their flocks, and all their goods.

10 And they burnt all their cities wherein they dwelt, and all their goodly castles, with fire.

11 And they took all the spoil, and all the prey, both of men and of beasts.

12 And they brought the captives, and the prey, and the spoil, unto Mō'ṣeṣ, and E'le-a'zar the priest, and unto the congregation of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, unto the camp at the plains of Mō'ab, which are by Jôr'dan near Jĕr'i-chō.

13 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ, and E'le-a'zar the priest, and all the princes of the congregation, went forth to meet them[b] without the camp.

(5) Wrath of Moses: reason

14 And Mō'ṣeṣ was[c] wroth with the officers of the host, with the captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, which came from the battle.

15 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, [d]Have ye saved all the women alive?

16 Behold, [e]these caused the children of Iṣ'ra-el, through the counsel of Bā'laam, to commit trespass against the LORD in the matter of Pē'or, and there was a plague among the congregation of the LORD.

15 Laws of conquest (Num. 31:17-54; 33:50-56; Ex. 23:20-33; Dt. 7:1-5; 20:1-20).

(1) Law of execution

17 Now therefore [f]kill every male among the little ones, and kill every woman that hath known man by lying with him.

18 But all the women children, that have not known a man by lying with him, keep alive for yourselves.

(2) Law of purification for warriors, captives and booty

19 And do ye abide without the camp [g]seven days: whosoever hath killed any person, and whosoever hath touched any slain, purify both yourselves and your captives on the third day, and on the seventh day.

20 And purify all your raiment, and all that is made of skins, and all work of goats' hair, and all things made of wood.

a 9fold victory of Israel:
1 Slew all the males (v 7)
2 Slew 5 kings of Midian (v 8):
(1) Evi (Josh. 13:21)
(2) Rekem (Josh. 13:21)
(3) Zur (25:15; Josh. 13:21)
(4) Hur (Josh. 13:21)
(5) Reba (Josh. 13:21)
3 Slew Balaam, the prophet (v 8, 16; Josh. 13:22; 24:9-10; Neh. 13:2; Mic. 6:5; 2 Pet. 2:15-16; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14). See full story of Balaam in 22:5-24; 25, notes
4 Took all the women captive (v 9)
5 Took the children captive
6 Took the spoil of their cattle, flocks, and all the goods of Midian
7 Burned all their cities (v 10-11)
8 Burned their beautiful castles (v 10)
9 Brought the captives, the prey, and all the spoil to Moses, Eleazar, and the congregation of Israel in the plains of Moab (v 12-13)

b The captives and the spoils were not to be brought into the camp before being inspected to determine what was permissible to keep and what was to be destroyed. The camp had to be kept clean of all defilement (v 11-13) c 7 times Moses was wroth:

1 When leaving Pharaoh the last time (Ex. 11:8) 16:20)
2 When Israel murmured for flesh (Ex.
3 When Israel sinned by making the golden calf (Ex. 32:19-22)
4 When Aaron failed concerning the sin offering at the time his sons died (Lev. 10:16)
5 When Israel murmured for flesh the second time (11:10-15)
6 When Korah rebelled and Dathan and Abiram refused to obey (16:15)
7 When the army captains disobeyed in not killing all Midianites (31:14)
It is remarkable that the record does not state that Moses was angry more often, considering all he had to endure for over 40 years. Several other times he was angry, no doubt, as when he smote the rock twice in disobedience, but the report does not say so (20:8-13). Generally, he was calm and controlled in face of the sins and failures of Israel. Note the number of times the record says God was angry during the same period. God became angry over the constant sins of Israel and because they provoked Him to anger. He did not need to tolerate them as Moses, who was called to stand between Him and the people as mediator and intercessor. Moses just could not become angry at certain times, or God would have killed the people for their rebellion. It was Moses' duty to remain calm in order to plead the cause of his own people

14 times God was wroth:
1 When Moses was stubborn and slow to obey the call of God (Ex. 4:14) 7) 2 In the overthrow of Pharaoh (Ex. 15:
3 When Israel sinned by making the golden calf (Ex. 32:10-12, 22; Dt. 9:8-22)
4 When the priests sinned, ministering while in a drunken condition (Lev. 10:1-11)
5 When Israel complained (11:1)
6 When Israel murmured for flesh (11:10) 33)
7 When Israel ate in greediness (11:
8 When Miriam and Aaron sinned (12:9)
9 When Israel rebelled over the judgment upon Korah and company
10 When He saw the stubbornness of Balaam (22:22)
11 When Israel went into idolatry and adultery (25:3-4, 11)
12 When Israel rebelled at Kadesh-barnea (14:11-35; 32:11-14; Dt. 1:34)
13 When Moses sinned by smiting the rock twice (Dt. 1:37; 3:26; 4:21)
14 When Aaron sinned (Dt. 9:20)
Even though the record does not say so, it is evident that God was provoked to anger at other times, as demonstrated by the plagues and judgments sent upon Israel and other nations round about

d Question 57. Next, 32:6

e This was why they were commanded to be destroyed. It was not that God did not love certain nations; it was because of their sinful depravities and their war against Him, and His program of ridding the earth of sin and rebellion.

a 4 commands - purification of booty:
1 Purify the gold, silver, brass, iron, tin, and lead, with fire - everything that can be purified by fire, and it shall be clean (v 23)
2 Also purify such metals with the water of separation (v 23; 19:1-22)
3 Cause all booty that cannot be purified by fire without destruction, to be purified by washing in water (v 23)
4 You (soldiers) shall wash your clothes on the 7th day of your purification; and you shall be clean and shall come into the camp (v 24)
It might appear from the strict laws of sanitation and sterilization that some practices were not necessary, but God knew what was best in such conditions as prevailed in those days

b 5 commands - division of booty:
1 Make a summary of all the booty taken in battle, both of men and beasts (v 26)
2 Eleazar and the chief fathers of the congregation shall have charge of this summary
3 Divide the booty into 2 parts: one half for the men who fought and the other for the congregation (v 27)
4 Set aside, as a gift to Jehovah for an offering from the soldiers' half, 1 person in every 500 and 1 beast of every 500 (v 28-29)
5 From the half belonging to the congregation set apart 1 person in 50, and 1 beast of every 50, and give them to the Levites (v 30) c The word for heave offering here is rightly trans. levy in v 28. The offering was not heaved or lifted up before God as regular heave offerings

d Summary of the booty (v 32-35):

675,000 sheep@$20...	$13,500,000.00
72,000 cattle@$189...	13,608,000.00
61,000 asses@$50....	3,050,000.00
32,000 women.....
Total value.....	$30,158,000.00

e Half of booty for soldiers (v 36-40):

337,500 sheep@$20...	$6,750,000.00
36,000 cattle@$189..	6,804,000.00
30,500 asses@$50....	1,525,000.00
16,000 women.....
Total value.....	$15,079,000.00

f God's tribute of soldiers' half (v 36):

675 sheep @$20.00.....	$13,500.00
72 cattle @$189.00.....	13,608.00
61 asses @$50.00.....	3,050.00
32 women.....
Total value.....	$30,158.00

This was called the Lord's tribute and was given to the Levites as their portion of the booty; so all shared together according to the law of booty given by God (v 41). Soldiers naturally shared the most, because they endangered their lives to win the war (v 28-30)

3 commands - weekly sabbath offerings (28:9)

1 On the sabbath offer 2 other lambs of the first year, without blemish, besides 2 lambs of the daily sacrifice (v 9-10)
2 Offer with them 2 tenth deals of flour (1 gal.) for a meat offering, mingled with oil - 1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts. for each; 3 qts. for the 2 lambs (v 5, 9; 15:4-5; 29:4)
3 Offer a drink offering (1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts. for each - 3 qts. for the 2 lambs)
Here again we see that the idea of no work whatsoever on the weekly sabbath is erroneous. This kind of work was commanded, and there was to be twice as much of it done on the sabbath-day as on a regular week-day. Only the secular, servile, or unnecesary work was commanded not to be done on the sabbath. See Sabbath in Index
The cost of a weekly sabbath offering would be twice as much as that of any other day because there would be the regular 2 lambs with their meat and drink offerings besides the 2 additional ones commanded in v 9-10. The cost would come to $99.60 every 7th day, an additional $49.80 over the total estimated cost of a daily sacrifice, as in note b, above. This would amount to $2,589.60 in a year; added to the $18,177.00 for daily sacrifices it would bring the yearly total to $20,766.60. Besides these offerings there were others on special sabbaths, and the monthly sacrifices as on p. 172

21 ¶ And Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the men of war which went to the battle, This is the ordinance of the law which the LORD commanded Mō'şeş;
22 [c]Only the gold, and the silver, the brass, the iron, the tin, and the lead, 23 Every thing that may abide the fire, ye shall make it go through the fire, and it shall be clean: nevertheless it shall be purified with the water of separation: and all that abideth not the fire ye shall make go through the water.
24 And ye shall wash your clothes on the seventh day, and ye shall be clean, and afterward ye shall come into the camp.

(3) Law of dividing booty

25 ¶ And the LORD spake unto Mō'şeş, saying,
[b]26 Take the sum of the prey that was taken, both of man and of beast, thou, and Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and the chief fathers of the congregation:
27 And divide the prey into two parts; between them that took the war upon them, who went out to battle, and between all the congregation:
28 And levy a tribute unto the LORD of the men of war which went out to battle: one soul of five hundred, both of the persons, and of the asses, and of the sheep:
29 Take it of their half, and give it unto Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest for an [c]heave offering of the LORD.
30 And of the children of Iş'ra-el's half, thou shalt take one portion of fifty, of the persons, of the beeves, of the asses, and of the flocks, of all manner of beasts, and give them unto the Lē'vītes, which keep the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD.
31 And Mō'şeş and Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest did as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.
32 And the [d]booty, being the rest of the prey which the men of war had caught, was six hundred thousand and seventy thousand and five thousand sheep,
33 And threescore and twelve thousand beeves,
34 And threescore and one thousand asses,
35 And thirty and two thousand persons in all, of women that had not known man by lying with him.
36 And the [e]half, which was the portion of them that went out to war, was in number three hundred thousand and seven and thirty thousand and five hundred sheep:
37 And the [f]LORD's tribute of the sheep was six hundred and threescore and fifteen.
38 And the beeves were thirty and six thousand; of which the LORD's tribute was threescore and twelve.
39 And the asses were thirty thousand and five hundred; of which the LORD's tribute was thirty and two persons.
41 And Mō'şeş gave the tribute, which was the LORD's heave offering, unto Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.
42 And of the children of Iş'ra-el's half, which Mō'şeş divided from the men that warred, 43 (Now the [a]half that pertained unto the congregation was three hundred thousand and thirty thousand and seven thousand and five hundred sheep, 44 And thirty and six thousand beeves,
45 And thirty thousand asses and five hundred,
46 And sixteen thousand persons:)
47 Even of the children of Iş'ra-el's [b]half, Mō'şeş took one portion of fifty, both of man and of beast. and gave them unto the Lē'vītes, which kept the charge of the tabernacle of the LORD; as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

16 Report of casualties

48 ¶ And the [c]officers which were over thousands of the host, the captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds, came near unto Mō'şeş:
49 And they said unto Mō'şeş, Thy servants have taken the sum of the men of war which are under our charge, and there lacketh not one man of us.

17 Thanksgiving offering to the Lord for protection

50 We have therefore brought an [d]oblation for the LORD, what every man hath gotten, [e]of jewels of gold, chains, and bracelets, rings, earrings, and tablets, [f]to make an atonement for our souls before the LORD.
51 And Mō'şeş and Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest took the gold of them, even all wrought jewels.
52 And all the gold of the offering that they offered up to the LORD, of the captains of thousands, and of the captains of hundreds, [g]was sixteen thousand seven hundred and fifty shekels.
53 (For the men of war had taken spoil, every man for himself.)
54 And Mō'şeş and Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest took the gold of the captains of thousands and of hundreds, and brought it into the tabernacle of the congregation, for a memorial for the children of Iş'ra-el before the LORD.

CHAPTER 32 149

18 Possessions east of Jordan: (1) Request of Reuben and Gad

NOW the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd had a very great multitude of cattle: and when they saw the land of [i]Jā'zēr, and the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, that, behold, a Israel's half of the booty amounted to the same as the soldiers' half: 337,500 sheep; 36,000 cattle; 30,500 asses; and 16,000 women as listed in note e, v 36.

Total estimated value: $15,079,000.00

b God's tribute of Israel's half (v 47):

Sheep, 6,750 @ $20.00...	$135,000.00
Cattle, 720 @ $189.00...	136,080.00
Asses, 610 @ $50.00....	30,500.00
Women, 320.....
Total value.....	$301,580.00

It would appear from this record that the Midianites were completely exterminated, but this was not the case. Only this particular portion of Midian which caused Israel to sin was destroyed. Other Midianite tribes continued and fought against Israel in the days of the judges (Judg. 6:1-33; 7:1-25; 8:1) c The officers or captains of the army reported that they did not lose a man in the war with Midian, which in itself was a miracle and showed a direct intervention of heaven (v 48-49). This gave Israel more confidence for the wars of Canaan soon to follow

d The captains brought a freewill offering to Jehovah, partly out of gratitude for the preservation of their lives in battle, and partly to express remorse for having disobeyed the Lord in not killing all the people who had caused Israel to sin (v 14, 50)

e 6fold offering to Jehovah:
1 Jewels of gold, literally vessels or instruments of gold. The Heb. keliy, means any implement, utensil, dress, vessel, weapon, instrument, furniture, or tool. That these were not bracelets, earrings, and other jewelry is clear from the fact that such things were named along with the jewels of gold (v 50-51; Ex. 35:22)
2 Chains for the arms and neck. Some were even used for camels in those days (v 50; Judg. 8:26; Song 1:10)
3 Bracelets (v 50; Gen. 24:22, 30, 47; 38:18, 25; Ex. 35:22; Isa. 3:19; Ezek. 16:11; 23:42)
4 Rings (v 50; Ex. 35:22; Isa. 3:21)
5 Earrings (v 50; Gen. 24:22, 30, 47; 35:4; Ex. 32:2-3; 35:22; Judg. 8:24-26; Job 42:11; Isa. 3:20; Ezek. 16:22; Hos. 2:13)
6 Tablets (perhaps gold beads, v 50; Ex. 35:22). Not the same as tablets in Isa. 3:20, which means perfume bottles

f These metals could not actually atone for any sin, so the reference must be to a gift of acknowledgement for the preservation of their lives in battle (v 50)

g A shekel being worth 64¢, the 16,750 shekels would be valued at $10,720.00 according to our money. This amount went to the tabernacle as a memorial to Jehovah (v 54)

h The land east of Jordan had now been conquered, and was ready for settlement. The tribes of Reuben and Gad, being the chief cattlemen of Israel, requested this as their inheritance (v 1-5). Moses objected to their settling here on the grounds that they were needed to help conquer Canaan (v 6-15). They then promised to help if they would be granted the land they desired (v 6-42)

i Jazer in particular, was a place of grazing for cattle; and this made the cattlemen desire it without waiting to see what was on the other side of Jordan (v 1). It would seem from Moses' objection to their settlement on the east of Jordan (32:6-15) that the first intention was to settle in Canaan only; but this was out of line with the promises to Abraham (Gen. 15:18-21). No doubt they would have gone on to Canaan if Sihon had permitted Israel to pass through his land; but he would not, so a war had to be fought with him. When he was destroyed naturally the Israelites took over his land. Also, when they had to fight with Og, king of Bashan, they took over his land. The original promised land was from the Euphrates to the river of Egypt. In the Millennium the land will be divided into 13 sections from Hamath on the north to the river and the great sea (Ezek. 48). This means that all the Arabian peninsula to the Red Sea will be the land of Israel. In fact, Israel will be the head of the nations and no doubt will take as much land as needed even beyond the original promised land, for normal expansion and world-wide activity for the kingdom of the Messiah who will reign from sea to sea and to the end of the earth (Isa. 9:6-7, Dan. 7:13-14; Zech. 14:9; Rev. 11:15; 22:4-5)

a 9 cities of Sihon and Og:
1 Ataroth (v 3, 34)
2 Dibon (v 3, 34; 21:30; 33:45; Josh. 13:9, 17; Isa. 15:2-9; Jer. 48:18, 22)
3 Jazer (v 1,3,35; 21:32; Josh. 13:25). It became one of the cities of refuge east of Jordan (Josh. 21:39). See Num. 32:1-3; 2 Sam. 24:5; 1 Chr. 6:81; 26:31; Isa. 16:8-9; Jer. 48:32
4 Nimrah (mentioned only here, v 3), but called Beth-nimrah in v 36 and Nimrim in Isa. 15:6; Jer. 48:34
5 Heshbon, capital of Sihon, king of the Amorites (v 3, 37; 21:25-35; Dt. 1:4). Rebuilt by Reuben (v 37) and allotted to Gad (Josh. 21:38-39)
6 Elealeh, a city taken by Sihon from the Moabites (21:27-30), and then taken by Israel (32:3, 27; Isa. 15:4; 16:9)
7 Shebam (v 3). Perhaps the same as Shibmah (v 38) and Sibmah (Josh. 13:19; Isa. 16:8-9; Jer. 48:32)
8 Nebo (v 3, 38; 1 Chr. 5:8)
9 Beon (v 3). Called Baal-meon (v 38). See list of other cities in this inheritance (note c, v 34; note a, Josh. 13:15)

b Questions 58-59. The last questions in Numbers. Moses evidently thought the Reubenites and Gadites wanted to settle at once, and not help the other tribes conquer Canaan. He perhaps feared another rebellion like the one at Kadesh-barnea some 38 years before (v 8-15), but the tribesmen of Reuben and Gad assured him that they fully intended helping the others conquer Canaan; and so, they were granted their request (v 16-42)

c See notes on Num. 13-14

d The old generation of the exodus was now extinct except for Moses, Joshua, and Caleb (v 11-15; 14:23-35; 26:64-65)

e The new generation was now in the prime of life, none being older than 58 to 60 years of age except the above mentioned three f Following God wholly is what saved Joshua and Caleb, and caused them to be permitted to live and enter Canaan where they enjoyed life for a number of years (v 12)

g This proves that the 2nd generation would not have entered Canaan if they had rebelled (v 15)

b The proposition to Moses was that they would build sheepfolds and pens for the stock, and cities for their wives and children, after which they would go armed to help the other tribes conquer Canaan (v 16-19). This was acceptable with Moses (v 20-24)

7 commands - 8th day of the feast of the tabernacles (29:35)

1 On the 8th day of the feast (Oct. 22), you shall have a solemn assembly (v 35)
2 You shall do no servile work
3 You shall offer 1 bullock, 1 ram, and 7 lambs of the first year without blemish, as a burnt offering (v 36)
4 Their meat and drink offerings shall be according to their number and after the usual manner (v 37; notes a, c, b, 28:20, 24, 28)
5 Offer 1 goat for a sin offering with his meat and drink offerings (v 38; 15:3-11; Ex. 29:40)
6 Offer these (1 bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs, 1 goat) besides the daily offerings with their meat and drink offerings (v 38)
7 You shall do these things in your set feasts, besides the offerings with your vows, freewill offerings, burnt offerings, your meat and drink offerings and peace offerings (v 39)

Total estimated cost of 8-day feast:

The cost of sacrifices on the 8th day of the feast would be the same as the special sacrifices made on the great day of atonement (note a, above) and those made for the feast of trumpets (note j, v 2) - an estimated total cost of $561.20

1st day: 13 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, flour, oil, wine $4,784.70
2nd day: 12 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, etc. 4,449.50
3rd day: 11 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, etc. 4,114.30
4th day: 10 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, etc. 3,779.10
5th day: 9 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, etc. 3,443.90

the place was a place for cattle;
2 The children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben came and spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, and to Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and unto the princes of the congregation, saying,
3 [a]Āt'a-rōth, and Dī'bŏn, and Jā'zĕr, and Nim'rah, and Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ĕ'le-ā'leh, and Shĕ'bam, and Nĕ'bō, and Bĕ'ŏn,
4 Even the country which the LORD smote before the congregation of Iṣ'ra-el, is a land for cattle, and thy servants have cattle:
5 Wherefore, said they, if we have found grace in thy sight, let this land be given unto thy servants for a possession, and bring us not over Jôr'dan.

(2) Objections of Moses to settling east of Jordan

6 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto the children of Gād and to the children of Reu'ben, [b]Shall your brethren go to war, and shall ye sit here?
7 And wherefore discourage ye the heart of the children of Iṣ'ra-el from going over into the land which the LORD hath given them?
8 Thus did your fathers, when I sent them from Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā to see the land.
9 For when they went up unto the valley of Ĕsh'cōl, and saw the land, [c]they discouraged the heart of the children of Iṣ'ra-el, that they should not go into the land which the LORD had given them.
10 And the LORD's anger was kindled the same time, and he sware, saying,
11 Surely [d]none of the men that came up out of Ē'gўpt, from [e]twenty years old and upward, shall see the land which I sware unto Ā'brā-hăm, unto I'saac, and unto Jā'cob; because they have not wholly followed me:
12 Save Cā'leb the son of Jĕphŭn'neh the Kĕn'ez-ite, and Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nūn: for they have [f]wholly followed the LORD.
13 And the LORD's anger was kindled against Iṣ'ra-el, and he made them wander in the wilderness forty years, until all the generation, that had done evil in the sight of the LORD, was consumed.
14 And, behold, ye are risen up in your fathers' stead, an increase of sinful men, to augment yet the fierce anger of the LORD toward Iṣ'ra-el.
15 For [g]if ye turn away from after him, he will yet again leave them in the wilderness; and ye shall destroy all this people.

(3) Objections of Moses overcome: promise of Reuben and Gad

16 ¶ And they came near unto him, and said, [h]We will build sheepfolds here for our cattle, and cities for our little ones:
17 But we ourselves will go ready armed before the children of Iṣ'ra-el, until we have brought them unto their place: and our little ones shall dwell in the [i]fenced cities because of the inhabitants of the land.
18 We will not return unto our houses, until the children of Iṣ'ra-el have inherited every man his inheritance.
19 For we will not inherit with them on yonder side Jôr'dan, or forward; because our inheritance is fallen to us on this side Jôr'dan eastward.

(4) Conditions of grant to Reuben and Gad (Dt. 3:18-20)

20 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, [j]If ye will do this thing, if ye will go armed before the LORD to war, 21 And will go all of you armed over Jôr'dan before the LORD, until he hath driven out his enemies from before him, 22 And the land be subdued before the LORD: then afterward ye shall return, and be guiltless before the LORD, and before Iṣ'ra-el; and this land shall be your possession before the LORD.
23 But if ye will not do so, behold, ye have sinned against the LORD: and be sure your sin will find you out.
24 Build you cities for your little ones, and folds for your sheep; and do that which hath proceeded out of your mouth.

(5) Promise of Reuben and Gad

25 And the children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben spake unto Mō'ṣeṣ, saying, Thy servants will do as my lord commandeth.
26 Our little ones, our wives, our flocks, and all our cattle, shall be there in the cities of Gĭl'e-ăd:
27 But thy servants will pass over, every man armed for war, before the LORD to battle, as my lord saith.

(6) Conditions of grant to Reuben and Gad restated (Dt. 3:18)

28 So concerning them Mō'ṣeṣ commanded Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nūn, and the chief fathers of the tribes of the children of Iṣ'ra-el:
29 And Mō'ṣeṣ said unto them, [k]If the children of Gād and the children of Reu'ben will pass with you over Jôr'dan, every man armed to battle, before the LORD, and the land shall be subdued before you; then ye shall give them the land of Gĭl'e-ăd for a possession:
30 But if they will not pass over with you armed, they shall have possessions among you in the land of Cā'năan.

(7) Reuben and Gad assure Moses of acceptance of his terms

31 And the children of Gād

a Fortified cities were needed to protect the families from the warlike people surrounding them, who might attack while many of the men were off to war in Canaan (v 17)

b Moses approved of the plan of the Reubenites and Gadites to inherit the land east of Jordan, upon the condition that they would go armed with their brethren and stay with them until they had conquered their enemies and become settled in the land (v 20-24). According to Josh. 4:12-13 only 40,000 of the Reubenites, Gadites, and 1/2 of the tribe of Manasseh who eventually occupied the land east of the Jordan (v 33; 34:13-15; Dt. 3:13; 29:8; Josh. 1:12) went to war. According to the 2nd numbering of the list in note c, 1:20, the soldiers of these groups (2 1/2 tribes) made a total of 110,580. With 40,000 gone to war this left 70,580 to guard the families and flocks against neighboring tribes while Canaan was being subdued

c The Reubenites and Gadites promised to keep their agreement to help the rest of Israel conquer Canaan (v 25-27)

d The terms of granting the east of Jordan to the Reubenites and Gadites were given to Eleazar the high priest. If they kept their word, the land they desired would be theirs, but if they did not, then they were to have inheritance in Canaan with the other tribes (v 29-30). This further points to the fact that the original intention of Moses was to occupy all of Canaan first

7th day: 7 bullocks, 2 rams, 14 lambs, 1 kid, etc. 2,773.50
8th day: 1 bullock, 1 ram, 7 lambs, 1 goat, etc. 561.20
Total $27,014.90

Throughout the 8-day feast of tabernacles 71 bulls, 15 rams, 105 lambs, and 8 kids or goats were offered with the required meat and drink offerings. See notes c-g, 29:12-20; a-d, above

Animals offered yearly at public expense: Lambs as follows:

Daily sacrifices: 2 daily (365 days) 730
Weekly sabbaths: 2 additional on each of 52 sabbaths 104
Monthly feasts: 7 at beginning of each of 12 months 84
Feast of unleavened bread: 7 on each of 7 days 49
Feast of firstfruits: wheat harvest at Pentecost, 16; and 1 at barley harvest (Lev. 23:12) 17
Feast of trumpets 7
Day of atonement 7
Feast of tabernacles: 14 on each of first 7 days, 98; and 7 on 8th day 105
Total number of lambs 1,103

Besides the above at public expense, there were thousands of lambs killed each year by individual families at the passover. Josephus speaks of 256,500 being offered at the passover-time in his day. This number added to the 1,103 above would make an estimated 257,603 lambs being sacrificed annually. These at $20.00 each would make the daily sacrifices and feast-day lamb-sacrifices alone cost the Israelites $5,152,060.00 (according to our money) in a year's time

Other animals sacrificed:

For the monthly feasts and the feasts of unleavened bread, firstfruits, trumpets, tabernacles and day of atonement there were 115 bullocks, 41 rams, and 33 kids or goats offered

Estimated cost of animals only - 1 year:

1,103 lambs @ $20.00 each $22,060.00
115 bullocks @ $325.00 each 37,375.00
41 rams @ $20.00 each 820.00
33 kids or goats @ $20.00 .... 660.00
Total (except passover) .. $60,915.00
256,500 lambs (estimated for the passover) @ $20.00 each $5,130,000.00
Grand total $5,190,915.00

Besides the offerings for Israel's feasts and daily sacrifices there were many other offerings being made continually - the red-heifer sacrifices for the water of separation, sacrifices for the sin of ignorance, thank and peace offerings, individual sin offerings, pigeon,

b Instead of the whole section east of Jordan being given to the Reubenites and Gadites, a portion was given by Moses to 1/2 the tribe of Manasseh as an inheritance (v 33). No explanation is given here for this tribe being divided to receive its inheritance, but it can be relied upon that God planned it Himself, for all the inheritances were given by lot with the Urim and Thummim (26:55-56; 33:54; 34:13; 36:2-3; Josh.13:1-21:40). A reading of v 39-42 suggests that one of the reasons may have been their further conquests c 9 fortified cities built by Gad:

1 Dibon (note a, v 3)
2 Ataroth (note a, v 3)
3 Aroer (Dt. 2:36; 3:12; 4:48; Judg. 11:26). Cp. 1 Ki. 10:33
4 Atroth (only here, v 35)
5 Shophan (only here, v 35)
6 Jaazer (v 35; 21:32). Called Jazer (v1,3; Josh.13:25; 21:39). See note a, v 3
7 Jogbehah (v 35; Judg. 8:11)
8 Beth-nimrah (v 36; Josh. 13:27). Called Nimrah (v 3). See note a, v 3 9 Beth-haran (v 36). Probably identical to Beth-aram (Josh. 13:27)

d 6 fortified cities built by Reuben:
1 Heshbon (note a, 5, v 3)
2 Elealeh (note a, 6, v 3)
3 Kirjathaim (v 37). Called Kirjathaim (Josh. 13:19). See Jer. 48:1, 23; Ezek. 25:9
4 Nebo (note a, 8, v 3)
5 Baal-meon (note a, 2, 9, v 3)
6 Shibmah (note a, 7, v 3)
It must be kept in mind that the above cities being built by Reubenites and Gadites, refers mainly to rebuilding or restoring them in some measure, for they were already built and conquered by Israel. It was not commanded that all the cities of the conquered lands be completely destroyed. God's promise to Israel was that He would give them some cities which they did not build (Dt. 3:19; 6:10; 19:1). See other cities, note a, v 3; notes, Josh. 13-21

e This perhaps refers to further conquests besides those of Sihon and Og, and for this reason this part was no doubt given to Manasseh (v 39-42)

f Havoth-jair means encampments or camps of Jair. Originally, they were 23 cities (1 Chr. 2:22); then 30 (Judg.10:4); and finally 60 (1 Chr. 2:23)

g This was an important site near the southern extremity and on the western slopes of the mountains of Hauran

In the 3 lists of the marches here we have the whole of the journeyings from Ramases in Egypt after the night of the passover to Sinai (note g, v 5), and from Sinai to Kadesh-barnea where the spies were sent into Canaan to see if God's word was true or not (note j, v16), and finally from Kadesh at the beginning of the 40 years of wandering, back to Kadesh at the end of 38 of the 40 years (note k, v 19). It took about 2 more years around Edom and Moab to consolidate their conquests and conquer Sihon and Og, east of Jordan. By this time the 40 years of wilderness wanderings were finished and the Israelites were now actually ready to enter the land of Canaan where the 9 1/2 tribes were to settle. Thus, for 40 years the nations wasted time and effort to get into a land which they could have possessed in one day's march had they not rebelled at Kadesh-barnea after the spies returned from searching the land (Num. 13-14) and the children of Reu'ben answered, saying, [a]As the LORD hath said unto thy servants, so will we do.

32 We will pass over armed before the LORD into the land of Ca'naan, that the possession of our inheritance on this side Jor'dan may be ours.

(8) Moses' promise fulfilled

33 And Mo'ses gave unto them, even to the children of Gad, and to the children of Reu'ben, and [b]unto half the tribe of Ma-nas'seh the son of Jo'seph, the kingdom of Si'hon king of the Am'or-ites, and the kingdom of Og king of Ba'shan, the land, with the cities thereof in the coasts, even the cities of the country round about.

(9) Possession of Gad (Dt. 3:12; Num. 34:13-17; Josh. 13:24)

34 ¶ And the [c]children of Gad built Di'bon, and Ata'roth, and Ar'o-er, 35 And Ath'roth, Sho'phan, and Ja-a'zer, and Jog'be-hah, 36 And Beth-nim'rah, and Beth-ha'ran, fenced cities: and folds for sheep.

(10) Possession of Reuben (Dt. 3:12-17; Num. 34:13-15; Josh. 13:15)

37 And the [d]children of Reu'ben built Hesh'bon, and E-le-a'leh, and Kir-jath-a'im, 38 And Ne'bo, and Ba'al-me'on, (their names being changed,) and Shib'mah: and gave other names unto the cities which they builded.

(11) Possession of Manasseh (Dt. 3:12-17; Num. 34:17-15; Josh. 13:28)

39 And the children of Ma'chir the son of Ma-nas'seh went to Gil'e-ad, and [e]took it, and dispossessed the Am'or-ite which was in it.

40 And Moses gave Gil'e-ad unto Ma'chir the son of Ma-nas'seh; and he dwelt therein.

41 And Ja'ir the son of Ma-nas'seh went and took the small towns thereof, and called them [f]Ha'voth-ja'ir.

42 And No'bah went and [g]took Ke'nath, and the villages thereof, and called it No'bah, after his own name.

150 CHAPTER 33

19 Summary of journeys (Dt. 9:7). (1) Rameses to Sinai: 12 stations (Ex. 12:37-19:25)

THESE are the journeys of the children of Is'ra-el, which went forth out of the land of E'gypt with their armies under the hand of Mo'ses and Aar'on.

2 And Mo'ses wrote their goings out [h]according to their journeys by the commandment of the LORD: and these are their journeys according to their goings out.

3 And they [a]departed [b]from Ra-me'ses in the [c]first month, on the fifteenth day of the first month; on the morrow after the passover the children of Is'ra-el went out[d] with a high hand in the sight of all the E-gyp'tians.

4 For the E-gyp'tians buried all their firstborn, which the LORD had smitten among them: upon [e]their gods also the LORD executed judgments.

5 And the [f]children of Is'ra-el removed [g]from Ra-me'ses, and pitched in Suc'coth.

6 And they departed from Suc'coth, and pitched in E'tham, which is in the edge of the wilderness.

7 And they removed from E'tham, and turned again unto Pi'-ha-hi'roth, which is before Ba'al-ze'phon: and they pitched before Mig'dol.

8 And they departed from before Pi'-ha-hi'roth, and passed through the midst of the sea into the wilderness, and [h]went three days' journey in the wilderness of E'tham, and pitched in Ma'rah.

9 And they removed from Ma'rah, and came unto E'lim: and in E'lim were twelve fountains of water, and threescore and ten palm trees; and they pitched there.

10 And they removed from E'lim, and encamped [i]by the Red sea.

11 And they removed from the Red sea, and encamped in the wilderness of Sin.

12 And they took their journey out of the wilderness of Sin, and encamped in Do'ph'kah.

13 And they departed from Do'ph'kah, and encamped in A'lush.

14 And they removed from A'lush, and encamped at Re'ph'i-dim, where was no water for the people to drink.

15 And they departed from Re'ph'i-dim, and pitched in the wilderness of Si'nai.

(2) Sinai to Rithmah (Kadesh): 3 stations (Num. 10:11-12:16; Dt. 1:6)

16 And they [j]removed from the desert of Si'nai, and pitched at Kib'roth-hat-ta'a-vah.

17 And they departed from Kib'roth-hat-ta'a-vah, and encamped at Ha-ze'roth.

18 And they departed from Ha'ze'roth, and pitched in Rith'mah.

(3) Rithmah (Kadesh) to Kadesh: 18 stations (Num. 15:1-20:21; Dt. 2:1-16)

19 And they [k]departed from Rith'mah, and pitched at Rim'mon-pa'rez.

20 And they departed from Rim'mon-pa'rez, and pitched in Lib'nah.

21 And they removed from Lib'nah, and pitched at Ris'sah.

22 And they journeyed from Ris'sah, and pitched in Ke-he'l'a-thah.

23 And they went from Kea The departure of Israel from Egypt was in the 1st month, the 15th day of Nisan or Abib (Ex. 13:4), the day after the passover and on the sabbath day (v 3; Ex. 12:37-42; Lev. 23:5-8)

b It is supposed that Rameses was the same as modern Cairo, Egypt

c This was the beginning of months for Israel's new calendar, corresponding with the latter part of our March and the first part of April (Ex. 12:2), previously, the old Jewish year began in September. It was called the civil year, while this was called the ecclesiastical year

d This means they went out with the high hand of Jehovah protecting them (v 3; Ex. 14:8)

e See p. 110 for a list of judgments upon the gods of Egypt

f There are variations in the lists of places where Israel camped, as mentioned in the books of Exodus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy; but there are no contradictions. With a vast nation of about 6,000,000 people (note b, Ex. 12:37) very few stations would be large enough for all to encamp. The stations of Exodus refer to the halting places of Moses, the chief men and as many of the people as were associated with them, while the list in this chapter embraces, over and above these, the intermediate and adjoining stations of the whole encampments. Here we have mainly those places where prolonged encampments were made, from which the people dispersed their flocks and herds to pasture in the surrounding lands. What we have in this list are the marches from one place to another on going out of Egypt, and not necessarily every station of breaking-up of camp and then a march. We have Israel's places of departure, according to their marches to more permanent places, not every temporary station of encampment

g Rameses to Sinai - 11 marches:
1 Rameses to Succoth (v 5; Ex. 12:12-2 Succoth to Etham (v 6; Ex. 13:20) 37)
3 Etham to Pi-hahiroth (v 7; Ex. 14:2)
4 Pi-hahiroth through the Red Sea, 3-days journey to Marah (v 8; Ex. 15:22)
5 Marah to Elim (v 9; Ex. 15:23-27)
6 Elim to the Red Sea (v 10)
7 Red Sea to Wilderness of Sin (v 11)
8 Wilderness of Sin to Dophkah (v 12)
9 Dophkah to Alush (v 13)
10 Alush to Rephidim (v 14; Ex. 17:1)
11 Rephidim to desert of Sinai (v 15; Ex. 19:1-2)
The list of stations here agrees with the one in Ex. 12:37-19:1, except we have an encampment by the Red Sea (v 10), and two others mentioned, Dophkah and Alush (v 12-14)

h There were 3-days of marching with no stations mentioned i This station by the Red Sea is omitted in the historical itinerary of Ex. 15:23-17:1. The distance to Elim was only about 11/2 miles, so that it could be easily left unmentioned in the principal account, especially since the nation was so large that some of the camp was on the Red Sea itself. The road from Wady Ghurundel led to the interior, the other side of a continuous ridge which hid the Red Sea from view. At the mouth of the Wady-et-tayibeh, the distance of about 3-days journey, it opens again on the plain along the margin of the Red Sea. Thus, the description in Exodus fits perfectly with this list and confirms the statements of Scripture in corresponding so exactly with the geographical features of this region

j Desert of Sinai to Kadesh - 3 marches:
1 Desert of Sinai to Kibroth-hattaavah (3-days journey, v 16; 10:11-11:35)
2 Kibroth-hattaavah to Hazeroth (v 17; 10:34-35)
3 Hazeroth to Rithmah (Kadesh, v 18; 13:1-14:45). From Dt. 1:46; 2:1, it appears that Israel stayed at Kadesh many days this first time, after the sentence of Num. 14:23-35

k Kadesh to Kadesh - 18 marches:
1 Rithmah (Kadesh) to Rimmon-parez (beginning 38 years of wanderings, from Kadesh and back to Kadesh, v 19)
2 Rimmon-parez to Libnah (v 20)
3 Libnah to Rissah (v 21)

a Moseroth, Benejaakan, Hor-hagidgad, and Jotbathah are mentioned in Dt. 10:6-7. Moses says that Aaron died at Mosera or Moserath, which must be identified with mount Hor (20:23-29). Here Hor-hagidgad is called Gudgodah, and Jotbathah is called Jotbath, a land of rivers or water-brooks. Dt. 10:6-7 refers to the 40th year when Israel went from Kadesh to mount Hor (20:1-29). The other 17 places of v 19-36 are not identified except Ezion-gaber on the Red Sea (v 35-36; Dt. 2:8; I Ki. 9:26; 22:49). These few stations prove that Israel was not constantly on the move during the 40 years of wandering. They no doubt stayed years at certain places, camping at all of the 17 places during the 40-year period b 38 years had gone by in the marches and encampments between the first arrival at Kadesh (v 19; 13:1-14:45) and the second (v 36). Miriam died here (20:1-14)

c Kadesh to Moab - 10 marches:
1 Kadesh to mount Hor (v 37)
2 Mount Hor to Zalmonah (v 41)
3 Zalmonah to Punon (v 42)
4 Punon to Oboth (v 43)
5 Oboth to Ije-abarim (v 44) 45)
6 Ije-abarim or Iim to Dibon-gad (v 7 Dibon-gad to Almon-diblathaim (v 46)
8 Almon-diblathaim to mountains of Abarim before Nebo (v 47)
9 Mountains of Abarim to Beth-jeshimoth (v 48) 49) 10 Beth-jeshimoth to Abel-shittim (v

d See 20:23-29

e This was the 40th year after leaving Egypt, and in the 38th or 39th year after leaving Sinai. Israel left Sinai about 1 year and 1 month after leaving Egypt (10:11-12). Aaron died 39 years and 4 1/2 months after leaving Egypt (v 3, 38). He was 123 years old (v 39)

turtle-dove and other offerings at births, for cleansing of leprosy and other uncleanness, the making of vows, etc., which would bring the cost of animals, flour, oil, and wine offered by the entire nation during a year, to staggering proportions

Cost daily sacrifices and feasts 1 year:

2 Weekly sabbaths: additional lambs, etc., for 52 sabbaths (note f, 28:9)	2,589.60

4 Feast of unleavened bread, 7 days (note b, 28:20)	6,274.80
5 Feast of firstfruits: at barley harvest, $24.00 (note d, Lev. 23:12); at wheat harvest and Pentecost, $1,535.00 (notes f, g, 28:26, 27)	1,559.00

7 Day of atonement (note a, 29:7)	999.80
8 Feast of tabernacles	27,014.90
Total public expense	$67,933.10

The above estimated costs include meat and drink offerings for the animal sacrifices. The list does not include the suggested $5,130,000.00 for lambs and whatever their meat and drink offerings would amount to at passover

(2) The borders of Canaan: A South border

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'sĕs, saying,

●2 [a]Command the children of Is'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye come into the land of Că'năan; (this is the land that shall fall unto you for an inheritance, even the land of Că'năan with the coasts thereof:)

●5 And the border shall fetch a compass from Ăz'mŏn unto the river of E'gypt, and the goings out of it shall be at the sea.

a The list of the marches written at the very end of the 40 years of wanderings (v 1-49), and the following instructions of 33:50-36:13 were the final ones before the entrance into Canaan

b 4 commands - laws of conquest:
1 When you come into Canaan you shall drive out all the inhabitants of the land from before you, destroy all their pictures, molten images, and pluck down all their high places (v 51-52). The pictures here refer to carved and embroidery work having designs of idols. The molten images were metallic idols supposed to have supernatural powers and virtues
2 You shall dispossess the inhabitants of the land and dwell therein, for I have given you the land to possess it (v 53)
3 You shall divide the land by lot for an inheritance among your families; according to the size of the family they shall inherit (v 54)
4 Every man's inheritance shall be in the place where his lot falls, according to the tribes he shall inherit it c 18th and last prophecy in Num. (33:55-56, fulfilled). Not only did the nations whom Israel failed to drive out, become a constant source of trouble, but the nation of Israel, itself was eventually driven out - and that for the same reason these former peoples were rejected by God. The sins of idolatry, adultery, rebellion, and total moral depravity caused Israel also to be judged (2 Ki. 17, 24, 25). After the rejection of Messiah, Israel was completely destroyed as a nation and the people have remained in dispersion over 1,900 years (Mt. 21:33-46; 23:34-39; Lk. 21:20-24)

e 4 commands - borders of Canaan:
1 When you come into the land of Canaan, your southern border shall be from the wilderness of Zin (or Sin) by the coast of Edom eastward to the Dead Sea and westward through Kadesh and on to the Sea (Mediterranean, about 80 miles; v 2-5)
2 Your western border shall be the Sea (about 300 miles; v 6)
3 Your northern border shall be from the Sea westward through mount Hor, Hamath, Zedad, Ziphron, and Hazar-enan (about 70 miles; v 7-9)
4 Your eastern border shall be from Hazar-enan on the north and southward to Shepham, Riblah, east of Ain, the east side of the sea of Chinnereth (Galilee), and down the Jordan to the Dead Sea (about 280 miles; v 10-12) only, for 7 days (v 17; Ex. 12:8, 15-20; Lev. 23:6-8) 3 The 1st day shall be an holy convocation; no servile work shall be done thereon (v 18; Lev. 23:7)

4 On the 1st day you shall offer 2 young bullocks, 1 ram, and 7 lambs of the first year without blemish for a burnt offering (v 19)
5 Their meat offering shall be 3 tenth deals (1 1/2 gal.) flour mingled with oil (1/2 hin or 3 qts.) for each bullock; 2 tenth deals (1 gal.) flour (with 1/3 hin or 2 qts. oil) for a ram; and 1 tenth deal (1/2 gal.) flour (with 1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts. oil) for each lamb (v 20-21; 15:2-12). The drink offerings were to be in amounts equal to the oil for each animal
6 Offer 1 kid of the goats (with 1 tenth deal or 1/2 gal. flour and 1/4 hin or 1 1/2 qts. oil) for a sin offering (v 22; 28:5, 7, 9, 14-15; 15:4-5)
7 You shall offer these sacrifices besides the daily burnt offering in the morning with its meat and drink offerings (v 5-8, 24)
8 You shall offer all these sacrifices (2 bullocks, 1 ram, 7 lambs, 1 kid of the goats) with their meat and drink offerings each day of the 7 days, besides the regular daily sacrifices (v 24)
9 On the 7th day you shall have an holy convocation, with no servile work being done thereon (v 25)

The feast of unleavened bread was held for 7 days following the passover feast. Its total cost at public expense was $6,274.80. The feast of tabernacles cost more than 4 times this much for 8 days due to the fact of so many bulls being offered each day. All the feasts were costly as seen in col. 1

e A place in north Palestine (v 9)
f An unknown place marking the N. E. boundary of the land of Canaan (v 9-10; Ezek. 47:17; 48:1)
g An unknown place on the east border of Canaan (v 10-11)
h A city in Hamath where God executed judgment on Judah and others (v 10-11; 2 Kl. 23:23; 25:6, 20, 21; Jer. 39:5-6; 52:9, 26) i A city of Simeon (v 11; Josh. 19:7; 15: 32; 21:16; 1 Chr. 4:32). Called Ashan (1 Chr. 6:59)
j In the N. T. called the sea of Galilee and sea of Tiberias (Jn. 6:1), and the lake of Gennesaret (Lk. 5:1) k The Dead Sea, called the salt sea in Scripture a number of times (v 3, 12; Gen. 14:3; Dt. 3:17; Josh. 3:16; 12:3; 15:2, 5, 12; 18:19). Also called the former sea (Zech. 14:8)
l The borders of the land of Canaan (in v 1-12) were for the purpose of having definite bounds so as to divide the land into 9 1/2 parts for the tribes that did not inherit any land east of the Jordan (v 13-15). This was not all the promised land, for the entire extent of it was from the Mediterranean on the west to the Euphrates on the east, and from Hamath on the north to the Indian Ocean on the south, including all the Arabian peninsula (Ezek. 48) m 12 men who were to divide the land:
1 Eleazar the priest (v 17)
2 Joshua the commander-in-chief
3 Caleb of Judah (v 19)
4 Shemuel of Simeon (v 20)
5 Elidad of Benjamin (v 21)
6 Bukki of Dan (v 22)
7 Hanniel of Manasseh (v 23)
8 Kemuel of Ephraim (v 24)
9 Elizaphan of Zebulun (v 25)
10 Paltiel of Issachar (v 26)
11 Ahihud of Asher (v 27)
12 Pedahel of Naphtali (v 28)
Representatives were not included in this committee from Reuben, Gad, and the half of Manasseh who had already inherited their portions east of the Jordan. Eleazar, Joshua, and Caleb are the only ones in the list who are well-known to us. The order in which the tribes are named is peculiar to this passage Generally speaking, the tribes as listed here, received their inheritance from south to north. See Josh. 15:1-19:32. The tribes of Judah and Simeon, sons of Leah, dwelled by each other. Those of Benjamin, the son of Rachel, and Dan, the son of Rachel's maid, were by each other. Tribes of Manasseh and Ephraim, sons of Joseph, were side by side. Those of Zebulun and Issachar, sons of Leah, were together. Tribes of Asher, the son of Leah's maid, and Naphtali, the son of Rachel's maid, were together. Those of Reuben, the son of Leah, and Gad, the son of Leah's maid, were together on the east of Jordan. Thus, in divine wisdom God divided the land to the tribes

Arrows of God (Dt. 32:23)

Judgments of God are sometimes called arrows (v 23, 42; Job 6:4; Ps. 7: 13; 18:14; 38:2; 45:5; 77:7; 120:4; 127: 4; 144:6; Ezek. 5:16; Jer. 1:14). Some are named in v 24-25

8 arrows of God:
1 Burning with hunger - loss of crops, and famine
2 Burning heat - no rain from heaven, and burning fevers, boils, blains, and other kinds of pestilence
3 Bitter destruction - consuming plagues of various kinds (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

24 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ē'phrā-ĭm, Kĕ-mū'el the son of Shĭph'tan.
25 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Zĕb'u-lŭn, Ĕ-lĭz'a-phăn the son of Păr'năch.
26 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ĭs'sa-char, Păl'tĭ-el the son of Ăz'zan.
27 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Ăsh'ĕr, Ă-hĭ'hud the son of Shĕl'o-mī.
28 And the prince of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lĭ, Pĕd'a-hĕl the son of Ăm-mī'hŭd.
29 These are they whom the LORD commanded to divide the inheritance unto the children of Iş'ra-el in the land of Că'năan.

152 CHAPTER 35

(6) Cities of the Levites

AND the LORD spake unto Mō'şes in the plains of Mō'ab by Jôr'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō, saying,
●2 Command the children of Iş'ra-el, that they give unto the Lē'vites of the inheritance of their possession cities to dwell in; and ye shall give also unto the Lē'vites suburbs for the cities round about them.
●3 And the cities shall they have to dwell in; and the suburbs of them shall be for their cattle, and for their goods, and for all their beasts.
●4 And the suburbs of the cities, which ye shall give unto the Lē'vites, shall reach from the wall of the city and outward a thousand cubits round about.
●5 And ye shall measure from without the city on the east side two thousand cubits, and on the south side two thousand cubits, and on the west side two thousand cubits, and on the north side two thousand cubits: and the city shall be in the midst: this shall be to them the suburbs of the cities.
●6 And among the cities which ye shall give unto the Lē'vites there shall be six cities for refuge, which ye shall appoint for the manslayer, that he may flee thither: and to them ye shall add forty and two cities.
●7 So all the cities which ye shall give to the Lē'vites shall be forty and eight cities: them shall ye give with their suburbs.
●8 And the cities which ye shall give shall be of the possession of the children of Iş'ra-el: from them that have many ye shall give many; but from them that have few ye shall give few: every one shall give of his cities unto the Lē'vites according to his inheritance which he inheriteth.

●9 ¶ And the LORD spake unto

▲ 7 commands - cities for Levites:
1 Command Israel that they give the Levites cities to dwell in, with suburbs surrounding each city (v 2-3)
2 The suburbs of the cities shall be 1,000 cubits (2,083 ft. and 4 in. counting 25 in. to the cubit) from the city all the way around it, for the first suburb (v 4)
3 From this first measure of 1,000 cubits, measure another 2,000 cubits (4,166 ft. and 8 in.) for fields and vineyards for the Levites, as the second suburb (making altogether 6,250 ft. for the two suburbs: v 4-5)
4 Among the cities for the Levites there shall be 6 cities for refuge, which shall be for the manslayer - one who slays accidently (v 6)
5 Add to these 42 more cities for the Levites
6 All the cities of the Levites shall be 48 in number, with their suburbs (v 7) 7 The cities of the Levites shall be taken from the various tribes. The tribes having many cities shall give many, and the ones having few shall give few (v 8). See Josh. 20-21 for a list of the cities of the Levites and the cities of refuge a 4 commands - cities of refuge:

1 Speak to Israel saying that when you come into Canaan, you shall appoint cities of refuge for the person who kills anyone accidently (v 10-11).
2 They shall be cities for refuge from the avenger, that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment (v 12)
3 You shall have 6 cities of refuge; 3 on each side of Jordan (v 13-14)

5 If a man kills another through hatred by lying in wait for him, or through enmity smites him by any means so that he dies, the man shall surely be put to death, for he is a murderer. The revenger of blood shall slay him when he meets him (v 21)

c 6 commands - involuntary murder:
1 If a man kills another accidently, without hatred or malice, and without lying in wait for him, regardless of how the accident occurs, then the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood in justice (v 22-24)
2 The congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the band of the revenger of blood, and restore him to the city of his refuge where he has fled (v 25)
3 The man shall stay in the city of refuge until the death of the high priest (v 25)
4 But if the revenger at any time shall find the slayer outside the city of refuge and its suburbs, he may kill the slayer and be free from the guilt of murder, because the slayer should have remained in the city of refuge until the death of the high priest (v 26-28)
5 After the death of the high priest the slayer shall return to his home and the land of his possession (v 28)
6 These things shall be a statute of judgment to you throughout your generations in all your dwellings (v 29)

Government in Israel (Dt. 1:17)

1 Patriarchal. This refers to the rule of Israel by the patriarchs, Abraham (Gen. 12-25); Isaac (Gen. 26-27); and Jacob (Gen. 28-50), it was a one-man government, the ruler being the successive head of the tribe

2 Tribal. This was the form of government when Israel began to multiply and Jacob was dead. The heads of their families or of separate tribes ruled (Ex. 6:14)

3 Representative. As the Israelites became more numerous the tribal headship idea began to change to a larger representation of authority. Several nobles, princes, or chief men of the main families of a tribe became the rulers, with one head elder for each tribe. Together, these were called the elders of Israel (Ex. 3:16, 18; 4:29; 12:21; 17:5-6; 18:12; 19:7)

4 Mosaic. Representative elders of the tribes continued with Moses being the chief ruler. It was more like a one-man rule again, the chief ruler being subject solely to God for his acts. The elders under Moses consisted of heads of the tribes (Dt. 5:23), nobles of Israel (Num. 24:1-11); judges and chief fathers of the families making the tribes (1:15; Num. 36:1). Of these 70 were chosen to be judges (1:16; Ex. 24:1-11; Num. 11:13-27). They were the ruling court of all Israel during the Mosaic form of government. Aaron served as chief deputy under Moses. Then came a new element of authority in Israel. The tribe of Levi was chosen to be the ministers. From these the high priest was chosen who had great power and authority in

Mō'ĝeş, saying,
●10 [a]Speak unto the children of Iş'ra-el, and say unto them, When ye be come over Jôr'dan into the land of Că'năan;
●11 Then ye shall appoint you cities to be cities of refuge for you; that the slayer may flee thither, which killeth any person at unawares.
●12 And they shall be unto you cities for refuge from the avenger; that the manslayer die not, until he stand before the congregation in judgment.
●13 And of these cities which ye shall give six cities shall ye have for refuge.
●14 Ye shall give three cities on this side Jôr'dan, and three cities shall ye give in the land of Că'năan, which shall be cities of refuge.
●15 These six cities shall be a refuge, both for the children of Iş'ra-el, and for the stranger, and for the sojourner among them: that every one that killeth any person unawares may flee thither.

(8) Law of wilful murder (Ex. 20:13, refs.)

●16 And [b]if he smite him with an instrument of iron, so that he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
●17 And if he smite him with throwing a stone, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
●18 Or if he smite him with an hand weapon of wood, wherewith he may die, and he die, he is a murderer: the murderer shall surely be put to death.
●19 The revenger of blood himself shall slay the murderer: when he meeteth him, he shall slay him.
●20 But if he thrust him of hatred, or hurl at him by laying of wait, that he die;
●21 Or in enmity smite him with his hand, that he die: he that smote him shall surely be put to death; for he is a murderer: the revenger of blood shall slay the murderer, when he meeteth him.

(9) Law of involuntary murder

●22 But [c]if he thrust him suddenly without enmity, or have cast upon him any thing without laying of wait, ●23 Or with any stone, wherewith a man may die, seeing him not, and cast it upon him, that he die, and was not his enemy, neither sought his harm:
●24 Then the congregation shall judge between the slayer and the revenger of blood according to these judgments:
●25 And the congregation shall deliver the slayer out of the hand of the revenger of blood, and the congregation shall restore him to the city of his refuge, whither he was fled: and he shall abide in it unto the death of the high priest, which was anointed with the holy oil.
●26 But if the slayer shall at any time come without the border of the city of his refuge, whither he was fled;
●27 And the revenger of blood find him without the borders of the city of his refuge, and the revenger of blood kill the slayer; he shall not be guilty of blood:
●28 Because he should have remained in the city of his refuge until the death of the high priest: but after the death of the high priest the slayer shall return into the land of his possession.
●29 So these things shall be for a statute of judgment unto you throughout your generations in all your dwellings.

(10) No mercy for murderers

●30 [d]Whoso killeth any person, the murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of witnesses: but one witness shall not testify against any person to cause him to die.
●31 Moreover ye shall take no satisfaction for the life of a murderer, which is guilty of death: but he shall be surely put to death.
●32 And ye shall take no satisfaction for him that is fled to the city of his refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land, until the death of the priest.
●33 So ye shall not pollute the land wherein ye are: for blood it defileth the land: and the land cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, but by the blood of him that shed it.
●34 Defile not therefore the land which ye shall inhabit, wherein I dwell: for I the LORD dwell among the children of Iş'ra-el.

153 CHAPTER 36

(11) Law of inheritances (Num. 27; Dt. 17:3-6): A Question about daughters inheritances

AND the chief fathers of the families of the children of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mă'chĭr, the son of Mă-năs'seh, of the families of the sons of Jō'şeph, came near, and spake before Mō'şeş, and before the princes, the chief fathers of the children of Iş'ra-el:
●2 And they said, [b]The LORD commanded my lord to give the land for an inheritance by lot to the children of Iş'ra-el: and my lord was commanded by the LORD to give the inheritance of Zĕ-lō'phe-hăd our brother unto his daughters.
3 And if they be married to any of the sons of the other tribes of the children of Iş'ra-el, then shall their inheritance be taken from the inheritance of our fathers, and shall be put to the inheritance of the tribe whereunto they are received: so shall it be taken from the lot of our inheritance.
4 And when the jubile of the children of Iş'ra-el shall be, then shall their inheritance be put unto the inheritance of the a 5 commands - justice to murderers:

1 Whoever is a murderer shall be put to death by the mouth of 2 or 3 witnesses, but not by 1 witness (v 30)
2 You shall take no ransom for the life of a murderer. He is guilty of death and shall surely be put to death (v 31)
3 You shall take no ransom for him that flees to any city of refuge, that he should come again to dwell in the land (v 32)
4 You shall not pollute the land wherein you live; shedding of blood defiles the land, and it cannot be cleansed of the blood that is shed therein, except by the blood of him that shed it (v 33)
5 Defile not the land that you go to inhabit, wherein I dwell among the children of Israel (v 34)

b The daughters of Zelophehad had obtained an ordinance (27:1-11, notes), which permitted the daughters of an Israelite who died without male issue to inherit their father's property. Here, these chiefs of the Macharites, or whom Zelophehad had been one, now obtained a new and supplementary law, directing heiresses to marry within their own tribe, so that inheritances would remain within the tribe (v 1-13)

the affairs of Israel, serving as a mediator between God and the people. Under Joshua the total power that belonged to Moses was divided between the civil and ecclesiastical heads

5 Judicial. The Mosaic form of government continued until Joshua and the elders that had seen the wonders of God had died. After that government became somewhat disorganized. Every man did that which was right in his own eyes (Josh. 24:31; Judg. 2:7-15; 17:6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25). During this time - for 450 years until Samuel the prophet - God raised up judges to deliver Israel from enemies and rule certain sections of Israel (Judg. 2:16-23; 3:1-4; Acts 13:20)

6 Monarchic. The judicial form of government continued until Samuel the prophet; and the Israel demanded a king like the other nations (1 Sam. 8-10). Kings ruled until the Babylonian captivity, 616 B.C. or, for about 513 years. After the captivity of 70 years, Israel had no king, but was ruled by the Sanhedrin or body of elders, headed by the high priest or some other individual chosen for the position. This continued until 70 A.D. when Israel, because of rejecting Christ, their Messiah, was destroyed and dispersed as a nation (Mt. 23:37-39; Lk. 21:20-24)

During all these periods of Israel's history, regardless of what form the government was, the elders were always prominent and dictated many things with success, such as demanding a king (1 Sam. 8:2-22), choosing kings (2 Sam. 3:17-21; 5:3), advising and assisting in government (2 Sam. 12:17; 1 Chr. 15:25; 21:16; 1 Ki. 8:1-3; 12:6-13; 20:7-8. See also Ezra 9:1; 10:8-14; Mt. 15:2-9; Mk. 7:1-13; 21:23; 26:2-68; 27:1-2; Acts 4:1-21; 6:9-15; 7:1-59; 9:1)

7 Municipal. Locally the municipal form of government or local senate, or council and executive officers prevailed (19:12; 21:2-21; 22:13-21; 25:7-9; Josh. 20:4; Judg. 8:14-16; 11:5-11; Ruth 4:2-11; 1 Sam. 11:3; Ezra 10:8, 14; Neh. 3:9-19)

8 Theocratic. The theocratic or God-rule form was always in the background in Israel. The Lord was very prominent in the lives of the patriarchs, in Israel's government in giving the laws, in directing and judging in every phase of life until the death of Joshua; and then, during the judges, He periodically intervened in their lives when the people turned to Him. The same was true during the time of the kings and after the captivities. When Israel would consult God and trust Him, He was their leader. He sent many prophets and apostles to rebuke them, hoping to salvage something of the nation in every century, until He finally had to abandon them to complete dispersion. It was God who called Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, Joseph, Moses, Joshua, the judges, and many of the kings. He took an active part in directing Israel's government and in punishing for failure to rule for Him a 3 commands concerning inheritances:

1 Let the daughters of Zelophehad marry whom they think best within their tribe so that the inheritance might remain in the same tribe perpetually (v 5-7)
2 Every daughter that possesses an inheritance in any tribe of Israel, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, so that the children of Israel may enjoy the inheritances of their fathers (v 8)
3 No inheritance shall remove from one tribe to another; but every one of the tribes of Israel shall keep to himself his own inheritance (v 9)

35 Bible facts about Balaam (22:5):
1 Balaam (the Greek form) means subverter, or devourer of the people. The Heb. name is Bil'am, meaning one not of the people; devourer, or foreigner (22:5)
2 Balaam was the son of Beor, a king of Edom (Gen. 36:31-32)
3 He settled in Pethor, beyond the river Euphrates in Mesopotamia (22:5; 23:7; Dt. 23:4)
4 Having a widespread reputation of being able to prophesy and pronounce a curse or blessing upon people, he was called by Balak, king of Moab, to curse Israel (22:5-6)
5 Elders or princes of 2 nations were sent to offer him rewards for cursing Israel (22:7; 2 Pet. 2:15)
6 He seems to have known God, for his first answer expressed a desire to enquire of Jehovah as to what His will would be regarding his going with the princes to curse Israel (22:8)
7 God spoke to him and revealed that His will was not to go and not to curse Israel, for they were blessed of Him (22:9-12)
8 He was faithful to report the truth to the princes - that God refused to let him go (22:13-14)
9 More honorable princes were sent to Balaam with promises of greater riches and much honor if he would only come (22:15-17)
10 He was faithful to reject such worldly honors, being consecrated enough to God at the time, not to disobey Him for riches. However, by agreeing to inquire again of Jehovah after knowing already the will of God, he revealed a secret desire for reward and going as far as he dared, instead of definitely ending all negotiations (22:18-19)
11 God, knowing Balaam would eventually yield and go anyway, answered him at night giving him permission with restrictions; he was to speak only as directed (22:20)
12 Balaam was to rise up and go (to bless and not to curse Israel) if the men came to call him (22:20)
13 He did not wait for this, but rose up, being anxious to go, God's anger was kindled because of this; and so, He opposed Balaam in the way (22:21-33)
14 Balaam finally saw the angel of the Lord, and acknowledged his sin, offering to go back; but God allowed him to proceed, warning him again to speak only what He would reveal to him (22:34-35)
15 Balaam was again faithful, making it clear that he was powerless to say anything which God should forbid him to speak (v 36-38)
16 He got his first glimpse of Israel from one of the high places of Baal (22:39-41)
17 Balaam sacrificed to Jehovah, not Baal, and he expected an answer from God alone (23:1-3)
18 God did meet him and he told Jehovah of his sacrifices to Him (23:4). These were of clean animals, indicating that Balaam understood the requirements of God
19 Jehovah put a word of prophecy in Balaam's mouth and he delivered it faithfully to Balak (23:5-10)
20 He was willing to incur the wrath of Balak to speak what God gave him (23:11-12)
21 Balaam again had sacrifices offered and went to meet Jehovah (23:13-15)
22 Jehovah met him again and put a word of prophecy in his mouth which he faithfully spoke to Balak (23:16-24)
23 He incurred the wrath of Balak by speaking the truth again (23:25-26)
24 Another time Balaam sacrificed to Jehovah and waited for the word of the Lord (23:27-24:1)
25 The Spirit of God came upon him and he prophesied of Israel (24:2-9)
26 He then incurred the wrath of Balak again and was ordered out of Moab (24:10-13)
27 Before leaving Moab, Balaam gave Balak one more prophecy regarding what Israel would do to Moab in the latter days (24:14-24)
28 Again he was tempted to get the reward he was offered and he finally yielded to the point of teaching Balak how to tempt Israel to sin so that God would curse them Himself (22:7, 17-18; 24:11-13; 25:1-18; 31:16; Dt. 23:4-5; Josh. 24:9-10; Neh. 13:2; Mic. 6:5; 2 Pet. 2:13-16; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14)
29 He returned to his home after having gained a reward by teaching Balak to ensnare Israel in sin (24:25; 2 Pet. 2:15; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14)
30 Balaam is called a soothsayer (Josh. 13:22), and it seems he finally became one but not until he sold out to Balak for the reward and betrayed God and Israel
31 He ended his life as an ally of Midian fighting Israel (31:8; Josh. 13:22)
32 He was in the right way, and then went astray because he loved the wages of unrighteousness (2 Pet. 2:15-16)
33 He was at one time a true prophet (2 Pet. 2:16) 11) 34 He went into error for reward (Jude
35 He taught the wrong doctrine for reward (Rev. 2:14)
From the above we conclude that Balaam was a prophet of God to begin with, being used of Him to make the prophecies of these chapters, after which he went into error and became a soothsayer (Josh. 13:22; Jude 11), like Saul who went into witchcraft after the Holy Spirit left him (1 Sam. 10:9-14; 16:14; 28:1-25; 1 Chr. 10:13-14). His inquiring of Jehovah whether he should go or not; his willingness to go back when he met the angel, and to say exactly what God told him to; his sacrificing to God and meeting Him after every sacrifice; his having the Spirit of God to come upon him; his receiving words of prophecy like other true prophets of God; his falling into a trance; his being called a prophet, and calling Jehovah my God (22:18), and other facts prove that Balaam was a true prophet until he forsook the right way, and went astray into error. See note n, 24:1

7 appearances of God to Balaam (24:16):
1 At his first inquiry (22:8-12)
2 At his second inquiry (22:19-20)
3 On the road to Moab (22:22-35)
4 At the first sacrifice (23:4-6)
5 At the second sacrifice (23:16-17)
6 When in the first trance (24:2-4)
7 When in the second trance (24:16)

The last mention of Balaam (24:25)

This is the last mention of Balaam in this story. Before this everything said of him has been good, proving he was a true prophet of God at first (see 35 Bible facts about Balaam, col. 1). Everything said about him from here on is bad, indicating that this was the turning point in his life. He became a backslider, degrading himself as a prophet of Jehovah and turning to the life of a soothsayer. The very next mention of him classes him as an enemy of Israel who was slain (31:8). Joshua calls him a soothsayer (Josh. 13:22). Moses makes it plain that it was before the events of Num. 25 that Balaam taught Balak how to get God to curse Israel - by causing them to commit sin (25:1-9; 31:16; 2 Pet. 2:15; Jude 11; Rev. 2:14). Balaam departed to his own place, that is, among the Midianites where he made new plots against the people of God, and perished in his sin (31:8, 16). Thus ended the life of a man who was once used of God in many ways. He could have continued in favor with Him, but he chose the wages of unrighteousness tribe whereunto they are received: so shall their inheritance be taken away from the inheritance of the tribe of our fathers.

B All inheritances to stay in each tribe: daughters who inherit must marry in own tribe

5 And Mō'şeş commanded the children of Iş'ra-el according to the word of the LORD, [a]saying, The tribe of the sons of Jō'şeph hath said well.
●6 This is the thing which the LORD doth command concerning the daughters of Zĕ-lō'phe-hăd, saying, Let them marry to whom they think best; only to the family of the tribe of their father shall they marry.
●7 So shall not the inheritance of the children of Iş'ra-el remove from tribe to tribe: for every one of the children of Iş'ra-el shall keep himself to the inheritance of the tribe of his fathers.
●8 And every daughter, that possesseth an inheritance in any tribe of the children of Iş'ra-el, shall be wife unto one of the family of the tribe of her father, that the children of Iş'ra-el may enjoy every man the inheritance of his fathers.
●9 Neither shall the inheritance remove from one tribe to another tribe; but every one of the tribes of the children of Iş'ra-el shall keep himself to his own inheritance.

C Obedience of the daughters of Zelophehad (Num. 27:1-10)

10 Even as the LORD commanded [a]Mō'şeş, so did the daughters of Zĕ-lō'phe-hăd:
11 [b]For Mäh'lah, Tir'zah, and Hŏg'lah, and Mil'cah, and [c]Nō'ah, the daughters of Zĕ-lō'phe-hăd, were married unto their father's brothers' sons:
12 And they were married into the families of the sons of Mă-năs'seh the son of Jō'şeph, and their inheritance remained in the tribe of the family of their father.

(12) Laws of Num. 26:1-36: 13 given in the plains of Moab

13 [d]These are the commandments and the judgments, which the LORD commanded by the hand of Mō'şeş unto the children of Iş'ra-el in the plains of Mō'ab by Jôr'dan near Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

Summary of Numbers

Date and place: written in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho (36:13), just before the entrance into Canaan. It records the conquest of the kingdoms of Sihon and Og east of the Jordan (21:1-35) and the experience of Balaam coming from the east to curse or prophesy of Israel (22:1-24:25). Therefore, Numbers had to be written after this in preparation for entrance into Canaan

Proof of authorship: see Summary of Genesis for 16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch, the first 5 books of the Bible

Theme: the book derives its name from the fact that it records the two great numberings and orders of the children of Israel, one in the 2nd year after the exodus (1:1-10:36) and the other at the end of wilderness wanderings immediately before entrance into Canaan (26:1-65). There were about 38 years between the two numberings. Numbers takes up the story of Israel from Egypt to Canaan where Exodus left it, and is the book of the wilderness consequent to the failure of Israel in refusing to enter Canaan at Kadesh-barnea (13:1-14:45). The Heb. title is Bemidbar - in the wilderness (1:1), because it records what took place there, the numberings being only two of the many events of the wanderings. Typically, it is the book of the service and walk of Israel before Jehovah, as the book of Genesis is the book of beginnings and of the creation and fall of man; as Exodus is the book of redemption for God's people; and as Leviticus is the book of worship and fellowship with Jehovah in His typical redemption program. Numbers also records various new laws for Israel in view of her immediate entrance into Canaan (chs. 6, 15, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 35, 36)

Statistics: 4th book of the Bible; 36 chapters; 1,288 verses; 32,902 words; 59 questions; 42 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 15 verses of unfulfilled prophecy. Numbers has 72 distinct messages of God (1:1, 48; 2:1; 3:5, 11, 14, 40; 4:1, 17, 21; 5:1, 5, 11; 6:1, 22; 7:4, 11; 8:1, 5, 23; 9:1, 9; 10:1; 11:16, 23; 12:4, 14; 13:1; 14:11, 20, 26; 15:1, 17, 35, 37; 16:20, 23, 36, 44; 17:1; 18:1, 25; 19:1; 20:7, 12, 23; 21:8, 16, 34; 22:9, 12, 20, 32; 23:5, 16; 25:4, 10, 16; 26:1; 27:6, 12, 15, 18; 28:1; 30:1; 31:1, 21, 25; 33:50; 34:1; 35:1, 9); 554 commands; 5 promises; and 79 predictions a It is noticeable that Moses always inquired of the Lord before he made any law, so that Israel would know that his laws were in reality the laws of God (v 10)

b The new law of heiresses marrying within their own tribe brought results, for all 5 daughters took their own cousins as husbands (v 11) c Of the two persons in Scripture named Noah, this one was a woman (v 11; 27:1); the other, a man, built the ark (Gen. 6-8) d These commandments complete the laws of Moses that are recorded in the book of Numbers. Others follow in the book of Deuteronomy a The word Deuteronomy, which means the second law, is taken from 17:18, where copy of the law is rendered from the Heb. mishneh, meaning repetition or doubling of the law

b These 5 verses are the introduction to the whole book; they contain words Moses spoke and wrote to all Israel just before his death and their entrance into Canaan (v 1-5) c It seems here that the location of Moses' speech-making was near the Red Sea and way down in the wilderness of the Sinai peninsula; but this is not the case, for in v 4-5 we find the time and place on this side of Jordan in the plains of Moab after the defeat of Sihon and Og. This does not contradict v 1, which, according to the Sept., should be trans. "These are the words which Moses spoke to all Israel, on the bank of the Jordan, west of the wilderness which reacheth to the Red Sea."

d Heb. Arabah, a plain of the Jordan extending southward to the Red Sea. Beginning on the gulf of Akabah on the Red Sea it reached to the Dead Sea and even the Sea of Galilee to the north. It lay between Paran on the west and Tophel, a town of Edom on the east. Three other places are mentioned on the borders of the plain, in order to define it more fully (v 1). It was in this Arabah that Moses spoke and wrote this book (v 1-5) e This is how long it took Israel to go from Horeb to Kadesh. At least 7 of the 11 days were spent in the Arabah(plain). The whole distance was about 160 miles

f The speech of Moses and the writing of Deuteronomy are identified with the 1st day of the 11th month and the 40th year, or 40 years and 10 1/2 months after the exodus (Num. 33:3). It seems that the whole book was spoken and written in one day, the day that Moses was 120 years old and the day of his death. See note m, below

g The 11th month corresponds somewhat with our February. This would reveal that the birthday of Moses was Feb. 1, for the whole book was uttered on this day and then he said, "I am an hundred and twenty years old this day" (31:2). See note m, below concerning this day

h Heb. ba'ar, to engrave; make plain; explain; declare, especially in writing. It is trans. declare (1:5), write it plainly (27:8), and make it plain on tables (Hab. 2:2) ity, p. 64

j 3 commands - when leaving Sinai:
1 You have dwelled here long enough, turn you, and take your journey (v 6-7)
2 Go to the mount of the Amorites and all places near it, to the land of the Canaanites, Lebanon, and the great river Euphrates (v 7)
3 I have set before you the land; go in and possess the land that I sware to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, to give it to them and their seed forever (v 8)

k 12 things God swears to, p. 258 of N. T.

l God promised the land to Abraham (Gen. 12:1-7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:7-8), to Isaac (Gen. 26:3-4), and to Jacob (Gen. 28:3-4, 13-15)

m The phrase this day is used 68 times by Moses from 1:10 to 32:46, indicating the whole book was spoken and written in one day, the 1st day of the 11th month, Feb. 1 (v 3). After saying this day throughout the book, he completed it by saying, "I am an hundred and twenty years old this day.... Moses wrote this song the same day... And it came to pass, when Moses had made an end of writing the words of this law in a book, until they were finished... I am yet alive with you this day" (31:2, 22, 24, 27). Then, "the Lord spake unto Moses that self(same day, saying, Get thee up into this mountain... And die in the mount" (32:48-52) Note the places where this day is used throughout the book (v 10; 2:18, 22, 25, 30; 3:14; 4:4, 8, 20, 26, 38, 39, 40; 5:1, 3, 24; 6:6, 24; 7:11; 8:1, 11, 18, 19; 9:3; 10:8, 13, 15; 11:2, 4, 8, 13, 26, 27, 28, 32; 12:8; 13:18; 15:5; 19:9; 20:3; 26:3,

I Journey: Sinai to Kadesh retold (Dt.1;Ex.12:37-19:2). 1 Introduction to Deuteronomy

THESE be the words which Mō'şeş spake unto all Iş'ra-el on this side Jôr'dan in the wilderness, in the [d]plain over against the Red sea, between Pā'ran, and Tō'phel, and Lā'ban, and Hă-zē'roth, and Dī'za-hāb.

2 (There are [e]eleven days' journey from Hō'reb by the way of mount Sē'ir unto Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā.)

3 And it came to pass in the fortieth year, in the [e]eleventh month, on the first day of the month, that Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Iş'ra-el, according unto all that the LORD had given him in commandment unto them;

4 After he had slain Sī'hŏn the king of the Am'ôr-ites, which dwelt in Hĕsh'bŏn, and Óg the king of Bā'shăn, which dwelt at Ăs'ta-rŏth in Ĕd're-ī:

5 On this side Jôr'dan, in the land of Mō'ab, began Mō'şeş to [k]declare this law, saying,

2 Command to leave Mt. Horeb and possess the land

■6 The [f]LORD our God spake unto us in Hō'reb, saying, Ye have dwelt long enough in this mount:

●7 [f]Turn you, and take your journey, and go to the mount of the Am'ôr-ites, and unto all the places nigh thereunto, in the plain, in the hills, and in the vale, and in the south, and by the sea side, to the land of the Că'năan-ites, and unto Lĕb'a-non, unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēş.

●8 Behold, I have set the land before you: go in and possess the land which the LORD [g]sware unto your fathers, [h]Ā'brā-hăm, Ī'şaac, and Jā'cob, to give unto them and to their seed after them.

3 Choosing captains and judges: charges to them rehearsed

9 ¶ And I spake unto you at that time, saying, I am not able to bear you myself alone:

10 The LORD your God hath multiplied you, and, behold, ye are [m]this day [n]as the stars of heaven for multitude.

11 (The LORD God of your fathers make you a [o]thousand times so many more as ye are, and bless you, as he hath promised you!)

12 [p]How can I myself alone bear your cumbrance, and your burden, and your strife?

13 [q]Take you wise men, and understanding, and known among your tribes, and I will make them rulers over you.

14 And ye answered me, and said, The thing which thou hast spoken is good for us to do.

15 [r]So I took the chief of your tribes, wise men, and known, and made them heads over you, captains over thousands, and captains over hundreds, and captains over fifties, and captains over tens, and officers among your tribes.

●16 [s]And I charged your judges at that time, saying, [t]Hear the causes between your brethren, and judge righteously between every man and his brother, and the stranger that is with him.

●17 Ye shall not respect persons in judgment: but ye shall hear the small as well as the great; ye shall not be afraid of the face of man; for the judgment is God's: and the cause that is too hard for you, [c]bring it unto me, and I will hear it.

18 And I commanded you at that time all the things which ye should do.

4 Journey: Horeb to Kadesh

19 ¶ And [d]when we departed from Hō'reb, we went through all that great and terrible wilderness, which ye saw by the way of the mountain of the Am'ôr-ites, as the LORD our God commanded us; and we came to Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā.

5 Command to possess land without sending spies

20 And I said unto you, [e]Ye are come unto the mountain of the Am'ôr-ites, which the LORD our God doth give unto us.

●21 Behold, the LORD thy God hath set the land before thee: go up and possess it, as the LORD God of thy fathers hath said unto thee; fear not, neither be discouraged.

6 Request of leaders to send spies (Num. 13:17, 21, refs.)

22 ¶ [f]And ye came near unto me every one of you, and said, We will send men before us, and they shall search us out the land, and bring us word again by what way we must go up, and into what cities we shall come.

7 Journey of spies and consequent rebellion rehearsed (Num. 13-14)

23 And the saying pleased me well: and I took twelve men of you, one of a tribe:

24 And they turned and went up into the mountain, and came unto the valley of Ĕsh'cōl, and searched it out.

25 And they took of the fruit of the land in their hands, and brought it down unto us, and brought us word again, and said, It is a good land which the LORD our God doth give us.

26 Notwithstanding [g]ye would not go up, but rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God:

27 And ye murmured in your tents, and said, Because the LORD hated us, he hath brought us forth out of the land of a The 70 elders of Num. 11:13-27 were the chief judges of Israel. The various leaders over 10's, 50's, 100's, and 1,000's no doubt settled some matters between the men over whom they ruled; but whatever they could not settle was brought to the 70 elders and Moses (v 16-17)

b 6 commands of Moses to judges:
1 Hear the causes between your brethren (v 16)
2 Judge righteously between your brethren and strangers among you
3 You shall have no respect of persons in judgment (v 17)
4 You shall not consider any cause too small or too great to judge
5 You shall not be afraid of the face of any man, for you judge for God
6 If a cause is too hard for you, bring it to me and I will hear it

c Moses served as the supreme court and the other judges served as the lower court (v 17; Ex. 18:13-27; Num. 11:13-27) See Government in Israel, p. 197

12 qualifications of leaders:
1 Able and God-fearing (Ex. 18:21; 2 Sam. 23:3; Ezra 7:25)
2 Truthful (Ex. 18:21; Dt. 16:19)
3 Having hatred of covetousness (Ex. 18:21) (Ex. 23:8)
4 Of a disposition to refuse bribes
5 Wise and understanding (Dt. 1:13)
6 Prominent in the tribes (Dt. 1:13)
7 Having love of justice and judgment (Dt. 1:16; 16:18-19; 27:19; Zech. 7:9-10) 16:19; 25:1; Isa. 5:23)
8 Without respect of persons (Dt. 1:17; 9 Fearless (Dt. 1:17)
10 Conscientious (Dt. 1:17)
11 Strong and courageous (Josh. 1:7)
12 Obedient to the law (Josh. 1:7-8)

d This refers to the 11 days of v 2, See 8:15; 12:16; 13:26; Num. 10:1-11:35

e This was the first arrival at Kadesh (v 19-22 with Num. 13-14)

f This reveals the fact that Moses, instead of sending spies, would have gone up immediately to occupy Canaan from the south (v 20-21). The people were the ones who suggested sending up the spies (v 22). Moses made inquiry of God who then gave him command to send the spies (Num. 13:1-25)

g One of the biggest blunders of Israel. If the nation had obeyed Moses as he commanded in v 20-21, and not demanded that spies be sent to see if the land was as God had described it to them, they would have been blessed thereby (6:10-12)

7 blessings would have been theirs:
1 Settlement in Canaan 40 yrs. earlier
2 The old generation would not have been condemned to die (Num. 14)
3 Freedom from 40 years of hardships, plagues, and other curses of Num. 14-25
4 Their own bravery would have been confirmed and God honored (Num. 13-14)
5 They would not have suffered disgrace and defeat by their enemies (Num. 14:40-45)
6 Korah and company very likely would not have rebelled and peace would have continued (Num. 16-17)
7 The people would have had better living conditions, food and raiment 40 years sooner (Num. 11; 20; etc.)

n Moses considered that the prophecies predicting Israel as the stars in number, were now fulfilled (v 10; 10:22; 28:62. Cp. Josh. 11:4; Judg. 7:12; 1 Sam. 13:5; 2 Sam. 17:11; 1 Ki. 4:20, 29)

o See note b, Ex. 12:37 for estimates of Israelites who came out of Egypt (4,067,200) and the mixed multitude (2,033,600) totalling 6,100,800. Moses' wish of 1,000 times this would be over 6,000,000,000 (v 11)

p Question 1, Next, v 28

q See Num. 11:17-20, 25

r This was what Jethro had advised Moses to do as in Ex. 18:13-27. Cp. Num. 11:16-25

a Question 2. Next, 3:11
b It is remarkable how easily brethren can discourage one another with a few words. There was no danger at all, for God was with them, as He was 40 years later (Num. 21:1-35; 31:49) c This is another example of men looking on the outward appearance, and not to God (v 28; 1 Sam. 16:7; 2 Cor. 10:7) d These were actual giants, 12 to 18 feet tall or more. See Giants, p. 62 e They were a powerful giant tribe often mentioned in Scripture (v 28; 2:10, 11, 21; 9:2; Josh. 11:21, 22; 14:12, 15). See Giants, p. 62
f Moses' appeal is made to Israel when the spies rebelled is given here to call attention to the mighty acts of God which had been wrought for them in Egypt, and all through the wilderness up to this time (v 29-31. See Miracles in Index)
g All the miracles Israel had seen did not cure them of unbelief, nor will miracles today accomplish any more (v 32). The disciples saw more miracles than the nation did coming out of Egypt, and yet they were full of unbelief and hardness of heart regarding the resurrection miracle, after Christ's many infallible proofs concerning it (Mk. 16:14; Lk. 24:25). If one will not believe the Word of God, he will not believe though one should rise from the dead (Lk. 16:30-31). Israelites had several daily miracles in their midst - the manna (Ex. 16), the pillar of fire by night and the cloud by day (v 33), besides other miracles when needed, and yet they could not seem to have complete trust in God
h Jehovah chose the camps for Israel all along the way, so they did not need Hobab (v 33; Num. 10:29-31)
i Jehovah became angry many times with the unbelieving and rebellious nation, even twice as many times as Moses, according to the record (note c, Num. 31:14)
j 1st prophecy in Dt. (1:35-40, fulfilled, Num. 14:23-35; Josh. 3-5). Next, 2:24 k Save Caleb and Joshua (v 36, 38)
l The reason God was angry with Moses was because he smote the rock two times instead of speaking to it on the second occasion, as God had commanded (Num. 20:8-13). This violated the type of Christ who was to be smitten or crucified only once m It would seem that men with such great power as Moses, Joshua, and others, would not need encouragement, but they do. The possibility of failure is present regardless of the amount of authority and responsibility (v 38)
n The very things we fear are sometimes what God uses to show His power and teach us lessons (v 39)
o When God pronounced the curse of death upon the old generation, then Israel presumed to repent and go up, but they were defeated (v 41; Num. 14:23-45) p 2 commands had been given (v 42):
1 Do not go up among you
2 Do not fight. The reason: I am not q This shows the stubbornness and presumption of the old generation. God definitely commanded them not to go up, and faithfully warned them of the consequences - defeat (v 42-43); but they went contrary to His orders and were defeated as predicted (v 43-46). They rebelled when God told them to go up (Num. 13:26-14:35), then rebelled again when He told them not to go up (v 42-43)

n Some time had come and gone since the message of v 2-8, for Edom was now passed and they were coming near Moab. God forbade them to war with Moab, for the same reasons He forbade them to fight with Edom (v 9-18)
o 3 commands - concerning Moab:
1 Distress not the Moabites, neither contend with them in battle, for I have not given you the land of Moab (v 9)
2 Now rise up, and get you over the brook Zered (v 13)
3 You are to pass over the border of Moab this day (v 18) p For the time being Moab was not to be given to Israel, but in the latter days Israel will possess that land (Ps. 60:6-9; Isa. 11:14; Jer. 48:47)
q These giant races of Emims, Anakims, Horims, and others came from the sons of God and daughters of men. See Giants, p. 62

E'gypt, to deliver us into the hand of the Am'or-ites, to destroy us.

28 [c]Whither shall we go up? our [b]brethren have discouraged our heart, saying, [c]The people is greater and [d]taller than we; the cities are great and walled up to heaven; and moreover we have seen the sons of the [e]An'a-kims there.

●29 Then I [f]said unto you, Dread not, neither be afraid of them.

30 The LORD your God which goeth before you, he shall fight for you, according to all that he did for you in E'gypt before your eyes;

31 And in the wilderness, where thou hast seen how that the LORD thy God bare thee, as a man doth bear his son, in all the way that ye went, until ye came into this place.

32 [g]Yet in this thing ye did not believe the LORD your God, 33 Who went in the way before you, to [h]search you out a place to pitch your tents in, in fire by night, to shew you by what way ye should go, and in a cloud by day.

■34 And the LORD heard the voice of your words, and [i]was wroth, and sware, saying,

★35 [j]Surely there shall not one of these men of this evil generation see that good land, which I sware to give unto your fathers, 36 Save [k]Ca'leb the son of Je-phun'neh; he shall see it, and to him will I give the land that he hath trodden upon, and to his children, because he hath wholly followed the LORD.

37 Also the LORD was [l]angry with me for your sakes, saying, Thou also shalt not go in thither.

38 But Josh'u-a the son of Nun, which standeth before thee, he shall go in thither: encourage [m]him: for he shall cause Is'ra-el to inherit it.

39 [n]Moreover your little ones, which ye said should be a prey, and your children, which in that day had no knowledge between good and evil, they shall go in thither, and unto them will I give it, and they shall possess it.

40 But as for you, turn you, and take your journey into the wilderness by the way of the Red sea.

8 False repentance, war and stay at Kadesh rehearsed

41 [o]Then ye answered and said unto me, We have sinned against the LORD, we will go up and fight, according to all that the LORD our God commanded us. And when ye had girded on every man his weapons of war, ye were ready to go up into the hill.

§42 And the LORD said unto me, Say unto them, [p]Go not up, neither fight; for I am not among you; lest ye be smitten before your enemies.

43 So I spake unto you; and ye [q]would not hear, but rebelled against the commandment of the LORD, and went presumptuously up into the hill.

44 And the [d]Am'or-ites, which dwelt in that mountain, came out against you, and chased you, as [b]bees do, and destroyed you in Se'ir, even unto [c]Hor'mah.

45 And ye returned and wept before the LORD; [d]but the LORD would not hearken to your voice, nor give ear unto you.

46 So ye abode in Ka'desh many [f]days, according unto the days that ye abode there.

155 CHAPTER 2

II Forty years wandering retold (Dt. 2:1-3:29; Num. 15-20).
1 Wanderings around Mt. Seir

THEN we turned, and took our journey into the wilderness [g]by the way of the Red sea, as the LORD [h]spake unto me: and we compassed mount Se'ir many days.

2 Wanderings through Edom

■2 And the LORD spake unto me, saying,

■3 [i]Ye have compassed this mountain long enough: turn you northward.

●4 And command thou the people, saying, Ye are to pass through the coast of your brethren the children of E'sau, which dwell in Se'ir; and [j]they shall be afraid of you: take ye good heed unto yourselves therefore:

●5 Meddle not with them; [k]for I will not give you of their land, no, not so much as a foot breadth; because I have given mount Se'ir unto E'sau for a possession.

●6 [l]Ye shall buy meat of them for money, that ye may eat; and ye shall also buy water of them for money, that ye may drink.

7 For the LORD thy God hath blessed thee in all the works of thy hand: he knoweth thy walking through this great wilderness: [m]these forty years the LORD thy God hath been with thee; thou hast lacked nothing.

8 And when we passed by from our brethren the children of E'sau, which dwelt in Se'ir, through the way of the plain from E'lath, and from E'zi-on-ga'ber, we turned and passed by the way of the wilderness of Mo'ab.

3 Wanderings through Moab

■9 [n]And the LORD said unto me, Distress [o]not the Mo'ab-ites, neither contend with them in battle: [p]for I will not give thee of their land for a possession; because I have given Ar unto the children of Lot for a possession.

10 The [q]E'mims dwelt therein in times past, a people great, and many, and tall, as the An'a-kims;

11 Which also were accounted giants, as the An'a-kims; but the Mo'ab-ites call them E'mims.

12 The Ho'rims also dwelt in Se'ir beforetime; but the children of E'sau succeeded them, when they had destroyed them from before them, and dwelt in their stead; as Is'ra-el did unto a They are called Amalekites and Canaanites in Num. 14:40-45. Either these were more of the Amorite nations; or, in the 38 years since this happened the Amorites had become the masters of the Amalekites and Canaanites, causing them to be referred to thus (v 44). The Amorites were the most powerful people of all the surrounding nations and their name is used in general of the Canaanite peoples b This might refer to the great numbers of Amorites or Canaanite peoples that attacked the few Israelites who presumed to go up against them contrary to God's command of v 42 (v 44). Bees are such little creatures that a child could crush one between its fingers; yet, coming in great numbers they have been known to kill dogs, horses, and other animals, drive out men and make the land uninhabitable. Pliny states that in some districts of Crete they actually expelled the inhabitants c Hormah a city southwest of the Dead Sea (v 44; Num. 14:45; 21:1-3). It was conquered by Judah and Simeon (Judg. 1:17; Josh. 12:14), and allotted to their joint portion of inheritance (Josh. 15:30; 19:4; 1 Sam. 30:30; 1 Chr. 4:30). Called Zephath (Judg. 1:17)

d Weeping before God does not always mean the persons are brought to obedience. Sometimes the weeping, as here, is over defeat and not their consecration to obey God. Already God had given them up to die in the wilderness because of repeated acts of rebellion. He had endured enough with them and was now holding to His decision of doing away with the old generation (Num. 14:23-35)
e This reveals that Israel stayed at Kadesh a long time and did not go immediately into wandering (v 46)
f This was after the many days at Kadesh, which could mean months or even a year or more (v 1) g In the direction of the Red Sea, or southward and compassed mount Seir many days. Mount Seir is not to be taken as a single mountain, for the name refers to an extensive range of about 70 miles north and south and 30 miles east and west. Israel no doubt had many encampments of long periods in this mountain country, until they finally reached the Red Sea at Eziongaber and Elath or the gulf of Akabah (v 8, Cp. 1 Ki. 9:26). Before their arrival here they were encamped at 17 or 18 places with indefinite stays at each place (Num. 33:18-35). Afterward they came back to Kadesh, then took the final trips on the east of Edom and Moab and entered Canaan from the east side of Jordan (Num. 33:36-50)
h In Deuteronomy the Lord spake:
1 To Moses (2:1, 2, 17; 9:13; 32:48)
2 To you (4:12, 15; 10:4)
3 To all the assembly (5:22)
i 3 commands - concerning Edom:
1 You have compassed this mountain range long enough. Turn northward (v 3)
2 Command the people to pass through the border of Esau, but take good heed to yourselves that you meddle not with them (v 4-5)
3 You shall buy meat and water of them, for God has blessed you with riches and has provided you with all you have needed these 40 years (v 6-7)
j The fear of God was upon the nations round about and this was the secret of having no war with the many peoples who were their enemies (v 4; Josh. 2:9-11)
k This must be understood thus: that God did not intend for them to have the land of Esau for the time being, for in the future they will possess Edom and Moab and all the Sinai peninsula (Ps. 60:8-9; Isa. 11:14; 63:1-5; Ezek. 48; Amos 9:12; Oba. 1, 8) l At Kadesh Moses had sent messengers to Edom. The people then were hostile and would not permit the nation to cross into their country, but now the Edomites were afraid of Israel (v 4-5 with Num. 20:14-22)
m The 40 years here were from the exodus to the time when God spoke this to Israel and they were ready to take the last part of their journey (v 7). They included the 1 year, 1 month, and 5 days before leaving Sinai (Num. 10:11; 33:3), and the 38 years (of v 14) since the rebellion at Kadesh (Num. 14)

a This brook flows into the river Arnon, which itself was the northern boundary between Moab and Ammon (Num. 21:13)

b See 38 years of wandering, p. 205

c It seems that God would not allow Israel even to cross into Moab and come near the Jordan until the old generation was dead, fulfilling His judgment as pronounced in Num. 13-14 (v 14-18)

d Command - when you come near the land of the Ammonites do not war with them, for I have given their land to the children of Ammon for Lot's sake (v 19). This was the 3rd section of land and the 3rd people whom God protected from the sword of Israel at this time:
1 Descendants of Esau or Edom, the brother of Jacob (v 4-8; Gen. 25:19-34; 36:1-43)
2 Descendants of Moab, the son of Lot (v 9-16; Gen. 19:30-38)
3 Descendants of Ammon, the son of Lot (v 17-23, 37; 3:16; Gen. 19:30-38; Josh. 12:2; 13:10)
This shows the wonderful character of God - to remember and bless relatives of His friend, Abraham. He spared Lot from destruction in Sodom because of Abraham (Gen. 19:29), and now, after 400 years or more He still remembered His friend and was protecting his descendants. God likewise remembered the son of Isaac - Esau, for the same reason, that of being a relative of Abraham and Isaac e This must also be understood in the same sense as v 9 and 19, as being temporary. God did not plan for Israel to destroy the Edomites, Moabites, and Amonites at this time and take their land, although it was His intention to give it to Israel from the very beginning; and so it will be in the Millennium when all of this country will be a part of eternal Israel under their Messiah (Isa. 11:14; Ezek. 48; Zeph. 2:9). All three of these peoples, the Edomites, Moabites, and Ammonites made constant trouble for God's people in the years that followed, so He ceased protecting them and finally determined that they should be subject to Israel and their lands should be a part of the promised land

f This means that the land of Ammon was also a land of giants, as Edom and Moab were, but had been dispossessed by God through these people of Abraham and Lot (v 20-23). See Giants, p. 62

g This was only about 897 years after the flood of Noah, so the dwelling of the giants in Edom, Moab, and Ammon in old time had to be during this period for them to be dispossessed by the Ammonites. The giants mentioned here came from the second eruption of angels among men for the purpose of occupying the promised land in advance of Abraham in an effort to keep the Messiah from coming into the world. Like those of the first eruption before the flood, these giant races since the flood came from the fallen angels and daughters of men (Gen. 6:4; Jude 6-7). See Giants, p. 62

h Thus far in Deuteronomy several branches of giants are mentioned - Anakims, Emims (terrible ones), giants (Rephaim), Horims, Zamzummims (loved ones), and Avims (1:28-29; 2:10-12, 20-23. Cp. 3:11-13). These are but a few references to giants in Scripture. Many were left to fight Israel, but God told His people not to fear them (1:28-29; Num. 13:26-33)

i Heb. chatsêrîym, from chatsar, to surround with a stockade; separate from open country; yards; villages; hamlets. It no doubt means villages here, as it is trans. in the Berkeley, Moffat, and some other versions j It cannot be proved where Caphtor was located and who these people were, except that they were descendants of Mizraim who settled in Egypt (Gen. 10:13-14). Caphtor is claimed by various scholars to be Crete, a province in Egypt, Phoenicia, Cilicia, and Cappadocia in Asia Minor. Moffat trans. it Cretians from Crete; the Peshitta, Caphedoldan... out of Caphedold, and the Sept., Cappadoclans... out of Cappadocia. Whoever they were they became a part of the Philistine nation which occupied the land in villages even to Azzah or Gaza (v 23; Gen. 10:13-14)

the land of his possession, which the LORD gave unto them.

●13 Now rise up, said I, and get you over the [a]brook Zĕ'red. And we went over the brook Zĕ'red.

14 And the space in which we came from Kā'desh-bär'ne-ä, until we were come over the brook Zĕ'red, was [b]thirty and eight years; until all the generation of the men of war were wasted out from among the host, as the LORD sware unto them.

15 For indeed the hand of the LORD was against them, to destroy them from among the host, until they were consumed.

16 ¶ So it came to pass, [c]when all the men of war were consumed and dead from among the people,

■17 That the LORD spake unto me, saying,

18 Thou art to pass over through Ar, the coast of Mō'ab, this day:

4 Wanderings through Ammon

19 And [d]when thou comest nigh over against the children of Am'mŏn, distress them not, nor meddle with them: for [e]I will not give thee of the land of the children of Am'mŏn any possession; because I have given it unto the children of Lŏt for a possession.

20 (That [f]also was accounted a land of giants: giants dwelt therein [g]in old time; and the Am'mŏn-ites call them [h]Zăm-zŭm'mims;

21 A people great, and many, and tall, as the An'a-kĭms; but the LORD destroyed them before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead:

22 As he did to the children of E'saŭ, which dwelt in Sē'ĭr, when he destroyed the Hō'rĭms from before them; and they succeeded them, and dwelt in their stead even unto this day:

23 And the Ă'vĭms which dwelt in [i]Hā-zē'rĭm, even unto Az'zah, the [j]Căph'tō-rĭms, which came forth out of Căph'tôr, destroyed them, and dwelt in their stead.)

5 Wanderings through Gilead: conquest of Sihon the Amorite (Num. 21:21-32)

●24 ¶ [k]Rise ye up, take your journey, and pass over the river Ar'nŏn: behold, [l]I have given into thine hand Sī'hŏn the Am'ŏr-ite, king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and his land: [m]begin to possess it, and contend with him in battle.

25 This day [n]will I begin to put the dread of thee and the fear of thee upon the nations that are under the whole heaven, who shall hear report of thee, and shall tremble, and be in anguish because of thee.

26 ¶ And [o]I sent messengers out of the wilderness of Kĕd'e-mŏth unto Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn with words of peace, saying, 27 Let me pass through thy land: I will go along by the high way, I will neither turn unto the right hand nor to the left.

28 Thou shalt sell me meat for money, that I may eat; and give me water for money, that I may drink: only I will pass through on my feet;

29 (As the children of E'saŭ which dwell in Sē'ĭr, and the Mō'ab-ites which dwell in Ar, did unto me;) until I shall pass over Jŏr'dan into the land which the LORD our God giveth us.

30 [a]But Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn would not let us pass by him: for the LORD thy God hardened his spirit, and made his heart obstinate, that he might deliver him into thy hand, as appeareth this day.

■31 And the LORD said unto me, Behold, [b]I have begun to give Sī'hŏn and his land before thee: begin to possess, that thou mayest inherit his land.

32 Then Sī'hŏn [c]came out against us, he and all his people, to fight at Jā'hăz.

33 And [d]the LORD our God delivered him before us; and we smote him, and his sons, and all his people.

34 And we took all his cities at that time, and utterly destroyed the men, and the women, and the little ones, of every city, we left none to remain:

35 Only the cattle we took for a prey unto ourselves, and the spoil of the cities which we took.

36 From Ar'ŏ-ēr, which is by the brink of the river of Ar'nŏn, and from the city that is by the river, even unto Gĭl'e-ăd, there was not one city too strong for us: the LORD our God delivered all unto us:

37 Only unto the land of the children of [e]Am'mŏn thou camest not, nor unto any place of the river Jăb'bŏk, nor unto the cities in the mountains, nor unto whatsoever the LORD our God forbad us.

CHAPTER 3 156

6 Wanderings through Bashan: conquest of Og the Amorite (Num. 21:33-35)

THEN we turned, and went up the way to Bā'shăn: and [f]Og the king of Bā'shăn came out against us, he and all his people, to battle at Ĕd're-i.

¶2 ●And [g]the LORD said unto me, Fear him not: for I will deliver him, and all his people, and his land, into thy hand; and thou shalt do unto him as thou didst unto Sī'hŏn king of the Am'ŏr-ites, which dwelt at Hĕsh'bŏn.

3 So [h]the LORD our God delivered into our hands Og also, the king of Bā'shăn, and all his people: and we smote him until none was left to him remaining.

4 And we took all his cities at that time, there was not a city which we took not from them, threescore cities, [i]all the region of Ar'gŏb, the kingdom of Og in Bā'shăn.

a The offer of Moses in v 26-29 was fair; and it would have averted the immediate destruction of Sihon and his people; but being a stubborn and proud ruler he refused the terms of peace. Under these circumstances it became necessary to have war (v 30)

b 3 beginnings in this chapter:
1 Beginning of wars (v 24)
2 Beginning of fear of Israel (v 25)
3 Beginning of possession (v 31)

c Sihon was the aggressor (v 32; Num. 21:23; Judg. 11:20)

d 7 results of war with Sihon:
1 God delivered him before us (v 33)
2 We smote him, his sons, and people
3 We took all his cities (v 34)
4 We utterly destroyed all the men, women, and children
5 We took their cattle for a prey unto ourselves (v 35) we took 6 We gathered spoil of all the cities
7 There was not a city too strong for us, for the Lord delivered all unto us (v 36)

e Ammon was located west and a little north of the kingdom of Sihon, and somewhat south and west of the kingdom of Og, near the river Jabbok which separated Sihon and Og. It was on this river bank that Jacob wrestled with Jehovah (Gen. 32:22-32). The Ammonite territory was exempt from this present conquest, as well as were Moab and Edom (v 4-23) f Then - after Sihon and the Amorites were completely destroyed and we possessed the land from the Jabbok to Arnon along the river Jordan, we went to Bashan and conquered Og, king of Bashan (v 1-22)

g Og was a giant, one of the Rephaim, a man who had a bedstead 18 ft. 9 in. long and 8 ft. 4 in. wide (v 11). Some tribes were made up of many giants; but it appears that the Rephaim branch was about exterminated (v 11). See Giants, p. 62

h 3rd prophecy in Dt. (3:2, fulfilled, v 3-13). Next, v 21

i 7 results of war with Og:
1 God delivered him into the hands of Israel with all his people (v 3)
2 We smote him until there was none remaining
3 We took all his cities, being 60 walled cities, many villages, and unwalled towns (v 4-5)
4 We utterly destroyed them - men, women, and children as we did the Amorites under Sihon (v 6)
5 We took all the cattle, and the spoil of the many cities and villages for a prey to ourselves (v 7)
6 We took from these 2 kings (Sihon and Og) all the land along the river Jordan from the Dead Sea on the south to mount Hermon on the north beyond the Sea of Galilee (v 8-9)
7 We took all the cities of the plains, all of Gilead, and all of Bashan (v 10)

l 2nd prophecy in Dt. (2:24-25, fulfilled, v 26-37; Num. 21). Next, 3:2

m This was the actual beginning of their possessing the land promised to Abraham some 470 years before (v 24; Gen. 12:1-7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21). From here on Israel expanded her conquests until in the prosperous reigns of David and Solomon the nation ruled over all surrounding lands even to the river Euphrates, dominating the Syrians, Moabites, Edomites, Ammonites, Philistines, and many other peoples (2 Sam. 5, 8, 10)

n See Ex. 15:14-15; Josh. 2:9-11

o Before making war, Moses had given the Amorites the opportunity of avoiding it by permitting Israel to go through their land; and he had made a promise to stay on the highway not disturbing or plundering on either side of the road, and paying for whatever the people needed (v 26-28). Moses cited two examples - the Edomites and Moabites whose country Israel had passed around without giving them trouble (v 29). But Sihon refused, which made war necessary (v 30-37)

a These cities were the 60 of v 4 that had high walls, gates, and bars. How many unwalled towns and villages were taken is not known. The record only says a great many (v 5). The stone cities of Bashan point to a race of great stature (note j, v 4) b Israel, having learned the wrath of Moses when they did not destroy all the Midianites (Num. 31:13-19), afterward destroyed all they were supposed to, of the subjects of Sihon and Og (v 6). Virgins were perhaps kept alive as in the case of Midian (Num. 31:18)

c All the cattle and spoil of the cities were distributed among those who fought the actual battles and the congregation, as in the case of Midian. Cattle here must be understood as a general word meaning all stock - cattle, sheep, goats, asses, and other animals, for they also were to be spared and divided among the men of war and the congregation (Num. 31:25-54)

d This proves that the Bashanites under Og were also Amorites (v 8)

e The river Arnon was the southern boundary between Moab and the kingdom of Sihon, and mount Hermon was in the extreme north of Palestine, marking the northern boundary of the kingdom of Og. The river Jabbok divided the two kingdoms of the Amorites (v 8; 3:16; Num. 21:24; Josh. 12:2; Judg. 11:12, 22)

f The word Sirion means breastplate and Shenir means coat of mail (v 9)

g Remnant of the giants (Heb. Rephaim, a prominent tribe of giants that previously occupied Palestine). The Rephaim had been defeated in battle by the kings of the east in the days of Abraham, some 470 years before (Gen. 14:5). See Giants, p. 62

h Bedsteads of iron and other materials besides wood were much used back then, because of strength and durability and the fact that insects commonly infested wood

m Cp. 12:32; Pr. 30:6; Rev. 22:18-19

5 All these cities were fenced with high walls, gates, and bars; beside unwalled towns a great many.

6 And we [b]utterly destroyed them, as we did unto Si'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn, utterly destroying the men, women, and children, of every city.

7 But [c]all the cattle, and the spoil of the cities, we took for a prey to ourselves.

8 And we took at that time out of the hand of the two kings of the [d]Am'ôr-ites the land that was on this side Jôr'dan, [e]from the river of Ar'nŏn unto mount Hĕr'mon;

9 (Which Hĕr'mon the Si'dō-ni-anş call [f]Sir'i-ŏn; and the Am'ôr-ites call it Shĕ'nir;)

10 All the cities of the plain, and all Gĭl'e-ăd, and all Bā'shăn, unto Săl'chah and Ĕd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Óg in Bā'shăn.

11 For only Óg king of Bā'shăn remained of the [g]remnant of giants; behold, his bedstead was a [h]bedstead of iron; [i]is it not in Răb'bath of the children of Am'mŏn? [j]nine cubits was the length thereof, and four cubits the breadth of it, after the cubit of a man.

7 Land east of Jordan divided (Num. 32; 34; Josh. 13)

12 And this land, which we possessed at that time, from Ar'ō-ēr, which is by the river Ar'nŏn, and half mount Gĭl'e-ăd, and the cities thereof, gave I unto the Reu'ben-ites and to the Găd'ites.

13 And the rest of Gĭl'e-ăd, and all Bā'shăn, being the kingdom of Óg, gave I unto the half tribe of Mā-năs'seh; all [k]the region of Ar'gŏb, with all Bā'shăn, which was called [l]the land of giants.

14 Jā'ir the son of Mā-năs'seh took all the country of Ar'gŏb unto the coasts of Gĕsh'u-rī and Mā-ăch'a-thī; and called them after his own name, [m]Bā'shăn-hā'voth-jā'ir, [n]unto this day.

15 And I gave Gĭl'e-ăd unto Mā'chīr.

16 And unto the Reu'ben-ites and unto the Găd'ites I gave from Gĭl'e-ăd even unto the river Ar'nŏn half the valley, and the border even unto the river Jăb'bŏk, [o]which is the border of the children of Am'mŏn;

17 The plain also, and Jôr'dan, and the coast thereof, from Chĭn'ne-rĕth even unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea, under [p]Ash'dŏth-pĭs'gah eastward.

8 Conditions of land grant (Num. 32:20-33)

●18 ¶ And I commanded you at that time, saying, The LORD your God hath given you this land to possess it: [q]ye shall pass over armed before your brethren the children of Iş'ra-el, all that are meet for the war.

19 But your wives, and your little ones, and your cattle, (for I know that ye have much cattle,) shall abide in your cities which I have given you;

20 Until the LORD have given rest unto your brethren, as well as unto you, and until they also possess the land which the LORD your God hath given them beyond Jôr'dan: and then shall ye return every man unto his possession, which I have given you.

9 Charge to Joshua (Num. 27:15; Dt. 31:7, 14; 34:9; Josh. 1)

●21 ¶ And I commanded Jŏsh'u-ā at that time, saying, [r]Thine eyes have seen all that the LORD your God hath done unto these two kings: so shall the LORD do unto all the kingdoms whither thou passest.

●22 Ye shall not fear them: for the LORD your God he shall fight for you.

10 Moses' unanswered prayer

23 And I [s]besought the LORD at that time, saying,

24 O Lord GOD, [t]thou hast begun to shew thy servant thy greatness, and thy mighty hand: [u]for what God is there in heaven or in earth, that can do according to thy works, and according to thy might?

25 I pray thee, let me go over, and see the good land that is beyond Jôr'dan, that goodly mountain, and Lĕb'a-non.

●26 [v]But the LORD was wroth with me for your sakes, and would [w]not hear me: and the LORD said unto me, Let it suffice thee; speak no more unto me of this matter.

§27 [x]Get thee up into the top of Pĭs'gah, and [y]lift up thine eyes westward, and northward, and southward, and eastward, and behold it with thine eyes: for thou shalt not go over this Jôr'dan.

●28 But charge Jŏsh'u-ā, and encourage him, and strengthen him: for he shall go over before this people, and he shall cause them to inherit the land which thou shalt see.

29 So we abode in the valley over against [z]Bĕth-pē'ôr.

CHAPTER 4 157

III Warnings and charges to the new generation (Dt. 4:1-43). 1 Five warnings: (1) Hear and obey the law (Dt. 4:39, refs.)

NOW therefore [a]hearken, O Iş'ra-el, unto the statutes and unto the judgments, which I teach you, for to do them, [b]that ye may live, and go in and possess the land which the LORD God of your fathers giveth you.

(2) Do not add to or take from the law but keep it (Rev. 22:18-19)

●2 Ye shall [c]not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I command a 4th prophecy in Dt. (3:21-22, fulfilled, Josh. 2:1-12:24). Next, v 27

b Command to Joshua - you shall not fear the nations surrounding you, for God shall fight for you, and all the kingdoms where you go shall be destroyed as Sihon and Og were (v 21-22)

c Moses' last plea to be allowed to go over into the land, and for God not to deny him because of the one sin of smiting the rock twice (v 23-25; 4:21-22; Num. 20:8-13). He wanted so much to enter the land, but God said, "Let it suffice thee: speak no more unto me of this matter" (v 26). It may seem that Moses' punishment was too severe, but when we consider that the smiting of the rock the second time broke the all-important type set before Israel and the whole world to portray the truth of Christ being crucified once and only once for sin; and when we realize that the second smiting pictured crucifying Him afresh and putting Him to open shame, then we know that what Moses reaped was just (cp. Heb. 4:6-9; 10:26-29), God considered it necessary to make Moses an example which would emphasize these truths to all men once and for ever. The sin of Moses which involved the greatest truth of the ages could not be looked upon by God as a trifling matter, regardless of how much He loved Moses and would like to give him permission to enter the promised land

d This part of the plea of Moses was impressive and by it he may have hoped to persuade God to let him go into the promised land. Perhaps he thought that God would relent by now, in view of his long period of faithfulness and the present success of Israel in defeating their enemies. The least Moses could do would be to make the plea in his dying hour. Man at such times may become especially merciful, but God is merciful all the time, not only at a person's death or funeral. He knew what was best, in view of the truth regarding the smitten rock which was involved; He could not afford to encourage crucifying Christ afresh in type any more than He will tolerate such in reality

e Question 4, Next, 4:7

f The record shows Moses relating his prayer to Israel to the end of v 25, then recounting how God was wroth with him and quoting the final answer to his prayer, in v 26

g See A lesson on prayer, p. 204

h 5th prophecy in Dt. (3:27-28; v 27 fulfilled in Dt. 34; v 28 fulfilled in Josh. 2:1-22:34). Next, 4:21

i 2 commands - for Moses:
1 Get up into the top of Pisgah, and lift up your eyes and see the land, for you will not go over this Jordan (v 27)
2 Charge Joshua, encourage him, and strengthen him, for he shall go over before this people, and shall cause them to inherit the land (v 28)

j Heb. the house of Peor, the place of the temple where Baal was worshipped, and located on mount Peor (v 29; 4:3; Num. 23:28; 25:3, 18; 31:16; Josh. 22:17). It was allotted to Reuben (Josh. 13:20)

k 9 commands - obedience:
1 Hearken (Heb. shama, to hear intelligently; be obedient to; regard; publish and show forth; pay attention) to the statutes and judgments (v 1)
2 You shall not add to the word which I command you, neither shall you take anything from it, that you may keep the commandments of Jehovah (v 2)
3 Keep and do the statutes and judgments of Jehovah, for this is your wisdom and understanding in the sight of all nations (v 5-6)
4 Only take heed to yourself, and keep your soul diligently, lest you forget what you have seen and your heart depart from them (v 9)
5 Teach these things to your sons and coming generations, that they may learn to fear Me all their days (v 9-10)
6 Take good heed to yourselves, lest you corrupt yourselves by making graven images, and lest you worship the heavenly bodies like the heathen (v 15-20)
7 Take heed to yourselves lest you forget the covenant of Jehovah and make false gods and be consumed by the jealousy of God (v 23-24)
8 Know this day and consider in your heart that Jehovah is God (v 39)

a 6 things God did at Baal-peor (Num. 25):
1 Became angry at Israel (v 3)
2 Had 1,000 chief men crucified (v 4)
3 Slew every man that was joined in adulterous worship to Baal (v 5)
4 Sanctioned and blessed the act of Phinehas in slaying Zimri (v 6-15)
5 Sent a plague which, with those slain and crucified, destroyed 24,000 (v 9; 1 Cor. 10:8) 6 Commanded the destruction of Midianites because of sin (v 16-18)

b In contrast to the destruction of 24,000 the rest of Israel was preserved (v 4)

c 3rd of 9 commandments here, note k, v 1

d The outstanding example of Israel among the nations in revealing a contrast between Jehovah and idols, and the great blessings of serving God was not manifest in outward show, but in simple obedience to Jehovah, Physically, mentally, spiritually, supernaturally, militarily, materially, and governmentally - in every phase of human life and success Israel was so far above the other nations when in obedience that there was no comparison (v 6-8)

e Overdious 5-6, Next, v 32

f 10 things that constitute a great nation:
1 Wisdom and understanding through the laws of God (v 5-6)
2 Nearness to God through consecration to His Word and will (v 7)
3 Miraculous answers to prayer
4 The possession of God's righteous statutes and judgments (v 8)
5 Obedience to the laws of God (v 1, 5-6, 9, 14, 23-24)
6 Acceptance of God's Word as it is without change and additions (v 2)
7 Hatred of idolatry (v 3-4, 15-19)
8 Sound and biblical educational, economical, and civil program (v 5-10, 14)
9 Absolute faith in the providence of God and trust in Him against all enemies (v 38-40)
10 Recognition of God as the Creator and sovereign of all things (v 16-20, 32, 39-40)

g It was the duty of every parent in Israel to teach and instil within the heart of every child the wisdom and knowledge of God, as stated in the Scriptures (v 9-10, 14; 6:6-9; 2 Tim. 2:15; 3:15-17)

h Command - gather Me the people together to hear My words, that they might learn to fear Me (v 10)

i This is the primary purpose of hearing the Word of God in all ages (v 10; Rom. 10:17; 2 Tim. 2:15; 3:15-17)

j Israel saw with the eyes the manifestation of God and the mountain being on fire, the smoke, the clouds, and the thick darkness (v 11). They heard with the ears the voice of God (v 12-13; 5:22-24). Whether they smelled the smoke or felt the darkness, and clouds is not stated, but they could have if they had been close enough, as in Egypt (Ex. 10:21). Thus God can be understood and become known to man through physical and natural faculties k Here God's covenant with Israel is called the 10 commandments, because they give a gist of the whole law and summarize the principles thereof. It is, therefore, impossible to have the law of Moses, or the covenant at Sinai abolished, done away, and completely annulled without having the 10 commandments annulled, as is plainly stated in many scriptures. See 85 old and new covenant contrasts, p. 201 of N. T.

l Many modern fallacies are based upon a wrong understanding of the 10 commandments in regard to their part in the present program of God. Being a part of the covenant made at Sinai, which covenant is not in force today, means that the 10 commandments are now abolished. The only ones of the 10 that relate to Christianity are those which form a part of the new covenant. They are 9 in number, the 4th commandment having been omitted altogether. See Sabbath in index and 20 facts about the 10 commandments, p. 112

m God wrote them upon 2 tables of stone. He did so twice (v 13; Ex. 24:12; 32:19; 34:1-4, 28). These were the tables of stone containing the law that God abolished in particular when He annulled the old covenant (2 Cor. 3:6-15, notes)

you.

3 Your [c]eyes have seen what the LORD did because of Bā'al-pē'or: for all the men that followed Bā'al-pē'or, the LORD thy God hath destroyed them from among you.

4 [b]But ye that did cleave unto the LORD your God are alive every one of you this day.

5 Behold, I have taught you statutes and judgments, even as the LORD my God commanded me, that ye should do so in the land whither ye go to possess it.

●6 [c]Keep therefore and do them; for [d]this is your wisdom and your understanding in the sight of the nations, which shall hear all these statutes, and say, Surely this great nation is a wise and understanding people.

7 For [e]what nation is there so great, who hath God so nigh unto them, as the LORD our God is in all things that we call upon him for?

8 And what nation is there [f]so great, that hath statutes and judgments so righteous as all this law, which I set before you this day?

(3) Live diligently by the law and instill it in the children

●9 Only take heed to thyself, and keep thy soul diligently, lest thou forget the things which thine eyes have seen, and lest they depart from thy heart all the days of thy life: but [g]teach them thy sons, and thy sons' sons;

§10 Specially the day that thou stoodest before the LORD thy God in Hō'reb, when the LORD said unto me, [h]Gather me the people together, and I will make them hear my words, [i]that they may learn to fear me all the days that they shall live upon the earth, and that they may teach their children.

11 And [j]ye came near and stood under the mountain; and the mountain burned with fire unto the midst of heaven, with darkness, clouds, and thick darkness.

●12 And the LORD spake unto you out of the midst of the fire: ye heard the voice of the words, but saw no similitude; only ye heard a voice.

13 And he declared unto you his [k]covenant, which he commanded you to perform, even ten commandments; and [m]he wrote them upon two tables of stone.

§14 ¶ And the LORD commanded me [n]at that time to teach you statutes and judgments, that ye might do them in the land whither ye go over to possess it.

(4) Live free from all idolatry (Ex. 20:41, refs.)

●15 [o]Take ye therefore good heed unto yourselves; for ye saw no manner of similitude on the day that the LORD spake unto you in Hō'reb out of the midst of the fire:

16 Lest ye corrupt yourselves, and make you a graven image, the [p]similitude of any figure, the likeness of male or female,

17 The [q]likeness of any beast that is on the earth, the likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air,

18 The likeness of any thing that creepeth on the ground, the likeness of any fish that is in the waters beneath the earth:

19 And lest thou lift up thine eyes unto heaven, and when thou seest the sun, and the moon, and the stars, even all the host of heaven, shouldest be driven to [r]worship them, and serve them, which the LORD thy God hath [s]divided unto all nations under the whole heaven.

20 But the LORD hath taken you, and brought you forth out of the [t]iron furnace, even out of Ē'gўpt, [u]to be unto him a people of inheritance, as ye are this day.

●21 [v]Furthermore the LORD was angry with me for your sakes, and [w]sware that I should not go over Jôr'dan, and that I should not go in unto that good land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance:

22 But I must die in this land, I must not go over Jôr'dan: but ye shall go over, and possess that good land.

(5) Cleave to God: never provoke Him to jealousy

●23 [x]Take heed unto yourselves, lest ye forget the covenant of the LORD your God, which he made with you, and make you a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, which the LORD thy God hath forbidden thee.

24 For the LORD thy [y]God is a consuming fire, even a [z]jealous God.

2 Twentyfold prophecy of sin, dispersion and conversion of Israel in the latter days (Dt. 30:3, refs.)

●25 ¶ [a*]When thou shalt beget children, and children's children, and ye shall have [a]remained long in the land, and shall corrupt yourselves, and make a graven image, or the likeness of any thing, and shall do evil in the sight of the LORD thy God, to provoke him to anger:

26 I call heaven and earth to witness against you this day, that ye shall soon utterly perish from off the land whereunto ye go over Jôr'dan to possess it; ye shall not prolong your days upon it, but shall utterly be destroyed.

27 And the LORD shall scatter you among the nations, and ye shall be left few in number among the heathen, whither the LORD shall lead you.

28 And there ye shall serve gods, the work of men's hands, wood and stone, which neither see, nor hear, nor eat, nor smell.

29 But if from thence thou shalt seek the LORD thy God, thou shalt find him, if thou seek him with all thy heart and with all thy soul.

30 When thou art in tribulation, and all these things are a Not only the word similitude proves that outward form is referred to in v 12, 15-16, but the word likeness proves the same. The Heb. tabnîyth means structure; model; resemblance; figure; form; likeness; pattern; similitude. It is trans. similitude and likeness throughout v 16-18. Cp. notes t-z, Gen. 1:26

b 2 Kl. 17:16; 23:4; Amos 5:26; Acts 7:42

c God has divided the light, heat, and other blessings of the sun, moon, and stars to all the earth and to all peoples (v 19; Gen. 1:14-18)

d The experience of Israel in Egypt is compared to an iron furnace (v 20; 1 Kl. 8:51-53; Jer. 11:4). It only emphasizes the terrible sufferings of the people under bondage to Egypt

l 7 major predictions of Moses:
1 Remain in the land many generations (v 25). They did stay in the land for about 35 generations after this prophecy; then in 70 A. D. the Romans destroyed the nation, scattering Israel among all other nations (Mt. 23:37-39; Lk. 21:20-24)
2 Remain in the land a long time (v 25). They did for about 1,800 years before final dispersion, excluding the 70 years of captivity to Babylon (Jer. 25:11-12; Dan. 9:2)
3 Corrupt themselves in the land (v 25). Israel began doing this soon after the death of Joshua and the elders that outlived him who had seen the works of God (Josh. 24:31; Judg. 2:7-23). They lived more or less in corruption and sin until they had to go into captivity, as revealed in the books of Judges, Samuel, Kings, and Chronicles. They continued in rebellion until they rejected the Messiah and were totally destroyed as a nation, 70 A. D. The corruption was in the form of all kinds of idolatry, moral sins, rebellions, and finally in the rejection of Christ and the apostles (Judg. 2; 2 Kl. 17; Mt. 23; Lk. 21:20-24)
4 You will utterly perish from the land (v 26). This literally was fulfilled in 749 and 616 B.C., when Jerusalem was destroyed and all the people except a few who were taken to Babylon (2 Kl. 17 and 25). It happened again in 70 A. D. and since then until recently not many Jews have lived in the land (Lk. 21:20-24)
5 The Lord shall scatter you among the nations and you shall be left few in number among the heathen (v 27). This has been literally fulfilled and continues in fulfillment as in points above
6 You will serve other gods among the heathen (v 28). This also was literally fulfilled (Isa. 2:18-20; 31:7; Zech. 10:2; 13:2)
7 When you are in tribulation in the last days and you seek the Lord you will find Him and obey Him (v 29-31). This will be fulfilled at the 2nd advent of Christ, as in note k, above mandments, I also received many other statutes, judgments, ordinances, laws, and commandments to teach you (v 14)

o See Similitude explained, p. 204

p 7 kinds of similitudes Israel warned not to make lest they sin:
1 A graven image or similitude of any kind of bodily figure (v 16) 17)
2 The likeness of male or female (v
3 The likeness of any beast (v 18)
4 The likeness of any winged fowl that flieth in the air
5 The likeness of any creeping thing
6 The likeness of any fish
7 The likeness of the sun, moon, stars, or any of the host of heaven (v 19)
These things the pagans have made idols like unto and have worshipped as gods. The word similitude is used of them and we do not question that it means outward form; therefore we need not question the meaning of the similitude of God a See 14 end-time expressions, p. 236 of N. T. b 3fold promise to Israel (v 31):

1 He will not forsake you
2 He will not destroy you
3 He will not forget the covenant made with your fathers
c 5 times found in Scripture, "He will not forsake you" is repeated in connection with 5 major subjects. It is associated with:
1 Keeping covenant with man (v 31)
2 Conquest over enemies (31:6)
3 Responsibilities of life (Josh. 1:5)
4 Work for God's house (1 Chr. 28:20)
5 The Christian life (Heb. 13:5-6) d Questions 7-9. Next, 5:25
e 2fold great thing done for Israel:
1 God speaking audibly (v 32, 36)
2 God bringing them out of Egypt (v 34):
(1) By temptations - tests He used to prove them and try their faith (note k, 29:3) cloud
(2) By signs - pillar of fire and
(3) By wonders (note a, 26:8)
(4) By war - hostile engagements
(5) By His mighty hand (note a, 26:8) 26:8)
(6) By a stretched out arm (note a,
(7) By great terrors (plagues) upon the Egyptians before your eyes (note a, 26:8)
f Here we have the purpose of God in speaking audibly to Israel (v 33), and showing them His great power (v 34). These things were done that they might know that Jehovah was the true God, and that there was none like Him (v 35)
g 3 reasons God chose and blessed Israel:
1 Because He loved their fathers (v 37)
2 To drive out and destroy the ungodly nations of Palestine (v 38)
3 To make a place for the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 38)
h 8th command in ch. 4 (note k, v 1)
i Know and consider that Jehovah is the only God in heaven and in earth and there can be no other (v 39)
j This is the last command in ch. 4 - keep His statutes and commandments (v 40; note k, v 1) k Again we have the reward of obedience emphasized to Israel (v 40; note l, v 1)
l The cities of refuge were not for wilful murderers, but for anyone who killed another accidently (v 41-42; 19:11-13; Num. 35; Josh. 20)

A lesson on prayer (3:26)

This refusal to answer Moses is not an example of God saying NO to men who pray according to His will and the Word of God. Some carelessly say that God always answers prayer, but He sometimes says NO. This is a deceptive excuse of unbelief. God NEVER has and NEVER will say NO to any child of His, anyone who is in Christ and who is sincerely asking according to the promises given. God may say it to people who live in unbelief and use this kind and every other kind of excuse of unbelief in prayer, but He will surely not say it to men of faith who ask in faith in the name of Jesus Christ, and according to His promises. God cannot and will not refuse to fulfil His own Word. He will meet His own obligations as plainly stated (Num. 23:10; Ps. 89:34; 119:89, 90, 160; Isa. 46:11; 55:10-11; 2 Cor. 1:20; Tit. 1:2; Heb. 10:28). See Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; Jas. 1:4-8. When a prayer is not answered sin and judgment are plainly involved as in the case of Moses here, or it is the result of unbelief (Mt. 17:20; 21:22). The will of God is not a question where one is truly a child of God, and asking according to the promises, for it is the revealed will of God for His children to ask what they will and desire (Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 15:7)

Similitude explained (4:15)

This command was to take heed not to attempt making any idol or image of anything they thought God would look like, though they saw no actual form when they heard His voice. This suggests the reason God did not show Himself to the people in general - lest the ones who were weak and bent on idolatry would begin to make graven images like unto what they had seen Him to be (v 15-19). This does not teach come upon thee, even in [a]the latter days, if thou turn to the LORD thy God, and shalt be obedient unto his voice;

3 Reasons for God's mighty miracles to Israel

32 [d]For ask now of the days that are past, which were before thee, since the day that God created man upon the earth, and ask from the one side of heaven unto the other, whether there hath been any such thing as [e]this great thing is, or hath been heard like it?
33 Did ever people hear the voice of God speaking out of the midst of the fire, as thou hast heard, and live?
34 Or hath God assayed to go and take him a nation from the midst of another nation, by temptations, by signs, and by wonders, and by war, and by a mighty hand, and by a stretched out arm, and by great terrors, according to all that the LORD your God did for you in Ĕ'gўpt before your eyes?
35 [f]Unto thee it was shewed, that thou mightest know that the LORD he is God; there is none else beside him.
36 Out of heaven he made thee to hear his voice, that he might instruct thee: and upon earth he shewed thee his great fire; and thou heardest his words out of the midst of the fire.
37 And [g]because he loved thy fathers, therefore he chose their seed after them, and brought thee out in his sight with his mighty power out of Ĕ'gўpt;
38 To drive out nations from before thee greater and mightier than thou art, to bring thee in, to give thee their land for an inheritance, as it is this day.

4 God's charge to Israel and conditions of eternal blessing (Dt. 5:30-33; 6:2; 8:1; 11:8; 30:15)

●39 [h]Know therefore this day, and [i]consider it in thine heart, that the LORD he is God in heaven above, and upon the earth beneath: there is none else.
●40 [j]Thou shalt keep therefore his statutes, and his commandments, which I command thee this day, [k]that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days upon the earth, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, for ever.

5 Cities of refuge (Dt. 19:11; Num. 35; Josh. 20)

41 ¶ Then Mō'şeş severed three cities on this side Jôr'dan toward the sunrising;
42 That the slayer might flee thither, [l]which should kill his neighbour unawares, and hated him not in times past; and that fleeing unto one of these cities he might live:
43 [a]Namely, Bĕ'zēr in the wilderness, in the plain country, of the Reu'ben-ītes; and Rā'moth in Gĭl'e-ăd, of the Găd'ītes; and Gō'lan in Bā'shăn, of the Mā-năs'sītes.

IV Mosaic Law taught the new generation (Dt. 4:44-7:26). 1 Place of giving the second law

44 ¶ [b]And this is the law which Mō'şeş set before the children of Iş'ra-el:
45 These are the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which Mō'şeş spake unto the children of Iş'ra-el, after they came forth out of Ĕ'gўpt,
46 [c]On this side Jôr'dan, in the valley over against Bĕth-pē'ôr, in the land of Sī'hŏn king of the Am'ôr-ītes, who dwelt at Hĕsh'bŏn, whom Mō'şeş and the children of Iş'ra-el smote, after they were come forth out of Ĕ'gўpt:
47 And they [d]possessed his land, and the land of Ōg king of Bā'shăn, two kings of the Am'ôr-ītes, which were on this side Jôr'dan toward the sunrising;
48 From Ar'ŏ-ēr, which is by the bank of the river Ar'nŏn, even unto mount Sī'ŏn, which is Hĕr'mon, 49 And all the plain on this side Jôr'dan eastward, even unto the sea of the plain, under the springs of Pĭs'gah.

2 Charge to Israel to hear and obey the laws of Sinai

[a]AND Mō'şeş called all Iş'ra-el, and [b]said unto them, Hear, O Iş'ra-el, the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day, [c]that ye may learn them, and keep, and do them.

3 Mosaic Covenant never made with man before Moses

2 The LORD our God [d]made a covenant with us in Hō'reb.
3 The LORD [e]made not this covenant with our fathers, but with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day.

4 How the Mosaic Covenant was given to Israel

■4 The LORD [f]talked with you face to face in the mount out of the midst of the fire, b 4 names for the Mosaic covenant:

1 The law (v 44)
2 The testimonies (v 45)
3 The statutes
4 The judgments
These terms are used synonymously of the 10 commandments and other commands and laws of Moses. They are used here in particular with reference to the 10 commandments which follow in ch. 5, thus disproving the modern theory of the 10 commandments being a separate law from the statutes, ordinances, and judgments of the law of Moses. See 20 facts about the 10 commandments, p. 112
c This was the new location of the giving of the 10 commandments to Israel (v 46). The first time they were given at Sinai, nearly 40 years before (Ex. 20), but now they were repeated with some new laws added just before entrance into Canaan (5:1-21)
d See 2:26-3:20; Num. 21:21-35 e Command - hear the statutes and judgments which I speak in your ears this day (v 1). What were the statutes and judgment He spoke that day? The 10 commandments that follow in v 1-21, besides other laws. Thus, twice here Moses made it plain that the 10 commandments are just as much statutes and judgments as they are commandments (v 1; 4:44-45) f 3fold purpose of the command to hear:
1 That Israel might learn the laws
2 That they may keep them
3 That they may do them (v 1)
g Heb. karath, to cut. It means to make a contract, an alliance, or a bargain by cutting a sacrifice in pieces and passing between them, thus binding the parties of the contract together by blood and by death. It is used of making covenants in v 2-3; 9:9; 29:1, 25; 31:16, 24; Gen. 15:18; 21:27, 32; Ex. 24:8; 34:8, 27; Josh. 24:25; 1 Sam. 18:3; 20:16; 22:8; 23:18; 2 Sam. 5:3; 1 Ki. 5:12; 8:9, 21; 20:34; 2 Ki. 11:4, 17; 17:35, 38; 23:3; 1 Chr. 11:3; 16:16; 2 Chr. 5:10; 21:7; 23:3, 16; 34:31; Ps. 50:5; 89:3; 105:9; Jer. 31:32; 34:8-18; Ezek. 17:13; Zech. 11:10 h Moses made it very clear that God made (cut) a covenant with them at Sinai, that He did not make this covenant with their fathers (Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob), but "with us, even us, who are all of us here alive this day" (v 2-3, Cp. 29:14). In view of such simple statements we can say with authority that Adam, Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob did not have the 10 commandments, and that sabbath-keeping therefore, was not commanded from Adam's time on, as some teach. The evident facts are that neither Adam nor any other man was commanded to keep any special sabbath for over 2,500 years as in Ex. 16. See 20 facts about the 10 commandments, p. 112
i This was about 40 years before (Ex. 20; Num. 14:23-35)
j This is the beginning of the law, the statutes, the judgments, and the testimonies of 4:44-45; 5:1, called also the covenant, the 10 commandments (v 10, 29, 31; Ex. 34:28) 111-115 that God has no form, image, or likeness bodily, nor does it mean that He did not show Himself in a real, visible, tangible, and bodily form to anyone, for this He did. He showed Himself to 74 elders of Israel at one time and they ate and drank with Him (Ex. 24:9-11). He showed Himself to Moses and others many times in visible bodily form. He promised to show His similitude to Moses and speak face to face with him. Whatever similitude He did not show to all Israel, He did show to Moses, for the same Eng. word is trans. from the same Heb. word in both statements and must mean the same thing (v 12, 15-16 with Num. 12:8). If it means bodily form that Israel did not see, then it is bodily form that Moses did see. See 44 appearances of God, p. 63; note r, Jn. 4:24 u What was it they were supposed to remember here? It was not simply a sabbath or day of rest, but why a sabbath or day of rest was commanded. It was solely because they had been slaves in the land of Egypt without rest on any particular day, and God brought them out with a strong hand. Therefore, because of this or for this reason, Jehovah commanded them to keep a sabbath day. Thus, it was to commemorate Israel's deliverance from Egyptian bondage, and not because God rested on the 7th day as in Gen. 2:3-4. Even the command in Ex. 20:8 was not to remember the one sabbath on which God rested; but to remember the sabbath that was commanded Israel in Ex. 16:22-26, where we have the first commandment for any man ever to keep a sabbath day. This was over 2, 500 years after God's sabbath. Israel could never remember the sabbath God rested on, for they had nothing to do with His sabbath. Thus, we are to understand that the word remember in Ex. 20:8 refers to Ex. 16:22-23, and the word remember in Dt. 5:15 refers to their slavery and deliverance from Egypt as in Ex. 1:1-14:31. See Remember the sabbath, p. 116

v To honor parents means to revere, respect, and obey them in all proper conduct. When parents behave contrary to the Word of God, and demand their children to do likewise, it could then be understood that they have grounds for not honoring them in such matters

6 Effect of God's presence (Ex. 20:18-21)

22 ¶ [d]These words the LORD spake unto all your assembly in the mount out of the midst of the fire, of the cloud, and of the thick darkness, with a great voice: and [e]he added no more. And [f]he wrote them in two tables of stone, and [g]delivered them unto me.
23 [h]And it came to pass, when ye heard the voice out of the midst of the darkness, (for the mountain did burn with fire,) that ye came near unto me, even all the heads of your tribes, and your elders;

c These 10 commandments God spoke with an audible voice to all Israel. An estimated 6,000,000 people or more (note b, Ex. 12:37) heard Him at one time out of the midst of the fire, cloud, and thick darkness on Sinai (v 22) d The 10 commandments were all that these estimated millions of people heard with the voice of God, for He added no more by an audible voice. What He added after that was through Moses (v 22-31; 4:10-14)
e God wrote them on the 2 tables of stone (v 22; Ex. 24:12), and Moses wrote them in a book (4:44-5:21; Ex. 20:1-24:8)
f They were delivered to Moses at the end of 40 days in the mount when God sent him down to see the sin of Israel (Ex. 24:13-18; 31:18; 32:1-19)
g These verses (23-33) contain a much fuller narrative of the events briefly described in Ex. 20:18-21. Because of the entreaty of the elders of Israel Moses took on him the responsibility of being the channel of communication between God and Israel. God approved the request of the people (v 28), because it showed their feeling of unworthiness to enter into direct communication with Him. The terrors of the occasion had done their work, and the whole nation was conscious of sinfulness and unworthiness to approach God

38 years of wandering (2:14)

The 38 years referred to are the ones between the first encampment at Kadesh when Israel rebelled (Num. 13-14) and the actual crossing of the brook Zered along the north border of Moab. The 40 years of v 7 take in these 38 years, besides the whole period of the exodus to Kadesh, including the stay at mount Sinai of nearly 11 months. Altogether the time from the exodus to Kadesh was nearly 2 years. Furthermore, it was to be some months yet before Israel actually entered Canaan by crossing the Jordan. The old generation had died off by the time they crossed the brook Zered (v 14), which means they died in a period of 38 years of the 40 pronounced in Num. 13-14. The entire 40 years were yet to be completed before actual entrance into Canaan. The wars with Sihon and Og (Num. 21) and with Amalek (Num. 31) were yet to be fought, the cities east of Jordan repaired and occupied by Israel, and many other things were to take place before the crossing of Jordan as in Josh. 3

A false rock (32:32)

These verses apply to Israel. Moses showed them that, although their Rock was different from the rock of the Gentiles, He would give them over to their enemies because their vine was of Sodom and they were producing the fruit of sin, rebellion, and depravity like the people of both Sodom and Gomorrah. Israel would have been able to smite their enemies because their Rock was not like that of pagans, had their fruit not been that of sin and rebellion. Sins of Israel, and not those of the Gentiles, are compared to those of Sodom and Gomorrah (v 32-33; Isa. 1:10; 3:9; Jer. 23:14; Ezek. 16:46)

9 Commandment to hear and obey to inherit God's blessing (Dt. 4:39, refs.)

NOW [b]these are the commandments, the statutes, and the judgments, which the LORD your God commanded to teach you, [c]that ye might do them in the land whither ye go to possess it:

2 That thou mightest [d]fear the LORD thy God, to keep all his statutes and his commandments, which I command thee, thou, [e]and thy son, and thy son's son, all the days of thy life; and that thy days may be [f]prolonged.

●3 ¶ Hear therefore, O Iṣ'ra-el, and [h]observe to do it; that it may be well with thee, and that ye may increase mightily, as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee, in the land that floweth with milk and honey.

10 The "first and great commandment" (Mt. 22:36; Ex. 20:1)

●4 [i]Hear, O Iṣ'ra-el: the [j]LORD our God is one LORD:

●5 And thou shalt love the LORD thy God with [k]all thine heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy might.

11 Duties of parents (v 20-25; 4:9)

●6 And these words, which I command thee this day, shall be [l]in thine heart:

●7 And thou shalt [m]teach them diligently unto thy children, and shalt talk of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, and when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

●8 And thou shalt bind them for a sign upon thine hand, and they shall be as frontlets between thine eyes.

●9 And thou shalt write them upon the posts of thy house, and on thy gates.

12 Warning of backsliding in prosperity (Dt. 8:10; 9:1)

*10 [n]And it shall be, when the LORD thy God shall have brought thee into [o]the land which he sware unto thy fathers, to Ā'brā-hăm, to Ĭ'ṣaac, and to Jā'cob, to give thee great and goodly cities, which thou buildedst not,

11 And houses full of all good things, which thou filledst not, and wells digged which thou diggedst not, vineyards and olive trees, which thou plantedst not; when thou shalt have eaten and be full;

●12 Then [p]beware lest thou forget the LORD, which brought thee forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the house of bondage.

●13 Thou shalt fear the LORD thy God, and serve him, and shalt swear by his name.

●14 Ye shall not go after other gods, of the gods of the people which are round about you;

15 (For the LORD thy God is a jealous God among you) [q]lest the anger of the LORD thy God be kindled against thee, and destroy thee from off the face of the earth.

●16 ¶ Ye shall not [r]tempt the LORD your God, as ye tempted him in Mās'sah.

●17 Ye shall [s]diligently keep the commandments of the LORD your God, and his testimonies, and his statutes, which he hath commanded thee.

●18 And thou shalt do that which is right and good in the sight of the LORD: that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest go in and possess the good land which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, 19 To cast out all thine enemies from before thee, as the LORD hath spoken.

13 Duties of parents (v 6)

20 [d]And when thy son asketh thee in time to come, saying, What mean the testimonies, and the statutes, and the judgments, which the LORD our God hath commanded you?

●21 Then thou shalt say unto thy son, We were Phā'raōh's bondmen in Ē'gўpt; and the LORD brought us out of Ē'gўpt with a mighty hand:

22 And the LORD shewed signs and wonders, great and sore, upon Ē'gўpt, upon Phā'raōh, and upon all his household, before our eyes:

23 And he brought us out from thence, that he might bring us in, to give us the land which he [t]sware unto our fathers.

24 And the LORD commanded us to do all these statutes, to fear the LORD our God, for our good always, that he might preserve us alive, as it is at this day.

25 And it shall be our righteousness, if we observe to do all these commandments before the LORD our God, as he hath commanded us.

a See 10 blessings - walking with God, p. 210

b These commandments refer to those of ch. 5 as well as those below

c The commandments were given for this purpose: that they might be obeyed (v 1), kept (v 2), cause fear of evil, and produce blessings (note a, above)

d This kind of fear is not the dread of a vengeful Being standing over man to punish for the least infraction of His law; it has more to do with respect and reverence of God as Father and Benefactor. Men must learn to respect God as the Lawgiver and Judge, keeping in mind the justice of God as well as His mercy and longsuffering. No man can walk with Him conscientiously or safely who has lost the fear of God e In all generations, whoever fears God will endeavor to bring his children up in the way of righteousness, that they also may fear Him and live clean and holy before Him in word and deed (2 Cor. 7:1; Eph. 6:4; Phil. 2:12; Heb. 12:28)

f See How to live long, p. 235

g 10 admonitions to hear God:
1 Hear what the Lord will command (Num. 9:8)
2 Hear now My words (Num. 12:6)
3 Hear, you sons of Levi (Num. 16:8)
4 Hear now, you rebels (Num. 20:10)
5 Hear, O Israel, the statutes and judgments (Dt. 5:1) it (Dt. 6:3)
6 Hear, O Israel, and observe to do
7 Hear, O Israel: the Lord our God is one Lord (Dt. 6:4)
8 Hear, O Israel, you are to pass over Jordan this day (Dt. 9:1)
9 Hear all these words (Dt. 12:28)
10 Hear, O Israel, you approach this day unto battle: let not your hearts faint, fear not (Dt. 20:3)

h 14 commands in Dt. 6:
1 Hear therefore, O Israel, and observe to do it (keep the law, v 3)
2 Hear, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord (v 4)
3 Thou shalt love the Lord your God with all your heart, and with all your soul, and with all your might (v 5) (v 6)
4 These words shall be in your heart
5 You shall teach them diligently to your children, and talk about them when you sit in your house, when you walk by the way, and when you lie down (v 7)
6 You shall bind them for a sign upon your hand, and frontlets between your eyes (v 8. Cp. Ex. 13:9)
7 You shall write them upon the posts of your house, and on your gates (v 9)
8 Beware lest you forget the Lord, which brought you out of Egypt (v 12)
9 You shall fear the Lord your God, serve Him, and swear by His name (v 13)
10 You shall not go after other gods, which are around you (v 14-15)
11 You shall not tempt the Lord your God (v 16)
12 You shall diligently keep the commandments, testimonies, and statutes of the Lord your God (v 17)
13 You shall do that which is right and good in the sight of Jehovah (v 18) 14 You shall tell your inquiring sons the true meanings of the commandments, statutes, and judgments, and dealings of God (v 20-25)

i See Unity of God, p. 235

j Heb. echad, from achad, to unify; collect; be united as one; one (Gen. 2:24; 3:22; 11:1, 6, Cp. Mt. 19:5; Jn. 11:52; 17:21-22; Acts 1:14; 2:1; 4:32; 5:12; 1 Cor. 12:12-13; Gal. 3:28; Eph. 1:10; 2:14-15; Heb. 2:11)

k This requires the total self-surrender of the whole being to God (Mt. 22:37)

l True love, true worship, and true and holy principles come from the heart - from within, as do the evil issues of life (v 6; Mk. 7:19-21). See Heart in Index

o 5 things God gave Israel:
1 The promise land (v 10)
2 Great and good cities already built
3 Houses full of good things, which were already built and stocked (v 11)
4 Wells already dug
5 Vineyards and oliveyards already planted and fruitful

1 Disobeying the angel (Ex. 23:21)

a With all the promises and benefits of the Bible in all the present contracts in force between God and man, there are, without exception, certain conditions and warnings given. God has always promised to curse the same people for disobedience whom He has promised to bless for obedience. God is no respecter of persons and there are no unconditional covenants and blessings. See 210 warnings, p. 284 of N. T.

b Ex. 17:7; Num. 14:22; Mt. 4:7

c 8 things to do diligently:
1 Hearken to God's voice (28:1; Ex. 15:26; Jer. 17:24; Zech. 6:15)
2 Keep your own soul in remembrance of things experienced (4:9)
3 Teach God's Word to children (6:7)
4 Keep the commandments (6:17)
5 Hearken to commandments (11:13)
6 Keep all the commandments (11:22)
7 Inquire for truth (13:14; 17:4) 8 Observe proper teaching (24:8)

d Question 12, Next, 7:17

e Gen. 12:1-7; 15:18-21; 17:8; 26:3; 28:4

f The Hittites were descendants of Heth, a son of Canaan (Gen. 10:15; 23:3-18; 27:46; 49:32). They were a great and mighty people from the time of Abraham to the rise of the Assyrian and Babylonian empires which defeated Israel and Judah and took them captive. The land of the Hittites was given to Israelites. It was first taken by Joshua (7:1; Ex. 3:8; Josh. 1:4; 9:1-12:24). Some of the Hittites served as officers in David's army (2 Sam. 11:3; 23:39), They served Solomon (1 Ki. 9:20-21), but retained their own kings in the north of Syria and some other parts (1 Ki. 10:29; 2 Ki. 7:6; 2 Chr. 1:17). Their power was completely broken by the time of Nebuchadnezzar

g A tribe that came from Canaan (7:1; Gen. 10:16; 15:21; Josh. 3:10; 24:11; Neh. 9:8)

h These were also descendants of Canaan (Gen. 10:15-16; 1 Chr. 1:13-14). Some were giants (Amos 2:9); they were smitten by Chedorlaomer and rescued by Abraham (Gen. 14); and their territory was given to Israel (Gen. 14:7; 15:21; 48:22; Num. 13:29; 21:13; 32:33-42; Josh. 3:10; 5:1; 12:2-3; 13:15-21; Judg. 1:35-36; 11:22-23)

i This term sometimes refers to the inhabitants of Canaan and the 11 nations descended from Canaan, the son of Ham (Gen. 10:15-19). They were corrupt nations and for that reason had to be exterminated (7:1-11; 19:1; 31:3-5; Gen. 13:13; Lev. 18:25-28; 20:23). Here, however, it seems that the word applies to a distinct nation separate from other nations who inhabited Canaan

j The word Perizzite literally means a villager - one who dwells in a village. It is associated with Canaanite in Gen. 13:7; 34:30; Judg. 1:4. In Dt. 3:5 and 1 Sam. 6:18, for the words unwalled towns and country villages the Sept. has Perizzite. It is clear from v 1 that Perizzites were a nation called by this name k This was a tribe of Canaanites who descended from Canaan, the son of Ham (Gen. 10:17; 1 Chr. 1:15). The Schechemites and Gibeonites were of the Hivite people (Gen. 32:2; Josh. 9:7; 11:19). Their land was given to Israel (v 1; 20:17; Ex. 23, 28; Judg. 3:5). They were conquered by Joshua (Josh. 9:1; 12:8; 24:11), and later served Solomon (1 Ki. 9:21; 2 Chr. 8:8)

l See 7:1-11; 12:1-5; 1 Sam. 15

6 commands - conquest of Canaan:
1 Smite the nations and utterly destroy them (v 2)
2 Make no covenant with them
3 Show them no mercy
4 Make no marriages with them (v 3)
5 Do not give your daughters to them, or take their daughters for your sons
6 You shall destroy their altars, break down their images, burn them, and cut down their groves (v 5) m The idea of showing no mercy was not cruel any more than the justice of a judge who cries and condemns a criminal. See Lev. 18 for the awful sins of these nations, for which they were rightly condemned

2 Backsliding (Dt. 6:12)
3 Forgetting God (Dt. 8:11)
4 Evil thoughts (Dt. 15:9)
5 Transgressing God's Word (Judg. 13:4, 13). See Beware in Index

a Here we have the reasons for the 6 commands of v 1-6 requiring Israel to destroy utterly the corrupt nations of Canaan and not to inter-marry or have any relationship whatsoever with them 4 reasons for total segregation:
1 They will turn away your children from following Me (v 4)
2 They will cause them to become idol worshippers, so that I will have to destroy them
3 You are a holy people unto Me (v 6)
4 I have chosen you to be a special people unto Me above all others on the face of the earth

b God gave many such warnings to Israel before their backsliding to assure them that He was a God of justice and judgment as well as one of mercy and forgiveness (v 4). He plainly outlined His will for them, promising rewards for obedience and specific curses for disobedience. God was therefore under as much obligation to curse them as to bless them. It is contrary to Bible truth to say that His love, mercy, and grace obligate Him to bless only and not to curse, for disobedience. Grace covers sin only if it is properly confessed and put away. See Grace in Index

c 10 things Israel was to God: 3:7)
1 My people (said many times, Ex.
2 Peculiar treasure (Ex. 19:5; Dt. 26:18) 4:6)
3 Wise-understanding people (Dt.
4 People of inheritance (Dt. 4:20)
5 An holy people (Dt. 7:6; 14:2, 21)
6 A special people (Dt. 7:6)
7 Peculiar people (Dt. 14:2; 1 Pet. 2:9)
8 The people of God (2 Sam. 14:13)
9 The ancient people (Isa. 44:7)
10 An holy nation (1 Pet. 2:9)

d 2 reasons why God chose Israel:
1 Not because they were many, for they were the fewest of people, but because the Lord loved them (v 7-8)
2 Because He wanted to keep His word and perform His oath to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 8; Gen. 12:1-3, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:4-8, 19-21; 22:17; 26:4-5; 28:3-4, 13-15)

e 2fold work of God for Israel (v 8):
1 Brought them out with a mighty hand
2 Redeemed them out of slavery - from the house of bondage

f 7 things to know about God (v 9-10):
1 The Lord your God, He is God
2 He is the faithful God. Literally, this entire statement is: Jehovah (the Eternal) your Elohim (Creator), He is the Elohim (the Creator), the faithful El (the Almighty, the Strong One)
3 He keeps covenant with His people
4 He shows mercy with them that love Him and keep His commandments
5 He keeps covenant and shows mercy to a thousand generations - eternal generations
6 He repayeth them that hate Him to their face; that is, they will personally know that their judgment is from God
7 His payment to rebels is death - they will perish at the hands of God

g This is equivalent to eternal generations. See Generations in Index

h 9th prophecy in Dt. (7:11-24, fulfilled in settlement of Canaan). Next, 8:7 See 27 conditional blessings, p. 235

i 7 commands - conditions of blessing:
1 You shall keep the commandments, statutes, and judgments (v 11)
2 You shall not show pity upon your enemies who must be destroyed (v 16)
3 Do not serve their gods
4 Do not be afraid of the nations about you (v 18) gods (v 25)
5 Burn all the graven images of their
6 Do not desire the silver or gold that is upon them, nor take it for yourselves
7 Do not bring an abomination into your house; you shall utterly detest and abhor the cursed thing (v 25-26)

j Once again the condition of blessing is stated - if you hear, keep and do the judgments, then Jehovah will keep His part of the covenant, show the mercy which He sware to your fathers, and fulfil all the promises k The 3rd time God made a promise to take away all sickness and make Israel immune from all diseases (v 15; Ex. 15:26; 23:25. Cp. Ps. 91; 103:3; Isa. 53 and 58)

l Heb. choliy. Trans. sickness (v 15; 28:59, 61; 1 Ki. 17:17; 2 Ki. 13:14; 21:15, 19; Ps. 41:3; Eccl. 5:17; Isa. 1:5; 38:9, unto his son, nor his daughter shalt thou take unto thy son.

●4 [a]For they will turn away thy son from following me, that they may serve other gods: [b]so will the anger of the LORD be kindled against you, and destroy thee suddenly.
●5 But thus shall ye deal with them; ye shall destroy their altars, and break down their images, and cut down their groves, and burn their graven images with fire.
6 For thou art an [c]holy people unto the LORD thy God: the LORD thy God hath chosen thee to be a special people unto himself, above all people that are upon the face of the earth.

15 Why God chose Israel (Dt. 9:1-6; Gen. 18:19)

7 The LORD [d]did not set his love upon you, nor choose you, because ye were more in number than any people; for ye were the fewest of all people:
8 But because the LORD loved you, and because he would keep the oath which he had sworn unto your fathers, hath the LORD [e]brought you out with a mighty hand, and redeemed you out of the house of bondmen, from the hand of Phā'raōh king of Ē'gўpt.

16 God's character (Dt. 10:12-22; 32:3-4)

9 [f]Know therefore that the LORD thy God, he is God, the faithful God, which keepeth covenant and mercy with them that love him and keep his commandments to [g]a thousand generations;
10 And repayeth them that hate him to their face, to destroy them: he will not be slack to him that hateth him, he will repay him to his face.

17 Twenty-seven conditional blessings (Dt. 28:1)

11 [h]Thou [i]shalt therefore keep the commandments, and the statutes, and the judgments, which I command thee this day, to do them.
12 ¶ Wherefore it shall come to pass, [j]if ye hearken to these judgments, and keep, and do them, that the LORD thy God shall keep unto thee the covenant and the mercy which he sware unto thy fathers:
13 And he will love thee, and bless thee, and multiply thee: he will also bless the fruit of thy womb, and the fruit of thy land, thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep, in the land which he sware unto thy fathers to give thee.
14 Thou shalt be blessed above all people: there shall not be male or female barren among you, or among your cattle.
15 And the LORD will [k]take away from thee all [l]sickness, and will put none of the [m]evil diseases of Ē'gўpt, which thou knowest, upon thee; but will lay them upon all them that hate thee.
16 And thou shalt [n]consume all the people which the LORD thy God shall deliver thee; thine eye shall have [o]no pity upon them: neither shalt thou serve their gods; for that will be a snare unto thee.
17 If thou shalt say in thine heart, These nations are more than I; [p]how can I dispossess them?
●18 Thou shalt not be afraid of them: but shalt well remember what the LORD thy God did unto Phā'raōh, and unto all Ē'gўpt;
19 The great temptations which thine eyes saw, and the signs, and the wonders, and the mighty hand, and the stretched out arm, [q]whereby the LORD thy God brought thee out: so shall the LORD thy God do unto all the people of whom thou art afraid.
20 Moreover the LORD thy God will send the [r]hornet among them, until they that are left, and hide themselves from thee, be destroyed.
21 Thou shalt not be affrighted at them: for the LORD thy God is among you, a [s]mighty God and terrible.
22 And the LORD thy God will put out those nations before thee by little and little: thou mayest not consume them at once, lest the beasts of the field increase upon thee.
23 But the LORD thy God shall deliver them unto thee, and shall destroy them with a mighty destruction, until they be destroyed.
24 And he shall deliver their kings into thine hand, and thou shalt destroy their name from under heaven: there shall no man be able to stand before thee, until thou have destroyed them.
●25 The graven images of their gods shall ye burn with fire: thou shalt not desire the silver or gold that is on them, nor take it unto thee, lest thou be snared therein: for it is an abomination to the LORD thy God.
●26 Neither shalt thou bring an abomination into thine house, lest thou be a cursed thing like it: but thou shalt utterly detest it, and thou shalt utterly abhor it; for it is a [t]cursed thing.

CHAPTER 8 — 161

V Warnings and exhortations (Dt. 8:1-11:32). 1 Command to obey the law (Dt. 4:39)

●ALL the commandments which I command thee this day [u]shall ye observe to do, that ye may live, and multiply, and go in and possess the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers.

2 Reasons for God's testing Israel in the wilderness

●2 And thou shalt remember all the way which the LORD thy God led thee these forty years in the wilderness, [v]to humble thee, and to prove thee, to know what was in thine heart, whether thou wouldest keep his commandments, or no.
3 And he [w]humbled thee, and a If consume means annihilation or extinction of being, as some false religions teach, in seeking to annul faith in a real and everlasting hell or eternal torment, then we should be required to believe that:

1 Jacob was annihilated daily when herding cattle for Laban (Gen. 31:40)
2 A premature child is half annihilated when born (Num. 12:12)
3 The city of Ar and the lords of Moab were annihilated while yet in existence (Num. 21:28) 21)
4 Food eaten is annihilated (Judg. 6:
The same Heb. word akal is used in all these passages, so if it means annihilation in one, it means that in the others

b No pity was to be shown because of the depravity of the people, and the fact that Israel would be led into sin and eternal hell through them if permitted to integrate in any degree (v 16)

c Question 13, Next, 10:13

d 7 things God did in the exodus:
1 Destroyed Pharaoh and army (v 18)
2 Destroyed all Egypt
3 Showed great temptations (Heb. maccah, trials, v 19; note k, 29:3) and 4 Signs (note e, 4:34; note a, 26:8)
5 Wonders (note e, 4:34; note a, 26:8)
6 A mighty hand (note a, 26:8)
7 A stretched-out arm (note a, 26:8)

e A fierce kind of wasp, about an inch long, strong and greedy of food, and one that caused terror among men and beasts (v 20; 2:25; Ex. 23:27-28; Josh. 24:12). Instances of whole nations being driven out by such creatures are fully attested by ancient writers

f 4 things about Israel's God (v 21):
1 He is Lord (Jehovah, the Eternal)
2 God (Elohim, Creator)
3 The mighty God (El, the Strong One, the Almighty)
4 He is terrible (the One who inspires reverence, fear, dread, and fright)

g A cursed thing was anything devoted to destruction (v 25-26; 13:17; Josh. 6:18; 7:1-26; Isa. 34:5; 43:28; Mal. 4:6)

h 7 commands - obedience:
1 Observe to do all the commandments (v 1)
2 Remember all the way which the Lord led you these 40 years in the wilderness (v 2)
3 Consider in your heart the chastening of God (v 5)
4 Keep the commandments, to walk in His ways, and to fear Him (v 6)
5 Bless the Lord for the good land He has given you (v 10)
6 Beware that you do not forget God and break His commandments in prosperity (v 11-17)
7 Remember that it is God who gives power to get wealth (v 17-18)

i 2fold purpose of God in testing Israel:
1 To humble them (v 2-3, 16)
2 To prove them by various tests so as to know their hearts and see whether they would love Him and keep His laws (v 2-6, 16)

j Here we have the method God used to humble and test Israel. Hunger, thirst, lack of supplies, and other chastenings were used (v 3-6)

12; Hos. 5:15). It is also trans. disease (2 Ki. 1:2; 8:8-9; 2 Chr. 16:12; 21:18; Job 30:18; Ps. 38:7; Eccl. 6:3); and grief (Isa. 53:3-4; Jer. 6:7; 10:19). Cp. Ex. 15:25; 23:25; 1 Ki. 8:37; 2 Chr. 6:28; 21:15. The root word is chalah, to be worn, weak, sick, to grieve, make sick, or be diseased; and it is trans. diseased (1 Ki. 15:23; 2 Chr. 16:12); sick (Gen. 48:1; 1 Sam. 19:14; 30:13; 2 Sam. 13:2-6; 1 Ki. 14:1, 5; 17:17; 2 Ki. 1:2; 8:7, 29; 13:14; 20:1, 12; 2 Chr. 22:6; 32:24; Neh. 2:2; Ps. 35:13; Pr. 13:12; 23:35; Song 2:5; 5:8; Isa. 33:24; 38:1, 9; 39:1; Ezek. 34:4, 16; Dan. 8:27; Hos. 7:5; Mic. 6:13; Mal. 1:8, 13); weak (Judg. 16:7, 17; Isa. 14:10); and grief (Isa. 17:11; 53:10; 57:10; Jer. 10:19; 14:17; 30:12; Amos 6:6)

m Heb. madveh, sickness; disease (v 15; 28:60). Not the same as machalah trans. diseases (Ex. 15:26; 2 Chr. 21:15); sickness (Ex. 23:25; 1 Ki. 8:37; 2 Chr. 6:28); and infirmity (Pr. 18:14). All sicknesses and diseases are but progressive forms of death, and are the wages of sin - the results of the invisible sentence of the righteous judgment of God. They are called evil here because they come from evil, sin and the fall of man, and are propagated by satanic powers (Lk. 13:16; Jn. 10:10; Acts 10:38)

a See Ex. 16-17; Num. 11, 20
b An explanation is given here showing why Israel was permitted to be tested with hunger and then supplied with the manna - that God might teach them that man does not live by material food alone, but also on spiritual food, by the Word of God (v 3) c This part of the verse was quoted by Christ in His great victory over Satan (Mt. 4:4; Lk. 4:4) d This was a notable miracle, one of the greatest considering how fast clothes wear out (v 4). This does not mean that clothes grew larger or smaller (for infants when needed) but that the various sizes and kinds of garments for the families lasted throughout the 40 years

g 10th prophecy in Dt. (8:7-20, v 7-9 fulfilled in the settlement of Canaan and for centuries afterward; v 10-20 fulfilled in the backslidings and dispersion of Israel among the nations in 749 and 616 B.C. and 70 A.D.). Next, 9:3

m How accurately God knew Israel in speaking prophetically of their natural inclination to forget Him in times of prosperity and success. The same trait is found in all nations with but few exceptions. Only individuals have guarded themselves against this temptation. Man is so depraved that he wants to take credit to himself for success and prosperity, when the truth is that God is the one with the power of wealth, as stated to Israel in v 17-18. It is the highest will of God that all men prosper, especially His own children, giving Him the glory for same. To this end He has made abundant provision and given exceeding great and precious promises that we might have all things that pertain to life and godliness (2 Pet. 1:3-4; 3 Jn. 2). The believer in Christ can ask what he will and it shall be done (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26). There is no limitation to the one who is unselfish, uncovetous, and consecrated to the best good of all. It is only when one becomes selfish and seeks prosperity at the expense of others that he disqualifies himself in claiming the fulfillment of all the promises of God n 5 blessings of prosperity:
1 Eating to the full (v 12) things
2 Goodly houses filled with good
3 Multiplied herds and flocks (v 13)
4 Multiplied silver and gold
5 Multiplied blessings of every kind o 2 temptations of prosperity (v 14):
1 Pride and self-exaltation
2 Tendency to forget God as the cause of blessings and turning to reliance upon self and personal ability. Cp. v 17-18

x This is where pride is conceived, developed, and from where it breaks forth. In the final stage it will be manifest in various ways (v 17, Cp. Ezek. 28:11-17)
y God gives power to get wealth, so it is not sinful in itself (v 18), it is the misuse of wealth, its use contrary to the law and will of God that constitutes sin suffered thee to [q]hunger, and fed thee with manna, which thou knewest not, neither did thy fathers know; [b]that he might make thee know that man [r]doth not live by bread only, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of the LORD doth man live.

4 [d]Thy raiment waxed not old upon thee, neither did thy foot swell, these forty years.

●5 Thou shalt also consider in thine heart, that, as a man chasteneth his son, so the LORD thy God [e]chasteneth thee.

●6 Therefore thou [f]shalt keep the commandments of the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to fear him.

3 God's description of Canaan (Dt. 6:10; 11:10)

★7 [g]For the LORD thy God bringeth thee into a [h]good land, a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills;

8 A land of wheat, and barley, and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil olive, and honey;

9 A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without [i]scarceness, thou shalt not lack any thing in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig [j]brass.

4 Warning of backsliding in prosperity (Dt. 6:10)

10 [k]When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the LORD thy God for the good land which he hath given thee.

●11 [l]Beware that thou forget not the LORD thy God, in not keeping his commandments, and his judgments, and his statutes, which I command thee this day:

12 [m]Lest when thou hast eaten and art [n]full, and hast built goodly houses, and dwelt therein;

13 And when thy herds and thy flocks multiply, and thy silver and thy gold is multiplied, and all that thou hast is multiplied;

14 Then [o]thine heart be lifted up, and thou forget the LORD thy God, [p]which brought thee forth out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, from the house of bondage;

15 Who led thee through that great and [q]terrible wilderness, wherein were [r]fiery serpents, and [s]scorpions, and [t]drought, where there was no water; who brought thee forth water out of the rock of flint;

16 Who [u]fed thee in the wilderness with manna, which thy fathers knew not, [v]that he might humble thee, and that he might prove thee, to do thee good at thy [w]latter end;

17 And thou say [x]in thine heart, My power and the might of mine hand hath gotten me this wealth.

●18 But thou shalt remember the LORD thy God: for it is he that [y]giveth thee power to get wealth, that he may establish his covenant which he sware unto thy fathers, as it is this day.

19 And it shall be, if thou do at all [z]forget the LORD thy God, and walk after other gods, and serve them, and worship them, I testify against you this day that ye shall surely perish.

20 As the nations which the LORD destroyeth before your face, [b]so shall ye perish; because ye would not be obedient unto the voice of the LORD your God.

162 CHAPTER 9

5 Warning of pride in victory (Dt. 6:10, refs.)

HEAR, O Is'ra-el: Thou art to pass over Jor'dan this day, to go in to possess [a]nations greater and mightier than thyself, cities great and [c]fenced up to heaven,

2 A people [f]great and tall, the children of the [g]An'a-kims, whom thou knowest, and of whom thou hast heard say, Who can stand before the children of A'năk!

★3 [h]Understand therefore this day, that the LORD thy God is he which goeth over before thee; as a consuming fire he shall destroy them, and he shall bring them down before thy face: so shalt thou drive them out, and destroy them quickly, as the LORD hath said unto thee.

●4 [i]Speak not thou in thine heart, after that the LORD thy God hath cast them out from before thee, saying, For my righteousness the LORD hath brought me in to possess this land: but for the wickedness of these nations the LORD doth drive them out from before thee.

5 Not for thy righteousness, or for the uprightness of thine heart, dost thou go to possess their land: but for the wickedness of these nations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee, and that he may perform the word which the LORD sware unto thy fathers, A'bră-hăm, I'şaac, and Ja'cob.

●6 Understand therefore, that the LORD thy God giveth thee not this good land to possess it for thy righteousness; for thou art a stiffnecked people.

6 Forty years of failure and rebellion charged to Israel

●7 ¶ Remember, and forget not, how thou provokedst the LORD thy God to wrath in the wilderness: [j]from the day that thou didst depart out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt, until ye came unto this place, ye have been rebellious against the LORD.

7 Failure at Sinai (Ex. 32): two 40 day fasts of Moses (v 9, 18, 25; 10:10)

8 Also in Hō'reb ye provoked the LORD to wrath, so that the LORD was angry with you to have destroyed you.

9 [k]When I was gone up into the mount to receive the tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant which the LORD made with you, when I abode in the a 4 sins causing Israel to perish:

1 Forgetting God in any degree (v 19)
2 Walking after other gods
3 Serving and obeying other gods
4 Worshipping and bowing down to other gods
b God promised to destroy Israel for certain sins - the same sins which He caused them to destroy the wicked nations of Canaan for (v 20). This points to the fact that God is no respecter of persons and that no individual or nation that backslides and lives in sin, after serving Him, can hope to escape His righteous judgment. Israel as a nation knew God and had many experiences of grace and power not enjoyed by any others; yet God said they would be destroyed because they continued not in obedience (v 8; Rom. 11). See 210 warnings, p. 284 and O.T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N.T.
c 6 commands - obedience:
1 Hear - you are to pass over Jordan and possess nations greater than you (v 1)
2 Understand that I will go before you like a consuming fire to destroy them before you (v 3)
3 You shall drive them out and destroy them quickly
4 Speak not in your heart, after I have cast them out before you, that it was for your righteousness that the Lord caused you to inherit the land; it was because of the wickedness of those nations (v 4-5)
5 Understand that the Lord does not give you this land because of your own righteousness, for you are a stiffnecked people (v 6)
6 Remember, forget not, how you provoked Me to wrath in the wilderness from the exodus until now and have been rebellious against Me (v 7-24)
d God's 3fold description of enemies (v 1):
1 Nations greater and mightier than you en
2 Cities great and walled up to heaven. Cp. Gen. 11:4
3 A people great and tall
e Walled up to heaven. Cp. Gen. 11:4
f God Himself recognized that the giants facing Israel were greater, mightier, and taller, and had cities walled up to heaven, as it were (v 1). They were the giants from the 2nd eruption of fallen angels and the daughters of men, after the flood of Noah. See Giants, p. 62
g The descendants of Anak, one of the most powerful of the giants (v 2; 1:28; 2:10-11, 21; Num. 13:22, 28, 33; Josh. 11:21-22; 14:12-15; 15:13-14; 21:11; Judg. 1:20)
h 11th prophecy in Dt. (9:3-6; fulfilled in conquest of Canaan). Next, 11:13. Not only did God tell Israel the truth concerning their enemies and how it would be impossible to overcome them without His help, but He assured them of His going before them like a consuming fire to devour these giant races (v 3). If they readily believed concerning the power of their enemies, they should have believed as quickly that they could overcome them with God's help i This is the equivalent of saying: When the Lord enables you to get complete mastery of your enemies, do not take the credit to yourselves; you must recognize that you were powerless in yourselves, and that it was only through the help of God that you overcame them (v 4); furthermore, that is was not for any righteousness of your own that God gave you victory over your enemies, but rather, because of the wickedness of those nations and the promise of God to give their land to Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 5-6; Gen. 12:1-7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:1-8, 19-21; 26:3-4; 28:3-4, 13-15). This clearly illustrates the doctrine of salvation by grace through faith and that not of self (Eph. 2:8-9). God makes it distinctly clear that they were not righteous in themselves, but that they were a stiffnecked and rebellious people. In the following passages Moses gave many instances of their rebellions to prove that it was not because of their goodness that God helped them (v 4-29)
j The period covered from the exodus until now of v 7, was 40 years (2:7; 8:2, 4; 29:5; Josh. 5:6) d The 10 commandments only, for they were the only words God spake with an audible voice to Israel on Sinai (v 10; 5:6-22; Ex. 20:1-17). This is the part in particular that Paul said was abolished and done away (2 Cor. 3:6-16). They are not now in force, for all the old covenant has been abolished. The new covenant is now in force, and only such commandments as were carried over to it from the old. No man should attempt to obey one of the 10 commandments simply because he recognizes it as a part of the old covenant which is abolished; but he should endeavor to keep every one of the 10 included in and made a part of the new covenant. Only 9 of the 10 are in the new covenant, the 4th one having been left out entirely; and so, it is no longer in force. See p. 159 of N. T. e For this story see Ex. 32

f Moses was in the habit of interfering with God when He threatened to destroy Israel; so God wanted him to refrain himself on this occasion, and not plead for mercy for them (v 14; Ex. 32:10-14)

h This was the second 40-days that Moses fasted without eating or drinking. Whether he ate anything between the times is not stated (Ex. 32:15-35; 34:1-35). If he ate nothing this was the longest fast on record - 80 days. This 40-days is referred to in v 25-29
i Aaron would have been destroyed by God for making the golden calf if it had not been for the intercession of Moses (v 20). He continued to live about 38 more years and died on mount Hor just before the entrance into Canaan (Num. 20:22-29)

1 Love God wholeheartedly (v 5)
2 Have God's words in the heart (v 6)

2 A land of brooks of water
3 A land of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills
4 A land of wheat (v 8)
5 Of barley

12 A land of wealth in iron and brass mount forty days and forty nights, that I might neither eat bread nor drink water:

10 And the LORD [b]delivered unto me two tables of stone written with the [c]finger of God; and on them was written according to [d]all the words, which the LORD spake with you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly.

11 [e]And it came to pass at the end of forty days and forty nights, that the LORD gave me the two tables of stone, even the tables of the covenant.

¶12 And the LORD said unto me, Arise, get thee down quickly from hence; for thy people which thou hast brought forth out of Ĕ'gўpt have corrupted themselves; they are quickly turned aside out of the way which I commanded them; they have made them a molten image.

●13 Furthermore the LORD spake unto me, saying, I have seen this people, and, behold, it is a stiffnecked people:

14 [f]Let me alone, that I may destroy them, and blot out their name from under heaven: and I will make of thee a nation mightier and greater than they.

15 So I turned and came down from the mount, and the mount burned with fire: and the two tables of the covenant were in my two hands.

16 And I looked, and, behold, ye had sinned against the LORD your God, and had made you a molten calf: ye had turned aside quickly out of the way which the LORD had commanded you.

17 And I took the two tables, and [g]cast them out of my two hands, and brake them before your eyes.

18 And I fell down before the LORD, [h]as at the first, forty days and forty nights: I did neither eat bread, nor drink water, because of all your sins which ye sinned, in doing wickedly in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger.

19 For I was afraid of the anger and hot displeasure, wherewith the LORD was wroth against you to destroy you. But the LORD hearkened unto me at that time also.

20 And the LORD was very angry with Aâr'on [i]to have destroyed him: and I prayed for Aâr'on also the same time.

21 And [j]I took your sin, the calf which ye had made, and burnt it with fire, and stamped it, and ground it very small, even until it was as small as dust: and I cast the dust thereof into the brook that descended out of the mount.

8 Four failures: Taberah (Num. 11:1-3); Massah (Ex. 17:1-7); Kibroth-hattaavah (Num. 11:31-35; and Kadesh (Num. 13-14)

22 And [k]at Tăb'e-rah, and [l]at Măs'sah, and [m]at Kĭb'roth-hattă'a-vah, ye provoked the LORD to wrath.

¶23 Likewise when the LORD sent you [n]from Kā'desh-băr'ne-ă, saying, Go up and possess the land which I have given you; then ye rebelled against the commandment of the LORD your God, and ye believed him not, nor hearkened to his voice.

24 Ye have been rebellious against the LORD [o]from the day that I knew you.

9 Moses' second forty day fast at Sinai (v 18). See other two fasts (Dt. 9:9; 10:10)

25 [p]Thus I fell down before the LORD forty days and forty nights, as I fell down at the first; because the LORD had said he would destroy you.

26 I prayed therefore unto the LORD, and [q]said, O Lord GOD, destroy not thy people and thine inheritance, which thou hast redeemed through thy greatness, which thou hast brought forth out of Ĕ'gўpt with a mighty hand.

27 Remember thy servants, Ă'brā-hăm, ĭ'şaac, and Jā'cob; look not unto the stubbornness of this people, nor to their wickedness, nor to their sin:

28 Lest the land whence thou broughtest us out say, Because the LORD was not able to bring them into the land which he promised them, and because he hated them, he hath brought them out to slay them in the wilderness.

29 Yet they are thy people and thine inheritance, which thou broughtest out by thy mighty power and by thy stretched out arm.

163 CHAPTER 10

10 Second tables of stone retold (Ex. 34)

AT [a]that time the LORD said unto me, [b]Hew thee two tables of [c]stone like unto the first, and come up unto me into the mount, and [d]make thee an ark of wood.

●2 And [e]I will write on the tables the words that were in the first tables which thou brakest, and thou shalt put them in the ark.

3 And I made an ark of shittim wood, and hewed two tables of stone like unto the first, and went up into the mount, having the two tables in mine hand.

4 And he wrote on the tables, according to the first writing, the ten commandments, which the LORD spake unto you in the mount out of the midst of the fire in the day of the assembly: and the LORD [f]gave them unto me.

5 And I turned myself and came down from the mount, and [g]put the tables in the ark which I had made; and there they be, as the LORD commanded me.

11 Journeys: Beeroth to Jotbath (Num. 20:22-29; 33:31-38)

a See Num. 13-14 for this story b Moses made it clear here that he did not originally intend to send the 12 spies; he had commanded Israel to go up immediately from Kadesh-Barnea to possess the land. Instead, the elders came pleading with him to send spies to see that the land was as God had described it, so they would know whether they could overcome the people in it (v 23). Thus, Israel rebelled against the commandment of God, questioned His revelation regarding the land, and did not really believe that He would enable them to conquer the giants and other inhabitants of Canaan. See note f, 1:22 and notes on Num. 13-14
c 2 things known of Israel:
1 That they had provoked God from the exodus until now (v 7)
2 That they had rebelled against God from the day Moses knew them until now (v 24)
This implies that they did not provoke God until He personally began to lead them out of Egypt, and that He tolerated previous rebellions because He knew they were in misery and sufferings, and had no champion to deliver them. Now that they had one who had shown them God's great power, there was no excuse for acts of provocation against Him. He expected them to obey His laws as they had promised 3 times (Ex. 19:8; 24:3, 7) d This refers to the second 40-days mentioned in v 18-21. It is not then (after the 40-days fast of v 18-21), but thus I fell down, referring to a previous 40-days and not a new period (v 25-29)
e 3 requests of Moses to God for Israel:
1 Destroy not Your people, Your inheritance, which You have redeemed and brought out of Egypt with power (v 26)
2 Remember Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, meaning: What would they think and say if You destroyed them? (v 27)
3 Look not at their stubbornness or wickedness and sin, lest their enemies boast of Your lack of power to bring them into the promised land, saying You hated them and brought them out to the wilderness to kill them (v 28). After all, they are still Your people and You are obligated to them (v 29)
f At the time of going up into the mount for the second 40-day fast (Ex. 34)
g 3 commands - tables of stone and ark:
1 Hew 2 tables of stone like the first (v 1)
2 Make an ark of wood
3 Come up unto Me into the mount h Who hewed the first tables of stone is not stated. It is only said that God would give them (on which He had written the 10 commandments), to Moses (Ex. 24:12)
i This is no doubt the same ark mentioned in Ex. 25:10-22. Moses had received the instructions on how to build the tabernacle and its furniture during the first 40-days, so it could be that the workers of the tabernacle built it for him before or during his stay in the mount the second 40-days. It seems from v 3, 5; Ex. 34:4 that the stones only were taken up on the mount in Moses' hands and were brought back down and put into the ark which remained in the camp
j God promised to write the 10 commandments again, on stone, as He had written them before (v 2; Ex. 24:12; 32:15; 34:1,4). From Ex. 34:27-28 it might seem that Moses wrote on the new stones, but upon close examination and from the above passages it is clear that the pronoun refers to Jehovah and not to Moses. What could be referred to in Ex. 34:27 is a command for Moses also to write the 10 commandments, as a separate record. The fact is that Moses did write them two times (Ex. 20 and Dt. 5). Besides this, he wrote parts of them in other places of his writings. Moses, himself testified that God wrote on the second tables and gave them to him (v 4) k This was the second time the Lord gave Moses the tables of stone and the 10 commandments written on them (v 4; Ex. 24:12; 32:15-19; 34:29)
l This confirms the fact that the ark remained in the camp, and that when Moses came down with the tables of stone that he put them in the ark, and there they be, as the Lord commanded. It also confirms the fact that this ark

The doctrine of circumcision is mentioned in only 11 passages of the O.T. and in only 4 after this one (Gen. 17:10-27; 21:4; 34:15-24; Ex. 4:26; 12:44-48; Lev. 12:3; Dt. 10:16; 30:6; Josh. 5:2-8; Jer. 4:4; 9:25). It is mentioned only 2 times outside the Pentateuch (in the O.T.), and referred to in 27 passages of the N.T., mostly to expose the lack of merit of literal circumcision as a means of salvation (Lk. 1:59; 2:21; Jn. 7:22-23; Acts 7:8, 22; 10:45; 11:2; 15:1, 5, 24; 16:3; Rom. 2:25-29; 3:1, 30; 4:9-12; 15:8; 1 Cor. 7:18-19; Gal. 2:3-12; 5:2-6, 11; 6:12-15; Eph. 3:3; Phil. 3:3-5; Col. 2:11; 3:11; 4:11; Tit. 1:10)

17 Twelve great acts of God

2 And [d]know ye this day: for I speak not with your children which have not known, and which have not seen the chastisement of the LORD your God, his greatness, his mighty hand, and his stretched out arm,
3 And his miracles, and his acts, which he did in the midst of Ē'gўpt unto Phā'raōh the king of Ē'gўpt, and unto all his land;
4 And what he did unto the army of Ē'gўpt, unto their horses, and to their chariots; how he made the water of the Red sea to overflow them as they pursued after you, and how the LORD hath destroyed them unto this day;
5 And what he did unto you in the wilderness, until ye came into this place;
6 And what he did unto Dā'than and Ā-bī'ram, the sons of Ē-lī'ab, the son of Reu'ben: how the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed them up, and their households, and their tents, and all the substance that was in their possession, in the midst of all Ĭs'ra-el:
7 But your eyes have seen all the great acts of the LORD which he did.

18 Israel again warned to keep the law and obey God (Dt. 4:39, refs.)

●8 Therefore shall ye keep all the commandments which I command you this day, [e]that ye may be strong, and go in and possess the land, whither ye go to possess it;
9 And that ye may prolong your days in the land, which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give unto them and to their seed, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

19 God's description of Canaan (Dt. 6:10; 8:7)

10 ¶ For the land, whither thou goest in to possess it, is not as the land of Ē'gўpt, from whence ye came out, where thou sowedst thy seed, [f]and wateredst it with thy foot, as a garden of herbs:
11 But the land, whither ye go to possess it, is a land of hills and valleys, and drinketh water of the rain of heaven:
12 A land which the LORD thy God careth for: the eyes of the LORD thy God are always upon it, from the beginning of the year even unto the end of a See Gen. 46:27, note

b This is Moses' interpretation of God's promise to multiply Israel as the stars of the sky (v 22; Gen. 15:5; 22:17; 26:4; Ex. 32:13, Cp. 1 Chr. 27:23; Neh. 9:23)

5 Teach them to your children, speaking to them when you sit in the house, walk by the way, lie down, and rise up (v 19)
6 Write them upon the door posts of your house, and upon your gates (v 20)
7 Observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day (v 32)

11 Fear in the hearts of enemies
12 Blessings of all kinds (v 27)
f Scarcely ever any water fell in Egypt, Irrigation was carried on by hard labor, digging trenches, and turning wheels by treading so that water would be brought up from the river in buckets and poured into the trenches. In Palestine there was plenty of rainfall for the crops

The Argob (3:4)

The name of a region east of Jordan, part of the kingdom of Og (v 4; 1 Kl. 4:13). It was in Bashan, called the land of sacred romance, which of course, suggests the marriages of sons of God with daughters of men, as taught in Scripture. See Giants, p. 62. The giants produced by such union (after the flood) were a constant terror to Israel from the exodus to the time of David
That Argob, and in fact, all of Bashan was occupied by giants in ancient times is evident from the massive structures of the cities, many remains of which still exist. Travellers say that the houses are of huge blocks of basalt (dark marble), a particular feature being the almost entire absence of wood. Doors, staircases, galleries, roofs and other parts of buildings are made of marble. The houses of Bashan truly show evidence of not being ordinary ones. Some of the walls are 5 to 8 feet thick and built of large squared blocks. Roof slabs of basalt are as much as 6 inches thick while some ceilings are 20 to 30 feet high and doors are 10 feet or more high

10 blessings - walking with God (8:3)

1 That you may have mercy (5:10)
2 Your days may be prolonged (5:16, 33; 6:2) 6:3, 18)
3 It may be well with you (5:16, 33; 6:3, 18)
4 It may be well with your children forever (5:29; 6:2)
5 You may live (5:33; 6:24)
6 You may increase mightily (6:3)
7 You may prosper (6:18) 19)

9 You may have the best good (6:24)
10 You may be righteous (6:25)

7 things God is to His people in Dt. 33:27-29

1 Eternal refuge (v 27)
2 Protector and sustainer
3 Deliverer from all enemies
4 Fountain of life (v 28)
5 Saviour (v 29)
6 Shield and defense
7 Sword of offense
These things God has been to His people in all ages and thus He will continue to be in the ages to come. Many times He has proved to be the only refuge, protector, sustainer, deliverer, and helper that man could find (Ex. 6-12; Judg. 2:16-19; 1 Sam. 14; Isa. 37:36-Heb. 11:32-40). He has always come on time to deliver the distressed ones a 12th prophecy in Dt. (11:13-32, fulfilled in both the blessing and the curse. The blessing will again be fulfilled in all eternity with Israel, under the Messiah). Next, 15:4

b 15 conditions of Palestinian covenant:

11 Walk in all His ways

15 You shall observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day (v 32)

c 14 blessings of Palestinian covenant:
1 Rain in due season upon the land, the former rain and the latter rain (v 14). The early rain fell in October to moisten the parched soil, and prepare it for sowing. The latter rain fell in March to bring the crops to maturity oil
2 Abundant crops of corn, wine and 3 Good pastures for stock that you may be prosperous and full (v 15)

2 No rain from heaven
3 Crop failures
4 To perish quickly from off the good land given you by Jehovah
5 A curse if you disobey My covenant or if you go after other gods and worship them (v 26-28)

e See Phylacteries, p. 235

f Parents were to teach their children the Word of God in all places and at all times so that it might become instilled within their hearts (v 19-20)

g This is another scripture proving that God has no set time for men to die; He planned that they should live long lives through obedience to Him (v 21; Ps. 91; 1 Pet. 3:10-11)

h God made this statement by inspiration, through Moses; and we have here His confirmation that heaven is a real and a material planet like the earth - not an invisible, intangible place or some spiritual state into which men go i Note the conditions alternated with blessings and curses, showing that whether the conditions were met or not was what determined whether there would be blessings or cursings (v 13 with v 15; v 16 with v 17; v 18-20 with v 21; v 22 with 23-25; v 26 with v 27-28). Note the 4 if's (v 13, 22, 27, 28), the 10 that's (v 8-9, 14-21), and the 2 then's (v 17, 23)

20 Eleventh or Palestinian Covenant (Lev. 26; Dt. 27:1-30:20; page 57): 15 conditions; 14 blessings; 5 curses (Lev. 11:13-32):

(1) Conditions of blessing (v 16, 18, 22, 32; 29:1)

13 ¶ "And it shall come to pass, if ye [b]shall hearken diligently unto my commandments which I command you this day, to love the LORD your God, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul,

(2) Blessings upon the land

14 That [c]I will give you the rain of your land in his due season, the first rain and the latter rain, that thou mayest gather in thy corn, and thy wine, and thine oil.

15 And I will send grass in thy fields for thy cattle, that thou mayest eat and be full.

(3) Conditions of blessing

16 Take heed to yourselves, that your heart be not deceived, and ye turn aside, and serve other gods, and worship them;

(4) Curses for disobedience (Dt. 27:15; 28:15)

17 [d]And then the LORD's wrath be kindled against you, and he shut up the heaven, that there be no rain, and that the land yield not her fruit; and lest ye perish quickly from off the good land which the LORD giveth you.

(5) Conditions of blessing

18 ¶ Therefore shall ye lay up these my words in your heart and in your soul, [e]and bind them for a sign upon your hand, that they may be as frontlets between your eyes.

19 And ye shall [f]teach them your children, speaking of them when thou sittest in thine house, and when thou walkest by the way, when thou liest down, and when thou risest up.

20 And thou shalt write them upon the door posts of thine house, and upon thy gates:

(6) Blessings upon the home

21 [g]That your days may be multiplied, and the days of your children, in the land which the LORD sware unto your fathers to give them, as the [h]days of heaven upon the earth.

(7) Conditions of blessing

22 ¶ For [i]if ye shall diligently keep all these commandments which I command you, to do them, to love the LORD your God, to walk in all his ways, and to cleave unto him;

(8) Blessings upon the nation

23 Then will the LORD drive out all these nations from before you, and ye shall possess greater nations and mightier than yourselves.

24 Every place whereon the soles of your feet shall tread shall be yours: [j]from the wilderness and Lĕb'a-non, from the river, the river Eū'phrā'tēs, even unto the uttermost sea shall your coast be.

25 There shall no man be able to stand before you: for the LORD your God shall lay the fear of you and the dread of you upon all the land that ye shall tread upon, as he hath said unto you.

(9) Choice: blessing or curse

26 ¶ Behold, I set before you this day [a]blessing and a curse;

27 A blessing, [c]if ye obey the commandments of the LORD your God, which I command you this day:

28 And a curse, if ye will not obey the commandments of the LORD your God, but turn aside out of the way which I command you this day, to go after other gods, which ye have not known.

(10) Perpetual reminder of blessings and curses (Josh. 8:30)

29 And it shall come to pass, when the LORD thy God hath brought thee in unto the land whither thou goest to possess it, that thou shalt put the blessing upon mount [d]Gĕr'ĭ-zĭm, and the curse upon mount Ē'bal.

30 [k]Are they not on the other side Jŏr'dan, by the way where the sun goeth down, in the land of the Că'năan-ītes, which dwell in the [l]champaign over against Gĭl'găl, beside the plains of Mō'reh?

(11) Blessings upon conquests

31 For ye shall pass over Jŏr'dan to go in to possess the land which the LORD your God giveth you, and ye shall possess it, and dwell therein.

(12) Conditions of blessing

32 And ye shall observe to do all the statutes and judgments which I set before you this day.

CHAPTER 12 165

VI Mosaic laws taught the new generation (Dt. 12:1-26:19). 1 Religious laws: (1) Utterly destroy all idolatrous places

1 [e]THESE [f]are the statutes and judgments, which ye [g]shall observe to do in the land, which the LORD God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth.

2 Ye shall utterly destroy all the places, wherein the nations which ye shall possess served their [h]gods, upon the high mountains, and upon the hills, and under every green tree:

3 And ye shall overthrow their altars, and break their [i]pillars, and burn their [j]groves with fire; and ye shall hew down the graven [k]images of their gods, and [l]destroy the names of them out of that place.

4 Ye shall not do so unto the LORD your God.

a This gives the general boundaries of the promised land. It took in the Sinai peninsula on the south, extended to Lebanon on the north, and from the Euphrates on the east to the Mediterranean on the west (v 24; Gen. 15:18-21; Ezek. 48)

b See note c, v 14

c All blessings and curses of Scripture are based upon obedience and disobedience to the will of God as revealed therein. If all free moral agents had obeyed God from their creation until now, there would have been no sin, and no curse of any kind in the entire universe. All God's covenants are based upon this principle of right and wrong, sin and righteousness. There is no such thing in Scripture as the government of God or man without strict obedience to law as the basis of assurance of continued grace or favor with those in charge of the government. In the event of sins against both God and man there must be punishment to assure continued respect for government and those who govern. It would be a great incentive to rebels if they knew there would be no punishment for rebellion. No government could long endure where there was leniency or respect of persons with those who plot and practice the overthrow of good government. If laws and penalties are revealed to subjects of government and they ignore, reject, and wilfully disobey them; if the government is loose and the rulers too weak to punish rebellion; or, if rulers are too lenient, merciful and forbearing to execute the laws and mete out judgment to sustain good government, rebels will take over. God is not such a ruler, nor does He carry on a weak government. He upholds law and order and metes out punishment and reward as required, thus qualifying Himself as being capable of His sovereignty and moral responsibility. Whether the subjects are holy angels or men, God must demand obedience to all His laws and He is under obligation to punish as His law prescribes or bless as He has promised whenever disobedience or obedience is rendered. For God to be lenient in just one case and fail to execute punishment upon the sinner would break down respect for Him in the hearts of all others who are assured of justice should they sin. There can be no respect of persons with Him (Rom. 2:11; Jas. 2:9-10) d Mount Gerizim, located south, and mount Ebal north of Shechem (v 29; 27:12; Josh. 8:33-34) extend east to west almost parallel with the beautiful valley of Shechem. They are about 2,700 to 2,800 ft. high, about 600 ft. apart, 3 miles long and somewhat in a semi-circle. Mount Ebal is the more barren; Gerizim to the south is more beautiful and fertile, so that the two mountains by nature could be emblems of blessing and cursing

f Heb. arabah. Trans. Arabah (Josh. 18:18); desert (Isa. 35:1, 6; 40:3; 41:19; 51:3; Jer. 17:6; 50:12; Ezek. 47:8); plain (Dt. 1:1, 7; 2:8; 3:17; 4:49; Josh. 3:16; 8:14; 11:16; 12:1, 3; 1 Sam. 23:24; 2 Sam. 2:29; 4:7; 15:28; 2 Ki. 14:25; 25:4; Jer. 39:4; 52:7; Zech. 14:10); plains (34:1, 8; Num. 22:1; 26:3, 63; 31:12; 33:48-50; 35:1; 36:13; Josh. 4:13; 5:10; 11:2; 12:8; 13:32; 2 Sam. 17:16; 2 Ki. 25:5; Jer. 39:5; 52:8); and wilderness (Amos 6:14). Here it means the plain of Jordan

g In this section of laws we have old ones repeated with new details. This is understandable since the Sinaitic legislation was now nearly 40 years old, and had been given under different conditions and circumstances. The original laws were not set aside or in any way abrogated; on the contrary they were recognized as the basis of all new instructions

h 5 commands: destruction of idols, p. 235

i Heb. matstsebah, column; memorial stones; Image (v 3; Gen. 28:18, 22; 31:13, 45, 51-52; 35:20; Isa. 19:19; Ex. 24:4)

j Heb. asherah, pillar; totem pole; idol (note c, Ex. 34:13)

k Sculptured idols (v 3; 7:25)

l Not annihilate, but mar, ruin, cause to perish as idols (v 3; Ex. 23:24; 34:13; Judg. 2:2; 6:28; 2 Ki. 10:19; 11:1; Ezek. 6:3) a 7 commands - place of sacrifice:

1 Unto the place where God shall choose, in all Israel, to put His name and have His habitation, even there shall you seek and come to worship(v 5)
2 To this one place you shall bring your sacrifices, tithes, and offerings(v 6)
3 There you shall hold feasts and rejoice before Jehovah, you and your households (v 7)
4 When you are settled in the land you shall not do all things as you have done in the wilderness wanderings - whatever is right in one's own eyes (v 8-9)
5 When you are safe in the land, then you shall come to the one place of worship, and shall bring all your sacrifices, tithes, and offerings, make your vows and serve Jehovah (v 10-11)
6 In that one place you shall gather at set times and rejoice before Jehovah with your families, servants, and all the Levites (v 12)
7 Take heed to yourselves that you do not make sacrifices and offerings in every place you see; be sure that you have but one place of worship and there do all that I command you (v 13-14)

b 3 things God will do (v 5):
1 Choose a place of worship for Israel
2 Put His name there
3 Dwell there in the midst of Israel

c 12 things required of Israel:
1 To come to one place of worship(v 2 Seek God there 5)
3 Bring their burnt offerings (v 6, 11)
4 Bring all their sacrifices
5 Bring all their tithes
6 Bring all their heave offerings
7 Make their vows to Jehovah
8 Offer firstlings of herds and animals
9 Feast before Jehovah with their families, servants, and Levites (v 7, 11-12)
10 Rejoice before Jehovah (v 7, 12)
11 Take heed not to use any other place for sacrifice and worship(v 13-14)
12 Obey the Lord in all things (v 14)

d See Tithing in Index

e See Vows in Index

f 6 classes to rejoice before Jehovah:
1 Parents and heads of households(v 12)
2 Sons of Israel
3 Daughters of Israel
4 Menservants of Israel
5 Maidservants of Israel
6 Levites or ministers of Israel

g It is noticeable that the Levites were counted a separate class from the 12 tribes of Israel (v 12, 18-19; 14:27, 29; 16:11, 14; 18:6; 26:11-13)

h 7 commands - health and religious laws:
1 Both clean and unclean persons may eat of all clean animals in any part of the land - any that are not sacrifices and offerings to God (v 15, 20-22)
2 Do not eat the blood of animals; pour it out upon the earth as water (v 16, 23-25)
3 The tithes of all your crops, flocks, and herds shall be taken to the one place of worship and used as prescribed by law (v 17)
4 All offerings of your vows, the free-will offerings, and heave offerings, shall also be brought to the one place and used as prescribed by law (v 17-18)
5 Take heed to yourself that you forsake not the Levite, the ministers of Israel, as long as you live on earth (v 19)
6 All holy (consecrated) things that you give to God shall be taken to the one place of sacrifice and worship (v 26-27)
7 Observe and hear all these commands that it may be well with you (v 28)

i This verse with v 20-22 permits the killing and eating of all animals, such as were used for sacrifices, at all places and times, not merely at the time and place of sacrifice. Israel could eat freely of the clean animals, even those besides sacrifice-animals, such as the roebuck, hart, and others listed in Lev. 11 and Dt. 14. Because such as the ox, heifer, ram, sheep, goat, pigeon and turtledove were specified as suitable for sacrifice did not mean they were to be excluded from table food. Only the blood was forbidden to be eaten because of its unhealthful effects, and furthermore, it was reserved to be an atonement for the soul (Lev. 17:11). The straight injunction of bringing every-

(2) Only one place of sacrifice (Lev. 17:1)

●5 [a]But unto the place which the LORD your [b]God shall choose out of all your tribes to put his name there, even unto his habitation [c]shall ye seek, and thither thou shalt come:
●6 And thither ye shall bring your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, and your tithes, and heave offerings of your hand, and your vows, and your free-will offerings, and the firstlings of your herds and of your flocks:
●7 And there ye shall eat before the LORD your God, and ye shall rejoice in all that ye put your hand unto, ye and your households, wherein the LORD thy God hath blessed thee.
●8 Ye shall not do after all the things that we do here this day, every man whatsoever is right in his own eyes.
9 For ye are not as yet come to the rest and to the inheritance, which the LORD your God giveth you.
10 But when ye go over Jôr'dan, and dwell in the land which the LORD your God giveth you to inherit, and when he giveth you rest from all your enemies round about, so that ye dwell in safety;
●11 Then there shall be a place which the LORD your God shall choose to cause his name to dwell there; thither shall ye bring all that I command you; your burnt offerings, and your sacrifices, your [d]tithes, and the heave offering of your hand, and all your choice [e]vows which ye vow unto the LORD:
●12 And ye shall rejoice before the LORD your God, [f]ye, and your sons, and your daughters, and your menservants, and your maidservants, and [g]the Lē'vite that is within your gates; forasmuch as he hath no part nor inheritance with you.
●13 Take heed to thyself that thou offer not thy burnt offerings in every place that thou seest:
●14 But in the place which the LORD shall choose in one of thy tribes, there thou shalt offer thy burnt offerings, and there thou shalt do all that I command thee.

(3) Eat unholy things anywhere (v 20)

●15 [h]Notwithstanding thou mayest kill and eat flesh in all thy gates, [i]whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, according to the blessing of the LORD thy God which he hath given thee: the unclean and the clean may eat thereof, as of the roebuck, and as of the hart.

(4) Eating blood forbidden (Dt. 12:23, refs.)

●16 Only ye shall not eat the blood; ye shall pour it upon the earth as water.

(5) All holy things to be eaten at the place of worship

●17 ¶ Thou mayest [a]not eat within thy gates the tithe of thy corn, or of thy wine, or of thy oil, or the firstlings of thy herds or of thy flock, nor any of thy vows which thou vowest, nor thy freewill offerings, or heave offering of thine hand:
●18 But thou must eat them before the LORD thy God in the place which the LORD thy God shall choose, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lē'vite that is within thy gates: and thou shalt rejoice before the LORD thy God in all that thou puttest thine hands unto.

(6) Command to support Levites (Dt. 14:27; Lev. 10:14; Num. 3:5)

●19 [b]Take heed to thyself that thou forsake not the Lē'vite as long as thou livest upon the earth.

(7) Eat unholy things anywhere (v 15)

20 ¶ When the LORD thy God shall enlarge thy border, as he hath promised thee, and thou shalt say, I will eat flesh, because thy soul longeth to eat flesh; [c]thou mayest eat flesh, whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.
●21 [d]If the place which the LORD thy God hath chosen to put his name there be too far from thee, then thou shalt kill of thy herd and of thy flock, which the LORD hath given thee, as I have commanded thee, and thou shalt eat in thy gates whatsoever thy soul lusteth after.
●22 Even as the roebuck and the hart is eaten, so thou shalt eat them: the unclean and the clean shall eat of them alike.

(8) Eating blood forbidden (v 16; Gen. 9:4; Lev. 7:22; 17:19; 19:26)

●23 Only [e]be sure that thou eat not the blood: for the blood is the life; and thou mayest not eat the life with the flesh.
●24 Thou shalt not eat it; thou shalt pour it upon the earth as water.
●25 Thou shalt not eat it; [f]that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the LORD.

(9) Holy things to be eaten: vows to be taken in one place

●26 Only thy [g]holy things which thou hast, and thy vows, thou shalt take, and go unto the place which the LORD shall choose:
●27 And thou [h]shalt offer thy burnt offerings, the flesh and the blood, upon the altar of the LORD thy God: and the blood of thy sacrifices shall be poured out upon the altar of the LORD thy God, and thou shalt eat the flesh.
●28 [i]Observe and hear all these words which I command thee, that it may go well with thee, and with thy children after thee a 8 things not to eat at home (v 17):

1 The tithe of the corn, including wheat, barley, and other grains
2 The tithe of the vineyards
3 The tithe of oliveyards
4 Firstlings of the herds
5 Firstlings of the flocks
6 Offerings vowed to God
7 Freewill offerings
8 Heave offerings
All such were to be taken to the one place of worship and eaten as prescribed by the law - part for the offerers, part for the priests, or otherwise as exactly commanded for each offering (v 18)

b 3 "take heed's" of this chapter:
1 Take heed to yourself that you offer sacrifices only in the one place chosen by Jehovah (v 13-14)
2 Take heed to yourself that you do not forsake the Levite as long as you live (v 19)
3 Take heed to yourself that you be not snared into following the nations which you are to dispossess (v 30)

c See note i, v 15

d This could be translated: Because the place where the Lord has chosen to put His name is too far from your enlarged borders, you shall be permitted to slay elsewhere all clean animals of the kind used for sacrifice, as freely as you do the roebuck, the hart, and other clean animals. You shall prepare all animals alike for your table use without bringing them the long distance to the place of worship (v 15-16, 20-22)

e 3 "be sure's" of the Old Testament:
1 Be sure that you do not eat blood (v 23) (Num. 32:23)
2 Be sure your sin will find you out
3 Be sure that evil is determined by him (1 Sam. 20:7). Cp. the 2 in the N.T. (Lk. 10:11; Rom. 4:16)

f The blessing of having everything go well for coming generations is again dependent upon obedience to God regardless of the kind of command to be obeyed, Merely refraining from eating blood will not make one prosperous, but obedience to God will (v 25)

g The holy things consisted of all sacrifices and offerings to God of animals, flour, wine, oil, fields, houses, and anything else dedicated to Him (Lev. 27, notes). They were called holy, because of being sanctified or set apart for holy and divine uses (v 26)

h 3 general things done with offerings:
1 The flesh and blood of sacrificial animals offered upon the altar (v 27)
2 The blood poured out upon the altar
3 The flesh eaten
Some offerings were burned wholly - no part eaten, while in the case of other sacrifices most of the flesh was eaten. The blood was used in various places - some in the holy place, some in the most holy place, and some on the bodies, houses, garments of offerers, or in other places. Most of the blood, however, was used upon the brazen altar of sacrifice

i 9 things Israel to "observe":
1 Feast of unleavened bread (Ex. 12:17)
2 Passover (Ex. 12:24; Dt. 16:1)
3 Sabbaths (Ex. 31:16)
4 Feast of weeks (Ex. 34:22)
5 Feast of tabernacles (Dt. 16:13)
6 All sacrifices in season (Num. 28:2)
7 Laws regulating disease (Dt. 24:8)
8 God's ways (Pr. 23:26)
9 All God's commandments, statutes, and judgments (Ex. 34:11; Lev. 19:37; Dt. 5:32; 6:1-3, 25; 8:1; 11:32; 12:1, 28, 32; 15:5; 16:12; 17:10; 28:1, 13, 15, 58; 31:12; 32:46; Josh. 1:7-8; 2 Ki. 17:37; 21:8; 2 Chr. 7:17; Neh. 1:5; 10:29; Ps. 105:45; 107:43; Ezek. 37:24)
Christians are to observe all things Christ commanded (Mt. 28:20; 1 Tim. 5:21)
How to observe - with the whole heart (Ps. 119:34)

thing to be killed to the tabernacle could only apply to sacrifices. It is clear here that whatever was killed at home for table use was legal and the ceremonial injunctions did not apply in such cases any more than they applied to the hart, roebuck and other clean animals not permitted as sacrifices a This principle of being blessed when that which is righteous is done is not only in the old covenant, but also in the new (v 28; Mt. 6:33; 2 Cor. 9:6; Gal. 6:7-8)

b See note b, v 19
c 4 commands - idolatry:
1 Take heed that you be not snared into following the nations whom you are to destroy in Canaan (v 30)
2 Take heed not to inquire after their gods to worship them
3 Do not commit the abominations of the nations round about which they have committed to their gods (v 31)
4 Observe and do all that I command you without adding to or diminishing from it (v 32)
d Question 16, Next, 18:21
e Among all nations in times past, human sacrifices have been offered more or less, as regular or special means of appeasing national and local gods. This was common in the days of Israel (12:31; 18:10; Lev. 18:21; 20:2-5; 2 Ki. 3:26-27; 16:3; 17:17-18; 21:6; 23:10; 2 Chr. 28:3; 33:6; Ps. 106:37-38; Isa. 57:5; Jer. 7:31; 19:4-7; 32:35; Ezek. 16:20-21; 20:26, 31; 23:37-39; Mic. 6:7). Making human sacrifices is still practiced by some pagan tribes f 3 great "If's" of chapter 13:
1 IF any prophet, dreamer, or teacher performs a sign or a wonder, or predicts anything that comes to pass, seeking to lead you away from Jehovah, you shall not follow him. You shall cleave to God and destroy that false religious leader (v 1-5)
2 IF any man, even your closest relative or friend, secretly entices you to serve gods other than Jehovah, you shall not consent to leave Jehovah but shall kill that rebel (v 6-11)
3 IF the inhabitants of any city forsake Jehovah, or seek to lead you away from Him to serve other gods, you shall completely destroy that city with all its inhabitants (v 12-18)
g In this chapter Moses introduced a new series of warnings intended to serve as a safeguard against violation of the religious laws given to Israel regulating true modes and forms of worship, and to make plain the laws and penalties against authors and propagators of false religions h Heb. nabiy, an inspired man. Here it refers to a false prophet, even though he might predict something which would come to pass and be supported by a supernatural sign or wonder (v 1). Such miraculous power in a false prophet would be the power of Satan (Ex. 7:11, 22; 8:7, 18; Mt. 24:24; 2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:1-18; 16:13-16; 19:20; 20:10). The real test of truth is not a sign, wonder, or prediction coming to pass; it is the truth itself - the Word of God as plainly written (4:2; 12:32; 29:29; Isa. 8:20; 55:11; Jn. 8:32-36; 2 Tim. 3:15-17; Rev. 22:18-19). Anything contrary to what is plainly stated in Scripture is false regardless of its seeming inspiration. God allows signs and wonders to prove men (v 3-4), temptations to test one's love for Him (v 3), and heresies to make manifest truth (1 Cor. 11:18-19; 2 Jn. 7-11). There would be no way of manifesting light if we had no darkness
i See 11 commands - false prophets and religions, p. 235
j 2 purposes of God in permitting false religions and satanic powers to operate:
1 To prove men (v 3; Ex. 16:4)
2 To know whether men will love God with all the heart and soul (v 3). Cp. 1 Cor. 11:18-19; 2 Jn. 7-11

2 Do not make any baldness between your eyes for the dead. It was a custom in certain nations to cut the hair off and consecrate it to the gods; in others the practice was to cut the hair a certain way in mourning for the dead. Israel was forbidden such marring of the body or cutting of the hair for 2 reasons:
(1) You are a holy people to Jehovah your Elohim (Creator, v 2)
(2) God has chosen you to be a peculiar people to Himself, entirely different from the heathen and their superstitious practices (v 2) for ever, [a]when thou doest that which is good and right in the sight of the LORD thy God.

(10) Laws against idolatry (Ex. 20:7, refs.)

29 ¶ When the LORD thy God shall cut off the nations from before thee, whither thou goest to possess them, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their land;
●30 [b]Take [c]heed to thyself that thou be not snared by following them, after that they be destroyed from before thee; and that thou enquire not after their gods, saying, [d]How did these nations serve their gods? even so will I do likewise.
●31 Thou shalt not do so unto the LORD thy God: for every abomination to the LORD, which he hateth, have they done unto their gods; for even their sons and their daughters [e]they have burnt in the fire to their gods.
●32 What thing soever I command you, observe to do it: thou shalt not add thereto, nor diminish from it.

166 CHAPTER 13

(11) Test of false prophets (Dt. 18:20; Jer. 23; Ezek. 13)

IF there [a]arise among you a [h]prophet, or a dreamer of dreams, and giveth thee a sign or a wonder,
2 And the sign or the wonder come to pass, whereof he spake unto thee, saying, Let us go after other gods, which thou hast not known, and let us serve them;
●3 [i]Thou shalt not hearken unto the words of that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams: [j]for the LORD your God proveth you, to know whether ye love the LORD your God with all your heart and with all your soul.
●4 [k]Ye shall walk after the LORD your God, and fear him, and keep his commandments, and obey his voice, and ye shall serve him, and cleave unto him.

(12) Death for false prophets

●5 And that prophet, or that dreamer of dreams, shall be put to death; [l]because he hath spoken to turn you away from the LORD your God, which brought you out of the land of E'gypt, and redeemed you out of the house of bondage, to thrust thee out of the way which the LORD thy God commanded thee to walk in. So shalt thou put the evil away from the midst of thee.

(13) Death for idolatrous relatives and neighbors (Dt. 17:2; Ex. 20:4, refs.)

6 ¶ If thy brother, the son of thy mother, or thy son, or thy daughter, or the wife of thy bosom, or thy friend, which is as thine own soul, entice thee secretly, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which thou hast not known, thou, nor thy fathers;
7 Namely, of the gods of the people [a]which are round about you, nigh unto thee, or far off from thee, from the one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth;
●8 Thou [b]shalt not consent unto him, nor hearken unto him; neither shall thine eye pity him, neither shalt thou spare, neither shalt thou conceal him:
●9 But thou shalt surely kill him; thine hand shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterwards the hand of all the people.
●10 And thou shalt stone him with stones, that he die; [c]because he hath sought to thrust thee away from the LORD thy God, [d]which brought thee out of the land of E'gypt, from the house of bondage.
11 And [e]all Is'ra-el shall hear, and fear, and shall do no more any such wickedness as this is among you.

(14) Penalty for idolatrous cities

12 ¶ If thou shalt hear say in one of thy cities, which the LORD thy God hath given thee to dwell there, saying,
13 Certain men, the children of [f]Be'li-al, are gone out from among you, and have withdrawn the inhabitants of their city, saying, Let us go and serve other gods, which ye have not known;
●14 [g]Then shalt thou enquire, and make search, and ask diligently; and, behold, if it be truth, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought among you;
●15 Thou shalt surely smite the inhabitants of that city with the edge of the sword, destroying it utterly, and all that is therein, and the cattle thereof, with the edge of the sword.
●16 And thou shalt gather all the spoil of it into the midst of the street thereof, and shalt burn with fire the city, and all the spoil thereof every whit, for the LORD thy God: and it shall be an heap for ever; it shall not be built again.
●17 And there shall cleave nought of the [h]cursed thing to thine hand: that the LORD may turn from the fierceness of his anger, and shew thee mercy, and have compassion upon thee, and multiply thee, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers;
●18 When thou shalt hearken to the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep all his commandments which I command thee this day, to do that which is right in the eyes of the LORD thy God.

CHAPTER 14 167

(15) Law against pagan practices (Dt. 18:9; Lev. 18:26)

YE are the [i]children of the LORD your God: ye [j]shall not cut yourselves, nor make any baldness between your eyes for the dead.
2 For thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God, and the LORD hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, a This is one way of saying: Do not serve any gods of any people anywhere found on earth (v 7) b 9 things to do regarding an apostate:

1 Do not consent to him (v 8)
2 Do not hear him
3 Or pity him
4 Or spare him
5 Do not conceal him from public exposure
6 You shall kill him (v 9)
7 Your hand shall be the first upon him
8 Afterwards the hands of the people shall help kill him
9 You and the people shall stone him with stones until he is dead (v 10. Cp. 17:7; Lev. 20:2) c To turn people from God and be the cause of their damnation is the highest crime possible against Him and others. That is why Jesus pronounced woe upon certain ones in His day (Mt. 23:13). On the other hand, greater love can no man have than to lay down his life for his brethren to save them from eternal hell (Jn. 15:13; Rom. 9:3) d This mighty work of God in bringing Israel out of Egypt was such a great victory, manifesting such great power and grace that it is referred to 52 times in the Pentateuch alone
e This is the purpose of all public executions (v 11). If men executed criminals today without failure, as in note b, above there would be very little crime among men; but with innumerable ways of obtaining leniency, reprieves, and endless delays, besides some governmental corruption, unqualified judges, etc, the justice required by God's law is not always carried out. See 42 death-penalty sins, p. 16
f Heb. beliyaal, worthlessness; wickedness; evil; ungodly. This word comes from 2 root words meaning good for nothing; valueless; cheap; vile; worthless. Here we have the first of 16 occurrences (v 13; Judg. 19:22; 20:13; 1 Sam. 1:16; 2:12; 10:27; 25:17, 25; 30:22; 2 Sam. 16:7; 20:1; 23:6; 1 Ki. 21:10, 13; 2 Chr. 13:7). Belial is used one time in the N. T. as an epithet of Satan and all worthless people (2 Cor. 6:15) g 9 things to do regarding apostate city:
1 Hear the report of apostasy (v 1-13)
2 Inquire fully (v 14)
3 Make diligent search
4 Ask diligently of the report
5 Make certain of the truth of apostasy
6 Smite all inhabitants of the city with the sword (v 15)
7 Destroy it utterly and all therein
8 Destroy the cattle with the edge of the sword
9 Gather all the spoil into the midst of the street and burn the city with fire with all its spoil and leave it desolate forever (v 16)
h Taking something for self from the spoil of such a city which was to be totally destroyed with the spoil was the sin of Achan (Josh. 7)
i The whole life or walk of the Israelites was regulated by the principle: Ye are the children of the Lord your God (v 1; Ps. 87:6). God definitely says that He begat Israel (Dt. 32:18). Isaac is spoken of as being born after the Spirit (Gal. 4:28-29). They were children of God by the new birth in the same sense that men are born again today, which is by adoption, not by bringing them into existence through union of the Holy Spirit and a virgin as in the case of Christ, who is the only begotten Son of God (Rom. 8:15; 9:4; Gal. 4:5; Eph. 1:4). To Israel pertained the adoption (Rom. 9:4). Many Israelites were converted, born again, and adopted, having salvation in all of its phases as men can have today. See O. T. spiritual experiences, p. 158 of N. T.
j Heb. ben, a son; child; one born. It is trans. children 1,496 times; children's 15 times; child 10 times; son 1,780 times; sons 1,117 times; son's 21 times; and sons' 25 times k 2 commands - pagan practices (v 1):
1 Do not cut your flesh or hair in honor of worship to any god. It was the custom among Canaanites nations to cut the flesh to manifest sincerity in worship and earnestness in prayer to idol gods, as in 1 Ki. 18:28. More often this was done for the dead (Lev. 19:28; 21:5). This was considered meritorious and a help to washing away sins a 13 commands - dietary laws:

1 You shall not eat any abominable thing (v 3)
2 These (10 animals) you are permitted to eat (v 4-5)
(1) Ox - the bull, cow, heifer, calf of the beef kind lamb
(2) Sheep - the ram, wether, ewe,
(3) Goat - the he-goat, she-goat, kid
(4) Hart - the buck, doe, fawn; also moose, elk, reindeer
(5) Roebuck, or antelope and gazelle species, as the Heb. suggests (v 5; 12:15,22; 15:22; 1 Ki. 4:23,Cp.2 Sam.2:18; 1 Chr.12:8; Pr.5:19; 6:5; Song 2:7-9,17; 3:5; 4:5; 7:3; 8:14; Isa. 13:14)
(6) Fallow deer - the large species of antelope found in the mountains of Arabia and Syria (v 5; 1 Ki. 4:23) of gazelle
(7) Wild goat, rock goat, or species
(8) Pygarg - perhaps a species of large antelope or mountain goat bull
(9) Wild ox - buffalo species, wild
(10) Chamois - a species of goat, deer, or wild sheep with red hair instead of wool
3 Every other kind of animal that parts the hoof, has 2 claws, and chews the cud, you may eat (v 6, Cp. Lev. 11). The 10 animals above are not named in Lev. 11, perhaps because these would not be found so often in the wilderness travels, though they were abundant in the land Israel was about to enter
4 These (4 animals) you shall not eat, even though they chew the cud, or part the hoof
(1) Camel (v 7; Lev. 11:4, note)
(2) Hare (v 7; Lev. 11:4)
(3) Coney (v 7; Lev. 11:5; note j, Pr. 30:24)
(4) Swine (v 8; Lev. 11:7). These are the same 4 animals listed in note c, Lev. 11:4, which see
5 You shall not eat of the flesh of these or touch their dead bodies (v 8)
6 All kinds of fish in the waters that have fins and scales you shall eat (v 9)
7 All fish that do not have fins and scales you shall not eat (v 10)
8 All clean birds you shall eat (v 11)
9 These (21 birds) you shall not eat, for they are unclean to you
(1) Eagle (v 12; Lev. 11:13)
(2) Ossifrage (v 12; Lev. 11:12)
(3) Ospray (v 12; Lev. 11:13)
(4) Glede (v 13, Not in Lev. 11)
(5) Kite (v 13; Lev. 11:14)
(6) Vulture (v 13; Lev. 11:14)
(7) Raven (v 14; Lev. 11:15)
(8) Owl (v 15; Lev. 11:15)
(9) Night hawk (v 15; Lev. 11:16)
(10) Cuckow (v 15; Lev. 11:16)
(11) Hawk (v 15; Lev. 11:16)
(12) Little owl (v 16; Lev. 11:17)
(13) Great owl (v 16; Lev. 11:17)
(14) Swan (v 16; Lev. 11:18)
(15) Pelican (v 17; Lev. 11:18; note j, Ps. 102:6)
(16) Gier eagle (v 17; Lev. 11:18)
(17) Cormorant (v 17; Lev. 11:17)
(18) Stork (v 18; Lev. 11:19)
(19) Heron (v 18; Lev. 11:19)
(20) Lapwing (v 18; Lev. 11:19)
(21) Bat (v 18; Lev. 11:19). All these are listed in note d, Lev. 11:13, except (4) Glede
10 Every creeping flying thing shall be unclean to you; but all clean fowls you may eat (v 19-20)
11 You shall not eat of anything that dies of itself (v 21)
12 You shall give it to the stranger that is in your gates to eat; or you may sell it to an alien who is not consecrated to Me
13 You shall not boil a kid in its mother's milk (v 21; Ex.23:19; 34:26)

b This law is repeated from Lev. 22:8, but with additions - 2 ways to dispose of the carcase, as in point 12, above. The reason for the law is also given: Israelites, being a holy (set apart, sanctified) people unto Jehovah, were to be different from the heathen who were not under strict rules of diet and sanitation (v 21). This new provision for disposing of such dead animals could not have been practiced in the wilderness, for strangers and Israelites had to live by the same laws. There was little opportunity of giving any to those not under the law (Lev. 17:15; 24:22) above all the nations that are upon the earth.

2 Dietary laws (Lev. 11): (1) Clean beasts (Lev. 11:1)

●3 ¶ Thou [a]shalt not eat any abominable thing.
●4 These are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat,
●5 The hart, and the roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the pygarg, and the wild ox, and the chamois.
●6 And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat.

(2) Unclean beasts (Lev. 11:4)

●7 Nevertheless these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you.
●8 And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase.

(3) Clean and unclean fish (Lev. 11:9-12)

●9 ¶ These ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat:
●10 And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.

(4) Clean and unclean fowls (Lev. 11:13-20)

●11 ¶ Of all clean birds ye shall eat.
●12 But these are they of which ye shall not eat: the eagle, and the ossifrage, and the ospray, ●13 And the glede, and the kite, and the vulture after his kind,
●14 And every raven after his kind,
●15 And the owl, and the night hawk, and the cuckow, and the hawk after his kind, ●16 The little owl, and the great owl, and the swan, ●17 And the pelican, and the gier eagle, and the cormorant, ●18 And the stork, and the heron after her kind, and the lapwing, and the bat.

(5) Clean and unclean creeping things (Lev. 11:20-23)

●19 And every creeping thing that flieth is unclean unto you: they shall not be eaten.
●20 But of all clean fowls ye may eat.

(6) Law against eating animals not properly slaughtered (Lev. 17:15)

●21 ¶ Ye [b]shall not eat of any thing that dieth of itself: thou shalt give it unto the stranger that is in thy gates, that he may eat it; or thou mayest sell it unto an alien: for thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God. Thou shalt not [a]seethe a kid in his mother's milk.

3 Religious laws: (1) Law of tithes (Lev. 27:30; Num. 18:24-30; Dt. 12:6; 26:12) and firstlings (Dt. 15:19; Ex. 13:11; 23:19; Lev. 27:26; Num. 18:15; Neh. 10:36)

●22 Thou [b]shalt truly [c]tithe all the increase of thy seed, that the field bringeth forth year by year.
●23 And thou shalt eat before the LORD thy God, in the place which he shall choose to place his name there, the tithe of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the firstlings of thy herds and of thy flocks; that thou mayest learn to fear the LORD thy God always.
24 And if the way be too long for thee, so that thou art not able to carry it; or if the place be too far from thee, which the LORD thy God shall choose to set his name there, when the LORD thy God hath blessed thee:
●25 Then shalt thou turn it into money, and bind up the money in thine hand, and shalt go unto the place which the LORD thy God shall choose:
●26 And thou shalt bestow that money for whatsoever thy soul lusteth after, for oxen, or for sheep, or for wine, or for strong drink, or for whatsoever thy soul desireth: and thou shalt eat there before the LORD thy God, and thou shalt rejoice, thou, and thine household,

(2) Command to support Levites (Dt. 12:19; Lev. 10:4; Num. 3:5)

●27 And the Lē'vīte that is within thy gates; thou shalt not forsake him; for he hath no part nor inheritance with thee.

(3) Law of special tithes for the Levites and the poor (Dt. 26:12)

●28 [d]At the end of three years thou shalt bring forth all the tithe of thine increase the same year, and shalt lay it up within thy gates:
●29 And the Lē'vīte, (because he hath no part nor inheritance with thee,) and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, which are within thy gates, shall come, and shall eat and be satisfied; [e]that the LORD thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hand which thou doest.

168 CHAPTER 15

4 Sabbatic year (Ex. 23:10; Lev. 25): (1) Lord's release: all debts forgiven among brethren

[f]AT the [g]end of every seven years thou [h]shalt make a release.
●2 And this is the manner of the release: Every creditor that lendeth ought unto his neighbour shall release it; he shall not exact it of his neighbour, a Boil (v 21; Ex. 23:19; 34:26)

b 5 commands - religious laws
1 You shall tithe all the increase of your seed harvested each year (v 22)
2 You shall feast before Jehovah in the one place of worship (v 23)
3 If you live too far from the tabernacle and cannot carry the tithe so far, sell it, bring the money received and buy what is needed for the feast of the Lord, and rejoice before Him with your household (v 24-26)
4 Do not forsake the Levite, for he has no inheritance among you (v 27)
5 At the end of 3 years you shall bring the tithe of that year and lay it up to be used for the Levites, the strangers, fatherless, and widows who live among you, to sustain them (v 28-29)
c The tithe referred to here should not be confused with the regular tithe given to Levites. This was a second tithe and to be used by the person who gave it, while the tithe for the Levites was to be used by Levites only (Lev. 27; Num. 18). This, the second tithe was for the purpose of paying expenses at the national gatherings. Tithing of what had been produced could be sold and the money used at the feast, if the giver lived far from the place of worship (v 23-26). Levites were not to be neglected; paying the second tithe did not excuse one from paying the first to them (v 27)

d At the end of every third year, or twice between sabbatical years, a third tithe of all the increase was to be laid up in storehouses for 4 classes (v 29):
1 The Levites
2 The strangers
3 The fatherless or orphans
4 The widows
e Israel here was promised special blessings of God upon all crops and stock if they would pay the 3 tithes of all their increase

The 3 tithes were:

1 First tithe for Levites (v 27; Lev. 27; Num. 18). This was a yearly tithe
2 Second tithe for the individual himself and his household to cover expenses at the national feasts, so there would be no excuse for not going (v 22-26; 12:11, 21). This was also a yearly tithe, though not counted as giving to others
3 Third tithe for the Levites, the strangers, fatherless, and widows. It was a special tithe for the poor, a charity tithe to relieve suffering of poor neighbors (v 28-29). This was to be given only every third year, so was not a burden in any degree; God more than made up for it in His blessings of prosperity on the crops and stock of the whole nation. Spread out over the 3-year period the yearly tax for the poor would amount to 3 1/3 per cent of the nation's increase. It was not to be taken to the place of worship, as the other 2 tithes, but distributed locally as needed throughout the 3 years it covered f This is a repetition of the laws of the sabbatical year of Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25. Other needs of the poor were provided for in the last verses of the previous chapter; now the debts of the poor are dealt with (v 1-18)

g Literally, when the 7th year has arrived (Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25:3-4) h 4 commands - sabbatical year:

1 Every 7th year you shall make a release of all payments of debts and all service of servants (v 1)
2 Every creditor that lends ought to his neighbor shall release him of all payments that year (v 2)
3 He shall not require payment in full or in part from his neighbor during the sabbatical year
4 Of a foreigner you may require payment during the sabbatical year (v 3)
This law was made solely for the poor, for in v 4 it is stated that there will be no need of such law when the poor have ceased to be in the land. It was a release from all payments of debts for a whole year, to give the poor man relief and cause the land and servants to rest a Called "the Lord's release" because:

1 He wanted release from all debts, so as to relieve the poor a whole year (v 1-4)
2 He wanted Israel to learn mercy, and have compassion on the poor and needy (v 7-11)
3 He wanted to create a brotherly relationship among all His people, one that would be an outstanding example to the heathen round about (v 7-16)
4 He wanted a set time every 7 years for the release of slaves (v 12-18)
5 He blessed men with abundant crops during the 6 years between the sabbatical years, so as to relieve men of suffering from want during a year of rest (v 4; Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25:2-4)
6 He wanted the land to rest a whole year (Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25:3-4)
7 He wanted the poor to have the crops that grew during the 7th year (Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25:5-7)
8 He wanted the servants and stock to have a year of rest from hard labor (Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25:5-6)

b Foreigners, those who were not in the nation of Israel and therefore not under obligation to keep the one law of Israel, were not to enjoy the debt release or other blessings of the law of Moses (v 3). This would encourage men to become converts to God and His way of life

c 13th prophecy in Dt. (15:4-6, fulfilled and will yet be fulfilled under the Messiah). Next, 17:14

d 2 conditions of blessing (v 5):
1 Carefully hear the voice of God
2 Observe and do all His commandments

5 conditional blessings (v 6):
1 The general blessing of God, of the fulfillment of the promises
2 Prosperity and an abundance, enough to lend to many nations
3 Freedom from all need to borrow
4 Rulership over many nations
5 Freedom from foreign domination

e There would have been no poor people in Israel if all had obeyed the covenant and lived in harmony with God and His laws of prosperity. However, knowing that some would fail to be diligent in business, not consulting Him in matters concerning the spiritual and material life, He made this provision - that if one failed to make good in his inheritance, his brethren should help him and give relief in his distress (v 7-11). See Mk. 14:7

f 5 commands - relief of a poor brother:
1 If a brother becomes poor do not harden your heart or shut your hand against him (v 7)
2 You shall open your hand wide to him and lend him as much as he needs (v 8)
3 Beware that you do not scheme against your brother or evade your responsibility of helping him because it is near the sabbatic year of release from paying debts (v 9)
4 You shall surely give to him; and do not be grieved in your heart when you do so, for the blessing of God depends upon your doing right according to the law (v 10)
5 You shall ever be ready to help the poor and needy, for they will always be in your land (v 11)

g To harden the heart and shut up the bowels of compassion against a man in need was one of the surest ways of receiving the curse of God and cutting off His blessings of material prosperity; for it was because of the kindness, compassion, and right-doing toward all men, especially the poor, that guaranteed the continued blessing of God (v 7, 9-10)

h A wicked thought in this case would be to reason that the sabbatic year was near; thus, if a loan was made no payment would be possible during the year of release from debt. To withold from the needy for this reason and making it appear that one had nothing to lend, was wicked (v 9). The Heb. for heart here is bellai (note f, 13:13)

i This is the divine principle of giving - give and do it cheerfully and wholeheartedly (v 10). If one does this he has a reward; but if one gives to earn merit with God or to make a show, he already has his reward (Mt. 6:1-4)

j Note that in connection with all the commandments and requirements of or of his brother; because it is called [a]the LORD'S release.

●3 [b]Of a foreigner thou mayest exact it again: but that which is thine with thy brother thine hand shall release;
4 [c]Save when there shall be no poor among you; for the LORD shall greatly bless thee in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it:

(2) Five conditional blessings

●5 [d]Only if thou carefully hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all these commandments which I command thee this day.
●6 For the LORD thy God blesseth thee, as he promised thee: and thou shalt lend unto many nations, but thou shalt not borrow; and thou shalt reign over many nations, but they shall not reign over thee.

(3) Law of relief for the poor (Lev. 25:35-43)

●7 ¶ [e]If there be among you a poor man of one of thy brethren within any of thy gates in thy land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, thou [f]shalt [g]not harden thine heart, nor shut thine hand from thy poor brother:
●8 But thou shalt open thine hand wide unto him, and shalt surely lend him sufficient for his need, in that which he wanteth.
●9 Beware that there be not [h]a thought in thy wicked heart, saying, The seventh year, the year of release, is at hand; and thine eye be evil against thy poor brother, and thou givest him nought; and he cry unto the LORD against thee, and it be sin unto thee.
●10 Thou shalt surely give him, and [i]thine heart shall not be grieved when thou givest unto him: [j]because that for this thing the LORD thy God shall bless thee in all thy works, and in all that thou puttest thine hand unto.
●11 For the [k]poor shall never cease out of the land: therefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt open thine hand wide unto thy brother, to thy poor, and to thy needy, in thy land.

(4) Law of release of servants (Lev. 25:35-43)

●12 ¶ And if thy [l]brother, an Hē'brew man, or an Hē'brew woman, be sold unto thee, and serve thee six years; then in the seventh year thou [m]shalt let him go free from thee.
●13 And when thou sendest him out free from thee, thou shalt not let him go away empty:
●14 Thou shalt furnish him liberally out of thy flock, and out of thy floor, and out of thy winepress: of that wherewith the LORD thy God hath blessed thee thou shalt give unto him.
●15 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in the land of Ē'gўpt, and the LORD thy God redeemed thee: therefore I command thee this thing to day.

(5) Law of perpetual servants (Lev. 25:44-46)

16 And it shall be, if he say unto thee, [a]I will not go away from thee; because he loveth thee and thine house, because he is well with thee;
●17 Then thou shalt take an awl, and [b]thrust it through his ear unto the door, and he shall be thy servant for ever. And also unto thy maidservant thou shalt do [c]likewise.

(6) Law of release of servants (v 12-15; Lev. 25:35)

●18 [d]It shall not seem hard unto thee, when thou sendest him away free from thee; for he hath been worth a double hired servant to thee, in serving thee six years: and the LORD thy God shall bless thee in all that thou doest.

5 Religious laws: (1) Firstborn of beasts for feasts and sacrifices (Dt. 14:22, refs.; Ex. 13:1, refs.)

●19 ¶ All the firstling males that come of thy herd and of thy flock thou [e]shalt [f]sanctify unto the LORD thy God: thou [g]shalt do no work with the firstling of thy bullock, nor shear the firstling of thy sheep.
●20 Thou shalt eat it before the LORD thy God year by year in the place which the LORD shall choose, thou and thy household.
●21 And if there be any blemish therein, as if it be lame, or blind, or have any ill blemish, thou shalt not sacrifice it unto the LORD thy God.
●22 Thou shalt eat it within thy gates: the unclean and the clean person shall eat it alike, as the roebuck, and as the hart.
●23 Only thou shalt not eat the blood thereof; thou shalt pour it upon the ground as water.

CHAPTER 16 169

(2) Feasts of the Passover and Unleavened Bread (Lev. 23:4-6)

●1 [h]OBSERVE the month of Á'bĭb, and keep the passover unto the LORD thy God: for in the month of Á'bĭb the LORD thy God brought thee forth out of Ē'gўpt by night.
●2 Thou shalt therefore sacrifice the passover unto the LORD thy God, of the flock and the herd, in the place which the LORD shall choose to place his name there.
●3 Thou shalt eat no leavened bread with it; seven days shalt thou eat unleavened bread therewith, even the bread of affliction; for thou camest forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt in haste: that thou mayest remember the day when thou camest forth out of the land of Ē'gўpt all the days of thy life.
●4 And there shall be no leavened bread seen with thee in all thy coast seven days; neither a All perpetual servants of Hebrew stock became such only by personal choice; otherwise they were to be free at the end of 6 years of service (v 17). The word forever is absolute and unlimited in time where no limit exists, as with eternal things; but it is limited where such a limit is implied or declared, as here

b Not only was the awl thrust through to the door to make a hole in the ear, but to symbolize that the servant was to stay with his master as long as he lived (v 17)

c Both men and women servants could become perpetual slaves by choice and upon such choice both were to submit to the piercing of the ear (v 17)

d Do not regret losing a brother who has served you faithfully 6 years. You shall be glad that he can be free to establish himself again in Israel and have his own household. When you are kind to your brethren the Lord will bless you and prosper you in all you have to do (v 18)

e 7 commands - firstlings of beasts:
1 Sanctify to God the first of all the males of your stock (v 19, See Ex. 13)
2 Do not work the firstlings of bullocks or shear the firstlings of sheep (v 19)
3 Firstlings shall be given to the Lord every year and offered to Him at the tabernacle or place of worship that He shall choose in Israel (v 20)
4 You and your household shall enjoy them with others permitted by law to eat of them (v 20. See priest's portion, Lev. 7:15-16; Num. 18:18)
5 If any firstling is born with lameness, blindness, or any other imperfection or blemish, you shall not sacrifice it to the Lord; you shall eat it at home so there will be no waste (v 21-22)
6 Both the clean and unclean persons may eat of such sacrifices at home as freely as they eat of the roebuck, the hart, and any other clean animal (v 22)
7 Do not partake of the blood of the animals that you eat; you shall pour it out on the ground as water (v 23) f Again the use of the word sanctify here proves that it means a setting apart for divine use and not a cleansing from sin or the removal of what is termed "the old man" (v 19). See Sanctification in Index

g The owners were not to benefit from working an animal or shearing one sanctified to God. The whole belonged to God for a sacrifice of thanksgiving and the owners, their families, and friends could enjoy the same at the place of worship (v 19-20)

h 10 commands - the passover:
1 Observe the month of Abib and keep the passover in this month (v 1)
2 You shall sacrifice the passover to the Lord your God, of the herd and the flock, in the place where God chooses to place His name (v 2)
3 You shall eat no leavened bread with the passover (v 3)
4 You shall eat unleavened bread for 7 days, during the passover and feast of unleavened bread
5 There shall no leavened bread be seen in all your houses or land for 7 days (v 4)
6 Neither shall the flesh of the animals sacrificed be left over night
7 You shall not sacrifice the passover in your homes, but at the place where the Lord shall choose to place His name (v 6)
8 Sacrifice the passover at evening, at the going down of the sun
9 You shall roast and eat it in the chosen place and go to your tents in the morning (v 7)
10 You shall eat unleavened bread 6 days, and on the 7th day you shall have a solemn assembly to Jehovah, and do no work therein (v 8)

God's covenants there are rewards promised for obedience

k This is due to many causes - lack of ability, faith, work, and failure to take advantage of every business opportunity that comes along (v 11)

l This law applied only to Israelite men and women, not to foreigners and strangers in the land (v 12)

m 7 commands - relief of poor, p. 236 shall there any thing of the flesh, which thou sacrificedst the first day at even, remain all night until the morning.

●5 Thou mayest [a]not sacrifice the passover within any of thy gates, which the LORD thy God giveth thee:

●6 But at the place which the LORD thy God shall choose to place his name in, there thou shalt sacrifice the passover [b]at even, at the going down of the sun, at the season that thou camest forth out of Ĕ'gўpt.

●7 And thou shalt roast and eat it in the place which the LORD thy God shall choose: and thou shalt turn in the morning, and go unto thy tents.

●8 Six days thou shalt eat unleavened bread: and on the seventh day shall be a solemn assembly to the LORD thy God: thou shalt do no work therein.

(3) Feast of Pentecost (Lev. 23:15; Acts 2)

●9 Seven weeks [c]shalt thou number unto thee: begin to number the seven weeks [d]from such time as thou beginnest to put the sickle to the corn.

●10 And thou shalt keep [e]the feast of weeks unto the LORD thy God with a [f]tribute of a freewill offering of thine hand, which thou shalt give unto the LORD thy God, according as the LORD thy God hath blessed thee:

●11 And thou shalt rejoice before the LORD thy God, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lĕ'vite that is within thy gates, and the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are among you, in the place which the LORD thy God hath chosen to place his name there.

●12 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in Ĕ'gўpt: and thou shalt observe and do these statues.

(4) Feast of Tabernacles (Lev. 23:33, refs.)

●13 ¶ Thou [g]shalt observe the feast of tabernacles seven days, after that thou hast gathered in thy corn and thy wine:

●14 And thou [h]shalt rejoice in thy feast, thou, and thy son, and thy daughter, and thy manservant, and thy maidservant, and the Lĕ'vite, the stranger, and the fatherless, and the widow, that are within thy gates.

●15 Seven days shalt thou keep a solemn feast unto the LORD thy God in the place which the LORD shall choose: because the LORD thy God shall bless thee in all thine increase, and in all the works of thine hands, therefore thou shalt surely rejoice.

(5) Law of congregation of males (Ex. 23:17; 34:23)

●16 ¶ Three times in a year shall [i]all thy males appear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose; [j]in the feast of unleavened bread, and in the feast of weeks, and in the feast of tabernacles: and they shall not appear before the LORD empty:

●17 Every man shall [a]give as he is able, according to the blessing of the LORD thy God which he hath given thee.

(6) Establishment of lower courts for Canaan (Cp. Ex. 18:21-27; Dt. 17:8)

●18 ¶ Judges and officers [b]shalt thou make thee in all thy gates, which the LORD thy God giveth thee, throughout thy tribes: and they shall judge the people with just judgment.

(7) Four basic laws of justice

●19 Thou shalt not wrest judgment; thou shalt not respect persons, neither take a gift: for a gift [c]doth blind the eyes of the wise, and pervert the words of the righteous.

●20 That which is altogether just shalt thou follow, that thou mayest live, and inherit the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.

(8) Law against groves near the tabernacle to avoid idolatry (Ex. 34:13; Dt. 7:5; 12:3)

●21 ¶ Thou shalt not plant thee a grove of any trees near unto the altar of the LORD thy God, which thou shalt make thee.

●22 Neither shalt thou set thee up any image; which the LORD thy God hateth.

170 CHAPTER 17

(9) Law against imperfect sacrifices (Dt. 15:21 and 45 other places in the law. Cp. 1 Pet. 1:19)

THOU [d]shalt not sacrifice unto the LORD thy God any bullock, or sheep, wherein is blemish, or any evil favouredness: for that is [e]an abomination unto the LORD thy God.

(10) Death for idolaters (Ex. 20:4, refs.; Dt. 13:6)

2 ¶ If there be found among you, within any of thy gates which the LORD thy God giveth thee, man or woman, that hath wrought wickedness in the sight of the LORD thy God, in transgressing his covenant,

3 And hath gone and served other gods, and worshipped them, either the sun, or moon, or any of the host of heaven, which I have not commanded;

4 And it be told thee, and thou hast heard of it, and enquired diligently, and, behold, it be true, and the thing certain, that such abomination is wrought in Iṣ'ra-el:

●5 Then shalt thou bring forth that man or that woman, which have committed that wicked thing, unto thy gates, even that man or that woman, and shalt stone them with stones, till they die.

a This simply means that no family should observe the passover at home, but in the place where the tabernacle or temple was located in Israel (v 5-6). Originally, in Egypt each family was to have a lamb killed and the blood applied to the house wherein it was eaten (Ex. 12); but here a great change was made. No lamb was to be killed and eaten at home, or the blood applied to the house

b The passover was killed in the evening in Egypt (Ex. 12:6), but the people did not leave until after midnight (Ex. 29-42)

c 7 commands - feast of Pentecost:
1 You shall number 7 weeks, starting from the time you begin to put the sickle to the wheat (v 9)
2 You shall keep the feast of weeks unto Jehovah with a tribute of freewill offering of your hand (v 10)
3 You shall give the freewill offering as the Lord has prospered you
4 You shall rejoice before the Lord - you, your sons, daughters, servants, strangers, the fatherless, widows, and Levites (v 11)
6 Observe the feast in the place where the Lord has chosen to put His name
6 You shall remember that you were bondmen in Egypt (v 12) utes
7 You shall observe and do these stat-

d According to Lev. 23:15 this was the day after the sabbath following the passover, at which time the firstfruits of the wheat harvest were to be waved before the Lord (Lev. 23:6-16). This indicates the wheat harvest and seasons were very regular every year

e The feast of Pentecost was called the feast of weeks, because it was the day after 7 complete weeks between the feast of firstfruits and Pentecost (v 10; Lev. 23:6-16)

f Heb. miccah, abundance; liberally. The idea was to bring before Jehovah a contribution of the free will on the day of Pentecost. It was to be according to the blessing of God each year (v 10). Such freewill offerings from all Israel were to supply those at the feast with good things, so that all could enjoy themselves with the abundance and liberality of God to Israel (v 11). The same principle prevails in recent times where, in church gatherings, everyone brings plenty of food for dinner on the grounds

g 4 commands - feast of tabernacles:
1 Observe the feast of tabernacles 7 days, after you have completed your harvests (v 13)
2 You shall rejoice in the feast before Jehovah - you, your sons, daughters, servants, strangers, the fatherless, widows, and Levites (v 14)
3 Keep the 7-day feast to Jehovah in the place where He shall choose to put His name (v 15)
4 You shall rejoice before the Lord, because of all His blessing upon all the works of your hands

h Since the same command was given in connection with this feast that was given with the feast of v 11, we suppose that the people were to bring another freewill offering of food to supply the feast as commanded in v 10 (v 14-15). The command of v 17 was for all males to bring with them of the abundance of their prosperity to each of the 3 annual feasts. None were to appear before the Lord empty i 3 commands - congregation of males:

1 All males shall appear before the Lord and hold feasts in the place where He shall choose to put His name (v 16)
2 They shall not appear before Me empty, but shall bring freewill offerings for the feasts (v 10, 15-16)
3 Every man shall give his freewill offering as he is able, and as the Lord has prospered him (v 17)

j 3 annual feasts for all Israel:
1 Unleavened bread, which included the feasts of passover and firstfruits (v 16; Lev. 23:6-14)
2 Pentecost, or feast of weeks, 50 days after the passover feast (v 16; Lev. 23:15-22)
3 Tabernacles, which was near enough to the time of the feast of trumpets and the great day of atonement that all could be attended in a 22-day period (v 16; Lev. 23:23-44)

a This refers to the freewill offering each man was to bring to the 3 feasts Israel was commanded to attend at the tabernacle location each year, so that there would be plenty of food for all during the days they were thus gathered (v 10-17)

b 7 commands - civil and religious laws:
1 You shall have judges and other civil and religious officers in all your cities to judge the people with just judgment (v 18)
2 You shall not wrest judgment (v 19)
3 You shall not have respect of per-
4 You shall not accept a bribe sons
5 You shall follow that which is altogether just (v 20)
6 You shall not plant a grove of trees near any altar of the Lord (v 21)
7 You shall not set before you any graven image (v 22)

c 2 things which bribes do (v 19):
1 Blind the eyes of judges
2 Pervert the words of the righteous

d 2 commands - religious laws:
1 You shall not sacrifice any imperfect animal to God (v 1)
2 You shall stone to death any person that transgresses My covenant, has served other gods, and worshipped them (v 2-5)

e 31 abominations before God:
1 Eating flesh of peace offerings on the 3rd day (Lev. 7:18) Dt. 23:18)
2 Homosexuality (Lev. 18:22; 20:13;
3 Taking ornaments from idols when being destroyed (Dt. 7:25-26)
4 Idolatrous practices (Dt. 12:31; 13:14; 17:4; 18:9; 20:18; 29:17)
5 Offering an imperfect animal to God as a sacrifice (Dt. 17:1)
6 Traffic with demons (Dt. 18:7-12)
7 Wearing clothes of opposite sex (Dt. 22:5)
8 Bringing the hire of harlot or sodomite into God's house (Dt. 23:18)
9 Re-marriage of former companions (Dt. 24:4)
10 Cheating others (Dt. 25:13-16)
11 Making images (Dt. 27:15)

13 Idols of Moab (1 Ki. 11:7; 2 Ki. 11:
14 Idols of Zidon (2 Ki. 23:13) 1:13)

16 Eating unclean things (Isa. 66:17)

27 Injustice (Ezek. 18:6-13)
28 Worship of Antichrist (Dan. 11:31; 12:11; Mt. 24:15; 2 Th. 2:4; Rev. 13)
29 Incest (Lev. 19:6-30) (Lk. 16:15)
30 Things highly esteemed by man
31 Many other sins of the nations (Lev. 18:26-29; Dt. 18:9-12; 20:18; 29:17; 1 Ki. 14:24; 21:2, 11; 23:24; 2 Chr. 28:3; 33:2; 34:33; 36:14; Ezek. 7:3-20; 8:6-17; 16:2-58; 20:4-30; Rev. 17:4-5). See 20 abominations to God in Proverbs, note e, Pr. 3:32

f If it was such an abomination to God for His people to worship the beautiful sun, moon, stars, and other works of His hands, which are perfect, it was a greater abomination for them to worship things made with human hands which are imperfect (v 2-5)

Ancient fingernail polish (21:12)

Heb. asah, to make, not to cut or leave uncut. It refers to changing by a personal act, and may mean changing the color with hennah, a plant which grows in India and Egypt and flowers in May to August. The leaves were made into powder and put with water to form a paste. Women would bind some of this on their finger and toe nails and let it stand over night to make the nails a reddish yellow. The color would last a month and then another application would be made. Many women used to stain the palms of their hands and the soles of their feet in the same way. This custom was perhaps what is referred to in 2 Sam. 19:24 where Mephibosheth had not dressed his feet (made them colored) a 7 commands - civil laws:

1 Do not put any man to death unless he is convicted of a crime by 2 or 3 witnesses (v 6)
2 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon the person convicted, and then the people shall join in the execution (v 7)
3 If,in any local place a matter arises that causes controversy in a community, and such cannot be settled, then take the matter to the one place of worship that God shall choose and let the priests,Levites, and judges in that place settle the matter (v 8-9)
4 They shall settle the controversy and give just judgment
5 You shall do according to the judgment which they shall give (v 10-11)
6 You shall not depart from carrying out their sentence, to the right hand, or to the left (v 11)
7 The man who is stubborn and will not abide by the decision of the priest or judge who stands to minister the justice of God, according to the law, shall be executed (v 12)

b The purpose of capital punishment was to put away all evil and cause the people to fear and do no more sin (v 7, 12-13)

k 7 commands - kingdom laws:
1 When you choose a king, he shall be from among your brethren (v 15)
2 You shall not choose a stranger or a Gentile to reign over you
3 Your king shall not multiply horses to himself (v 16) Egypt
4 He shall not cause you to return to 5 He shall not multiply wives to himself (v 17)
6 He shall not greatly multiply to himself silver and gold
7 He shall write a copy of the law in a book, and it shall be with him to read all the days of his life (v 18-19)

l It was on the basis of this command that people questioned Christ about recognizing a heathen king, asking if He thought it was lawful to give tribute to Caesar (Mt. 22:17). If He had answered them Yes, they would have condemned Him; if He had answered them No, they would have accused Him to Caesar

5 If a Levite from any part of Israel has a desire to serve the Lord with a whole heart and mind, and comes to the tabernacle to serve, then he shall minister in the name of his God (v 7)
6 He shall have like portions with all other Levites,besides that which comes from the sale of his property from his father (v 8)

i The stomach, which was regarded as a choice part. The priest's portion was the shoulder,the stomach, and the head (v 3). Cp. 1 Sam. 2:13, 28-29; Lev. 7:33-34; Num. 18:8-14

j The priesthood and levitical services were hereditary, like the kingship (v 5; 17:20)

k These verses reveal that only a part of the many Levites had residence at the place of worship and took part in the service of the tabernacle. Others dwelled in their cities in various parts of Israel. This refers to a Levite who, out of love for the service of the sanctuary, would choose this life instead of remaining at home. He would then share the whole of the services and blessings provided for such ministers

l His inheritance from his father. Levites had no inheritance in Israel; but, as individuals they could own property which could be handed down to their children, and many did so (v 8; 1 Ki. 2:26; Jer. 32:7; Acts 4:36). They were given many cities to dwell in and if they bought any property it was theirs as in the case of other persons. Also, much property came to them by vows and was considered devoted to God (Lev.27). Regardless of personal wealth any who served in the tabernacle or temple were to share alike with all others who performed duties at the altar (v 6-8; 1 Cor. 9:13)

16; 2 Cor. 13:1; 1 Tim. 5: 19; Heb. 10:28)

●6 At the mouth of two witnesses, or three witnesses, shall he that is worthy of death be put to death; but at the mouth of one witness he[a]shall not be put to death.
●7 The hands of the witnesses shall be first upon him to put him to death, and afterward the hands of all the people. [b]So thou shalt put the evil away from among you.

(12) Establishment of a supreme court (Dt. 16:18; Ex. 18:21)

●8 ¶ If there arise a [c]matter too hard for thee in judgment, between blood and blood, between plea and plea, and between stroke and stroke, being matters of controversy within thy gates: then shalt thou arise, and get thee up into the place which the LORD thy God shall choose;
●9 And thou shalt come unto the [d]priests the [e]Lĕ'vītes, and unto the judge that shall be in those days, and enquire; and they shall shew thee the sentence of judgment:
●10 [f]And thou shalt do according to the sentence, which they of that place which the LORD shall choose shall shew thee; and thou shalt observe to do according to all that they inform thee:
●11 According to the sentence of the law which they shall teach thee, and according to the judgment which they shall tell thee, thou shalt do: thou shalt not decline from the sentence which they shall shew thee, to the right hand, nor to the left.

(13) Death for irreverence

●12 And the man that will do presumptuously, and will not hearken unto the priest that standeth to minister there before the LORD thy God, or unto the judge, even that man[g]shall die: and thou shalt[h]put away the evil from Ĭs'ra-el.
13 And all the people shall hear, and fear, and do no more presumptuously.

6 Kingdom laws: (1) Kingdom foretold (1 Sam. 8-12)

¶14 ¶[i]When thou art come unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, and shalt possess it, and shalt dwell therein, and shalt say, I will set a king over me, [j]like as all the nations that are about me;

(2) Qualifications for choosing a king (1 Sam. 9 and 16)

●15 Thou[k]shalt in any wise set him king over thee, whom the LORD thy God shall choose: one from among thy brethren shalt thou set king over thee: thou mayest not set a [l]stranger over thee, which is not thy brother.

(3) Ten duties and responsibilities of the king

●16 But he shall[a]not multiply horses to himself, nor cause the people to return to Ĕ'gўpt, to the end that he should multiply horses: forasmuch as the LORD hath said unto you, [b]Ye shall henceforth return no more that way.
●17 Neither shall he [c]multiply wives to himself, that his heart turn not away: neither[d]shall he greatly multiply to himself silver and gold.
●18 And it shall be, when he sitteth upon the throne of his kingdom, that he shall [e]write him a copy of[f]this law in a book out of that which is before the priests the Lĕ'vītes:
●19 And it shall be with him, and he shall read therein all the days of his life: [g]that he may learn to fear the LORD his God, to keep all the words of this law and these statutes, to do them:
20 That his heart be not lifted up above his brethren, and that he turn not aside from the commandment, to the right hand, or to the left: to the end that he may prolong his days in his kingdom, he, and [h]his children, in the midst of Ĭs'ra-el.

171 CHAPTER 18

7 Religious laws: (1) Levites the Lord's inheritance

THE priests the Lĕ'vītes, and all the tribe of Lĕ'vī, shall have no part nor inheritance with Ĭs'ra-el: they shall eat the offerings of the LORD made by fire, and his inheritance.
●2 Therefore shall they have no inheritance among their brethren: the LORD is their inheritance, as he hath said unto them.

(2) The Priest's portion of the sacrifices and firstfruits

●3 ¶ And this shall be the priest's due from the people, from them that offer a sacrifice, whether it be ox or sheep; and they shall give unto the priest the shoulder, and the two cheeks, and the [i]maw.
●4 The firstfruit also of thy corn, of thy wine, and of thine oil, and the first of the fleece of thy sheep, shalt thou give him.
5 For the LORD thy God hath chosen him out of all thy tribes, to stand to minister in the name of the LORD, him and [j]his sons for ever.

(3) No respect of persons among the Levites (Jas. 2:9)

6 ¶[k]And if a Lĕ'vīte come from any of thy gates out of all Ĭs'ra-el, where he sojourned, and come with all the desire of his mind unto the place which the LORD shall choose;
●7 Then he shall minister in the name of the LORD his God, as all his brethren the Lĕ'vītes do, which stand there before the LORD.
●8 They shall have like portions to eat, beside that which cometh of the sale of his[l]patrimony.

a In Scripture the horse is used as a symbol of fleshly strength and might in war (Job 39:19; Ps. 20:7; 33:16-17; 147:10; Jer. 8:16). God's command here was that the king of Israel should not, like other rulers, put his trust in costly preparations for war (Hos. 1:7). Egypt was the principle source of war horses for western Asia (Ex. 14:5; 1 Ki. 10:28-29; 2 Ki. 7:6). God knew that traffic or alliance with Egypt would cause the people to be more or less dependent upon the Egyptians, and would reverse His great work of delivering them from bondage to kings. Going back to Egypt and to bondage was the final and greatest curse God said would come upon Israel for sin and rebellion; hence He warned them against such an end (28: 68). The danger of horses was 3fold:
1 Commerce with Egypt which would lead to idolatry and oneness with the nation
2 Israel might become dependent upon cavalry as a means of security instead of trusting in God as their Help, Protector, and Strength
3 Temptation to extend their dominion by conquest, and thus become scattered among the surrounding idolatrous and wicked nations, finally ceasing to be a distinct and segregated people who should carry out their particular calling concerning the Messiah
In later times Palestine became the country of horses, for in Solomon's day he sought to surpass all the other earthly monarchs in magnificence. He had 1,400 chariots and 12,000 horsemen in his defense cities and at Jerusalem (1 Ki. 10:26-29). There being at least 2 horses for each chariot this would make 2,800 horses besides one each for the 12,000 horsemen or a total of 14,800 which Solomon introduced into the army of Israel in his day. See 1 Ki. 10:26-29, notes

b There is no record as to when God said this to Israel, so Moses could refer to Ex. 14:13 where God said that Israel would not see the Egyptians again. Cp. 28:68; Jer. 42:15; Hos. 11:5

c God knew that multiplying wives would lead to sensuality and idolatry and then to apostasy (Ex. 34:16). This is exactly what happened in Solomon's reign (1 Ki. 11:1-13). This law forbade what was only customary among all oriental monarchs;God was demanding a higher standard of morals in the king of Israel than seen among his equals in other nations

d Solomon also sinned in this respect of collecting silver and gold (1 Ki. 10)

e This one thing, which was the most important of all, was neglected by the kings of Israel almost without exception. Constant meditation upon the law was the condition of good success and prosperity, to Joshua (Josh. 1:7-9. Cp. Ps. 1:3). Nothing is said about judges or kings keeping the law from Joshua to David - for about 600 years. David was the first king of Israel to mention this program (1 Ki. 2:9). After that nothing is said about the law until 60 or more years, in Asa's reign (2 Chr. 14:4). Years later a copy of the law was found in the temple and Josiah sought to obey it (2 Ki. 22:8-23; 25). Jehosaphat took heed to the law (2 Chr. 17:9), as also did Hezekiah (2 Chr. 30: 16; 31:3-4, 21). Nearly all others of the 23 kings of Judah ignored the law, as did all the kings of the northern kingdom except Jehu (2 Ki. 10:31. Cp. 2 Chr. 12:1; 15:3; 2 Ki. 17:13, 34-37)

f The Sept. reads, to deuteronomion, this deuteronomy. From this version nearly all modern versions have taken the name of this book (v 18)

g 7 purposes of the law to kings (v 19-20): 1 To learn to fear the Lord
2 To know what laws to keep
3 That their hearts might be kept humble
4 That they turn not aside from it
5 That they may live long
6 That their kingdom may continue 7 That their children may be blest

h 6 commands - priests:
1 Priests shall have no inheritance with Israel (v 1-2)
2 They shall live from the offerings made by fire to the Lord (v 2)
3 They shall have the shoulder, the 2 cheeks, and the maw of all sacrifices
4 They shall also have all the firstfruits of the land and animals (v 4)

a 3 commands - pagan practices:
1 You shall not learn the abominations of pagans (v 9)
2 Do not permit yourselves to practice them even if you know them (v 10-11)
3 You shall be perfect with the Lord (v 13-14)

b 8 pagan practices (v 10-11):
1 Making children pass through the fire in worship to an idol god
2 Using divination
3 Observing times
4 Enchantments
5 Witchcraft (witches and wizards)
6 Using charms on others
7 Consulting familiar spirits
8 Practicing necromancy
See 12 forbidden heathen practices, note b, Lk. 12:29; note e, Lev. 18:21

c Again God repeats His reason for casting the nations of Canaan out of their land. It was because of all these abominations (v 12). For this same reason He later cast Israel out (2 Ki. 17)

d Perfection here simply means to refrain from all these pagan practices of v 9-14. Cp. Gen. 17:1; Job 1:1; Mt. 5:48. See Perfect in Index

e 15th prophecy in Dt. (18:15, fulfilled in Christ, Acts 3:22-26. Cp. Jn. 4:25; 5:45-47). Next, v 18

f 12 facts about the predicted Prophet:
1 God will raise Him up (v 15, 18)
2 He will be raised up for Israel (v 15, 18)
3 He will be raised up from the midst of Israel (v 15, 18)
4 He will be of Israel (v 15, 18)
5 He will be like Moses (v 15, 18)
6 All must hear Him (v 15)
7 He was promised at Sinai (v 16)
8 He will be a spokesman for God (v 18)
9 He will speak faithfully all that God commands Him to speak
10 Some will not hear Him (v 19)
11 He shall speak in God's name
12 All who will not hear Him will be punished by God
These are characteristics of the Messiah and no one else; the predictions were definitely fulfilled in Him (Jn. 4:25; 5:45-47; Acts 3:22-28)

g This verse proves that the prophecy of v 15, 18-19 was uttered at Sinai

h 2 requests of Israel at Sinai (v 16):
1 Let us not hear the voice of Jehovah again
2 Let us not see this great fire anymore, that we die not i The fire on Sinai must have been terrible to behold - the whole mountain was on fire (4:11-15, 24, 33, 36; 5:4-5, 22-26; 9:10,15; 10:4; Ex. 19:18; Heb. 12:18)

j God recognized it was well, that is, the best thing for Israel not to hear His voice and see the consuming fire any more: so He advised Moses to assure Israel that He would speak only through him and other prophets to them (v 17-19; 5:28-31)

k 16th prophecy in Dt. (18:18-19, fulfilled in Christ, Acts 3:22-26. Cp. Jn. 4:25; 5:45-47). Next, 25:19

l All prophecy is not of God, nor by the name and inspiration of God. Prophecy that is supposed to be in His name may or may not be of Him. A mere claim is no proof. If the prophecy comes to pass it is generally accepted as from God (v 22). However, this test is not absolute, for in 13:1-3 God even states that He may allow a sign or wonder (spoken by a false prophet) to come to pass to prove His people and see if they will act contrary to His own Word. Therefore, the real test is not only to see whether a prophecy comes to pass or not, but also to see if it is in harmony with the Word of God. This is the final and complete test. Anything contrary to the Word is false, for God will never contradict Himself

3 sources of prophecy:
1 God through the Holy Spirit (Acts 3:21; 2 Tim. 3:15-17; Heb. 1:1-2; 1 Pet. 1:10-13; 2 Pet. 1:21)
2 Satan through demon inspiration (Gen. 3:4-5; 1 Sam. 28; 1 Ki. 22; 1 Chr. 10:13-14; Mt. 24:24; 2 Th. 2:8-12; Rev. 13:11-18; 16:13-16; 19:20)
3 Man's own personal spirit (13:1-18; 18:20-21; Jer. 23:15-17, 25-40; 27:9-11, 14-18; 28:1-17; Ezek. 13:1-23; 22:23-31; 1 Cor. 14:29-33)

m Question 17. Next, 20:5

n Men are to fear God and His true prophets, but not false prophets who can be known by their teachings and fruit (note j, Mt. 7:16)

(4) Eight pagan practices forbidden Israel (Dt. 14: 1; Lev. 21:5)

●9 ¶ When thou art come into the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, thou[a] shalt not learn to do after the abominations of those nations.
●10 There shall not be [b]found among you any one that maketh his son or his daughter to pass through the fire, or that useth divination, or an observer of times, or an enchanter, or a witch, ●11 Or a charmer, or a consulter with familiar spirits, or a wizard, or a necromancer.
12 For all that do these things are an abomination unto the LORD: and [c]because of these abominations the LORD thy God doth drive them out from before thee.

(5) Law of perfection with God

●13 Thou shalt be[d]perfect with the LORD thy God.
14 For these nations, which thou shalt possess, hearkened unto observers of times, and unto diviners: but as for thee, the LORD thy God hath not suffered thee so to do.

(6) Law of obedience to Messiah: prediction of His first advent (Gen. 3:15; 12:1-3; Isa. 7:14; 9:6-7; 11:1-2; etc.)

‡15 ¶[e]The LORD thy God [f]will raise up unto thee a Prophet from the midst of thee, of thy brethren, like unto me; unto him ye shall hearken;
16 [g]According to all that thou desiredst of the LORD thy God in Hō'reb in the day of the assembly, saying, [h]Let me not hear again the voice of the LORD my God, neither let me see this great fire any more, that I die not.
●17 And the LORD said unto me, They have [f]well spoken that which they have spoken.
*18 [i]I will raise them up a Prophet from among their brethren, like unto thee, and will put my words in his mouth; and he shall speak unto them all that I shall command him.
19 And it shall come to pass, that whosoever will not hearken unto my words which he shall speak in my name, I will require it of him.

(7) Test of false prophets (Dt. 13:1; Jer. 23; Ezek. 13)

●20 But the prophet, which shall presume to speak a word in my name, which I have not commanded him to speak, [f]or that shall speak in the name of other gods, even that prophet shall die.
21 And if thou say in thine heart, [j]How shall we know the word which the LORD hath not spoken?
●22 When a prophet speaketh in the name of the LORD, if the thing follow not, nor come to pass, that is the thing which the LORD hath not spoken, but the prophet hath spoken it presumptuously: [k]thou shalt not be afraid of him.

172 CHAPTER 19

8 Civil laws: (1) Cities of refuge (Dt. 4:41; Num. 35; Josh. 20)

WHEN the LORD thy God hath cut off the nations, whose land the LORD thy God giveth thee, and thou succeedest them, and dwellest in their cities, and in their houses;
●2 Thou [a]shalt separate three cities for thee in the midst of thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee to possess it.
●3 Thou shalt prepare thee [b]a way, and divide the coasts of thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee to inherit, [c]into three parts, that every slayer may flee thither.
4 ¶ And this is the case of the slayer, which shall flee thither, that he[d] may live: Whoso killeth his neighbour ignorantly, whom he hated not in time past;
5 As when a man goeth into the wood with his neighbour to hew wood, and his hand fetcheth a stroke with the ax to cut down the tree, and the head slippeth from the [e]helve, and lighteth upon his neighbour, that he die; he shall flee unto one of those cities, and live:
6 Lest the avenger of the blood pursue the slayer, while his heart is hot, and overtake him, because the way is long, and slay him; whereas he was not [f]worthy of death, inasmuch as he hated him not in time past.
●7 Wherefore I command thee, saying, Thou shalt separate three cities for thee.
8 And if the LORD thy God enlarge thy coast, as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, and give thee all the land which he promised to give unto thy fathers;
●9 If thou [g]shalt keep all these commandments to do them, which I command thee this day, to love the LORD thy God, and to walk ever in his ways; then shalt thou add three cities more for thee, beside these three:
10 That innocent blood be not shed in thy land, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and so blood be upon thee.
11 ¶ But if any man hate his neighbour, and lie in wait for him, and rise up against him, and smite him mortally that he die, and fleeth into one of these cities:
●12 Then the elders of his city shall send and fetch him thence, and deliver him into the hand of the avenger of blood, that he may die.
●13 Thine eye shall not pity him, but thou shalt put away the guilt of innocent blood from Is'ra-el, that it may go well with thee.

(2) Sacred landmarks (Dt. 27:27; Prov. 22:28; 23:10)

●14 ¶ Thou shalt not remove thy neighbour's [h]landmark, which they of old time have a 6 commands - cities of refuge:

1 When you are settled in Canaan, you shall separate 3 cities for refuge in the midst of the land (v 1-2, 7)
2 Prepare a way and divide your land into 3 parts and choose a city of refuge in each division (v 3)
3 The cities shall be for the manslayer to flee into for protection from the avenger of blood, when the killing is accidental (v 4-6)
4 When you obey Jehovah and He enlarges your land, giving you all that He has promised, you shall add 3 more cities of refuge, making 6 in all (v 8-10)
5 If a man wilfully slays another and flees to a city of refuge, the elders of the city shall deliver him to the avenger of blood to die (v 11-12)
6 You shall not pity the wilful murderer, but shall execute him to put away the guilt of innocent blood in Israel (v 13)

b It was the duty of the elders of Israel to prepare roads to each city of refuge and keep them in repair so that the slayer might not have any obstruction in his flight. Roads were to be wide enough, bridges were to be made over all rivers, and proper signs put up to aid the innocent to escape death from the avenger of blood

c The first land possessed was east of Jordan. It was already divided and 3 cities had already been named there. When all the land was possessed 3 more cities of refuge were to be added (v 1-4, 7-10) d The cities of refuge were only for the protection of those who killed another accidently (v 4-6). A man who murdered wilfully was not to have such protection but be turned over to the avenger of blood to be killed (v 11-13). The innocent man was to remain in the city until the death of the high priest, after which he was free to return to his home without danger from the avenger (Num. 35:28). The cities were located on both sides of Jordan (4:41-49; Num. 35; Josh. 20). Further details are found in these references

e The handle or wood part of the ax

f A man who slew another accidently was not worthy of death, because he did not desire to hurt his neighbor (v 6), but a wilful murderer was and therefore, was to be shown no pity (v 11-13)

g 3 commands - obedience (v 9):
1 Keep all these commandments and do them
2 Love the Lord your God
3 Walk ever in His ways

h Command - do not remove your neighbor's landmark which was originally set in your inheritance when the land was divided (v 14, Cp. Pr. 22:28; 23:10). Those who did so were classed as wicked (Job 24:2-4), and cursed by the law (27:17). In the East the fields were not marked by fences, but boundaries were indicated by heaps of small stones, by a ridge, by posts or single large rocks set up at certain distances. It was easy for a dishonest man to remove landmarks, little by little each year, and so, gain some ground from his neighbor. Not only did the Mosaic law condemn this, but other nations, especially the Romans, had strict laws against removal of landmarks. Some landmarks even had curses written on them, for those who would remove them

5 commands - perpetual families (25:5)
1 If a married brother dies childless, the living brother shall go in to his brother's wife and raise up seed to him
2 The firstborn from such a union shall succeed in the name of the dead brother that his name be not blotted out of Israel (v 6)
3 If a man refuses to raise up seed to his brother, then his brother's wife shall take her case before the elders of his city for justice (v 7)
4 The elders shall call the man and inquire of him concerning his reason for not raising up seed to his brother (v 8)
5 If he persists in not fulfilling his obligation according to the law, then the brother's wife shall come to him in the presence of the elders, loose his shoe from off his foot, spit in his face, and say that such disgrace rightly belongs to the man who will not build up his brother's house. His name in Israel shall be called: The house of him that hath his shoe loosed (v 9-10) a 5 commands - bearing false witness:

1 One witness shall not rise up against a man to condemn him for any crime. At the mouth of 2 or 3 witnesses shall a matter be established (v 15, Cp. 17:6)
2 If a false witness rises up against a man to testify against him, then both men shall be brought before the Lord and before the priests and judges to settle the controversy (v 16-17)
3 The judges shall cross examine both men and if the witness is found to be false, and has sought to injure his neighbor, he shall be punished in the same way that he thought to punish his neighbor (v 18-19)
4 Those that remain shall hear of the just judgment, and shall fear, and refrain from such wickedness (v 20)
5 Your eye shall not pity the false witness who had no pity for his neighbor, but you shall mete out to him the punishment his neighbor would have received had he been convicted - life for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, and foot for foot (v 21)

b 4 commands - preparation for battle:
1 When you go to battle and see your enemies more and mightier than you, be not afraid of them, for God is with you (v 1)
2 When you come near to battle the priest shall speak to the people and encourage them to put their trust in God who will deliver them regardless of the enemy (v 3-4)
3 The officers shall also speak to the people and let the men that are exempt from war by law, go back home (v 5-8)
4 The officers of the army shall make captains to lead the armies (v 9)

c The God that brought them out of Egypt had done so many unheard-of miracles that the people could well afford to have faith and courage to trust in Him to help them in any battle (v 1)

d The ministers of God took part in the wars of Israel, and at times they were the deciding factor in victory (v 2-3; Num. 31:6; 1 Sam. 4:4, 11; 2 Chr. 13:12; 20:14-29)

e 6 things priests were to say (v 3-4):
1 Hear, O Israel, you go out today against your enemies
2 Let not your hearts faint
3 Fear not your enemies
4 Do not tremble before them
5 Be not terrified because of them
6 The Lord goes before you, to fight for you, and give you victory

f Twice in 4 verses Israel is told not to be afraid of their enemies, and twice they are assured that God will fight for them to give them victory (v 1-4). God always did give victory when Israel lived in obedience and trusted in Him; but when Israel sinned all the assurances of all the priests could not guarantee them the blessing of God. See Victories, civil wars, and defeats of Israel, p. 635

g 5 facts about God to encourage in war:
1 Jehovah your Elohim is with you (v 1)
2 The God that brought you out of Egypt by mighty miracles is with you
3 He will go with you (v 4)
4 He will fight for you
5 He will save you from defeat

h 2 things officers were to do:
1 Speak to the army (v 5-8)
2 Appoint captains to lead army (v 9)

i 4 things officers were to say to army:
1 Let the man go home who has built a new house and has not dedicated it (v 5)
2 Let the man go home who has planted a vineyard and has not eaten of it (v 6)
3 Let the man who has betrothed a wife go home (v 7)
4 Let the man go home who is fearful and faint-hearted (v 8)

j Questions 18-21, Next, 29:24

k Anyone who had planted a vineyard or an orchard was exempt from military duty for 5 years or until the fruit was made common for use. Any fruit of the first 4 years was dedicated to Jehovah (Lev. 19:23-25)

stroyed (v 16). The reason for this was that there would not be a remnant left to teach Israel the abominations for which these inhabitants were condemned to destruction (v 18). Fruit trees and crops were not to be destroyed during sieges of cities, Israel was forbidden to do what the Egyptians did - cut down all the fruit trees (v 19) set in thine inheritance, which thou shalt inherit in the land that the LORD thy God giveth thee to possess it.

(3) Two or three witnesses required for conviction (Dt. 17:6, refs.)

●15 ¶ One witness [a]shall not rise up against a man for any iniquity, or for any sin, in any sin that he sinneth: at the mouth of two witnesses, or at the mouth of three witnesses, shall the matter be established.

(4) Death for perjury (Ex. 20:16, refs.)

16 ¶ If a false witness rise up against any man to testify against him that which is wrong;
●17 Then both the men, between whom the controversy is, shall stand before the LORD, before the priests and the judges, which shall be in those days;
●18 And the judges shall make diligent inquisition: and, behold, if the witness be a false witness, and hath testified falsely against his brother;
●19 Then shall ye do unto him, as he had thought to have done unto his brother: so shalt thou put the evil away from among you.
●20 And those which remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil among you.
●21 And thine eye shall not pity; but life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot.

CHAPTER 20 173

(5) Law of conquest (Num. 31:17, refs.): A Preparation for battle

WHEN thou goest out to battle against thine enemies, and seest horses, and chariots, and a people more than thou, be not afraid of them: for the LORD thy God is with thee, [c]which brought thee up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt.
●2 And it shall be, when ye are come nigh unto the battle, that the [d]priest shall approach and speak unto the people,
●3 And shall [e]say unto them, Hear, O Ĭs'ra-el, ye approach this day unto battle against your enemies: [f]let not your hearts faint, fear not, and do not tremble, neither be ye terrified because of them;
4 For the LORD your God is he that goeth with you, to fight for you against your enemies, [g]to save you.

B Four classes exempt from war (Dt. 24:5)

●5 ¶ And the [h]officers shall speak unto the people, [i]saying, [j]What man is there that hath built a new house, and hath not dedicated it? let him go and return to his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man dedicate it.
●6 And what man is he that hath [k]planted a vineyard, and hath not yet eaten of it? let him also go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man eat of it.
●7 And what man is there that hath [a]betrothed a wife, and hath not taken her? let him go and return unto his house, lest he die in the battle, and another man take her.
●8 And the officers shall speak further unto the people, and they shall say, What man is there that is[b]fearful and faint-hearted? [c]let him go and return unto his house, lest his brethren's heart faint as well as his heart.
●9 And it shall be, when the officers have made an end of speaking unto the people, that they shall make captains of the armies to lead the people.

C Law of battle on foreign cities

●10 ¶ When thou comest nigh unto a city to fight against it, then proclaim peace unto it.
●11 And it[d]shall be, if it make thee answer of peace, and open unto thee, then it shall be, that all the people that is found therein shall be tributaries unto thee, and they shall serve thee.
●12 And if it [e]will make no peace with thee, but will make war against thee, then thou shalt besiege it:
●13 And when [f]the LORD thy God hath delivered it into thine hands, thou shalt smite every male thereof with the edge of the sword:
●14 But [g]the women, and the little ones, and the cattle, and all that is in the city, even all the spoil thereof, shalt thou take unto thyself; and thou shalt eat the spoil of thine enemies, which the LORD thy God hath given thee.
●15 Thus shalt thou do unto all the cities which are very far off from thee, which are not of the cities of these nations.

D Law of battle on cities in the promised land

●16 But of the [h]cities of these people, which the LORD thy God doth give thee for an inheritance, thou shalt save alive nothing that breatheth:
●17 But thou shalt utterly destroy them; namely, the Hĭt'tītes, and the Ăm'ōr-ītes, the Că'năan-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, the Hĭ'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes; as the LORD thy God hath commanded thee:
18 That they teach you not to do after all their abominations, which they have done unto their gods; so should ye sin against the LORD your God.

E Ruthless destruction of fruit trees forbidden (Rev. 6:6)

●19 ¶ When thou shalt besiege a city a long time, in making war against it to take it, thou shalt not destroy the trees thereof by forcing an ax against them: for thou mayest eat of them, and thou shalt not cut a It was customary among the Jews to contract matrimony, espouse or betroth a couple, then leave each one with the parents for a considerable time. The contract always specified conditions of dowry, time when the contracting couple should come together as man and wife, and all other details of agreement between the parents and young people. Concluding festivities were held at the time of fulfillment or coming together of the betrothed. The bridegroom then brought his bride home. Hence, any man in Israel who had made such a contract for a wife was free from military duty until he had consummated the marriage and actually taken his wife. He was exempt from war a full year to enjoy himself in the new status of married life (v 7; 24:5; 28:30; Pr. 5:18-19)

b Of the 32,000 in Gideon's army, 22,000 were faint-hearted and so, were sent home (Judg. 7:3). How many, if any, went home for other reasons allowed by the law, is not known c 4 classes exempt from war:

1 New home-owners, lest they be killed and others dedicate their houses (v 5; 28:30)
2 Owners of newly planted vineyards, lest they die and others enjoy them (v 6; 28:30)
3 Betrothed men, lest they be killed and others take their wives (v 7; 28:30)
4 The fearful and faint-hearted, lest they cause others to become cowards (v 8)

d 12 commands - laws of conquest:
1 When you go to fight against a foreign city, proclaim peace to it (v 10)
2 If the city makes an answer of peace and opens to you, the people in it shall be tributary to you and serve you (v 11)
3 If it will not make peace with you, then besiege it (v 12)
4 When the Lord has given you the city, you shall smite every male with the edge of the sword (v 13)
5 The women and little ones, the cattle, and all the spoil (allowed by the law), you shall take to yourselves (v 14)
6 You shall eat the spoil of your enemies, which God gives you
7 You shall do this to foreign cities outside Canaan (v 15)
8 Of the inhabitants of the cities of Canaan you shall leave none alive (v 16)
9 You shall utterly destroy them, as God has commanded you (v 17)
10 When you besiege a city a long time and take it, you shall not destroy all the trees, for you will need the fruit during the siege (v 19)
11 Only the trees that are not fruit-bearing you shall cut down (v 20) 12 You shall use them to build bulwarks against the city until it is subdued

e The Mosaic laws were distinctly opposed to wars of aggression and foreign conquest - any that were not necessary to occupy the promised land and keep it safe from enemies. This passage simply outlines the accepted procedure in cases of war beyond the borders

f The Lord was always to be considered the Commander-in-chief of the armies of Israel. He was their King, Captain, and Guide in times of war and peace. In His hand were the blessings and curses, the prosperity and poverty, the health and sickness, the victories and defeats, and the life and death of all Israel. They were to look to Him and depend upon Him for the blessings of life, which they always received, when they obeyed (Ex. 15:26; 23:20-33; Lev. 26; Dt. 28)

g Here it seems that all the women and children of foreign nations were spared from death to become a part of the spoils of battle (v 14). From the Canaanite nations doomed to destruction by God, only virgins were spared and taken as part of the spoils (Num. 31:16-18). The nations of Canaan were so corrupt that both men and women were to be destroyed for their abominable sins

h The laws regulating warfare with the cities of Canaan and the whole promised land were different from those regulating war with foreign cities (Cp. v 10-15 with v 16-18). Inhabitants of the cities of all nations inside the promised land were to be totally dea The ceremonies here, ordained to be observed upon the discovery of a slain man in the open field, were to teach and impress upon Israel several things:

1 The sacredness of a human being, who is created in the very image and likeness of God (Gen. 1:26-28; 9:6; Jas. 3:9)
2 The awfulness of murder - cutting off a human life from further service to God or man, and from making any further preparation for eternity. This is a horrible crime
3 The justice and civilized enlightenment of the new laws of God to men, in contrast to the laws of pagans
4 The fear and vengeance of God for such unthinkable crime
5 The results of such crimes should they go lightly punished
6 The pollution the people of God would endure if innocent blood was shed and all efforts to erase the guilt passed up
According to Jewish writers, the Sanhedrin took charge of such cases, sending out a deputation to examine the neighborhood. After receiving a report as to which was the nearest city to the place where the slain man was found, they issued an order by their supreme authority to the elders or magistrates of that city to provide the heifer at public expense, for the required ceremony. The many ceremonial acts necessary to carry out this law made the horror of murder very impressive to the public

10 public acts of inquest:
1 Report to the elders of the slaying
2 Going forth of the elders of their deputation to investigate (v 1-2)
3 Report to the nearest city to the place of murder (v 3)
4 The selection and purchase of a proper heifer victim
5 Conducting the heifer to the spot of slaughter - an isolated, uncultivated, desolate place (v 4)
6 Striking off the heifer's head
7 Coming of the ministers of God, the priests (v 5)
8 Washing of the hands of the elders (of the nearby city) over the slain heifer (v 6)
9 Public denial of these elders that they are guilty of the murder and confession that they are totally ignorant of the murderer (v 7)
10 Public prayer of the elders for mercy and forgiveness (v 8)

b 4 commands - inquest laws:
1 If a man is found slain in the open field and it is not known who slew him, then the elders of Israel shall come forth and determine which is the closest city to the dead man (v 1-2)
2 The elders of the nearest city shall take a heifer that has never been bred or worked and cut off her head in a rough, uncultivated valley (v 3-4)
3 The priests shall come near, for by them every inquest shall be held (v 5)
4 All the elders of that city shall wash their hands over the beheaded heifer in the valley, and declare their innocence, and pray for mercy requesting that the shedding of innocent blood not be laid to them. It shall be forgiven them (v 6-9)

c A rugged valley implies a wady or perennial stream where the polluting blood could be washed away, and a desert place incapable of cultivation (v 4) d The striking off the heifer's head was contrary to the ordinary mode of slaughtering animals (v 4)

e Washing hands was an ancient symbol of innocence (v 6; Mt. 27:24)

f The whole ceremony was designed to impress the public and encourage the magistrates in discharging their duties to find criminals and suppress crime in each community (v 9)

g This evidently refers to the time after the conquest of Canaan when all Canaanites were to be totally destroyed (7:3; 20:16-18)

h 4 commands - captive wives:
1 When you see a beautiful captive woman and you wish to have her for a wife, you shall bring her home to your house (v 10-12)
2 She shall shave her head, pare her nails, put off the raiment of her captivity, remain in your house, and bewail her father and mother for a month (v them down (for the tree of the field is man's life) to employ them in the siege:

●20 Only the trees which thou knowest that they be not trees for meat, thou shalt destroy and cut them down; and thou shalt build bulwarks against the city that maketh war with thee, until it be subdued.

174 CHAPTER 21

(6) Law of inquest

IF one be found slain in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee to possess it, lying in the field, and it be not known who hath slain him:
●2 Then [c]thy elders and thy judges [b]shall come forth, and they shall measure unto the cities which are round about him that is slain:
●3 And it shall be, that the city which is next unto the slain man, even the elders of that city shall take an heifer, which hath not been wrought with, and which hath not drawn in the yoke;
●4 And the elders of that city shall bring down the heifer unto a [c]rough valley, which is neither eared nor sown, and shall [d]strike off the heifer's neck there in the valley:
●5 And the priests the sons of Lē'vī shall come near; for them the LORD thy God hath chosen to minister unto him, and to bless in the name of the LORD; and by their word shall every controversy and every stroke be tried:
●6 And all the elders of that city, that are next unto the slain man, shall [e]wash their hands over the heifer that is beheaded in the valley:
●7 And they shall answer and say, [f]Our hands have not shed this blood, neither have our eyes seen it.
8 Be merciful, O LORD, unto thy people Iṣ'ra-el, whom thou hast redeemed, and lay not innocent blood unto thy people of Iṣ'ra-el's charge. And the blood shall be forgiven them.
9 So shalt thou put away the guilt of innocent blood from among you, when thou shalt do that which is right in the sight of the LORD.

(7) Law of taking captives for wives and of divorcing them (Dt. 24:1, refs.)

10 ¶ When thou[g]goest forth to war against thine enemies, and the LORD thy God hath delivered them into thine hands, and thou hast taken them captive, 11 And seest among the captives a beautiful woman, and hast a desire unto her, that thou wouldest have her to thy wife;
●12 Then thou[h]shalt bring her home to thine house; and she shall [i]shave her head, and [j]pare her nails;
●13 And she shall put the raiment of her captivity from off her, and shall remain in thine house, and bewail her father and her mother a full month: and after that thou shalt go in unto her, and be her husband, and she shall be thy wife.
●14 And it shall be, if thou have no delight in her, then thou shalt [d]let her go whither she will; but thou shalt not sell her at all for money, thou shalt not make merchandise of her, because thou hast humbled her.

(8) Law of no respect of persons in the home (Jas. 2:9)

15 ¶ If a man have two wives, one beloved, and another hated, and they have born him children, both the beloved and the hated; and if the firstborn son be hers that was hated:
●16 Then it[b]shall be, when he maketh his sons to inherit that which he hath, that he may not make the son of the beloved firstborn before the son of the hated, which is indeed the firstborn:
●17 But he shall acknowledge the son of the hated for the firstborn, by giving him a double portion of all that he hath: for he is the beginning of his strength; the right of the firstborn is his.

(9) Death for rebellious sons

18 ¶ [c]If a man have a stubborn and rebellious son, which will not obey the voice of his father, or the voice of his mother, and that, when they have chastened him, will not hearken unto them:
●19 Then shall his father and his mother lay hold on him, and bring him out unto the elders of his city, and unto the gate of his place;
●20 And they shall say unto the elders of his city, This our son is [d]stubborn and rebellious, he will not obey our voice; he is a glutton, and a drunkard.
●21 And all the men of his city shall stone him with stones, that he die: so shalt thou put evil away from among you; and all Iṣ'ra-el shall hear, and fear.

(10) Law of execution by hanging (Gal. 3:13)

●22 ¶ And if a man have committed a sin worthy of death, and he be to be put to death, and thou hang him on a tree:
●23 His body [e]shall not remain all night upon the tree, but thou shalt in any wise bury him that day; (for he that is [f]hanged is accursed of God;) that thy land be not defiled, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

CHAPTER 22 175

(11) Stray animal laws

THOU [g]shalt not see thy brother's ox or his sheep go astray, and [h]hide thyself from them: thou shalt in any case bring them again unto thy brother.
●2 And if thy brother be not nigh unto thee, or if thou know him not, then thou shalt bring it unto thine own house, and it shall be with thee until thy brother seek after it, and thou a Instead of being unfair the law of this passage was a great improvement over the laws of other nations of that time. Among all ancient peoples the custom of war was that captives should become slaves to the victor who had the sole control and right to those captured. According to Israel's law, if a master became desirous of marrying a beautiful woman, who by right of spoils of war, had become a slave, he was required to wait a month before completing the marriage. This gave the woman time to go through certain rites, calm her perturbed feelings and become reconciled to her new condition in life. It also gave the master time to test his affections concerning her. If he became indifferent toward her during this period, he was not to lord it over her, sell her as a slave, or retain her in some subordinate position in the household. The slave woman was to go free where she willed to go, with the provision the master made for her. There is no indication that he may have had relationship with her. Proposing to make her his wife and then rejecting her at the end of the month was humiliating enough to make it just that she go free to make her own way in life. In marriage she would have had an exalted position (v 10-14)

b Command - If a man has 2 wives, one loved and the other hated, he shall not put the firstborn of the loved before the firstborn of the hated wife, in giving his inheritance to his sons (v 15-17). To hate here means to prefer one above another in the same sense that Jacob preferred Rachel to Leah (Gen. 29:31), and God preferred Jacob to Esau (Mal. 1:2-3; Rom. 9:13). This is also the meaning in the N.T. where disciples are required to hate parents and others (Lk. 14:26, note)

c 4 commands - stubborn sons:
1 If a man has a stubborn and rebellious son who will not obey his parents, when they have chastened him, they shall lay hold on him and bring him to the elders in the gate of the city for judgment (v 18-19)
2 They shall say to the elders: Our son is stubborn, rebellious, a glutton, and a drunkard and will not obey our voice (v 20)
3 All the men of the city shall stone him with stones until he is dead (v 21)
4 You shall put away evil from among you, and all Israel shall hear and fear the judgment of God upon rebels

d 4 death-penalty sins for sons (v 20):
1 Stubbornness in accepting correction
2 Rebellion against parents
3 Gluttony - excess in eating 4 Drunkenness - slavery to intoxicants

e Command - you shall not permit an executed man to hang on the tree over night; you shall bury him the day he is hung (v 23)

f See Gal. 3:13-14; Josh. 8:29; 10:26-27

g 4 commands - lost property:
1 You shall not see your brother's ox or sheep go astray and refuse to help him find it (v 1)
2 You shall bring your brother's stock back to him in every case
3 If your brother lives far from you, or if you do not know to whom the stock belongs, you shall bring it to your own house until he comes seeking for it and then restore it to him (v 2)
4 You shall also protect and restore your brother's ass, raiment, and anything else that he has lost (v 3)

h The meaning is that one should not ignore that which is lost or has gone astray, or refuse to take interest in that which belongs to another man (v 1. Cp. Isa. 58:7, note)

3 After that you shall go in unto her and be her husband and she shall be your wife (v 13)
4 If you do not have delight in her, then you shall let her go where she will, but you shall not sell her for money, or make merchandise of her, because you have humbled her (v 14)

i In the East, shaving the head was a sign of renouncing one religion and becoming a proselyte of another. In this case it signified that the captive woman had put away her religion and nationality to become an adopted Israelite

j See Ancient fingernail polish, p. 216

a See note h, v 1

b 2 commands - humane laws:
1 You shall not see your brother's ass or his ox fall down into any state of helplessness and refuse to help it (v 4)
2 If you find a bird's nest and the dam sitting on eggs or with her young ones, you shall not take the dam with the young (v 6-7)

c Command - men and women shall not wear the garments of each other or anything that would violate the distinction of their sex (v 5). The dress of the sexes in those days being more alike than in our day, there was more need for regulation. The law was perhaps made not only to preserve decency and the clear distinction between males and females, but also because pagans were in the habit of erasing such distinction in idolatrous worship. Men wore the colored dress of women when they presented themselves before the Star of Venus, and women wore men's armour when presenting themselves before the Star of Mars. Idols were frequently represented with the features of one sex and the dress of the other; and their worshippers endeavored to be like them Even today when idol worship is not involved it is an outrage on decency and nature for men and women to seek to erase the distinction of their own sex, imitating each other fosters softness and effeminacy in the man, and impudence, and boldness in the woman. It breeds levity and hypocrisy in both and opens the door to many evils which are an abomination to God and a disgrace to man. The passage does not refer to clothing only, but to anything peculiar to each sex that clearly and unmistakingly distinguishes one from the other. Where modern machinery requires women to change from skirts to slacks for their own safety, they can still meet their needs without turning strictly to man's apparel

d This shows the normal, humane spirit of the Mosaic law in regulating the tendency of fallen man to wanton destruction of any created thing. It encourages the kind and compassionate element of his being, the tenderness of man - the responsible ruler of creation - toward the smallest parts of creation. To cause any species of birds to be extinct would have worked against the betterment of man; without their help the poisonous snakes, scorpions, swarms of insects, flies, locusts, mice, and other creatures could have multiplied so fast as to cause man to suffer, and perhaps be driven from the land

e Command - you shall make a battlement for your roof so that you will not bring blood upon your house (v 8). Roofs in the East were generally flat and a banister was needed to keep people from falling off, day and night. Because of the climate, in the warmer months many ate meals on the roof as well as slept there in the open air. The battlement was a wall about 3 ft. high on all sides of the flat roof

f 3 commands - segregation:
1 You shall not sow your vineyard with different seeds (v 9)
2 You shall not plow with an ox and an ass together (v 10)
3 You shall not wear garments of mingled materials, as wool and linen together (v 11)
The laws of segregation go deeper than the mere idea that wool is from an animal and linen from a vegetable, that the ox, according to the law, is a clean animal and the ass unclean, or that they are of different character and size which would make uneven pulling. The truth is that God wanted each species of man, animals, and even seeds to be kept as segregated from each other as possible, so that there would be no defilement of mixing them in reproduction and work. See Segregation in Index

g Command - you shall make fringes upon the corners of your vesture (v 12). The Heb. for fringes here is gedil, twisted thread; tassel; festoon; wreath. It is trans. fringes (v 12); and wreaths (1 Kl. 7:17). It is not the same Heb. word (tal'ytalth) trans. fringes in note k, Num. 15:38-39. Here it refers to tassels hanging from the corners of the undergarments by a string or slender cord.

shalt restore it to him again.
3 In like manner shalt thou do with his ass; and so shalt thou do with his raiment; and with all lost thing of thy brother's, which he hath lost, and thou hast found, shalt thou do likewise: thou mayest not [c]hide thyself.

(12) Humane laws (v 6)

4 ¶ Thou [b]shalt not see thy brother's ass or his ox fall down by the way, and hide thyself from them: thou shalt surely help him to lift them up again.

(13) Law against dressing like the opposite sex

5 ¶ The woman [c]shall not wear that which pertaineth unto a man, neither shall a man put on a woman's garment: for all that do so are abomination unto the LORD thy God.

(14) Humane laws (v 4)

6 ¶ If a bird's nest chance to be before thee in the way in any tree, or on the ground, whether they be young ones, or eggs, and the dam sitting upon the young, or upon the eggs, thou shalt not take the dam with the young:
7 But thou [d]shalt in any wise let the dam go, and take the young to thee; [f]that it may be well with thee, and that thou mayest prolong thy days.

(15) Law of accident prevention

8 ¶ When thou buildest a new house, then thou [e]shalt make a battlement for thy roof, that thou bring not blood upon thine house, if any man fall from thence.

(16) Law of segregation (Ex. 23:32)

9 ¶ Thou [f]shalt not sow thy vineyard with divers seeds: lest the fruit of thy seed which thou hast sown, and the fruit of thy vineyard, be defiled.
10 ¶ Thou shalt not plow with an ox and an ass together.
11 ¶ Thou shalt not wear a garment of divers sorts, as of woollen and linen together.

(17) Law of fringes or borders on garments (Mt. 23:5)

12 ¶ Thou [g]shalt make thee fringes upon the four quarters of thy vesture, wherewith thou coverest thyself.

(18) Law of protecting an innocent wife (Cp. Num. 5:11-31; Dt. 24:1, refs.)

13 ¶ If any man take a wife, and go in unto her, and hate her,
14 And give occasions of speech against her, and bring up an evil name upon her, and say, I took this woman, and when I came to her, I found her not a maid:
15 Then [h]shall the father of the damsel, and her mother, take and bring forth the tokens of the damsel's virginity unto the elders of the city in the gate:
16 And the damsel's [a]father shall say unto the elders, I gave my daughter unto this man to wife, and he hateth her;
17 And, lo, he hath given occasions of speech against her, saying, I found not thy daughter a maid; and yet these are the tokens of my daughter's virginity. And they shall spread the cloth before the elders of the city.
18 And the elders of that city shall take that man and [b]chastise him;
19 And they shall [c]amerce him in an hundred [d]shekels of silver, and give them [e]unto the father of the damsel, because he hath brought up an evil name upon a virgin of Is'ra-el: and she shall be his wife; he may not put her away all his days.

(19) Death for non-virgins

20 But if this thing be true, and the tokens of virginity be not found for the damsel:
21 Then they [f]shall bring out the damsel to the door of her father's house, and the men of her city shall stone her with stones that she die: [g]because she hath wrought folly in Is'ra-el, to play the whore in her father's house: so shalt thou put evil away from among you.

(20) Death for adultery (Ex. 20:14, refs.)

22 ¶ If a man be found lying with a woman married to an husband, then they shall both of them die, both the man that lay with the woman, and the woman: so shalt thou put away evil from Is'ra-el.

(21) Death for rape of betrothed in the cities (Ex. 22:16)

23 ¶ If a damsel that is a virgin be betrothed unto an husband, and a man find her in the city, and lie with her;
24 Then ye shall bring them both out unto the gate of that city, and ye shall stone them with stones that they die; the damsel, because she cried not, being in the city; and the man, because he hath humbled his neighbour's wife: so thou shalt put away evil from among you.

(22) Death for rape of betrothed in the fields

25 ¶ But if a man find a betrothed damsel in the field, and the man force her, and lie with her: then the man only that lay with her shall die:
26 But unto the damsel thou shalt do nothing; there is in the damsel no sin worthy of death: for as when a man riseth against his neighbour, and slayeth him, even so is this matter:
27 For he found her in the field, and the betrothed damsel cried, and there was none to save her.

(23) Penalty for rape of unbetrothed (Ex. 22:16)

28 ¶ If a man find a damsel a It was the custom for parents to keep the token of virginity so that they would have proof should it be needed. After having relationship with the bride a man could turn against her as in the case of Amnon (2 Sam. 13:15); he could wish to get rid of her through lust for someone else whom he had desired while waiting for the marriage to be consumated, or he might want a return of the dowry which he had given for the girl. He might claim that she was not a virgin and thus slander her before all the people. The parents could then take the bed-clothes of her wedding night, upon which were the signs of virginity and bring them before the elders of the city, spread them out and make their plea regarding this as proof of their daughter's virginity. It was customary in Egypt and Syria to take possession of the spotted bed-clothes directly after the marriage night. Keeping them was important in Israel, for it could mean the difference between life and death of the virgin (v 13-21)

b 3fold punishment of a husband slanderer:
1 Public whipping (v 18)
2 Fine of 100 shekels ($64.00), or twice as much as the fine for rape of an unbetrothed virgin as in v 28-29 (v 19)
3 Being deprived of any future divorce from the hated wife

c An old Eng. word for fine him

d A shekel of silver being worth 64¢ this would be $64.00 in our money

e The fine was to be paid to the father of the damsel, or if he was dead, to her brother or guardian (v 19). If an orphan, it is said, the amount was paid to her f 6 commands - rape and adultery:

1 If a damsel if found guilty of losing her virginity before her marriage, the elders of the city shall bring her before the door of her father's house and all the men of her city shall kill her with stones (v 20-21)
2 If a man is found lying with a married woman, they shall both be killed (v 22)
3 If a man finds a betrothed virgin in the city and lies with her, they shall both be stoned to death in the gate of the city (v 23-24)
4 If a man finds a betrothed virgin in the country and forces her (rapes her), the man only shall die; unto the damsel you shall do nothing, for there was no one to save her when she cried (v 25-27)
5 If a man rapes a virgin which is not betrothed, he shall give her father 50 shekels ($32.00) and take the damsel for his wife. He shall not put her away all the days of his life (v 28-29)
6 You shall not take your father's wife, nor discover your father's skirt (v 30). It was upon this law that Solomon put his brother, Adonijah, to death - for desiring Abishag, the former wife of his father, David (1 Kl. 2:13-25)

g 4 death-penalty sins:
1 Forfeiting virginity before marriage (v 13-21)
2 Adultery with a married woman (v 22)
3 Raping a betrothed woman in the city (v 23-24)
4 Raping a betrothed woman in the open field (v 25-27)

Outer garments were usually made of wool or hair of varying degrees of fineness, some being black, some white and marked with two broad stripes. Such a garment was shapeless, designed like a sack with an opening in front and slits in the sides for the arms. It was used as a cover at night and something to carry things in, on a journey (Ex. 12:34)

h 4 commands - innocent wife:
1 If a man marries a virgin and goes in unto her and hates her, and slanders her, seeking to get a divorce upon false grounds saying she was not a virgin; then the father and mother of the woman shall bring the proof of her virginity to the elders of the city (v 14-15)
2 The parents shall state the true facts to the elders and prove that she was a virgin and that her husband is slandering a daughter in Israel for selfish reasons (v 16-17)
3 The elders of the city shall take the man and chastise him, fine him 100 shekels of silver ($64.00) and give them to the father of the woman (v 18-19)
4 She shall continue to be his wife; he shall not put her away all the days of his life (v 19)

a A shekel being 64¢, 50 shekels amounted to $32.00 of our money

b 2 classes that could not divorce:
1 A man that raped a virgin who was not betrothed (v 28-29)
2 A man that accused an innocent wife of not being a virgin when he married her (v 13-19)

c See incest laws in Lev. 18

d It was a very ancient practice among many pagan nations for the priests of heathen deities to be eunuchs, and for parents to mutilate their children with the view of training them for such priesthood or for services to kings and great men. Here, God forbade such mutilation of children in Israel. As no animal was fit for sacrifice if not perfect, so no man was qualified to enter the congregation if mutilated. This was God's method of preventing castration of male children in Israel e 5 classes not to enter the congregation:

1 Men wounded in their stones (testicles) - castrated (v 1)
2 Men with private part cut off
3 Bastards (v 2)
4 Ammonites (v 3)
5 Moabites

f Heb. mamzer, alienate; a mongrel; an offspring of a Jewish father and heathen mother; an illegitimate child - one born out of wedlock; a person born of incestuous mixture. Found only here and Zech. 9:6. The Sept. reads, the son of a harlot, or one born of fornication

g The 10th generation is the same as forever (Cp. v 2 with v 3; Neh. 13:1)

h This congregation of the Lord means the assembly of Israel. It has no reference to heaven or of being converted in the N. T. sense of salvation. Persons in all these groups could have been redeemed by turning to God and meeting His demands like others. God has never turned down a penitent sinner of these classes or any other. He loves the whole world and will save all who turn to Him with all their hearts, repent and call upon His name. The passage does not mean that such persons were not allowed to mingle with Israelites, or live in the nation of Israel. It could only mean that such could not hold public office as an elder, magistrate, judge, priest or other official in Israel. The reason is clear: no man with a personal defect that would render him contemptible to others should bear rule over others. No bastard or foreigner, as an Ammonite or a Moabite could rule or enjoy full privileges as true Israelites. Precaution was taken lest friendship and marriage with strangers and foreigners would lead Israel into idolatry. One could enjoy even the smallest privileges as a citizen of Israel by being converted to Jewish faith, but he would be limited, and not to rule i The Ammonites and Moabites were the result of incest (Gen. 19:30-38). This law against them was given for 2 reasons, explained in v 4. It either applied to males only, or there were exceptions. Ruth, the Moabitess was an exception (Ruth 1:4; 4:13; Mt. 1:5). The law applied only to these 2 peoples, for in v 7 others are dealt with on a different basis

j 2 reasons for Ammonites and Moabites not entering assembly of Israel:
1 Because they showed no mercy to Israel when coming out of Egypt (v 4)
2 Because they hired Balaam to curse Israel

k God does this for those who put their trust in Him, who are in His will, and those whom He loves (v 5). He loves all who will love Him and keep His commandments. See 210 plain laws and warnings, p. 284 of N. T.

l Command - you shall not seek the peace and prosperity of your enemies forever (v 6). It may seem that this is contrary to the law of love in 10:19; Lev. 19:18, 34, but because of avowed enemies who sought the destruction of Israel through whom the Messiah was to come, the Word of God was given, and through whom God planned to bless and rule the world, such a command was necessary. Israel needed to be brought to the point of destroying the nations of Canaan that were already appointed to total destruction because of their wickedness, so that God's plan could be realized

m 3 commands - foreigners:

CHAPTER 23 176

(25) Five classes not to enter the congregation of the Lord: reasons

●HE that is [d]wounded in the stones, or hath his privy member cut off, [e]shall not enter into the congregation of the LORD.

●2 A [f]bastard shall not enter into the congregation of the LORD; even to his [g]tenth generation shall he not [h]enter into the congregation of the LORD.

●3 An [i]Am'mon-ite or Mŏ'ab-ite shall not enter into the congregation of the LORD; even to their tenth generation shall they not enter into the congregation of the LORD for ever:

4 [j]Because they met you not with bread and with water in the way, when ye came forth out of E'gĕypt; and because they hired against thee Bā'laam the son of Bĕ'or of Pĕ'thôr of Mĕs-o-pŏ-tā'mi-á, to curse thee.

5 Nevertheless the LORD thy God would not hearken unto Bā'laam; but the LORD thy God [k]turned the curse into a blessing unto thee, because the LORD thy God loved thee.

(26) Law of love for enemies (Ex. 23:4, refs.)

●6 Thou [l]shalt not seek their peace nor their prosperity all thy days for ever.

(27) Law of love for Edomites and Egyptians: reasons (Ex. 22:21, refs.)

●7 ¶ Thou [m]shalt not abhor an E'dom-ite; for he is thy brother: thou shalt not abhor an E-gĕyp'tian; because thou wast a stranger in his land.

●8 The children that are begotten of them shall enter into the congregation of the LORD in their third generation.

(28) Law against pagan practice (Dt. 14:1, refs.)

●9 ¶ When the host goeth forth against thine enemies, [n]then keep thee from every wicked thing.

(29) Law of cleansing unclean persons (Lev. 5:1; Num. 19)

●10 ¶ If there be among you any man, that is not clean by reason of uncleanness that chanceth him by night, [o]then shall he go abroad out of the camp, he shall not come within the camp:

●11 But it shall be, when evening cometh on, he shall wash himself with water: and when the sun is down, he shall come into the camp again.

(30) Law of sanitation in camp

●12 ¶ Thou [a]shalt have a place also without the camp, whither thou shalt go forth abroad:

●13 And thou shalt have a paddle upon thy weapon; and it shall be, when thou wilt ease thyself abroad, thou shalt dig therewith, and shalt turn back and cover that which cometh from thee:

●14 For the LORD thy God walketh in the midst of thy camp, to deliver thee, and to give up thine enemies before thee; therefore shall thy camp be holy: that he see no uncleanness in thee, and turn away from thee.

(31) Law of love for escaped slaves (Lev. 25:44; Dt. 15)

●15 ¶ Thou [b]shalt not deliver unto his master the servant which is escaped from his master unto thee:

●16 He shall dwell with thee, even among you, in that place which he shall choose in one of thy gates, where it liketh him best: thou shalt not oppress him.

(32) Law against whoredom and sodomy and dedication of money made from such sins

●17 ¶ There [c]shall be no whore of the daughters of Iş'ra-el, nor a sodomite of the sons of Iş'ra-el.

●18 Thou shalt not bring the hire of a whore, or the [d]price of a [e]dog, into the house of the LORD thy God for any vow: for even both these are [f]abomination unto the LORD thy God.

(33) Law against charging interest to brethren (Ex. 22:25)

●19 ¶ Thou [g]shalt not lend upon usury to thy brother; usury of money, usury of victuals, usury of any thing that is lent upon usury:

●20 Unto a stranger thou mayest lend upon usury; but unto thy brother thou shalt not lend upon usury: [h]that the LORD thy God may bless thee in all that thou settest thine hand to in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

(34) Law of paying vows (Num. 6; 30; Lev. 27; Ps. 15:4)

●21 ¶ When thou shalt vow a vow unto the LORD thy God, thou [i]shalt not slack to pay it: for the LORD thy God will surely require it of thee; and it would be sin in thee.

22 But if thou shalt forbear to vow, it shall be no sin in thee.

●23 That which is gone out of thy lips thou shalt keep and perform; even a freewill offering, according as thou hast vowed unto the LORD thy God, which a 3 commands - sanitation in camp:

1 You shall have private places outside the camp where you shall go to ease yourself (v 12)
2 You shall have a paddle upon your weapon with which to bury dung when you are abroad (v 13)
3 You shall keep your camp free from all uncleanness (v 14)

b 3 commands - escaped slaves:
1 You shall not deliver any escaped slave to his master (v 15)
2 He shall dwell with you and in your midst where he shall choose (v 16)
3 You shall not oppress him
Without a doubt there were some masters who would oppress slaves. When the oppression became unbearable and slaves escaped they were to be protected if they fled to Israel. This perhaps refers only to slaves fleeing from foreign masters and injustice and not from justice, God ever had in mind the like condition of Israel in Egyptian oppression and bondage c 2 commands - harlotry and sodomy:

1 You shall not tolerate a whore of the daughters of Israel to live, nor a sodomite of the sons of Israel (v 17)
2 You shall not bring the money received by a whore or a sodomite for their services into the house of God or receive it to use for holy purposes (v 18)

d This does not refer to selling an ordinary dog - a common domestic animal, but to using for sacred purposes any money received by a sodomite (homosexual) for immoral services. Such money was filthy and sinful and not to be used in connection with God or worship of any kind, in religious rites among idolatrous nations, both male and female prostitutes were a common part of the worship, especially that of Ashtoreth or Astarte (v 17-18; Mic. 1:7)

e Heb. keleb, to yelp: a dog; a male prostitue; homosexual; sodomite. The words dog and dogs are used 41 times, both literally and figuratively

12 uses of "dog" in Scripture:
1 Used 22 times of literal dogs (Ex. 11:7; 22:31; Judg. 7:5; 1 Kl. 14:11; 16:4; 21:19-24; 22:38; 2 Kl. 9:10, 36; Job 30:1; Ps. 68:23; Pr. 26:11, 17; Eccl. 9:4; Isa. 66:3; Jer. 15:3; Mk. 7:27-29; 2 Pet. 2:22)
2 Used 8 times figuratively as a disdainful term of men (1 Sam. 17:43; 24:14; 2 Sam. 3:8; 9:8; 16:9; 2 Kl. 8:13; Ps. 59:6, 14)
3 Of homosexuals (Dt. 23:18)

2 Unto strangers you may lend and charge interest, but not your brother (v 20)

i 3 commands - paying vows
1 You shall not hesitate to pay any vow you have made to God (v 21)

CHAPTER 24 177

(36) Law of divorce (Dt. 21:10-14; 22:13-19; Isa. 50:1; Jer. 3:8; Mt. 5:31; 19:1-8; Lk. 16:18; 1 Cor. 7:10-24)

●WHEN a man hath taken a wife, and married her, and it come to pass that she find no favour in his eyes, because he hath found [c]some uncleanness in her: [d]then let him write her a bill of divorcement, and give it in her hand, and send her out of his house.
●2 And when she is departed out of his house, she [e]may go and be another man's wife.
●3 And if the latter husband hate her, and write her [f]a bill of divorcement, and giveth it in her hand, and [g]sendeth her out of his house; or if the latter husband die, which took her to be his wife;
●4 [h]Her former husband, which sent her away, may not take her again to be his wife, [i]after that she is defiled; for that is abomination before the LORD: and thou shalt not cause the land to sin, which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance.

(37) Newlywed laws (Dt. 20:7)

●5 ¶ When a man hath taken a new wife, he [j]shall not go out to war, neither shall he be charged with any business: but he shall be free at home one year, and shall cheer up his wife which he hath taken.

(38) Law on taking pledges (v 10-13, 17; Ex. 22:26)

●6 ¶ No man [k]shall take the nether or the upper millstone to pledge: for he taketh a man's life to pledge.

(39) Death for kidnapping (Ex. 21:16)

●7 ¶ If a man be found stealing any of his brethren of the children of Is'ra-el, and maketh merchandise of him, or selleth him; then that thief [l]shall die; and thou shalt put evil away from among you.

(40) Warning to observe leprosy laws (Lev. 13:1-14:57)

●8 ¶ Take heed in the plague of leprosy, that thou observe diligently, and do according to all that the priests the Lĕ'vites shall teach you: as I commanded them, so ye shall observe to do.
●9 [m]Remember what the LORD thy God did unto Mir'i-am by the way, after that ye were come forth out of E'gĕypt.

(41) Law on taking pledges (v 6, 17; Ex. 22:26)

●10 ¶ When thou dost lend thy brother any thing, thou [b]shalt not go into his house to fetch his pledge.
●11 Thou [c]shalt stand abroad, and the man to whom thou dost lend shall bring out the pledge abroad unto thee.
●12 And if the man be poor, thou shalt not sleep with his pledge:
●13 In any case thou shalt deliver him the pledge again when the sun goeth down, that he may sleep in his own [d]raiment, and bless thee: and it shall [e]be righteousness unto thee before the LORD thy God.

(42) Law against oppression (Ex. 22:21, refs.)

●14 ¶ Thou [f]shalt not oppress an hired servant that is poor and needy, whether he be of thy brethren, or of thy strangers that are in thy land within thy gates:
●15 At his day thou shalt give him his hire, neither [g]shall the sun go down upon it; for he is poor, and setteth his heart upon it: [h]lest he cry against thee unto the LORD, and it be sin unto thee.

(43) Law of individual responsibility (Ezek. 18 and 33)

●16 The fathers [i]shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers: every man shall be put to death for his own sin.

(44) Law against injustice (Ex. 23:6; Dt. 16:19)

●17 ¶ Thou shalt not pervert the judgment of the stranger, nor of the fatherless; nor take a widow's raiment to pledge:

(45) Law of gleanings (Lev. 19:9; 23:22)

●19 ¶ When thou cuttest down thine harvest in thy field, and hast forgot a sheaf in the field, thou [j]shalt not go again to fetch it: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow: that the LORD thy God may bless thee in all the work of thine hands.
●20 When thou [k]beatest thine olive tree, thou shalt not go over the boughs again: it shall be for the stranger, for the fatherless, and for the widow.

●22 And thou shalt remember that thou wast a bondman in a A promise from the mouth must be a promise from the heart. God counts it as such and will hold one responsible for his words (Ps. 15:4; Mt. 12:36-37)

b 2 commands - neighborly privileges:
1 When you come into your neighbor's vineyard, you may eat to the full, but do not put any fruit into a vessel and take it home with you (v 24)
2 When you come into your neighbor's corn (wheat) field, you may eat what you will, but do not cut down any to take home with you (v 25)
This applied to any orchard or crop belonging to a neighbor. One could satisfy his hunger but not take any away lest he be guilty of stealing c See Reason for divorce, p.237
d 3 commands - marriage and divorce:
1 If you take a wife and she finds no favor in your eyes because of some uncleanness, you may write a bill of divorcement, put it into her hand and send her out of your house (v 1)
2 She may go and be another man's wife (v 2)
3 If the second husband hates her, and writes her a bill of divorcement, or if he dies, the former husband may not take her again to be his wife, for she is defiled (v 4) e It appears here that only the man had the authority concerning divorce. Perhaps this was true in early times, but later, especially in Christian times, a woman had the right under certain circumstances f In Israel the right to divorce was also a right to re-marry; a legal divorce was the absolute end of marriage. In Mt. 19 Jesus did not change their meaning of divorce. The question then was: for what reason may one lawfully seek a divorce? See notes e-h, Mt. 5:31-32 for definitions of divorce, fornication, etc. For wording of an ancient Jewish divorce decree, see note f, Mk. 10:4. According to the Gospels (Mt. 5:31-32; 19:1-9; Mk. 10:1-8; Lk. 16:18), Moses wrote the law on divorce because of hardness of the heart of the people; and except for fornication one must not divorce his wife (Mt. 5:31; note b, 19:9); except for fornication, if one puts away his wife he causes her to commit adultery (Mt. 5:32; 19:9); and except for fornication dissolving a marriage, one who marries her that is put away, commits adultery. All hardness-of-heart divorces for any and every cause are wrong, and only those for a scriptural reason give the right to re-marriage. The man and woman who get a divorce without scriptural grounds cause sin by forcing each other to marry someone he or she has no right to. In Paul's writings we find one more scriptural reason for divorce - wilful desertion because of Christ and the gospel (1 Cor. 7:12-15) g This is the same as put away in the N.T. See note e, Mt. 5:31
h This is in contrast with some modern teaching that a second marriage, which may have come about while the couple were yet in sin, should be broken up at the time of their becoming Christians, so that one or both might return to former companions. Such a theory is not supported in either testament. The nearest instructions we have to this are those in 1 Cor. 7:10-16 where a Christian woman who leaves her husband without getting a divorce, is required to remain unmarried or be reconciled to him i A woman divorced and remarried was considered defiled as far as her former companion was concerned, but not as far as the new husband was concerned or God's law would not have tolerated her marriage to him (v 4). The word defiled as used here refers to that which is illegal. The word is used in various ways. Dinah was defiled by the prince of Shechem (Gen. 34:4,13,27); a woman committing adultery is spoken of as defiled (Num. 5:13-14, 20, 27-29); a person was defiled if he touched a dead body (Num. 6:9, 12; 9:6-7); and sowing different seeds in a vineyard defiled the fruit (Dt. 22:9) j 4 commands - newly-wedded man (v 5):
1 He shall not go out to war ness
2 He shall not be charged with busi-
3 He shall be free at home for a year
4 He shall cheer up his wife a How many will not remember that God punishes those who sin, regardless of past relationship and grace! Though Miriam was a prophetess and chief of the women of Israel, when she sinned God meted out judgment to her immediately (Num. 12)

b 3 commands - pledges:
1 No man shall take the lower or upper millstone for a pledge, for it is a means of daily bread and like giving life for a pledge (v 6)
2 When you lend to a brother you shall not go into his house to get his pledge; you shall wait for him to bring his pledge out to you (v 10-11)
3 If the man is poor you shall not hold his pledge over night, but shall deliver him his garment before the sun goes down, so that he may keep warm through the night (v 12-13) c This command - not to go into a man's house for his pledge - was designed to curb greediness and protect the poor man from the money lender. A lender would not enter a well-respected house but stand outside and call the owner to come out and meet him. Without this law he might intrude rudely into the rights of the poor and unfortunate; and by showing himself so anxious that he must go into a man's house to get the pledge of a loan, he would prove himself inhuman, greedy, and lustful for material gain. One purpose of the law was to prevent the lender from selecting the pledge himself, thus leaving the choice up to the poor man. He could bring out what he pleased if equal in value to the money borrowed d See Pledge - outer garment, p.237 e Righteousness in both testaments means right-doing, or doing right (v 13)
f 2 commands - oppression:
1 You shall not oppress the poor hired servant, whether he is an Israelite or a stranger in your midst (v 14)
2 Give him his wages at the close of each day and before the night comes, for this is his daily living (v 15) g 3 things to do before sunset:
1 Give garment pledges back (v 13; Ex. 22:26)
2 Give wages to servants (v 15)
3 Lay aside anger (Eph. 4:26)
h Oppression of the poor and helpless is one of the most deplorable crimes of the Bible, and blessing them is one of the most righteous acts before God (v 15; 15:11; Ps. 35:10; 72:13; 82:3-4; Pr. 19:17)
i 3 commands - responsibility:
1 The fathers shall not be put to death for the children, neither shall the children be put to death for the fathers; every man shall die for his own sin (v 16)
2 You shall not pervert the judgment of the stranger, the fatherless, or take the widow's raiment for a pledge (v 17)
3 You shall remember that you were bondmen in Egypt (v 18)
j 4 commands - gleanings:
1 You shall not take all the gleanings of the harvest, but shall leave some for the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow (v 19)
2 You shall beat your olive trees only once and leave the gleanings for the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow (v 20)
3 You shall gather the grapes but one time and leave the gleanings for the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow (v 21)
4 You shall remember that you were bondmen in Egypt (v 22)
k Beating the branches with sticks was one method of gathering olives. What was left after the first beating was to go to the poor. Olives were also gathered by shaking the trees (Isa. 17:6; 24:13)

l Command - the kidnapper who steals and sells one of his brethren shall be put to death, so that you may put evil away from among you (v 7) jpg:
m 2 commands - leprosy and remember:
1 Take heed that you diligently observe all the laws concerning leprosy that the priests shall teach you (v 8)
2 Remember what the Lord did to Miriam in making her leprous (v 9; Num. 12)

a 3 commands - scourging:
1 In judgment you shall justify the righteous and condemn the wicked (v 1)
2 If a wicked man is worthy of punishment, you shall beat him while he is lying down, according to his judgment (v 2; Lev. 17:15; Pr. 10:13; 19:29; 26:3)
3 Do not exceed 40 stripes in scourging him, lest he become bitter and seek revenge (v 3)

b To assure obedience to this law the Jews cut the stripes down to 39 and gave them all in 3 strokes, using a scourge of 13 cords. Cp. 2 Cor. 11:24. See Scourge in Index

c Command - do not muzzle the ox that treads out the corn (wheat, v 4). In other kinds of labor the oxen were often muzzled

d Threshing was sometimes done by instruments (Isa. 28:27-28), and sometimes by oxen or other animals treading on the grain on the threshing floor. Such is still common in some places in the East. Paul used this law to enforce the law of support to ministers of the gospel (1 Cor. 9:9)

e 5 commands - perpetual families, p. 218

f To go barefoot was a sign of distress and humiliation. This was a term of reproach and signified that a man had sold everything and was a spendthrift and bankrupt. So the man in Israel who refused to preserve the name of his brother was considered a worthless fellow

2 examples of going barefoot:
1 David when he fled from Absalom out of Jerusalem (2 Sam. 15:30)
2 Isaiah walked barefoot 3 years as a prophetical sign of judgment on Egypt and Ethiopia (Isa. 20:1-4)

g Command - cut off the hand of anyone seeking to injure the productive organs of a man (v 11-12). This shows how serious it was for one to be denied the power of reproduction, and suggests that God was not in sympathy with the making of eunuchs which was so common in the East

5 You shall set the firstfruits before the Lord, worship Him, and rejoice in all His goodness (v 10-11)

l Note the two speeches that were to be made to the priest:
1 The first one, which was much shorter than the other, was a simple acknowledgement that the offerer was an Israelite and had come into the land God sware to give the fathers (v 3)
2 The second speech was rather lengthy and covered the famine in Canaan, Jacob going into Egypt, his sojourn there, how few the people were when they went into Egypt, and how they became a mighty nation (v 5); the bondage (v 6); their cry for deliverance from slavery (v 7); God hearing their cry, looking upon their troubles and oppression, and bringing them out of Egypt with mighty signs and wonders (v 7-8); God giving them the land flowing with milk and honey (v 9); and the acknowledgement of God's blessing in the land (v 10)

m Heb. Arammiy, an Aramite; Aramaean; Syrian (v 5). Aramitess (1 Chr. 7:14). This is the only place Jacob is called a Syrian. Abraham's relatives are called Syrians (Gen. 25:20; 28:5; 31:20, 24). They were not descendants of Aram, the son of Shem, but of Arphaxad, the son of Shem (Gen. 11:10-32). They were Syrians because of living in Syria or Padan-Aram (Gen. 28:2-7; 31:18; 33:18; 35:9, 26; 46:15)

n 3 facts about Jacob or Israel:
1 Was about to perish in Canaan (v 5)
2 Went down into Egypt to sojourn when but few in number (v 5; Gen. 46:7-27)
3 Became a great, mighty, and populous nation (v 5; Ex. 12:37)

o 3 facts about the Egyptians:
1 Evil entreated (oppressed) us (v 6-7)
2 Afflicted us
3 Laid upon us hard bondage

p 4 acts of God:
1 Heard us when we cried (v 7; Ex. 2:23-25; 3:7; Ps. 107:6, 8, 28)
2 Looked upon us (v 7)
3 Brought us forth out of Egypt with power, and brought us into Canaan (v 8-9)

178 CHAPTER 25

(46) Law of punishment by scourging (Lev. 19:20; 2 Cor. 11:23-24; Heb. 11:36; 1 Pet. 2:24)

●1 IF there be a controversy between men, and they come unto judgment, that the judges may judge them; then [a]they shall justify the righteous, and condemn the wicked.
●2 And it shall be, if the wicked man be worthy to be beaten, that the judge shall cause him to lie down, and to be beaten before his face, according to his fault, by a certain number.
●3 [b]Forty stripes he may give him, and not exceed: lest, if he should exceed, and beat him above these with many stripes, then thy brother should seem vile unto thee.

(47) Law of care for beasts of labor (1 Cor. 9:7-14)

●4 ¶ Thou[c]shalt not muzzle the ox when he [d]treadeth out the corn.

(48) Law of perpetual families (Mt. 22:23-33)

●5 ¶ If brethren dwell together, and one of them die, and have no child, the wife of the dead shall not marry without unto a stranger: her husband's brother [e]shall go in unto her, and take her to him to wife, and perform the duty of an husband's brother unto her.
●6 And it shall be, that the firstborn which she beareth shall succeed in the name of his brother which is dead, that his name be not put out of Ĭs'ra-el.
●7 And if the man like not to take his brother's wife, then let his brother's wife go up to the gate unto the elders, and say, My husband's brother refuseth to raise up unto his brother a name in Ĭs'ra-el, he will not perform the duty of my husband's brother.
●8 Then the elders of his city shall call him, and speak unto him: and if he stand to it, and say, I like not to take her;
●9 Then shall his brother's wife come unto him in the presence of the elders, and loose his shoe from off his foot, and spit in his face, and shall answer and say, So shall it be done unto that man that will not build up his brother's house.
●10 And his name shall be called in Ĭs'ra-el, The house of him that hath his [f]shoe loosed.

(49) Assault and battery (Ex. 21:18)

●11 ¶ When men strive together one with another, and the wife of the one draweth near for to deliver her husband out of the hand of him that smiteth him, and putteth forth her hand, and taketh him by the secrets:
●12 Then thou[g]shalt cut off her hand, thine eye shall not pity her.

(50) Merchantile laws (Lev. 19:36; Prov. 16:11; 20:23)

●13 ¶ Thou[a]shalt not have in thy bag [h]divers weights, a great and a small.
●14 Thou shalt not have in thine house [c]divers measures, a great and a small.
●15 But thou shalt have a[d]perfect and just weight, a perfect and just measure shalt thou have: [e]that thy days may be lengthened in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee.
16 For [f]all that do such things, and all that do unrighteously, are an abomination unto the LORD thy God.

(51) Law of vengeance on Amalek (Ex. 17:8-13)

●17 ¶ [g]Remember what [h]Ăm'a-lēk [i]did unto thee by the way, when ye were come forth out of Ē'gўpt;
18 How he met thee by the way, and smote the hindmost of thee, even all that were feeble behind thee, when thou wast faint and weary; and he feared not God.
●19 [i]Therefore it shall be, when the LORD thy God hath given thee rest from all thine enemies round about, in the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance to possess it, that thou shalt blot out the remembrance of Ăm'a-lēk from under heaven; thou shalt not forget it.

AND it shall be, when thou art come in unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee for an inheritance, and possessest it, and dwellest therein;

●3 And thou shalt go unto the priest that shall be in those days, and say unto him, I profess this day unto the LORD thy God, that I am come unto the country which the LORD sware unto our fathers for to give us.
●4 And the priest shall take the basket out of thine hand, and set it down before the altar of the LORD thy God.
●5 And thou shalt [l]speak and say before the LORD thy God, A[m]Sўr'I-an[n] ready to perish was my father, and he went down into Ē'gўpt, and sojourned there with a few, and became there a nation, great, mighty, and populous:

a 3 commands - mercantile laws:
1 You shall not have different weights, great and small (v 13)
2 You shall have perfect and just weights and measures (v 15)

b Literally, a stone and a stone, or two kinds of stone weights, one to use for buying and another for selling (v 13). This kind of dishonesty was an abomination to God (v 16) c Literally, an ephah and an ephah, or two kinds of measures, one for buying and one for selling (v 14). An ephah was a bushel and 3 pints

d Perfect and just weights and measures meant they were true weights and measures according to what was legal and right, and that the same ones were used both to buy and to sell by (v 15)

e A perfect keeping of the law and right doing in everything guaranteed to all conscientious people long life and happiness on earth

10 conditions of lengthened days:
1 Honor parents (5:16; Ex. 20:12)
2 Keep commandments (4:40; 11:9)
3 Walk in God's ways (5:33)
4 Fear the Lord (6:2 19-21)
5 Teach children God's Word (11:
6 Read the law and learn to fear God and obey His will (17:19-20)
7 Be kind to animals (22:7)
8 Have perfect and just weights and measures - be honest (25:15)
9 Love and obey God (20:15-20)
10 Set the heart on obedience to God and His Word (32:44-47)

f All dishonesty, deceitfulness, and unrighteousness are abominable to God; all unrighteousness is sin (v 16; 1 Jn. 5:17)

g 3 commands - vengeance on Amalek:
1 Remember what Amalek did to you by the way when you came out of Egypt (v 17)
2 When you become settled in Canaan you shall blot out the remembrance of Amalek from under heaven (v 19)
3 You must not forget it h Here we have a man's name put for his posterity, as Jacob is used many times in Scripture for the nation of Israel which came from him (v 17. Cp. Num. 23:7, 10, 21, 23; 24:5, 17, 19; etc.)

i 2 great sins of Amalek:
1 He cowardly attacked feeble, faint, and weary stragglers of Israel as they came out of Egypt (v 17-18; Ex. 17:8-16)
2 He did not fear God when he saw all the miracles He did for Israel in the wilderness (v 18). Amalekites could not have been ignorant of God, His mighty acts and special blessings upon Israel, because of living in the same wilderness as a neighboring tribe. They hardened themselves, rejecting Jehovah and His dealings with His people, and became bitter enemies of both God and Israel. They provoked and invited this sentence of God upon themselves as predicted and commanded here (v 19)

j 17th prophecy in Dt. (25:19, fulfilled). Next, 28:1. This could be called a prophetical command. Amalek gave Israel trouble during the judges (Judg. 3:13; 5:14; 6:3, 33; 7:12; 10:12; 12:15). God then commanded Saul to fulfil this prophecy and kill every Amalekite (1 Sam. 14:48; 15:1-5). He completely broke the power of Amalek but did not fully obey God in destroying all (1 Sam. 15:10-35; 28:18). For this disobedience Saul was rejected as king and destroyed (1 Sam. 15:10-35; 28:18). Later the remnant was destroyed by Simeonites in the days of Hezekiah (1 Chr. 4:39-43). It seems that Haman and his sons were the last of the Amalekites. They were destroyed in the time of Esther, and the prophecy was then literally and completely fulfilled k 5 commands - firstfruit offerings:

1 When you come into the land and possess it, take the firstfruits of your crops and bring them in a basket to the place of worship (v 1-2)
2 Speak to the priest and give the firstfruits to him (v 3)
3 He shall take the basket out of your hand and set it before the altar of the Lord (v 4)
4 You shall repeat the story of the sojourn in Egypt, the exodus, and the settlement in Canaan and say that you are bringing the firstfruits in honor of a 5 means of bringing Israel out of Egypt:

1 With a mighty hand. Heb. yad chazakah, one that is strong to deal blows; is irresistible in its operation; grasps enemies so that they cannot escape; and one that holds friends in such a powerful way that they cannot suffer harm (v 8)
2 With a stretched-out arm. Heb. zeroa netuyah, indicating a series of mighty acts following one another in rapid succession (v 8)
3 With great terrors. Heb. moraim gedolim, terror; dismay; consternation. Caused by the 10 plagues upon Egypt and acts of judgment on Israel in the wilderness (v 8)
4 With signs. Heb. othoth, tokens of nearness and continual presence as manifested in the pillar of fire, cloud by day, the smoke and fire, lightnings, and other supernatural acts of God's power and glory (v 8; note e, 4:32). See Miracles in Index
5 With wonders. Heb. mophethim, persuading by miraculous acts of power; miracles; something to marvel at; events that make one open the mouth and stand aghast; things hard to believe even though seen with the eyes (v 8)

b The bringing of the firstfruits of all crops and animals to God was an evidence of thanksgiving to Him (v 10-11). They were used for the great feasts of all Israel, so that everyone could share of the goodness of the Lord together (v 11; 14:22-29)

c This means the paying of the third tithe every 3rd year for the poor and the Levites (note b-e, 14:22-29)

d Every 3rd year of the 6 between the sabbatic years was a special year of tithing for the poor, the Levite, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow (v 12; 14:22-29)

e Command - when you have made an end of tithing all the increase in the third year, which is the year of tithing for the poor, the stranger, the fatherless, the widow, and the Levite, then you shall make an honest acknowledgement of your faithfulness to God and pray Him to bless Israel in the land (v 12-15)

f 8fold confession of Israel:
1 I have brought out of my house the hallowed things for the poor (v 13)
2 I have given them to the Levite, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, according to Your commandments
3 I have not transgressed Your commandments, neither have I forgotten them ing (v 14)
4 I have not eaten thereof in mourn-
5 I have not taken thereof for any unclean purpose
6 I have not offered any in sacrifice to the dead
7 I have listened to the voice of God
8 I have done according to all that You have commanded g All tithing of the 3rd year for the poor (the third tithe) was to be kept in storehouses for distribution as needed in the community. The things so gathered were called hallowed because they were devoted to God for the poor and other classes of v 12-13

h The idea here is that of using the tithing for the poor for funeral expenses and feasting of the mourners who gathered together for days (v 14; 2 Sam. 3:35; Jer. 16:7; Ezek. 24:17; Hos. 9:4). Such tithing was not to be used this way; nor was it to be offered to idols in honor of the dead (1 Cor. 10:27-28)

i Not only were the offerers to make confession as in note f, above, but they were to pray the 3fold prayer of v 15:
1 Look down from where You live in 2 Bless Your people Israel heaven
3 Bless the land You have given us

j Command - keep my statutes and judgments and do them with all your heart and soul (v 16)

k 2fold mutual agreement:
1 Israel's 6fold public declaration:
(1) To take God to be their God (v
(2) To walk in His ways 17)
(3) To keep His statutes
(4) To keep His commandments
(5) To keep His judgments
(6) To hear His voice labour, and our oppression:

8 And the LORD brought us forth out of E'gypt [a]with a mighty hand, and with an outstretched arm, and with great terribleness, and with signs, and with wonders:
9 And he hath brought us into this place, and hath given us this land, even a land that floweth with milk and honey.
●10 And now, behold, I have brought the [b]firstfruits of the land, which thou, O LORD, hast given me. And thou shalt set it before the LORD thy God, and worship before the LORD thy God:
●11 And thou shalt rejoice in every good thing which the LORD thy God hath given unto thee, and unto thine house, thou, and the Lē'vite, and the stranger that is among you.

(2) Law of special tithes for the Levites and the poor (Dt. 14:22-26, 28)

12 ¶ When thou hast made an end of [c]tithing all the tithes of thine increase the third year, which is the [d]year of tithing, and hast given it unto the Lē'vīte, the stranger, the fatherless, and the widow, that they may eat within thy gates, and be filled;
●13 Then thou [e]shalt say before the LORD thy God, [f]I have brought away the [g]hallowed things out of mine house, and also have given them unto the Lē'vite, and unto the stranger, to the fatherless, and to the widow, according to all thy commandments which thou hast commanded me: I have not transgressed thy commandments, neither have I forgotten them:
●14 I have not eaten thereof in my [h]mourning, neither have I taken away ought thereof for any unclean use, nor given ought thereof for the dead: but I have hearkened to the voice of the LORD my God, and have done according to all that thou hast commanded me.
●15 [i]Look down from thy holy habitation, from heaven, and bless thy people Is'ra-el, and the land which thou hast given us, as thou swarest unto our fathers, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

(3) Eighteenfold mutual agreement on the Mosaic Law

●16 ¶ This day the LORD thy God hath commanded thee to do these statutes and judgments: thou [j]shalt therefore keep and do them with all thine heart, and with all thy soul.
●17 Thou [k]hast [l]avouched the LORD this day to be thy God, and to walk in his ways, and to keep his statutes, and his commandments, and his judgments, and to hearken unto his voice:
●18 And the LORD hath avouched thee this day to be his peculiar people, as he hath promised thee, and that thou shouldest keep all his commandments;
19 And to make thee high above all nations which he hath made, in praise, and in name, and in honour; and that thou mayest be an holy people unto the LORD thy God, as he hath spoken.

VII Eleventh or [a]Palestinian Covenant (Dt. 27:1-30:20. Cp. Dt. 11:8-32; Lev. 26. See p. 57-58). 1 New tables of the law in Canaan

AND Mō'şeş with the elders of Is'ra-el commanded the people, saying, [b]Keep all the commandments which I command you this day.
●2 And it shall be on the day when ye shall pass over Jôr'dan unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, that thou shalt set thee up great stones, and [c]plaister them with plaister:
●3 And thou shalt [d]write upon them all the words of this law, when thou art passed over, that thou mayest go in unto the land which the LORD thy God giveth thee, a land that floweth with milk and honey; as the LORD God of thy fathers hath promised thee.
●4 Therefore it shall be when ye be gone over Jôr'dan, that ye shall set up these stones, which I command you this day, in mount [e]Ē'bal, and thou shalt plaister them with plaister.
●5 And there shalt thou build an altar unto the LORD thy God, an altar of stones: thou shalt not lift up any iron tool upon them.
●6 Thou shalt build the altar of the LORD thy God of [f]whole stones: and thou shalt offer burnt offerings thereon unto the LORD thy God:
●7 And thou shalt offer peace offerings, and shalt eat there, and rejoice before the LORD thy God.
●8 And thou shalt write upon the stones [g]all the words of this law very plainly.

2 Mounts of blessing and cursing: Ebal and Gerizim (Dt. 11:29-32; Josh. 8:30-35)

●9 ¶ And Mō'şeş and the priests the Lē'vites spake unto all Is'ra-el, saying, [h]Take heed, and hearken, O Is'ra-el; this day thou art become the people of the LORD thy God.
●10 Thou shalt therefore obey the voice of the LORD thy God, and do his commandments and his statutes, which I command thee this day.
11 ¶ And Mō'şeş charged the people the same day, saying,
●12 These shall stand upon mount [i]Gĕr'ĭ-zim to bless the people, when ye are come over Jôr'dan; Sĭm'e-on, and Lē'vī, and Jū'dah, and Is'sa-char, and Jō'şeph, and Bĕn'ja-mĭn:
●13 And these shall stand upon mount Ē'bal to curse; Reu'ben, Găd, and Ash'ēr, and Zĕb'ū-lŭn, Dăn, and Năph'ta-lī.

3 Twelve curses of disobedience on Mount Ebal (Cp. Lev. 26:16-39)

a See 15 covenants of Scripture, p. 57

b 7 commands - new tables of law:
1 Keep all the commandments which I command you this day (v 1)
2 When you pass over Jordan set up great stones and plaster them with plaster (v 2) this law (v 3)
3 Write upon them all the words of 4 Set these stones up in mount Ebal (v 4; 11:29; Josh. 8:30-35)
5 Build an altar of whole stones, not of cut stones (v 5-6)
6 Offer burnt offerings and peace offerings upon it and rejoice before Jehovah (v 5-7)
7 Write upon the stones all the words of the law plainly (v 8) c It was a custom in Egypt and other lands to stucco over sandstone rocks and granite, then write in the plaster or paint the message to be preserved. Some such stones over 2,000 years old are said to be in existence today

d This is further proof that writing was a common thing in the days of Moses. The law was written in different places and preserved so that man could read and know it (v 3)

e Ebal means heaps

f The altar of whole stones was previously commanded (Ex. 20:24-26). According to Josh. 8:30-35 it was upon the stones of this altar built on mount Ebal that the writing was made g All the words of the law. Not a word was left out (v 8; Josh. 8:32-35)

h 4 commands - blessing and cursing:
1 Take heed and hear, O Israel; this day you are become the people of the Lord your God (v 9)
2 You shall therefore obey the voice of the Lord your God, and do His commandments and His statutes (v 10)
3 These shall stand on mount Gerizim to bless the people (6 tribes of v 12)
4 These shall stand upon mount Ebal to pronounce the curses (6 tribes of v 13)
In pronouncing these blessings and curses, when the 6 tribes had gone toward Gerizim and the other 6 toward Ebal, all the people turned their faces toward Ebal and as the priests and Levites pronounced the curses they said Amen. Then they all turned their faces toward Gerizim and as the blessings were pronounced they said Amen again. After this the stones were brought, the altar was built and the curses and blessings were written on the stones. Then, sacrifices were offered on the altar
It is noticeable that Moses assigned the children of Leah and Rachel to the mount of blessing, except for Reuben and Zebulun, the eldest and youngest sons of Leah. These were assigned to the mount of cursing with sons of the two handmaids, Zebulun being placed on the cursing side perhaps because he was the least of all the sons of Leah, and Reuben because of his sin with his father's wife, for which he lost his birthright (Gen. 35:22; 49:3-4; 1 Chr. 5:1-2)

One can see from this that v 17-19 are promises and vows God and Israel made to each other a The Levites were to speak the curses with loud voices and in unison; and the people were to answer with a loud Amen to each curse (v 14-26)

b 12 curses pronounced upon Israel for the following sins if committed:
1 Making any graven or molten image and setting it up to be worshipped in any secret or public place (v 15; Ex. 20:4-7, notes)

c 18th prophecy in Dt. (28:1-68, fulfilled in both their obedience and disobedience). Next, 29:18. This is a clear example of conditional prophecy d There are 1,522 if's in Scripture, most of them definitely expressing the conditions upon which God will bless men. Not one unconditional covenant, promise, or blessing is to be found in all the Bible. Examples of cursing for disobedience and blessing for obedience are plainly stated in 27:14-26; 28:1-58; Lev. 26; Isa. 58 and elsewhere, so we may know without a doubt that God will not bless men who transgress His Word and will. See 210 plain laws and warnings, p. 284 of N. T.

e 5 conditions of blessing:
1 If you hearken diligently to the voice of the Lord (v 1-2, 9, 13, 15)
2 If you observe and do all His commandments (v 1, 13, 15)
3 If you walk in His ways (v 9)
4 If you do not go aside from any of the words of God, to the right hand or to the left (v 13, 14)
5 If you do not go after other gods to serve them (v 14)

f 21 blessings for obedience:
1 God will set you on high above all the other nations of the earth and all these blessings shall come on you, and overtake you (v 1-2)
2 You will be blessed in the city (v 3)
3 You will be blessed in the field
4 You will have perfect offspring (v 4)
5 Your crops will be blessed
6 Your cattle will increase 7 Your flocks will increase

5 Fifteen curses upon children and material prosperity

15 ¶ [g]But it shall come to pass, [h]if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; [i]that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake thee:
16 [j]Cursed shalt thou be in the city, and cursed shalt thou be in the field.
17 Cursed shall be thy basket and thy store.
18 Cursed shall be the fruit of thy body, and the fruit of thy land, the increase of thy kine, and the flocks of thy sheep.
19 Cursed shalt thou be when thou comest in, and cursed shalt thou be when thou goest out.
20 The LORD shall send upon thee cursing, vexation, and rebuke, in all that thou settest thine hand unto for to do, until thou be destroyed, and until thou perish quickly; because of the wickedness of thy doings, whereby thou hast forsaken me.

6 Thirty curses of sickness, crop failure, war, captivity, business failure, a After the 12 curses are stated (27:14-26) and 21 conditional blessings (28:1-14); and after the conditions on which God would bless are made clear in v 1-2, 9, 13-15, a new list of curses is given showing what would come upon Israel if they failed to meet the conditions of note e, v 1 (v 15)

b 6 "If's" of Dt. 28:
1 If you will hearken diligently unto the voice of the Lord your God, to observe and do all His commandments (v 1)
2 If you will hearken unto the voice of the Lord your God (v 2)
3 If you will keep the commandments of the Lord your God, and walk in His ways (v 9)
4 If you will hearken unto the commandments of the Lord your God... to observe and do them: and you shall not go aside from any of the word which I command you this day, to the right hand, or to the left, to go after other gods to serve them (v 13-14)
5 If you will hearken unto the voice of the Lord your God, to observe to do all His commandments and statutes which I command you this day (v 15)
6 If you will not observe to do all the words of this law that are written in this book, that you may fear this glorious and fearful name, THE LORD THY GOD (v 58)

Such conditions, as well as the curses and blessings of God are so plain that anyone can understand them and obey. Furthermore it is made clear in Scripture that conditions must be met if blessings are to be received. Not only Israel but all others are required to live continued obedience if continued blessings are experienced. It is plainly stated that if Israel failed of the grace of God, and if, through backsliding and rebellion they did not continue to do the will of God, "that as the Lord rejoiced over you to do you good, and to multiply you (as long as you were in obedience); so the Lord will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to naught, and ye shall be plucked from off the land whither thou goest to possess it. And the Lord shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even to the other" (v 63-68)

This has been literally fulfilled and is yet in fulfillment at the present time. Paul uses this example to warn Christians that if God did not spare Israel from cutting them off when they sinned, He would not spare others (Rom. 11:1-33). Thus, the truth is that only upon obedience will God bless any man, that only upon continued obedience will He continue to bless, and when the righteous turn from righteousness and commit sin they are cursed again of God (v 1-68; Ex. 32:32-33; Lev. 26; Ezek. 18 and 33; p. 284 of N. T.; Backsliding, p. 237 c Having said all these curses would come upon Israel if they sinned, God was under obligation to bring them about for disobedience. His righteousness, justice, and truthfulness require this. There is no place, under law or grace, where a man can fail to obey and be blessed of God; for He has promised cursing for disobedience and blessing for obedience. His fulfillment of this has been demonstrated times without number among angels, demons, and men. The facts of this matter all persons need to learn so as to act accordingly, for there is no excuse for failure in man with the provisions God has made for him to remain in obedience (Mt. 6:24; Rom. 6:16-23; 8:12-14; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Jude 5-7, notes)

d 15 curses for disobedience:
1 You will be cursed in the city (v 16)
2 You will be cursed in the field
3 Your baskets and storehouses will be cursed (v 17)
4 Your children will be cursed (v 18)
5 Your crops will be cursed
6 Your herds will not increase 7 Your flocks will not increase

b Heb. deber, plague; a destroying pestilence. What kind is not stated, but it was something that brought them to a slow death (v 21)

c Heb. shachepheth, emaciation; to grow thin; to waste away (v 22; Lev. 26:16). This was common in Egypt and Asia

d Heb. gaddachath, inflammation; fever; the burning ague of note g, Lev. 26:16

e Heb. dalleqeth, a burning fever; inflammation (v 22). From the root word dalaq trans. inflame (Isa. 5:11); burning (Pr. 26:23); chasing (1 Sam. 17:53); hotly (Gen. 31:36); persecute (Ps. 10:2); persecutors (Ps. 7:13); and kindle (Ezek. 24:10; Oba. 18). This probably refers to a rapidly consuming cancer or ulcer

f Heb. charchur, hot fever (v 22). From a root word charar, to glow, melt, burn, dry up; incite passion; be angry; and trans. burn (Ezek. 24:11); burned (Ps. 102:3; Isa. 24:6; Jer. 6:29; Ezek. 15:4-5; 24:10); and kindle (Pr. 26:21). This refers not only to inflammation of the body, but to agony of mind and torture of soul because there is no help

g Sword is put for wars with other nations and civil strife within (v 22)

h Heb. shiddaphon, trans. blasting (v 22; 1 Ki. 8:37; 2 Chr. 6:28; Amos 4:9; Hag. 2:17); and blasted (2 Ki. 19:26). This refers to the blighting east wind ruining crops and suffocating both men and beasts

i Heb. yeraqown, paleness of persons from fright, or of plants from drought (v 22; 1 Ki. 8:37; 2 Chr. 6:28; Amos 4:9; Hag. 2:17)

j The heaven being brass could refer to unanswered prayer as well as no rain and fruitful seasons (v 23)

k This refers to failure of crops

l A way of saying there will be no rain from heaven, and the land will turn to dust and powder. Rain could not do this but lack of it could (v 24). Dust and sandstorms have covered whole caravans. The ophthalmia, or eye disease of the East is caused by a very fine dust or sand entering the eye glands and causing inflammation m This is quite a contrast to what God promised them if they would obey:

1 They shall come against you one way and flee 7 ways (v 7)
2 They shall be afraid of you (v 10)
3 You shall be the head and not the tail; above only and not beneath (v 13)
4 Only 5 of you shall chase 100; and 100 shall put 10,000 to flight (Lev. 26:8)
5 One shall chase 1,000, and 2 shall put 10,000 to flight (32:30; Josh. 23:10; Isa. 30:17)

n This began with the 10 tribes to Assyria 749 B.C. (2 Ki. 17); the 2 tribes to Babylon 616 B.C. (2 Ki. 25); and the last and final dispersion took place in 70 and 135 A.D. at the hand of the Romans (Lk. 24:20-24; Lev. 26:33)

o This was fulfilled many times in Israel during wars brought on them through disobedience

p Heb. shechyin, inflammation; botch; and poverty

32 Thy sons and thy daughters shall be given unto another people, and thine eyes shall look, and fail with longing for them all the day long: and there shall be no might in thine hand.

35 The LORD shall smite thee in the knees, and in the legs, with a sore botch that cannot be healed, from the sole of thy foot unto the top of thy head.

36 The LORD shall bring thee, and [a]thy king which thou shalt set over thee, unto a nation which neither thou nor thy fathers have known; and there shalt thou serve other gods, wood and stone.

37 And thou [b]shalt become an astonishment, a proverb, and a byword, among all nations whither the LORD shall lead thee.

38 Thou shalt carry much seed out into the field, and shalt gather but little in; for the locust shall consume it.

39 Thou shalt plant vineyards, and dress them, but shalt neither drink of the wine, nor gather the grapes; for the worms shall eat them.

40 Thou shalt have olive trees throughout all thy coasts, but thou shalt not anoint thyself with the oil; for thine olive shall cast his fruit.

41 Thou shalt beget sons and daughters, but thou shalt not enjoy them; for they shall go into captivity.

42 All thy trees and fruit of thy land shall the locust consume.

43 The stranger that is within thee shall get up above thee very high; and thou shalt come down very low.

44 He shall lend to thee, and thou shalt not lend to him: he shall be the head, and thou shalt be the tail.

8 Reasons for curses restored

45 Moreover [c]all these [d]curses shall come upon thee, and shall pursue thee, and overtake thee, till thou be destroyed; [e]because thou hearkenedst not unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to keep his commandments and his statutes which he commanded thee:

46 And they shall be upon thee for a sign and for a wonder, and upon thy seed for ever.

47 Because thou servedst not the LORD thy God with joyfulness, and with gladness of heart, for the abundance of all things;

9 Twenty-one curses of slavery, death, cannibalism, and extreme poverty and death

48 Therefore [f]shalt thou serve thine enemies which the LORD shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things: and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee.

49 The LORD shall bring [g]a nation against thee [h]from far, from the end of the earth, as swift as the eagle flieth; a nation whose tongue thou shalt not understand;

60 Moreover he will bring upon thee all the [f] diseases of E'gypt, which thou wast afraid of; and they shall cleave unto thee.

61 Also every sickness, and every [g] plague, which is not written in [h] the book of this law, them will the LORD bring upon thee, until thou be destroyed.

62 And ye shall be left few in number, whereas ye were [i] as the stars of heaven for multitude; because thou wouldest not obey the voice of the LORD thy God.

63 And it shall come to pass, that as the LORD [a] rejoiced over you to [b] do you good, and to multiply you; so the LORD will rejoice over you to destroy you, and to bring you to nought; and ye shall be [c] plucked from [d] off the land whither thou goest to possess it.

64 And the LORD [e] shall scatter thee among all people, from the one end of the earth even unto the other; and there thou shalt serve other gods, which neither thou nor thy fathers have known, even wood and stone.

65 And among these nations shalt thou find no ease, neither shall the sole of thy foot have rest: but the LORD shall give thee there a trembling heart, and failing of eyes, and sorrow of mind:

66 And thy life shall hang in doubt before thee; and thou shalt fear day and night, and shalt have none assurance of thy life:

67 In the morning thou shalt say, Would God it were even! and at even thou shalt say, Would God it were morning! for the fear of thine heart wherewith thou shalt fear, and for the sight of thine eyes which thou shalt see.

68 And the LORD shall bring thee into E'gypt [j] again with ships, by the way whereof I spake unto thee, Thou shalt see it no more again: and there ye shall be sold unto your enemies for bondmen and bondwomen, and no man shall buy you.

182 CHAPTER 29

11 Place the Palestinian Covenant was made with Israel

THESE are the words of the covenant, which the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ to make with the children of Iṣ'ra-el [k] in the land of Mō'ab, [l] beside the covenant which he made with them in Hō'reb.

12 Historical background of the Palestinian Covenant

2 ¶ And Mō'ṣeṣ called unto all Iṣ'ra-el, and said unto them, Ye have [m] seen all that the LORD did before your eyes in the land of E'gypt unto Phā'raōh, and unto all his servants, and unto all his land;

3 The [n] great temptations which thine eyes have seen, the signs, and those great miracles:

4 [o] Yet the LORD hath not given you an heart to perceive, and eyes to see, and ears to hear, unto this day.

5 And I have led you forty years in the wilderness: [p] your clothes are not waxen old upon you, and thy shoe is not waxen old upon thy foot.

6 Ye have [q] not eaten bread, neither have ye drunk wine or strong drink: that ye might know that I am the LORD your God.

7 [r] And when ye came unto this place, Si'hŏn the king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and Ōg the king of Bā'shān, came out against us unto battle, and we smote a This prediction of cannibalism in Israel is horrible to think about, and it shows to what extent they were brought down by God because of rebellion against Him and His covenant (v 52-57). This happened first in the days of Jehoram, son of Ahab (2 Ki. 6:24-31). The greatest wave of it was in the siege and destruction of Jerusalem by the Romans, 70 A.D.

b The woman among you who has been so delicate and refined that she would not venture to set her feet on the ground will become so vile and coarse that she will murder and eat her own husband, sons, daughters, and even her babies because of the siege (v 56-57, Cp. 2 KL. 6:29). Curses in 28:21-29	30
Curses in 28:30-44	26
Curses in 28:48-57	21
Curses in 28:58-68	20
Total	124

e 20 additional curses for disobedience:
1 Great plagues of long endurance (v 58-59)
2 Sore sicknesses of long continuance (v 59)
3 All the diseases of Egypt shall cleave to you (v 60)
4 Every sickness not listed in the book of the law (v 61)
5 Every plague not written in the book of the law
6 Complete destruction
7 Few in number left (v 62)
8 Plucked from off the land (v 63)
9 Dispersion among the nations (v 64)
10 Service to other gods
11 No peace while in dispersion (v 65)
12 No rest while in dispersion
13 Fearful and trembling hearts
14 Eye failures
15 Sorrow of mind
16 Life to hang in doubt (v 66)
17 Fears day and night
18 No assurance of life - constant danger among the nations
19 Fretting and worry because of the constant dangers of life (v 67)
20 Slavery again as in Egypt (v 68)

f Israel evidently saw many diseases in Egypt, from which they were immune but which they feared would come upon them also. The secret of immunity is plainly stated (v 60; 7:15; Ex. 15:26)

g See Bible plagues, p. 317 of N.T.

h Originally all the writings of Moses of the Pentateuch were written in one book divided into 5 sections. See note g, Ex. 17:14

i Here God interprets the number of Israel as the stars, dust, and sand of the earth, which comparisons are found in many prophecies and promises (Gen. 13:16; 15:5; 22:17; 26:4; 28:14; 32:12)

part of the Palestinian covenant, and a suitable introduction for what is to follow in the completion of this covenant

h The Palestinian covenant was made in the plains of Moab, about 39 years after the covenant at Sinai of Ex. 20-24

i This proves that the Palestinian covenant was entirely different from the Mosaic, made at Sinai (v 1), for beside could not mean an addition to the Mosaic covenant

j The old generation was by now destroyed - all except Moses, Joshua, and Caleb (Num. 14:23-35); but many of the new generation were young at the time of the plagues in Egypt. At least, these great events were well known to all Israel

k 3 things seen in Egypt:
1 Great temptations. Heb. maccab, tests, trials (v 3; notes e, 4:32; d, 7:19; a, 26:8)
2 Signs, Heb. othoth, tokens of His presence (note e, 4:34; note a, 26:8)
3 Miracles, Heb. mophethim, tokens; omen; miracles; wonders (note a, 26:8)

n This means that they had not been supplied by ordinary methods, but by supernatural power which provided bread and drink in the wilderness experiences so that they might know the Lord (v 6) a 2 rejoicings of God (v 63):

1 Rejoicing to do good to Israel when they were in obedience
2 Rejoicing to destroy them when they were in stubborn and wilful rebellion

This latter rejoicing seems contrary to the true nature of God and His love and grace as stated in many passages; but when viewed in the light of all Scripture it becomes understandable. We find a reason for His rejoicing in the destruction of the very people whom He had blessed by His grace. It was because of the hard-hearted, hard-headed, wilful stubbornness and rebellion of Israel that God was forced to curse them and wash His hands of them for a time. In so doing He was able to relieve Himself and give them up to their own ways. Not only Israel, but He was also forced to do this to the Gentile world, as recorded in Rom. 1:18-32. God reveals that He will take the same attitude toward all such rebels (Pr. 1:22-31). The reason plainly given in this passage is wholly just and righteous. See Backsliding, p. 237; also Index

b 7 acts of God in Palestinian covenant:
1 Promised land to Israel (27:3)
2 Gave it to them (27:3)
3 Received Israel as a people (27:9)
4 Promised 124 curses (note d, 28:59)
5 Promised 21 blessings (28:1-14)
6 Gave commands (11:13-32; 28:14; 29:9; 30:10, 16)
7 Gave many details of conditional and future prophecy (28:1-68; 29:17-28; 30:1-10) c Heb. nacach, to tear away; destroy; pluck; and root up (v 63; Ps. 52:5, Cp. Jer. 12:14-17; 18:7; 24:6; 31:28, 40; 42:10; 45:4; Ezek. 19:12; Dan. 11:4; Mic. 5:14). It is true that no man, demon, angel, or any other power can pluck a true believer from the hands of God - one who lives godly, hears the voice of the Lord and follows Him (note i-j, Jn. 10:28-29); but it is also true that if one does not live godly that God, Himself can do such plucking. Here He promises to do it. He will pluck up, cast away, and spue out of His mouth all backsliders and apostates who persist in sin and rebellion

2 examples of "plucking" up:
1 Nations (v 63; 2 Chr. 7:19-22; Jer. 12:14-17; 31:28)
2 King Jehoiakin (Jer. 22:24)

Many other things God also promises to do to backsliders and apostates who defy Him and live in sin. See 56 things God promises to do, p. 237

d In what sense did God promise to pluck Israel? It was off the land, and it must be understood that this was to be the final judgment for their backslidings. The salvation of their souls was involved in this plucking up, for if they were not godly enough to remain in the land they were not godly enough to be received in heaven. Thus, it did not concern their destruction as a nation only, but their being cut off from God also (27:9-26; 28:15-68; Lev. 26:3-46). The sins for which God plucked up the nations of Canaan were eternal death-penalty sins - wickedness which caused the Gentiles to be damned eternally. Israel was therefore warned of the same temporal and eternal results if they committed the same sins (v 58-68; 18:9-12; 20:18; Lev. 18:27-30)

e See Dispersion of Israel, p. 237

f This was literally fulfilled with part of Israel several times (1 KI. 14:25; 2 KI. 23:29-34; 25:26; 2 Chr. 36:3-4). It could also refer to the dispersion among the nations and Israel's many oppressions among them. In many places and at different times Israel has been sold as slaves among their enemies, fulfilling v 68. No doubt the true meaning of bringing them into Egypt again is that the Lord would bring them in ships, as stated here, by way of Egypt through the Suez Canal, in the re-gathering, never to be scattered again among the nations. Not only in this verse, but in others the bringing of Israel by ships and other means is predicted (Isa. 60:8-9; 66:19-21)

g This verse seems to belong particularly to the preceding chapter. In some copies of the Hebrew Bible it is considered as the 69th verse of ch. 28. It is a fitting summary for the previous them:

8 And we took their land, and gave it for an inheritance[e] unto the Reu'ben-ites, and to the Gad'ites, and to the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh.

13 Command to keep the covenant (Dt. 4:39, refs.)

9 [b]Keep therefore the words of this covenant, and do them, that ye[c] may prosper in all that ye do.

14 Parties of the covenant

10 ¶ Ye stand[d] this day [e]all of you before the LORD your God; your captains of your tribes, your elders, and your officers, with all the men of Is'ra-el,

11 Your little ones, your wives, and thy stranger that is in thy camp, from the hewer of thy wood unto the drawer of thy water:

12 That thou shouldest enter into covenant with the LORD thy God, and into his oath, which the LORD thy God maketh with thee this day:

13 [f]That he may establish thee to day for a people unto himself, and that he may be unto thee a God, [g]as he hath said unto thee, and [h]as he hath sworn unto thy fathers, to A'bra-ham, to I'saac, and to Ja'cob.

14 Neither with you only do I make this covenant and this oath;

15 [i]But with him that standeth here with us this day before the LORD our God, and also with him that is not here with us this day:

15 Warning of all curses of the covenant for disobedience

16 (For ye [j]know how we have dwelt in the land of E'gypt; and how we came through the nations which ye passed by;

17 And ye have seen their abominations, and their [k]idols, wood and stone, silver and gold, which were among them:)

18 [l]Lest there should be among you [m]man, or woman, or family, or tribe, [n]whose heart turneth away this day from the LORD our God, to go and serve the gods of these nations; lest there should be among you [o]a root that beareth [p]gall and [q]wormwood;

19 And it come to pass, when he heareth the words of this curse, that he bless himself in his heart, saying, [r]I shall have peace, though I walk in the imagination of mine heart, [s]to add drunkenness to thirst:

20 The LORD will [t]not spare him, but then the anger of the LORD and [u]his jealousy shall smoke against that man, and all the curses that are written in this book shall lie upon him, and the LORD shall [v]blot out his name from under heaven.

21 And the LORD shall [w]separate him unto evil out of all the tribes of Is'ra-el, according to all the curses of the covenant that are written in this book of the law:

16 Prediction of curses fulfilled because of disobedience and apostasy

22 [a]So that the generation to come of your children that shall rise up after you, and the stranger that shall come from a far land, shall say, when they see the plagues of that land, and the sicknesses which [b]the LORD hath laid upon it;

23 And that the [c]whole land thereof is brimstone, and salt, and burning, that it is not sown, nor beareth, nor any grass groweth therein, [d]like the overthrow of Sod'om, and Go-mor'rah, Ad'mah, and Ze-bo'im, which the LORD overthrew in his anger, and in his wrath:

24 Even all nations shall [e]say, Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this land? [f]what meaneth the heat of this great anger?

25 Then men shall say, [g]Because they have [h]forsaken the covenant of the LORD God of their fathers, which he made with them when he brought them forth out of the land of E'gypt:

26 For they went and served other [i]gods, and worshipped them, gods whom they knew not, and whom he had not given unto them:

27 And the anger of the LORD was kindled against this land, to bring upon it [j]all the curses that are written in this book:

28 And the LORD [k]rooted them out of their land in anger, and in wrath, and in great indignation, and cast them into another land, [l]as it is this day.

17 Man's answer for every puzzling question concerning God and His plan

29 The [m]secret things belong unto the LORD our God: but those things which are revealed belong unto us and to our children for ever, that we may do all the words of this law.

CHAPTER 30 183

18 Prediction of final obedience of Israel after the curses (Rom. 11:25-30)

30 [n]AND [o]it shall come to pass, when all these things are come upon thee, the blessing and the curse, which I have set before thee, and thou shalt call them to [p]mind among all the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath driven thee,

2 And shalt [q]return unto the LORD thy God, and [r]shalt obey his voice according to all that I command thee this day, thou and [s]thy children, [t]with all thine heart, and with all thy soul;

19 Prediction of twenty blessings of Israel in the last days (Gen. 49:1; Num. 23:10; 24:14; Dt. 4:30; 8:16; 31:29; Isa. 2:2; Jer. 23:20; 30:24; Ezek. 38:8, 16; Dan. 2:28-45; 8:19-25; 10:14; Hos. 3:5)

b Commands - keep the words of this covenant (Palestinian covenant, 27:1-30:20), and do them (v 9)
c Material prosperity was promised for keeping the Palestinian covenant (v 9), as was also promised for keeping the Mosaic covenant (4:40; 5:14, 16, 29, 33; 6:3, 18; 12:25, 28; 19:13; 22:7). That it may be well with you is the more common term used of prosperity

m Any man, woman, family, or tribe that turned away from God in the heart to serve the idol gods of other nations was to suffer all the plagues of the law (v 18-28)
n 3 things God will curse (v 18-28):
1 The heart turning away from Him to serve other gods (v 18)
2 A root of bitterness bearing gall and wormwood
3 Presumptuous sinning and defying God and His Word - walking in the imagination of the heart in rebellion and sin (v 19)
o This is the same as the root of bitterness defiling men (Heb. 12:15), and an evil heart of unbelief in turning away from the living God (Heb. 3:12) p Heb. rowsh, a poisonous plant, thought by some to be the poppy. Trans. gall (v 18; 32:32; Ps. 69:21; Jer. 8:14; 9:15; 23:15; Lam. 3:5, 19; Amos 6:12. Cp. Mt. 27:34; Acts 8:23); hemlock (Hos. 10:4); venom (32:33. Cp. Acts 28:4); and poison (Job 20:16. Cp. Rom. 3:13; Jas. 3:8). If the poppy is the intended meaning, then we have a reference here to opium and other narcotic sources. Christ, on the cross, was offered vinegar mixed with gall, but He refused to drink it (Mt. 27:34)
q Heb. la'anah, to curse; wormwood; hemlock. Trans. wormwood (v 18; Pr. 5:4; Jer. 9:15; 23:15; Lam. 3:15, 19; Amos 5:7. Cp. Rev. 8:11); and hemlock (Amos 6:12)
r This is presumptuous sinning, the kind that despises the Word of God and puts Christ to open shame (Heb. 10:26-29)
s See Add drunkenness to thirst, p. 238
t See God's vow to apostates, p. 238 u God's anger and jealousy will smoke against the unrepentant backsliders in heart until they are destroyed by curses (v 20)

w Heb. badal, divide; separate; distinguish; differ; select; sever. Here it means that God would search out and separate the sin from Israel, curing with the curses of this book all those responsible for sin - those whose hearts had departed from Him and who were seeking to lead others of Israel astray (v 18-21) a As described and predicted here, when the inhabitants sinned, fertile lands became places of desolation because of being under God's curse (v 22-28). Strangers and travellers from afar have remarked or written about this down through the years
b None can deny that God judges and cuts off backsliders in heart and conduct who have become apostates (Heb. 10:26-29). Both Palestine and Israel are outstanding examples of such judgment (v 22-28; 1 Ki. 17; 2 Chr. 36; Mt. 23:37-39; Lk. 21:20-24). Many centuries have witnessed God's judgments on both because of backslidings and rebellion
c The long desolation of the land has been one of its most striking features up to recent times when God began to restore the people to the land and the land from its curse of many centuries. God not only promised the desolation because of sin, but He also predicted Israel's restoration to the land in the last days, and the land's fertility again. These things are now coming to pass before the eyes of all nations. The prediction of this is in the very next chapter (30:1-10). See also Isa. 35; Jer. 24:5-7; 31:27-40; 32:37-44; 33:7-22; Ezek. 34:11-31; 36:1-38; 37:1-28; Joel 1:4-2:32; Mic. 4 d The comparison here is not to show the method of destruction but to assure judgment as the result of sin. God did not rain fire and brimstone upon the whole land of Palestine, as upon the 4 cities named, but the land was desolate for many centuries as in their case (v 23). No less than 18 times the destruction of Sodom and Gomorrah is mentioned in Scripture, but only 2 times is that of Admah and Zeboim referred to (v 23; Hos. 11:8). All 4 cities were destroyed because of sex perversion. Such practice, which is an abomination to Him, caused God to act in anger and wrath to rid the area of such corruption (v 23) as an example to others (2 Pet. 2:6)
e Questions 22-23, Next, 30:12
f The desolation of Palestine was to be so noticeable that any traveller could see the marks of God's wrath upon it (v 24)
g 2fold cause of desolation:
1 Forsaking God's covenant (v 25)
2 Serving other gods (v 26)
h For Israel to forsake God and His covenant means that they once knew Him and obeyed the covenant, and were in His grace and favor before such a time. This proves that grace and favor are no guarantee of obedience to God or of security in themselves. The only way to keep His grace in one's life is to remain in complete obedience (1 Sam. 12:14; 1 Ki. 2:4; Jn. 8:31; Acts 13:43; 14:22; Rom. 2:7; 11:22; Gal. 3:10; Col. 1:23; 1 Tim. 2:15; 4:16; 2 Tim. 3:14; 1 Jn. 2:19, 24-25)

j There are 124 curses in the Palestinian covenant (27:1-30:20) and others in Lev. 26 and elsewhere in the law
k Rooted them out means driven out of the land and dispersed among the nations (v 28; 1 Ki. 14:15; 2 Ki. 17 and 25; 2 Chr. 36; Ps. 52:5; Jer. 1:10)

e This is true circumcision, of which fleshly circumcision was only typical (v 6; Rom. 2:25-29; Phil. 3:3-5; Col. 2:11). Circumcision of the heart means opening it to the gospel - taking away all hindrances in obeying truth (10:16; Jer. 32:39; Ezek. 11:19; 36:26)

h 2fold return of Israel, p.239

i That is all God wanted of Israel, and that is all He wants of men today. The only difference is that we have the new covenant now instead of the old one; but we have many commandments to obey just as Israel had under the old covenant (v 8-10; p.313-16 of N.T.)

j These little "if's" face us wherever we turn and they must be reckoned with. If men obey they are blessed and if they disobey they are cursed: and this applies to all alike - those classed as saints or sinners (v 10, 17)

k The Pentateuch was originally one book, called the law. However, the law itself - the commandments, statutes, ordinances, and judgments - are only a part of the Pentateuch as we have seen (v 10; Ex. 17:14, note. Cp. Josh. 1:8; 8:30-35; 2 Ki. 22:8; 23:25)

the nations, whither the LORD thy God hath scattered thee.

4 If any of thine be driven out unto the[a]outmost parts of heaven, from thence will the LORD thy God gather thee, and from thence will he fetch thee:

5 And the LORD thy God will bring thee into[b]the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; [c]and he will do thee [d]good, and multiply thee above thy fathers.

6 And the LORD thy God will circumcise[e]thine heart, and the heart of thy seed, [f]to love the LORD thy God with all thine heart, and with all thy soul, that thou mayest live.

7 And the LORD thy God will put all these curses[g]upon thine enemies, and on them that hate thee, which persecuted thee.

8 And thou shalt[h]return [i]and obey the voice of the LORD, and do all his commandments which I command thee this day.

9 And the LORD thy God will make thee plenteous in every work of thine hand, in the fruit of thy body, and in the fruit of thy cattle, and in the fruit of thy land, for good: for the LORD will again rejoice over thee for good, as he rejoiced over thy fathers:

11 ¶ For this commandment which I command thee this day, it is [l]not hidden from thee, neither is it far off.

12 It is not in heaven, that thou shouldest say,[m]Who shall go up for us to heaven, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?

13 Neither is it beyond the sea, that thou shouldest say, Who shall go over the sea for us, and bring it unto us, that we may hear it, and do it?

14 [n]But the word is very nigh unto thee, in thy mouth, and in thy heart, that thou [o]mayest do it.

21 Final warning to choose God and obey His covenant (Dt. 4:39, refs.)

★15 ¶ See, [p]I have set before thee this day [q]life and good, and death and evil;

●16 In that I [r]command thee this day to love the LORD thy God, to walk in his ways, and to keep his commandments and his statutes and his judgments, that thou [s]mayest live and multiply: and the LORD thy God shall bless thee in the land whither thou goest to possess it.

17 But [t]if thine heart [u]turn away, so that thou wilt not hear, but shalt be drawn away, and worship other gods, and serve them;

18 I [v]denounce unto you this day, that ye shall surely perish, and that ye shall not prolong your days upon the land, whither thou passest over Jôr'dan to go to possess it.

19 I call heaven and earth to record this day against you, that I have set before you life and death, blessing and cursing: therefore[a]choose life, [b]that both thou and thy seed may live:

●20 That thou mayest love the LORD thy God, and that thou mayest obey his voice, and that thou mayest cleave unto him: for [c]he is thy life, and the length of thy days; that thou mayest dwell in the land which the LORD [d]sware unto thy fathers, to Ă'brā-hăm, to Ĭ'saac, and to Jă'cob, to give them.

VIII Last counsels of Moses (Dt. 31:1-32:52. Cp. Gen. 49; 1 Ki. 1; 1 Chron. 28; 2 Sam. 22). 1 Counsel to Israel (Cp. Ex. 4:29-31)

[e]AND Mō'sēs went and spake these words unto all Ĭs'ra-el.

★2 [f]And he said unto them,[g]I am an hundred and twenty years old[h]this day; I can no more go out and come in: also the LORD hath said unto me, Thou shalt not go over this Jôr'dan.

3 The LORD thy God, he will go over before thee, and he will destroy these nations from before thee, and thou shalt possess them: and Jŏsh'u-ă, he shall go over before thee, as the LORD hath said.

4 And the LORD shall do unto them as he did to Sī'hŏn and to Ōg, kings of the Ăm'ŏr-ītes, and unto the land of them, whom he destroyed.

5 And the LORD shall give them up before your face, that ye may do unto them[i]according unto all the commandments which I have commanded you.

●6 [j]Be strong and of a good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them: for the LORD thy God, he it is that doth go with thee; he will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

2 Counsel to Joshua (Cp. v 22; Num. 27:15)

●7 ¶ And Mō'sēs called unto Jŏsh'u-ă, and said unto him in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el, Be strong and of a good courage: for [k]thou must go with this people unto the land which the LORD hath [l]sworn unto their fathers to give them; and thou shalt cause them to inherit it.

▸8 And the LORD, he it is that doth go before thee;[m]he will be with thee, he will not fail thee, neither forsake thee: fear not, neither be dismayed.

3 Counsel to the priests (Cp. v 24; Ex. 28:1)

9 ¶ And [n]Mō'sēs wrote this law, and [o]delivered it unto the priests the sons of Lē'vī, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, and unto all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el.

10 And Mō'sēs commanded them, saying, At the end of a God advises and commands men to choose life by choosing His grace and means of entering into eternal life, thus cancelling death and the curses that cut off from Him. Men can and must make the choice, for God does not force the will of anyone to serve Him, surrender to Him, or remain obedient to His will. All men always, and without exception, are free to choose life or death, blessings or curses (v 15-20)

b 5fold result in choosing God:
1 That both you and your children may live (v 19)
2 That you may love the Lord (v 20)
3 That you may obey His voice
4 That you may cleave to Him
5 That you may dwell in the land promised to your fathers Him:

c 2 things God is to those who choose 1 He is your life (v 20; Acts 17:28)
2 He is the length of your days (v 20; Ps. 21:4; 91:1-12; Pr. 3:2, 16)

e Literally: And Moses continued to address these words unto all Israel. Or, as the Sept. reads: When Moses had finished speaking all these words, to all the children of Israel, he said to them, I am now a hundred and twenty years old, etc. (v 1-2). It is not the sense of v 1 that after he had ceased talking to them for some time he came before them and began speaking again. The meaning is merely a continuation of rehearsing what is contained in this whole book to them

9 predictions of Moses:

2 He will destroy the nations before
3 You shall possess them
4 Joshua shall go over before you
5 The Lord shall do unto these nations what He did to Sihon and Og, kings of the Amorites, whom He destroyed (v 4)
6 The Lord shall defeat them that you may do unto them as He commanded you - destroy them (v 5)
7 The Lord will go with you (v 6, 8)
8 He will not fail you or forsake you 9 Joshua, you shall cause them to inherit the land (v 7)

g 3 limitations of Moses (v 2):
1 I am 120 years old this day
2 I can no more go out and come in. This does not express physical infirmity or inability to perform his duties as leader of Israel, for it is clear from 34:7 that "his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated." The reason he could no more go out and come in was that this very day the divine decree was that he should die (34:1-8). After this day he could no longer lead Israel or take them over Jordan
3 The Lord said: You shall not go over Jordan. This was the boundary of his life's journey and it had now come to an end

h This day:
1 The day Moses was born(note g,1:3)
2 The day he spoke Deuteronomy (note m, 1:10)
3 The day he died (31:2; 34:7)

i The command was to destroy utterly the inhabitants of Canaan (7:2)

j 3 commands - conquest instructions:
1 To Israel - be strong and of good courage, fear not, nor be afraid of them (v 6) courage (v 7)
2 To Joshua - be strong and of good
3 Fear not, neither be dismayed (v 8)

k You must go, for I cannot do so (because of the sin in striking the rock instead of speaking to it, v 2, 7; Num. 7-13)

l See note h, 29:13

m Moses not only gave Israel and Joshua the same commands (v 6, 7), but also the same promises of God going with them and not failing them or forsaking them (v 6, 8, 23; Josh. 1:5) a The year of release was every 7th year when servants were to be released and the land was to lie untilled (v 10; 15:1-15; Lev. 25:1-7). Under such new freedom the minds of all were more apt to hear and consecrate to obey the Word of God

b Command - teaching the law. Here Moses instructed the ministers to gather all Israel together at the feast of tabernacles every 7th year and read the law to them - men, women, children and strangers (v 10-13)

4 examples of Bible reading:
1 The first reading of the law was during the conquest of Canaan (Josh. 8:35)
2 Jehosaphat, 661 years later, had the priests and Levites to teach the law in all Israel (2 Chr. 17:6-9)
3 Josiah, 280 years after this, discovered the law and had it read to all Israel (2 Chr. 34:22-33)
4 The law was again read 300 years later (Neh. 8)

c Six reasons for reading the law, p. 239

d The phrase thy days does not indicate that Moses had more days ahead of him and that they were soon to come to an end; it refers to the fact that the days of his 120 years were coming to an end. This happened that very day, when God spoke to him (31:2; 34:7), which was the 43,830th day of his life. The Sept. reads, "the time of thy death approacheth"

e Command - call Joshua, and present yourselves..., that I may give him a charge (v 14)

f This is the last time the Lord appeared to Israel to be recorded in the Pentateuch (v 15). This appearance was to give instructions to Joshua, the new leader of Israel and the successor of Moses. It is also the last time the pillar of the cloud was seen in Israel to be recorded; and this is the only reference to the pillar in all of Deuteronomy o 3 commands - a song for Israel:

1 Write you this song (v 19)
2 Teach it to Israel
3 Put it in their mouths
p This song is recorded in 32:1-44
q The purpose of the song was that it might be a witness against Israel in the day of their backsliding and apostasy (v 19-21) every seven years, in the solemnity of the [a]year of release, in the feast of tabernacles, 11 When all Is'ra-el is come to appear before the LORD thy God in the place which he shall choose, thou [b]shalt read this law before all Is'ra-el in their hearing.

12 Gather the people together, men, and women, and children, and thy stranger that is within thy gates, [c]that they may hear, and that they may learn, and fear the LORD your God, and observe to do all the words of this law:

13 And that their children, which have not known any thing, may hear, and learn to fear the LORD your God, as long as ye live in the land whither ye go over Jor'dan to possess it.

4 God's message to Moses before all Israel: prediction of many rebellions and evils in Israel

14 [d] And the LORD said unto Mo'ses, Behold, [d]thy days approach that thou must die: [e]call Josh'u-a, and present yourselves in the tabernacle of the congregation, that I may give him a charge. And Mo'ses and Josh'u-a went, and presented themselves in the tabernacle of the congregation.

15 And the LORD [f]appeared in the tabernacle in a pillar of a cloud: and the pillar of the cloud stood over the door of the tabernacle.

16 [g] And the LORD said unto Mo'ses, Behold, thou shalt sleep with thy fathers; and this people [h]will rise up, and go a whoring after the gods of the strangers of the land, whither they go to be among them, and will [i]forsake me, and break my covenant which I have made with them.

17 Then my [j]anger shall be kindled against them in that day, and I will [k]forsake them, and I will [l]hide my face from them, and they shall be devoured, and [m]many evils and troubles shall befall them; so that they will [n]say in that day, Are not these evils come upon us, because our God is not among us?

18 And I will surely hide my face in that day for all the evils which they shall have wrought, in that they are turned unto other gods.

19 Now therefore [o]write ye this [p]song for you, and teach it the children of Is'ra-el: put it in their mouths, [q]that this song may be a witness for me against the children of Is'ra-el.

20 For when I shall have brought them into the land which I sware unto their fathers, that floweth with milk and honey; and they shall have eaten and filled themselves, and waxen fat; then will they turn unto other gods, and serve them, and provoke me, and break my covenant.

21 And it shall come to pass, when many evils and troubles are befallen them, that this song shall testify against them as a witness; for it shall not be forgotten out of the mouths of their seed: [r]for I know their imagination which they go about, even now, before I have brought them into the land which I sware.

5 Moses writes a song and gives charge to Joshua (v 7)

22 Mo'ses therefore [s]wrote this song [t]the same day, and taught it the children of Is'ra-el.

23 [u] And he gave Josh'u-a the son of Nun a charge, and [v]said, Be strong and of a good courage: for thou shalt bring the children of Is'ra-el into the land which I [w]sware unto them: and I will be with thee.

6 Charge to the priests (v 9)

24 ¶ And it came to pass, when Mo'ses had made an end of writing the words of this law in a [x]book, until they were finished,

25 That Mo'ses commanded the Le'vites, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, saying,

26 [y] Take this [z]book of the law, and put it [a]in the side of the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, that it may be there for a witness against thee.

27 [b] For I know thy rebellion, and thy stiff neck: [c]behold, while I am yet alive with you this day, [d]ye have been rebellious against the LORD; and how much more after my death?

7 Charge to elders of Israel

28 ¶ Gather unto me all the elders of your tribes, and your officers, that I may speak these words in their ears, and call heaven and earth to record against them.

29 For [e] I know that after my death ye will utterly corrupt yourselves, and [f]turn aside from the way which I have commanded you; and [g]evil will befall you in the [h]latter days; because ye will [i]do evil in the sight of the LORD, to provoke him to anger through the work of your hands.

30 And Mo'ses spake in the ears of all the congregation of Is'ra-el the words of [j]this song, until they were ended.

g When? In the days of old . . . many generations past (v 7) God divided to the nations their inheritance and separated the sons of Adam and set the bounds of the people (v 7-8; Gen. 10:32). This makes the will of God plain as to segregation of the various nations; God, Himself determined the boundaries for them (v 8; Acts 17:26, note). When Christ comes to reign He will gather Israel from all lands and settle them in the promised land (Isa. 11:10-12; Ezek. 37; Mt. 24:31). Others of distinct races will also be returned to the originally determined lands, no doubt h When God divided the nations their inheritance and set boundaries around their lands that they should not integrate and become a mixture of races, He reserved the promised land for Israel as His own portion where He would come and live in their midst forever (Isa. 2:1-4; Jer. 3:17; Ezek. 43:7; 48:1-35; Joel 3:16-20; Zech. 14). The land of promise will be divided into 13 sections, according to the number of the tribes (v 8-9; Ezek. 48). The original division of the earth was made with the 3 sons of Noah about 200 to 300 years before Abraham (Gen. 10:32)
i 7fold preservation of Israel, p. 239
j Heb. ishon, the dark pupil of the eye; the hole, gate, or door of the eye (v 10; Ps. 17:8; Pr. 7:2) k 3 similes regarding Israel:
1 As the eagle stirreth up her nest. As one stirs up the nest to excite her young ones to fly, disturbing them to make them willing to leave the nest, so God permitted troubles in Egypt to make Israel willing to leave the land to become a nation themselves (v 11-12)
2 As the eagle fluttereth over her young. As she broods over them to keep them warm and protect them in their growth, so God by the Holy Spirit sought to develop Israel and make her strong (v 11-12)
3 As an eagle spreads out her wings and bears her young on them in teaching them to fly, so the Lord bore Israel in leading them out of Egypt (v 11-12; Ex. 19:4)
l God alone was the God of Israel in coming out of Egypt (v 12) m That is, God gave him the best places on earth (v 13), abundant crops and increase of the fields 9 material blessings for Israel:
1 Honey out of the rock, there being an abundance of flowers for the bees (v 13)
2 Oil out of the flinty rock
3 Butter of kine (cattle, v 14)
4 Milk of sheep
5 Fat of lambs
6 Rams of the Bashan breed
7 Goats
8 Fat of kidneys of wheat
9 An abundance of grapes n Heb. Yeshuruwn, a symbolic name of Israel, meaning the upright one (v 15; 33:5, 26). This makes it clear that God, Himself recognized Israel as justified and upright in His sight at first. Afterward, the nation forsook Him, rejected the Rock of their salvation and provoked Him with their sinning to the point that He abhorred them (v 15-26)
o 9 sins of Israel after salvation, p. 239 p Israel had salvation, the new birth, and many other spiritual experiences (p. 158 of N. T.), then forsook God, forgot Him and were punished with bitter destruction even to hell according to v 18, 22, 24

r This plainly indicates that Israel was born again, for God begat them (v 18; Gal. 3:8; 4:29; Heb. 4:2) grapes; it is bitter and poisonous like the venom of dragons and asps whose bite is immediately fatal (v 32-33). Israel was ripe for the judgment of this song (v 19-26), and it was already determined and would not be delayed (v 34-35)

s Question 32. Next, v 37-38
t Quoted in Rom. 12:19; Heb. 10:30. To God belongs vengeance, recompense, and judgment (v 35-42) judgment: a^q God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he.

(3) Israel's character and position before God

5 [b]They [c]have corrupted themselves, their [d]spot is not the spot of his children: they are a [e]perverse and crooked generation.

6 [f]Do ye thus requite the LORD, O foolish people and unwise? is not he thy father that hath bought thee? hath he not made thee, and established thee?

●7 ¶ Remember the days of old, consider the years of many generations: ask thy father, and he will shew thee; thy elders, and they will tell thee.

8 [g]When the most High divided to the nations their inheritance, when he separated the sons of Ad'am, [h]he set the bounds of the people according to the number of the children of Is'ra-el.

9 For the LORD's portion is his people; Ja'cob is the lot of his inheritance.

(4) God's finding of Israel and His tender care for him

10 [i]He found him in a desert land, and in the waste howling wilderness; he led him about, he instructed him, he kept him as the [j]apple of his eye.

11 [k]As an eagle stirreth up her nest, fluttereth over her young, spreadeth abroad her wings, taketh them, beareth them on her wings:

12 So the LORD alone did lead him, and [l]there was no strange god with him.

13 [m]He made him ride on the high places of the earth, that he might eat the increase of the fields; and he made him to suck honey out of the rock, and oil out of the flinty rock;

14 Butter of kine, and milk of sheep, with fat of lambs, and rams of the breed of Ba'shan, and goats, with the fat of kidneys of wheat; and thou didst drink the pure blood of the grape.

(5) Israel's lack of appreciation of God

15 ¶ But [n]Jesh'u-run waxed fat, and kicked: thou art waxen fat, thou art grown thick, thou art covered with fatness; then he [o]forsook God which made him, and lightly esteemed the Rock of [p]his salvation.

(6) Seven sins of Israel

16 They provoked him to jealousy with strange gods, with abominations provoked they him to anger.

17 They sacrificed unto[q]devils, not to God; to gods whom they knew not, to new gods that came newly up, whom your fathers feared not.

18 Of the Rock that [r]begat thee thou art unmindful, and hast forgotten God that formed thee.

(7) God's judgments on Israel

●19 [s]And [t]when the LORD saw it, he [u]abhorred them, because of the provoking of his [v]sons, and of his daughters.

20 And he said, I will hide my face from them, I will see what their end shall be: for they are a very froward generation, children in whom is no [w]faith.

21 They have moved me to jealousy with that which is not God; they have provoked me to anger with their [x]vanities: and I will move them to jealousy with those which are not a people; [y]I will provoke them to anger with a foolish nation.

22 For a fire is kindled in mine anger, and shall burn unto the lowest [z]hell, and shall consume the earth with her increase, and set on fire the foundations of the mountains.

23 I will heap [a]mischiefs upon them; I will spend mine [b]arrows upon them.

24 They shall be burnt with hunger, and devoured with burning heat, and with bitter destruction: I will also send the teeth of beasts upon them, with the poison of serpents of the dust.

25 The sword without, and terror within, shall destroy both the young man and the virgin, the suckling also with the man of gray hairs.

26 I said, I would scatter them into corners, I would make the remembrance of them to cease from among men:

(8) Israel ignorant of God's purpose and dealings

27 Were it not that I [c]feared the wrath of the enemy, lest their adversaries should behave themselves strangely, and lest they should say, Our hand is high, and the LORD hath not done all this.

28 [d]For they are a nation void of counsel, neither is there any understanding in them.

29 O that they were wise, that they understood this, that they would consider their latter end!

30 [e]How should one chase a thousand, and two put ten thousand to flight, except their Rock had [f]sold them, and the LORD had shut them up?

31 [g]For their [h]rock is not as our Rock, even our enemies themselves being judges.

32 For their [i]vine is of the vine of Sŏd'om, and of the fields of Gō-mŏr'rah: their grapes are grapes of gall, their clusters are bitter:

33 Their wine is the poison of dragons, and the cruel venom of asps.

34 [j]Is not this laid up in store with me, and sealed up among my treasures?

35 [k]To me belongeth vengeance, and recompence; their foot shall slide in due time: for the day of their calamity is at hand, and the things that shall come upon them make haste.

(9) God's return to Israel and punishment of their enemies

36 For the LORD shall judge

a 26th prophecy in Dt. (32:19-43, fulfilled). Next, 33:6. See 20 predictions of Moses, p. 239 b No statement in Scripture suggests that God knows every small detail of every act and thought of all free moral agents from all eternity, even before they are in existence. Such is not necessary in order to understand the omniscience of God (see note q, Gen. 6:4). Many times in Scripture we find Him seeing and knowing things when they happen, thus limiting Himself for some purpose in His dealings with His subjects c What was it God saw? The backsliding of Israel as pictured in v 15-18
d God can and does abhor such backsliders as described in v 15-18, and sends them to hell if they do not repent (v 19-26)
e Here God calls Israelites His sons and daughters, proving again that they had salvation (v 15), and were born again (v 18). When they sinned, forgot Him and forsook Him (v 15-18), He abhorred them (v 19), and vowed to destroy them in hell (v 20-22). Other O. T. scriptures call saved men sons (Isa. 43:6; 45:11; Hos. 1:10) f One of only two times faith is found in the O. T. (v 20; Hab. 2:4). The common word for faith in the O. T. is trust g Heb. habel, emptiness; vanity; something transitory and unsatisfactory. Here it refers to idols (v 21; 1 Ki. 16:13, 26; Jer. 8:19; 10:8; 14:22, Cp. Acts 14:15). Lying vanities are also spoken of (Ps. 31:6; Jonah 2:8)
h Quoted in Rom. 10:19, Cp. Rom. 11:11
i Heb. sheol, the unseen world; the place of departed spirits in the lower parts of the earth (v 22; Mt. 12:40; Eph. 4:8-10) 5 facts about hell here:
1 It is a place of fire (v 22; Song 8:6; Lk. 16:19-31)
2 It was kindled because of God's wrath on sin (v 22; Ps. 9:17; Mt. 25:41)
3 There are different compartments, one being the lowest hell (v 22; Lk. 16:19-31; 23:43)
4 Hell shall consume the earth's increase of men who die in rebellion (v 22; Isa. 5:14; 14:9; Rev. 20:11-15)
5 It will set the foundations of the mountains on fire (v 22)
Not one statement here or in any other place teaches that hell is the grave. There is no fire in the grave. See notes on Hell, p. 620
j Heb. ra, evil; calamity; mischief; misery; trouble; sorrow; wretchedness k See Arrows of God, p. 196
l A strange statement! God fearing the wrath of an enemy! It could not mean that God fears either an enemy or his wrath. The idea is that God feared that if He did not punish Israel in such a supernatural way as to leave out all evidences of a human hand, His enemies would brag that it was by their own hand it was done, and not by God's (v 27). Furthermore God wanted Israel to know that it was His hand which was punishing them for their sins, so they might repent and turn back to Him. The nations were to know that it was not their power or might that did it, even if at times they were used as the rod of chastening upon His people m Here God classes Israel as a nation without understanding, without wisdom, and void of proper counsel. Had they possessed proper understanding and wisdom they would have considered their latter end instead of living only for the present lusts and pleasures that were destroying the nation (v 28-29). In obedience to God they would have never been defeated. One would chase 1,000 and two would put 10,000 to flight (Lev. 26:8). As it was now, one of the enemy could chase 1,000 and two could put 10,000 Israelites to flight because their Rock (God) had sold them to go into defeat and captivity, and had shut them up (v 30)
n Question 31. Next, v 34
o This term is used of permitting them to be defeated and placed under bondage and captivity (v 30; 28:68; Judg. 2:14; 3:8; 4:2; 10:7; 1 Sam. 12:9) p 7 reasons enemies victorious, p. 239
q See A false rock, p. 205
r Israel is compared to a vine bringing forth wild grapes (Isa. 5:1-7; Jer. 2:21; Ps. 80:9; Hos. 10:1). The fruit of the vine here is even worse than wild a God has always been good, merciful, and gracious enough to turn from judgment when men repent and do His will; but His hands are tied so that He cannot help them as long as they are consecrated to wickedness. He cannot bless people contrary to His own promises to them. Having definitely assured sinners and backsliders of punishment if they do not repent and conform to His will and Word, He can only punish them (v 36). See Backsliding, p. 237

o The reason for not permitting Moses to enter Canaan was given at the time he smote the rock instead of speaking to it (v 51; Num. 20:10-13)

p How could a man sanctify God who has no sin to cleanse? Only by setting Him apart as One to worship, reverence and respect. Once again we have the true meaning of sanctification emphasized - setting something apart for a holy and sacred use. Moses did not reverence Him and His word on this occasion which would have sanctified Him before the people. See Sanctification in Index

2 The Lord shall cover him - be his protector
3 He shall dwell between His shoulders; that is, be supported by God as a son is carried by his father

37 And he shall say, [e]Where are their gods, their rock in whom they trusted, 38 Which did eat the fat of their sacrifices, and drank the wine of their drink offerings? let them rise up and help you, and be your protection.

39 [f]See now that I, even I, am he, and there is no god with me: I kill, and I make alive; I wound, and I heal: neither is there any that can deliver out of my hand.

40 For I lift up my hand to heaven, and say, I live for ever.

41 If I whet my [g]glittering sword, and mine hand take hold on judgment; I will render vengeance to mine enemies, and will reward them that hate me.

42 I will make mine [h]arrows drunk with blood, and my sword shall devour flesh; and that with the blood of the slain and of the captives, from the beginning of revenges upon the enemy.

9 Moses charges Israel to obey God and the law

44 [k] And Mō'şeş came and spake all the words of this song in the ears of the people, he, and [l]Hō-shē'ā the son of Nŭn.

45 And Mō'şeş made an end of speaking [m]all these words to all Iş'ra-el:

●46 And he said unto them, Set your hearts unto all the words which I testify among you this day, which ye shall command your children to observe to do, all the words of this law.

47 [n]For it is not a vain thing for you; because it is your life: and through this thing ye shall prolong your days in the land, whither ye go over Jŏr'dan to possess it.

10 Moses prepares for death (Num. 27:12-23; Dt. 31:1-30)

●49 [p]Get thee up into this mountain [q]Ăb'a-rĭm, unto mount Nĕ'bō, which is in the land of Mō'ab, that is over against Jĕr'ĭ-chō; and behold the land of Că'năan, which I give unto the children of Iş'ra-el for a possession:

●50 And die in the mount whither thou goest up, and be gathered unto thy people; as Aăr'on thy brother died in mount Hôr, and was gathered unto his people:

51 [r]Because ye trespassed against me among the children of Iş'ra-el at the waters of Mĕr'ĭ-bah-Kā'desh, in the wilderness of Zĭn; [s]because ye sanctified me not in the midst of the children of Iş'ra-el.

52 Yet thou shalt [t]see the land before thee; but thou shalt not go thither unto the land which I give the children of Iş'ra-el.

CHAPTER 33 — 1856

IX Blessing of the tribes (Cp. Gen. 49:1-27). 1 Blessings on all Israel (v 25)

AND this is the blessing, wherewith Mō'şeş the man of God [a]blessed the children of Iş'ra-el before his death.

2 And he said, [b]The LORD came from Sĭ'năi, and rose up from Sē'ĭr unto them; he shined forth from mount Pā'ran, and he came with ten thousands of saints: from his right hand went a fiery law for them.

3 Yea, he loved the people; all his saints are in thy hand: and they sat down at thy feet; every one shall receive of thy words.

4 [c]Mō'şeş [d]commanded us a law, even the inheritance of the congregation of Jā'cob.

5 And he was king in [e]Jĕsh'u-rŭn, when the heads of the people and the tribes of Iş'ra-el were gathered together.

2 Reuben's blessing (Gen. 49:3-4)

●6 [f]Let [g]Reu'ben [h]live, and not die; [i]and let not his men be few.

3 Judah's blessing (Gen. 49:8-12)

7 [j]And this is the blessing of Jū'dah: and he said, Hear, LORD, the voice of Jū'dah, and bring him unto his people: let his hands be sufficient for him; and be thou an help to him from his enemies.

4 Levi's blessing (Gen. 49:5)

8 [k]And of Lĕ'vī he said, Let thy [l]Thŭm'mim and thy Ū'rim be with thy [m]holy one, whom thou didst prove at Mās'sah, and with whom thou didst strive at the waters of Mĕr'ĭ-bah;

9 [n]Who said unto his father and to his mother, I have not seen him; neither did he acknowledge his brethren, nor knew his own children: [o]for they have observed thy word, and kept thy covenant.

10 They shall [p]teach Jā'cob thy judgments, and Iş'ra-el thy law: they shall [q]put incense before thee, and [r]whole burnt sacrifice upon thine altar.

11 Bless, LORD, his substance, and accept the work of his hands: smite through the loins of them that rise against him, and of them that hate him, that they rise not again.

5 Benjamin's blessing (Gen. 49:27)

a Moses saw the land, but did not have the joy of entering it or the privilege of living to see it conquered and the people settled in it. He came short of many years of life and service both to God and Israel because of his sin (v 51; Num. 20:10-15)

b To bless here means to make a pronouncement of good to the tribes

c 8fold description of God's appearance:
1 Jehovah came from Sinai (v 2)
2 He rose up from Seir (Edom) unto them (His people) Paran
3 His glory shined forth from mount
4 He came with ten thousands of His saints (angels who came down at the giving of the law)
5 A fiery law went forth from His right hand for the people (Ps. 68:17; Acts 7:53; Gal. 3:19; Heb. 2:2)
6 He loved the people (v 3)
7 All His saints are in His hand
8 They sat down at His feet to receive His words

d 2 positions held by Moses:
1 He was the lawgiver of Israel (v 4, 21; Num. 21:18)
2 He was king in Jeshurun (the upright one, Israel, v 5)

e 4 lawgivers of Scripture:
1 Messiah (Gen. 49:10) 17)
2 Moses (33:4, 21; Num. 21:18; Jn. 1: 3 Judah (Ps. 60:7; 108:8)

g 27th prophecy in Dt. (33:6-29, unfulfilled, but will be fulfilled in the Millennium and forever). Next, 34:4

h Blessing of Reuben: Let him live, and not die (v 6). The plea here is to permit Reuben to live and multiply, even though he forfeited these blessings when he sinned (Gen. 49:3-4; cp. 35:22)

i Here we have the use of pleonasm or redundancy, where a statement made is immediately afterward put in another and sometimes an opposite way to make it impossible for the sense to be missed - live, and not die. Such examples are often found in Scripture (v 6; 8:7; 32:6; Gen. 43:8; Num. 4:19; 1 Sam. 1:11; Ps. 118:17; Isa. 38:1; Jer. 20:14; Jn. 1:20; 1 Jn. 2:4)

j Blessing of Simeon: Let not his men be few (v 6). In the Alexandrian copy of the Sept, this reads, "and let Simeon be very numerous." Simeon is not mentioned here but since Moses was blessing all the tribes it is supposed by some that he is the one referred to along with Reuben; if not, then the explanation of note k, which follows, must apply k 4 blessings of Judah (including Simeon, for their inheritance was one, and their blessings could be one, v 7; Josh. 19:1-9). In the Moffatt translation v 7 is placed between v 10 and 11, and reads, "O thou Eternal, listen to Simeon's cry, and join him to the nation once again. Judah fights for himself, and thou art the saving of him." If we divide this (v 7) between Simeon and Judah, then the statement of note j, above belongs to Reuben's blessing, which would make 2 blessings each for these tribes - Reuben, Simeon, Judah. Statements regarding Judah in v 7 are:

1 Hear, Lord, the voice of Judah; that is, hear his prayers
2 Bring him unto his people; that is, in battle let him be brought home again
3 Let his hands be sufficient for him; that is, let him always have a sufficiency of soldiers to support the tribe and guarantee its rights
4 Be an help to him from his enemies; that is, let his enemies never prevail over him l 5 blessings of Levi:

1 Let the Urim and Thummim be with Your holy one (the high priest, v 8)
2 They (the Levites) shall teach Jacob Your judgments and Your law (v 10)
3 They shall put incense before You, and whole burnt sacrifice upon Your altar
4 Bless their substance, and accept the work of their hands (v 11)
5 Smite through the loins of their enemies

m See notes d-e, Ex. 28:30

n The high priest is called God's holy one here, whom God proved at Massah (Ex. 17:7; Dt. 6:16; 9:22; 33:8) and Meribah (Num. 20:13, 24; 27:14; Ps. 81:7) a 11 blessings of Joseph through his 2 sons - Ephraim and Manasseh:

1 Blessed in his land - the portion allotted to him was one of the best and most fertile (v 13)
2 Precious things of heaven - dew, rain, sunshine and benefits from the moon (v 13-14)
3 Deep underground water to supply the wells that were dug (v 13)
4 Chief things of the ancient mountains - large trees, etc.
5 Precious things of the everlasting hills - metals, minerals, olive trees, grapes, etc.
6 Precious things of the earth and the fulness thereof - crops growing in abundance in fertile soil (v 16)
7 The good will of Him that dwelt in the bush - the God of the burning bush (Ex. 3:1-22)
8 God's blessing upon his head: that is, he would be particularly separated to God, as he was separated from his brethren. Cp. Gen. 49:26
9 His glory like the firstling of his bullock: that is, there is strength in Ephraim who was exalted as the first-born by Jacob (v 17; Gen. 48:17-20)
10 His horns are like those of a unicorn (wild bull, rhinoceros, buffalo, or antelope, note r, Num. 23:21). With them he shall push his enemies until he destroys them 11 Ephraim shall multiply by the tens of thousands, and Manasseh by the thousands. Cp. Gen. 48:19; Num. 1:33-35

b 4 blessings of Zebulun and Issachar:
1 They shall rejoice (v 18)
2 They shall call the people unto the mountain, and offer sacrifices of righteousness (v 19). This refers to the blessing these tribes would be to many Gentiles who would be converted to God through their traffic among them
3 They shall suck the abundance of the seas; that is, they shall become rich through merchandise traded among the Gentiles in their sea voyages
4 They shall suck the abundance of treasures hid in the sand. They were to prosper by making glass out of the sand. Cp. Job 28:17

c 5 blessings of Gad:
1 Blessed be the One (God) who enlarges Gad and gives him (the tribe) a spacious territory (v 20). Cp. Ps. 4:1; 31:8
2 He dwells secure and fearless as a lion surrounded with enemies. Cp. 1 Chr. 12:8
3 He tears the arm with the crown of his head; that is, the leaders would get the victory over all enemies
4 He provided the first part to himself; that is, he chose for himself a very good portion and it was granted by the lawgiver, Moses (v 21; Num. 31:1-5)
5 He came with the heads of the people, and executed the justice of the Lord and His judgments with Israel; that is, his leaders led in the victory with the other tribes of Israel in the conquest of the land and the settlement of Canaan

d 2 blessings of Dan (v 22):
1 Dan is a lion's whelp - an unweaned cub not yet beginning to catch his own prey
2 He shall develop and catch his prey, making a leap from Bashan. At first Dan's portion was not sufficient so he went far north to make for himself a place (Josh. 19:47-48)

e 2 blessings of Naphtali (v 23):
1 He shall be satisfied with the full blessing of the Lord (v 23)
2 He shall possess the west and the north next to the lakes Merom and Galilee - some of the most beautiful country of Canaan

f 3 blessings of Asher (v 24):
1 He shall be blessed with children
2 He shall be acceptable to his brethren in all the tribes
3 He shall dip his foot in oil. This refers to the primitive method of treading the olives in order to press out the oil. Cp. Job 29:6; Mic. 6:15

s This is a testimony that can even be repeated today. His intimate contact with God, living in His glory, his fasts, and strict manner of life all added up to perfect strength and eyesight (v 7)

6 Joseph's blessing (Gen. 49:22-26)

13 ¶ [a]And of Jō'seph he said, Blessed of the LORD be his land, for the precious things of heaven, for the dew, and for the deep that coucheth beneath, 14 And for the precious fruits brought forth by the sun, and for the precious things put forth by the moon, 15 And for the chief things of the ancient mountains, and for the precious things of the lasting hills,
16 And for the precious things of the earth and fulness thereof, and for the good will of him that dwelt in the bush: let the blessing come upon the head of Jō'seph, and upon the top of the head of him that was separated from his brethren.
17 His glory is like the firstling of his bullock, and his horns are like the horns of unicorns: with them he shall push the people together to the ends of the earth: and they are the ten thousands of Ē'phrā-im, and they are the thousands of Mā-nās'seh.

7 Zebulun and Issachar's blessing (Gen. 49:13-15)

18 [b]And of Zĕb'u-lŭn he said, Rejoice, Zĕb'u-lŭn, in thy going out; and, Is'sa-char, in thy tents.
19 They shall call the people unto the mountain; there they shall offer sacrifices of righteousness: for they shall suck of the abundance of the seas, and of treasures hid in the sand.

8 Gad's blessing (Gen. 49:19)

20 ¶ [c]And of Găd he said, Blessed be he that enlargeth Găd: he dwelleth as a lion, and teareth the arm with the crown of the head.
21 And he provided the first part for himself, because there, in a portion of the lawgiver, was he seated; and he came with the heads of the people, he executed the justice of the LORD, and his judgments with Is'ra-el.

9 Dan's blessing (Gen. 49:16)

22 ¶ [d]And of Dăn he said, Dăn is a lion's whelp: he shall leap from Bā'shăn.

10 Naphtali's blessing (Gen. 49:21)

23 ¶ [e]And of Năph'ta-lī he said, O Năph'ta-lī, satisfied with favour, and full with the blessing of the LORD: possess thou the west and the south.

11 Asher's blessing (Gen. 49:20)

24 ¶ [f]And of Ash'ēr he said, Let Ash'ēr be blessed with children; let him be acceptable to his brethren, and let him dip his foot in oil.

12 Blessing to all Israel (v 1)

25 [g]Thy shoes shall be iron and brass; and as thy days, so shall thy strength be.
26 ¶ There is none like unto the God of [h]Jĕsh'u-rŭn, [i]who rideth upon the heaven in thy help, and in his excellency on the sky.
27 [j]The eternal God is thy refuge, and underneath are the everlasting arms: and he shall thrust out the enemy from before thee; and shall say, Destroy them.
28 [k]Is'ra-el then shall dwell in safety [l]alone: the [m]fountain of Jā'cob shall be upon a land of corn and wine; also his heavens shall drop down dew.
29 Happy art thou, O Is'ra-el: who is like unto thee, O people saved [n]by the LORD, [o]the shield of thy help, and who is the sword of thy excellency! and thine enemies shall be found liars unto thee; and thou shalt tread upon their high places.

CHAPTER 34 187

X Moses' vision and death.
1 His vision (Cp. Ex. 3:1-10)

[a]AND Mō'şeş went up from the plains of Mō'ab unto the mountain of Nĕ'bō, to the top of Pĭs'gah, that is over against Jĕr'ī-chō. And [b]the LORD shewed him all the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, unto Dăn,
2 And all Năph'ta-lī, and the land of Ē'phrā-im, and Mā-nās'seh, and all the land of Ju'dah, unto the utmost sea,
3 And the south, and the plain of the valley of Jĕr'ī-chō, the city of palm trees, unto Zō'ar.
4 [c]And the LORD said unto him, This is the land which I sware [d]unto Ā'brā-hăm, unto Ī'şaac, and unto Jā'cob, saying, I will give it unto thy seed: I have caused thee to see it with thine eyes, but thou shalt not go over thither.

2 Death of Moses (Num. 27:12)

5 ¶ So Mō'şeş [e]the servant of the LORD died there in the land of Mō'ab, according to the word of the LORD.

3 Burial of Moses (Jude 9)

6 And [f]he buried him in a valley in the land of Mō'ab, over against Bĕth-pē'ōr: [g]but no man knoweth of his sepulchre unto this day.
7 ¶ And Mō'şeş was [h]an hundred and twenty years old when he [i]died: [j]his eye was not dim, nor his natural force abated.
8 ¶ And the children of Is'ra-el wept for Mō'şeş in the plains of Mō'ab [k]thirty days: so the days of weeping and mourning for Mō'şeş were ended.

4 Joshua the successor of Moses (Num. 27:15)

9 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nūn was [l]full of the spirit of wisdom; for Mō'şeş had laid his hands upon him: and the children of Is'ra-el hearkened unto him, and did as the LORD commanded Mō'şeş.

a 12 blessings of all the tribes:
1 Shoes of iron and brass (v 25). This perhaps refers to metals in the mountains, as well as to the warlike disposition of Israel, for warriors wore greaves, boots, shoes, and other protective armor made of these metals. Cp. 1 Sam. 17:6
2 Strength all the days of life
3 God, the only true, living, and eternal God who rides in the sky shall be your help (v 26-27; Ps. 68:4; Ezek. 1)
4 Underneath are the everlasting arms
5 He shall thrust out the enemy from before you, and command their destruction
6 You shall then dwell in safety alone in all the promised land (v 28)
7 The fountain of Jacob shall be upon the land of corn and wine
8 The heavens shall drop dew to refresh the land
9 You will be a happy nation and no other people will be like you (v 29)
10 You will be saved by the Lord, who will be your shield and help, and the sword of your excellency
11 Your enemies shall be found liars
12 You shall tread upon the high places of the earth

b See note n, 32:15 c See Ps. 68:4, 33; Ezek. 1, 8, 10 d This could be paraphrased, "Above is the everlasting God, and beneath are the everlasting arms." This gives one protection over, beneath, and all around him (Ps. 34:7; 91:1-12). Unlimited power to protect is expressed here e Israel could have remained this way eternally if they had not sinned and provoked God for centuries finally causing Him to turn and be their enemy, as He had vowed He would be under such circumstances (Isa. 63:10). See Backsliding, p. 237
f Israel was not to be incorporated with any other nation under heaven (v 28; 32:8-10; Num. 9; Acts 17:26)
g Heb. ayin, an eye; fountain; outward appearance; eyesight; face; presence (v 28; 8:7; Gen. 16:7; Num. 33:9; 1 Sam. 29:1; 2 Chr. 32:3; Pr. 8:28). The idea here is that God would be the source of blessing, the fountain of life to Israel and their land h To be saved by the Lord was Israel's greatest blessing and glory (v 29)
i See 7 things God was to Israel, p. 210
j This chapter, which is always a part of the Pentateuch in all MSS. and ancient versions, is a postscript either written by Moses before his death or by another afterward. It could have been added by Moses through direct revelation, which is the way he wrote about the origin of the heavens and the earth (Gen. 1:1-2:25). If not, then we suppose that Joshua was the inspired writer later, for it is plainly stated that he also wrote in the book of the law (Josh. 24:26)
k Moses was taken on a tour in the Spirit or by vision to see all the promised land l 28th and last prophecy in Dt. (34:4, fulfilled once, but will be fully and eternally fulfilled in the Millennium and New Earth period, Gen. 17; Isa. 9:6-7; 11:10-12; Dan. 7:13-14; Ezek. 37; Rev. 11:15). The last part was fulfilled that day (v 5) n Moses is called the servant of the Lord 18 times (v 5; Josh. 1:1, 13, 15; 8:31, 33; 11:12; 12:6; 13:8; 14:7; 18:7; 22:2, 4, 5; 2 Kl. 18:12; 2 Chr. 1:3; 24:6)

o Jehovah buried Moses (v 6; Jude 9) p Jehovah kept the place of burial secret, so that Israel would not pay him homage or worship Moses as a god. Israel was not to give such reverence to their leader as pagans who made gods of their eminent statesmen, victorious generals, great lawgivers and founders of religion (v 6)
q Moses died the youngest of all his kindred. When Levi, his great-great grandfather died he was 137; Kohath, his great grandfather was 133; Amram, his father 137; and Aaron, his older brother, 123 (Ex. 6:16-20; Num. 33:39). Miriam, the sister of Moses, was 126 or more at death (Num. 20:1)
r He died on the 1st day of Feb. which was the day he was born 120 years before (note g, m, 1:3, 10; 31:2; 34:7)

How to live long (6:2)

The word prolong with its various endings is used 25 times, and nearly every time of life on earth being extended if certain conditions are met

10 conditions of long life:

1 Live free from idolatry (Dt. 4:25-26) 2; 11:8-9; 32:46-47)
2 Keep commandments (Dt. 4:40; 6:2)
3 Honor parents (Dt. 5:16; Eph. 6:2)
4 Walk in God's ways (Dt. 5:33)
5 Fear God (Dt. 6:2; Pr. 10:27; Eccl. 8:13)
6 Humility and obedience (Dt. 17:20)
7 Kindness to animals (Dt. 22:6-7)
8 Faithfulness to God (Dt. 30:18)
9 Having understanding and knowledge (Pr. 28:2)
10 Hatred of covetousness (Pr. 28:16)

Unity of God (6:4)

These words were used at the beginning of the Jewish services of both morning and evening (v 4-5), and may be termed the short creed of the Jews. In them we find not only the declaration of the unity of God as contrasted with polytheism, the doctrine of the Trinity, and the true nature of spiritual worship, but also the fact that Jehovah is the absolute and only uncaused God. Literally, Jehovah our Elohim is a unified Jehovah. Dt. 6:1-8 was one of four passages which Jews used in the phylacteries, and which they regarded as one of the most pregnant with truth and instruction. The other passages were: 11:18-21; Ex. 13:2-10, 11-16

3 basic doctrines expressed:

1 The unity of oneness of Jehovah and God - Jehovah our Elohim is a united Jehovah
2 The Trinity of God. There are more than one Jehovah and more than one God as individuals, but they are one Jehovah and one God in unity, thus expressing the truth of 3 separate and distinct persons, beings, or individuals in the Divine Trinity (1 Jn. 5:7). The Father, the Son, and the Holy Ghost are one in this way, not one in individuality. The words Jehovah and God have a singular and a plural meaning, like our word sheep. Since there are 3 persons or beings, then the only way they can be one is in the sense of unity, as prayed for in Jn. 17:21-23. See The Trinity, p. 280 of N.T.
3 True worship consists of loving Jehovah as God with all the heart, soul, and might. Having a wholehearted love for God is the first and great commandment (Mt. 22:36-40)

27 conditional blessings: He will (7:11)

5 Last tribute to Moses (Josh. 1:2; Jude 9)

10 ¶ And there arose not [a]a prophet since in Iṣ'ra-el like unto Mō'ṣeṣ, whom the LORD knew [b]face to face, 11 In all the [c]signs and the wonders, [c]which the LORD sent him to do in the land of E'gypt to Phā'raōh, and to all his servants, and to all his land, 12 And [b]in all that mighty hand, and in all the great terror which Mō'ṣeṣ shewed in the sight of all Iṣ'ra-el.

Summary of Deuteronomy

Date and place: written about 1645 B.C. in the plains of Moab by Jordan near Jericho, just before the entrance into Canaan (1:5; 34:1-12)
Author: Moses, the lawgiver and leader of Israel. See Moses in Index
Proof of authorship: see Summary of Genesis for 16 proofs Moses wrote the Pentateuch, the first 5 books of the Bible
Theme: the name of the book means Second Law, because it records the repetition of the 10 commandments (ch. 5). It contains the parting counsels of Moses to Israel in view of their entrance into Canaan; a summary of the wilderness wanderings; many new laws that needed to be added to those given some 40 years before; many warnings in view of the possibility of sin; prophecies concerning the future of Israel; and the Palestinian covenant (11:13-32; 27:1-30:20)
Statistics: 5th book of the Bible; 34 chapters; 958 verses; 28,461 words; 33 questions; 690 verses of history; 230 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 37 verses of unfulfilled prophecy. Deuteronomy has 33 separate messages from God (1:6, 34, 42; 2:2, 9, 17, 31; 3:2, 26; 4:10, 12, 14; 5:4, 28, 30; 6:1; 9:12, 13, 23; 10:1, 11; 11:13; 12:1; 17:14; 18:15, 17; 27:1; 29:1; 30:1; 31:14, 16; 32:48; 34:4); 519 commands; 47 promises; and 497 predictions

The Pentateuch - 5 books of Moses:

Of all the writings of antiquity, the Pentateuch is the most remarkable. The various subjects it embraces makes it a necessity in the understanding of God's plan for man. It is the foundation of divine revelation to man. Its explanation of the origin of all things, its code of laws, geography, chronology, history, and religion prove it to be a divine work worthy of careful study and acceptance by the whole human race

The Pentateuch is generally called The law of Moses, but it is really The Law of God. Supposing Moses to be the sole author and originator of the civil and religious system, and the many revelations of God regarding His creative and redemptive work would be counting him immortal, for a mere human could not have invented such a work

1 Zend-Avesta, by Zoroaster, about 1200 B.C., the sacred book of the Medes and Persians to revive the ancient Magain religion
2 The Four Vedas, the four sacred books of the Hindoos, or the Institutes of Menu: written by Menu, son of Brahma and containing the code of civil and religious laws of the Indians, written about 1100 B.C.
3 Five Kings, the sacred book of the Chinese, written by Confucius about 1100 B.C.
4 The Pitikes of the Buddhists, written by Gotama, founder of Buddhism about 600 B.C.
5 The Koran, written by Mohammed about 600 A.D.
6 The Eddas of Scandinavia, two religious codes containing mythology and traditions, written about 1100 or 1200 A.D.

All of these were written from about 500 to 2,400 years after Moses, and some are partly made up of quotations from the Old and New Testaments, the Talmud, which is a Jewish commentary of the O.T., and the Gospel of Barnabas. Others contain the best sayings of wise men within the race producing such a work, certain ethical, political, and moral aspirations of those people, besides old traditions, mythological and fantastic tales of gods, their wars, etc.

The sacred books of pagans reveal many erroneous and superstitious ideas which could only be the product of the human mind. Their profitable sayings may have helped in the social life of some in the past; nevertheless, there is very little in them to elevate or inspire to righteousness and nothing to bring one a correct understanding of the true and living God. How different are the Pentateuch and the other sections of the Bible which glow with truth like the sun compared to a candle!

In the Pentateuch God is supreme and the only King; the priest is His servant, even being prevented by the law from having earthly inheritance or secular power; the ruler of Israel is the vice-gerent of God, obliged to rule according to His laws which are not to be changed, added to, or taken from. Despotism and priestcraft revealed in other so-called sacred writings would be impossible where the laws of the Pentateuch are obeyed. Its rites and ceremonies are dignified, impressive, and free from the mysteries, divination, witchcraft, sorcery, enchantment, omens, and cruel, licentious practices which make pagan rites an abomination to God. The ceremonies of the Pentateuch point out the holiness of God, the sinfulness of man, the necessity of an atonement and the moral state to which the Creator has promised to raise fallen man. The punishments of the 5 books are just and the rewards such as to inspire love of God and consecration to the highest good of all

Phylacteries (11:18)

Whether the commands in v 18; 6:8; Ex. 13:9, 16 concerning the binding of portions of the law on the hand and forehead were intended to be taken literally or figuratively has been a matter of dispute among commentators. The Jews have for ages attached to them a literal meaning. The passages they selected were Ex. 13:1-10, 11-16; Dt. 6:4-9; 11:13-21. Two kinds of phylacteries were used. The one for the arm was a strip of parchment on which these texts were written. It was enclosed in a small square case made of parchment or calfskin, and fastened with a long narrow leather strap to the inside of the arm, between the elbow and the shoulder. When the arm touched the body the law would thus be near the heart. The strap was carefully wound around the arm and fingers so that the ends came out by the tip of the middle finger. Sadducees wore phylacteries on the palm of the hand instead of the arm. The case for the forehead was divided into 4 cells with a parchment in each. It was fastened with leather straps to the forehead, between the eyes and near the roots of the hair. Phylacteries were worn by men only. The common people wore them during prayer only; but the Pharisees wore them continually, and even enlarged them to call attention to their piety. They became badges of vanity and hypocrisy, sometimes being worn as amulets. This show of them was rebuked by Christ (Mt. 23:5) a This refers to the many signs and wonders of the book of Exodus which Moses performed in Egypt before Pharaoh and his servants. See 42 miracles of Moses, p. 109

b This refers to the great and mighty acts at mount Sinai, and in all the wilderness wanderings for 40 years, as recorded in Exodus through Deuteronomy

5 commands - destruction of idols (12:1)

1 Observe and do all these statutes and judgments in the land when you possess it; do them all the days of your life on earth (v 1)
2 Utterly destroy all the places where the nations served their gods, in the high mountains, upon the hills, and under every green tree (v 2)
3 Overthrow their altars, break their pillars, and burn their groves with fire (v 3)
4 Hew down the graven images of their gods, and destroy the names of them out of that place
5 You shall not do so unto the Lord your God (v 4). This refers to setting up images, pillars, and altars on every high hill, and under every green tree according to their choice and desire. God simply commanded them not to do this for His worship, for He would choose the place of worship and the manner in which men should seek Him

11 commands - false prophets and religions (13:3)

1 Do not hear or follow any religious leader who seeks to lead you away from Jehovah and His Word (v 1-3)
2 You shall walk after God, fear Him, keep His commandments, obey His voice, serve Him, and cleave to Him (v 4)
3 Put the false prophet or dreamer of dreams to death if he has sought to turn you away from Jehovah (v 5)
4 You shall put away all evil
5 Even if your closest relatives or friends seek to turn you from Jehovah, you shall not consent to them, hear them, pity them, spare them, or conceal them from punishment of death
6 You shall kill them by your own hand being upon them first, and then the hands of the people. Stone them with stones that they die, because they have sought to lead you astray from Jehovah (v 9-10)
7 All Israel shall hear, and fear, and do no more such wickedness (v 11)
8 You shall destroy every city and all the inhabitants that permit any to live among them who seek to turn you away from Jehovah, and every city which turns from God to serve other gods (v 12-15)
9 You shall make proper inquiry and know of a certainty that the city has gone from Jehovah to serve other gods before you destroy it (v 14-15)
10 You shall gather all the spoil into the streets and burn the city with fire and it shall be an heap forever as a witness of God's judgment on idolatry
11 Do not build that city again, nor take any of its spoil for yourselves (v 16-17)

6 things God requires of men (13:4)

7 commands - relief of a poor brother (15:12)

1 Let Hebrew slaves go free at the end of 7 years, or in the sabbatical year (v 12, Cp. Ex. 23:10-11; Lev. 25)
2 Do not send one out of your house empty (v 13)
3 Furnish him liberally (If you want liberal blessing, 2 Cor. 9:6; Pr. 11:25) out of your flock and storehouses, as God has blessed you, so as to give him a new start (v 14)
4 Remember you were slaves in Egypt, and the Lord redeemed you and did not send you out empty; so do this (as commanded) to your brother (v 15. Cp. Ex. 11:2-3; 12:35-36)
5 If one loves you and is satisfied to remain your servant because it is well with him there, you shall take an awl and thrust it through his ear into the door; and he shall be your servant forever (v 16-17)
6 You shall also make a maid servant yours forever under the same circumstances (v 17)
7 Do not be grieved that your faithful servant is freed from slavery after 6 years of service. Be glad that he can go free to establish his own household (v 18)

The word Abib defined (16:1)

The word Abib was the Egyptian for green ears, referring to the green barley that was offered as the firstfruits to God in that month. Though not used after this verse, it is used 4 times before (Ex. 13:4; 23:15; 34:18). The Sept. calls it the month of new things. The word Nisan is substituted after this; it means the month of flowers or blossoms (Neh. 2:1; Esther 3:7). The main point of this chapter is that of religious worship of the people around one common sanctuary. The law against observing the 3 main annual feasts at home and in private is stated 6 times in this chapter (v 2, 6, 7, 11, 15, 16). Nothing is said of other holy days here. Being ready now to enter Canaan, these laws were emphasized because Israel had not observed them for 39 years. One passover only had been kept in the wilderness (Num. 9)

Judgment of stubborn cases (17:8)

There could be no controversy over any matter between two persons in a community if all stubbornness was put away and a brotherly spirit of love and genuine concern for the welfare of others prevailed. Such unsettled matters come through extreme selfishness and stubbornness which lead to the presumptuous sin and death of v 12-13. If a man does not relent and act normally righteous in a local community it is hardly reasonable to believe that he would do so after the expense and trouble of going to a far away place for justice. A man who persists in stubbornness in one place usually does the same in another; the place does not lessen the relentless spirit nor placate the implacable and the ungodly. Stubbornness will damn the soul (Pr. 1:24-31; 29:1; Rev. 9:20-21)

6 examples of stubbornness:

1 Antediluvians (Gen. 6:3, 5, 7)
2 Sodomites (Gen. 19:9, 14)

4 Israelites (Num. 14:22; 2 Chr. 36:15-16; Ps. 95:8-11; Heb. 3:8, 15; 4:7)
5 Balaam (Num. 22:22-35)
6 Sons of Eli (1 Sam. 2:22-25)

Reason for divorce (24:1)

Heb. ervah, trans. uncleanness (v 1); shame (Isa. 20:4); and nakedness (Gen. 9:22-23; 42:9, 12; Ex. 20:26; 28:42; Lev. 18:6-19; 20:11-21; 1 Sam. 20:30; Isa. 47:3; Lam. 1:8; Ezek. 16:36-37; 22:10; 23:10,18,29; Hos. 2:9). It comes from arah, which means to make bare; empty; destitute; discover; make naked; uncover. The idea here is that of discovering or uncovering something in the wife that was not known before to the husband. Exactly what is included in the word uncleanness in this connection is not known. Judging from the word as trans. above it would be something of the nature of shame, disappointment, and extreme dislike. If the uncleanness refers to moral sin, as in 22:13-21, the earlier law demanded the death penalty. Perhaps Moses, seeing that by carrying out the letter of such law there would be frequent executions because of the extreme laxity of morals among the Israelites; and he thus modified the law by permitting a wife, in some cases, to clear herself by a solemn oath (Num. 5:11-31), and in other cases, allowing the husband to put his wife away privately without bringing her to trial (v 1-4; Mt. 1:19)

The rival schools of Hillel and Shammai in the days of Christ interpreted this uncleanness different ways. Shammai held that it referred only to moral and criminal sins of adultery; but Hillel contended that it referred to anything disliked by the husband, even though it was something trivial (notes e-h, Mt. 5:31-32; note m, 19:3; notes e-h, Mk. 10:1-9), Christ sanctioned the teaching of Shammai; and if we are to take Him as interpreting the uncleanness of this passage as fornication, then that is the nearest explanation of it in Scripture (Mt. 5:32; 19:9)

The various translations are as follows: Young, nakedness of anything; Rotherham, some matter of shame; Peshitta, some evidence of prostitution in her; Berkeley, something improper in her; Moffatt, found her immodest in some way; Septuagint, found something unseemly in her; Fenton, found repulsive qualities in her. All of this seems to indicate a serious moral sin

Whatever the intended thought, it is clear that divorce was not commanded here, but permitted because of the hardness of hearts (v 1; Mt. 19:8); that both divorced parties were free to remarry (v 2); that the first husband could not take the wife a second time; and that taking the same woman a second time was an abomination to God (v 3-4)

Such things must be understood in the light of several things: that a wife became the actual property of the husband and he became her lord and master (Ex. 21:7-11; 1 Cor. 11:3; Eph. 5:22-33; Col. 3:18; 1 Pet. 3:5-7); that easy divorces were a common thing in those days among all nations; that Israel had been influenced greatly by such nations and were in the habit of obtaining divorces for the most frivolous excuses; and that Moses simply tolerated certain practices because of the hardness of the hearts of Israel. Hence, this special law of limiting divorce for the one cause of uncleanness, was needed

Pledge - outer garment (24:13)

The outer garment of a poor man was usually the best he had to offer as a pledge; therefore, this law was for his benefit, so he would not suffer the cold at night. It being large the garment was used as a wrap by day and a covering at night. It was usually of wool and hair, of varying degrees of fineness, some entirely black and others white, usually marked with two broad stripes. The garment was shapeless, like a sack, with head and arm openings (Ex. 12:34), but so important to the owner, especially at night, that both here and in v 17; Ex. 22:26 it is forbidden to be kept from the owner's use as a pledge. Orientals did not change their garments at night, so this heavy outer one was a necessity. To keep it from the poor would bring unnecessary suffering; and the attempt to do so was justly condemned by law (Job 24:7-8). The outer garment is called a cloak (Mt. 5:40); garment (Mt. 14:36); raiment (Mt. 27:31); and vesture (Rev. 19:13). In most places in the N. T. where garment is mentioned it is this outer raiment that is meant (Mt. 21:7-8; 24:18; Jn. 13:4, 12; Acts 7:58; 22:20-23)

2 The Babylonians likewise met the requirements of v 49, above and fulfilled v 48-57. They completely destroyed the southern kingdom of the 2 tribes, 133 years after the Assyrians destroyed the 10-tribe kingdom (2 Ki. 24; 2 Chr. 36). Babylon and its king, Nebuchadnezzar, are particularly compared to eagles in a number of passages in the prophets (Jer. 4:1-13; 48:40; 49:22; Ezek. 17:3, 7; Hos. 8:1). Assyria and Rome are not especially referred to thus. Like many prophecies that have a double or triple fulfillment, all three of these great empires could be referred to here. See Babylon in Index

3 The Romans, who also answered the description of v 49, above, were the last to fulfil v 48-57 - about 606 years after the Babylonians destroyed the kingdom of Judah (Lk. 21:20-24). Since then (70 A. D.), Israel has been scattered among the nations and only in recent years have Israelites had a homeland where they have been partially regathering in accordance with a prediction found in Scripture many times. See Israel in Index

Dispersion of Israel (28:64)

At least 45 times God speaks of Israel being scattered among the nations (v 64; 4:27; 29:24-28; 30:1-10, 15-20; 31:29; 32:2-44; 33:27-29; Lev. 26:33; 1 Ki. 14:15; Neh. 1:8; Ps. 44:11; 59:11; 60:1; 106:27; Jer. 9:16; 13:24; 18:17; 23:1; 30:11; 31:10; 49:32,36; Ezek. 5:10-12; 6:8; 11:16-17; 12:14-15; 17:21; 20:23, 34, 41; 22:15; 28:25; 29:13; 34:5-21; 36:19; Joel 3:2; Zech. 1:19, 21; 7:14; Isa. 1:1; 1 Pet. 1:1). Many other scriptures speak of the re-gathering of Israel from among the nations (30:3-4; Ps. 106:47; Isa. 11:10-12; 43:5; 54:7; Isa. 60:8-9; 66:19-21; Jer. 29:14; 31:8-9; Ezek. 20:34, 41; 34:13; 36:24; 37:1-21; Mt. 24:31)

Man's responsibility (28:4)

On the surface this verse suggests that God was responsible for the people not having proper faculties, but it literally means they did not use their faculties properly and the grace that He permitted them to have that they might know Him better. They did not use the means or take the advantages which they, as a people, had above other nations; therefore, they were not wise, loving, and obedient before God as they should be. Had they had eyes eager to see, ears eager to hear the Word of God, and hearts eager to obey it, they would have been commended; but by not using their own created faculties the right way it proved they had grieved God and hardened themselves against the Holy Spirit and the means of grace. This was deplored of God (v 4, Cp. 5:29). The same complaint was made by Isaiah and quoted in Mt. 13:14-16, which is a further explanation of this verse. See Isa. 6:9-10. Among those who refuse to hear, refuse to obey, and harden themselves when God gives them the opportunity to be broken and obedient, Pharaoh is an outstanding example, as well as Israel. See Harden in Index

Backsliding (28:63)

The theory that God will not punish, judge, and condemn His people when they backslide and persist in sin and rebellion has no foundation in any attribute, act, promise, prophecy, covenant, or revelation of God. He has been just and good to all in all ages, blessing men when in obedience and cursing the same men when in disobedience. He is no respecter of persons and nothing can cause Him to be unlike what He is and has revealed Himself to be. God has given hundreds of warnings for men not to backslide lest they be cut off and die in their sin and rebellion to suffer the fate of all sinners. He has given us many examples of angels, demons, and men who have actually suffered and will yet suffer such destiny. The facts are facts and must be accepted as such.

Man's part in his destiny

There are many simple statements in Scripture revealing man's part in his own damnation or salvation. It is God's will that none perish, but that all should come to repentance (Jn. 3:16; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17). If men will not meet God's terms they will be lost (Mk. 16:16; Jn. 3:3, 5; Pr. 1:24-31); and if any become saved then turn back on God and persist in rebellion until death, He is not responsible. If it were up to God only to save the lost and take them to heaven, all would be saved; but since all are not going to be saved, this proves that man does have a part in the matter. Actually, the failure of any man to be saved is his own failure, not God's 198 things men can do:

1 Repent and believe the gospel; they are commanded to do so or be lost (Mk. 1:15; 16:16; Lk. 13:1-5; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 1:16; 10:9-10)
2 Accept or reject the gospel of their own free will (Jn. 1:11-12; 3:16-18; Rom. 1:16; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17)

God did not spare Israel (Rom. 11:21; Jude 5), or the antediluvians and fallen angels (2 Pet. 2:4-5), so we cannot expect Him to spare other apostates. See 56 things God promises to do, p. 237

The return of God (30:3)

This passage speaks of the return of the Lord God of Israel and could refer to God the Father who, according to Scripture will come to the earth at the 2nd advent of Christ (note j, Dan. 7:22). Or, it could refer to Christ, Himself, the second person of the Divine Trinity, who was also called Jehovah and God. It is stated that the Rock which followed them was Christ (1 Cor. 10:4), and it is also true that He will regather Israel (Mt. 24:29-31). Actually, both the Father and the Son could have part in this so we cannot be absolute in our identification of the person referred to in v 3

When Israel is regathered (30:3)

That then - when Israel is converted or turns to God with the whole heart and soul (v 2-3, 6, 8, 10). Only a partial regathering of Israel will take place before the 2nd advent of Christ; the final and complete regathering will be at the 2nd advent and thereafter until all are gathered from every part of the earth (Isa. 11:10-12; Mt. 24:29-31)

2fold return of Israel (30:8)

1 To the Lord (v 2, 6, 8, 10)
2 To their own land (v 2-5, 8-10)

We are to understand both in a literal sense, as we do in the case of Jacob returning home (Gen. 31:3, 13, 32:9); of Moses returning to Egypt (Ex. 4:19, 21); and of others returning to their former state and place (Lev. 25:1, 13, 27-28, 41; Ruth 1:8; Ezek. 16:55; Hos. 3:5; 5:15)

6 reasons for reading the law (31:12)

1 That they may hear (v 12)
2 That they may learn
3 That they may fear the Word
4 That they may observe to do all the words of the law, not only a part of it
5 That their children may hear (v 13)
6 That they may learn to fear the Lord as long as they live on earth

4 similes of true doctrine (32:2)

1 As the rain, it shall come drop by drop, beginning slowly and increasing more and more until the whole revelation is complete (v 2; Isa. 29:9-11; 2 Tim. 3:16-17)
2 As the dew, it shall descend gently, silently, and mysteriously upon the heart and ear, moistening and bringing refreshment (v 2)
3 As the small rain, it will be like sweeping showers, accompanied by a strong gust of wind
4 As the showers, it shall be like continual rain which is necessary for the planting and harvesting of the crops

5fold character of Israel (32:5)

1 They have corrupted themselves (v
2 They have marks of idolatry 5)
3 They are perverse and crooked
4 They are foolish and unwise (v 6)
5 They are inconsiderate and forgetful of God and His merciful dealings. Contrast their character with that of God in v 4

Israel corrupted (32:5)

Heb. shachath, to decay; ruin; batter; cast off; corrupt; destroy; lose; mar; perish; become utterly waste and good for nothing. Not only did God see and declare that Israel would corrupt themselves after the death of Moses up to the very last days (4:25; 31:29), but He also accused them of already corrupting themselves (v 5; 9:12; Ex. 32:7). Israel became increasingly corrupt before God through the periods of the judges (Judg. 2:19), the kings (2 Chr. 27:2; Isa. 1:4; Jer. 6:28; Ezek. 16:47; 28:17; Hos. 9:9; Zeph. 3:7) and the captivities (Neh. 1:7; Mal. 2:8). This Heb. word is used in all these passages. The same idea is found in the N.T. where the apostles warn that Christians can also become corrupt and lose their souls (2 Cor. 7:2; 11:3; Gal. 6:8; Eph. 4:22; 2 Pet. 1:4; 2:12, 19-22; Jude 10)

Marks of idolaters (32:5)

This may refer to the marks of idolaters who inscribed on their arms and foreheads some straight, oval, or circular sign of their particular deity. The practice was very ancient and in India the priest would make the mark with paint, with wood dust and oil, or with dried cow dung and tumeric. In many cases the marks were renewed daily. Cp. Job 11:15; 22:26; 31:7. On the other hand, the reference may be to the fact that people blemished with sin do not belong to God. The Sept. reads, "They have sinned! blemished children are not His." The Peshitta, "They are not His children because of blemish." Rotherham, "They have broken faith with Him to be no son of His." Fenton, "Corrupt, you have not His Son's form - You wayward and fickle race"

7fold preservation of Israel (32:10)

1 God found (lit., sustained) him in the wilderness (v 10)
2 He led him about (v 10-12)
3 He instructed him (v 10)
4 He kept him as the apple of His eye
5 He preserved him from idolatry (v 12) (v 13)
6 He exalted him among the nations
7 He gave him material prosperity (v 13-14)

9 sins of Israel after salvation (32:15)

1 Forsook God after He made him (the nation) Jeshurun, the upright one, and after He became the Rock of salvation (v 15), begetting and forming him into His own son (v 18)
2 Lightly esteemed the Rock of salvation (which proves Israel once had salvation from God, v 15, 18)
3 Provoked God to jealousy with strange gods (v 16, 21)
4 Provoked Him to anger with many abominations of the heathen 17)
5 Sacrificed to devils, not to God (v
6 Sacrificed to gods whom he did not know, for Jehovah only was known to him
7 Sacrificed to newly invented gods whom the fathers knew not 8 Became unmindful of the Rock that begat them (which proves Israel had the new birth, v 18; Gal. 3:8; 4:29; Heb. 4:2)
9 Forgot God, who formed and made him the just and upright one (v 18, 22)

20 predictions of Moses (32:19)

1 I will hide My face from them: I will see what their end shall be (v 20)
2 I will move them to jealousy with men who are not now My people (v 21)

15 The Lord shall judge the people, and change His mind to have mercy upon them when they become helpless (v 36)
16 In that day I will inquire of their gods whom they trusted and served (v 37-38)
17 I will then remind them that I am the true God - the only One who is eternal and can kill and make alive, wound and heal; and none can deliver out of My hand (v 39-40)
18 When I judge I will render vengeance on My enemies and reward them that hate Me (v 41-42)
19 God will avenge the blood of His servants and render vengeance to His adversaries (v 43)
20 He will be merciful to His land and His people

7 reasons enemies victorious (32:31)

1 Israel was void of counsel (v 28)
2 They had no understanding

4 They would not consider their latter end when their Messiah will reign
5 Their Rock had sold them to go into captivity (v 30)
6 The Lord shut (delivered) them up 7 Their vine was of Sodom, and of the

I Israel's second leader. 1 Joshua's commission (Num. 27:15)

NOW [b]after the death of Mō'şeş[c] the servant of the LORD it came to pass, that[d] the LORD spake unto [e]Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nŭn, Mō'şeş'[f] minister, saying,

★2 [g]Mō'şeş my servant is dead; now therefore arise, go over this [h]Jŏr'dan, thou, and all this people, unto the land which I do give to them, even to the children of Iş'ra-el. ▸

▸3 Every place that the sole of your foot shall tread upon, that have I given unto you, as I said unto Mō'şeş.

▸4 From the wilderness and this Lĕb'a-non [i]even unto the great river, the river Eū-phrā'tēş, all the land of the [j]Hĭt'tītes, and unto the [k]great sea toward the going down of the sun, shall be your coast.

▸5 There shall not any man be able to stand before thee all the days of thy life: as I was with Mō'şeş, so [l]I will be with thee: I will not fail thee, nor forsake thee.

●6 [m]Be strong and of a good courage: for unto this people shalt thou divide for an inheritance the land, which I sware unto their fathers to give them.

●7 Only be thou strong and very courageous, [n]that thou mayest observe to do according to all the law, which Mō'şeş my servant commanded thee: turn not from it to the right hand or to the left, that thou mayest prosper whithersoever thou goest.

●8 This [o]book of the law shall not depart out of thy mouth; but thou [p]shalt meditate therein day and night, that thou mayest observe to do according to all that is written therein: for then thou shalt make thy way prosperous, and then thou shalt have good success.

●9 [q]Have not I commanded thee? Be strong and of a good courage; be not afraid, neither be thou dismayed: for the LORD thy God is with thee whithersoever thou goest.

2 Joshua, the second prophet leader of Israel, assumes command

10 [r]Then Jŏsh'u-ā commanded the officers of the people, saying,

★11 [s]Pass through the host, [t]and command the people, saying, Prepare you victuals; for within three days ye shall pass over this Jŏr'dan, to go in to possess the land, which the LORD your God giveth you to possess it. ▸

12 [u] And to the Reu'ben-ites, and to the Găd'ites, and to half the tribe of Mă-năs'seh, spake Jŏsh'u-ā, saying,

●13 Remember the word which Mō'şeş the servant of the LORD commanded you, saying, The LORD your God hath given you rest, and hath given you this land.

●14 [v]Your wives, your little ones, and your cattle, shall remain in the land which Mō'şeş gave you on this side Jŏr'dan; but ye shall pass before your brethren armed, all the mighty men of valour, and help them;

▸15 [w]Until the LORD have given your brethren rest, as he hath given you, and they also have possessed the land which the LORD your God giveth them: then ye shall return unto the land of your possession, and enjoy it, which Mō'şeş the LORD'S servant gave you on this side Jŏr'dan [x]toward the sunrising.

3 Israel accepts Joshua and promises obedience to him

16 ¶ And they answered Jŏsh'u-ā, saying, [y]All that thou commandest us we will do, and whithersoever thou sendest us, we will go.

17 According as we hearkened unto Mō'şeş in all things, so will we hearken unto thee: only the LORD thy God be with thee, [z]as he was with Mō'şeş.

●18 Whosoever he be that doth rebel against thy commandment, and will not hearken unto thy words in all that thou commandest him, he [a]shall be put to death; [b]only be strong and of a good courage.

CHAPTER 2 189

II Second spies sent (Cp. Num. 13:17-25, refs.; Dt. 1:20, 22). 1 Number and commission

AND Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nŭn sent out of [c]Shĭt'tim [d]two men to spy secretly, saying, Go view the land, even [e]Jĕr'ĭ-chō. And they went, and came into an [f]harlot's house, named Rā'hăb, and lodged there.

2 Spies protected by Rahab the harlot (Heb. 11:31)

2 And it was told the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō, saying, Behold, there came men in hither to night of the children of Iş'ra-el to search out the country.

3 And the [g]king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō sent unto Rā'hăb, saying, Bring forth the men that are come to thee, which are entered [h]into thine house: for they be come to search out all the country.

4 And the woman took the two men, and hid them, and said thus, There came men unto me, but I [i]wist not whence they were:

5 And it came to pass about the time of shutting of the gate, when it was dark, that the men went out: whither the men went I wot not: pursue after them quickly; for ye shall overtake them.

6 But she had brought them up to the [j]roof of the house, and hid them with the stalks of flax, which she had laid in order

d The Lord spake (unto Joshua) is found 7 times (1:1; 4:1, 8; 15; 14:10, 12; 20:1). The Lord said is found 10 times (3:7; 5:2, 9; 6:2; 7:10; 8:1, 18; 10:8; 11:6; 13:1). How God spoke is not stated, but it could have been by an audible voice, a dream, vision, prophecy, by the Urim and Thummim (Num. 27:21), or by some other means. This first communication could be considered a preamble to the whole book and a guarantee that the theocracy started by Moses would be continued with the nation and that divine instruction would be continued with Joshua as the new leader, even though it might not be a face to face communication every time (Num. 12:8)

7 predictions of God:
1 Every place you tread upon will be yours, from the Mediterranean to Euphrates, and the wilderness to Lebanon (v 3-4)
2 No man shall be able to stand before you all the days of your life (v 5)
3 As I was with Moses, so will I be with you
4 I will not fail you
5 I will not foresake you
6 You will divide this land for an inheritance to Israel (v 6)

j A great warlike people that occupied the mountain countries of south Canaan. The name is used here perhaps of all the nations of Canaan, like the name Amorites in other places. To receive such a promise must have been encouraging to the Israelites (v 4)

k The Mediterranean is called great in comparison to the small seas of Palestine - Galilee, Dead Sea, and the Red Sea to the south (v 4; 9:1; 15:12; 23:4; Num. 34:6-7; Ezek. 47:10-20)

a Besides the women and children there were a sufficient number of men left to protect the new settlements from invaders who might seek to take advantage and drive the new settlers out, or plunder (note t, 1:11)

b 2fold time element of service:
1 Until full conquest of Canaan (v 15)
2 Until all tribes were settled

c A way of saying eastward (v 15)

d 3fold consecration and promise:
1 We will obey all your commands (v 2 We will go where you send us 16)
3 We will destroy anyone who rebels against you (v 18)

e It was only natural to expect God to be with Joshua, the new leader, as He was with Moses who became their ideal and the example for others to follow, even as Christ became the ideal and example of all Christians (v 17; 1 Pet. 2:21; 4:1)

f Martial law was necessary; and wholehearted agreement of all the men of war to such death penalty made it easier for Joshua to be strong and of good courage. By insubordination their fathers had caused failure 40 years before; so now to assure against failure this penalty was agreed upon for anyone who refused to obey the commander-in-chief (v 18)

g The people encouraged Joshua to be strong and of good courage, as God, Himself had commanded him 3 times in his commission (v 18 with v 6, 7, 9)

h This was the east camp-site of Israel before entering Canaan (v 1; 3:1; Num. 25:1, Cp. Joel 2:18; Mic. 6:5)

i Joshua himself was one of the 12 spies sent from Kadesh (Num. 13), and one of the only 2 men who did not rebel. Now, instead of sending out 12 only 2 spies were sent, and that secretly instead of publicly as the 12. The purpose was to keep down all evil reports which could get started in a camp like this and cause panic, should the findings of the spies be unfavorable. Joshua, while having confidence in Jehovah, used all natural means to assure success, doing so by faith or there would have been no works (Jas. 2:19-26). Like any other good commander, he wanted to obtain full information regarding the site, approaches, and weaknesses of the city, as well as the defenses and resources of the inhabitants. Joshua was to realize later that this was unnecessary, for nothing learned was used in the fall of Jericho, which was brought about by supernatural power (6:1-27)

j See The city of Jericho, p. 264

k This was Rachab of the genealogy of Christ and nothing is to be gained by trying to soften facts about her because of that (v 1; Mt. 1:5; Heb. 11:31; Jas. 2:25). All that is said of her otherwise is in this chapter

l The king and his subjects were alert to any strangers entering Jericho. The city was closed to traffic a few days later (6:7), and a tight watch was now evidently beginning to be maintained (v 2-3) m Rahab was perhaps an inn keeper and had brought the spies to the roof of her house, hiding them among the stalks of flax. She reported to the king that the men had already fled the city, so he sent men to overtake them before they could cross Jordan, which at this time was overflowing its banks (v 4-7)

n An old Anglo-Saxon word for knew not (v 4)

o The flat roofs of Eastern houses, being exposed to the sun and air, were well adapted for the ripening or drying of fruit and grain. The flax stalks, piled upon the roof to dry, made a good hiding place for the spies (v 6)

4 Remember the word of Moses that you shall help your brethren conquer Canaan and then you shall settle in your possessions (v 13-15). This command was to the tribes east of the Jordan. According to 4:13 only 40,000 soldiers out of 110,000 went over into the land of Canaan to help their brethren (Num. 26:7, 18, 34). The 70,000 remained in the land with the women and children to protect them and their new possessions

a The officers of the king of Jericho (v 2-3, 7, 16, 22)

b The gates of walled towns were always shut at sun-down, or shortly thereafter. Travelers who failed to reach them before they were closed were compelled to spend the night on the outside, exposed to storms and robbers, unless there was a needle's eye, in some cities there was a small gate in the large one, called the needle's eye, by which late comers could be admitted (note d, Mt. 19:24)

c Before they went to sleep Rahab came up to them upon the roof and they made an agreement

Contract between Rahab and spies:

1 8fold plea of Rahab (v 9-13):
(1) I know the Lord has given you the land (v 9)
(2) Your terror is fallen upon us
(3) All Canaanites faint because of fear of you
(4) They have heard how the Lord dried up the Red Sea for you when you left Egypt (v 10; Ex. 14-15)
(5) They have heard what you did to the kings of the Amorites, Sihon and Og (v 10; Num. 21:21-35)
(6) As soon as we heard those things our hearts melted and there was no more courage in any man (v 11)
(7) We recognized that Jehovah your Elohim is Elohim in heaven above, and in earth beneath
(8) I pray you, swear unto me by Jehovah, since I have showed you kindness, that you will show kindness to my father's house; and give me a pledge of your word that you will save alive my father, mother, brothers, sisters, and all that they have and deliver us from death (v 12-13)

2 2fold pledge of spies:
(1) Our life for yours, if you utter not this our business (v 14)
(2) It shall be, when Jehovah has given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with you

3 Carrying out the contract, by Rahab:
(1) Then she let them down by a cord through a window to the ground (v 15)
(2) Instructed them to escape pursuers by hiding in the mountain 3 days, allowing men to return before going on the way (v 16)

4 4fold pledge of the spies:
(1) We will be blameless of the oath if you do not have the scarlet cord in the window which you let us down by (v 17-18)
(2) Be sure your father, mother, brothers, sisters, and all their households are in your house when we overthrow the city (v 18)
(3) If one goes out of the house and is killed we shall not be responsible, but if one who stays in is killed we shall be responsible (v 19)
(4) If you utter our business, then we are free from our oath to you that you made us swear (v 20)

5 Rahab's acceptance of the contract:
(1) As you have said, so be it (v 21)
(2) She sent them away to make good their escape (v 21-24)
(3) She bound the scarlet cord in the window (v 21)

6 Carrying out the contract, by Israel:
(1) Joshua saved Rahab the harlot alive, and her father's house, and all that she had (6:25)
(2) She dwelled in Israel to that day, because she hid the spies (6:25; Heb. 11:31; Jas. 2:25)

d 3 things Rahab knew (v 9):
1 The Lord has given you the land
2 Your terror has fallen upon us
3 The Canaanites faint because of you

e 2 things heard about God and Israel:
1 How the Lord dried up the Red Sea for Israel (v 10)
2 What Israel did by the help of God to the 2 kings of the Amorites, Sihon and Og, and how they were utterly destroyed upon the roof.

7 And the[e]men pursued after them the way to Jôr'dan unto the fords: and as soon as they which pursued after them were gone out, they[b]shut the gate.

3 Success of the spies

8 ¶ And[c]before they were laid down, she came up unto them upon the roof;

9 And she said unto the men,[f]I know that the LORD hath given you the land, and that your terror is fallen upon us, and that all the inhabitants of the land faint because of you.

10 [c]For we have heard how the LORD dried up the water of the Red sea for you, when ye came out of É'gypt; and what ye did unto the two kings of the Âm'-ôr-ites, that were on the other side Jôr'dan, Sî'hŏn and Óg, whom ye utterly destroyed.

11 And [f]as soon as we had heard these things, our hearts did melt, neither did there remain any more courage in any man, because of you: [g]for the LORD your God,[h]he is God in heaven above, and in earth beneath.

4 Their covenant with Rahab

12 Now therefore, I pray you, swear unto me by the LORD, since I have shewed you kindness, that ye will also shew kindness unto my father's house, and give me a true token:

13 And that ye will save alive my father, and my mother, and my brethren, and my sisters, and all that they have, and deliver our lives from death.

14 And the men answered her, Our life for yours, if ye utter not this our business. And it shall be, when the LORD hath given us the land, that we will deal kindly and truly with thee.

15 Then she let them down by a[i]cord through the window: for her house was [f]upon the town wall, and she dwelt upon the wall.

16 And she said unto them, Get you to the mountain, lest the pursuers meet you; [k]and hide yourselves there three days, until the pursuers be returned; and afterward may ye go your way.

17 And the men said unto her, We will be blameless of this thine oath which thou hast made us swear.

18 Behold, when we come into the land, thou shalt bind this line of [i]scarlet thread in the window which thou didst let us down by: and thou shalt bring thy father, and thy mother, and thy brethren, and all thy father's household, home unto thee.

19 And it shall be, that whosoever shall go out of the doors of thy house into the street, his blood shall be upon his head, and we will be guiltless: and whosoever shall be with thee in the house, his blood shall be on our head, if any hand be upon him.

20 And if thou utter this our business, then we will be quit of thine oath which thou hast made us to swear.

5 Their departure and report

21 And she said, According unto your words, so be it. And she sent them away, and they departed: and [c]she bound the scarlet line in the window.

22 And [b]they went, and came unto the mountain, and abode there three days, until the pursuers were returned: and the pursuers sought them throughout all the way, but found them not.

23 ¶ So the two men returned, and descended from the mountain, and passed over, and came to Jôsh'u-â the son of Nŭn, and told him all things that befell them:

24 And they said unto Jôsh'u-â, [c]Truly the LORD hath delivered into our hands all the land; for even all the inhabitants of the country do faint because of us.

III Passage over Jordan (Josh. 3:1-5:15. Cp. Ex. 14; 2 Ki. 2). 1 Arrival at Jordan

AND Jôsh'u-â rose [d]early in the morning; and they removed from [e]Shĭt'tim, and came to Jôr'dan, he and all the children of Is'ra-el, and lodged there before they passed over.

2 Joshua instructs Israel

2 And it came to pass [f]after three days, that the officers went through the host;

3 And they commanded the people, saying,[f]When ye see the ark of the covenant of the LORD your God, and the priests the Lĕ'vītes bearing it, then ye shall remove from your place, and go after it.

4 Yet there shall be a space between you and it, about[h]two thousand cubits by measure: come not near unto it, that ye may know the way by which ye must go: for [f]ye have not passed this way heretofore.

5 [f]And Jôsh'u-â said unto the people,[g]Sanctify yourselves: for to morrow the LORD will do wonders among you. ▸

6 And Jôsh'u-â spake unto the priests, saying,[f]Take up the ark of the covenant, and pass over before the people. And they took up the ark of the covenant, and went before the people.

3 God's prophecy to Joshua

7 ¶ And the LORD said unto Jôsh'u-â,[n]This day will I begin to magnify thee in the sight of all Is'ra-el, that they may know that, as I was with Mō'şes, so I will be with thee. ▸

8 And thou shalt command the priests that bear the ark of the covenant, saying, When ye are come to the brink of the water of Jôr'dan, ye shall stand still in Jôr'dan.

4 Joshua's prophecy to Israel

9 ¶ And Jôsh'u-â said unto the children of Is'ra-el, [o]Come a There was something commendable about Rahab - she was willing to give up sin and obey God to have a part with His people. She had faith in the God of Israel and recognized His mighty acts. She was truthful and intelligent - able to foresee the destruction of the nations of Canaan, and therefore, planned the welfare of her own people. Rahab obeyed the spies and kept her part of the contract to the letter (v 21). For all this she was richly rewarded and became one of only 4 women mentioned in the genealogy of Jesus Christ (Mt.1:5) b The 2 spies were like Caleb and Joshua as contrasted with the 10 spies that brought an evil report (Num. 13-14). These gave assurance that the Lord had certainly gone ahead of them and was preparing the complete defeat of the Canaanites by causing fear to take hold of them (v 22-24)

c Compare this report of v 24 with that of the 10 spies (Num. 13:28-33)

d This expression is found 35 times in Scripture; and from certain passages we learn that it means before or at the dawning of the day (6:15; 2 Ki. 3:22; Mt. 20:1; Mk. 16:2; Jn. 20:1)

e From Shittim to Jordan was about 8 miles. They camped by the Jordan ready to cross into Canaan (v 1)

f This refers to the end of 3 days after the spies had returned with the good report. They evidently camped on the Jordan for 3 days (v 1-2)

g This was to be the sign for the people to begin entering Canaan. The ark borne by priests and Levites was to move first and then the people were to follow 2,000 cubits back of it (v 3-4). This simply means that Israel was not to start until it was that far from them, for the ark stopped in the middle of Jordan and all the people passed by it in the crossing (v 17; 4:10)

h Counting 25 inches to a cubit, 2,000 cubits would be 4,166 ft. 8 in. or about 4/5 of a mile (v 4)

i The distance of about 4/5 of a mile was made so that all the camp could see the ark and follow it; and it could be recognized as their guide in the untrodden way (v 4)

j 3rd prophecy in Josh. (3:5, fulfilled on the morrow, v 15-17). Next, v 7 k The passage is clear when we consider that to sanctify means to set apart (v 5). Here the people were to sanctify themselves by washing their clothes and their bodies to be in readiness to see the great miracles that were to take place on the morrow - the holding back of the waters of the Jordan and the drying up of the river bed for the whole period of the passing, or a whole day. See Sanctification in Index

l This actually began the days of wonders which God promised to show Israel. The command of Joshua to the priests to take up the ark and start toward the water of Jordan marked the beginning of such wonders (v 6)

2 great predictions by Joshua:

1 Without fail you will drive out from before you:
(1) The Canaanites (v 10)
(2) The Hittites
(3) The Hivites
(4) The Perizzites
(5) The Girgashites
(6) The Amorites
(7) The Jebusites
2 As soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the Lord shall rest in the waters of Jordan the waters shall be cut off from above and stand in a heap (v 13)

c Here we have 7 great nations listed, the same ones that are in Dt. 7:1-5, and partially listed many other times (1:4; 9:1; 12:8; 17:15; 24:11; Gen. 15:18-21; Ex. 3:8, 17; 13:5; 23:23, 28; 33:2, 11; 34:11; Dt. 20:17)

d This was a great miracle - cutting off the waters of a swift flowing river that had overflowed its banks (v 15), holding the waters from above for a whole day (v 13), and causing them to back up and spread out over the land. Cp. Ps. 114:3

e The feet of the priests touched the brim of the overflowing waters of Jordan and immediately a path was made through them, the river bed was made dry, and the waters formed a heap (v 15; Ex. 15:8)

f This happened every spring due to the melting of the snows in the mountains of Lebanon in the north (v 15; 1 Chr. 12:15). It seems God chose this time of the year to confirm the fact further that a miracle was performed by Him, and to give Israel a sign that He was with them and that the nations of Canaan would be overthrown by them with His help (v 9-13)

g This indicates that the waters above this passage place continued to flow and rise up like a dam filling up until there was a very great heap covering the whole country above the place where Israel was crossing. The flow began to back up toward the Sea of Galilee which could take care of much more water than it usually held (v 16)

h This shows that the waters continued to heap up as far as Adam near Zaretan, a city in the land of Manasseh to the north. The city of Adam was located about 20 miles north of the Jericho ford. The path through Jordan was made near Jericho just a few miles north of the Dead Sea, so the waters backed up 20 to 30 miles. From the Sea of Galilee to the Dead Sea the Jordan passes with no less than 27 great rapids and cascades, besides a great many smaller rapids, averaging 4 to 5 miles an hour, but much swifter when the waters are swollen as at this time of the year. The inhabitants of Jericho no doubt depended upon the overflowing of the Jordan to keep the Israelites on the east side of the river for some time, and therefore, were not ready for their crossing, which was by an outstanding miracle

i This means that the waters from this passage place to the Dead Sea were dried up, so there was a wide passage of several miles (v 16)

j The river bed and banks where the waters had been overflowing were dry, not wet and muddy, which further attests to the greatness of the miracle. The stock, wagons, and other things could cross without being bogged down in mud or sand (v 17)

k After the people had fully crossed the Lord commanded a memorial to be erected of such a great miracle (v 1-10)
l Command - setting up a memorial: Take 12 men, one from each tribe, and have them take 12 stones out of the midst of Jordan and carry them to the place where you lodged the last night before crossing Jordan, to make a memorial of the miraculous crossing (v 2-8) hither, and hear the [e]words of the LORD your God.

●10 [b]And Jŏsh'u-á said, Hereby ye shall know that the living God is among you, and that he will without fail drive out from before you the Că'năan-ites, and the Hit'tites, and the Hi'vites, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Gĭr'ga-shītes, and the Ăm'ôr-ītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes.
11 Behold, the ark of the covenant of the Lord of all the earth passeth over before you into Jôr'dan.
●12 Now therefore take you twelve men out of the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el, out of every tribe a man.
13 And it shall come to pass, as soon as the soles of the feet of the priests that bear the ark of the LORD, the Lord of all the earth, shall rest in the waters of Jôr'dan, that the waters of Jôr'dan shall be [d]cut off from the waters that come down from above; and they shall stand upon an heap.

5 Congealing of Jordan: 1st miracle (Cp. Ex. 15:8)

14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the people removed from their tents, to pass over Jôr'dan, and the priests bearing the ark of the covenant before the people;
15 And as they that bare the ark were come unto Jôr'dan, and the feet of the priests that bare the ark were [f]dipped in the brim of the water, [g](for Jôr'dan overfloweth all his banks all the time of harvest,) 16 That the waters which came down from above [h]stood and rose up upon an heap very far from the [i]city Åd'ăm, that is beside Zăr'e-tăn: and those that came down toward the sea of the plain, [j]even the salt sea, failed, and were cut off: and the people passed over right against Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

6 Passage over Jordan

17 And the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD stood firm on [k]dry ground in the midst of Jôr'dan, and all the Ĭs'ra-el-ītes passed over on dry ground, until all the people were passed clean over Jôr'dan.

CHAPTER 4 191

7 Two memorials of crossing the river Jordan

AND it came to pass, [k]when all the people were clean passed over Jôr'dan, that the LORD spake unto Jŏsh'u-á, saying,
●2 [l]Take you twelve men out of the people, [m]out of every tribe a man,
●3 And command ye them, saying, [m]Take you hence out of the midst of Jôr'dan, out of the place where the priests' feet stood firm, twelve stones, and ye shall carry them over with you, and leave them in the lodging place, where ye shall lodge this night.
4 Then Jŏsh'u-á called the twelve men, whom he had prepared of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, out [e]of every tribe a man:
●5 And Jŏsh'u-á said unto them, [b]Pass over before the ark of the LORD your God into the midst of Jôr'dan, and take you up every man of you a stone upon his shoulder, [o]according unto the number of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el:
6 That this may be a sign among you, that when your children ask their fathers in time to come, saying, [d]What mean ye by these stones?
7 Then ye shall answer them, That the waters of Jôr'dan were cut off before the ark of the covenant of the LORD; when it passed over Jôr'dan, the waters of Jôr'dan were cut off: and these stones shall be for a memorial unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el for ever.
8 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did so as Jŏsh'u-á commanded, and took up twelve stones [e]out of the midst of Jôr'dan, as the LORD spake unto Jŏsh'u-á, according to the number of the tribes of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and carried them over with them unto the place where they lodged, and laid them down there.
9 And Jŏsh'u-á [f]set up twelve stones in the midst of Jôr'dan, in the place where the feet of the priests which bare the ark of the covenant stood: and they are there [g]unto this day.
10 ¶ For the priests which bare the ark [h]stood in the midst of Jôr'dan, until every thing was finished that the LORD commanded Jŏsh'u-á to speak unto the people, according to all that Mō'şeş commanded Jŏsh'u-á: and the [i]people hasted and passed over.

8 Order of the hosts in crossing the river Jordan

11 And it came to pass, when all the people were clean passed over, that the ark of the LORD passed over, [j]and the priests, in the presence of the people.
12 And the children of Reu'-ben, and the children of Găd, and half the tribe of Mă-năs'-seh, passed over armed before the children of Ĭs'ra-el, as Mō'şeş spake unto them:
13 About [k]forty thousand prepared for war passed over before the LORD unto battle, to the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

9 Joshua magnified by God, fulfilling Joshua 3:7

14 ¶ [l]On that day the LORD magnified Jŏsh'u-á in the sight of all Ĭs'ra-el; [m]and they feared him, as they feared Mō'şeş, [n]all the days of his life.

10 Jordan made normal again: 2nd miracle (Josh. 3:14)

■15 And the LORD spake unto Jŏsh'u-á saying, ●16 [o]Command the priests that bear the ark of the testimony, that they come up out of Jôr'dan.
●17 Jŏsh'u-á therefore commanded the priests, saying, Come ye up out of Jôr'dan.

a This policy of representative activity and government is manifest many times in Scripture (v 2, 4; 3:12; Num. 1:4; 13:2-15; 34:18; Dt. 1:23)
b See note n, v 3 c The 12 stones were to represent the fact that the whole 12 tribes crossed the Jordan on dry ground in the day of that notable miracle. The pile of stones was to be a sign and a memorial to all coming generations (v 6-7)
d Question 2, Next, v 21
e How long the stones had been there on the bottom of Jordan is unknown - perhaps from the very beginning of creation (Gen. 1:1), or from the 6 days of restoration (Gen. 1:3-31), from the time of Noah's flood (Gen. 6-8), or from the time when the earth was divided (Gen. 10:25). No doubt water had been flowing over them for centuries and they were smooth and clean (v 8)
f Where these stones were taken from is not known, unless they came from the middle of the river where the other 12 came from (v 3, 9)
g Unto the time of the writing of Joshua h It was not easy for men to hold the ark on their shoulders and stand still for the length of time required for the people to cross over Jordan (v 10-18)
i This suggests that it would take a whole day to pass over, so they hasted to get the passage completed during daylight hours in order to be ready to camp at night (v 10)
j The priests were the first to start the crossing by going 2,000 cubits (about 4/5 of a mile) ahead of the people until they were in the center of the river bed where they stood still while all the people passed over by them. They were then commanded to pass over to the other side so that the waters could flow as before (v 11-18)
k Only 40,000 of 110,000 soldiers of these tribes passed over Jordan to help conquer Canaan (v 12; Num. 26:7, 18, 34)
l This is what God promised in 3:7-8 m It took all the hardships of Moses during 40 years to get Israel to the place where they respected their leaders, as they did Joshua (v 14). He did not have to endure what Moses did; perhaps he never would have been as patient and unselfish. All of us profit by those that precede us in life, and their trials and hardships endured make it easier for coming generations to appreciate normal circumstances n Perhaps about 30 years
o Command - speak to the priests that bear the ark (and have been standing all day with it in the middle of Jordan) to come out of the river bed (v 15-18). This shows that every step of direction was divinely given by God, and reveals clearly the secret of success for Joshua and Israel at this time. Scripture is full of such instances of success when God spoke and He was obeyed; and there are also many instances of Him being ignored when He spoke, with failure always being the result. Then, too, there are many other examples of failure where God did not give the directions. All are recorded for our profit that we might learn that true and eternal success comes only by the direct leading and guidance of God. To the child of God it is imperative that he be led by the Spirit of God, live and walk in the Spirit, and meditate in His Word and obey it, if he is to have success and live a Christian life (Rom. 8:1-16; Gal. 5:16-26; Josh. 1:8; Ps. 1:3-4)

dle of the river bed and carried to Gilgal, the first lodging place in Canaan (4:19-20), and made into a memorial of crossing so that coming generations might have a sign indicating that it actually took place (v 3-8) 2 The 12 stones set up in the midst of Jordan in the place where the feet of the priests rested with the ark (v 9-10). Both were memorials to testify of the drying up of Jordan and the crossing on dry ground a This was the first miracle now in reverse, and just as great as the one that held the waters from flowing perhaps a whole day (v 16; 3:13-17)

b Even the river bed was dry land (3:17), so the idea expressed is that they came up out of what was usually wet to the river bank which was dry ground (v 18)

c This shows that the overflowing of Jordan every spring was genuine and that the river did not merely come up higher, being still contained in its banks (v 18)

d The crossing of Jordan was on the 10th day of the first month, 9 days after the death of Moses which was on the 1st day of this month (v 19; note g and m, Dt. 1:3, 10; 31:2, 34:7). This means then that the crossing of the Jordan was during the 30 days of mourning for Moses, proving that life was not at a standstill during such periods. It means also that the 2 spies went to Jericho and back during this time (2:1-24). The 10th day of the first month would be 5 days short of full 40 years after leaving Egypt, which was on the 15th day of the first month (Num. 33:3). See 5:6; Num. 14:33-34; 32:13; Dt. 2:7; 8:2, 4; 29:5). How many went abreast over Jordan or how wide a passage they used for the actual crossing is not known, but if the people went over 400 abreast, it no doubt took them all day to march through. See note g, Ex. 13:18

e The Heb. word gal means to roll. The doubling of the root galgal or gilgal means rolling round and round, or rolling off and away. The name was appropriate, for in circumcising the children of Israel at this place, the reproach of Egypt was rolled away (v 19; 5:2-9)

14 reasons Gilgal prominent:

1 The place of the monument of crossing Jordan on dry ground (v 19-20)

2 The first camp site of Israel after entering Canaan

3 The place of circumcision of those born in the wilderness during the 40 years of wandering (5:2-9)

4 The first fortified camp of Joshua in the conquest of Canaan and where his army continually returned from different directions, and the place for the women and children and protecting soldiers during the whole Canaanite war (5:2-12; 9:6; 10:6-15, 43; 14:6; 15:7)

5 The place of the first passover in Canaan (5:9-10) (5:11-12)

6 The place where manna ceased

7 The place where God appeared personally to Joshua as commander-in-chief of the army of Israel for the coming conquests (5:13-15)

8 The place of the next appearance of God to Israel (Judg. 2:1)

9 An idolatrous place during the judges (Judg. 3:19, note)

10 One of the preaching appointments of Samuel (1 Sam. 7:16)

11 The first place Saul, the 1st king of Israel since Moses (Dt. 33:5), was to meet Samuel (1 Sam. 10:8), where the new kingdom was renewed (1 Sam. 11:14-15), where Israel rallied to Saul to fight the Philistines (1 Sam. 13:1-15), and where Saul was rejected as king (1 Sam. 15:21-31)

12 The place where David was received again by Judah after the civil war (2 Sam. 19:15, 40)

13 A place where Elijah was sent on his way to be translated (2 Ki. 2:1), and one used by Elisha as headquarters (2 Ki. 4:38)

14 A place of much idolatry and sin in the days of the kings (Hos. 4:15; 9:15; 12:11; Amos 4:4; 5:5)

f Question 3. Next, 5:13

g Not only was the drying up of Jordan a sign to Israel, but a sign of God's greatness also to the Gentiles (v 23-24)

h This notable miracle of the drying up of the Jordan in the time of its flooded state made the kings of Canaan realize that the living God was truly on the side of Israel and that He could do all things. It made them lose heart and courage to fight, but there was nothing else to do unless they wanted to surrender. They had probably heard of the command of God for Israel to destroy them utterly (Dt. 7:1-6), for such information was not commanded to be kept a secret. The kings knew it was necessary to fight for their homes and families re-

18 And it came to pass, when the priests that bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD were come up out of the midst of Jôr'dan, and the [a]soles of the priests' feet were lifted up unto the [b]dry land, that the waters of Jôr'dan returned unto their place, and flowed [c]over all his banks, as they did before.

11 Encampment and memorial at Gilgal (Josh. 4:1-10)

19 ¶ And the people came up out of Jôr'dan on the [d]tenth day of the first month, and encamped in [e]Gĭl'găl, in the east border of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

20 And those twelve stones, which they took out of Jôr'dan, did Jŏsh'u-á pitch in Gĭl'găl.

12 Purpose of the memorial

21 And he spake unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, When your children shall ask their fathers in time to come, [f]saying, What mean these stones?

●22 Then ye shall let your children know, saying, Ĭs'ra-el came over this Jôr'dan on dry land.

23 For the LORD your God dried up the waters of Jôr'dan from before you, until ye were passed over, as the LORD your God did to the Red sea, which he dried up from before us, until we were gone over:

24 [g]That all the people of the earth might know the hand of the LORD, that it is mighty: that ye might fear the LORD your God for ever.

CHAPTER 5 — 192

13 Effect of the miracle of Jordan on the Canaanites

AND it came to pass, [h]when all the kings of the Am'ôr-ītes, which were on the side of Jôr'dan westward, and all the kings of the Că'năan-ītes, which were by the sea, [i]heard that the LORD had dried up the waters of Jôr'dan from before the children of Ĭs'ra-el, until we were passed over, that their heart [j]melted, neither was there spirit in them any more, because of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

14 Circumcision: reproach of Egypt rolled away

■2 ¶ At that time the LORD said ●unto Jŏsh'u-á, Make thee sharp knives, and circumcise [k]again the children of Ĭs'ra-el the second time.

3 And Jŏsh'u-á made him sharp [l]knives, and circumcised the children of Ĭs'ra-el at the hill of the foreskins.

4 And [m]this is the cause why Jŏsh'u-á did circumcise: All the people that came out of Ē'gĭpt, that were males, even all the men of war, died in the wilderness by the way, after they came out of Ē'gĭpt.

5 Now all the people that came out were circumcised: but all the people that were born in the wilderness by the way as they came forth out of Ē'gĭpt, them they had not circumcised.

▸6 For the children of Ĭs'ra-el walked forty years in the wilderness, [a]till all the people that were men of war, which came out of Ē'gĭpt, were consumed, because they obeyed not the voice of the LORD: unto whom the LORD sware that he would not shew them the land, which the LORD sware unto their fathers that he would give us, a land that floweth with milk and honey.

7 And their children, whom he raised up in their stead, them Jŏsh'u-á circumcised: for they were uncircumcised, because they had not circumcised them by the way.

8 And it came to pass, when they had done circumcising all the people, that they abode in their places in the camp, [b]till they were whole.

9 And the LORD said unto Jŏsh'u-á, This day have I rolled away the reproach of Ē'gĭpt from off you. [c]Wherefore the name of the place is called Gĭl'găl unto this day.

15 First passover in Canaan

10 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el encamped in Gĭl'găl, and kept the passover on the [d]fourteenth day of the month at even in the plains of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

16 Change of diet. Manna ceased: end of 40 years of miracles (Ex. 16:35)

11 And [e]they did eat of the old corn of the land on the morrow after the passover, unleavened cakes, and parched corn in the selfsame day.

12 ¶ And the manna ceased on the morrow after they had eaten of the old corn of the land; neither had the children of Ĭs'ra-el manna any more; but they did eat of the fruit of the land of Că'năan that year.

17 God the Commander-in-chief makes bodily appearance

13 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jŏsh'u-á was by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, that he lifted up his eyes and looked, and, behold, [f]there stood a man over against him with his sword drawn in his hand: and Jŏsh'u-á went unto him, and said unto him, [g]Art thou for us, or for our adversaries?

■14 And [h]he said, Nay; but as captain of the host of the LORD am I now come. And Jŏsh'u-á fell on his face to the earth, and did worship, and said unto him, What saith my lord unto his servant?

●15 And the captain of the LORD'S host said unto Jŏsh'u-á, Loose thy shoe from off thy foot; for the place whereon thou standest is holy. And Jŏsh'u-á did so.

CHAPTER 6 — 193

IV Conquest of Canaan (Josh. 6:1-11:23). 1 Fall of Jericho (Heb. 11:30): (1) Plan of battle. Cp. 8:1-29; 10:1-12:7

a This was a fulfillment of the prophecy of Num. 14:22-35

b See Divine protection, p. 264

c This camp of Israel was called Gilgal because the reproach of Israel was rolled away on the day they were circumcised (v 7-9). Their being uncircumcised made them reproachful like the uncircumcised Egyptians. Israel considered all the uncircumcised as unclean and in a state of gross impurity. Thus, upon being circumcised this reproach was rolled away. Circumcision came through the Israelites and not the Egyptians as some suppose d This was 4 days after the crossing of Jordan (v 10; 4:19), during the time that the newly circumcised men were sore and suffering, unless God healed them by now (v 2-10)

e Where did they get the old crop of the land of Canaan? Perhaps from the inhabitants round about by paying money for it, as suggested in Dt. 2:5-6; or, they could have captured some storehouses in the neighborhood (v 11-12). The day following this eating of the crops of the land the manna ceased after falling for 40 years 6 times a week (v 12). Other food began to be plentiful as Israel conquered the many towns and villages of Canaan

f This man proved to be the God of heaven, one of the persons of the Divine Trinity who was personally leading Israel from Egypt. He now revealed Himself as a man, so that from all outward appearance Joshua thought He was a man. He stood like a man, looked like a man, held a sword like a man, spoke with an audible voice like a man, and Joshua approached Him like a man (v 13)

g Questions 4-5. Next, 7:7

b 5 proofs He was God, not man:

1 He claimed to be captain of the host of the Lord (v 14). This was an identifying mark to Joshua that He was God, for God was the captain of Israel. He had promised to go before them and lead them into Canaan, and this He had been doing for 40 years (Ex. 3:8, 12, 17-22; 6:1-8; 10:2-6; 23:20-33; 33:1-3; Josh. 1:2-9; 3:7-8; Acts 7:31-37)

2 Joshua worshipped Him (v 14), and such reverence belongs only to Divine Ones. If He had been only a messenger of God He would not have permitted worship. Cp. Rev. 19:9-10; 22:8-10

3 Joshua called Him Lord (Heb. Adon, sovereign; lord; master; owner, v 14)

4 Joshua recognized himself as His servant

5 The same thing was said to Joshua that was said to Moses. Only God could make such demand (v 15 with Ex. 3:1-8)

gardless of seeming impossibilities facing them (v 1)

i They no doubt had spies watching every movement of Israel, so such an event as the drying up of Jordan would be known as quickly as it happened. One can imagine the consternation of the people upon being given the report of such an unheard-of miracle (v 1)

j See 2:9, 11

k Not again, as individuals who had been circumcised once, for this would be impossible, but the second occasion of doing this as a nation. This implies that, as a nation, it had been done before leaving Egypt. Israel did not circumcise the male children in the wilderness, so these were the ones the command was for (v 5). This also implies that law keeping in many respects was set aside during the wilderness wanderings

l Sharp stones were used customarily in those days for circumcision, tools of flint stone. Iron and steel were in use for some things but it seems to have been the custom and perhaps the law not to circumcise with anything other than a sharp stone (Ex. 4:25. Cp. Ex. 20:25; Dt. 27:5). The wound seemed to heal quicker when a stone was used

m Here we have the explanation of the new order for circumcision (v 4-9). All that were circumcised of the men of war that came out of Egypt died in the wilderness, but all that were born in the wilderness and up to this time were uncircumcised (v 4-5, 7)

NOW Jĕr'ĭ-chō was [a]straitly shut up because of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: none went out, and none came in.

2 [b]And the LORD said unto Jŏsh'u-ā, See, I have given into thine hand Jĕr'ĭ-chō, and the king thereof, and the mighty men of valour.

●3 And [c]ye shall compass the city, all ye men of war, and go round about the city once. Thus shalt thou do six days.

●4 And [d]seven priests shall bear before the ark seven trumpets of rams' horns: and the seventh day ye shall compass the city seven times, and the [e]priests shall blow with the trumpets.

●5 And it shall come to pass, that when they make a long blast with the ram's horn, and when ye hear the sound of the trumpet, all the people shall shout with a great shout; and the [f]wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall ascend up every man straight before him.

●6 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-ā the son of Nŭn called the priests, and said unto them, [g]Take up the ark of the covenant, and let seven priests bear seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD.

●7 And he said unto the people, Pass on, and compass the city, and let him [h]that is armed pass on before the ark of the LORD.

(2) The seige: silent marches around Jericho

8 ¶ And it came to pass, when Jŏsh'u-ā had spoken unto the people, that the seven priests bearing the seven trumpets of rams' horns [i]passed on before the LORD, and blew with the trumpets: and the ark of the covenant of the LORD [j]followed them.

9 ¶ And the armed men went before the priests that blew with the trumpets, and the rereward came after the ark, the priests going on, and [k]blowing with the trumpets.

●10 And Jŏsh'u-ā had commanded the people, saying, Ye shall not shout, nor make any noise with your voice, neither shall any word proceed out of your mouth, until the day I bid you shout; then shall ye shout.

11 So the ark of the LORD compassed the city, going about it once: and they came into the camp, and lodged in the camp.

12 ¶ And [l]Jŏsh'u-ā rose early in the morning, and the priests took up the ark of the LORD.

13 And seven priests bearing seven trumpets of rams' horns before the ark of the LORD went on continually, and blew with the trumpets: and the armed men went before them; but the rereward came after the ark of the LORD, the priests going on, and blowing with the trumpets.

14 And the second day they compassed the city once, and returned into the camp: so they did [m]six days.

15 And it came to pass [n]on the seventh day, that they rose early about the dawning of the day, and compassed the city after the [o]same manner seven times: only on that day they compassed the city seven times.

(3) Instruction for entering Jericho

●16 [b]And it came to pass at the seventh time, when the priests blew with the trumpets, Jŏsh'u-ā said unto the people, Shout; for the LORD hath given you the city.

●17 ¶ And the city shall be [c]accursed, even it, and all that are therein, to the LORD: [d]only Rā'hăb the harlot shall live, she and all that are with her in the house, because she hid the messengers that we sent.

●18 [e]And ye, in any wise keep yourselves from the accursed thing, [f]lest ye make yourselves accursed, when ye take of the accursed thing, and make the camp of Iṣ'ra-el a curse, and trouble it.

●19 [g]But all the silver, and gold, and vessels of brass and iron, are consecrated unto the LORD: they shall come into the treasury of the LORD.

(4) Walls of Jericho fall flat: 3rd miracle

20 So the people shouted when the priests blew with the trumpets: and it came to pass, when the people heard the sound of the trumpet, and the people shouted with a great shout, that [h]the wall fell down flat, so that the people went up into the city, every man straight before him, and they took the city.

(5) Complete victory and destruction of Jericho

21 And they [i]utterly destroyed all that was in the city, both man and woman, young and old, and ox, and sheep, and ass, with the edge of the sword.

●22 But Jŏsh'u-ā had said unto the two men that had spied out the country, Go into the harlot's house and bring out thence the woman, and all that she hath, as ye sware unto her.

23 And the [j]young men that were spies went in, and brought out Rā'hăb, and her father, and her mother, and her brethren, and all that she had; and they brought out all her kindred, and left them without the camp of Iṣ'ra-el.

24 And they burnt the city with fire, and all that was therein: only the silver, and the gold, and the vessels of brass and of iron, they put into the treasury of the house of the LORD.

(6) Covenant kept with Rahab (Josh. 2:8-21; Heb. 11:31)

25 And Jŏsh'u-ā saved Rā'hăb the harlot alive, and her father's household, and all that she had; and she dwelleth in Iṣ'ra-el even [k]unto this day; because she hid the messengers, which Jŏsh'u-ā sent to spy out Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

a This means that all the inhabitants of Jericho were kept within the walls and no traffic in and out of the city was permitted (v 1). They were waiting for the attack by Israel, being fearful of their impending doom which they seemed to feel was about to fall upon them (2:10-11; 5:1) b 6th prophecy in Josh. (6:2-5, fulfilled, v 8-26). Next, v 26. The Lord here was the man that had appeared to Joshua in 5:13-15, which verses should really be the first part of this chapter

2 predictions to Joshua:

1 I have given you the city of Jericho with its king and his army (v 2)

2 When the priests make a long blast on the rams' horns and when all the people shout with a great shout, the wall of the city shall fall down flat, and the people shall go straight forward and take the city (v 4-5) c 5 commands - conquest of Jericho:

1 You shall compass the city with the men of war once each day for 6 days (v 2)

2 And 7 priests with 7 rams' horns shall go before the ark each day around the city (v 4)

3 On the 7th day you shall compass the city 7 times

4 At the end of the 7th time the priests shall blow a long blast on the rams' horns and the people shall shout with a great shout (v 5)

5 Every man shall go straight forward to take the city

d There is no special spiritual significance to the number seven as used here or elsewhere, but it is an interesting fact that there were:

7 priests (v 3-4, 6)

7 rams' horn trumpets

7 days the city was to be compassed

7 times the city was to be compassed on the 7th day

e It is noticeable that priests, the ministers of God, were to lead the army in war and take a very prominent part in all affairs of Israel (v 4-6; 3:3, 8, 13-17; 4:3; etc.)

f The Sept. reads, "the walls of the city will fall of their own accord" (v 5)

g Here Joshua passed on the commands of Jehovah to Israel, so they would know exactly what to do in the conquest of Jericho (v 6-7)

h Only the armed men of Israel, and even only a part of them, were to go around the city (v 3, 7)

i Passing on before the Lord means before the ark of the covenant of the Lord, the visible representation of Jehovah among Israel (v 4, 6, 8-9, 11)

j The order of the march is very clear. The ark and the priests went between two parts of the army, the first part being led by Joshua, no doubt (v 8-9)

k It seems from this that the priests blew on their trumpets in all the marches (v 5, 13), the sign for all to shout being a long blast on the last day after the 7th march around the city (v 5). This blowing of the trumpets was all the noise that was to be made. The armed men were not to shout or make any other noise with their voices, but be perfectly silent until the 7th day and the end of the 7th march around the city when the priests made the long blast with the horns (v 5, 10)

l Joshua accompanied the whole 13 marches around the city, though at least 80 years old. He was 110 when he died and it is estimated that he served Israel about 30 years (24:29)

m Fulfilling v 3

n Jews hold that the day was the sabbath, and that the walls fell in the evening so that the actual taking of the city took place at the close of the sabbath. This we know: there had to be a sabbath during the 7 days, so there was at least one march on a sabbath and it did not break the command of God, Either God ordained the sabbath to be broken on this special occasion, or it was not considered a breach of the sabbath by the people to be marching around the city with the ark and the priests sounding the trumpets. Perhaps it was considered a mere religious procession, one performed at the command of God, in which no servile work was done. To the Canaanites this was a strange way of fighting - marching around in silence except for the blowing of trumpets.

a The same manner in which the other marches were made on the first 6 days (v 3-14). The whole 13 marches had to be completely around the city. How large Jericho was is not known. Even if the city was only 5 miles around, the total of 7 marches (35 miles) on the last day with the taking of the city afterward would make a hard day's work

b This fulfilled v 4-5

c Heb. cherem, devoted to destruction (v 17; note g, Lev. 27:29). It was the devotion of any idolatrous object - person, city, or anything else so used, to utter destruction. When such a curse was pronounced on a city it meant that all the persons, animals, and all booty that would ordinarily be taken and kept by the people were to be completely burned in the fire or consecrated to the sanctuary (v 19,24). Joshua pronounced this ban on Jericho, a great and wealthy city, evidently by divine decree, and the severity of the doom that came to all violaters is illustrated in the punishment of Achan in ch. 7. This curse was justified, not only by the fact that its inhabitants were part of a people who had filled up their cup of iniquity (Gen. 15:16), but by the fact that fighting men from many surrounding peoples were in Jericho helping to defend it against Israel (Josh. 24:11). Its destruction was to serve to paralyze further resistance to Israel on the part of other cities of Canaan when they saw the mighty power of God in the miracle of the walls falling flat. See note g, Lev. 27:29 d Joshua was faithful to observe obligations even to Gentiles, so commanded his army to spare Rahab and all her house as agreed by the 2 spies of ch. 2 (v 17, 22-23)

e 2 commands - accursed things:

1 You shall keep yourselves from the accursed thing (v 18)

2 All the silver, gold, and vessels of brass and iron shall come into the treasury of the Lord (v 19)

f Anyone who broke the law of accursed things would not only be punished; he would bring a curse upon Israel (v 18; 7:1-26)

g See note g, Lev. 27:29

h This must be taken in a literal sense, as stated here and in v 5

i Such total destruction was special, as firstfruits to God and as an example of His wrath on the depravity of Canaanites. In all other places the laws of conquest were carried out, which means that the women who were virgins, the stock, and the spoils went to the people of Israel (11:11-14; Num. 31:9-35; Dt. 20:14)

j Instructions had already been given the 2 spies to rush to the house of Rahab and save alive all that were with her, according to their promise, as in ch. 2. Even this was an act of faith, for under normal circumstances both of these men would have been killed before reaching the house; but since God was fighting for Israel not a man lost his life

k What joy there must have been at the saving of Rahab and all her house. She and her people became a part of Israel, and she herself married a prominent man of Judah who was in the very line of the coming Messiah (Mt. 1:5). The family of Rahab was left outside the camp temporarily, being considered unclean until the males were circumcised and the whole group became clean and made a part of Israel (v 23-25. Cp. Lev. 13:46; Num. 12:14)

l A proof that the book of Joshua was written not long after the events related. Cp. 4:9; 5:9; 6:25; 7:26; 8:28-29; 9:27; 13:13; 15:63; 22:2, 17; 23:8-9; Dt. 34:6

There was no effort to scale the wall, no weapons were used, no engines of siege were brought up, and no other ordinary means of warfare were used in any degree. The sight of armed men thus marching day after day, and 7 times the 7th day must have been a merry making spectacle to the inhabitants of Jericho. They had never seen or heard of such a seemingly foolish thing, and neither had the Israelites, but they were in strict obedience to One who takes the foolish things to confound the wise and the weak things to destroy the mighty (1 Cor. 1:18-31)

(7) Curse on Jericho. Fulfilled (1 Ki. 16:34)

*26 ¶ [a]And Jŏsh'u-á [b]adjured them at that time, saying, Cursed be the man before the LORD, that riseth up and buildeth this city Jĕr'ĭ-chō: he shall lay the foundation thereof in his firstborn, and in his youngest son shall he set up the gates of it.

27 So the LORD was with Jŏsh'u-á; and [c]his fame was noised throughout all the country.

CHAPTER 7 194

2 Failure at Ai: (1) Cause: sin of Achan (6:18; Dt. 23:9)

BUT the [d]children of Ĭs'ra-el committed a [e]trespass in the [f]accursed thing: for Á'chăn, the son of Cär'mi, the son of Zăb'dĭ, the son of Zĕ-rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, took of the accursed thing: and [g]the anger of the LORD was [h]kindled against the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

(2) Second defeat of Israel (Cp. Num. 14:41)

2 And Jŏsh'u-á sent men from Jĕr'ĭ-chō to Á'ĭ, which is beside Bĕth-ā'ven, on the east side of Bĕth'-el, and spake unto them, saying, [i]Go up and view the country. And the men went up and viewed Á'ĭ.

3 And [j]they returned to Jŏsh'u-á, and said unto him, Let not all the people go up; but let about two or three thousand men go up and smite Á'ĭ; and make not all the people to labour thither; for they are but few.

4 So there went up thither of the people about three thousand men: and they fled before the men of Á'ĭ.

5 And the men of Á'ĭ smote of them about [k]thirty and six men: for they [l]chased them from before the gate even [m]unto Shĕb'a-rĭm, and smote them in the going down: wherefore the hearts of the people melted, and became as water.

(3) First and only complaint of Joshua (Cp. Ex. 3:11; 5:19)

6 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-á [n]rent his clothes, and fell to the earth upon his face before the ark of the LORD until the eventide, he and the elders of Ĭs'ra-el, and put dust upon their heads.

7 And Jŏsh'u-á said, [o]Alas, O Lord GOD, [p]wherefore hast thou at [q]all brought this people over Jôr'dan, to deliver us into the hand of the Ăm'ôr-ites, to destroy us? [r]would to God we had been content, and dwelt on the other side Jôr'dan!

8 O Lord, [s]what shall I say, when Ĭs'ra-el turneth their backs before their enemies!

9 For the Cā'năan-ites and all the inhabitants of the land shall hear of it, and shall environ us round, and cut off our name from the earth: and what wilt thou do unto thy great name?

(4) God's answer: sin revealed

10 ¶ And the LORD [d]said unto Jŏsh'u-á, [b]Get thee up; wherefore liest thou thus upon thy face?

11 [c]Ĭs'ra-el hath [d]sinned, and they have also transgressed my covenant which I commanded them: for they have even taken of the accursed thing, and have also stolen, and [e]dissembled also, and they have put it even among their own stuff.

(5) Sin must be judged and cleansed to remove defeat

12 Therefore the children of Ĭs'ra-el [f]could not stand before their enemies, but turned their backs before their enemies, because they were accursed: [g]neither will I be with you any more, except ye destroy the accursed from among you.

13 Up, [h]sanctify the people, and say, Sanctify yourselves against to morrow: for thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, There is an accursed thing in the midst of thee, O Ĭs'ra-el: thou canst not stand before thine enemies, until ye take away the accursed thing from among you.

14 [i]In the morning therefore ye shall be brought according to your tribes: and it shall be, that the tribe which the LORD taketh shall come according to the families thereof; and the family which the LORD shall take shall come by households; and the household which the LORD shall take shall come man by man.

15 [j]And it shall be, that he that is taken with the accursed thing shall be burnt with fire, he and all that he hath: because he hath transgressed the covenant of the LORD, and because he hath wrought [k]folly in Ĭs'ra-el.

(6) Tracing the sin to Achan

16 ¶ So Jŏsh'u-á rose up [l]early in the morning, and brought Ĭs'ra-el by their tribes; and the tribe of Jū'dah was taken:

17 And he brought the family of Jū'dah; and he took the family of the Zär'hites: and he brought the family of the Zär'-hites man by man; and Zăb'dĭ was taken:

18 And he brought his household man by man; and [m]Á'chăn, the son of Cär'mi, the son of Zăb'dĭ, the son of Zĕ'rah, of the tribe of Jū'dah, was taken.

(7) Achan confesses to stealing one garment and $612.75

19 And Jŏsh'u-á said unto Á'chăn, My son, [n]give, I pray thee, glory to the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, and make confession unto him; and tell me now what thou hast done; hide it not from me.

20 And Á'chăn answered Jŏsh'u-á, and said, [o]Indeed I have sinned against the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, and thus and thus have I done:

21 When I saw among the spoils a goodly Băb-ў-lō'nish a 7th prophecy in Josh. (6:26, fulfilled over 600 years later, 1 Ki. 16:28). Next, 8:1 2 predictions of Joshua:

1 The man who rebuilds Jericho shall lose his firstborn when the foundation is laid
2 He shall lose his younger son when he sets up the gates

b Heb. shaba, to be complete; to seven oneself; that is, swear by repeating a declaration seven times; adjure; charge by an oath; take an oath (v 26; 1 Ki. 22:16; 2 Chr. 18:15). Here Joshua imposed upon his people a solemn oath, binding on them as well as their posterity that they should never build Jericho again, and that it should be an eternal monument of God's abhorrence of idolatry and all its immorality and vices. He then cursed the man that would dare rebuild Jericho and fortify it (v 26)

c Not only was Joshua magnified in the eyes of Israel (3:7; 4:14), but he became famous among all nations of that day (v 27)

d Not all of them did but the one man who committed the trespass brought disgrace upon all the sons of Israel (v 1, 19-26)

e Heb. ma'al, a breach of faith or trust; treachery; trespass (v 1; 22:16, 20, 31; Lev. 5:15; 6:2; 26:40; Num. 5:12, 27; 31:16; 2 Chr. 33:19; Ezra 9:2; Ezek. 15:8; 17:20; 18:24; 20:27; Dan. 9:7)

f The accursed thing is anything that is devoted to destruction. It could be something consecrated to the sanctuary if taken by anyone unlawfully; that is, it would become the accursed thing to the sinner (note c, 6:17). This was the same sin that Ananias and Sapphira committed as in Acts 5:1-3 g The first time God became angry with Israel under Joshua (v 1). See Angry in Index

b See Anger of God and man, p. 264

i Command - go up and view the country (v 2). Joshua turned his attention next to Ai, called Hai (Gen. 12:8), which was east of Bethel and north of Jericho about 10 or 12 miles. Evidently a strong place, it chose war and a siege regardless of what happened at Jericho. Ai is the only name of a city in Scripture which has to be spelled to be pronounced j The spies returned and their report was favorable. They expected an easy victory, so suggested that only 2,000 or 3,000 soldiers be sent to take the city (v 3). The suggestion was approved by Joshua who evidently failed to inquire of the Lord regarding what to do. About 3,000 men were sent but they were defeated and fled before the men of Ai, losing 36 men (v 4-5). This made the hearts of Israel to become discouraged and melt like water for fear (v 5) k These were the only casualties recorded for Israel in all the battles up to this time. The reason for this immunity from death was the miraculous power of God defeating the people of Canaan and east of Jordan. The failure here never would have happened if all Israel had stayed free from sin. One man's trespass caused this defeat and the loss of 36 mighty men of war (v 10-26)

l Cp. this with the promise of God on condition Israel would not sin (23:10; Lev. 26:7-8; Dt. 32:30). The last chasing of Israel was also because of sin (Num. 14:44-45; Dt. 1:44)

m Shebarim signifies breaches or broken places, perhaps referring to the rough wady at the bottom of the hill on which Ai was built (v 5). The Sept. omits the word altogether n Joshua evidently did not go with this expedition, so when he heard about the defeat he rent his clothes and fell upon his face before the ark of Jehovah until evening. He and the elders of Israel did so, with dust on their heads (v 6)

o Joshua's prayer was one of utter despondency and followed the pattern of Moses' prayers on certain occasions of rebellion (Ex. 5:22-23; 14:15; 17:4; Num. 11:11-15, 21-22). Part of it also sounded like murmurings of Israel under trial (Ex. 14:11-12; 16:2-3; Num. 11:1-9; 14:1-4; 21:5). It was one of complaint and unbelief (v 7-9) p Questions 6-8. Next, v 25

q This is the same as "Wherefore hath the Lord brought us unto this land to fall by the sword?" (Num. 14:3) and "Where-fore have ye brought us out of Egypt to die in the wilderness?" (Num. 21:5). Joshua should have known better than this from truth and experience, but natural man finds it difficult to hold steady and exercise faith in time of trial

r This is the same as "Would to God we had died by the hand of the Lord in Egypt" (Ex. 16:3), "Would to God we had died in the land of Egypt" (Num. 14:2), and "Would to God we had died when our brethren died" (Num. 20:3) s Joshua should have known the cause of failure, having experienced like trials in the wilderness several times, and should have inquired about sin instead of looking for the blame elsewhere. More than 10 plagues and the loss of hundreds of thousands of people in Israel had already demonstrated the cause of failure, as recorded in Numbers alone a 3 commands - dealing with sin:

1 Joshua, get up (v 10)
2 Sanctify the people (v 13)
3 Say: Sanctify yourselves

b See Get up - stop praying, p. 264

c See Sold accusation of Israel, p. 264

d Sin is transgression of the law (1 Jn. 3:4). The part of the covenant they transgressed in particular was that which concerned taking devoted things (note g, Lev. 27:29). This meant the stealing or taking of something dedicated to God, for personal use (v 11)

e Heb. kachash, to be untrue in word; to lie; feign; dissemble; deceive; deal falsely; be a hypocrite (v 11, Cp. Pr. 26:4, 24; Jer. 42:20; Rom. 12:9; Gal. 2:12). Achan pretended to be in obedience to the law, knowing that he had sinned and deceived Israel, and had hidden what he had stolen in his tent

f One sin brought all the nation to defeat and caused God to stop His blessing. One sin is what caused Adam and the whole race to be under the present curse (Gen. 2:19; Rom. 5:12-21). One sin brings the same result as committing all sins (Jas. 2:9-10). Any one of the death-penalty sins of Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:21-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:5-10 will damn the soul of any person, regardless of his claims to salvation, for there is no respect of persons with God. Grace, love, mercy, and salvation from God do not license one to commit sin or free him from responsibility regarding the sin question. Sin has its deadly effect upon all alike in every generation, in every place and among all races

g God definitely promised not to be with Israel any more unless this sin was cleansed from the whole camp (v 12). He promises the same to all men in every age, regardless of law or grace. See Backsliding, p. 237

h See Utter simplicity of sanctification, p. 264

i This selection from tribe to tribe, family to family, and man to man was done perhaps by the Urim and Thummim (v 14; Ex. 28:30, note)

j Here again we have the terrible penalty of the broken law. It was death and burning, and destruction of all he owned by fire, as a shadow of the eternal death penalty in eternal fire. To burn refers to burning after being stoned to death, not burning alive (v 25-26). See Hell in Index k See 15 things that were folly in Israel, p. 265

l About daylight (note d, 3:1)

m Troubler, called Achar (1 Chr. 2:7) 19):

n 3 commands - confession of Achan (v
1 Give glory to the God of Israel. In such a case, giving Him glory would be to acknowledge the omniscience of God, and confess that He was right in His accusation
2 Make confession to Him
3 Tell me now what you have done; hide it not from me

o Achan gave proper confession of his sin, which is only partially recorded here (v 20-21). The penalty for his crime was physical death for himself and all his family and the destruction of his stock and material goods (v 24). No blood was shed or any ritual carried out for him as far as the record goes so we do not know whether his confession brought him forgiveness and salvation for his soul garment, and [a]two hundred shekels of silver, and a wedge of gold of fifty shekels weight, then[b]I coveted them, and took them; and, behold, they are hid in the earth in the midst of my tent, and the silver under it.

(8) Judgment upon Achan

22 ¶ So Jŏsh'u-â sent messengers, and they ran unto the tent; and, behold, it was hid in his tent, and the silver under it.

23 And they took them out of the midst of the tent, and brought them unto Jŏsh'u-â, and unto all the children of Iş'ra-el, and[c]laid them out before the LORD.

24 And Jŏsh'u-â, and all Iş'ra-el with him, took Â'chăn the son of Zē'rah, and the silver, and the garment, and the wedge of gold, and[d]his sons, and his daughters, and his oxen, and his asses, and his sheep, and his tent, and all that he had: and they brought them unto the valley of Â'chôr.

25 And Jŏsh'u-â said, [e]Why hast thou troubled us? the LORD shall trouble thee this day. And all Iş'ra-el [f]stoned him with stones, and burned them with fire, after they had stoned them with stones.

26 And they raised over him a great[g]heap of stones unto this day. [h]So the LORD turned from the fierceness of his anger. Wherefore the name of that place was called,[i]The valley of Â'chôr, unto this day.

195 CHAPTER 8

3 Fall of Ai: (1) Plan of battle to remove effects of the defeat of 7:2-5

[j]AND the LORD said unto Jŏsh'u-â, [k]Fear not, neither be thou dismayed: [l]take all the people of war with thee, and arise, go up to Â'ī: see, I have given into thy hand the king of Â'ī, and his people, and his city, and his land:●

●2 And thou shalt do to Â'ī and her king as thou didst unto Jĕr'ī-chō and her king: [m]only the spoil thereof, and the cattle thereof, shall ye take for a prey unto yourselves: lay thee an ambush for the city behind it.

3 ¶ So Jŏsh'u-â arose, and all the people of war, to go up against Â'ī: and Jŏsh'u-â chose out thirty thousand mighty men of valour, and sent them away by night.

4 And [n]he commanded them, saying, Behold, ye[o]shall lie in wait against the city, even behind the city: go not very far from the city, but be ye all ready:

5 And I, and all the people that are with me, will approach unto the city: and it shall come to pass, when they come out against us, as at the first, that we will flee before them,

6 (For they will come out after us) till we have drawn them from the city; for they will say, They flee before us, as at the first: therefore we will flee before them.

7 Then ye shall rise up from the ambush, and seize upon the city: [p]for the LORD your God will deliver it into your hand.

8 And it shall be, when ye have taken the city, that ye shall set the city on fire: according to the [q]commandment of the LORD shall ye do. See, I have commanded you.

(2) The plan executed

9 ¶ Jŏsh'u-â therefore sent them forth: and they went to lie in ambush, and abode[r]between Bĕth'-el and Â'ī, on the west side of Â'ī: but[s]Jŏsh'u-â lodged that night among the people.

10 And Jŏsh'u-â rose up[t]early in the morning, and[u]numbered the people, and went up, he and the[v]elders of Iş'ra-el, before the people to Â'ī.

11 And all the people, even the people of war that were with him, went up, and drew nigh, and came before the city, and pitched on the north side of Â'ī: now there was a valley between them and Â'ī.

12 And he took about [w]five thousand men, and set them to lie in ambush between Bĕth'-el and Â'ī, on the west side of the city.

13 And when they had set the people, even all the host that was on the north of the city, and their liers in wait on the west of the city, Jŏsh'u-â went that night into the midst of the valley.

14 ¶ And it came to pass, when the king of Â'ī saw it, that they hasted and rose up early, and the men of the city went out against Iş'ra-el to battle, he and all his people, at a time appointed, before the plain; but he wist not that there were liers in ambush against him behind the city.

15 And Jŏsh'u-â and [x]all Iş'ra-el made as if they were beaten before them, and fled by the way of the wilderness.

16 And all the people that were in Â'ī were called together to pursue after them: and they pursued after Jŏsh'u-â, and were drawn away from the city.

17 And [y]there was not a man left in Â'ī or Bĕth'-el, that went not out after Iş'ra-el: and they left the city open, and pursued after Iş'ra-el.

★18 [z]And the LORD said unto Jŏsh'u-â, [aa]Stretch out the spear that is in thy hand toward Â'ī; for I will give it into thine hand. And Jŏsh'u-â stretched out the spear that he had in his hand toward the city.

19 And the ambush arose quickly out of their place, and they ran as soon as he had stretched out his hand: and they entered into the city, and took it, and hasted and set the city on fire.

(3) Complete victory over Ai

20 And when the men of Â'ī looked behind them, they saw, and, behold, the smoke of the city ascended up to heaven, and they had no power to flee this a 3 things stolen by Achan (v 21):

1 A Babylonish garment. Heb. addereth shinar, a splendid costly robe of Shinar. The plain of Shinar was celebrated for its gorgeous robes of brilliant and various colors, generally arranged in figured patterns, probably resembling the tapestry or carpet patterns of the orient. The colors were either woven in the material or embroidered with the needle. The garment here may have been ornamented with idolatrous figures which would have made it an accursed thing. Perhaps it was the royal robe of the king of Jericho, for the same word is used in Jonah 3:6 of the royal robe that the king of Nineveh laid aside to seek the Lord when he humbled himself before God. There is no doubt about the robe or cloak being beautiful and costly; and on these grounds it was coveted by Achan (v 21)
2 The 200 shekels of silver. At 64¢ each this would be $128.00
3 A wedge of gold of 50 shekels weight. At $9.69 1/2 for each shekel this was $484.75 which, with the shekels of silver made a total of $612.75 besides the costly Babylonish garment

b This was breaking the 8th and 10th of the 10 commandments, as well as the law of devoted things (note g, Lev. 27:29). One might covet and not steal what he covets, but Achan coveted and took (v 21)

c God had already seen everything so this laying things out before Him means they brought them out to the public eye before the tabernacle where judgment was being given. After all, Jehovah was the leader of Israel and for Him to lead a people to victory tainted with sin would be as a stain upon His character. Hence, the demand for each man to be clean and obedient to the law and will of God. The method used in detecting the exact sin and the person who committed it brought fear to all Israel and helped curb such practices during the rest of the war (v 10-15)

d The sons and daughters of Achan evidently were stoned with him, for v 25 says Israel stoned them and burned them, and 22:20 says he did not perish alone. To perish with him meant they were parties to his crimes by harboring him and keeping this information from Joshua until he was forced to confess because of being found out by God. Even in civil governments parties to crimes are also held guilty and punished. In God's government, anyone even bidding one God speed is counted a partaker of his evil deeds (2 Jn. 10-11). The law forbade children being put to death for the sins of fathers unless they were partakers of the crimes (Dt. 24:16); so we conclude that Achan's children partook of his crime and had to suffer with him (v 24-25)

e Question 9, Next, 9:7

f Stoned with him his sons, daughters, oxen, asses, and sheep, and burned their dead bodies in the valley of Achor (v 24-26)

g It was customary to heap up stones as rude monuments of important events (v 26; 8:28-29; Gen. 31:46-52; Dt. 13:16; 2 Sam. 18:17-18). It was also customary for travellers to continue throwing stones on such heaps for criminals. Jews and Mohammedans for instance, were in the habit of casting stones on Absalom's tomb which he set up for himself in the king's dale (2 Sam. 18:18)

h The Lord was satisfied that all sin had been cleaned out of Israel, so He resumed command of this holy people to punish the nations of Canaan for their crimes (v 26; 8:18; etc.)

i The crime of Achan is remembered in references to the valley of Achor (v 26; 15:7; Isa. 65:10; Hos. 2:15). It is called the brook Cherith (1 Ki. 17:3-5)

j 8th prophecy in Josh. (8:1-2, fulfilled, v 3-29). Next, v 18
2 predictions to Joshua:
1 I have given into your hand the king of Ai, his people, city, and land (v 1)
2 You shall do to Ai and their king what you did to Jericho and their king (v 2)

k 8 commands - conquest of Ai:
1 Fear not, neither be dismayed (v 1)
2 Take all the people of war with you
3 Arise, go over to Ai
4 Do to Ai and their king what you did

a Joshua repeated what God had told him, as in v 1-2, proving his faith in God's word

b The commandment to set the city on fire when it was taken throws further light on the destruction of Jericho (v 8). Evidently Jericho was also burned, for v 2 says Israel should do to Ai and her king what they did to Jericho and her king

c This was the place of Abraham's second altar after entering Canaan some 470 yrs. before (Gen. 12:7-8). Joshua built an altar in the same vicinity (8:30-35)

d Joshua stayed with the main body of the army, 35,000 having departed to lie in ambush behind the city (v 3-4,12)

e See note d, 3:1

f Inspected or mustered the army ready to march and fight as planned (v 3-8)

g The elders of Israel included the heads of the tribes and others chosen for the general council of the nation. They are first mentioned in Ex. 3:16-18; and were prominent in all the events of Israel under Moses, being referred to 42 times in the Pentateuch (Ex. 3:16-18; 4:29; 12:21; 17:5-6; 18:12; 19:7; 21:1-14; Lev. 4:15; 9:1; Num. 11:16-30; 16:25; 22:4-7; Dt. 5:23; 19:12; 21:2-20; 22:15-18; 25:7-9; 27:1; 29:10; 31:9, 28; 32:7); and being referred to under Joshua 8 times (7:6; 8:10, 33; 9:11; 20:4; 23:2; 24:1, 31); under judges only 3 times, showing the disorganized state of Israel at that time (Judg. 2:7; 1 Sam. 4:3; 8:4); under the kings 35 times (1 Sam. 15:30; 30:26; 2 Sam. 3:17; 5:3; 17:4, 15; 19:11; 1 Ki. 8:1-3; 20:7-8; 21:8-11; 2 Ki. 6:32; 23:1; 1 Chr. 11:3; 15:25; 21:16; 2 Chr. 5:2-4; Ps. 107:32; Jer. 26:17; 29:1; Lam. 1:19; 2:10; 4:16; 5:12-14; Ezek. 8:1; 14:1; 20:1-3; Joel 1:14; 2:16); and under the gospel period 41 times (Mt. 15:2; 16:21; 21:23; 26:3-59; 27:1-41; 28:12; Mk. 7:3-5; 8:31; 11:27; 14:43, 53; 15:1; Lk. 7:3; 9:22; 20:1; 22:52, 66; Acts 4:5, 8, 23; 22:5; 23:14; 25:15). See note g, Acts 14:23 regarding elders of the church; and Elders in Index

h This was in addition to the 30,000 of v 3. The two companies could have been on the same west side of the city, the 30,000 having gone ahead of the main army and the 5,000 being sent later to take part in the ambush and capture of Ai. The whole army came into the valley before the city and stayed there the previous night (v 11, 13-14). They could not have stayed in Gilgal until the morning of the attack for that would have meant a march of 4 to 6 hours to reach Ai, and the king could not have come out against Israel early in the morning as in v 13-14

i The all Israel here must be understood in a limited sense, for 35,000 were in other places (v 3, 12), and some stayed in Gilgal to protect the camp from attack. This helps us understand the all the people of v 1. See the meaning of all, p. 308 of N. T.

j This was a very foolish thing to do, but perhaps such plans of battle were not known to these Canaanites. It would have been wiser to leave the city protected and closed (v 17)

k 9th prophecy in Josh. (8:18, fulfilled, v 20-26). Next, 10:8

l Command - stretch out the spear toward Ai (v 18). This was the sign for attack against the city by the ones in ambush (v 18-19) to Jericho and their king (v 2) 5 Only the spoil and cattle shall you take for yourselves

6 Lay an ambush for the city behind it

m This command was different from the advice of the spies (in 7:3) who told Joshua to take only 2,000 or 3,000 men, suggesting they could easily overcome the city n God permitted the spoils of war, after Jericho, to go to all Israel, as provided in the law (Num. 31:22-54)

o Here we have Joshua's strategy for the next conquest (v 4-8, 12-19). God, Himself commanded this (v 2) p 3 commands - destruction of Ai:

1 You shall lie in wait near the city and behind it and be ready (v 4)
2 Rise up from ambush and seize the city (v 7)
3 When you have taken the city set it on fire as God has commanded (v 8)

a The all Israel following Joshua, not the part capturing Ai, or the part in the camp at Gilgal and on the other side of Jordan, of which only 40,000 men of war had crossed the Jordan to help Joshua (v 3, 12, 21-22; 4:13)
b By this strategy not one man of Israel was lost. None of Ai and Bethel escaped, and 12,000 were killed (v 22-26)
c It would have been interesting to see this defeated and proud king brought before Joshua, the humble and rugged servant of God, who was in every way, a king himself. We know nothing of the conversation between them but no doubt Joshua asked many questions and obtained much information before destroying the king (v 24). He was hung on a double tree, perhaps a forked tree, according to the Sept. and the carcase removed at sundown. It was not lawful for bodies being hung to remain thus after the sun went down (v 29. Cp. Eph. 4:26)
d All the Canaanites on the field of battle were first destroyed, then those in the city, and finally the city was burned (v 24-25, 28-29)
e Nothing is said of the children. It could be that the law regarding women and children was carried out - all the male children and women who had known man being killed, and female children and women who were virgins being permitted to remain alive as wives and servants of Israelites (Num. 31:17-18; Dt. 21:10-14) 20:17
f This literally fulfilled Dt. 7:2; 12:2;
g For this law see Num. 31:22-54
h Joshua gave this command as in v 2 i Just why some cities were destroyed and others spared is not clear aside from the fact that some were more notorious for idolatries, immoralities, and other depravities which God hates; and He wanted to make them monuments of His wrath on such sins. Ordinarily, the cities and all the spoil were to be saved for Israel so that no new cities would have to be built (Dt. 6:10-11; 19:1) j Hanging was one method of capital punishment under the law (Dt. 21:22-23; Gal. 3:13). In ancient times hanging was by a rope, or on a tree, called crucifixion

11 examples of hanging:

1 Pharaoh's baker (Gen. 40:19-23)
2 Heads of rebellion in Israel (Num. 25:4)
3 King of Ai (Josh. 8:29)
4 Ahithophel (2 Sam. 17:23)
5 Sons of Saul (2 Sam. 21:6-13) 23)
6 Bigthan and Teresh (Esther 2:21-7; 9:13-25)
7 Haman and sons (Esther 7:9-10; 8:8)
9 Christ (Mt. 23:39-43; Acts 5:30; 10:39; Gal. 3:13; 1 Pet. 2:24)
10 2 malefactors (Lk. 23:39). Cp. the hanging of others even after they were dead (Josh. 10:26; 2 Sam. 4:12; 21:12-13)

q Perhaps the whole law (v 32; Dt. 27:8)
r How much of the Pentateuch was written in the presence of Israel is not known; no doubt the laws themselves were so written (v 32) s All Israel - elders, officers, priests, Levites, and the strangers in Israel were divided into two parts, half stood by mount Gerizim and half by mount Ebal to hear the reading of the law of Moses (v 33-35). These mountains were only about 30 miles from Gilgal and 20 miles from Ai, but through hostile country. Nevertheless Joshua undertook this, the fulfilling of Dt. 27:2, 4-14 as soon as possible, and the unmolested religious ceremony here was greatly aided by the overthrow of Jericho and Ai (6:1-8:35). Thus Joshua demonstrated his zeal to perform religious duties in the face of pressing affairs of conquest and dangers from surrounding enemies. Soon after this the Gibeonites surrendered (9:1-27) and all of Palestine was in the hands of Israel (10:1-11:24) way or that way: and the people that fled to the wilderness turned back upon the pursuers.

21 And when Jŏsh'u-á and [a]all Iṣ'ra-el saw that the ambush had taken the city, and that the smoke of the city ascended, then they turned again, and slew the men of Á'ī.

22 And the other issued out of the city against them; [b]so they were in the midst of Iṣ'ra-el, some on this side, and some on that side: and they smote them, so that they let none of them remain or escape.

23 And the king of Á'ī they took alive, and [c]brought him to Jŏsh'u-á.

24 And it came to pass, when Iṣ'ra-el had made [d]an end of slaying all the inhabitants of Á'ī in the field, in the wilderness wherein they chased them, and when they were all fallen on the edge of the sword, until they were consumed, that all the Iṣ'ra-el-ites returned unto Á'ī, and smote it with the edge of the sword.

25 And so it was, that all that fell that day, [e]both of men and women, were twelve thousand, even all the men of Á'ī.

26 For Jŏsh'u-á drew not his hand back, wherewith he stretched out the spear, until he had [f]utterly destroyed all the inhabitants of Á'ī.

27 [g]Only the cattle and the spoil of that city Iṣ'ra-el took for a prey unto themselves, according unto the word of the LORD which he [h]commanded Jŏsh'u-á.

28 And Jŏsh'u-á [i]burnt Á'ī, and made it an heap for ever, even a desolation unto this day.

29 And the king of Á'ī [j]he hanged on a tree until eventide: and as soon as the sun was down, Jŏsh'u-á commanded that they should take his carcase down from the tree, and cast it at the entering of the gate of the city, and raise thereon a great [k]heap of stones, that remaineth unto this day.

4 Celebration of victory

30 ¶ Then Jŏsh'u-á [l]built an altar unto the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el in [m]mount Ē'bal, 31 As Mō'ṣeṣ the [n]servant of the LORD commanded the children of Iṣ'ra-el, as it is [o]written in the book of the law of Mō'ṣeṣ, [p]an altar of whole stones, over which no man hath lift up any iron; and they offered thereon burnt offerings unto the LORD, and sacrificed peace offerings.

5 Mounts of blessing and cursing, fulfilling Dt. 11:29-32; 27:11-28:68

32 ¶ And he wrote there upon the stones [q]copy of the law of Mō'ṣeṣ, which he [r]wrote in the presence of the children of Iṣ'ra-el.

33 And [s]all Iṣ'ra-el, and their elders, and officers, and their judges, stood on this side the ark and on that side before the priests the Lē'vītes, which bare the ark of the covenant of the LORD, as well the stranger, as he that was born among them; half of them over against mount Gĕr'ī-zĭm, and [t]half of them over against mount Ē'bal; as Mō'ṣeṣ the [u]servant of the LORD had commanded before, that they should bless the people of Iṣ'ra-el.

34 And [v]afterward he read all the words of the law, the blessings and cursings, according to all that is written in [w]the book of the law.

35 [x]There was not a word of all that Mō'ṣeṣ commanded, which Jŏsh'u-á read not before all the congregation of Iṣ'ra-el, with the women, and the [y]little ones, and the strangers that were conversant among them.

CHAPTER 9 196

6 Mobilization of all Canaan against Israel

AND it came to pass, when [a]all the kings which were on this side Jŏr'dan, in the hills, and in the valleys, and in all the coasts of the great sea over against Lĕb'a-non, the Hĭt'tīte, and the Ăm'ŏr-īte, the Că'năan-īte, the Pĕr'ĭz-zīte, the Hĭ'vīte, and the Jĕb'u-sīte, heard thereof;

2 That they gathered themselves together, to fight with Jŏsh'u-á and with Iṣ'ra-el, with one accord.

7 Joshua outwitted: breaks the laws of Ex. 23:32; 34:13-17; Num. 33:51-56; Dt. 7:1-2; 20:16. (1) Deception prepared by Gibeonites

3 ¶ And when the inhabitants of [b]Gĭb'e-on heard what Jŏsh'u-á had done unto Jĕr'ī-chō and to Á'ī,

4 [c]They did work wilily, and went and made as if they had been ambassadors, and took old sacks upon their asses, and wine bottles, old, and [d]rent, and bound up;

5 And old shoes and [e]clouted upon their feet, and [f]old garments upon them; and all the bread of their provision [g]was dry and mouldy.

(2) League proposed to Joshua

6 And they went to Jŏsh'u-á unto the camp [h]at Gĭl'găl, and said unto him, and to the men of Iṣ'ra-el, [i]We be come from a [j]far country: [k]now therefore make ye a league with us.

7 And the men of Iṣ'ra-el said unto the Hĭ'vītes, [l]Peradventure ye dwell among us; [m]and how shall we [n]make a league with you?

8 And they said unto Jŏsh'u-á, We are thy servants. And Jŏsh'u-á said unto them, Who are ye? and from whence come ye?

(3) Deception carried out

9 And they said unto him, From a very far country thy servants are come because of the name of the LORD thy God: for [o]we have heard the fame of him, and all that he did in Ē'gўpt, a Notes c-d, Dt. 11:29; note h, Dt. 27:9

b See note n, Dt. 34:5
c After blessing Israel Joshua read all the words of the law to them, the blessings and the curings, according to all that is written in the law (v 35)
d This proves that the Pentateuch was originally written as one book, not 5 books as in our version (v 34)
e This makes it clear that every word of the book of the law of Moses was read to Israel at this time f This is a good example to parents who discourage the bringing of small children to church giving as an excuse that they do not understand the long sermons or Scripture readings (v 35). The truth is children understand more than parents think they do. Due to their alertness, simplicity of faith and not being influenced by various interpretations previously heard they often understand better and retain more of the truth than some of the adults g Having a common enemy often unites people. This should surely be true of Christians who have the most deadly enemy of all - Satan. Here the kings from all parts of Canaan saw that they would be defeated one by one, so they gathered together to make one great effort against Israel (v 1-2). The Sept. adds the name Gergasites to this list of united nations (v 1)
h See Gibeon, p. 265
i Literally, they also did work wilily, referring to the craft or strategem of the Gibeonites compared with that of Israel in conquering Ai. It hints that the Gibeonites resolved to meet craft with craft to accomplish their purpose (v 4)
j 6 steps outwitting Joshua and Israel:
1 Deception prepared (v 3-5) 8)
2 Deception proposed to Joshua (v 6-3 Deception carried out (v 9-13)
4 Deception successful (v 14-15)
5 Deception discovered (v 16-17)
6 Deception punished (v 20-27)
k When bottles made of skins get old they are likely to be torn. Rents are repaired by sewing the broken edges together, by inserting a piece of leather, by putting a round piece of wood in the hole, or by gathering up the rent piece like the opening of a bag. See notes g-h, Mt. 9:17
l Anglo-saxon for patched, or seamed up m Old garments, thin and worn n Every detail of the deception made it appear that they were from a far country and had travelled many days before arriving at the camp of Israel (v 4-5). This backed up by many lies deceived Joshua and the Israelites who had not taken time, or perhaps had not thought to inquire of Jehovah by the Urim and Thummim o Joshua was back in camp again after the conquest of Ai. He was likely waiting on God for instructions regarding the next move in completing the conquest of Canaan (v 6) p 5 lies of the Gibeonites:
1 We are from a far country (v 6, 9)
2 We came because of the name of the Lord your God (v 9)
3 We took our bread hot when we started and now it is dry and mouldy
4 Our wine bottles were new when we started and now they are old and rent by such a long journey (v 13)
5 Our garments and shoes were new when we started and now they are worn out by such a long journey
q They were only about 18 miles from the camp of Israel r Their purpose in lying and using such strategem was to save their lives, and this they accomplished (v 14-15) s The question of being neighbors was discussed, but no inquiry of the Lord was made (v 14); and God did not volunteer this information or interfere. He evidently wanted this to be a recorded lesson in His eternal Word for all generations to come, that He should be consulted in all human affairs, especially those that directly affect His plan for man t Questions 10-12, Next, v 22 u Israel had been expressly forbidden to make leagues with the inhabitants of Canaan (Ex. 23:32; 34:13-17; Num. 33:51-56; Dt. 7:1-2; 20:16)
v This was truth, for all that part of the world heard of the fame of God, His great name, what He did in Egypt, and what He did to Sihon and Og, and to Jericho and Ai (v 9-10) a The Gibeonites were wise enough not to mention the recent conquests of Jericho and Ai, because news did not travel fast in those days, and their silence thus made their claim of coming from a far country seem genuine. They mentioned victories only down to the conquest of the east side of Jordan, which had been some months before this (v 10)

b See Num. 21:21-35; Dt. 2:30-3:17

c 3 statements of truth by Gibeonites:
1 We have heard of the fame of God, what He did in Egypt, and to the 2 kings on the east of Jordan (v 9-10)
2 Our elders told us to come and say that we are your servants therefore, make a league with us (v 11)
3 It was told us how God commanded Moses to destroy all the inhabitants of this land from before you; therefore, we were afraid of our lives because of you, and have done this thing (v 24)

d See note p, v 6

e 6 mistakes of Joshua and Israel:
1 Took of their victuals; that is, partook of food with the Gibeonites as a token of a friendship and a covenant (v 14). According to ancient custom, eating together was a token of unalterable friendship; and those who ate salt together felt themselves bound thereby to a perpetual covenant. So deeply rooted was this custom that intended robbery has been abandoned when a robber has accidently eaten salt while getting his plunder; and men have been freed from captivity when the strategy of getting Arabs to eat salt with them, was used
2 Did not ask counsel at the mouth of Jehovah by the Urim and Thummim (v 14). They believed these men and made a covenant with them without even consulting God. Though He did not punish them for making the covenant, when it was made He afterward punished Israelites for breaking it (2 Sam. 21:1-9). God expects men to keep their word even when they vow to their own hurt (Ps. 15:4). He let Israel make this mistake without intervening; then, since it was done, decided to use it to destroy His enemies (11:18-20)
3 Joshua made peace with the Gibeonites (v 15)
4 He made a league with them
5 Let them live
6 The princes of Israel sware to them thus making the covenant binding on all Israel. Such contracting was forbidden by law (Ex. 23:32; 34:13-17; 33:51-56; Dt. 7:1-2; 20:16)

f The deception was discovered after 3 days, but nothing was said about it until Israel came to their cities, and then it caused murmuring (v 17-19)

g Chephirah and Beeroth are not mentioned except in v 17; 18:26; 2 Sam. 4:2; Ezra 2:25; Neh. 7:29

h Kirjath-jearim was given to Judah (15:60; 18:14; Judg. 18:12). It was an ancient high place and called Kiriath-Baal and Baalah (15:9-10; 1 Chr. 13:6), Kirjath (18:28), Baale-Judah (2 Sam. 6:2), and Kiriatharim (Ezra 2:25). It is also spoken of as belonging to Benjamin (18:28)

i The princes were to blame for this great mistake, so the congregation had just grounds for criticism; but such should never be carried to the point of murmuring, which leads to division, strife and other evils (v 18-19)

j This answered for many acts in ancient times, when making vows and swearing by oaths were held sacred, and a man's word was better than a written contract today. Since the princes had sworn, this bound the whole congregation to keep the covenant made with the Gibeonites (v 19)

k Though bound by the oath of their princes not to destroy the Gibeonites, Israel found a way to punish them for lying and deception which would be just and not bring the wrath of God upon the nation for breaking the covenant. It was decided that the Gibeonites should become servants to all the congregation and for the house of God (v 20-27)

l 2 main duties of Gibeonites:
1 They became hewers of wood (v 21,
2 And drawers of water 23,27)
Their responsibility was to provide wood and water, as well as to perform other tasks that needed to be done

m Question 13, Next, 10:13

10 And [c]all that he [b]did to the two kings of the Am'ŏr-ites, that were beyond Jŏr'dan, to Si'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn, and to Ŏg king of Bā'shăn, which was at Ash'ta-rŏth.

11 [c]Wherefore our elders and all the inhabitants of our country spake to us, saying, Take victuals with you for the journey, and go to meet them, and say unto them, We are your servants: therefore now make ye a league with us.

12 [d]This our bread we took hot for our provision out of our houses on the day we came forth to go unto you; but now, behold, it is dry, and it is mouldy:

13 And these bottles of wine, which we filled, were new; and, behold, they be rent: and these our garments and our shoes are become old by reason of the very long journey.

(4) Deception successful because God was not consulted

14 And the men [e]took of their victuals, and asked not counsel at the mouth of the LORD.

15 And Jŏsh'u-ă made peace with them, and made a league with them, to let them live: and the princes of the congregation sware unto them.

(5) Deception discovered

16 ¶ And it came to pass [f]at the end of three days after they had made a league with them, that they heard that they were their neighbours, and that they dwelt among them.

17 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el journeyed, and came unto their cities on the third day. Now their cities were Gĭb'e-on, [g]and Chĕ-phi'rah, and Bĕ-ĕ'rŏth, and [h]Kir'jath-jĕ'a-rĭm.

(6) First murmur of Israel under Joshua (17:12; 22:1. Cp. Ex. 5:19, refs.)

18 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el smote them not, because the princes of the congregation had sworn unto them by the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el. And all the congregation murmured against the princes.

19 But all the [i]princes said unto all the congregation, [j]We have sworn unto them by the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el: now therefore we may not touch them.

(7) Punishment for deception

20 [k]This we will do to them; we will even let them live, lest wrath be upon us, because of the oath which we sware unto them.

21 And the princes said unto them, Let them live; but let them be [l]hewers of wood and drawers of water unto all the congregation; as the princes had promised them.

22 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-ă called for them, and he spake unto them, saying, [m]Wherefore have ye beguiled us, saying, We are very far from you; when ye dwell among us?

23 Now therefore ye are cursed, and there shall none of you be freed from being bondmen, and [d]hewers of wood and drawers of water for the house of my God.

24 And they answered Jŏsh'u-ă, and said, [b]Because it was certainly told thy servants, how that the LORD thy God commanded his servant Mō'şĕş to give you all the land, and to destroy all the inhabitants of the land from before you, therefore we were sore afraid of our lives because of you, and have done this thing.

25 And now, behold, [c]we are in thine hand: as it seemeth good and right unto thee to do unto us, do.

26 And [d]so did he unto them, and delivered them out of the hand of the children of Ĭs'ra-el, that they slew them not.

27 And Jŏsh'u-ă made them that day hewers of wood and drawers of water for the congregation, and for the altar of the LORD, even unto this day, in the place which [e]he should choose.

CHAPTER 10 197

8 Victory at Gibeon: (1) Confederacy against Gibeon

NOW it came to pass, when Ă-dō'nĭ-zĕ'dĕc king of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm had [f]heard how Jŏsh'u-ă had taken Ă'ĭ, and had utterly destroyed it; as he had done to Jĕr'ĭ-chō and her king, so he had done to Ă'ĭ and her king; and how the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-on had made peace with Ĭs'ra-el, and were among them;

2 That they feared greatly, because Gĭb'e-on was a great city, as one of the royal cities, and because it was greater than Ă'ĭ, and all the men thereof were mighty.

3 Wherefore Ă-dō'nĭ-zĕ'dĕc king of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm sent unto Hō'hăm king of Hĕ'bron, and unto Pi'ram king of Jär'mŭth, and unto Jă-phi'ă king of Lă'chish, and unto Dĕ'bĭr king of Eg'lŏn, saying,

4 Come up unto me, and help me, that we may smite Gĭb'e-on: for it hath made peace with Jŏsh'u-ă and with the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

5 Therefore the [g]five kings of the Am'ŏr-ites, the king of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, the king of Hĕ'bron, the king of Jär'mŭth, the king of Lă'chish, the king of Eg'lŏn, gathered themselves together, and went up, they and all their hosts, and encamped before Gĭb'e-on, and made war against it.

(2) Gibeon appeals to Joshua for help

6 ¶ And the men of Gĭb'e-on sent unto Jŏsh'u-ă to the camp to Gĭl'găl, saying, Slack not thy hand from thy servants; come up to us quickly, and save us, and help us: for all the kings of the Am'ŏr-ites that dwell in the mountains are gathered together against us.

7 So Jŏsh'u-ă ascended from a The disgrace of this state was not so much the labor itself, but because it was the work of females in most nations round about. Hence, strong men of war, men of fame and honor were reduced to the status of women. Such condemnation of these and all their posterity forever instead of being received as allies was something hard to take. Men of their standing would surely be in fear of their lives and desire life more than anything else to allow themselves to be so reduced to slavery and dishonor (v 21,23,27). It is understandable when it is said that they were cursed (v 23)

b What God had commanded Moses concerning the inhabitants of the land was surely well known. They were definitely marked for total destruction for their sins and because of the giant races, and the purpose of Satan through them to keep the Seed of the woman from coming into the world. It was necessary for God to preserve pure Adamite stock through whom Christ should come, so that redemption could be completed and His eternal program continued

c This was complete humiliation - proud, independent men surrendering all rights and privileges, submitting to anything the conquerors would desire to do to them (v 25)

d It appears here that this was the only plan that satisfied the Israelites in general who wanted to destroy the Gibeonites and take their spoil (v 18-19, 26). Whether the Israelites murmured merely because they were deprived of the spoils is something that is not clear, but that could have been part of the trouble (v 18). If, by this time, they were influenced by a covetous spirit, it was good to have such a disappointment

e The hewers of wood and drawers of water supplied the altar and the tabernacle with wood and water (v 27)

f This is the first time the word king is found in Scripture in connection with Jerusalem; but it is used 86 times otherwise, with other cities, before this. Once in the N.T. Melchizedek is called king of Salem, which was the ancient name of Jerusalem (Heb. 7:1-3; Gen. 14:18; Ps. 76:2). The word Adonizedec (v 1) means Lord of righteousness which is the same in meaning as king of righteousness, used of Melchizedek. These were the official names of the kings of Jerusalem. Here is the first time Jerusalem is mentioned in Scripture. It means city of peace, or foundation of peace. It is one of the ironies of history that the city with such a name has seen so little peace and that for its possession rivers of blood have been shed. It was originally also called Jebus (Judg. 19:10-11; 1 Chr. 4:5; 2 Sam. 5:6-9). This was the old name of Jerus. It is called Jebusi (Judg. 18:16, 28); Ariel (Isa. 29:1); the city of righteousness (Isa. 1:26); and holy city (Isa. 48:2; 52:1; Neh. 11:1). David captured the city from the Jebusites and made it the capital of united Israel (2 Sam. 5:6-9). It remained the capital until the division of the kingdom about 1,000 B.C. Jerusalem then continued to be the capital of Judah until 616 B.C. when it was destroyed by Nebuchadnezzar. It became the capital of Israel again about 546 B.C. and remained so until the nation and city were destroyed by the Romans in 70 A.D. Jerusalem has undergone no less than 28 sieges from Joshua's time to our day, 10 sieges being from Joshua to Nebuchadnezzar (Judg. 1:8; 2 Sam. 5:6-10; 1 Ki. 14:25; 2 Ki. 18:13-19:37; 2 Chr. 21:16-17; 28:5-15; 36:1-2). In the period between the close of the O.T. to 70 A.D. it was besieged 10 times. Since then it has been besieged 8 times to 1917 A.D., 9 times if we consider the recent war between the Jews and Arabs. Jerusalem has a future as the capital of Israel and of the Antichrist (Ezek. 37; Dan. 9:27-11:40-45; 2 Th. 2:3-4; Rev. 11:1-11), and as the eternal capital in the reign of Jesus Christ (Isa. 2; Ezek. 48; Joel 3; Amos 9:9-15; Oba. 15-21; Mic. 4; Zech. 14)

g 9 things king of Jerusalem heard of:
1 The destruction of Jericho (v 1)
2 The destruction of Ai
3 The surrender of Gibeon

h This was a mistake, for they needed to save themselves to fight Israel; but it gave Joshua the occasion for his next move (v 5-15)

Gĭl'găl, he, and all the people of war with him, and all the mighty men of valour.

(3) Threefold victory. A Israel's part

8 [c]And the LORD said unto Jŏsh'u-á, Fear them not: for I have delivered them into thine hand; there shall not a man of them stand before thee.●

9 Jŏsh'u-á therefore came unto them [b]suddenly, and went up from Gĭl'găl all night.

B God's part: 4th miracle - great hail from heaven

10 And the [c]LORD discomfited them before Ĭs'ra-el, and slew them with a great slaughter at Gĭb'e-on, and chased them along the way that goeth up to Bĕth-hŏ'rŏn, and smote them to Â-zé'kah, and unto Măk-ké'dah.

11 And it came to pass, as they fled from before Ĭs'ra-el, and were in the going down to Bĕth-hŏ'rŏn, that the LORD cast down great stones from heaven upon them unto Â-zé'kah, and they died: they were more which died with [d]hailstones than they whom the children of Ĭs'ra-el slew with the sword.

C God's part: 5th miracle - earth stopped revolving for a day

●12 ¶ Then spake Jŏsh'u-á to the LORD in the day when the LORD delivered up the Âm'ŏr-ites before the children of Ĭs'ra-el, and he said in the sight of Ĭs'ra-el, [e]Sun, [l]stand thou still upon Gĭb'e-on; and thou, Moon, in the valley of [g]Âj'a-lŏn.

13 [h]And the sun stood [l]still, and the moon [l]stayed, [k]until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. [l]Is not this written in the [m]book of Jā'shēr? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day.

14 And there was [n]no day like that before it or after it, that the LORD hearkened unto the voice of a man: for the LORD fought for Ĭs'ra-el.

(4) Victory over the five kings

15 ¶ [o]And Jŏsh'u-á returned, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto the camp to Gĭl'găl.

16 But these five kings fled, and hid themselves in a cave at Măk-ké'dah.

17 And it was told Jŏsh'u-á, saying, The five kings are found hid in a cave at Măk-ké'dah.

18 And Jŏsh'u-á said, Roll great stones upon the mouth of the cave, and set men by it for to keep them:

19 And stay ye not, but pursue after your enemies, and smite the hindmost of them; suffer them not to enter into their cities: for the LORD your God hath delivered them into your hand.

20 And it came to pass, when Jŏsh'u-á and the children of Ĭs'ra-el had made an end of slaying them with a very great slaughter, [e]till they were consumed, that the rest which remained of them entered into fenced cities.

21 And all the people [b]returned to the camp to Jŏsh'u-á at Măk-ké'dah in peace: [c]none moved his tongue against any of the children of Ĭs'ra-el.

22 Then said Jŏsh'u-á, [d]Open the mouth of the cave, and bring out those five kings unto me out of the cave.

23 And they did so, and brought forth those [e]five kings unto him out of the cave, the king of Jĕ-ru'să-lĕm, the king of Hē'bron, the king of Jär'mŭth, the king of Lā'chish, and the king of Ĕg'lŏn.

●24 And it came to pass, when they brought out those kings unto Jŏsh'u-á, that Jŏsh'u-á called for all the men of Ĭs'ra-el, and said unto the captains of the men of war which went with him, [f]Come near, put your feet upon the necks of these kings. And they came near, and put their feet upon the necks of them.

25 [f]And Jŏsh'u-á said unto them, Fear not, nor be dismayed, be strong and of good courage: for thus shall the LORD do to all your enemies against whom ye fight.

26 And afterward Jŏsh'u-á smote them, and slew them, and hanged them on five trees: and they were hanging upon the trees [k]until the evening.

27 And it came to pass at the time of the going down of the sun, that Jŏsh'u-á commanded, and they took them down off the trees, and cast them into the cave wherein they had been hid, and laid great stones in the cave's mouth, which remain until this very day.

9 Victory at Makkedah

28 ¶ And that day Jŏsh'u-á took [i]Măk-kē'dah, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof he [j]utterly destroyed, them, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain: and he did to the king of Măk-kē'dah as he did unto the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

10 Victory at Libnah

29 Then Jŏsh'u-á passed from Măk-kē'dah, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto [k]Lĭb'nah, and fought against Lĭb'nah:

30 And the [l]LORD delivered it also, and the king thereof, into the hand of Ĭs'ra-el; and he smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein; he let none remain in it; but did unto the king thereof as he did unto the king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō.

11 Victory at Lachish

31 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-á passed from [m]Lĭb'nah, and all Ĭs'ra-el with him, unto [n]Lā'chish, and encamped against it, and fought against it:

32 And the LORD delivered Lā'chish into the hand of Ĭs'- a No doubt Joshua inquired of the Lord before making this move, having learned the hard way to do this in all things (v 8. Cp. v 14)

2 things God did in this battle:
1 Discomfited the enemies enabling Israel to get a speedy victory and slay them (v 10)
2 Cast down great hailstones from heaven so that more died from the miraculous hail than from the sword of Israel (v 11)

Hailstones of unusual size have been known to fall even in more recent times. It has been reported that on the Upper Rhine, in 1492, one fell which weighed 260 lbs.; in 1510 near Padua, Italy about 1,200 stones fell, some weighing 120 lbs.; in 1762 near Verona there were some weighing 200 to 300 lbs.

d 2 miraculous hailstorms of history:
1 Upon Egypt (Ex. 9:18-10:15; Ps. 78:47)
2 In this battle (v 11)

4 miraculous hailstorms of prophecy:
1 During the 1st trumpet (Rev. 8:7)
2 During the 7th trumpet (Rev. 12:19)
3 During the 7th vial (Rev. 16:17-21)
4 During Armageddon (Ezek. 38:17-22)

e The first time man commanded the solar system to stand still, and it obeyed (v 12-13). At another time, God hearkened to Hezekiah and turned the solar system backward 10 degrees (2 Ki. 20:9-11; Isa. 38:8)

f Heb. daman, from damah, to be dumb; be silent; stop: cease; hold peace; quiet self; rest; stand; still; tarry; wait (v 12). The sun and moon doing this caused the earth to stop revolving, indicating they either stopped their influences on the earth and continued exercising their influences on other planets or all of them stood still for a whole day (v 12-13)

g Ajalon was a city in a valley of the same name, between Jerusalem and Ekron (v 12; 2 Chr. 28:18). There was also a town so-called in the portion of Zebulon which site is now unknown (19:42). It was over the valley that Joshua saw the moon coming up at the time the sun was setting over Gibeon, when he commanded both to stay where they were, and God hearkened to the voice of man on this memorable day (v 14)

k Until - a whole day more of fighting (v 13-14). This was a miracle in itself, at least a great feat of strength by the quickening of God in the army of Joshua, for they were up and fighting three whole days and one night:
1 The day news came to Joshua (v 6)
2 The night of march (v 9)
3 The day of battle (v 10-11)
4 The extra day of battle when the sun did not go down (v 12-14)

l Question 14. Next, 15:18

m This is variously translated in different versions: The book of Jasher, of the Just, of the Pious, of the Upright, of the Songs, of Heroes, of the Righteous, and in the true Records. It is not mentioned in the Sept. The book of Jasher is referred to twice in Scripture - here and in 2 Sam. 1:18. It is said to be a collection of triumphal odes composed by different men to celebrate their signal victories, or by one man (Jasher) who wrote of such victories

n No day when the sun and planets were stopped that long, but they did turn backward 10 degrees (2 Ki. 20:9-11)

o This verse, which is exactly like v 43, is omitted in the Sept. Evidently a copyist, permitting his eyes to glance at v 43, copied it then continued with v 16; or it could be that v 15 should read came to Makkedah (as in v 21) where Joshua set up a temporary camp while the work of v 16-42 was carried on, after which he returned to Gilgal a Until all they could catch were destroyed. The remnant entered walled cities to tell the story (v 20)

b This should help explain v 15 where it is said that Joshua and all Israel returned to the camp at Gilgal, which perhaps should be Makkedah, as here (v 21)

c This expression found in similar form in Ex. 11:7, means that the events happened so fast and were so divinely executed that all knew that God was supernaturally fighting for Israel on that day and were in great fear of Israel as well as God. With great hailstones falling from heaven to destroy thousands, the sun and moon standing still a whole day, and so many other strange things happening, Israel's enemies did not know what to expect next (v 21)

d 7 commands - conquest of Canaan:
1 Sun, stand still upon Gibeon; and moon in the valley of Ajalon (v 12)

e In the battle of Ai only one king was captured and brought before Joshua (8:23, 29). Now 5 were brought to him. He hung the first, but killed these and then hung them upon trees until evening (v 23-27). Counting the one at Jericho this made 7 kings destroyed thus far (8:23, 29; 10:1, 23-27; 12:9-12)

i Makkedah became Judah's in the division of Canaan. It was about 14 miles southwest of Jerusalem (v 10, 16-17, 21, 28-29; 12:16; 15:41). The place was not very prominent, being mentioned only in these scriptures

k Libnah became the possession of Judah. It was but a village as late as the 4th century of the Christian era; its ruins have since disappeared (v 29-39; 12:15; 15:42). It was one of the cities given to the priests (Josh. 21:13; 1 Chr. 6:57). In the reign of Joram its inhabitants joined the Edomites in a revolt against Judah (2 Ki. 8:22; 2 Chr. 21:10). It was besieged by Sennacherib in Hezekiah's reign (2 Ki. 19:8; Isa. 37:8). The daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah was the wife of Josiah and the mother of Jehoahaz and Zedekiah (2 Ki. 23:31; 24:18; Jer. 52:1). Libnah was about 10 miles southeast of Lachish. There was another Libnah in the wilderness between Rimmon-perez and Rissah (Num. 33:20-21), which was probably the Laban of Dt. 1:1

n Lachish, about 35 miles southwest of Jerusalem, became a city of Judah (v 3, 5, 23, 31-35; 12:11; 15:39). It was abandoned about 400 B.C. Lachish was destroyed and rebuilt several times. It was fortified by Rehoboam (2 Chr. 11:5-9). Amaziah fled there where he was followed and killed (2 Ki. 14:19). It was besieged by Sennacherib in the reign of Hezekiah (2 Ki. 18:13-17; 19:8; 2 Chr. 32:9; Isa. 36:2; 37:8) and was conquered by Nebuchadnezzar (Jer. 34:7; Neh. 11:30). Recent explorations show that it was once a strong city

c Gezer, supposedly located near Azotus in Philistia, was formerly under the suzerainty of Egypt (1 Chr. 20:4). It was taken by Joshua (v 33; 12:12) and given to the Levites (21:21; 1 Chr. 6:67; 7:28). Gezer did not remain conquered (Judg. 1:29); it warred against David with the Philistines (1 Chr. 20:4); then it was taken by Egypt in Solomon's reign (1 Ki. 9:15-17). There was another Gezer in Ephraim (16:3)

12 Victory at Gezer

33 ¶ Then Ho'ram king of Ge'zer came up to help La'chish; and Josh'u-a smote him and his people, until he had left him none remaining.

13 Victory at Eglon

34 ¶ And from La'chish Josh'u-a passed unto Eg'lon, and all Is'ra-el with him; and they encamped against it, and fought against it:

35 And they took it on that day, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and all the souls that were therein he utterly destroyed that day, according to all that he had done to La'chish.

14 Victory at Hebron

37 And they took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and the king thereof, and all the cities thereof, and all the souls that were therein; he left none remaining, according to all that he had done to Eg'lon; but destroyed it utterly, and all the souls that were therein.

15 Victory at Debir

16 Final southern victories

40 ¶ So Josh'u-a smote all the country of the hills, and of the south, and of the vale, and of the springs, and all their kings: he left none remaining, but utterly destroyed all that breathed, as the LORD God of Is'ra-el commanded.

41 And Josh'u-a smote them from Ka'desh-bar'ne-a even unto Ga'za, and all the country of Go'shen, even unto Gib'e-on.

42 And all these kings and their land did Josh'u-a take at one time, because the LORD God of Is'ra-el fought for Is'ra-el.

43 And Josh'u-a returned, and all Is'ra-el with him, unto the camp to Gil'gal.

AND it came to pass, when Ja'bin king of Ha'zor had heard those things, that he sent to Jo'bab king of Ma'don, and to the king of Shim'ron, and to the king of Ach'shaph,

2 And to the kings that were on the north of the mountains, and of the plains south of Chin'ne-roth, and in the valley, and in the borders of Dor on the west,

3 And to the Ca'na-an-ite on the east and on the west, and to the Am'or-ite, and the Hit'tite, and the Per'iz-zite, and the Jeb'u-site in the mountains, and to the Hi'vite under Her'mon in the land of Miz'peh.

4 And they went out, they and all their hosts with them, much people, even as the sand that is upon the sea shore in multitude, with horses and chariots very many.

5 And when all these kings were met together, they came and pitched together at the waters of Me'rom, to fight against Is'ra-el.

6 ¶ And the LORD said unto Josh'u-a, Be not afraid because of them: for to morrow about this time will I deliver them up all slain before Is'ra-el: thou shalt hough their horses, and burn their chariots with fire.

7 So Josh'u-a came, and all the people of war with him, against them by the waters of Me'rom suddenly; and they fell upon them.

8 And the LORD delivered them into the hand of Is'ra-el, who smote them, and chased them unto great Zi'don, and unto Mis're-photh-ma'im, and unto the valley of Miz'peh eastward; and they smote them, until they left them none remaining.

9 And Josh'u-a did unto them as the LORD bade him: he houghed their horses, and burnt their chariots with fire.

18 Victory at Hazor

10 ¶ And Josh'u-a at that time turned back, and took Ha'zor, and smote the king thereof with the sword: for Ha'zor beforetime was the head of all those kingdoms.

11 And they smote all the souls that were therein with the edge of the sword, utterly destroying them: there was not any left to breathe: and he burnt Ha'zor with fire.

19 Full extent of Joshua's victories

12 And all the cities of those kings, and all the kings of them, did Josh'u-a take, and smote them with the edge of the sword, and he utterly destroyed them, as Mo'ses the servant of the LORD commanded.

13 But as for the cities that stood still in their strength, Is'ra-el burned none of them, save Ha'zor only; that did Josh'u-a burn.

14 And all the spoil of these cities, and the cattle, the children of Is'ra-el took for a prey unto themselves; but every man they smote with the edge a This expression, it came to pass is found 430 times in Scripture. A term prominent in the historical sections of the Bible, it is used only 45 times in 17 projected books. The expression, it shall come to pass is a prophetical term found 123 times. It is used in prophetical sections of the historical books and appears 75 times in 17 prophetical books

b Jabin (a common name of the kings of Hazor) was the leader in organizing the northern confederacy of Palestine against Israel (v 1-5) c Hazor, head of the kingdoms of Canaan (v 10), was perhaps located near the lake of Merom (v 1, 10-13; 12:19; 15:23-25; 19:36). Hazor was destroyed by Joshua (v 11), but was rebuilt. It then defeated Israel, but was defeated again by Deborah and Barak (Judg. 4-5). It was in the Naphtali portion (19:36); was a fortified city of Solomon (1 Ki. 9:15); and was later taken by Assyria (2 Ki. 15:29). This was not the Hazor in Judah (15:23-25); the one in Benjamin (Neh. 11:33); or the one in Arabia (Jer. 49:28, 33)
d This could refer to the defeat of Jericho, Ai, and all the southern kings of Palestine and include the wonders of God in Egypt, the miraculous things of the wilderness wanderings, the defeat of Sihon and Og on the east of Jordan, and the miracle of crossing the Jordan. All these things were well known to the inhabitants of Canaan (2:9-10; 5:1; 9:9-10; 10:1-2)

5 A Benjamite named in 1 Chr. 8:18
f Madon, a Canaanite city of unknown location (v 1; 12:19)
g Shimron, a Canaanite city of unknown location given to Zebulun (v 1; 19:15). Also the name of a son of Issachar (Gen. 46:13; Num. 26:24) and called Shimrom (1 Chr. 7:1)
h Achshaph, a city of Canaanites of unknown location (v 1; 12:20; 19:25)
i Chinneroth was afterward called the Lake of Gennesaret (Mt. 14:34; Mk. 6:53; Lk. 5:1), the Sea of Tiberias (Jn. 6:1, 23; 21:1), and more commonly the Sea of Galilee (Mt. 4:18; 15:29; Mk. 1:16; 7:31; Jn. 6:1)

l A land (v 3) and valley (v 8) in north Palestine, not the Mizpeh of Gilead (13:26; Judg. 11:29); not the one in Judah (15:38); or the one in Moab (1 Sam. 22:3) m 15fold sum of the new confederacy:
1 Jabin, king of Hazor (v 1)
2 Jobab, king of Madan

6 The kings of the plains south of Chinneroth (Sea of Galilee, v 2)
7 The kings in the valley
8 The kings on the border of Dor on the west
9 The kings of the Canaanites on the east and west (v 3)
10 The kings of the Amorites
11 The kings of the Hittites
12 The kings of the Perizzites
13 The kings of the Jebusites in the mountains
14 The kings of the Hivites under Hermon in the land of Mizpeh 15 All their hosts as the sand of the sea for multitude, with horses and many chariots (v 4) n Josephus says that the allied armies numbered 300,000 footmen, 10,000 horsemen, and 20,000 chariots which would indicate at least 30,000 horses (v 4). Canaanites are said to have armed their chariots with scythes fastened to poles and wheels which made terrible havoc of infantry as they were furiously driven through their ranks. The Israelites possessed infantry only and they would have been defeated if God had not helped them o Horses and chariots are mentioned a number of times before this (Ex. 14:9, 23; Dt. 11:4; 20:1) of the sword, until they had destroyed them, neither left they any to breathe.

15 ¶ As the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ his servant, so did Mō'ṣeṣ command Jŏsh'u-ā, and so did Jŏsh'u-ā; he left nothing undone of all that the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

16 So Jŏsh'u-ā took all that land, the hills, and all the south country, and all the land of Gō'shen, and the valley, and the plain, and the mountain of Iṣ'ra-el, and the valley of the same;

17 Even from the mount Hā'lāk, that goeth up to Sē'ir, even unto Bā'al-gād in the valley of Lĕb'a-non under mount Hēr'mon: and all their kings he took, and smote them, and slew them.

18 Jŏsh'u-ā made war a long time with all those kings.

19 There was not a city that made peace with the children of Iṣ'ra-el, save the Hi'vites the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-on: all other they took in battle.

20 For it was of the LORD to harden their hearts, that they should come against Iṣ'ra-el in battle, that he might destroy them utterly, and that they might have no favour, but that he might destroy them, as the LORD commanded Mō'ṣeṣ.

21 ¶ And at that time came Jŏsh'u-ā, and cut off the Ăn'a-kĭms from the mountains, from Hē'bron, from Dē'bir, from Ă'nāb, and from all the mountains of Jū'dah, and from all the mountains of Iṣ'ra-el: Jŏsh'u-ā destroyed them utterly with their cities.

22 There was none of the Ăn'a-kĭms left in the land of the children of Iṣ'ra-el: only in Gā'zā, in Gāth, and in Ăsh'dŏd, there remained.

23 So Jŏsh'u-ā took the whole land, according to all that the LORD said unto Mō'ṣeṣ; and Jŏsh'u-ā gave it for an inheritance unto Iṣ'ra-el according to their divisions by their tribes. And the land rested from war.

CHAPTER 12 199

V Roster of conquered kings. 1 Two kings east of Jordan (Num. 21:21-35)

NOW these are the kings of the land, which the children of Iṣ'ra-el smote, and possessed their land on the other side Jôr'dan toward the rising of the sun, from the river Ăr'nŏn unto mount Hēr'mon, and all the plain on the east:

2 Sī'hŏn king of the Ăm'ŏr-ītes, who dwelt in Hĕsh'bŏn, and ruled from Ăr'ō-ēr, which is upon the bank of the river Ăr'nŏn, and from the middle of the river, and from half Gĭl'e-ăd, even unto the river Jăb'bŏk, which is the border of the children of Ăm'mŏn;

3 And from the plain to the sea of Chĭn'ne-rŏth on the east, and unto the sea of the plain, even the salt sea on the east, the way to Bĕth-jĕsh'ĭ-mŏth; and from the south, under Ăsh'dŏth-pĭs'gah:

4 ¶ And the coast of Ōg king of Bā'shăn, which was of the remnant of the giants, that dwelt at Ăsh'ta-rŏth and at Ĕd're-ī,

5 And reigned in mount Hēr'mon, and in Sā'lcah, and in all Bā'shăn, unto the border of the Gĕsh'u-rites and the Mā-ăch'a-thītes, and half Gĭl'e-ăd, the border of Sī'hŏn king of Hĕsh'bŏn.

6 Them did Mō'ṣeṣ the servant of the LORD and the children of Iṣ'ra-el smite: and Mō'ṣeṣ the servant of the LORD gave it for a possession unto the Reu'ben-ites, and the Găd'ītes, and the half tribe of Mā-năs'seh.

2 Thirty-one kings of Canaan

7 ¶ And these are the kings of the country which Jŏsh'u-ā and the children of Iṣ'ra-el smote on this side Jôr'dan on the west, from Bā'al-gād in the valley of Lĕb'a-non even unto the mount Hā'lāk, that goeth up to Sē'ir; which Jŏsh'u-ā gave unto the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el for a possession according to their divisions;

8 In the mountains, and in the valleys, and in the plains, and in the springs, and in the wilderness, and in the south country; the Hĭt'tītes, the Ăm'ôr-ites, and the Că'năan-ites, the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, the Hī'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sites:

9 ¶ The king of Jĕr'ĭ-chō, one; the king of Ă'ī, which is beside Bĕth'-el, one;

10 The king of Jĕ-ru'sa-lĕm, one; the king of Hē'bron, one;

11 The king of Jär'mŭth, one; the king of Lā'chish, one;

12 The king of Ĕg'lŏn, one; the king of Gĕ'zĕr, one;

13 The king of Dē'bir, one; the king of Gĕ'dĕr, one;

14 The king of Hôr'mah, one; the king of Ă'răd, one;

15 The king of Lĭb'nah, one; the king of Ă-dŭl'lăm, one;

16 The king of Măk-kē'dah, one; the king of Bĕth'-el, one;

17 The king of Tăp'pu-ah, one; the king of Hē'phĕr, one;

18 The king of Ă'phek, one; the king of La-shăr'on, one;

19 The king of Mā'dŏn, one; the king of Hā'zôr, one;

20 The king of Shĭm'ron-mē'ron, one; the king of Ăch'shăph, one;

21 The king of Tā'a-năch, one; the king of Mĕ-gĭd'dō, one;

22 The king of Kĕ'desh, one; the king of Jŏk'ne-ăm of Căr'mel, one;

23 The king of Dôr in the coast of Dôr, one; the king of the nations of Gĭl'găl, one;

24 The king of Tĭr'zah, one; all the kings thirty and one.

CHAPTER 13 200

VI Division of the land (Josh. 13:1-21:45). 1 God's message concerning general divisions (13:1-14:5). (1) Unconquered southern lands

NOW Jŏsh'u-ā was old and stricken in years; and the LORD said unto him, Thou art old and stricken in years, and a 10fold summary of conquests:

1 Joshua took all that land (v 16)
2 The hills
3 All the south country
4 All the land of Goshen
5 The valley of the plain
6 The mountain of Israel
7 The valley of the same
8 From mount Halak to Seir (v 17)
9 Unto Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon under mount Hermon 10 All the kings he took and slew them

b The hill country of Judea (v 16; 10:40)

c The Negeb, the south country (v 16; 10:40; 12:8; 15:3) d An unknown district of south Canaan in Judah which was distinct from the hill country, the Negeb, and the Shephelah (v 16; 10:41; 11:16) and in which the town of Goshen was located (15:51)

e The low country of Canaan (v 16) or the many-valleys of the land

f This may refer to one plain well known to the writer in that day, or to the many plains in the land (v 16; 3:16; 8:14; 12:1, 3; Gen. 13:10-18; 14:13; 19:17-29; Dt. 3:10-17; 4:43-49; 34:3)

g What particular mountain, if any, is referred to is not clear. It may be all the many mountains and their valleys (v 16)

h This was the limit of Israel's conquest on the south to the northern limits near mount Hermon (v 17; 12:7-8)

i Many days, about 5 years, for Caleb was 40 years old when the 12 spies were sent into Canaan before the 40 years of wandering, and he was 85 years old at the end of these wars (14:10-15)

j See 9:1-11:23

k It was as necessary to destroy them for sin (Lev. 18:24-28) and because of the giant races and the satanic effort to do away with pure Adamite stock through whom the Seed of the woman should come, as it was necessary to destroy the inhabitants of the earth at the time of Noah's flood. See Giants, p. 62

l See Dt. 7:2; 12:2; 20:17

m These were the giants that filled the land, descendants of the sons of God and the daughters of men (v 21; Giants, p. 62)

n The fact that several places all over Canaan are mentioned here indicates that the giants were scattered far and wide instead of dwelling in only one part of the land (v 21). The fact that Joshua utterly destroyed them and their cities (v 21), and did not destroy all the cities of ordinary men (v 13; 10:39) proves that the giants were dealt with even more severely than the others. Some of the giants were left only in Gaza, Gath, and Ashdod (v 22)

o This was after a war lasting 5 years (note 1, above)

p In this chapter we have a complete roster of the 33 kings whom Joshua and Israel defeated - 2 from the east side of Jordan and 31 from the west side (v 24)

q 2 kings on the east of Jordan:
1 Sihon, the giant king of the Amorites who ruled from the river Arnon on the south, which was the border of Moab, to the river Jabbok on the north, which was the boundary of Ammon and Og and Bashan (v 1-3)
2 Og, the giant king of Bashan who reigned from the river Jabbok on the south to mount Hermon on the north (v 4-6)

r Aroer was located on the northern edge of the valley through which flowed the river Arnon, the boundary between Moab and Sihon's kingdom which extended northward to the river Jabbok (v 9; 12:2; 13:9, 16; Dt. 2:36; 3:12; 4:48; Judg. 11:26, 33; 1 Sam. 30:28; 2 Sam. 24:5; 2 Ki. 10:33; 1 Chr. 5:8; Isa. 17:2; Jer. 48:19). It was repaired by Israel after it was taken from Sihon (Num. 32:34). There was an Aroer in Gilead (13:25), and one in Judah (1 Sam. 30:28)

s Sihon claimed only the portion from the middle of the river Arnon; Moab owned the other half (v 2)

t Tirzah, a city south of Samaria which became the residence of a number of kings of Israel (v 24; 1 Ki. 14:17; 15:21, 33; 16:6-23; 2 Ki. 15:14-16; Song 6:4). Other cities in this list have been previously dealt with. See Index u Joshua lived to be 110 years of age (24:29), remaining alive after entrance into Canaan about 30 years (v 1) a See study on Giants, p. 62

b For the defeat of these 2 giant kings, see Num. 21:21-35; Dt. 2:26-3:13

c See note n, Dt. 34:5

d See Num. 32:1-42; Dt. 3:15-29

e Here we have the repeated bounds of the conquests on the west side of Jordan - from Baal-gad in the valley of Lebanon on the north to mount Halak on the south, and between the river Jordan on the east and the Mediterranean Sea on the west (v 7-8; 10:17)

f This verse helps us understand 10:16 - all the mountains instead of only the mountain of Israel; all the valleys instead of the valley only; all the plains instead of the plain; and all the springs, all the wilderness, and all the south country (v 7-8)

g 31 kings on the west of Jordan: King of

1 Jericho (v 9)	17 Tappuah (v 17)
2 Ai	18 Hepher
3 Jerusalem (v 10)	19 Aphek (v 18)
4 Hebron	20 Lasharon
5 Jarmuth (v 11)	21 Madon (v 19)
6 Lachish	22 Hazor (v 20)
7 Eglon (v 12)	23 Shimron-meron
8 Gezer	24 Ach-shaph
9 Debir (v 13)	25 Taa-nach (v 21)
10 Geder	26 Megiddo
11 Hormah (v 14)	27 Kedesh (v 22)
12 Arad	28 Jokneam of Carmel
13 Libnah (v 15)
14 Adullam	29 Dor (v 23)
15 Makkedah (v 16)	30 Gilgal
16 Bethel	31 Tirzah (v 24)

These with the 2 kings from the east side of Jordan - Sihon and Og, made a total of 33

h Jarmuth, a city of Canaan given to Judah (v 11; 10:3-5; 12:11; 15:35; Neh. 11:29). There was another Jarmuth in Issachar (21:29)

i Geder (only here, v 13), called Gedor in 15:58; 1 Chr. 4:39, and was located in Judah

j Hormah, a city of south Canaan where Israel was defeated after their rebellion at Kadesh. Now it was conquered (v 14; 12:14; 15:30; 19:4; Num. 14:45; 21:3; Dt. 1:44; Judg. 1:17; 1 Sam. 30:30; 1 Chr. 4:30)

k Arad, a city about 15 miles south of Hebron, still bearing its old name (v 14; Judg. 1:16)

l Adullam, a city in Judah (v 15; 15:35). David escaped and made headquarters in a cave here (1 Sam. 22:1; 2 Sam. 23:13; 1 Chr. 11:15). Rehoboam fortified it (2 Chr. 11:7. See Neh. 11:30; Mic. 1:15). It was an ancient place (Gen. 38:1, 12, 20) m Bethel, house of God, a city on the border of Benjamin and Ephraim (v 16; 16:1-2; 18:22). A place where Abraham offered sacrifice (Gen. 12:8; 13:3). It was about 14 miles north of Jerusalem, and was originally called Luz. Jacob made his vow here (Gen. 28:18-19; 31:13; 35:1-16). Bethel had to be re-conquered (Judg. 1:22; 2:1). It became a center of worship (1 Sam. 7:16; 10:3). After the division of the kingdom Israel it became famous and was a rival of Jerusalem (1 Ki. 12:29-33; 13:1-32)

n Tappuah. There were 2 cities by this name - one in Judah (15:34) and another in Ephraim (15:53). Which one is referred to here is not known (v 17)

o An unidentified city in Canaan (v 17). It may have been the Ophrah of 18:23 p Aphek. There were 3 cities called Aphek; one in Asher (19:30); one in Judah (1 Sam. 4:1; 29:1); and one in Syria (1 Ki. 20:26; 2 Ki. 13:17). Which one (of those in Canaan) is referred to here is not clear (v 18)

q La-sharon, an unknown city, but may be Sharon (Song 2:1; Isa. 33:9; 35:2; 65:10)

r Taanach, a city in Manasseh near Megiddo; assigned to Levites (v 21; 17:11; 21:25; Judg. 5:19)

s Megiddo, a city near Taanach northwest of Jerusalem (v 21; 17:11; Judg. 1:27; 5:19; 1 Ki. 4:12; 9:15; 2 Ki. 9:27; 23:29-30; 2 Chr. 35:22)

t Kedesh, a city given to Naphtali and assigned to the Levites. Also a city of refuge (v 22; 19:37; 20:7; 21:32; Judg. 4:9-11; 1 Ki. 15:29; 1 Chr. 6:72, 76)

u Jokneam, a city at the foot of mount Carmel on the river Belus in Zebulun (v 22; 19:11; 1 Ki. 4:12). It was given to Levites (21:34)

v This refers to a king over certain tribes who considered Gilgal as their capital (v 23)

a Here we have the beginning of the second half of the book, the second portion of its subject matter. Chapters 1-12 are devoted to the conquest of the land west of Jordan and the listing of all the kings conquered by Joshua and Israel in 5 years of war. Chapters 13-24 record the instructions to Joshua to divide the conquered land west of Jordan and the obedience to God's command and concerning this, the first cause of civil strife between the tribes on the east and west of Jordan, the last counsels and charge to Israel, and the death of Joshua. God began His new instructions to Joshua pointing out that after 5 years of war there was much land to be possessed and he should proceed to allot all that was on the west of Jordan to the 9 1/2 tribes, the 2 1/2 tribes having already received their portion on the east side. Israel was to have faith in God that, in due time, He would perfect the expulsion of the Canaanites which Joshua, himself could not carry out any further before the settlement of the present possessions (11:23)

k Here we have the borders of the inheritance of the 2 1/2 tribes east of Jordan - all the land from Arnon on the south to mount Hermon and that of the Geshurites and Maachathites on the north, and from Jordan on the west to the land of the Ammonites on the east, all the kingdoms of Sihon and Og who were of the giant races (v 9-12)

m Since no city could be in the midst of a river we are to understand this to mean that it was in the midst of the valley through which the river flowed (v 9). The Sept. reads, "that city which is in the midst of the vale." Aroer was on the bank of Arnon (v 9, 16) and the other city in the midst of the valley n Nevertheless - regardless of Israel's marvelous successes in conquest they failed to expel the Geshurites and Maachathites who still dwelled among Israel to the day of this writing (v 13)

o One tribe of Geshurites near Philistia was invaded by David (1 Sam. 27:8), but most of these people were northwest and east of Palestine, near Syria (note b, 13:2) p Maachathites were a small Syrian kingdom adjoining that of Geshur (v 11-13; 12:5; Dt. 3:14; 2 Sam. 23:34; 2 Ki. 25:23; 1 Chr. 4:19; Jer. 40:8)

q Levites were promised no inheritance as a definite portion among the 12 tribes. They were allotted cities and suburbs in various tribes of Israel (21:1-45) there[a] remaineth yet very much land to be possessed.

2 [b]This is the land that yet remaineth: all the borders of the Phi-lĭs'tĭnes, and all Gĕsh'u-rī,

3 From[c] Si'hôr, which is before E'gўpt, even unto the borders of Ek'rŏn northward, which is counted to the Ca'năan-ite: five[d] lords of the Phi-lĭs'tĭnes; the Ga'zath-ites, and the Ash'-dŏth-ites, the Esh'ka-lŏn-ites, the Gĭt'-tites, and the Ek'ron-ites; also the A'vites:

4 From the south, all the land of the Ca'năan-ites, and Me-ā'-rah that is beside the Si-dō'ni-ans, unto A'phek, to the borders of the Am'ŏr-ites:

(2) Unconquered northern lands

5 And the land of the Gĭb'lites, and all Leb'a-non, toward the sunrising, from Ba'al-găd under mount Her'mon unto the entering into Ha'math.

*6 [e]All the inhabitants of the hill country from Leb'a-non unto [f]Mis're-phŏth-ma'im, and all the Si-dō'ni-ans, [g]them will I drive out from before the children of Is'ra-el: only divide thou it by lot unto the Is'ra-el-ites for an inheritance, as I have commanded thee.

(3) Portion for 9 1/2 tribes west of Jordan

7 Now therefore divide this land for an inheritance [h]unto the nine tribes, and the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh,

(4) Portion for 2 1/2 tribes east of Jordan

8 With whom the Reu'ben-ites and the Gad'ites have received their inheritance, which Mo'ses gave them, [i]beyond Jor'dan eastward, even as Mo'-ses the [j]servant of the LORD gave them;

9 [k]From [l]Ar'o-er, that is upon the bank of the river Ar'non, and the city [m]that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain of Med'e-ba unto Di'bon;

10 And all the cities of Si'hon king of the Am'or-ites, which reigned in Hesh'bon, unto the border of the children of Am'-mon;

11 And Gil'e-ad, and the border of the Gesh'u-rites and Ma-ach'a-thites, and all mount Her'mon, and all Ba'-shan unto Sal'cah;

12 All the kingdom of Og in Ba'shan, which reigned in Ash'-ta-rŏth and in Ed're-i, who remained of the remnant of the giants: for these did Mo'ses smite, and cast them out.

(5) Failure of Israel (Dt. 7:2)

13 [n]Nevertheless the children of Is'ra-el expelled not [o]the Gesh'u-rites, nor the Ma-ach'a-thites: but the Gesh'u-rites and the [p]Ma-ach'a-thites dwell among the Is'ra-el-ites until this day.

(6) No inheritance for Levi

14 [q]Only unto the tribe of Le'vi he gave none inheritance; the sacrifices of the LORD God of Is'ra-el made by fire are their inheritance, as he said unto them.

(7) Reuben's inheritance: death of Balaam

15 ¶ And Mo'ses gave [a]unto the tribe of the children of Reu'ben inheritance according to their families.

16 And their coast was from Ar'o-er, that is on the bank of the river Ar'non, and the city that is in the midst of the river, and all the plain by Med'e-ba;

17 Hesh'bon, and all her cities that are in the plain; Di'bon, and Ba'moth-ba'al, and Beth-ba'al-me'on,

18 And Ja-ha'za, and Ked'e-mŏth, and Meph'a-ath,

19 And Kir-jath-a'im, and Sib'mah, and Za'reth-sha'har in the mount of the valley,

20 And Beth-pe'or, and Ash'-dŏth-pis'gah, and Beth-jesh'i-mŏth,

21 And [b]all the cities of the plain, and all the kingdom of Si'hon king of the Am'or-ites, which reigned in Hesh'bon, whom [c]Mo'ses smote with the princes of Mid'i-an, E'vi, and Re'kem, and Zur, and Hur, and Re'ba, which were [d]dukes of Si'hon, dwelling in the country.

22 ¶ [e]Ba'laam also the son of Be'or, the soothsayer, did the children of Is'ra-el slay with the sword among them that were slain by them.

23 And the border of the children of Reu'ben [f]was Jor'dan, and the border thereof. This was the inheritance of the children of Reu'ben after their families, the cities and the villages thereof.

(8) Gad's inheritance

24 And Mo'ses gave inheritance [g]unto the tribe of Gad, even unto the children of Gad according to their families.

25 And their coast was Ja'zer, and all the cities of Gil'e-ad, and half the land of the children of Am'mon, unto Ar'o-er that is before Rab'bah;

26 And from Hesh'bon unto Ra'math-miz'peh, and Bet'o-nim; and from Ma-ha-na'im unto the border of De'bir;

27 And in the valley, Beth-a'-ram, and Beth-nim'rah, and Suc'coth, and Za'phon, the rest of the kingdom of Si'hon king of Hesh'bon, Jor'dan and his border, even unto the edge of the sea of Chin'ne-reth on the other side Jor'dan eastward.

28 This is the inheritance of the children of Gad after their families, the cities, and their villages.

(9) Manasseh's inheritance

29 ¶ And Mo'ses gave inheritance [h]unto the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh: and this was the possession of the half tribe of the children of Ma-nas'seh by their families.

a Reuben's inheritance (v 15-23; Num. 32):
1 The tribe received land according to the number of families (v 15)
2 Their general borders were from Aroer on the bank of the river Arnon (v 9, 16) on the south (which was the north border of Moab), from the city in the middle of the valley of Arnon, and from the whole plain of Medeba northward to Mahanaim (v 30), and from the Dead Sea and Jordan on the west to the Ammonite kingdom on the east (v 16-23)
3 15 named cities:
(1) Aroer on the bank of Arnon, the north border of Moab (v 9, 16; note r, 12:2)
(2) Medeba, a city famous for its idolatry, and located southwest of Heshbon (v 9, 16; Num. 21:30; 1 Chr. 19:7; Isa. 15:2)
(3) Heshbon, the capital of Sihon (v 21; note a, Num. 21:26)
(4) Dibon (note a, 2, Num. 32:3)
(5) Bamoth-baal (only here, v 17). It means the high places of Baal; altars to him had been erected there
(6) Beth-baal-meon (only here, v 17). Called Baal-meon (Num. 32:38; 1 Chr. 5:8; Ezek. 25:9)
(7) Jahaza (only here, v 18). Called Jahaz (Num. 21:23; Dt. 2:32; Judg. 11:20; Isa. 15:4; Jer. 48:34). Jahazah (21:36; Jer. 48:21), and Jahzah (1 Chr. 6:78). It was given to Levites
(8) Kedemoth (v 18; 21:37; Dt. 2:26; 1 Chr. 6:79)
(9) Mephaath (v 18; 21:37; 1 Chr. 6:79; Jer. 48:21). It was located in the east part of the desert near Moab, and was given to Levites (21:37)
(10) Kirjahaim (v 19; Num. 32:37; 1 Chr. 6:76). It was near the border of Moab and originally inhabited by the Emims, a giant tribe. It was conquered first by the Moabites, then by the Amorites and finally by the Israelites who held it until the Babylonian captiviry when it was regained by the Moabites
(11) Sibmah, well known for its vineyards (v 19; Isa. 16:8-9; Jer. 48:32)
(12) Zareth-shahar, light of the dawn, or mount of the valley; perhaps because of being built on a hill where it caught the rays of the rising sun. Only here, v 19
(13) Beth-peor, the house of Peor, located on the top of a mountain by the same name (v 20; Dt. 3:29; 4:46; 34:6)
(14) Ash-doth-pisgah (v 20; 12:3; Dt. 3:17)
(15) Beth-jeshi-moth (v 20; 12:3; Ezek. 25:9). Called Beth-jesimoth (Num. 33:39). See other lists of cities of this inheritance, note a, Num. 32:3; note c, Num. 32:34
4 The unnamed city in the middle of the valley where Arnon flows (v 9, 16)
5 All the cities of the plain, and all the kingdom of Sihon (v 21). It appears from this that the entire kingdom of Sihon was given to Reuben, but Gad also inherited part of it (Num. 32:1-42). See a list of other cities in this territory, note a, Num. 32:3

b This could refer to the same cities of v 17, or it could include these and others not mentioned

c Moses was leader of Israel, and Joshua was his commander when the kingdoms of Sihon and Og were taken (v 21; Num. 21:21-35)

d 5 dukes and a prophet slain (v 21):
1 Evi (Num. 31:8)
2 Rekem (Num. 31:8)
3 Zur (Num. 31:8)
4 Hur (Num. 31:8)
5 Reba (Num. 31:8)
6 Balaam (Num. 31:8)

e Both here and in Num. 31:8 it is stated that Balaam, the backslidden prophet of God, who sold out to the enemies of Israel, was slain (v 22), Here he is called a soothsayer because, when God forsook him and he no longer had the Holy Spirit to speak through him, he turned to demon powers for his inspiration (v 22). See 35 Bible facts about Balaam, p. 198)

f The Dead Sea and the Jordan were the west boundary of Reuben, and his south border was the river Arnon which was the north border of Moab (v 9, 16. Cp. Isa. 16:1-5)

a Called Havoth-Jair, because they were conquered by Jair (v 30; Num. 32:41; Judg. 10:4), whose father belonged to the tribe of Judah and whose mother came from the tribe of Manasseh (v 31; 1 Chr. 2:21-24)
b Half of Gilead, the 2 major cities of Og, Ashtaroth and Edrei, with the 60 towns of v 30 were all the inheritance of the half tribe of Manasseh, which was a numerous tribe having much cattle
c The second time in this chapter that it is emphasized that Levi had no special allotment of land like the 12 tribes. God was their inheritance which means that every consecrated and devoted thing in Israel, of land, stock, sacrifices, tithes, and offerings belonged to the Levites, besides many cities and suburbs (21:1-43; Lev. 27)
d The dividers of the land (v 1): mtm
1 Eleazar with the Urim and Thummim
2 Joshua, commander-in-chief of all the armies, and leader of Israel
3 Heads of the tribes of Israel
e By lot. Eleazar the high priest now acted with Joshua (v 2), to divide the land by lot as instructed by Moses. The high priest alone had the Urim and Thummim by which the lots could be cast (note, Ex. 28:30). It was the command of Moses that Eleazar and Joshua work together in this (Num. 32:28; 34:17)
f See note h, 13:7
g See Num. 32
h The third and fourth times in two chapters that this is mentioned (v 3, 5; note c, above)
i Here is an explanation for the tribe of Levi not being considered one of the 12 tribes. The 2 sons of Joseph took the part of their father and that of Levi among the tribes, which left the Levites no inheritance except cities to dwell in, with suburbs for the cattle and their own sustenance. This was God's decision, so that the Levites could be the ministers of the whole nation (v 4-5) j The children of Judah were the first to come to Joshua in Gilgal to make a request about a particular inheritance (v 6-15). The only other instance of such a special request was before this and concerned a case of daughters and no sons in a family (Num. 27 and 36). Caleb was the suppliant this time. He was blessed for his faithfulness, being the only one of the 12 spies other than Joshua, who had shown the right spirit (Num. 13:30-33), and was rewarded for his long service for 45 more years in Israel (v 6-15) k Caleb no doubt referred to what is said in Num. 14:24 and repeated in Dt. 1:36 and here (in v 9)
l When he went as a spy into Canaan, Caleb was 40 years old (v 7; Num. 13:1-25). Now, after the 40 years in the wilderness he was 85 (v 7,10-12), which proves that the conquest of Canaan had been going on for 5 years. It was time to divide the land, and settle down; then the conquest could be perfected little by little as God had promised (Ex. 23:29-33; Dt. 7:20-24) m This is where God wants truth and bravery - not in the mind only (v 7). When these are in the heart impossible things can be made possible. Then one will wholly follow the Lord (v 8) n 14th prophecy in Josh. (14:9, fulfilled, v 13-15). Next, 23:5
o This is proof of what Caleb referred to (in v 6) about the promise of God to him and Joshua. This only implies that they were to have their choice of land in their own tribal portions and none outside of this e A valley near Gilgal and called the valley Achor from the punishment of Achan (7:24-26; 15:7; Isa. 65:10; Hos. 2:15)

30 And their coast was from Mā-hā-nā'im, all Bā'shān, all the kingdom of Óg king of Bā'shān, and all the towns of Já'ir, which are in Bā'shān, threescore cities:

31 And half Gĭl'e-ăd, and Ash'-ta-rŏth, and Ĕd're-ī, cities of the kingdom of Óg in Bā'shān, were pertaining unto the children of Mā'chĭr the son of Mā-năs'seh, even to the one half of the children of Mā'chĭr by their families.

32 These are the countries which Mŏ'ses did distribute for inheritance in the plains of Mŏ'ab, on the other side Jŏr'dan, by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, eastward.

33 But unto the tribe of Lĕ'vĭ Mŏ'ses gave not any inheritance: the LORD God of Is'ra-el was their inheritance, as he said unto them.

201 CHAPTER 14

(10) The dividers of Canaan

AND these are the countries which the children of Is'ra-el inherited in the land of Cā'năan, which Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nūn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Is'ra-el, distributed for inheritance to them.

(11) Portion of the 9 1/2 tribes

2 By lot was their inheritance, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Mŏ'ses, for the nine tribes, and for the half tribe.

3 For Mŏ'ses had given the inheritance of two tribes and an half tribe on the other side Jŏr'dan: but unto the Lĕ'vites he gave none inheritance among them.

4 For the children of Jō'seph were two tribes, Mā-năs'seh and Ĕ'phrā-ĭm: therefore they gave no part unto the Lĕ'vites in the land, save cities to dwell in, with their suburbs for their cattle and for their substance.

5 As the LORD commanded Mŏ'ses, so the children of Is'ra-el did, and they divided the land.

2 Concerning particular divisions (Josh. 14:6-21:45). (1) Caleb's inheritance

6 Then the children of Jŭ'dah came unto Jōsh'u-a in Gĭl'gāl: and Cā'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh Kĕn'ez-īte said unto him, Thou knowest the thing that the LORD said unto Mŏ'ses the man of God concerning me and thee in Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā.

7 Forty years old was I when Mŏ'ses the servant of the LORD sent me from Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā to espy out the land; and I brought him word again as it was in mine heart.

8 Nevertheless my brethren that went up with me made the heart of the people melt: but I wholly followed the LORD my God.

9 And Mŏ'ses sware on that day, saying, Surely the land whereon thy feet have trodden shall be thine inheritance, and thy children's for ever, because thou hast wholly followed the LORD my God.

10 And now, behold, the LORD hath kept me alive, as he said, these forty and five years, even since the LORD spake this word unto Mŏ'ses, while the children of Is'ra-el wandered in the wilderness: and now, lo, I am this day fourscore and five years old.

11 As yet I am as strong this day as I was in the day that Mŏ'ses sent me: as my strength was then, even so is my strength now, for war, both to go out, and to come in.

12 Now therefore give me this mountain, whereof the LORD spake in that day; for thou heardest in that day how the Ăn'a-kĭms were there, and that the cities were great and fenced: if so be the LORD will be with me, then I shall be able to drive them out, as the LORD said.

13 And Jŏsh'u-a blessed him, and gave unto Cā'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh Hē'bron for an inheritance.

14 Hē'bron therefore became the inheritance of Cā'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh the Kĕn'ez-īte unto this day, because that he wholly followed the LORD God of Is'ra-el.

15 And the name of Hē'bron before was Kĭr'jath-är'bā; which Ar'ba was a great man among the Ăn'a-kĭms. And the land had rest from war.

202 CHAPTER 15

(2) Borders of Judah

THIS then was the lot of the tribe of the children of Jū'dah by their families; even to the border of Ē'dom the wilderness of Zĭn southward was the uttermost part of the south coast.

2 And their south border was from the shore of the salt sea, from the bay that looketh southward:

3 And it went out to the south side to Mā-ăl'eh-ă-crăb'bim, and passed along to Zĭn, and ascended up on the south side unto Kā'desh-bär'ne-ā, and passed along to Hĕz'rŏn, and went up to Ă'dăr, and fetched a compass to Kär'ka-ā:

4 From thence it passed toward Az'mŏn, and went out unto the river of Ē'gўpt; and the goings out of that coast were at the sea: this shall be your south coast.

5 And the east border was the salt sea, even unto the end of Jŏr'dan. And their border in the north quarter was from the bay of the sea at the uttermost part of Jŏr'dan:

6 And the border went up to Bĕth-hŏg'lā, and passed along by the north of Bĕth-ăr'a-bah; and the border went up to the stone of Bō'hăn the son of Reu'ben:

7 And the border went up toward Dĕ'bīr from the valley of A'chôr, and so northward, looking toward Gĭl'gāl, that is before a The land of promise will be given to the children of Israel as a possession forever, and no doubt some of Caleb's descendants will enjoy it with the rest in all eternity (Gen. 17:8; Isa. 9:6-7; Dan. 2:44-45; 7:13-14, 18, 27; Ezek. 43:7; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15; 22:4-5) b Here is proof that wholly following the Lord pays off with big dividends (v 9, 13-15) c God always keeps His word with men. It would have been impossible for Caleb to die in all the past 45 years, by warfare or otherwise, since God had given him His word that he would live to inherit the place where he went as a spy (v 9-10; Num. 14:24). God has preserved many men in times past because He gave His word, and He is yet to do this in the future, especially with the 2 witnesses who cannot die until they have finished their testimony (Rev. 11:3-11) d This request was made on his birthday; and the granting of it was surely an outstanding present (v 10, 13-15). Cp. Dt. 31:2; 34:7

e This was not the idle boast of an old man who hates to see his strength fading away. It was truth, for afterward he expelled 3 great giants from his inheritance (Judg. 1:20). No doubt Caleb lived to enjoy his possession many years. If he remained about as long as Joshua who was near the same age, he enjoyed it no less than 25 or 30 years (24:29)
f Here we have the definite request of Caleb. It was the same mountain upon which the spies had reported seeing the many giants, the Anakims who caused Israel to fear and rebel at Kadesh-barnea. This was Caleb's wish, so as to prove that it was in his heart to follow the Lord wholly (v 7-9), to prove his strength and will to fight when 85 years of age (v 10-11), and to show all Israel and others in every generation that a true Israelite could be master of the situation and glorify God in the very thing that had caused the nation's defeat (v 12; Num. 13:30-33; 14:7-10). It was only fitting that the man who had reported to Israel that they were well able to overcome the giants should be the one to demonstrate this in his own inheritance (Num. 13:30-33)
g See Giants, p. 62
h See Giant cities of Bashan, p. 210
i If this is true of any man, church, or nation, the seemingly impossible can be done (v 12; Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 15:7, 16)
j 5 reasons Joshua could grant request:
1 Because of the prophecy of v 9; Num. 13:24 • 13:30-33; 14:24)
2 Caleb's faithfulness (v 8-9, 14; Num.
3 Because of it being the request of a mighty man in Israel, one of only two of the old generation that came out of Egypt (v 6-15; Num. 14:23-24)
4 The land requested was in the Judah portion of which Caleb was a member (v 6-15; 1 Chr. 4:1-15)
5 Because of the will of God by the Urim and Thummim (note, Ex. 28:30) k 2 blessings Joshua gave:
1 To Caleb (v 13)
2 To Israel (22:6-7)
l See Kenezites, p. 259
m See Kirjath-arba, p. 259
n There were no more general wars, for the 2 confederacies of the inhabitants of Canaan were broken and destroyed so that they could not make collective war any more. Joshua thought best to divide the land and let each tribe expel the inhabitants that might remain in their own territory. Thus, the land had peace from the great general campaigns and there were no more such wars (v 15) c En-rogel, fountain of the fullers, near the wall of Jerusalem eastward, probably the modern Fountain of the Virgin (v 7; 18:16; 2 Sam. 17:17; 1 Ki. 1:9) d The valley of the son of Hinnom. Who Hinnom was or why the valley was called this is not known, but it is mentioned 13 times in Scripture. Located south of Jerusalem, it joined the valley of Kedron (v 8; 18:16). Some say it ran from the east of Jerusalem around the city to the Kedron. Images were worshipped and human sacrifices offered to Molech here (2 Ki. 23:10; 2 Chr. 28:3; 33:6; Jer. 7:31-32; 19:6-14). Continual fires were kept alive in this place to burn the refuse of Jerusalem; and for this reason it became a symbol of eternal hell (note m, Lk. 12:5) e Coming from the east, one could go through the valley of the son of Hinnom and on westward to the top of mount Zion. Part of the city of Jerusalem belonged to Benjamin and part to Judah. Mount Zion and Moriah where the temple was built were in the Judah portion (Ps. 78:68-69; 87:2)

o Mount Baalah, not the same as Baalah of v 10, for the border continued from the east to the west and several points of the border are noted between Baalah and mount Baalah (v 11 with v 10)

1 Inherited Hebron, the city of the giants (v 13)
2 He drove out the giants (v 14), making good his word of 14:12; Num. 13:30-33
3 He conquered Debir or Kirjath-sepher (v 15-17), which was about 7 miles south of Hebron (note i, 10:38)
4 Blessed his daughter (v 18-19)
s See Hebron, note f, 10:36
t These were giants, Anakims (v 14; Num. 13:28-33. See Giants, p. 62) u Othniel was the nephew of Caleb and became his son-in-law (v 17). He was the first judge of Israel in the period from Joshua to Saul (Judg. 3:8-11). See note on 16 judges of Israel, col. 4, p. 60 v In ancient times fathers assumed an absolute right over their children, especially in the matter of giving them in marriage. It was customary for a king or a great man to promise his daughter in marriage to him who should take a city, kill an enemy, or accomplish some other feat. Saul, for instance, promised his daughter to the man who would kill Goliath (1 Sam. 17:25). Caleb offered his to the one who would take Debir or Kirjath-sepher (v 16-17)
w Question 15, Next, 17:14

c The difference in names listed and the total of v 36 can be explained as in note b, above (v 33-36)
d There are 2 cities called Ziph in this list (v 24, 55)

the going up to [a]Ă-dŭm'mĭm, which is on the south side of the river: and the border passed toward the [b]waters of Ĕn–shĕ'mesh, and the goings out thereof were at [c]Ĕn–rō'gĕl:

8 And the border went up by the [d]valley of the son of Hĭn'nom unto the south side of the Jĕb'u-sīte; the same is Jĕ–rų'sā-lĕm: [e]and the border went up to the top of the mountain that lieth before the valley of Hĭn'nom westward, which is at the end of the [f]valley of the [g]giants northward:

9 And the border was drawn from the top of the hill unto the fountain of the water of [h]Nĕph'to-ah, and went out to the cities of [i]mount Ē'phron; and the border was drawn to [j]Bā'al-ah, which is Kĭr'jath–jē'a-rĭm:

10 And the border compassed from Bā'al-ah westward unto mount [k]Sē'ĭr, and passed along unto the side of mount Jē'a-rĭm, which is Chĕs'a-lōn, on the north side, and went down to [l]Bĕth–shē'mesh, and passed on to [m]Tĭm'nah:

11 And the border went out unto the side of Ĕk'rŏn northward: and the border was drawn to [n]Shĭ'crŏn, and passed along to [o]mount Bā'al-ah, and went out unto [p]Jăb'ne-el; and the goings out of the border were at the sea.

12 And the [q]west border was to the great sea, and the coast thereof. This is the coast of the children of Jū'dah round about according to their families.

(3) Caleb's settlement of his portion (14:6; Judg. 9:12)

13 ¶ And [r]unto Cā'leb the son of Jĕ-phŭn'neh he gave a part among the children of Jū'dah, according to the commandment of the LORD to Jŏsh'u-ă, even the [s]city of Ăr'bă the father of Ă'năk, which city is Hē'bron.

14 And Cā'leb drove thence the [t]three sons of Ă'năk, Shē'shāi, and Ă-hĭ'man, and Tăl'māi, the children of Ă'năk.

15 And he went up thence to the inhabitants of Dē'bĭr: and the name of Dē'bĭr before was Kĭr'jath–sē'phēr.

16 ¶ And Cā'leb said. He that smiteth Kĭr'jath–sē'phēr, and taketh it, to him will I give Ăch'sah my daughter to wife.

17 And [u]Ŏth'nĭ-el the son of Kĕ'năz, the brother of Cā'leb, took it: and [v]he gave him Ăch'sah his daughter to wife.

18 And it came to pass, as she came unto him, that she moved him to ask of her father a field: and she lighted off her ass; and Cā'leb said unto her, [w]What wouldest thou?

19 Who answered, Give me a blessing; for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And he gave her the upper springs, and the nether springs.

b The difference in the total number here and the actual names listed could be due to the fact that there were 29 cities as stated and 9 villages worthy of mention with them, making 38 places named. Or, it could be that a copyist's error was the cause. Letters were used as numerals and a scribe could have been mistaken regarding some that were similar. Otherwise, it could be that compound names in the original were separated by the translators who thought they represented more than one place. This is understandable inasmuch as the oldest original MSS. were without punctuation and written in large capital letters, about an inch high, with no space between the letters. With such a list as here in v 21-62 it would be difficult to separate the names and decide which should be single or compound words ăm, and Zā-nō'ah, 57 Cāin, Gĭb'e-ah, and [a]Tĭm'nah; ten cities with their villages:

58 Hăl'hŭl, Bĕth'-zûr, and Gĕ'dōr,
59 And Mā'a-răth, and Bĕth-ā'noth, and Ĕl'te-kŏn'; six cities with their villages:
60 Kir'jath-bā'al, which is Kir'jath-jē'a-rĭm, and Răb'bah; two cities with their villages:
61 In the wilderness, Bĕth-ăr'a-bah, Mĭd'din, and Sĕc'a-cah, 62 And Nĭb'shăn, and the city of [b]Salt, and Ĕn-gĕ'dī; six cities with their villages.

(5) Failure of Judah (Judg. 1; Dt. 7:2)

63 ¶ As for the Jĕb'u-sītes the inhabitants of Jĕ-ru'sălĕm, the children of [c]Jū'dah could not drive them out: but the Jĕb'u-sītes dwell with the children of Jū'dah at Jĕ-ru'sălĕm unto this day.

203 CHAPTER 16

(6) Borders of Ephraim and Manasseh

AND [d]the lot of the children of Jō'seph fell from Jôr'dan by Jĕr'ĭ-chō, [e]unto the water of Jĕr'ĭ-chō on the east, to the wilderness that goeth up from Jĕr'ĭ-chō throughout mount Bĕth'-el,
2 And goeth out from [f]Bĕth'-el to Lūz, and passeth along unto the borders of [g]Ăr'chī to [h]At'a-rōth,
3 And goeth down westward to the coast of [i]Jăph-lĕ'tī, unto the coast of [j]Bĕth-hō'rŏn the nether, and to [k]Gē'zēr: and the goings out thereof are at the sea.
4 So the children of Jō'seph, Mā-năs'seh and Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, took their inheritance.

(7) Borders of Ephraim

5 ¶ And [l]the border of the children of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm according to their families was thus: even the border of their inheritance on the east side was Āt'a-rōth-ăd'dar, unto Bĕth-hō'rŏn the upper;
6 And the [m]border went out toward the sea to [n]Mĭch'me-thah on the north side; and the border went about eastward unto [o]Tā'a-năth-shī'lōh, and passed by it on the east [p]to Jā-nō'hah;
7 And it went down from Jā-nō'hah to [q]At'a-rōth, and [r]to Nā'a-răth, and came to [s]Jĕr'ĭ-chō, and went out at Jôr'dan.
8 The border went out from Tăp'pu-ah westward unto the river Kā'nah; and the goings out thereof were at the sea. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm by their families.
9 And the separate cities for the children of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm were among the inheritance of the children of Mā'nās'seh, all the cities with their villages.

(8) Failure of Ephraim (Dt. 7:2. Cp. Judg. 1:29; Hos. 9:8-17)

10 And they [t]drave not out the Cā'năan-ītes that dwelt in [u]Gĕ'zēr: but the Cā'năan-ītes dwell among the Ĕ'phrā-ĭm-ītes unto this day, and serve under tribute.

CHAPTER 17 204

(9) Borders of Manasseh

THERE was also [a]lot for the tribe of Mā-năs'seh; for he was the [b]firstborn of Jō'seph; to wit, for [c]Mā'chĭr the firstborn of Mā'năs'seh, the father of Gĭl'e-ad: because he was a man of war, therefore he had Gĭl'e-ăd and Bā'shăn.
2 There was also a lot for the rest of the children of Mā-năs'seh by their families; for the children of Ā-bĭ-ē'zēr, and for the children of Hĕ'lĕk, and for the children of Ăs'rĭ-el, and for the children of Shĕ'chem, and for the children of Hē'phĕr, and for the children of Shĕ-mī'dā: these were the male children of Mā-năs'seh the son of Jō'seph by their families.
3 ¶ But [d]Zē-lō'phe-hăd, the son of Hē'phĕr, the son of Gĭl'e-ăd, the son of Mā'chĭr, the son of Mā-năs'seh, had no sons, but daughters: and these are the names of his daughters, Mäh'lah, and Nō'ah, Hŏg'lah, Mĭl'cah, and Tĭr'zah.
4 And they [e]came near before Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and before Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nūn, and before the princes, saying, The LORD commanded Mō'şeş to give us an inheritance among our brethren. Therefore according to the commandment of the LORD he gave them an inheritance among the brethren of their father.
5 And there fell ten portions to Mā-năs'seh, beside the land of Gĭl'e-ăd and Bā'shăn, which were on the other side Jôr'dan;
6 Because the daughters of Mā'năs'seh had an inheritance among his sons: and [f]the rest of the land of Gĭl'e-ăd.
7 ¶ And the [g]coast of Mā-năs'seh was [h]from Ash'ēr to Mĭch'me-thah, that lieth before Shē'chem; and the border went along on the right hand unto the inhabitants of Ĕn-tăp'pu-ah.
8 Now Mā-năs'seh [i]had the land of Tăp'pu-ah: but Tăp'pu-ah on the border of Mā-năs'seh belonged to the children of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm;
9 And the coast descended unto the river [j]Kā'nah, southward of the river: these cities of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm are among the cities of Mā'năs'seh: the coast of Mā-năs'seh also was on the north side of the river, and the outgoings of it were at the sea:
10 Southward it was Ĕ'phrā-ĭm's, and northward it was Mā'năs'seh's, and the sea is his border; and they met together in Ash'ēr on the north, and in Is'sa-char on the east.
11 And Mā-năs'seh had in Is'sa-char and in Ash'ēr Bĕth-shĕ'an and her towns, and a A number of these 125 cities and villages figured prominently in Bible history as:

1 Ziph where David took refuge a long time from Saul (1 Sam. 23:14-24)
2 Beer-sheba where David and Jacob lived (Gen. 22:19; 38:10; 46:1)
3 Hormah where Israel suffered the first defeat as a nation (Num. 14:45)
4 Ziklag taken by David while sojourning in Philistia (1 Sam. 27:6; 30:1-31) (Judg. 16:31)
5 Eshtaol where Samson was buried
6 Adullam where David lived in a cave when fleeing from Saul (1 Sam. 22)
7 Socoh where David slew Goliath (1 Sam. 17:1-58)
8 Keilah where David saved the people and was then betrayed by them (1 Sam. 23)
9 Mareshah where Asa destroyed an army of over 1,000,000 Ethiopians (2 Chr. 14)
10 Maon where David fled from Saul a long time (1 Sam. 23:24-25; 25:2)
11 Timnath where Samson got his wife (Judg. 14 and 15)
12 Kirjath-jearim where the ark remained for a long time (1 Sam. 6:21; 7:1-2) b Some unknown city near the Dead Sea. Mentioned only here

c Caleb conquered part of the portion of Judah, but it was not fully conquered until the time of David, over 500 years later (2 Sam. 5:3-7). Cp. Judg. 1:8

d South border of Ephraim: This lot included land for only one-half of Manasseh, as the other half had inheritance on the other side of Jordan eastward. This was from the Jordan to Jericho, to mount Bethel, to Luz, to Ataroth, to Japhleti, to Beth-boron, to Gezer, and to the Mediterranean Sea (v 1-4)

e That is, came forth from the bag of the Urim and Thummim (Ex. 28:30, note)

f It would seem that Bethel and Luz were two distinct places but very close to each other. Eventually their suburbs met, the two villages became one city and the Canaanite name, Luz was superceded by the Hebrew, Bethel (v 2, Cp. Gen. 28:19; Judg. 1:26). Mount Bethel refers to the hills surrounding the city. See note m, 12:19

g Archi was the country of Hushai, the friend of David (2 Sam. 15:32)

h Ataroth, about 15 miles from Jerusalem (v 2, 7; Num. 32:3, 34; 1 Chr. 2:54)

i Japhleti (only here, v 3)

j Beth-horon. It seems there were 2 cities of this name; one the upper located on the mountain range (v 5; 2 Chr. 8:5), and one the nether city (16:3; 18:13; 1 Ki. 9:17; 1 Chr. 7:24; 2 Chr. 8:5)

k Gezer, not the one in note c, 10:33

l Here the south border of Ephraim is given as being from Ataroth-adder on the east to Beth-horon on the west and on to the Mediterranean. A more detailed description is given in v 1-3 m North border of Ephraim: Beginning at the Mediterranean Sea on the west it went eastward to Michmethah, southeast of Shechem, to Taanath-shiloh, to Janohah, to Ataroth, to Naarath, to Jericho (district, not the city of Jericho), and to Jordan (v 6-9) n Michmethah (only here, v 6, and 17:7). Perhaps the same as Naaran in 1 Chr. 7:28

o Taanath-shiloh (only here, v 6) p Janohah (only here, v 6-7). Perhaps the same as Janoah in 2 Ki. 15:29

q See note h, above r Naarath (only here, v 7). Perhaps the same as Naaran in 1 Chr. 7:28

s This could not mean the city but the district of Jericho which extended several miles north of the city site, for the north border was from Tappuah westward unto the river Kanah, which was the north border of Ephraim, and on to the Mediterranean Sea almost straight west (v 7-8). In this province belonged all the cities of Ephraim as distinct from those of Manasseh (v 9) a Here we see the failure of Ephraim to drive the Canaanites out of their portion. The tribe did conquer them to the extent of making them pay tribute (v 10)

b See note c, 10:33

c The lot cast for Manasseh was by the Urim and Thummim (Ex. 28:30, note) d Gen. 41:51; 46:20; 50:23; Num. 32:39

e Machir was the firstborn of Manasseh, and the father of Gilead (Gen. 50:23). He was a man of war; and because of his warlike spirit passed on to his descendants they were responsible for the conquest of Gilead and Bashan. They inherited the most of what they conquered on the east of Jordan. It probably does not mean here that Machir was still alive; if so, he would have been at least 200 years old. What is said no doubt refers to his children who now possessed the lot intended for his family (v 1). He was father of the Machirites (Num. 26:29; 36:1) to whom parts of the land of Gilead and Bashan were given (v 1; 13:31; Num. 32:39-40; Dt. 3:15)

f 6 families of Manasseh west of Jordan:
1 The children of Abiezer
2 The children of Helek
3 The children of Asriel
4 The children of Shechem
5 The children of Hepher
6 The children of Shemida

g Zelophehad became prominent; he is mentioned more than others because he had 5 daughters and no sons. Special laws had to be made in his case (v 3; Num. 26:33; 27:1-11; 36:1-13). The law of inheritances applied to his daughters under the special provision of Num. 27 and 36

h They came before the allotment board headed by Eleazar the priest, who had the Urim and Thummim to make decisions from the Lord, and to Joshua the leader of Israel, to remind them of the special law covering their case of inheritance among their brethren (v 4-6). The law was obeyed, for instead of 6 portions there became 10 (v 5). The 6 portions would have been according to the names in note f, above; but now 5 portions were given to only 5 of these heads of families and 5 to the 5 daughters in Hepher's place (v 3, 6). We must keep in mind that all portions were based upon the number in each family which was a just allotment

i Compare the rest of Manasseh in verse 2 with its usage in verse 6

j South border of Manasseh: The writer refers to the border of Manasseh, starting from the east and going to the west, as in the case of Judah (15:2), the sons of Joseph (16:1), Benjamin (18:12), Ezekiel (Ezek. 48:1), and the angel in Rev. 21:13. Beginning at Asher, a place near Beth-shean and the Jordan, it went westward to Michmethah southeast of Shechem and along the river Kanah to the Mediterranean Sea (v 7-9)

k West, north, and east borders of Manasseh: The west border was the Mediterranean Sea, and the north and east borders were southern borders of Asher and Issachar (v 10)

l Tappuah was evidently a district as well as a city. Manasseh owned the district but not the city which was on the border (v 8)

m Kanah was a river which formed the boundary between Ephraim and Manasseh in the west. It ran into the Mediterranean Sea (v 9-10). The reason the borders were not described more in detail is that perhaps they were not yet completed. Or, it could be that the text was marred in these few verses. In verse 11 where it is stated that Manasseh owned towns in Issachar and Asher, the Peshitta reads, "And Manasseh had opposite Issachar and Asher, Beth-shean and its towns." This seems to be the true meaning, that instead of Manasseh owning all these towns in Issachar and Asher, they really were in the Manasseh portion but opposite the borders and portions of those tribes. The 6 cities and towns in this verse covered nearly the whole of this portion of Manasseh and could not possibly be located in Issachar and Asher and still belong to Manasseh a 6 cities of Manasseh:

1 Beth-shean, house of rest. A city in the Jordan valley toward the east end of the valley or plain of Jezreel on the border between Manasseh and Issachar. It was a resting place for caravans travelling between Syria, Midian and Egypt, a great station of commerce between these countries as well as many others (v 11, 16; Judg. 1:27; 1 Ki. 4:12; 1 Chr. 7:29). Called Beth-shan - where Saul's body was hung on the wall (1 Sam. 31:10-12; 2 Sam. 21:12)
2 Ibleam, about 10 miles west and south of Beth-shean where king Ahaziah was mortally wounded (v 11; Judg. 1:27; 2 Ki. 9:27)
3 Dor, a city on the Mediterranean coastline about 8 miles north of Caesarea (note j, 11:2)
4 Endor, the well or fountain of Dor (v 11). The place where Saul consulted the witch (1 Sam. 28:9) and where the Midianites were destroyed (Ps. 83:10)
5 Taanach (note r, 12:21)
6 Megiddo (note s, 12:21)

b Heb. bath, daughter, branch, company, town, village (v 11, 16; 15:45-47; Judg. 1:27; 11:26; 1 Chr. 7:28-29)

c Heb. nepheth, height; a lifting up; region; country. Literally, three heights or three hills, referring to the last three of these 6 cities and their towns which had a common name, no doubt, from the natural features

d This was the story of each tribe so far, which made a failure to drive out all the inhabitants of their own inheritances (v 12; 15:63; 16:10). This was as God said it would be - little by little, until they were able to possess the whole land (Ex. 23:29-33; Dt. 7:20-24). They did put the Canaanites to tribute (v 13)

f Here we have the children of Joseph, the leaders of both Manasseh and Ephraim claiming to be a great people and numerous who should have a greater portion of the land; but both tribes with a total of 72,700 (32, 200 for Manasseh and 40,500 for Ephraim) did not have as many as Judah with a total of 74,600 at the last numbering of the men of war (note c, Num. 1:19). A combination of any two of the larger tribes would have made many more than Manasseh and Ephraim, Judah and Dan, for instance, would have equaled 137,300 soldiers

g Joshua was wise in answering these two tribes in their boast of being a great people with inheritances too small for their number. Being of Ephraim himself, he was able to reprove them of their selfishness (v 15, 17-18; Num. 13:8). His challenge to them was: If you are such a great people, then prove it by conquering more of the land. All that you conquer will be yours. Destroy the Perizzites and the giants in mount Ephraim and you will be allowed to have their land (v 15)

h Perizzites, a people often mentioned in Scripture, but whose origin is unknown. The word itself means villagers. They are not named in the origin of the nations in Gen. 10, being first referred to as inhabitants of Canaan in Gen. 13:7. They are next mentioned with the Hittites (Gen. 15:20; Ex. 23:23; 33:2; 34:11), with the Canaanites (Gen. 34:30; Judg. 1:4-5), and with several other nations (Ex. 3:8, 17; Dt. 7:1; 20:17; Josh. 3:10; 9:1; 11:3; 12:8; 17:15; 24:11; Judg. 1:4-5; 3:5; 1 Ki. 9:20; 2 Chr. 8:7; Ezra 9:1; Neh. 9:8)

i Giants were found in many places in the land. They were to be completely destroyed because of being the offspring of angels and daughters of men designed by Satan to do away with pure Adamite stock through whom the Seed of the woman should come. See Giants, p. 62

j Shiloh, a town in Ephraim where Israel assembled at the close of the 5 years of war in Canaan, and where the tabernacle was set up for the first time in conquered Canaan (v 1-10; 19:51; 21:2; 22:9-12). It was no doubt set up at Gilgal during the conquest. At Shiloh the last 7 tribes received their lots by a special commission (v 2-10). From here Reuben and Gad and the half tribe of Manasseh went back to their own homes and the other tribes gathered to make war against them because it was thought they were rebelling (22:1-34).

Ib'le-ăm and her towns, and the inhabitants of Dŏr and her towns, and the inhabitants of Ĕn'-dŏr and her towns, and the inhabitants of Tā'a-năch and her towns, and the inhabitants of [a]Mĕ-gĭd'dō and her [b]towns, even three [c]countries.

(10) Failure of Manasseh (Dt. 7:2; Judg. 1:27). Second murmuring of Israel under Joshua (9:18)

12 Yet the children of Mā-năs'seh [d]could not drive out the inhabitants of those cities; but the Că'năan-ītes would dwell in that land.

13 Yet it came to pass, when the children of Ĭs'ra-el were waxen strong, that they put the Că'năan-ītes to tribute; but did not utterly drive them out.

14 And the children of Jō'şeph spake unto Jŏsh'u-ā, [e]saying, Why hast thou given me but one lot and one portion to inherit, seeing I am a [f]great people, forasmuch as the LORD hath blessed me hitherto?

15 And Jŏsh'u-ā [g]answered them, If thou be a great people, then get thee up to the wood country, and cut down for thyself there in the land of [h]the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes and of the [i]giants, if mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm be too narrow for thee.

16 And the children of Jō'şeph said, The hill is not enough for us: and all the Că'năan-ītes that dwell in the land of the valley have chariots of iron, both they who are of Bĕth-shĕ'an and her towns, and they who are of the valley of Jĕz're-el.

17 And Jŏsh'u-ā spake unto the house of Jō'şeph, even to Ĕ'phrā-ĭm and to Mā-năs'seh, saying, Thou art a great people, and hast great power: thou shalt not have one lot only:

18 But the mountain shall be thine; for it is a wood, and thou shalt cut it down: and the outgoings of it shall be thine: for thou shalt drive out the Că'năan-ītes, though they have iron chariots, and though they be strong.

205 CHAPTER 18

(11) Tabernacle set up at Shiloh

AND the whole congregation of the children of Ĭs'ra-el assembled together at [j]Shī'lōh, and set up the tabernacle of the congregation there. And the land was subdued before them.

(12) Survey of unpossessed land

2 And there remained among the children of Ĭs'ra-el [a]seven tribes, which had not yet received their inheritance.

3 And Jŏsh'u-ā said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, [b]How long are ye slack to go to possess the land, which the LORD God of your fathers hath given you?

4 [c][d]Give out from among you three men for each tribe: and I will send them, and they shall rise, and go through the land, and [e]describe it according to the inheritance of them; and they shall come again to me.

5 And they shall divide it into seven parts: [f]Jū'dah shall abide in their coast on the south, and the house of Jō'şeph shall abide in their coasts on the north.

6 Ye shall therefore describe the land into seven parts, and bring the description hither to me, that [g]I may cast lots for you here before the LORD our God.

7 [h]But the Lē'vītes have no part among you; for the priesthood of the LORD is their inheritance: and Găd, and Reu'ben, and half the tribe of Mā-năs'seh, have received their inheritance beyond Jŏr'dan on the east, which Mō'şeş the [i]servant of the LORD gave them.

8 ¶ And the men arose, and went away: and Jŏsh'u-ā charged them that went to describe the land, saying, Go and walk through the land, and describe it, and come again to me, that I may here cast lots for you before the LORD in Shī'lōh.

9 And the men went and passed through the land, and described it by cities into seven parts in a [j]book, and came again to Jŏsh'u-ā to the host at Shī'lōh.

(13) Division by lot

10 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-ā [k]cast lots for them in Shī'lōh before the LORD: and there Jŏsh'u-ā divided the land unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el according to their divisions.

(14) Borders of Benjamin

11 ¶ And the lot of the tribe of the children of Bĕn'ja-min came up [l]according to their families: and the coast of their lot came forth between the children of Jū'dah and the children of Jō'şeph.

12 And their [m]border on the north side was from Jôr'dan; and the border went up to the side of Jĕr'ī-chō on the north side, and went up through the mountains westward; and the goings out thereof were at the wilderness of Bĕth-ā'ven.

13 And the border went over from thence toward Lŭz, to the side of Lŭz, which is Bĕth'-el, southward; and the border descended to Åt'a-rōth-ā'dar, near the hill that lieth on the south side of the nether Bĕth-hō'rŏn.

14 And the border was drawn thence, and compassed the corner of the [n]sea southward, from the hill that lieth before Bĕth-hō'rŏn southward; and the goings out thereof were at Kĭr'jath-bā'al, which is Kĭr'-jath-jĕ'a-rĭm, a city of the children of Jū'dah: this was the west quarter.

15 And the south quarter was from the end of Kĭr'jath-jĕ'a-rĭm, and the border went out on the west, and went out to the well of waters of Nĕph'to-ah:

16 And the border came down to the end of the mountain that a Heb. kathab, to grave; write; inscribe; prescribe; subscribe; record; describe (v 4, 6, 8, 9; Judg. 8:14. Cp. Rom. 4:6, 10:5) b The tribe of Judah had already received their inheritance in the south (14:1-15:63), and the tribes of Joseph (Manasseh and Ephraim) had received theirs in the north (16:1-17:18). The rest of the land west of Jordan was to be divided into 7 parts for the 7 remaining tribes and lots were to be cast to see which one received certain portions (v 6)

c He did this through the high priest who had the Urim and Thummim (Ex. 28:30, note) d It is repeated again that the Levites were to have no inheritance among the 12 tribes, for the Lord was their inheritance (v 7; 13:14, 33; 14:4)

e See note c, Dt. 34:5

f Describing the land meant to survey it and make a record in a book so that the various lots could be given each tribe as the Lord would choose (v 9)

g That is, had the high priest do so with the Urim and Thummim (v 6, 10)

h Benjamin was the next lot chosen and the tribe inherited according to the number of families. Their lot was between that of the children of Judah on the south and the children of Manasseh and Ephraim, on the north (v 11)

i Borders of Benjamin's inheritance:
1 North border - from Jordan westward south of Jericho and on west through the mountains to Bethel and Luz, to Ataroth-adar, and to the south side of Beth-horon (v 12-14)
2 West border - from Beth-boron southward to Kirjath-jearim (v 14)
3 South border - from Kirjath-jearim following the north border of Judah (15:5-9) to the well of waters of Nephtoah (v 15; note h, 15:9), to the end of the mountain before the valley of the son of Hinnom, to the side of Jerusalem, to Eurogel, to Enshemesh, to the stone of Bohan, to Arabah, and to the north end of the Dead Sea (v 15-19)
4 East border - Jordan (v 20)

The tabernacle remained at Shiloh during the period of the judges (Judg. 18:31; 21:12-21; 1 Sam. 1:3, 9, 24; 2:14; 3:21; 4:3-12; 1 Ki. 2:27; 14:2-4; Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:12-14). Here is where the maids were captured to be wives of Benjamites (Judg. 21:21); where Samuel's mother prayed for him, and where he was brought as a young boy to serve God (1 Sam. 1:3-28). From here the ark was captured by Philistines (1 Sam. 2:1-7:14). Evidently Shiloh was destroyed at this time (Ps. 78:60; Jer. 7:12-14; 26:6-9). Its location was about 8 miles north of Bethel and south of Shechem (Judg. 21:19) k It is clear that only 2 1/2 tribes - Judah, Ephraim, and half the tribe of Manasseh had been settled in Canaan, and that 2 1/2 tribes - Reuben, Gad, and the other half of the tribe of Manasseh had been settled on the east of Jordan. This left 7 tribes yet to be settled (v 2). From verse 3 it seems that the tribes were to blame for this delay and not Joshua who now reproved them for not possessing the land

m 5 commands - surveying the land:
1 From among you choose 3 men from each tribe (v 4) survey it
2 They shall go through the land and
3 They shall divide the land into 7 parts according to the inheritance of the people and bring the description to me (v 4-5)
4 Judah shall abide in the south, and the children of Joseph in the north (v 5)
5 Go and walk through the land, survey it, and come again to me (v 8)
Joshua now appointed a new commission of 3 men from each of the 7 unsettled tribes to survey the unpossessed land, divide it into 7 parts, and make a report to him at Shiloh (v 4-9). This, made up of 21 men, was the largest commission to be appointed thus far. No doubt they were accompanied by men of war to protect them from the Canaanites yet remaining in the land. Furthermore, they were no doubt surveyors and well acquainted with geography and the art of measuring, without which they could not have divided the land

j The 2nd of the last 7 lots (18:5). This was by divine appointment, for Jacob had prophesied that Simeon and Levi would be divided in Jacob and scattered in Israel, because they killed the men of Shechem (Gen. 34 with 49:7). Such was literally fulfilled in that Simeon was scattered in Judah (v 1, 9) and Levi was scattered in many parts of the other tribes, not having any inheritance - only cities to dwell in throughout the land k This inheritance was taken from the Judah portion of 15:1-63

17 And was drawn from the north, and went forth to [d]En-shē'mesh, and went forth toward [e]Gĕl'i-lōth, which is over against the going up of [f]A-dŭm'mim, and descended to the stone of [g]Bō'hăn the son of Reu'ben,

18 And passed along toward the side over against [h]Ar'a-bah northward, and went down unto Ar'a-bah:

19 And the border passed along to the side of [i]Bĕth-hŏg'lah northward: and the outgoings of the border were at the north bay of the salt sea at the south end of Jôr'dan: this was the south coast.

20 And Jôr'dan was the border of it on the east side. This was the inheritance of the children of Ben'ja-min, by the coasts thereof round about, according to their families.

(15) Benjamin: 26 cities and their villages

21 Now the [k]cities of the tribe of the children of Ben'ja-min according to their families were [l]Jer'i-chō, and Bĕth-hŏg'lah, and the valley [m]of Ke'ziz,

206 CHAPTER 19

(16) Inheritance of Simeon: 13 cities and their villages

AND the [j]second lot came forth to Sim'e-on, even for the tribe of the children of Sim'e-on according to their families: and their inheritance was [k]within the inheritance of the children of Jū'dah.

2 And they had in their inheritance [l]Bĕ'er-shĕ'bā, and Shĕ'bā, and Mŏl'a-dah,

3 And Hā'zar-shu'al, and Bā'lah, and A'zem,

4 And El'to-lād, and Bē'thūl, and Hôr'mah,

5 And Zĭk'lăg, and Bĕth-mär'ca-bōth, and Hā'zar-sū'sah,

6 And Bĕth-lĕb'a-ōth, and Shā-ru'hen; [m]thirteen cities and their villages:

7 A'in, Rĕm'mon, and E'thĕr, and A'shan; four cities and their villages:

8 And all the villages that were round about these cities to [n]Bā'al-āth-bē'ĕr, [o]Rā'math of the south. This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Sim'e-on according to their families.

9 Out of the portion of the children of Jū'dah was the inheritance of the children of Sim'e-on: for the part of the children of Jū'dah was [p]too much for them: therefore the children of Sim'e-on had their inheritance within the inheritance of them.

(17) Inheritance of Zebulun: 12 cities and their villages

10 ¶ And the [q]third lot came up for the children of Zĕb'u-lūn according to their families: and the [r]border of their inheritance was unto Sā'rid:

11 And their border went up toward the sea, and Mär'a-lah, and reached to Dăb'ba-shĕth, and reached to the river that is before Jŏk'ne-ăm;

12 And turned from Sā'rid eastward toward the sunrising unto the border of Chĭs'loth-tā'bôr, and then goeth out to Dăb'e-răth, and goeth up to Jā-phī'ā,

13 And from thence passeth on along on the east to Gīt'tah-hē'phēr, to Ĭt'tah-kā'zin, and goeth out to Rĕm'mon-mĕth'o-ăr to Nē'ah;

14 And the border compasseth it on the north side to Hăn'na-thŏn: and the outgoings thereof are in the valley of Jĭph'thah-el:

15 And Kăt'tath, and Nā-hăl'lal, and Shim'rŏn, and Id'a-lah, and Bĕth'-lē-hĕm: twelve cities with their villages.

16 This is the inheritance of the children of Zĕb'u-lūn according to their families, these cities with their villages.

(18) Inheritance of Issachar: 16 cities and their villages

17 ¶ And the [s]fourth lot came out to Is'sa-char, for the children of Is'sa-char according to their families.

18 And their [t]border was toward Jĕz're-el, and Chĕ-sŭl'loth, and Shu'nem, 19 And Hăph-rā'im, and Shĭ'hŏn, and Án-a-hā'rath,

20 And Răb'bĭth, and Kĭsh'ī-ŏn, and A'bĕz,

21 And Ré'meth, and Ĕn-găn'nim, and Ĕn-hăd'dah, and Bĕth-păz'zez;

22 And the coast reacheth to Tā'bôr, and Shā-hăz'i-mah, and Bĕth-shē'mesh; and the outgoings of their border were at Jôr'dan: sixteen cities with their villages.

23 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Is'sa-char according to their families, the cities and their villages.

(19) Inheritance of Asher: 22 cities and their villages

24 ¶ And the [u]fifth lot came out for the tribe of the children of Ash'ēr according to their families.

25 And their [v]border was Hĕl'kăth, and Hā'li, and Bē'ten, a Baalath-beer, the well of the mistresses. Probably so-called because of the superstitious and impure worship set up there. The name is found only here (v 8) b Ramath (only here, v 8). Perhaps the same as Ramoth which was about 37 miles south of Hebron (1 Sam. 30:27)

c Of the 18 cities listed in note l, v 2, only 7 are not listed with the cities of Judah in 15:20-62, and listed here:
1 Sheba (only here, v 2). It is not mentioned in a parallel list (1 Chr. 4:28-38). The R. V. translates v 2 as Beer-sheba or Sheba, and this would correspond with the correct total of thirteen in v 6
2 Bethul (only here, v 4). Perhaps the same as Bethuel (1 Chr. 4:30)
3 Beth-marcaboth (v 5; 1 Chr. 4:31)
4 Hazar-susah (only here, v 5). Called Hazar-susim (1 Chr. 4:31)
5 Beth-lebaoth (only here, v 6), but could be the Lebaoth of 15:32
6 Sharuhen (only here, v 6). Called Shilhim (15:32) and Shaaraim (1 Chr. 4:31)
7 Remmon (only here, v 7). Called Rimmon (15:32; 2 Chr. 4:32; Zech. 14:10) d God so arranged that this portion would be large enough to fulfil prophecy in scattering Simeon and Levi among the tribes of Israel (note j, 18:20)
e 3rd of 7 lots (v 10; 18:5)
f The beginning of this south border was Sarid, an unidentified place. It ran westward to Maralah, to Dabbasheth, to the river that is before Jokneam in Carmel (12:22) which is on the Mediterranean Sea (v 10-11). From Sarid the boundary ran eastward to the border of Chisloth-tabor, out to Daberath, to Japhia, on east to Gittah-hepher, to Neah (v 12-13). It is almost impossible to trace this border accurately in either direction from Sarid, for most of these points are unknown except Jockneam on Carmel which we know to be on the Mediterranean Sea (12:22). One thing is certain: Gen. 49:13 and Dt. 33:19 predict the portion of Zebulun to be on the sea and a haven for ships; so regardless of what was possessed at first the tribe will finally have a coastline on the Mediterranean and the Sea of Galilee. In the Millennium the allotment of land will be on a different principle. Each of the 12 great portions will run west from the Euphrates and the Persian Gulf to the Mediterranean, giving each tribe an outlet by water (Ezek. 48)

16 cities and places:

There are 18 cities and places named in connection with the borders of Zebulun though v 15 mentions only twelve cities and villages. Therefore, some of these places may not be cities and some may not be located in Zebulun. They are:

1 Sarid (v 10, 12)	9 Ittah-kazin
2 Maralah (v 11)	10 Remmon-methoar
3 Dabba-sheth	11 Neah
4 Jokneam	12 Hanna-thon (v 14)
5 Chisloth-tabor (v 12)	13 Jiphthahel
6 Dabe-rath	14 Kattath (v 15)
7 Japhia	15 Nahallal
8 Gittah-hepher (v 13)	16 Shimron
	17 Idalah
	18 Bethlehem

h The border of Issachar is not given by the writer, but we know the tribe had common borders in part with Zebulun, Naphtali, Asher, and Manasseh, and part touched the Jordan (v 22)

16 cities of Issachar:

1 Jezreel (v 18)	9 Abez
2 Chesulloth	10 Remeth (v 21)
3 Shunem	11 Engannim
4 Haphraim (v 19)	12 Enhaddah
5 Shihon	13 Beth-pazzez
6 Anaharath	14 Tabor (v 22)
7 Rabbith (v 20)	15 Shahazimah
8 Kishon	16 Beth-shemesh

i 5th of 7 lots (v 24; 18:5)
j Borders of Asher: The western border - from Helkath north to south, to Hali, to Beten, to Achshaph, to Alammelech, to Amad, to Misheal, to Carmel westward, and to Shihor-libnath. From here the south border turned east to Zebulun, to the valley of Jiphthahel, to Neiel. From here the east border turned north to Hebron, to Rehob, to Hammon, to Kanah. The north border turned westward to Zidon, to Ramah, to Tyre; and from here the west coast went southward on the Mediterranean down to Achzib, to Ummab, to Aphek, and to Rehob (v 24-31)

a 22 cities of Asher:

1 Helkath (v 25)	11 Hebron (v 28)
2 Hali	12 Rehob
3 Beten	13 Hammon
4 Achshaph	14 Kanah
5 Alammelech (v 26)	15 Zidon 16 Ramah (v 29)
6 Amad	17 Tyre
7 Misheal	18 Hosah
8 Beth-dagon (v 27)	19 Achzib 20 Ummah (v 30)
9 Beth-emek	21 Aphek
10 Neiel	22 Rehob

The other names in this section are valleys, mountains, or districts; and some may not belong to this tribe, but are mentioned only in connection with its borders

c Borders of Naphtali: From Heleph at a point on the west border northward to Allon, to Zaa-nannim, to Adami, to Nekeb, to Jabneel, to Lakum, and to Jordan (v 33). The south border turned westward to Aznoth-tabor, to Hukkok, and to Zebulun; the west border was Asher; and the north border was from Asher to Judah upon the north Jordan (v 34)

d This either refers to a city called Judah on the Jordan, or to the fact that Jair who conquered the cities of Bashan was a descendant of Judah (1 Chr. 2:4, 22). Many Judahites could have helped him conquer this land and they could have settled on the Jordan

e 25 cities and places in Naphtali:

1 Heleph (v 33)	14 Chinnereth
2 Allon	15 Adamah (v 36)
3 Zaanannim	16 Ramah
4 Adami	17 Hazor
5 Nekeb	18 Kedesh (v 37)
6 Jabneel	19 Edrei
7 Lakum	20 En-hazor
8 Aznoth-tabor (v 34)	21 Iron (v 38) 22 Migdallel
9 Hukkok	23 Horem
10 Ziddim (v 35)	24 Beth-anath
11 Zer	25 Beth-shemesh - not the one in Judah
12 Hammath
13 Rakkath

Of these 19 were fenced cities (v 35, 38), the rest unfortified places. Some may not have belonged to this tribe but are mentioned in connection with its borders

f 7th of 7 lots (v 40; 18:5)

g The borders of Dan are not as distinct as some others. In fact, the writer seems to have described the borders of the various tribes less and less from the 1st to the 7th of these lots. Many of the places and cities named are really unknown to us today. Bible scholars and archeologists have helped to clear up the facts regarding some but there is still much that is not clear at present. Dan was also given a portion of Judah bordering northwest of Judah, south of Ephraim, and west of Benjamin h 18 cities of Dan:

1 Zorah (v 41)	10 Eltekeh (v 44)
2 Eshtaol	11 Gibbethon
3 Ir-shemesh	12 Baalath
4 Shaal-abbin (v 42)	13 Jehud (v 45)
5 Ajalon	14 Bene-berak
6 Jethlah	15 Gath-rimmon
7 Elon (v 43)	16 Me jarkon (v 46)
8 Timnah-thah	17 Rakkon
9 Ekron	18 Japho

i The portion of Dan was too little for them, so some of the tribe went up to Leshem, took it, smote the inhabitants with the sword, dwelled there, and called the place Dan after their father (v 47)

26 cities of Benjamin (18:21)

1 Jericho	14 Ramah

27 And turneth toward the sunrising to Bĕth-dā'gon, and reacheth to Zĕb'u-lŭn, and to the valley of Jĭph'thah-el toward the north side of Bĕth-ĕ'mek, and Nĕ-ĭ'el, and goeth out to Cā'bŭl on the left hand,

28 And Hē'bron, and Rē'hŏb, and Hăm'mŏn, and Kā'nah, even unto great Zī'dŏn;

29 And then the coast turneth to Rā'mah, and to the strong city Tyre; and the coast turneth to Hō'sah; and the outgoings thereof are at the sea from the coast to Ach'zīb:

30 Ŭm'mah also, and A'phek, and Rē'hŏb: [c]twenty and two cities with their villages.

31 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Ash'ĕr according to their families, these cities with their villages.

(20) Inheritance of Naphtali: 9 cities and their villages

32 ¶ The [d]sixth lot came out to the children of Năph'ta-lĭ even for the children of Năph'ta-lĭ according to their families.

33 And their [e]coast was from Hē'leph, from Al'lŏn to Zā-a-năn'nim, and Ad'a-mī, Nē'keb, and Jăb'ne-el, unto Lā'kŭm; and the outgoings thereof were at Jor'dan:

34 And then the coast turneth westward to Az'noth-tā'bôr and goeth out from thence to Hŭk'kok, and reacheth to Zĕb'u-lŭn on the south side, and reacheth to Ash'ĕr on the west side, and to [d]Ju'dah upon Jor'dan toward the sunrising.

35 And the [e]fenced cities are Zid'dim, Zĕr, and Hăm'math, Răk'kath, and Chin'ne-rĕth, 36 And Ad'a-mah, and Ra'mah, and Hā'zôr,

37 And Ke'desh, and Ed're-i, and En-hā'zor,

38 And I'ron, and Mig'dal-el, Hō'rem, and Bĕth-ā'nath, and Bĕth-shē'mesh; nineteen cities with their villages.

39 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Năph'ta-lĭ according to their families, the cities and their villages.

(21) Inheritance of Dan: 18 cities and their villages

40 ¶ And the [d]seventh lot came out for the tribe of the children of Dăn according to their families.

41 And the [e]coast of their inheritance was [g]Zō'rah, and Esh'ta-ŏl, and Ir-shē'mesh, 42 And Shă-al-ăb'bin, and Aj'a-lŏn, and Jĕth'lah,

43 And E'lŏn, and Thĭm'nathah, and Ek'rŏn,

44 And El'te-keh, and Gĭb'bethŏn, and Bā'al-ăth, 45 And Je'hŭd, and Bĕn'e-bē'răk, and Găth-rĭm'mon,

46 And Mē-jär'kon, and Răk'kon, with the border before Jā'phō.

47 And the [e]coast of the children of Dăn went out too little for them: therefore the children of Dăn went up to fight against Le'shem, and took it, and smote it with the edge of the sword, and possessed it, and dwelt therein, and called Le'shem, Dăn, after the name of Dăn their father.

48 This is the inheritance of the tribe of the children of Dăn according to their families, these cities with their villages.

(22) Joshua's inheritance

49 ¶ When they had made an end of dividing the land for inheritance by their coasts, the children of Is'ra-el gave an inheritance to Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn among them:

50 [b]According to the word of the LORD they gave him the city which he asked, even Tim'nath-sē'rah in mount E'phrā-ĭm: and he built the city, and dwelt therein.

51 These are the inheritances, which E-le-ā'zar the priest, and Jŏsh'u-a the son of Nŭn, and the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Is'ra-el, divided for an inheritance by lot in Shi'lōh [c]before the LORD, at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation. So they made an end of dividing the country.

CHAPTER 20 207

(23) Six cities of refuge (Num. 35:9, refs.)

THE LORD also spake unto Jŏsh'u-a, saying,

●2 [d]Speak to the children of Is'ra-el, saying, Appoint out for you [e]cities of refuge, whereof I spake unto you by the hand of Mō'ses:

3 That the slayer that killeth any person unawares and unwittingly may flee thither: and they shall be your refuge from the avenger of blood.

4 And when he that doth flee unto one of those cities shall stand at the entering of the gate of the city, and shall declare his cause in the ears of the elders of that city, they shall take him into the city unto them, and give him a place that he may dwell among them.

●5 And if the avenger of blood pursue after him, then they shall not deliver the slayer up into his hand; because he smote his neighbour unwittingly, and hated him not beforetime.

●6 And he shall dwell in that city, until he stand before the congregation for judgment, and until the death of the [f]high priest that shall be in those days: then shall the slayer return, and come unto his own city, and unto his own house, unto the city from whence he fled.

7 ¶ And they appointed Ke'desh in Gā'lī-lee in mount Năph'ta-lĭ, and Shē'chem in mount E'phrā-ĭm, and Kir'jath-är'bā, which is Hē'bron, in the mountain of Jū'dah.

8 And on the other side Jor'dan by Jĕr'ĭ-chō eastward, they assigned Bē'zēr in the wilder-a This scripture gives a true illustration of the N. T. Christian ministry - the principle of true greatness - that of being great because of being the minister of all (Mt. 20:24-28); that of giving one's life that all might live (Mt. 20:28; 2 Cor. 5:14-15; Heb. 2:9); that of giving one's self in consecration to serve all men, not to be served (Rom. 8:3; 2 Cor. 12:15); and that of parents laying up for the children instead of children for the parents (2 Cor. 12:14). After all others had received inheritance, then Joshua, the leader of all received his b This selection was made by the Urim and Thummim and the word of the Lord confirmed he should have what he asked for. Not only did Joshua prove himself unselfish by asking for his inheritance after all others; the name of his inheritance - Timnath-serah, the portion that remains - proved him thus. Instead of choosing a city, he merely asked for a place to build one (v 50). It is significant that Caleb was the first in his tribe to receive inheritance, and Joshua was not only the last in his own tribe but the last in all the tribes (14:6-13; 19:49)

c All inheritances were made or inquired about and granted in public, at the door of the tabernacle (v 51)

d 3 commands - cities of refuge:

1 Speak to Israel saying to appoint certain cities for refuge, as I spake to Moses, so they can be places of refuge from the avenger of blood when one kills another accidently (v 2-3)

2 When anyone flees to one of these cities he shall declare his cause to the elders of the city who shall give him a place to live to protect him from the avenger of blood until he stands in judgment (v 4-5)

3 He shall dwell in that city until the death of the high priest, if he is found not guilty of wilful murder; then he shall return to his own house (v 6; Num. 35:1-34)

e 6 cities of refuge (see Num. 35):

1 Kedesh in Galilee in Naphtali (v 7)
2 Shechem in mount Ephraim
3 Hebron in Judah
4 Bezer in the wilderness in Reuben across Jordan eastward (v 8)
5 Ramoth in Gilead in Gad on the east of Jordan east of Jordan 6 Golan in Bashan in Manasseh on the f The term high priest is found 82 times in Scripture; only 21 times in the O.T. and almost 3 times as often in the N.T. due to the fact that such an officer was the leading man to oppose Jesus Christ and the apostles. High priest appears 24 times in the record of the trial of Christ; 15 times in that of the persecution of apostles; and 13 times referring to Christ as our high priest today. The other times in the N. T. the term is used in references to O. T. high priests. The title appears after the institution of the office (Lev. 21:10-15; Num. 3:32)

10 facts about high priests

1 Their office was hereditary (Ex. 27:21; 28:43; 29:9 22:9,16)
2 They were to be holy (Lev. 21:6-7;
3 Without bodily blemish (Lev. 21:17-23)
4 Wore special garments (Ex. 28:1-43; 39:1-29; Lev. 6:10-11; 8:13)
5 Limited in selection of wife (Lev. 21:7-15)
6 Exempt from tax (Ezra 7:24)
7 Respect due them (Acts 23:5)
8 Had assistants (Num. 3:32; 4:16; 31:6; 1 Chr. 9:20; 2 Sam. 15:24)
9 Had to be consecrated (Ex. 29; Lev. 6:24-30; 21:10; Ps. 133:2) 10 Duties of:
(1) Serve as overseer of sanctuary (Num. 18:1-7)
(2) Offer sacrifices (Heb. 5:1; 8:3)
(3) Officiate in consecration of Levites and other priests (Num. 8:11-21)
(4) Light lamps in sanctuary (Ex. 27:20; 30:8; Lev. 24:3-4; Num. 8:3)
(5) Burn incense (Ex. 30:7-8)
(6) Place showbread on table every sabbath (Lev. 24:8)
(7) Offer sacrifice for own sins (Lev. 4:3-12)
(8) Officiate in most holy place once a year (Ex. 30:10; Lev. 16; Heb. 5:3)
(9) Mediate between God and man (Ex. 28:29-30, notes)
(10) Judge and act in an official capacity at many times (Num. 5:15; 27:18-21; Dt. 17:8-13)

a If found not guilty of wilful murder he was supposed to remain in the confines of the city of refuge, after the trial - until the death of the high priest. After that he could go home and resume his former life. If he left the city of refuge any time before this the avenger of blood could kill him without punishment (Num. 35:1-34)

b Then - when all Israel had received their inheritances, including Joshua who was the last to receive (19:49-51), it was time for the Levites to inquire about their cities and suburbs which Moses promised them among all the tribes of Israel (v 2; Num. 35:1-4). Theirs was not a separate portion of the land as in the case of the other tribes; and it was not called an inheritance because of this (13:14, 33; Num. 18:24; 26:62; Dt.10:9; 12:12; 14:27-29; 18:1-2). The Lord was called their inheritance (13:33; Dt. 18:2), with all the tithes and dedicated things (Num. 18:24; Lev. 27)

8 To Joshua - in Joshua: 3 prophecies (1:2-11; 3:10; 13:6)

Kenezites (14:14)

The word Kenezite must not be confused with Kenites of Gen. 15:19; Num. 24:21-22; Judg. 1:16; 4:11-17; 5:24; 1 Sam. 15:6; 27:10; 30:29; 1 Chr. 2:55; and Kenizzites of Gen. 15:19. It seems that Kenaz was a family name among Edomites who came from Isaac through Esau (Gen. 36:11, 15, 42), and among Israelites in the tribe of Judah (v 6,14; 15:17; Judg. 1:13; 3:9-11; 1 Chr. 4:13-16). The word Kenezite in 14:4,14; Num. 32:12 is equivalent to son of Kenaz (15:17), head of the father's house which came from Kenaz; that is, a subdivision of the Judahite family of Hezron (1 Chr. 2:42). Caleb, the brother of Jerahmeel and father of Achzah (1 Chr. 2:42,49) was the same person as Caleb the descendant of Hezron (1 Chr. 2:18). The Kenaz (father of Jephunneh the father of Caleb) of 14:14 was a descendant of Hezron, the son of Pharez, the son of Judah (1 Chr. 2:5, 18, 25); hence, it was not the name of a tribe, but of a person; and, as we may see from 1 Chr. 4:15, one of Caleb's sons was named Kenaz, the name being repeated in the family. The sons of Judah that came with Caleb (14:6), were members of the family that took the name Kenaz for their family name, Caleb being the head of this particular family of Judah

Kirjath-arba (14:15)

Meaning city of Arba, the city of the 4 giants (14:15; 15:54; 20:7; Judg. 1:10). Sarah died here (Gen. 23:2). The 4 giants who had conquered and built the city of Hebron were Anak and his 3 sons - Sheshai, Ahiman, and Talmai (15:14). These were of great stature. Arba was the father of Anak and a great man among the giants (v 15; 15:13)

ness upon the plain out of the tribe of Reu'ben, and Ra'moth in Gil'e-ad out of the tribe of Gad, and Go'lan in Ba'shan out of the tribe of Ma-nas'seh.

9 These were the cities appointed for all the children of Is'ra-el, and for the stranger that sojourneth among them, that whosoever killeth any person at unawares might flee thither, and not die by the hand of the avenger of blood, until he stood before the congregation.

CHAPTER 21 208

(24) Levi's inheritance: A Request of the Levites

THEN came near the heads of the fathers of the Le'vites unto E-le-a'zar the priest, and unto Jo'shu-a the son of Nun, and unto the heads of the fathers of the tribes of the children of Is'ra-el;

2 And they spake unto them at Shi'loh in the land of Ca'nan, saying, The LORD commanded by the hand of Mo'ses to give us cities to dwell in, with the suburbs thereof for our cattle.

3 And the children of Is'ra-el gave unto the Le'vites out of their inheritance, at the commandment of the LORD, these cities and their suburbs.

B Kohathites: 23 cities

4 And the lot came out for the families of the Ko'hath-ites: and the children of Aar'on the priest, which were of the Le'vites, had by lot out of the tribe of Ju'dah, and out of the tribe of Sim'e-on, and out of the tribe of Ben'ja-min, thirteen cities.

5 And the rest of the children of Ko'hath had by lot out of the families of the tribe of E'phra-im, and out of the tribe of Dan, and out of the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh, ten cities.

C Gershonites: 13 cities

6 And the children of Ger'shon had by lot out of the families of the tribe of Is'sa-char, and out of the tribe of Ash'er, and out of the tribe of Naph'tali, and out of the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh in Ba'shan, thirteen cities.

D Merarites: 12 cities

7 The children of Me-ra'ri by their families had out of the tribe of Reu'ben, and out of the tribe of Gad, and out of the tribe of Zeb'u-lun, twelve cities.

8 And the children of Is'ra-el gave by lot unto the Le'vites these cities with their suburbs, as the LORD commanded by the hand of Mo'ses.

E Detail: Kohath's portion in Judah, Simeon, and Benjamin - 13 cities (v 4)

9 ¶ And they gave out of the tribe of the children of Ju'dah, and out of the tribe of the children of Sim'e-on, these cities which are here mentioned by name,

10 Which the children of Aar'on, being of the families of the Ko'hath-ites, who were of the children of Le'vi, had: for theirs was the first lot.

11 And they gave them the city of Ar'ba the father of A'nak, which city is He'bron, in the hill country of Ju'dah, with the suburbs thereof round about it.

12 But the fields of the city, and the villages thereof, gave they to Ca'leb the son of Je-phun'neh for his possession.

13 ¶ Thus they gave to the children of Aar'on the priest He'bron with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Lib'nah with her suburbs,

14 And Jat'tir with her suburbs, and Esh-te-mo'a with her suburbs,

15 And Ho'lon with her suburbs, and De'bir with her suburbs,

16 And A'in with her suburbs, and Jut'tah with her suburbs, and Beth-she'mesh with her suburbs; nine cities out of those two tribes.

17 And out of the tribe of Ben'ja-min, Gib'e-on with her suburbs, Ge'ba with her suburbs, 18 An'a-thoth with her suburbs, and Al'mon with her suburbs; four cities.

19 All the cities of the children of Aar'on, the priests, were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

F Detail: Kohath's portion in Ephraim, Dan, and Manasseh - 10 cities (v 5)

20 ¶ And the families of the children of Ko'hath, the Le'vites which remained of the children of Ko'hath, even they had the cities of their lot out of the tribe of E'phra-im.

21 For they gave them She'chem with her suburbs in mount E'phra-im, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Ge'zer with her suburbs, 22 And Kib'za-im with her suburbs, and Beth-ho'ron with her suburbs; four cities.

24 Aij'a-lon with her suburbs, Gath-rim'mon with her suburbs; four cities.

25 And out of the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh, Ta'nach with her suburbs, and Gath-rim'mon with her suburbs; two cities.

26 All the cities were ten with their suburbs for the families of the children of Ko'hath that remained.

G Detail: Gershon's portion in Manasseh, Issachar, Asher, and Naphtali - 13 cities (v 6)

27 ¶ And unto the children of Ger'shon, of the families of the Le'vites, out of the other half tribe of Ma-nas'seh they gave Go'lan in Ba'shan with her suburbs, to be a city of refuge for the slayer; and Be-esh'-te-rah with her suburbs; two cities.

a This simply means that all the Kohathites had the first lot, not necessarily the best (v 10). There was no violation of the principle of ministers becoming the greatest by being the servants of all (note a, 19:49)

Inheritance by prophecy (15:1)

God had prophetically spoken through Jacob (Gen. 49) and Moses (Dt. 33) indicating certain portions were to be allotted to certain tribes. Now the actual lot was being cast to confirm the previous predictions. All this not only guaranteed divine inspiration in the selection of each portion, but also assured that only jealousy arising from any source would be unfounded. Each tribe was placed by divine lot in the exact place predicted by Jacob 243 years before and by Moses some 5 years before. It was thus evident that God was directing in both the predictions and the lot for the tribes. See Jacob's prophecy of the tribes, p. 50, and notes on Moses' prophecy in Dt. 33:6-29

Borders of Judah (15:1)

1 South border - Judah occupied the most southerly part of the land of Canaan. The south border extended from the lower end of the Dead Sea on south by Edom and the wilderness of Sin to Maaleh-acrabbim, to Zin to Kadesh-barnea, to Hezron to Adar, to Karkaa, to Azmon, to Sihon or the river of Egypt and on to the Mediterranean Sea (v 1-4)
2 East border - the Dead Sea (v 5)
3 North border - from the bay of the Dead Sea where the Jordan empties into the sea to Beth-hogla, to Beth-arabah, to the stone of Bohan to Debir to Adummim to En-shemesh, by the valley of the son of Hinnom, to the south of Jerusalem, to the top of the mountain that lies before the valley of the son of Hinnom westward, to the end of the valley of the giants, to the fountain of water of Nephtoah, to the cities of mount Ephron, to Baalah or Kirjath-jearim and westward, to mount Seir and along the north side of mount Jearim or Cesalon, to Beth-shemesh, to Timnah, to the north side of Ekron, to Shicron, to mount Baalah to Jabneel, and to the Mediterranean Sea (v 5-11)

f The cities were to be 48 in number, including the 6 cities of refuge (v 41; Num. 35:6-7)
g The cities of the Levites were to have 2 suburbs, the first one to be 1,000 cubits deep all the way around each city (2,083 ft. 4 in., counting 25 in. to the cubit); and the other one 2,000 cubits measuring from the first suburb (4,166 ft. 8 in.) - altogether 6,250 ft. or more than a mile. This ground was to be used for gardens, vineyards, and other purposes to give the Levites and priests comfort and enjoyment in life
h The whole land was allotted to all Israel but not fully possessed by them, and will not be until the Millennium when the Messiah begins to rule over the house of Jacob forever (Isa. 9:6-7; Ezek. 48; Zech. 14; Lk. 1:32-33; Rev. 11:15). All that God sware to give them was little by little until they would finally possess the whole that was promised, and even this little by little was based upon their obedience to Him and their own faith and aggressiveness to possess it (Ex. 23:29-33; Lev. 26; Num. 33:52-56; Dt. 7:20-24; 11:13-32; 28:1-68; 29:19-28; 30:1-20; 31:16-29; 32:19-43)

Jerusalem was a Jebusite city before David conquered it and made it the capital of the united kingdom of Israel (2 Sam. 5:6-12). Here the most extraordinary events of human history have taken place - events in which God, angels, and men have played a part. Here is where the temples of Israel have been and will again be located. Here is where Christ was consecrated to God, where He was crucified, and buried, where He arose from the dead, and the place He will come to at the 2nd advent (Zech. 14:1-5). At Jerusalem is where Christ will reign forever when 33 [c]All the cities of the Ger'shon-ites according to their families were thirteen cities with their suburbs.

H Detail: Merari's portion in Zebulun, Reuben, and Gad - 12 cities (v 7)

34 ¶ And [b]unto the families of the children of Mĕ-ra'ri, the rest of the Le'vites, out of the tribe of Zĕb'u-lun, Jŏk'ne-ăm with her suburbs, and Kär'tah with her suburbs, 35 Dim'nah with her suburbs, Na'ha-lăl with her suburbs; four cities.

I Summary: Levi's portion in all Israel - 48 cities

41 [e]All the cities of the Le'vites within the possession of the children of Is'ra-el were [f]forty and eight cities with their suburbs.
42 These cities were every one with their [g]suburbs round about them: thus were all these cities.
43 ¶ And the LORD [h]gave unto Is'ra-el all the land which he sware to give unto their fathers; and they possessed it, and dwelt therein.
44 And the LORD [i]gave them rest round about, according to all that he sware unto their fathers: and [j]there stood not a man of all their enemies before them; the LORD delivered all their enemies into their hand.
45 There [k]failed not ought of any good thing which the LORD had spoken unto the house of Is'ra-el; all came to pass.

209 CHAPTER 22

VII First civil strife in Israel (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). 1 Army demobilized

THEN Jŏsh'u-a called the Reu'ben-ites, and the Gad'ites, and the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh, 2 And said unto them, [b]Ye have kept all that Mo'ses [c]the servant of the LORD commanded you, and have obeyed my voice in all that I commanded you:
3 Ye have not left your brethren these many days unto this day, but have kept the charge of the commandment of the LORD your God.
4 And [d]now the LORD your God hath given rest unto your brethren, as he promised them: therefore now return ye, and get you unto your tents, and unto the land of your possession, which Mo'ses the servant of the LORD gave you on the other side Jor'dan.
●5 [e]But take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, which Mo'ses the servant of the LORD charged you, to love the LORD your God, and to walk in all his ways, and to keep his commandments, and to cleave unto him, and to serve him with all your heart and with all your soul.
6 So Jŏsh'u-a [f]blessed them, and sent them away: and they went unto their tents.
7 ¶ Now to the one half of the tribe of [g]Ma-nas'seh Mo'ses had given possession in Ba'shan: but unto the other half thereof gave Jŏsh'u-a among their brethren on this side Jor'dan westward. And when Jŏsh'u-a sent them away also unto their tents, then he blessed them, ●8 And he spake unto them, saying, [h]Return with much riches unto your tents, and with very much cattle, with silver, and with gold, and with brass, and with iron, and with very much raiment: divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren.

2 Schismatic altar of the 2 1/2 tribes east of Jordan

9 ¶ And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh [i]returned, and departed from the children of Is'ra-el out of Shi'lōh, which is in the land of Ca'năan, to go unto the country of Gil'e-ăd, to the land of their possession, whereof they were possessed, according to the word of the LORD by the hand of Mo'ses.
10 ¶ And when they came unto the borders of Jor'dan, that are in the land of Ca'năan, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Ma-nas'seh [j]built there an altar by Jor'dan, a great altar to see to.

3 Civil war proposed by 9 1/2 tribes west of Jordan

11 ¶ And the [k]children of Is'ra-el heard say, Behold, the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half a After the allotment of land to the 9 1/2 tribes, Joshua called the 2 1/2 tribes for the purpose of demobilizing the army and permitting them (40,000 soldiers, 4:12-13) to return to the east of Jordan which they had already inherited (Num. 32:1-42; 34:1-15)

b 4fold commendation of eastern Israel:
1 You have kept all the commandments of the Lord by Moses (v 2)
2 You have obeyed my (Joshua's) voice in all that I commanded you
3 You have not left your brethren to fight alone these many days (about 5 years, v 3; note 1, 14:7)
4 You have kept the charge of the commandment of the Lord
c See note n, Dt. 34:5
d 5fold reward for faithfulness:
1 The Lord has given rest and peace to all your brethren (v 4)
2 You are free from further obligation to help your brethren (Num. 32:21-23)
3 Go now to your tents and pack up to leave for home in the land of your possessions them away (v 6-7)
4 So Joshua blessed them and sent 5 Much riches - cattle, silver, gold, brass, iron, and very much raiment (v 8) e 6fold commandment to demobilized men:
1 Take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law (v 5)
2 To love the Lord your God
3 To walk in all His ways
4 To keep His commandments
5 To cleave to Him
6 To serve Him with all your heart and with all your soul
f See note k, 14:13
g This was the only tribe of the 12 that received possession from both Moses and Joshua (v 7; Num. 32:1-33)
h 4 commands to demobilized men:
1 Return to your tents and to the land of your possession (v 4)
2 Take diligent heed to do the commandment and the law, to love the Lord, walk in all His ways, keep His commandments, cleave to Him, and serve Him with all your heart and soul (v 5)
3 Return with much riches to your homes - cattle, silver, gold, brass, iron, and raiment (v 8)
4 Divide the spoil of your enemies with your brethren
i The 2 1/2 tribes returned and departed from the children of Israel, meaning from the main body of Israel - not that they were not also part of Israel (v 9). This distinction is many times expressed where a smaller part of Israel was divided from the main body of the nation, as in the case of the division of the kingdom under Rehoboam and Jeroboam. Judah, the southern part, is many times distinguished from Israel yet technically these people were just as much Israel as those of the northern kingdom making up the 10 tribes (1 Ki. 12:16-33)
j The 2 1/2 tribes did this without consulting the other tribes, hence the great confusion and near civil war of v 11-34. See 6 civil strifes, note c, Judg. 20:1
k The children of Judah were a part of these children of Israel who gathered against the 2 1/2 tribes, proving that they are as much a part of Israel as the other tribes. The division of the kingdom about 1009 B.C. did not make them any less Israelites than before, as erroneously taught by some

He comes (Isa. 2:1-4; Ezek. 43:7; 48:35; Joel 4:20; Zech. 14). The city has undergone no less than 28 sieges and 2 more are yet to come (Zech. 14; Rev. 20:7-10). It was the center of Jewish life - political, social, business, and religious. The gospel was first preached here by the early church (Lk. 24:47; Acts 1:4-8; 2:14). Here the first congregation of Christians was formed, the church saw its greatest victories and had its greatest struggles to survive; here is where the first Christian martyr laid down his life (Acts 2-12). Many prophecies are yet to be fulfilled concerning Jerusalem as we shall see in the various books of the prophets a The whole congregation on the west of Jordan, not those on the east side (v 12). Figurative of a great many and not literally all Israel

b The tabernacle of worship was at Shiloh at this time and for many years afterward (v 12; note m, 18:1) c This shows how zealous for God the people were at this time. Having had many experiences in the wilderness when they went into sin and idolatry, they were now willing even to war with each other, if threatened with new disaster because of one part setting up rival worship to that of the Lord in Shiloh (v 12). In such zeal they were acting in obedience to the law (Dt. 13:12-18)

d This is what they should have done before gathering together to make war on their brethren. It always pays to make inquiry before forming conclusions (v 13-20)

e The one who slew the man of Israel and the Midianite woman in the tent before all Israel and gained a name and a covenant for his zeal and quick action in judging sin (v 13-18; Num. 25). He became the 3rd high priest of Israel. See p. 236 for a list of the high priests

f One representative from each of the 10 tribes in Canaan - actually the 9 1/2 tribes of 13:7 west of Jordan

g Questions 18-19, Next, v 20

h A bold, unwise, fault-finding approach to a problem about which proper inquiry had not yet been made. Notice the mild answer of the 2 1/2 tribes (v 21-29). In this instance it was very true that "a soft answer turneth away wrath" (v 30-34; Pr. 15:1)

i See Num. 25

j Over 24,000 died in the plague at Peor. Speaking of the people as not being cleansed of the results yet may mean that some among the people were still inclined to the worship of Peor regardless of all that had happened (v 17; Num. 25, notes)

k This demonstrated more than anything else the earnestness of the 9 1/2 tribes of Israel. They were willing to share their inheritances with the 2 1/2 tribes to keep down sin and rebellion against God. It shows how deep an impression the plagues of God in the wilderness had left on most of the new generation of Israel (v 19)

l This shows that the tribes on the west of Jordan believed the 2 1/2 tribes on the east were really establishing a rival worship to that of Jehovah (v 19)

m Question 20, Next, v 24

n The second great trespass and judgment of God; the experience was fresh in the memories of Israel. Their reasoning here was that if God sent a plague killing 24,000 for adultery and idolatry (Num. 25), and cursed Israel for the sin of one man (7:1-26), a great calamity would befall the nation if 2 1/2 tribes sinned as it now appeared they were doing

o Actual wrath did not fall on Israel except in the defeat of their army before Ai and the death of 36 mighty men of war (7:5), but wrath on the whole congregation was threatened if the sin was not dealt with (7:6-12) p His whole family perished with him in the sin (7:24-26)

q Heb. El Elohim Yehovah, the strong One, the Creator, the Eternal. These 3 names were the principal ones used by Israel for the Supreme God. Thus the 2 1/2 tribes by this solemn double appeal expressed at once their strong and unwavering faith in the God of Israel, indicating that in their religion, they had not changed. It showed their deep faith in the name and honor of God and wiped away the reproach which the 9 1/2 tribes had brought upon them by accusation (v 22-29)

r It seems that the masculine pronoun he is used of all Israel here in the same sense it is used of the church as a unit in 2 Th. 2:7

s If it be rebellion against God or transgression against Him, then destroy us this day. Thus they staked their lives on the fact of being innocent of sin and rebellion (v 22) tribe of Mā-năs'seh have built an altar over against the land of Că'năan, in the borders of Jŏr'dan, at the passage of the children of Iş'ra-el.

12 And when the children of Iş'ra-el heard of it, the [c]whole congregation of the children of Iş'ra-el gathered themselves together[b] at Shī'lōh, to go up[c] to war against them.

4 Eleven princes sent to stop the supposed rebellion

13 And the children of Iş'ra-el sent[t] unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the half tribe of Mā-năs'seh, into the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, Phĭn'e-has the son of Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest,

14 And with him /ten princes, of each chief house a prince throughout all the tribes of Iş'ra-el; and each one was an head of the house of their fathers among the thousands of Iş'ra-el.

15 ¶ And they came unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the half tribe of Mā-năs'seh, unto the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, and they spake with them, saying,

5 Indictment of the 2 1/2 tribes

16 Thus saith the whole congregation of the LORD, [g]What trespass is this that[h] ye have committed against the God of Iş'ra-el, to turn away this day from following the LORD, in that ye have builded you an altar, that ye might rebel this day against the LORD?

17 Is the iniquity[i] of Pĕ'or too little for us, from which we are not cleansed until this day, although there was a /plague in the congregation of the LORD,

18 But that ye must turn away this day from following the LORD? and it will be, seeing ye rebel to day against the LORD, that to morrow he will be wroth with the whole congregation of Iş'ra-el.

19 Notwithstanding,[k] if the land of your possession be unclean, then pass ye over unto the land of the possession of the LORD, wherein the LORD's tabernacle dwelleth, and take possession among us: but rebel not against the LORD, /nor rebel against us, in building you an altar beside the altar of the LORD our God.

20[m] Did not Ā'chăn the son of Zĕ'rah[n] commit a trespass in the accursed thing, and [o]wrath fell on all the congregation of Iş'ra-el? and that man [p]perished not alone in his iniquity.

6 Explanation about the altar

21 ¶ Then the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the half tribe of Mā-năs'seh answered, and said unto the heads of the thousands of Iş'ra-el,

22 [q]The LORD God of gods, the LORD God of gods, he knoweth, and Iş'ra-el [r]he shall know; [s]if it be in rebellion, or if in transgression against the LORD, (save us not this day,)

23 That[a] we have built us an altar to turn from following the LORD, or if to offer thereon burnt offering or meat offering, or if to offer peace offerings thereon, [b]let the LORD himself require it;

24 And if[c] we have not rather done it[d] for fear of this thing, saying, [e]In time to come your children might speak unto our children, saying, /What have ye to do with the LORD God of Iş'ra-el?

25 For the LORD [f]hath made Jŏr'dan a border between us and you, ye children of Reu'ben and children of Găd; ye have no part in the LORD: so shall your children make our children cease from fearing the LORD.

26 Therefore we said, Let us now prepare to build us an altar, /not for burnt offering, nor for sacrifice:

27 But that it may be a [i]witness between us, and you, and our generations after us, that we might do the service of the LORD before him with our burnt offerings, and with our sacrifices, and with our peace offerings; that your children may not say to our children in time to come, Ye have no part in the LORD.

28 Therefore said we, that it shall be, when they should so say to us or to our generations in time to come, that we may say again, Behold the /pattern of the altar of the LORD, which our fathers made, not for burnt offerings, nor for sacrifices; but it is a witness between us and you.

29 God forbid that we should rebel against the LORD, and turn this day from following the LORD, to build an altar for burnt offerings, for meat offerings, or for sacrifices, beside the altar of the LORD our God that is before his tabernacle.

7 Civil war averted

30 ¶ And when Phĭn'e-has the priest, and the princes of the congregation and heads of the thousands of Iş'ra-el which were with him, heard the words that the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd and the children of Mā-năs'seh spake, [k]it pleased them.

31 And Phĭn'e-has the son of Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest said unto the children of Reu'ben, and to the children of Găd, and to the children of Mā-năs'seh, This day we perceive that the LORD is among us, because ye have not committed this trespass against the LORD: /now ye have delivered the children of Iş'ra-el out of the hand of the LORD.

32 ¶ And [m]Phĭn'e-has the son of Ĕ-le-ā'zar the priest, and the princes, returned from the children of Reu'ben, and from the children of Găd, out of the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, unto the land of Că'năan, to the children of Iş'ra-el, and brought them word again.

33 And the thing pleased the children of Iş'ra-el; and the a ? proofs altar not for rival worship:

1 We have not built this altar in rebellion against God (v 22)
2 Not to commit sin against Jehovah
3 Or to turn away from following the Lord (v 23)
4 Not to offer meat offerings
5 To offer peace offerings
6 To offer burnt offerings (v 26)
7 Or to offer any kind of sacrifice

b If we have built the altar for any one of these purposes (note a, above), then let the Lord punish us for it (v 22-23)

c Purpose for building the altar: We have made it solely as a witness between us (Israel on the east of Jordan) and you (Israel on the west of Jordan) so that your children will not in time to come speak to our children saying that they have no part with the Lord and His worship - so that your children may know that ours have as much right in the tabernacle worship as they. We have done it so that our children will never be turned away from following Jehovah (v 24-29) d The motive causing them to make the altar was fear of their children backsliding in time to come (v 24). Fear of backsliding and apostasy should be real enough in the hearts of people today to inspire them to righteousness. To instil this kind of fear we have been given hundreds of warnings of such a possibility. See Backsliding in Index

e This attitude of pride and exclusiveness on the part of men in all ages has been warned against in Scripture. It has done the cause of Christ much harm and the church is suffering almost universally from it today

f Question 21, Last question in Joshua g It is interesting and often regrettable to see how many things God is accused of being responsible for in Scripture and by religious people today. He has been blamed for poverty, sicknesses, calamities, sins, curses, wars, strifes, accidents, death and other forms of human suffering; and He has been as far from the responsibility as making Jordan a border between these Israelites (v 25). The tribes were divided by other borders, even rivers and these were not considered barriers as in this case

h This would have been contrary to the law (Lev. 17:8-9; Dt. 12:4-14)

i Heb. ed, witness; testimony. Such altars or pillars of witness were common among all ancient nations (v 27-34; 24:27; Gen. 31:44-52; Isa. 19:20) j This altar was made after the pattern of the brazen altar of the tabernacle. Located on the west side of Jordan it testified that the Israelites there had a right to the worship of Jehovah and that they were true to the same God of Israel their brethren recognized on the west side of Jordan (v 25)

k Such words of assurance from their brethren made the delegation from the 9 1/2 tribes to rejoice and acknowledge that God was in their midst because no sin had been committed against Him (v 30-31)

l This statement recognizes that if the 2 1/2 tribes had sinned and were in rebellion against God, He would punish the whole of Israel providing the sin was not confessed and put away. God would punish the rebels for their sin and also the other tribes for failure to judge sin and rid Israel of it, as in the case of Achan (7:1-26). The 2 1/2 tribes are spoken of here as delivering the 9 1/2 tribes from the hand of the Lord, referring to confidence in God of no punishment because of no sin being committed. Up to this point it was feared that there was rebellion and sin not only planned, but committed already in the making of an altar similar to the one in the tabernacle in Shiloh. Fearing God because of the consequences of departure from the true faith, the 9 1/2 tribes were even willing to fight and die for faithfulness to Jehovah

m The delegation of the princes of Israel headed by Phinehas became fully satisfied, so they departed for home (v 32-34)

a In case of idolatry and backsliding, whole families and cities were to be destroyed completely. The same law would apply to a whole country (Dt. 13)
b This Hebrew word means witness or testimony (note I, v 27) c Perhaps 25 or 30 years after the entrance into the land (note 1, 14:7). Joshua was old - 110 years of age (v 1; 24:29) d Note the 5 classes of Israel (v 1-2)
e 4-point speech of Joshua:
1 His age and condition of health (v 2)
2 Calling attention to the wonders of God in fighting for Israel (v 3)
3 His own division of Canaan and his leadership under God in the victories over the many nations between Jordan and the Mediterranean Sea (v 4)
4 Sermon of prophecy and charges in view of his coming departure from this life (v 5-16)
f 15th and last prophecy in Josh. (23:5-16, V 5-6, 10 fulfilled, Judg. 1:1-2 Sam. 12, V 11-13, 15-16 fulfilled, 2 Ki. 17 and 24-25; 2 Chr. 36)
7 predictions of Joshua:
1 The Lord will expel the nations before you, and drive them out of your sight (v 5) has promised you
2 You shall possess their land, as God
3 One of you shall chase 1,000 (v 10)
4 If you transgress the covenant, then the Lord will no more drive out any of the nations before you, but they shall be snares and traps unto you, scourges in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, until you perish from off the land (v 11-13)
5 This day I am going the way of all the earth (I am going to die; v 14)
6 As the good things have come upon you, which God has promised, even so He will bring evil things upon you for your sins, until you are destroyed from off the land (v 15-16)
7 When you have transgressed the covenant of the Lord, have gone and served other gods, and bowed down to them, then shall God's anger be kindled against you; and you shall perish quickly from the land (v 16)
g The promises of God were for Israel's good as long as they were in obedience, but for their destruction if they transgressed h 8 commands - against backsliding:
1 Be very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in the law of Moses (v 6) the left hand
2 Turn not from it to the right or to
3 Do not integrate with the nations that remain among you (v 7)
4 Do not mention the name of their 5 Do not swear by them gods
6 Do not serve or bow down yourselves to them this day (v 8)
7 Cleave to the Lord, as you are doing
8 Take good heed to yourselves that you love the Lord your God (v 11)
i What God had commanded Joshua some 30 years before this (v 6; 1:6-9)
j The book of the law of Moses, never the books, proving that the 5 books - Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, and Deuteronomy were originally one book in 5 parts (v 6) k Turning not to the right hand or the left is a familiar expression denoting complete compliance with the law in all things and from a literal standpoint, not a so-called spiritual or figurative one. It expresses stedfastness of purpose and is used many times in Scripture (v 6; 1:7; Num. 20:17; 22:26; Dt. 2:27; 5:32; 17:11,20; 28:14; 2 Sam. 2:19,21; 17:19)
l See 30 reasons for segregation of races, p. 159 of N. T.
m 4 restrictions concerning false gods:
1 Do not mention them by name
2 Do not swear or vow by them
3 Do not serve them
4 Do not worship them
n Here is testimony that Israel was serving God at this time. They served Him all the days of Joshua and all the days of the elders that outlived him which had known the works of the Lord. After that every man did that which was right in his own eyes (v 8; 24:31; Judg. 2:7-22; 21:25)
o A fulfillment of God's promise if Israel would obey (v 9; 1:5; 10:8; Dt. 7:24; 11:25) p Part of a like promise which Moses gave to Israel (Dt. 32:30). Cp. 5 chasing 100, and 100 chasing 10,000 (Lev. 26:8)
q As He promised, providing they would remain obedient to Him (v 10-16) r Go back means the same as backsliding. Continued, column 4 → children of Iṣ'ra-el blessed God, and did not intend to go up against them in battle, [e]to destroy the land wherein the children of Reu'ben and Găd dwelt.

34 And the children of Reu'ben and the children of Găd called the altar [b]Ed: for it shall be a witness between us that the LORD is God.

210 CHAPTER 23

VIII Last counsels of Joshua (Josh. 23-24. Cp. Dt. 32-33). 1 Joshua the prophet addresses Israel

AND it came to pass a[c]long time after that the LORD had given rest unto Iṣ'ra-el from all their enemies round about, that Jŏsh'u-a waxed old and stricken in age.

2 And Jŏsh'u-a called for [d]all Iṣ'ra-el, and for their elders, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers, and [e]said unto them, I am old and stricken in age:

3 And ye have seen all that the LORD your God hath done unto all these nations because of you; for the LORD your God is he that hath fought for you.

4 Behold, I have divided unto you by lot these nations that remain, to be an inheritance for your tribes, from Jôr'dan, with all the nations that I have cut off, even unto the great sea westward.

*5 [f]And the LORD your God, he shall expel them from before you, and drive them from out of your sight; and ye shall possess their land, [g]as the LORD your God hath promised unto you.

●6 [h]Be ye therefore [i]very courageous to keep and to do all that is written in[j] the book of the law of Mō'şeş, that ye [k]turn not aside therefrom to the right hand or to the left;

●7 That ye [l]come not among these nations, these that remain among you; neither make mention of the name of[m] their gods, nor cause to swear by them, neither serve them, nor bow yourselves unto them:

●8 But cleave unto the LORD your God, [n]as ye have done unto this day.

9 For the LORD hath driven out from before you great nations and strong: but as for you, [o]no man hath been able to stand before you unto this day.

▸10 [p]One man of you shall chase a thousand: for the LORD your God, he it is that fighteth for you, [q]as he hath promised you.

●11 Take good heed therefore unto yourselves, that ye love the LORD your God.

12 Else if ye do in any wise [r]go back, and cleave unto the remnant of these nations, even these that remain among you, and shall [s]make marriages with them, and go in unto them, and they to you:

13 Know for a certainty that the LORD your God will no more drive out any of these nations from before you; but they shall be snares and traps unto you, and scourges in your sides, and thorns in your eyes, [t]until ye perish from off this good land which the LORD your God hath given you.

14 And, behold, [u]this day I am going the way of all the earth: and ye know in all your hearts and in all your souls, that [v]not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the LORD your God spake concerning you; all are come to pass unto you, and [v]not one thing hath failed thereof.

15 Therefore it shall come to pass, that as all good things are come upon you, which the LORD your God promised you; so shall the LORD bring upon you all evil things, until he have destroyed you from off this good land which the LORD your God hath given you.

16 [w]When ye have transgressed the covenant of the LORD your God, which he commanded you, and have gone and served other gods, and bowed yourselves to them; then shall the anger of the LORD be kindled against you, and ye shall perish quickly from off the good land which he hath given unto you.

CHAPTER 24 211

2 Place of assembling Israel

AND Jŏsh'u-a gathered all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el [f]to Shĕ'chem, and called for the elders of Iṣ'ra-el, and for their heads, and for their judges, and for their officers; and they presented themselves before God.

3 Second address of Joshua the prophet to Israel (Cp. Josh. 23:1-16)

2 And Jŏsh'u-a said unto all the people, Thus saith the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, Your fathers dwelt on the other side of the [g]flood in old time, even Tĕ'rah, the father of A'brăham, and the father of Nā'chôr: and they served other gods.

3 And [h]I took your father A'bră-hăm from the other side of the flood, and [i]led him throughout all the land of Că'năan, and [j]multiplied his seed, and [k]gave him I'ṣaac.

4 And I [l]gave unto I'ṣaac Jā'cob and Ē'ṣąu: [m]and I gave unto Ē'ṣąu mount Sē'ir, to possess it; [n]but Jā'cob and his children went down into Ē'ğўpt.

5 [o]I sent Mō'şeş also and Aâr'on, and [p]I plagued Ē'ğўpt, according to that which I did among them: and [q]afterward I brought you out.

6 And I brought your fathers out of Ē'ğўpt: and ye [r]came unto the sea; and the Ē-ğўp'tians pursued after your fathers with chariots and horsemen unto the Red sea.

7 And [s]when they cried unto the LORD, he put darkness between you and the Ē-ğўp'tians, and brought the sea upon them, and covered them; and your eyes have seen what I have done in Ē'ğўpt: and [t]ye dwelt in the wilderness a [u]long season.

8 And I [v]brought you into the land of the Ăm'ôr-ites, which dwelt on the other side Jôr'- a If sin was allowed to continue, it would cause the whole nation to perish from off the land (v 13) and that quickly (v 16)

b Joshua, like Moses, predicted his own death to the day - this day (v 14; Dt. 31:2; 32:48-52; 34:1-8)
c See note g, v 5
d Twice here it is emphasized that not one thing which God had promised them had failed to come to pass (v 14, Cp. 2 Cor. 1:20)
e This when applies to Israel and the old covenant (v 16); but the same thing applies to men and the new covenant since Christ. God will not fail to be angry when the present covenant is broken; He will not tolerate sin and rebellion against it and Him anymore now than He tolerated Israel's disobedience (Mk. 7:19-21; Rom. 1:21-32; 6:16-23; 8:12-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Col. 3:5-10; Jas. 1:13-15; 5:19-20). Paul warned the Christian that if God did not spare the natural branches (Israel), He would not spare others when they sinned (Rom. 11:15-25). The O.T. saints also had grace and the redemptive blessings of the gospel as we have today; and yet they were cut off for disobedience when they sinned (Gal. 3:8-14; Heb. 4:1-2). See O.T. experiences, p. 158 of N. T.
f This was Joshua's home (19:49-51). The tabernacle was at Shiloh, about 8 miles away, but it was lawful for him to call a special meeting at his home since it was not a religious gathering as a feast. This could have been the same as the gathering mentioned in 23:1, except that he was dealing with all the people here more than their leaders

ing. If Israel would in any wise or in any degree backslide they would fall from God's favor and grace, and He would no longer bless them (v 12-13). That they were at this time serving the Lord in grace and mercy is plainly stated in v 8 - cleave to the Lord, as you have done unto this day 8 blessings of grace:
1 You have seen all the miracles of God in destroying these nations and fighting for you (v 3)
2 You now possess the lands of these nations as an inheritance (v 4)
3 God's promise of completing the work of driving out the remnant of these nations (v 5)
4 You are cleaving to the Lord (v 8)
5 Destruction of strong nations (v 9)
6 No man is able to stand before you
7 One man shall chase 1,000 (v 10)
8 Blessing of receiving the fulfillment of every good thing promised by the Lord (v 14)
8 sins God promised to judge:
1 Failure to keep the whole law (v 6)
2 Integrating with the nations (v 7,12)
3 Making mention of their gods by 4 Swearing by their gods name
5 Serving and worshipping their gods
6 Failure to take heed to selves or love God (v 11)
7 Backsliding in the least degree (v 12)
8 Transgressing the covenant (v 16)
8fold judgment for disobedience:

2 They shall be snares and traps to 3 They shall be scourges in your sides
4 They shall be thorns in your eyes
5 You shall perish from off the land

8 You shall quickly perish

f God had predicted that He would send hornets to help drive the people out of the land (Ex. 23:28; Dt. 7:20). Here we have His statement that it was fulfilled in the defeat of Sihon and Og (v 12; Num. 21:21-35). This, no doubt, is the secret of how the Israelites took all the great giant cities of Bashan and other cities east of the Jordan

h A land (12:1-21:45; Gen. 12:1, 7; 13:14-17; 15:18-21; 17:8; Num. 21:21-35)

k 4fold admonition in view of God's acts:
1 Fear the Lord (v 14)
2 Serve Him in sincerity and truth
3 Put away the gods which your fathers served beyond the Euphrates, and in Egypt, and serve the Lord
4 Choose you this day whom you will serve, if it seems evil unto you to serve the Lord - whether the gods your fathers served beyond the Euphrates, or the gods of the Amorites in this land (v 15)
l This is the only way to serve the Lord. Insincerity and fallacy are hated of God and all true and righteous beings (v 14; 2 Cor. 1:12; Eph. 6:24; Tit. 2:7) m 14 things to "put away":
1 Idol gods (v 14, 23)
2 Leaven (Ex. 12:15; 1 Cor. 5:6-8)
3 Evil (Dt. 13:5; 17:7; 19:19; 21:21; 22:21, 24; Isa. 1:16)

n Beyond the river Euphrates

o This indicates that Israelites served the gods of Egypt while there (v 14) p Man has free moral agency and can choose his eternal destiny as well as what he should do every day of his life (v 15; Dt. 30:19; 2 Sam. 16:18; 17:1; 24:12; 1 Ki. 18:23, 25; Job 34:4, 33; Ps. 25:12; Pr. 1:29; 3:31; Isa. 7:15-16; Phil. 1:22; Heb. 11:25). Other terms expressing choice power are used over 4,000 times in Scripture. Whosoever will can be saved if he chooses the way of life (Jn. 3:16; 1 Tim. 2:4; 2 Pet. 3:9; Rev. 22:17)
q Joshua was not giving them a choice only between the gods their fathers served beyond the Euphrates or the gods of the Amorites in Canaan, for the beginning of verse 15 shows that they also had a choice between these gods and Jehovah. Joshua was seeking for a confession of faith in Jehovah from them, and this they made clearly to him (v 16-20)
r 6fold confession of faith of Israel:
1 God forbid that we should forsake the Lord to serve other gods (v 16)
2 Jehovah is the God that has brought us up out of Egyptian bondage (v 17)
3 He is the One who did great signs in our sight
4 He is the One who has preserved us alive among all people from Egypt to this time
5 He is the One who drove out all the people from the land in which we now dwell (v 18)
6 Therefore, we will also serve the Lord, for He is our God s No man can serve the Lord unless he puts away his idols, for God is holy and jealous. He will not forgive sins until one puts away idols; and if anyone should forsake Him for strange gods, He will turn against him, do him hurt, and even consume him after doing him good by His grace (v 19-20)
t Only one of 210 laws and warnings in Scripture (listed on p. 284 of N.T.) proving that if men forsake God after knowing Him and being blessed by His grace, He will turn against them both in this life and the life to come - unless they repent and forsake their evil ways (v 20)

dan; [a]and they fought with you: and I gave them into your hand, that ye might possess their land; and I destroyed them from before you.

9 [b]Then Bā'lāk the son of Zĭp'por, king of Mō'ab, arose and warred against Ĭs'ra-el, and sent and called Bā'laam the son of Bĕ'or to curse you:

10 But I would not hearken unto Bā'laam; therefore he blessed you still: so I delivered you out of his hand.

11 And [c]ye went over Jŏr'dan, and came unto Jĕr'ĭ-chō: and the [d]men of Jĕr'ĭ-chō fought against you, the Ăm'ôr-ītes, and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and the Că'năan-ītes, and the Hĭt'tītes, and the Gĭr'ga-shītes, the Hĭ'vītes, and the Jĕb'u-sītes; and I delivered [e]them into your hand.

12 And I[f]sent the hornet before you, which drave them out from before you, even the two kings of the Ăm'ôr-ītes; but not with thy sword, nor with thy bow.

13 And [g]I have given you [h]a land for which ye did not labour, and [i]cities which ye built not, and ye dwell in them; of the[j]vineyards and oliveyards which ye planted not do ye eat.

●14 [k]Now therefore fear the LORD, and [l]serve him in sincerity and in truth: and [m]put away the gods which your fathers served on the [n]other side of the flood, and [o]in Ē'gўpt; and serve ye the LORD.

●15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the LORD, [p]choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that were on the other side of the flood, [q]or the gods of the Ăm'ôr-ītes, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the LORD.

16 And the people answered and said, [r]God forbid that we should forsake the LORD, to serve other gods;

17 For the LORD our God, he it is that brought us up and our fathers out of the land of Ē'gўpt, from the house of bondage, and which did those great signs in our sight, and preserved us in all the way wherein we went, and among all the people through whom we passed:

18 And the LORD drave out from before us all the people, even the Ăm'ôr-ītes which dwelt in the land: therefore will we also serve the LORD; for he is our God.

19 And Jŏsh'u-á said unto the people, [s]Ye cannot serve the LORD: for he is an holy God; he is a jealous God; he will not forgive your transgressions nor your sins.

20 [t]If ye forsake the LORD, and serve strange gods, then he will turn and do you hurt, and consume you, after that he hath done you good.

4 Fourteenth or Joshuaic Covenant (see p. 57-58)

21 And the people said unto Jŏsh'u-á, [u]Nay; but we will serve the LORD.

22 And Jŏsh'u-á said unto the people, [v]Ye are witnesses against yourselves that ye have chosen you the LORD, to serve him. And they said, We are witnesses.

●23 Now therefore put away, said he, the strange gods which are among you, and incline your heart unto the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el.

24 And the people said unto Jŏsh'u-á, The LORD our God will we serve, and his voice will we obey.

25 So Jŏsh'u-á made a covenant with the people that day, and set them a statute and an ordinance in Shĕ'chem.

5 Joshuaic Covenant written and witnessed by a monument

26 ¶ And Jŏsh'u-á [w]wrote these words in the book of the law of God, and [x]took a great stone, and set it up there under an oak, that was [y]by the sanctuary of the LORD.

27 And Jŏsh'u-á said unto all the people, Behold, [z]this stone shall be a witness unto us; for it hath heard all the words of the LORD which he spake unto us: it shall be therefore a witness unto you, lest ye deny your God.

28 So Jŏsh'u-á [a]let the people depart, every man unto his inheritance.

6 Death and burial of Joshua

29 ¶ And it came to pass after these things, that Jŏsh'u-á the son of Nūn, [b]the servant of the LORD, died, being [c]an hundred and ten years old.

30 And they [d]buried him in the border of his inheritance in Tĭm'nath-sĕ'rah, which is in mount Ē'phrā-ĭm, on the north side of the hill of Gā'ăsh.

7 Temporary obedience of Israel (Judg. 2:7-13)

31 And Ĭs'ra-el served the LORD all the days of Jŏsh'u-á, and [e]all the days of the elders that overlived Jŏsh'u-á, and which had known all the works of the LORD, that he had done for Ĭs'ra-el.

8 Burial of Joseph's bones (Gen. 50:25; Ex. 13:19; Heb. 11:22)

32 ¶ [f]And the bones of Jō'seph, which the children of Ĭs'ra-el brought up out of Ē'gўpt, buried they in Shĕ'chem, in a parcel of ground which [g]Jā'cob bought of the sons of Hā'mor the father of Shĕ'chem for an [h]hundred pieces of silver: and it became the inheritance of the children of Jō'sĕph.

9 Death of Eleazar: Phinehas the third high priest

33 And [i]Ĕ-le-ā'zar the son of Aär'on died; and they buried him in a hill that pertained to Phĭn'e-has his son, which was given him [j]in mount Ē'phrā-ĭm.

a Joshua's statement that Israel could not serve the Lord and receive His blessings if they did not live clean from idols did not discourage the people, for they vowed a second time that they would serve the Lord (v 18, 21). How strange that Israel should have any idols and gods left after seeing the many mighty works of God, having numerous laws against such, and having experienced horrifying plagues sent upon the nation because of idolatry and related sins. Perhaps they had captured idols of gold, silver, brass, and other materials which seemed valuable to them during the wars. If so, it was Joshua's plan to turn these strange gods into other forms more useful than that of idols (v 23-28)
b 4fold covenant between Joshua - Israel:
1 To serve the Lord (v 18, 21, 22, 24)
2 To put away all strange gods (v 23)
3 To incline their hearts to God
4 To obey His voice (v 24-25) c Joshua wrote his covenant in the book of the law of God which indicates that the book of Joshua was considered part of the law along with the Pentateuch (v 25-26). It could also mean that he added to the Pentateuch telling about the death of Moses in the last chapter of Deuteronomy d Joshua set up a monument for a witness to Israel of the Joshuaic covenant (v 25-28). See note i, 22:27
e The sanctuary was located at Shiloh which was about 8 miles south of Shechem (v 26)
f This stone of witness was a sign of the Joshuaic covenant, which was one between Joshua and the people, not God and the people; therefore, it is not listed as one of the 15 great covenants of Scripture wherein God was one of the contracting parties. See 15 great covenants of Scripture, p. 57
g This parting of the people from Joshua, their beloved leader and general of all their armies who had brought such great victories and divided the land in Canaan, was one of the most touching and solemn in human history. The record gives no details, but no doubt many wept when they left for their own inheritance never to see him again (v 28)
h Joshua is also called the servant of the Lord, like Moses (v 29; note n, Dt. 34:5)
i Joshua lived the same length of time that Joseph did (v 29; Gen. 50:26)
j The Sept. adds here, "There they deposited with him, in the grave in which they buried him, the stone knives with which he had circumcised the children of Israel at Galgala (Gilgal), as the Lord commanded them, when He had brought them out of Egypt. And there they are at this day."
k All the days refers to the 30 years of Joshua in Canaan and a few years during the time some of the elders outlived him - those who had seen the works of the Lord in part of the wilderness experiences and in the conquest of Canaan (v 31)
l In the last chapter of Genesis (50:26), we have a record of the death of Joseph and his being in a coffin in Egypt. Here, in the last chapter of Joshua, we have the final reference to Joseph being brought out of Egypt and buried in Shechem in the burying place of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob (v 32; Gen. 49:30-33; 50:13). It was in Joseph's inheritance; that is, Ephraim's

o Eleazar was the 2nd high priest; Phinehas the 3rd (v 33; Judg. 20:28). Phinehas had been acting as deputy high priest for some time (22:13-32) p The Sept. adds to this verse, "At that time the children of Israel took up the ark of God, and carried it about among them. And Phinehas officiated as priest in the room of his father Eleazar. And when he died, he was buried in Gabaar, which belonged to him. As for the children of Israel, they had gone to their several homes, and to their respective cities. And when the children of Israel fell to worshipping Astarte, and Astaroth, and the gods of the nations around them, the Lord delivered them into the hand of Eglon king of Moab, and he exercised dominion over them eighteen years"

The Jordan river (1:2)

The 53rd time Jordan is mentioned in Scripture. This marks the end of the ministry of Moses and the beginning of the ministry of Joshua. Many events took place on the river Jordan. Lot chose the plain of Jordan (Gen. 13:10-11). Jacob crossed the river twice (Gen. 32:10), Israel camped on it at the end of the 40 years (Num. 22:1). Here is where the book of Deutronomy was uttered and written (note m, Dt. 1:10), and where Joshua received his first instructions (1:2). The river was dried up by a miracle 3 times:

1 By Joshua (3:1-4:23; 5:1)

2 By Elijah (2 Ki. 2:7-8)

3 By Elisha (2 Ki. 2:13-14)

Here battles were fought (Judg. 3:28; 12:5); Namaan was cleansed (2 Ki. 5:10-14); Christianity had its beginning (Mt. 3:1-17; Mk. 1:5-9; Lk. 4:1; Jn. 1:28; 3:26; 10:40)

Jordan has its source in the cavern of Phiala in the vicinity of Dan in the north of Palestine, and at the foot of mount Lebanon; it runs underground from the lake Phiala to Cesarea Phillipi where it breaks out and flows about 15 miles south to the lake Merom and on into the Sea of Galilee and finally the Dead Sea. It probably continued south flowing into the Red Sea before the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah. It is 150-200 miles long, but in a direct line it would be only about 80 miles. Its width is 60-100 ft., its depth 6-10 ft., and the valley of Jordan is about 4-10 miles wide. It overflows its banks in March and April which means it was in that state when Israel crossed it (3:15; 1 Chr. 12:15)

The city of Jericho (2:1)

Heb. Yerochow or Yerichow, from yareach, the moon or new moon. It was so-called because of the crescent-like plain in which it stood - one formed by an amphitheatre of hills surrounding it. Some think the name is derived from ruwach, meaning smell or fragrance, and believe it is appropriate because of many balsam and palm trees in the city (Dt. 34:3). One of the oldest cities in the Holy Land, it was located about 18 or 20 miles from Jerusalem and about 4 miles from Jordan. Nothing is said of the city except to mention its existence (west of Jordan) in 12 references up to this point (Num. 22:1; 26:3, 63; 31:12; 33:48, 50; 34:15; 35:1; 36:13; Dt. 32:49; 34:1-3). It is named 29 times in Joshua and only 22 other times in all Scripture after this. Its fall and the curse upon the man who would build it are recorded in 6:1-26; Heb. 11:30. It was rebuilt by Hell (1 Ki. 16:34). Elijah and Elisha both passed it when they made Jordan dry (2 Ki. 2:4-18). Zedekiah, last king of Judah, was captured there (2 Ki. 25:5; Jer. 39:5; 52:8). Several interesting events took place at Jericho during the ministry of Jesus (Mt. 20:29; Mk. 10:46; Lk. 10:30; 18:35; 19:1). Under the Romans it was a royal residence. Herod the great died there. It was destroyed and rebuilt after this several times. A small, dirty village of about 200 people is now on the old ruins

The purpose of miracles (2:11)

16 times in the Pentateuch it is evident that the purpose of miracles was to cause all men to know that God is the only true and living God (Ex. 6:7; 7:5, 17; 8:10, 22; 9:14, 29; 10:2; 11:7; 14:4, 18; 16:6, 12; 29:46; 31:13; Dt. 29:6). Many other times it is clear that God has done things to prove to men that He is God, No less than 75 times in Ezekiel alone are such statements found as "they shall know that I am the Lord"

6 commands - crossing Jordan (3:9):

1 When you see the ark of the covenant of the Lord your God, and the priests and Levites bearing it, then remove from your place and go after it (v 3)

2 Do not start until the ark is 2,000 cubits from you (v 4)

3 Sanctify yourselves to see wonders on the morrow (v 5)

4 Take up the ark of the covenant of the Lord, and pass over before the people (v 6)

5 Command the priests to stand still when they come to the brink of the water of Jordan (v 8)

6 Come hither, and hear the words of the Lord your God (v 9)

Divine protection (5:8)

Looking at it from the natural standpoint it would take adults being circumcised about 3 weeks to become completely well. Of course, God could have and may have healed them quickly and miraculously. He promised to be their healer (Ex. 15:26; 23:23). and He was that in Moses' day (Ps. 105:37; 107:20). That Israel was not attacked while all the men were handicapped, through the soreness of circumcision, can be explained only by the fear of God being upon the Canaanites. This is why the Shechemites were such easy victims to the few sons of Jacob - recent circumcision (Gen. 34:25). Joshua, as an able general, knew this danger, but he also knew that God could not err, and that it was his duty to obey. Therefore, in the very teeth of his enemies he reduced the major part of his army to a state of helplessness, simply trusting the protection of God who gave him orders. The result showed that his confidence was not misplaced, for God did not permit one enemy to rise up against the Israelites during this time. The command was not given while the nation was in the safety of the east side of Jordan, because God wanted to teach them another lesson of absolute dependence on Him for success through His power and wisdom. For this same reason, He planned and executed the passage of Jordan when it was flooded instead of waiting for a time when it could be forded

Anger of God and man (7:1)

15th time God's anger was kindled. Not only was it kindled (32 times), but it waxed hot (Ex. 32:22; Dt. 9:19; 29:24; Judg. 2:14, 20; 3:8; 10:7); It is fierce (Num. 25:4; 32:14; Dt. 13:17); and has been provoked (37 times; Dt. 4:25; 9:18; 1 Ki. 14:9; 16:2, 26, 33; 2 Ki. 17:11, 17; 21:6; 2 Chr. 33:6, etc.). See Provoke in Index. God's anger must be understood in the same sense as that of men or angels. The words anger and angry are used first of Esau (Gen. 27:45) and next of Jacob (Gen. 30:3)

15 examples of men being angry:

1 Esau (Gen. 27:45)
2 Jacob (Gen. 30:2)
3 Simeon and Levi (Gen. 49:6-7)
4 Potiphar (Gen. 37:36; 39:19)
5 Moses (Ex. 11:8; 32:19)
6 Balaam (Num. 22:27)
7 Balak (Num. 24:10)
8 Zebul (Judg. 9:30)
9 Samson (Judg. 14:19)
10 Saul (1 Sam. 11:6; 20:30)
11 Eliab (17:28)
12 David (2 Sam. 12:5)
13 Israelites (2 Chr. 25:10)
14 Elihu (Job 32:2-5)
15 Enemies (Ps. 124:3)

12 causes of God's anger:

1 Stubbornness of Moses (Ex. 4:14)
2 Idolatry (Ex. 32:19-22; Num. 25:3)
3 Murmuring (Num. 11:1, 10)
4 Lust of men (Num. 11:33-34)
5 Pride (Num. 12:9)
6 Disobedience (Num. 22:22)
7 Rebellion (Num. 32:10-13)
8 Backsliding (Dt. 6:15; 7:4; 11:16-17; 29:25-28; 32:15-22; 1 Ki. 11:9)
9 Sin (Josh. 7:1, 19-26; 23:16; 2 Ki. 13:1-3; 22:13, 23:26)
10 Hypocrisy (Job 42:7)
11 Wickedness (Ps. 7:11)
12 Works of men (Jer. 32:30)

Get up - stop praying (7:10)

Get up! Stop praying! Israel has sinned (v 10). Seldom does God stop a man from praying, but when sin is thus involved such exercise is useless if dealing directly with the transgression is needed. When sin is cleaned out of the life there is only one reason for unanswered prayer - unbelief (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 2:21-22; 5:13-14)

50 "get" commands of Scripture:

6 They have put it (the accursed thing) among their own stuff

Utter simplicity of sanctification (7:13)

We cannot over emphasize the utter simplicity of sanctification. It is made clear in every passage where the subject is found. It does not mean one thing in one scripture or in one age and another thing in another. It does not have one meaning for Israel and another for the church, one meaning under law and another under grace. Wherever it is found the word sanctification means a setting apart from a profane or secular use to a sacred and holy use. Holy, sanctified, born-again,

Summary of Joshua

Date and place: Joshua's part of the book was perhaps written at Gilgal in Canaan as the events transpired from 1646-1616 B.C. When and by whom the postscript (24:29-33) was written is not known; but Jewish tradition says that v 29-32 of the last chapter were added by Eleazar and v 33 was added by Phinehas

Author: Joshua, except for the postscript and a few other verses. He was of the tribe of Ephraim (Num. 14:8, 16), and became the leader of Israel after Moses (1:9-14; 24:13; Num. 27:18-23; Dt. 1:38; 3:21, 28; 31:3-23; 34:9). He is mentioned in the book of Joshua 171 times as the 2nd great leader of Israel. The name Joshua is found 216 times throughout Scripture. In the Sept. the name is Jesus which is retained in the Greek N. T. (Acts 7:45; Heb. 4:8). Joshua is also called Jehoshua and Oshea (Num. 13:8, 16) and Jehoshuah (1 Chr. 7:27). He was a slave in Egypt. At his death he was 110 years old, the same age Joseph was when he died (24:29), which made Israel's 2nd leader about 40 years old at the time of the exodus from Egypt. See Joshua in Index

Proof of authorship: In every generation of Israel there were men called scribes and recorders who kept up the national records of current events (Ex. 17:14; 34:27; Num. 5:23; 17:2-3; Dt. 17:18; Josh. 10:13; Judg. 5:14; 2 Sam. 1:18; 8:16-17; 20:24-25; 1 Ki. 4:3; 2 Ki. 12:10; 18:18; 19:2; etc.). There were also many prophets who wrote books of records of national events (Josh. 24:26; 1 Sam. 10:25; 1 Ki. 11:41; 14:19, 29; 15:7, 23, 31; 16:5, 14, 20, 27; 23:39, 45; 2 Ki. 1:18; 8:23; 10:34; 12:19; 13:8, 12; 14:6, 15, 18, 28; 15:6, 11, 15, 21, 26, 31, 36; 16:19; 20:20; 21:17; 22:13; 23:3, 21, 24, 28; 24:5; 1 Chr. 9:1; 29:29; 2 Chr. 9:29; 12:15; 13:22; 16:11; 17:9; 20:24; 25:26; 27:7; 28:26; 33:18-19; 35:27; 36:8). Joshua no doubt wrote all of the book bearing his name except the postscript (24:29-33); the story in 15:16-19 of Othniel (the first judge of Israel after Joshua) getting a wife through conquest (Judg. 1:1, 10-15); and the story of Dan conquering Leshem or Lalsh (19:47) which was not actually accomplished until the death of Joshua (Judg. 18). Apart from these exceptions - records that could have been added by Eleazar, Phinehas, Samuel, or any other prophet, scribe, or recorder in Israel - we conclude that Joshua was the author. This seems clear from 24:26. At least, many references in the book indicate that the events of Joshua were written by an eye-witness of them (1:10-18; 2:1; 3:1-17)

Theme: the book deals with the consummation of the redemption of Israel out of Egypt, for redemption has two parts - out and into (Dt. 6:23). It records the fulfillment of the prophecies of Abraham, Isaac, Jacob, and Moses regarding the land of promise being given to Israel; and the conquest and division of this land to them. Joshua may be divided into two equal parts of 12 chapters each: 1-12 the conquest; 13-24 the division of the land among the tribes, with 1:1-9 forming the introduction and 24:29-33 the conclusion. The inspiration of the book is confirmed by several quotations in the N. T. Cp. 1:5 with Heb. 13:5; 2:1-24 with Jas. 2:25; 6:20 with Heb. 11:30; 6:23 with Heb. 11:31; 14:1-2 with Acts 13:19; and 24:32 with Acts 7:16 and Heb. 11:22

Statistics: 6th book of the Bible; 24 chapters; 658 verses; 18,858 words; 624 verses of history; 42 verses of fulfilled prophecy; no unfulfilled prophecy; 21 questions; 14 messages from God (1:1; 3:7; 4:1, 15; 5:2, 14; 6:2; 7:10; 9:1, 18; 10:8; 11:6; 13:1; 20:1); 98 commands; 44 predictions; and 15 promises converted, redeemed, saved, and purified men can and must be continually set apart to obedience as they walk in the light (1 Jn. 1:7). How could Joshua sanctify the people, and how could the people sanctify themselves, as commanded here? By setting themselves apart for the revelation of God on the morrow (v 13) in the same way that Israel sanctified or set themselves apart to receive the law as in Ex. 19: 10-23. See Sanctification In Index

15 things that were folly in Israel (7:15):

1 Sacrilege-taking sacred things for personal use (v 12-15; note g.i. ev. 27:28)
2 Rape (Gen. 34:7; Judg. 19:22-20: 10; 2 Sam. 13:12)
3 Playing the whore (Dt. 22:20-21)
4 Homosexuality (Judg. 19:22-23)
5 Misrepresenting God (Job 42:8)
6 Ways and sayings of natural men without God (Ps. 49:13; 85:8)
7 Sins and iniquities (Pr. 5:22-23)
8 Ignorance (Pr. 13:16; 14:8, 18; 15:21; 18:22)
9 Deceit (Pr. 14:8)
10 Foolishness (Pr. 14:24) 14:29)
11 Hasty spirit - hot-headedness (Pr.
12 Judgment without knowledge (Pr. 18:13)
13 Hypocrisy and evil doing (Isa. 9:17)
14 False prophecy and doctrine (Jer. 23:13)
15 Resisting truth, corruptness of mind, and being reprobate in faith (2 Tim. 3:7-10)

Gibeon (9:3)

Gibeon was a city about 7 miles from Bethel and 8 miles northwest of Jerusalem. Being about 10 miles from Ai and about 18 west of Gilgal, the inhabitants likely thought they would be next on Joshua's list of places to conquer. Gibeon was the head of 4 towns, the others being Chephirah, Beeroth, and Kirjathjearim, all occupied by Hivites (v 7,17; 11:19), called Amorites (2 Sam. 21:2), the word being a general term for the Canaanite nations. These 4 towns, it seems, had a republican form of government. Gibeon was a very important city. It lay at the head of the pass of Beth-horon, opposite the pass of Ai, and on the main route from Jerusalem and the lower Jordan valley to Joppa and the Mediterranean Sea. Gibeon fell within the lot of Benjamin (18: 25), and was one of the cities of the priests (21:17). Several important events took place here - the slaughter of Gibeonites by Saul (2 Sam. 21); the contest between Saul and David's servants (2 Sam. 2:12-24; 3:30); the slaying of Amasa (2 Sam. 20:8-13); and the vision of Solomon (1 Ki. 2:4-5; 9:2). It was at Gibeon that the sun was commanded to stand still (10:12). The sanctuary was located here for a long time (1 Ki. 3: 4-5; 8:4; 9:2; 1 Chr. 21:29; 2 Chr. 1:3, 13). At Gibeon Joshua became victor over 5 kings of Canaan which gave him possession of the southern half of Palestine (10:1-43). In another great battle, of Merom, he gained victory over the northern part (11:1-12:24), thus conquering most of Palestine in two campaigns

Hebron (10:36)

Hebron was about 38 miles south of Jerusalem and in the Judah portion of the land (v 3-5, 23, 36-39; 12:10; 14: 13-15). One of the most ancient and important cities of south Palestine, it was said to have been founded before Zoan in Egypt (Num. 13:22). Its ancient name was Kirjath-arba (Judg. 1:10); and it was called Arba for the father of Anak who founded one of the mighty races of giants (14:12; 15:14). Abram dwelled here for many years after coming into Canaan (Gen. 13:18); and from here he rescued Lot (Gen. 14). Here is where his name was changed to Abraham (Gen. 17:5), where God and 2 angels came to visit him, and where Isaac was finally announced (Gen. 18). Hebron is where Sarah died (Gen. 23), Isaac and Jacob spent most of their lives (Gen. 35:27; 37:14), and the patriarchs were buried (Gen. 49:30; 50:13). Jacob and his family went to Egypt from here (Gen. 46:1), and the spies got their grapes near here (Num. 13:22). Hebron became one of the Levite cities (21:10) and a city of refuge (20:7). David was received with kindness at this place; later he was anointed king and reigned here over 7 years (1 Sam. 30:31; 2 Sam. 5:3-5). It is where 6 of his sons were born (2 Sam. 3:2), where Abner was slain (2 Sam. 3:27), and Absalom rebelled (2 Sam. 15:7). The city was fortified by Rehoboam (2 Chr. 11:10). Jews from the captivity settled in Hebron (Neh. 11:25). The Maccabees recovered it from Edom in the period after the close of the O. T. (1 Macc. 5:65). The Romans burned it in their war against the Jews in 70 A. D. All during the Moslem period it has retained importance because of its part relationship with Abraham; and because of its history it was also respected by the Crusaders. There were 2 men in Scripture called Hebron - a Levite (Ex. 6:18; Num. 3:19, 27; 1 Chr. 6:2, 18; 23:12, 19) and a descendant of Caleb (1 Chr. 2:42-43)

Debir (10:38)

Debir was about 7 miles south of Hebron. It was conquered by Joshua near the end of his southern campaign (10:3, 38-39; 11:21; 12:13; 13:26). In 15:15-17; Judg. 1:11-13 we have the account of Othniel capturing Debir and winning a wife. It is called Kiriath-sannah (13:49), which is perhaps a corruption of Kiriath-sepher of 15:15-16; Judg. 1:11-12. It was one time a giant city of the Anakim tribe (11:21). Debir became a Levitical city (21:15; 1 Chr. 6:58). It must have been a sacred city of the pagans, as its name would indicate, for the Heb. debbir is used in 1 Ki. 6:5 to denote the holy of holies. There were two other towns called Debir - one between Judah and Benhamin (15:7), which must have been east of Jerusalem on the Jericho road, and one on the border of Gad near Mahanaim (13:26) which may be the Lo-debar of 1 Sam. 9:4

8 scientific and Biblical facts (10:13):

1 This was a real divine miracle (v 14), wherein the sun and moon either stopped their influences on the earth or stood still (v 13; note f, above)
2 It is not the only miracle in connection with the sun. In history: The earth was totally dark for an indefinite period (Gen. 1:2). There was darkness in Egypt for 3 full days (Ex. 10:21-23). The shadow of the sun went back 10 degrees on the sun dial of Ahaz (2 Ki. 20:11; Isa. 38:8). The sun went down at noon and the earth was darkened when Israel fell by Babylon (Amos 8:9). There was darkness for 3 hours when Christ was crucified (Lk. 23:44-45). In prophecy: The sun will be darkened in the 6th seal (Rev. 6:12-17), the 4th trumpet (Rev. 8:12), the 5th trumpet (Rev. 9:2), the 5th vial (Rev. 16:10), and at the 2nd advent of Christ and Armageddon (Isa. 13:10; Ezek. 32:7; Joel 2:10, 31; 3:15; Mt. 24:29-31)
3 The going down and rising of the sun daily is man's expression for the earth turning on its axis so that only part of it is toward the sun at certain times. The earth revolves making it appear that the sun is actually moving around this globe. In reality the sun also revolves but travels through the heavens making its own prescribed circuit as do all stars and planets. See The solar system, 58, 618
4 It is in God's power to stop the movements of all or part of the solar system if He sees fit to do so to further His purpose (v 14), Being sovereign and the Creator of the laws of nature in the first place He may suspend them if He pleases at any time or place
5 It is believed that the command for the sun to stand still was given about the time of its setting for several reasons:
(1) The sun was over Gibeon (v 12) at the time (v 12); and looking back from the east where Joshua and his men were pursuing, the sun could be seen setting in the sky over Gibeon
(2) The moon was coming up over the valley of Ajalon (v 12). It could not have been seen thus with the naked eye in noonday sun
(3) The fact that the sun hasted not to go about a whole day indicates that it was setting at the time the command was given (v 13)
(4) If it had been in the middle of the day Joshua would not have known whether he and his people could avenge themselves before the day was over because he would have had 6 hours or more left in which to fight
6 Joshua spoke to the sun and moon, not the earth, for they, the influences causing tides and seasons and day and night, are capable of causing the earth to revolve or stop revolving (Gen. 1:14-18). See note f, v 12
7 It is said that a sudden stoppage of the earth could be made without any visible change noticed by the inhabitants other than the appearance of the heavens, so what is recorded in v 12-14 could have happened without being disastrous to the earth and its peoples
8 We are told that Greece, Egypt, China, and Mexico have records of a long day corresponding to the time of Joshua; that by counting the equinoxes, eclipses, and transits backward from our day to that of Joshua, and counting them from the prime date of creation (re-creation) on to Joshua's time, a whole day is missing; and that by no possible mathematics can such a conclusion be avoided

6 fold description of unconquered lands (13:2)

1 All the borders of the Philistines - from Sihor, the border of Egypt, to Ekron, the north part of Philistia (v 2-3)
2 All of Geshuri (v 2). Geshur was an Aramaean kingdom of no great size which was located east of Bashan and north toward Syria (12:5; 13:1-13; Dt. 3:14; 2 Sam. 15:8; 1 Chr. 2:23). The people once occupied the land of Philistia, but were driven out by the Caphtorims and Philistines (Gen. 10: 14; Dt. 2:23; 1 Chr. 1:12; Jer. 47:4; Amos 9:7). Some remained in the south of Canaan (1 Sam. 27:8). Perhaps both branches are referred to here as being unconquered (v 2). David married the daughter of the king of Geshur, who became the mother of Absalom and Tamar (2 Sam. 3:3; 13:1). It was to Geshur that Absalom fled (2 Sam. 13: 37; 14:23)
3 The Avites (v 3). These were a branch of the giants who were dispossessed by the Caphtorims (Dt. 2:23, Cp. 2 Ki. 17:31)
4 All the land of the Canaanites from the south going north to Mearah near Sidon in Phoenicia and east to Aphek in Syria (v 4; note p, 12:18). It is true that Joshua defeated all the major cities and the organized opposition against him, but many sections and people were left in the promised land which should have been totally destroyed. God said these would be thorns for Israel to test and prove them to see if they would be obedient (23:13; Num. 33:55-56; Judg. 2:3)
5 All the land of the Giblites - the inhabitants of Gebal in north Palestine (v 5; Ps. 83:7; Ezek. 27:9)
6 All of Lebanon east from Baal-gad under mount Hermon and to Hamath (v 5)
7 All the inhabitants of the hill country in north Palestine from Lebanon to Misrephoth-maim (v 6; note w, 11:8)
8 All the Sidonians - inhabitants of Phoenicia in general (v 6). The Sidonians were never expelled; they will be under Israel in the Millennium (Ezek. 48). They were friends of David and Solomon

5 lords of the Philistines (13:3):

1 Lord of Gazathites - inhabitants of Gaza which was the most southern city of Philistia. It was reached by Joshua but he did not conquer it (10:41; 11:22). It was later taken by Judah (Judg. 1:18) and given to that tribe (15:47), but was regained by the Philistines and was ever afterward considered their city until the Assyrians took it about 720 B. C. Gaza is mentioned in the period of the judges and kings as one of the chief enemies of Israel (Judg. 6:4; 16:1, 21; 1 Sam. 6:17; 2 Ki. 18:8; 1 Chr. 7: 28). It was doomed by the prophets (Jer. 47:1, 5; Amos 1:6-7; Zeph. 2:4; Zech. 9:5. See Acts 8:26)
2 Lord of Ashdothites - inhabitants of Ashdod (v 3; 11:22). Ashdod was also given to Judah (15:46-47), but was regained by the Philistines; it was a bitter enemy of Israel (1 Sam. 5:1-7; 6:17; 2 Chr. 26:6); and was also doomed by the prophets (Isa. 20:1; Jer. 25:20; Amos 1:8; 3:9; Zeph. 2:4; Zech. 9:6)
3 Lord of Eshkalonites - inhabitants of Askelon, another city allotted to Judah but retaken. It remained a Philistine city to fight Israel many times (Judg. 1:18; 1 Sam. 6:17; 2 Sam. 1:20)
4 Lord of Gittites - inhabitants of Gath, the fourth Philistine city not taken by Joshua, but allotted to Judah (v 22). It was first conquered by David (1 Chr. 18:1). Gath was the town of Goliath and other giants (1 Sam. 17:4; 2 Sam. 21:18-22). David came here twice in his flight from Saul (1 Sam. 21:10; 27: 2-4). It is mentioned more in Scripture than any other of the 5 cities of the Philistines (1 Sam. 5:8; 6:17; 7:14; 17: 4, 23, 52; 21:10-12; 27:2-11; 2 Sam. 1:20; 15:18; 21:20-22; 1 Ki. 2:39-41; 2 Ki. 12:17; 1 Chr. 7:21; 8:13; 18:1; 20:6-8; 2 Chr. 11:8; 26:6; Amos 6:2; Mic. 1:10). Many Gittites were great friends of David and hundreds served him (2 Sam. 6:10-11; 15:19-22; 18:2; 21:19)
5 Lord of Ekronites - inhabitants of Ekron, the fifth Philistine city allotted to Judah. It was regained and remained an enemy of Israel (v 3; 15:11, 45-47; 19:43; Judg. 1:18; 1 Sam. 5:10; 6:16-17; 7:14; 17:52; 2 Ki. 1:2-6, 16). Ekron was also doomed by the prophets (Jer. 25:20; Amos 1:8; Zeph. 2:4; Zech. 9:6-7)

Gad's Inheritance (13:24)

1 His inheritance was also according to the number of his families (v 24)
2 The tribe's general borders were from the coast of Jazer below the Jabbok and above Heshbon north to Mahanaim and the Sea of Galilee, and from Jordan on the west to Ammon on the east (v 25-28)
3 10 named cities and towns:
(1) Jazer (note a, 3, Num. 32:3)
(2) Aroer, a city near Rabbah of Ammon in Gilead (v 25). See note r, 12:2
(3) Ramath-mizpeh (only here, v 26). It may be the same as Ramoth-Gilead, one of the cities of refuge (20:8; Dt. 4:47)
(4) Beto-nim (only here, v 26)
(5) Mahanaim, two bands or camps, because of the two bands of angels that met Jacob (Gen. 32:2). It was on the north side of the river Jabbok (v 26, 30; 21:38; 2 Sam. 2:8, 12, 29; 17:24, 27; 19:32; 1 Ki. 2:8; 4:14; 1 Chr. 6:80)
(6) Debir, a city not far from Mahanaim in Gilead (note i, 10:38)
(7) Beth-aram (only here, v 27). Herod rebuilt it and called it Livias in honor of Livia, wife of Augustus Caesar, Josephus calls it Julias, the name Greeks generally used of the city
(8) Beth-nimrah (v 27; Num. 32:36)
(9) Succoth, booths, A place built by Jacob when coming back home from Haran, It was north of the river Jabbok and near Jordan (v 27; Judg. 8:5-16; 1 Ki. 7:46; 2 Chr. 4:17; Ps. 60:6; 108:7). There was a Succoth in Egypt (Ex. 12: 37; 13:20; Num. 33:5-6)
(10) Zaphon (only here, v 27). See other cities of this inheritance, notes a, c, Num. 32:3, 34
4 The rest of the cities and towns along the Jordan up to the Sea of Galilee (v 27-28)

Manasseh's Inheritance, (13:29)

1 Manasseh was given inheritance according to the number of families (v 29)
2 The tribe's general borders were from Mahanaim north, including all of Bashan, the kingdom of Og, and the 60 towns of Jair, the west border being the Sea of Galilee and Jordan north of Galilee (v 30-33)
3 2 named cities:
(1) Ashtaroth, a city named after the supreme goddess of Canaan, the female counterpart of Baal. The name and cult came from Babylon where Istar or Ishtar represented the morning and evening stars (Judg. 2:13; 10:6; 1 Sam. 7:3-4; 12:10; 31:10). Ashtaroth was the capital of Og, king of Bashan (v 12, 31; 9:10; 12:4; Judg. 1:4)
(2) Edrei, the place where Og was defeated (v 12, 31; 12:4; 19:37; Num. 21:33; Dt. 1:4; 3:1, 10)
4 60 towns of Jair (v 30). Originally 23 cities were taken by Jair (1 Chr. 2: 22); then the number was increased to 30 (Judg. 10:4), and finally to 60 (1 Chr. 2:23). They are called Havoth-Jair (Num. 32:41; Judg. 10:4)

These 60 towns were all located on the east of Jordan; and they made a great inheritance for Manasseh

BOOK OF JUDGES

Nine Apostasies - Seven Servitudes - Sixteen Judges - Five Civil Wars - Prophecies - Wars, Sins, and Failures of Israel

a Now connects Judges closely to the preceding books, as in other cases. See note a, Josh. 1:1. Whereas Joshua records the inheritance possessed, Judges tells of the inheritance despised, the failure of the people, and the faithfulness of Jehovah. It records the story expressed in 17:6; 21:25

b See Josh. 24:29-31

c Inquired by the Urim and Thummim, as in 18:5; 20:18; Ex. 28:30, note; Num. 26:55. Asked the Lord is found only here. There are similar forms found in Judges and 1 Samuel (1:1; 18:5; 20:18, 23; 1 Sam. 1:20; 14:37). It was the privilege of every leader to inquire of God through the high priest, but few did so

d Question 1. Next, v 14

e 1st prophecy in Judg. (1:2, fulfilled, v 4-20). Next, 4:6

f The Lord said is found 12 times in Judges (1:2; 6:16, 23, 25; 7:2, 5, 7, 9; 10:11; 20:18, 23, 28)

g Judah, as a person, played an important part in Israel, even during the lifetime of his father. His name means praise. He was the 4th son of Jacob and Leah (Gen. 29:35). He saved Joseph from the pit in which the others had cast him to die (Gen. 37:20-27); and by persuading his brothers to sell him paved the way for the preservation of Israel. Judah was capable of confessing his sins (Gen. 38:26). He pledged himself to Jacob for the safe return of Benjamin (Gen. 43:3-14); and plead with Joseph to spare him (Gen. 44:18-34). Judah was the one through whom the Messiah was to come and rule (Gen. 49:10). His tribe led the others in their marches (Num. 2:3; 10:14); and it was first in a number of other activities (Num. 34:19; Josh. 15:1) h Judah, as a tribe, wanted Simeon to go with him to battle, seeing the two shared the same inheritance (v 3; Josh. 19:1). The brothers, having been born of the same father and mother, and their tribes sharing the same land, it now seemed that they should fight together

i The Canaanites and Perizzites are the only ones mentioned here to be dispossessed by the 2 tribes (v 3-4)

j Went up is used 134 times in Scripture, of going up to a higher place (Ex. 17:10; 19:3; etc.), and many times of going against someone in battle regardless of whether the land was up or down (v 4, 22; 4:10; 15:9; 1 Ki. 22:29; 1 Chr. 13:6; 14:8; 2 Chr. 18:28). Went down is found 67 times. The terms are used of going up north (Num. 21:33; Josh. 7:2; 1 Sam. 29:11), or down south as well as other ways (Gen. 12:10; 43:15; Dt. 1:22; 26:5) k Bezek, the city of Adoni-bezek taken by Judah and Simeon in the territory allotted to Judah. Its location is unknown, unless it can be identified with Bezkah, about 3 miles from Gezer (v 4-5). Not the same as Bezek in Ephraim (1 Sam. 11:8)

l Adoni-Bezek means lord of Bezek (v 5-7). Not the same as Adoni-zedek, lord of righteousness referring to the king of Jerusalem (Josh. 10:1-3)

m This was done for 2 reasons:
1 Because he had mutilated 70 other kings in this manner (v 7)
2 To render him unfit for further warfare. Cutting off the thumbs would make him unable to use a bow or sword, and cutting off the large toes would impede his speed

n This king accepted the idea that as he had done to others, so God had permitted it to be done to him (v 7)

o The first of the destructions of Jerusalem recorded in Scripture. When Judah did this is not stated, but according to v 9 it was before the conquest of Hebron. Perhaps it was when Joshua defeated the king of Jerusalem (Josh. 10:1-27; 12:10). It could have been a long time after that, however. It is generally held that only a part of Jerusalem was taken by Judah and that was not the fortress part of the city. It is supposed that this was not taken until the time of David (2 Sam. 5:6-9) p That is, after the taking of Jerusalem and Bezek of v 2-8

212 CHAPTER 1

I Victories and failures of Israel after Joshua (Judg. 1:1-3:4). 1 Judah's victory at Bezek

NOW after the [a]death of Jŏsh'u-ă it came to pass, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el [b]asked the LORD, saying, [c]Who shall go up for us against the Că'năan-ītes first, to fight against them?

2 [d]And [e]the LORD said, [f]Jū'dah shall go up: behold, I have delivered the land into his hand.

3 And Jū'dah said [g]unto Sĭm'e-on his brother, Come up with me into my lot, that we may fight against the [h]Că'năan-ītes; and I likewise will go with thee into thy lot. So Sĭm'e-on went with him.

4 And Jū'dah [i]went up; and the LORD delivered the Că'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes into their hand: and they slew of them in [k]Bĕ'zĕk ten thousand men.

5 And they found [l]Ă-dō'nī-bĕ'zek in Bĕ'zĕk: and they fought against him, and they slew the Că'năan-ītes and the Pĕr'ĭz-zītes.

6 But Ă-dō'nī-bĕ'zek fled; and they pursued after him, and caught him, and [m]cut off his thumbs and his great toes.

7 And Ă-dō'nī-bĕ'zek said, Threescore and ten kings, having their thumbs and their great toes cut off, gathered their meat under my table: as I have done, [n]so God hath requited me. And they brought him to Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm, and there he died.

8 Now the children of Jū'dah had fought against Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm, and had [o]taken it, and smitten it with the edge of the sword, and set the city on fire.

2 Judah's victory at Hebron (Judg. 1:20)

9 ¶ And [p]afterward the children of Jū'dah went down to fight against the Că'năan-ītes, that dwelt in the mountain, and in the south, and in the valley.

10 And Jū'dah [q]went against the Că'năan-ītes that dwelt in Hĕ'bron: (now the name of Hĕ'bron before was Kĭr'jath-ăr'bă:) and they slew Shē'shāi, and Ă-hī'man, and Tăl'māi.

3 Judah's victory through Caleb at Debir (Josh. 15:16)

11 And from thence [r]he went against the inhabitants of Dĕ'bīr: and the name of Dĕ'bīr before was Kĭr'jath-sē'phēr:

12 And Că'leb said, [s]He that smiteth Kĭr'jath-sē'phēr, and taketh it, to him will I give Ăch'sah my daughter to wife.

13 And [t]Ŏth'nĭ-el the son of Kĕ'năz, Că'leb's younger brother, took it: and he gave him Ăch'sah his daughter to wife.

14 And it came to pass, when she came to him, that she moved [a]him to ask of her father a field; and she lighted from off her ass; and Că'leb said unto her, [b]What wilt thou?

15 And she said unto him, Give me a blessing: for thou hast given me a south land; give me also springs of water. And Că'leb gave her the upper springs and the [c]nether springs.

4 Judah's victories at Hormah and Philistia

16 ¶ And the children of [d]the Kĕn'īte, [e]Mō'şĕş' father in law, went up out of [f]the city of palm trees with the children of Jū'dah into the wilderness of Jū'dah, which lieth in the south of Ă'răd; and they went and dwelt among [g]the people.

17 And [h]Jū'dah went with Sĭm'e-on his brother, and they slew the Că'năan-ītes that inhabited [i]Zĕ'phath, and utterly destroyed it. And the name of the city was called Hôr'mah.

18 Also Jū'dah [j]took [k]Gā'zā with the coast thereof, [l]and Ăs'ke-lŏn with the coast thereof, and [m]Ĕk'rŏn with the coast thereof.

5 Judah's failure (Josh. 15:63)

19 And the LORD was with Jū'dah; and he drave out the inhabitants of the mountain; but [n]could not drive out the inhabitants of the valley, because they had chariots of iron.

6 Judah's victory over giants at Hebron (Judg. 1:9)

20 And they gave Hĕ'bron unto Că'leb, as Mō'şĕş said: and he expelled thence the three sons of Ă'năk.

7 Failure of Benjamin

21 And the children of Bĕn'ja-mĭn [o]did not drive out the Jĕb'u-sītes that inhabited Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm; but the Jĕb'u-sites dwell with the children of Bĕn'ja-mĭn in Jĕ-rū'să-lĕm unto this day.

8 Victory of Joseph (v 35)

22 ¶ And the [p]house of Jō'şeph, they also went up against Bĕth'-el: and the LORD was with them.

23 And the house of Jō'şeph sent to descry Bĕth'-el. (Now the name of the city before was Lūz.)

24 And the spies saw a man come forth out of the city, and they said unto him, Shew us, we pray thee, the entrance into the city, and we will shew thee mercy.

25 And when he shewed them the entrance into the city, they smote the city with the edge of the sword; [q]but they let go the man and all his family.

26 And the man went into the land of the [r]Hĭt'tītes, and built a city, and called the name a Achsah, daughter of Caleb, moved Othniel to ask of her father a certain field which had many springs of water, but while he was hesitating for some reason, she got down from the beast carrying her to her new home as if reluctant to proceed. When Caleb asked her what she wanted she, herself asked for the field with springs; and he gave her both the upper and lower springs as a wedding gift (v 14-15). See notes u-w, Josh. 15:17-19

c Lower springs

f Jericho was called the city of palm trees (v 16; 3:13; Dt. 34:3)

g They dwelled among Israelites

h Note the change. Simeon went with Judah first (v 3); here Judah went with Simeon (v 17)

i Zephath, used only here as another name of Hormah which is mentioned 9 times (note c, Dt. 1:44)

j 8 cities conquered by Judah - Simeon:
1 Bezek (v 4-6)
2 Jerusalem (v 7-8)
3 Hebron or Kirjath-arba (v 9-10)
4 Debir or Kirjath-sepher (v 11-15)
5 Zephath or Hormah (v 17)
6 Gaza and coasts or borders (v 18)
7 Askelon and borders
8 Ekron and borders

k Gaza, strong. One of 5 Philistine cities allotted to Judah (1:18; 6:4; Josh. 10:41; 11:22; 15:47). It was perhaps the oldest city of Philistia, located near the coast of the Mediterranean about 40 miles south of Joppa, and on a hill rising 60 to 200 feet above the plain, with sand dunes between it and the sea 1 1/2 miles distant. The plain was fertile with many wells of water which made it an important place on the border of the desert between Syria and Egypt. Gaza is mentioned 19 times in Scripture and as far back as Gen. 10:19, it was taken by the Philistines and remained their city until it was taken by Sargon, king of Assyria, in his war with Egypt. Alexander the Great took it after a 2-month seige and destroyed it, putting all the men to death and selling the women and children as slaves. The city was restored and later taken by the Maccabees and still later by Alexander Jannaeus. The Romans rebuilt it in 57 B.C. Mentioned only once in the N.T. (Acts 8:26). In the 2nd and 3rd centuries A.D. it became a center of Greek culture and commerce with a strong pagan influence. Many martyrs died for Christ there. Gaza was taken by the Arabs in 634 A.D. and has remained a Moslem city most of the time since. In O.T. days it was the enemy of Israel (1 Sam. 6:17; 2 Ki. 18:8; 1 Chr. 7:28). See Gaza in the prophetical books (Jer. 47:1-5; Amos 1:6-7; Zeph. 2:4; Zech. 9:5)

l Askelon, another Philistine city taken by Judah, but not for long. Only here and 1 Sam. 6:17; 2 Sam. 1:20. Called Ashkelon, migration (14:19; Jer. 25:20; 47:5-7; Amos 1:8; Zeph. 2:4-7; Zech. 9:5) a Manasseh failed to occupy their inheritance fully in all 5 main sections:

1 Beth-shean and her towns (v 27)
2 Taanach and her towns
3 Dor and her towns
4 Ibleam and her towns
5 Megiddo and her towns. See note a, Josh. 17:11 for a study of these cities
b The Canaanites were determined to dwell in their former places, even if they had to be among Israelites, their enemies (v 27)
c The commandment was not to put them to tribute, but to destroy them utterly out of the land (Ex. 23:24; Dt. 7:2; 12:2; 20:17)
d Ephraim did better than Manasseh (v 27), for the Canaanites remained only in Gezer among Ephraimites (v 29; Josh. 16:5-10)
e In Zebulun's inheritance the Canaanites continued to dwell among them in at least 2 places - Kitron and Nahalol (v 30; Josh. 19:10-15)
f Kitron, an unidentified place in the inheritance of Zebulun, but not possessed by them (v 30). It may have been identical with the Levite city of Kattath (Josh. 19:15) g Nahalol, a city of the Levites allotted to Zebulun, but not occupied by them (v 30). Called Nahaliel (Josh. 19:15) and Nahalal (Josh. 21:35)

i Note here that it was the Asherites dwelling among the Canaanites, not the Canaanites among the Asherites (v 32). Cp. v 21, 27-30
j Naphtali failed to drive the Canaanites out in 2 places (v 33; Josh. 19:32-39):
1 Beth-shemesh, house of the sun. See note l, Josh. 15:10
2 Beth-anath, house of Anath, a goddess of the Canaanites. A city of Naphtali in north Palestine (v 33; Josh. 19:38) k He dwelled among the Canaanites. See note i, above l By the time of the writing of Joshua Naphtali became strong enough to put the Canaanites to tribute (v 33)
m The Amorites forced Dan to limited quarters (v 34). This is another way of saying that Dan also failed to occupy all their inheritance n Manasseh and Ephraim failed to expel the Amorites from 2 places:
1 Mount Heres in Aijalon, a city allotted to Dan. (Josh. 19:42); but Amorites would not allow them to occupy it. Later Manasseh and Ephraim forced the Amorites to pay them tribute (v 35). Given to Levites (Josh. 21:24; 1 Chr. 6:69; 8:13). Joshua and Saul both won victories here (Josh. 10:12; 1 Sam. 14:31)
2 Shaalbim, another city allotted to Dan; but Amorites forced them out of it. Later Manasseh and Ephraim put them to tribute (v 34-35). Called Shaalabbin (Josh. 19:42)
o Akrabbim, scorpions. It was a pass in the valley of Arabah, about 20 miles south of the Dead Sea (v 36; Num. 34:4). Called Maaleh-acrabbim (Josh. 15:3). From this pass westward to Philistia was the stronghold of the Amorites in southern Palestine in western Asia among heathen nations as their chief deity. His altars and sanctuaries were located on high places, even the summits of high mountains in order to get the first view of the rising sun, and the last of the setting sun. y Ashtaroth is the plural and Ashtoreth the singular form of the name of the Canaanites' principal female deity (v 13). The feminine principle was supposed to be embodied in the moon to which the name Ashtoreth was given. The idol was a female with a crescent moon on her brow. It was set up in the temples and worshipped with the most revolting forms of immorality or sex perversion. Under the guise of religion all virtue and decency were surrendered (note k, v 17). c What God was doing down at Gilgal is not stated, but it is clear that He can and does go from place to place bodily like other beings or persons (v 1; Gen. 17:22; 18:2, 5, 21-22, 33; Ex. 14:19; etc.). It was at Gilgal that He was last seen (Josh. 5:13-15).

i Question 3, Next, 4:6
j God's purpose in using the enemies of Israel was to test the nation and see if they would be obedient and depend upon Him for continued help. For this same reason He permits Christians to be tested. All the experiences of Israel are lessons to us today (1 Cor. 11:1-13)
k See Num. 33:55; Josh. 23:13
l Idols were a greater curse to Israel than anything else in Egypt and Canaan. More commands were given against them than against almost any other thing. More plagues and judgments of God came upon the nation for sins of idolatry than for anything else. Even the adultery of Num. 25 was part of idol worship, and so it always was in Israel. See Idols in Index m At times Israel was penitent when God dealt with them, but at other times their hearts were hardened beyond any breaking (v 5; 20:23, 26; 1 Sam. 11:4; 30:4; 2 Sam. 13:36; 15:23, 30). A general process of hardening continued in Israel from here to the time when there was no turning back, so God permitted them to go into captivity. This broke the people temporarily (Ezra 3:12; 10:1; Neh. 8:9; Ps. 137:1). Then Israel lapsed into hardness of heart again until, by the time Messiah came there was not the slightest indication of brokenness and willingness to do the will of God on the part of the people apart from a few godly ones who wept much because of impending destruction (Mt. 24:34-39; Lk. 19:41; 23:28). The leaders promoted a mob spirit against Christ and through hardness the nation was destroyed (Mt. 13:13-17; 26:47-27:66; 28:11-15; Acts 7:51-52; 19:9; 28:25-31)
n The Heb. bochim means weepings, lamentations, wailings (v 1, 5)
o These verses take us back to the days of Joshua and the elders who outlived him (v 6-10 with Josh. 24:29-33). They are given here as an introduction to the long record of apostasies and judgments of Israel listed in the book of Judges. It is clear that as long as Israel served God, He caused them to prosper; but when they forsook Him He no longer blessed them. Instead He permitted defeat, servitude to their enemies, and various judgments to whip them into line again, seeking to save the nation from sure destruction that He had promised, should they backslide and rebel against Him. The whole book of Judges is a record of repeated sins, apostasy, judgment, and temporary repentance and consecration to God as long as a particular leader was alive whom God had raised up to deliver the people from their enemies. This program went on for 520 years under judges, then continued through another period of 513 years under kings - until the nation was destroyed and taken into captivity (Judg. 2:11-2 Chr. 36). See Judg. 2:16-19 a Heb. charah, to glow warm; to blaze up in anger, zeal, or jealousy; burn with indignation; be highly displeased, fretful, grievous, incensed; to be wroth. God is spoken of as waxing hot in anger 10 times (v 17; 3:8; 6:39; 10:7; Ex. 22:24; 32:10-11, 22; Dt. 9:19; Ps. 6:1; 38:1). When His anger gets to the boiling or steaming point definite action in judgment is manifest. See Anger and Angry in Index

4 reasons for God's anger waxing hot:

1 Oppressing widows, orphans, and strangers (Ex. 22:21-24)

2 Stubbornness and idolatry (2:11-15; 3:7-8; 10:6-18; Ex. 32:8-11; Dt. 9:19-22)

3 Forsaking and forgetting Him (2:12; 3:7)

4 Sin (Ps. 6:1; 38:1-5)

b This was the result of God's anger waxing hot (v 17; 3:8; 10:7; Ps. 38:1-5). Here we have the beginning of many defeats of Israel during the periods of the judges, kings, and even during the restoration from captivity. See The plagues and wars of Israel, p. 635

c 7 servitudes in Judges, p. 60, col. 4 d Heb. makar, to sell a daughter in marriage or slavery; to surrender or give over. This was God's way of saying that He gave Israel up or over to their enemies to be punished by them for backsliding (v 14; 3:8; 4:2; 10:7; Dt. 28:68; 32:30; 1 Sam. 12:9). The word is also used of men selling or giving themselves over to do evil (Isa. 50:1; 52:3), of selling slaves (Gen. 25:33; 37:28, 36; 41:56; 45:4), and selling merchandise (2 Ki. 6:25; 7:1, 16)

e Formerly, when Israel was obedient no man could stand before them (Dt. 7:27; 11:25; Josh. 1:5; 10:8; 23:9), but now in disobedience they could not stand before any man (v 14; Lev. 26:37)

f Formerly, when Israel was obedient the Lord prospered them and made them victorious wherever they went (Dt. 29:9; Josh. 1:7-9), but now the Lord cursed them wherever they went (v 15)

g Again, it must be remembered that God promised and predicted curses upon Israel, should they disobey, and blessings should they obey (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). This is also the promise and prediction to Christians (Jn. 15:1-8; Rom. 6:16-23; 8:12-13; Gal. 5:16-26; Heb. 10:38-39)

h This was in fulfillment of prophecy (Dt. 28:53-37). Cp. 10:8; 1 Sam. 13:6; 14:24; 28:15; 30:6

i 16 judges, p. 60, col. 4

j This shows the ever increasing hardness of heart and stubbornness of Israel as time went on (v 17; note m, 2:4)

k Went a whoring is to be taken literally, for unspeakable immoral practices were carried on in connection with idols served by Israel during these times of apostasy (v 17; Ex. 34:15-16; Lev. 17:7; 20:5-6; Num. 15:39; Dt. 31:16; Judg. 2:17; 8:27, 33; 1 Chr. 5:25; 2 Chr. 21:13; Ps. 73:27; 1-6:39; Ezek. 6:9; 23:30; Hos. 4:12; 9:1). See also whoredom between devotion of idols (Lev. 20:5; 25:1; Jer. 3:2, 9; 13:27, 33; Ezek. 16:17-36; 20:30; 23:9-43; 43:7-9; Hos. 1:2; 2:2-4; 4:10-18; 5:3-4; 6:10; Nah. 3:4)

l This also should be taken literally, as illustrated in the backsliding of Israel under Aaron (Ex. 32) and under Moses (Num. 11; 16; 25) m 2 contrasts here between fathers and children which are seen many times today:

1 Fathers walked in the right way

2 Fathers obeyed the commandments of the Lord. Children did not do either (v 17). Sometimes it is just the opposite -- children are godly and the fathers are not (Ezek. 18) n God being with one is the secret of success (note m, Gen. 28:15)

o God was with all the judges to bring deliverance to Israel, regardless of the personal conduct of the judges themselves, many of whom failed God (6:24-28; 16:20), Preservation of Israel to fulfil the promises and predictions regarding the coming Messiah was necessary even during times of failure on the part of leaders

p See note u, Gen. 6:6

q 17 sins for which God punished Israel:

1 Broke God's covenant (v 1, 20; Dt. 31:16-26; Josh. 23:16)

2 Made leagues with inhabitants of Canaan (v 2; Ex. 23:32; Dt. 7:2-5)

LORD was ^a^hot against Iṣ'ra-el, and he ^b^delivered them into the hands of ^c^spoilers that spoiled them, and he ^d^sold them into the hands of their enemies round about, so that they ^e^could not any longer stand before their enemies.

15 Whithersoever they went out, the/hand of the LORD was against them for evil, ^g^as the LORD had said, and as the LORD had sworn unto them: and they were ^h^greatly distressed.

21 Institution of judges and temporary deliverances

16 ¶ Nevertheless the LORD raised up ⁱjudges, which delivered them out of the hand of those that spoiled them.

17 And /yet they would not hearken unto their judges, but they went a^k^whoring after other gods, and bowed themselves unto them: they turned ^l^quickly out of the way which their fathers walked in, ^m^obeying the commandments of the LORD; but they did not so.

18 And when the LORD raised them up judges, then the LORD was ^n^with the judge, and delivered them out of the hand of their enemies ^o^all the days of the judge: for ^p^it repented the LORD because of their groanings by reason of them that oppressed them and vexed them.

19 And it came to pass, when the judge was dead, that they returned, and corrupted themselves more than their fathers, in following other gods to serve them, and to bow down unto them; ^q^they ceased not from their own doings, nor from their stubborn way.

22 God's purpose to test Israel by her enemies (v 3-5; 3:1-4)

■20 ¶ And the anger of the LORD was hot against Iṣ'ra-el; and he said, Because that this people hath transgressed my covenant which I commanded their fathers, and have not hearkened unto my voice;

▸21 ^r^I also will not henceforth drive out any from before them of the nations which Jŏsh'u-a left when he died:

22 ^s^That through them I may prove Iṣ'ra-el, whether they will keep the way of the LORD to walk therein, as their fathers did keep it, or not.

23 Therefore the LORD left those nations, without driving them out hastily; neither delivered he them into the hand of Jŏsh'u-a.

214 CHAPTER 3

23 God's instruments in testing Israel (Judg. 3:3, 20)

NOW these are the nations which the LORD left, to prove Iṣ'ra-el by them, even as many of Iṣ'ra-el as had not known all the wars of Cā'nāan;

2 Only that the generations of the children of Iṣ'ra-el might know, to teach them war, at the least such as before knew nothing thereof;

3 ^a^Namely, five lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and all the Cā'nāan-ītes, and the Sī-dō'nĭ-ans, and the Hī'vītes that dwelt in mount Lĕb'a-non, from mount Bā'al-hĕr'mon unto the entering in of Hā'math.

4 And they were to prove Iṣ'ra-el by them, to know whether they would hearken unto the commandments of the LORD, which he commanded their fathers by the hand of Mō'ṣeṣ.

II Apostasies, servitudes and judges (Judg. 3:5-16:31).

1 First apostasy

5 ¶ And the children of Iṣ'ra-el ^b^dwelt among the Cā'nāan-ītes, Hĭt'tītes, and Ām'ôr-ītes, and Pĕr'ĭz-zītes, and Hī'vītes, and Jĕb'u-sītes:

6 And ^c^they took their daughters to be their wives, and gave their daughters to their sons, and served their gods.

7 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el did evil in the sight of the LORD, and forgat the LORD their God, and served ^d^Bā'al-īm and the ^e^groves.

2 First servitude: 8 years to Babylon

8 ¶ Therefore the anger of the LORD was /hot against Iṣ'ra-el, and he ^f^sold them into the hand of ^g^Chū'shan-rĭsh-a-thā'ĭm king of ^h^Mĕs-o-pō-tā'mĭ-a: and the children of Iṣ'ra-el served Chū'shan-rĭsh-a-thā'ĭm eight years.

3 Othniel: 1st judge. Victory over Babylon: 40 years peace

9 And when the children of Iṣ'ra-el cried unto the LORD, the LORD raised up a deliverer to the children of Iṣ'ra-el, who delivered them, even ^i^Ŏth'nĭ-el the son of ^j^Kĕ'nāz, Cā'leb's younger brother.

10 And the ^m^Spirit of the LORD came upon him, and he judged Iṣ'ra-el, and went ^n^out to war: and the LORD delivered Chū'shan-rĭsh-a-thā'ĭm king of Mĕs-o-pō-tā'mĭ-á into his hand; and his hand prevailed against Chū'shan-rĭsh-a-thā'ĭm.

11 And the land had ^o^rest forty years. And Ŏth'nĭ-el the son of Kĕ'nāz died.

4 Second apostasy and servitude: 18 years to Moab

12 ¶ And the children of Iṣ'ra-el ^p^did evil again in the sight of the LORD: and the LORD strengthened Ĕg'lŏn the king of Mō'ab against Iṣ'ra-el, because they had done evil in the sight of the LORD.

13 And he gathered unto him the children of Ām'mŏn and Ăm'a-lĕk, and went and smote Iṣ'ra-el, and possessed ^q^the city of palm trees.

14 So the children of Iṣ'ra-el ^r^served Ĕg'lŏn the king of Mō'ab ^s^eighteen years.

r 2nd servitude (p. 60, col. 4)

s This was the 2nd servitude of Israel in a 450-year period during the judges. There was another 18-year servitude to Ammon (10:6-18); one of 20 years to the Canaanites (4:1-3); 8 years to Mesopotamia (v 7-8), and 7 years to the Midianites (6:1-10). The longest servitude was to the Philistines for 40 years (13:1). Altogether this made 111 years of bondage which Israel never would have suffered if they had obeyed God in the beginning, under Joshua, by killing all the inhabitants of the land as commanded

3 Refused to throw down all altars of the heathen (v 2; Ex. 34:13; Dt. 7:5; 12:3)

4 Disobeyed God's voice (v 2, 20; Ex. 15:26; 19:5; Num. 14:22; Josh. 5:6)

5 Did evil in the sight of God and served Baalim and other gods (v 11-13; 6:7-10)

6 Forsook God (v 12-13) 3:6-7)

7 Followed other gods (v 12)

8 Bowed down to worship other gods

9 Provoked God to anger (v 12)

10 Would not hearken to judges (v 17)

11 Went whoring after other gods, committing all kinds of immoralities

12 Turned quickly out of the way

13 Disobeyed the commandments

14 Backslid and corrupted themselves more than their fathers in following, serving, bowing down to other gods (v 19)

15 Ceased not from their own sins and stubborn ways

r Here we have notice of God's decision not to continue to drive out the nations left by Joshua in the land (v 21), and the reason for it (v 22-23; 3:1-4)

s 2 reasons God left nations in Canaan:

1 To prove Israel by them, whether they would keep the ways of the Lord and walk therein (v 22-23; 3:1-4)

2 To teach Israel war, so they would be able to defend their own land from all enemies (3:2) a Heb. zaag, to shriek from anguish or danger; cry out spontaneously. Israel did this many times when in danger (v 9, 15; 6:6-7; 10:10; Ex. 2:23; 1 Sam. 12:8-10; 1 Chr. 5:20). The Heb. tsaag, to shriek, is also used of:

1 Israel (4:3; Ex. 5:15; 14:10; Num. 20:16; Dt. 26:7; Josh. 24:7; 2 Chr. 13:14)
2 Esau (Gen. 27:34)

c 16 judges by tribes:
1 Othniel - Judah (1:10-20; 3:9)
2 Ehud - Benjamin
3 Shamgar - Benjamin? (3:31; 5:6-8)
4 Deborah - Ephraim (4:5; 5:14)
5 Barak - Naphtali (4:6)
6 Gideon - Manasseh (6:15)
7 Abimelech - Manasseh (9:1; 7:1)

d All lefthanded men mentioned in Scripture came from Benjamin (v 15; 20:16)

e Eglon, little calf. The successor of Balak of Num. 22-24 (v 12-17). Also the name of a city (Josh. 10:3-37; 12:12; 15:39)

f Heb. gomed, to grasp; a span. Not the ordinary word trans. cubit in every other place. A dagger of a span long would be about 9 or 10 inches (v 16)

g This means they paid their yearly tribute to Moab, which, according to Eastern custom was borne and presented with great ceremony so as to impress both the oppressed and the oppressor regarding their respective positions and relationship to each other

h See Carved images, p. 276

i The Moabites had evidently crossed the Jordan and built a summer place for their king between old Jericho and Gilgal. They had perhaps set up graven images there or it could be that the great stones Joshua had set up at Gilgal were carved into idols by the Moabites who now oppressed Israel and made them pay tribute. Cp. 4:3

j In the Heb. chamber of cooling - one of the special places built for coolness in the gardens of oriental rulers and wealthy people, accessible by private stairs, and in which they reposed during the heat of the day. Such parlors were often made of two or three rooms, having a terrace annexed to the larger house and stairs leading to the outside and the street. By the stairway Ehud escaped without being noticed by the servants who had retired to the larger house. In Egypt cooling rooms were made by putting openings in the top to let the fresh air in. Some rooms and halls were large and lofty with a dome at the top having several windows toward the north. Being constructed to throw the north wind down into the rooms they became so cool at times that one needed heavy clothing

k Early oriental locks consisted of a wooden slide drawn into place by a string and fastened there by teeth or catches. Sometimes the lock was a heavy slide put into the door post and held in place with small bolts of iron. The lock was placed inside the door; and a hole was made in the door through which a hand could be passed and a key inserted l Keys were usually of wood, though some were of iron or brass. The ordinary wooden key was from 6 inches to 2 feet in length. At the end were wire pins designed to loose the fastenings of the lock or slide. Keys were borne on the shoulder (Isa. 22:22)

m Not a man on this side of Jordan

n These 80 years were the longest period in which the land had peace or rest (v 30). Six times there was a period of 40 years of rest (3:11; 5:31; 8:28; 1 Sam. 4:18)

15 But when the children of Is'ra-el cried unto the LORD, the LORD raised them up a deliverer, [b]E'hŭd the son of Ge'rá, a [c]Ben'ja-mite, a [d]man lefthanded: and by him the children of Is'ra-el sent a present unto [e]Eg'lŏn the king of Mo'ab.

16 But E'hŭd made him a dagger which had two edges, of [f]a cubit length; and he did gird it under his raiment upon his right thigh.

17 And he brought the [g]present unto Eg'lŏn king of Mo'ab: and Eg'lŏn was a very fat man.

18 And when he had made an end to offer the present, he sent away the people that bare the present.

19 But he himself turned again from the [h]quarries that were [i]by Gil'găl, and said, I have a secret errand unto thee, O king: who said, Keep silence. And all that stood by him went out from him.

20 And E'hŭd came unto him; and he was sitting in a [j]summer parlour, which he had for himself alone. And E'hŭd said, I have a message from God unto thee. And he arose out of his seat.

21 And E'hŭd put forth his left hand, and took the dagger from his right thigh, and thrust it into his belly.

22 And the haft also went in after the blade; and the fat closed upon the blade, so that he could not draw the dagger out of his belly; and the dirt came out.

23 Then E'hŭd went forth through the porch, and shut the doors of the parlour upon him, and locked them.

24 When he was gone out, his servants came; and when they saw that, behold, the doors of the parlour were [k]locked, they said, Surely he covereth his feet in his summer chamber.

25 And they tarried till they were ashamed: and, behold, he opened not the doors of the parlour; therefore they took a[l]key, and opened them: and, behold, their lord was fallen down dead on the earth.

26 And E'hŭd escaped while they tarried, and passed beyond the quarries, and escaped unto Se'i-răth.

27 And it came to pass, when he was come, that he blew a trumpet in the mountain of E'phrá-im, and the children of Is'ra-el went down with him from the mount, and he before them.

28 And he said unto them, Follow after me: for the LORD hath delivered your enemies the Mo'ab-ites into your hand. And they went down after him, and took the fords of Jor'dan toward Mo'ab, and suffered not a man to pass over.

29 And they slew of Mo'ab at that time about ten thousand men, all lusty, and all men of valour; and there escaped [m]not a man.

30 So Mo'ab was subdued that day under the hand of Is'ra-el. And the land had rest [n]fourscore years.

6 Third apostasy and servitude. Shamgar: 3rd judge. Victory over Philistia

31 ¶ And after him was Sham'găr the son of A'năth, which slew of the Phi-lis'tines six hundred men with an [o]ox goad: and he also delivered Is'ra-el.

215 CHAPTER 4

7 Fourth apostasy and servitude: 20 years to Canaanites

AND the children of Is'ra-el [a]again did evil in the sight of the LORD, [b]when E'hŭd was dead.

2 And the LORD [c]sold them into the hand of [d]Ja'bin king of Ca'năan, that reigned in Hă'zôr; the captain of whose host was Sis'e-rá, which dwelt in [e]Hă-ro'sheth of the Gen'tiles.

3 And the children of Is'ra-el cried unto the LORD: for he had nine [f]hundred chariots of iron; and [g]twenty years he [h]mightily oppressed the children of Is'ra-el.

8 Deborah and Barak: 4th and 5th judges: 40 years (5:31). (1) First prophetess since Miriam (Ex. 15:20): prophecy of Deborah

4 ¶ And Deb'o-rah, a [i]prophetess, the wife of Lăp'i-dŏth, she [j]judged Is'ra-el at that time.

5 And she dwelt under the palm tree of Deb'o-rah between Rá'mah and Beth'-el in mount E'phrá-im: and the children of Is'ra-el came up to her for judgment.

6 [k]And she sent and called Ba'răk the son of A-bin'o-am out of Ke'desh-năph'ta-li, and said unto him, [l]Hath not the LORD God of Is'ra-el commanded, saying, Go and draw toward mount Ta'bôr, and take with thee [m]ten thousand men of the children of Năph'ta-li and of the children of Zeb'u-lun?

7 And I will draw unto thee to the river Ki'shŏn Sis'e-rá, the captain of Já'bin's army, with his chariots and his multitude; and I will deliver him into thine hand.

8 And Ba'răk said unto her, [n]If thou wilt go with me, then I will go: but if thou wilt not go with me, then I will not go.

9 [o]And she said, I will surely go with thee: notwithstanding the journey that thou takest shall not be for thine honour; for the LORD shall sell Sis'e-rá into the hand of a [p]woman. And Deb'o-rah arose, and went with Ba'răk to Ke'desh.

(2) Mobilization of armies

10 ¶ And Ba'răk called Zeb'u-lun and Năph'ta-li to Ke'desh; and he went up [q]with ten thousand men at his feet: and Deb'o-rah went up with him.

11 Now Hé'bĕr the Ken'ite, which was of the children of Hó'băb the [r]father in law of Mo'ses, had severed himself from the Ken'ites, and pitched his tent unto the plain of Za-aa The ox-goad was a strong pole about 8 ft. long and 2 in. in diameter. At one end was a sharp point for pricking the oxen when their movements became too slow. At the other end was a sharp chisel-like blade which was used to clear the plowshare of weeds, roots, thorns, or hard clay adhering to it. The pointed end of this instrument is referred to in Acts 9:5; 26:14 8 weak things of Judges that confounded the mighty (1 Cor. 1:27):

1 Left hand (3:21)
2 Ox-goad (3:31)
3 A woman (4:4, 21; 9:53)
4 A nail (4:21)
5 A piece of millstone (9:53)
6 A pitcher (7:20)
7 A trumpet (7:20)
8 Jawbone of an ass (15:16)

b Israel sinned again and again, before this and afterward (3:12; 4:1; 8:33; 10:6)

c According to 2:18-19 Israel served the Lord all the days of each judge. If this applied in the case of Ehud he must have been over 100 years old when he died, for the land had rest 80 years (3:30) and he was a grown man when he delivered Israel (3:15-30)

d See note d, 2:15

e Another Jabin besides the one in Josh. 11:1-3, but from Hazor, the capital of a strong nation of Canaanites which was burned by Israel in the days of Joshua (note c, Josh. 11:10)

f Harosheth was a stronghold of the Gentiles and the home of Sisera, captain of the Canaanites, who kept Israel under subjection for 20 years (v 2-3). It was located in north Canaan

g If there were 3 to a chariot as with some in ancient times, this would mean 2,700 horses besides many others perhaps, held in reserve (v 3)

h 20 years was next to the longest servitude of Israel during the period of the judges (v 30). 40 years was the longest (13:1). 18 years was the length of the 2nd and 6th servitudes (3:12-14; 10:6-18); 7 and 8 years the lengths of the 1st and 5th (3:7-8; 6:1-10)

i Heb. chezqah, prevailing power; strength; strong. It means they prevailed against Israel in a strong way to keep them under subjection. They did everything possible to make Israelites afraid of them and reluctant to oppose them in any way. The word is trans. mightily (v 3; 14:6; 15:14; Jer. 25:30)

j See 14 prophetesses, p. 111

k She judged, proving her to be one of the 16 judges of Israel in this period between Joshua and the kings of Israel (v 4-5). Ramah was 5 miles north of Jerusalem, and Bethel 10 miles, so the palm tree must have been close to Beeroth, about half-way between these 2 cities. Mount Ephraim was a general name for the whole range extending from Jerusalem to the plain of Esdraelon. Mount Tabor was on the northern side of Esdraelon, and almost isolated, being connected only by a wooded ridge with the mountains of Galilee on the west. About 1,900 ft. high and abundant with evergreens and oaks it was one of the most beautiful hills in Palestine. It is covered with the ruins of an ancient city

o One man who admitted dependence upon a woman (v 8, Cp. 1 Cor. 11:7-12). The Sept. adds at the end of v 8, "for I do not know the day when the Lord would prosper the angel with me," meaning that he depended upon her contact with God to tell him when to attack, as in v 14

a Whether this was co-operating with Israel according to the prophecy of v 7 or co-operating with the enemies of Israel is not clear in this verse, but in v 17-22 it is evident that the wife at least was on Israel's side

b Sisera here fulfilled the prophecy of v 7 and 9, without knowing it (v 13) c The Canaanites dwelled from Harosheth near the Sea of Merom on the Jordan to the river Kishon which flows into the Mediterranean near mount Carmel (v 13)

d The Kishon rises at the foot of mount Tabor, winding southerly through the plain of Jezreel about 30 miles to the Mediterranean (v 7, 13; 5:21). It is called the waters of Megiddo (5:19). On this river the famous battle between Barak and Sisera was fought (v 13-22); and it was the place of the destruction of the prophets of Baal by Elijah (1 Ki. 18:40). It is also called the waters before Jokneam (Josh. 19:11). Kishon formed the boundary between Zebulun and Issachar. In summer this is a good flowing stream

e 4th prophecy in Judg. (4:14, fulfilled, v 15-22). Next, 6:14

f Question 5. Next, v 20

g Having Jehovah in the battle made a great difference, for Israel had fought with Sisera before and had not overcome him (v 15)

h This left the Canaanite army without their leader, and so they were easily followed and destroyed by Barak and his men (v 15-16). No doubt the angel of the Lord so confused the enemy that many ran into each other, and chariots were overthrown, as the remnant fled toward Harosheth

i This indicates the total destruction of the Canaanite army and all the chariots (v 16)

j He preferred the woman's tent to that of Heber, because of secrecy and supposed safety there. According to Eastern custom no man was permitted to intrude into a woman's tent or the apartments of women; and to do so meant the death penalty. Thus Sisera was brought under the death penalty, and it was permitted of God to fulfil the prophecy of v 9. Jael, by the will of God, helped save Israel from long bondage to bitter enemies. This spared the daughters of Israel from horrible fates and the men from destruction at the hands of Sisera k Since she and her husband had been the ones to warn Sisera of the mobilization of Israel, he no doubt thought he would be safe with her. He trusted Jael so completely that he relaxed and went to sleep in her tent (v 18-21)

l Heb. semiykah, rug. Only here. Not the ordinary word for mantle as worn on the body, which is meiyl, robe (1 Sam. 15:27; 28:14; Ezra 9:3-5; Job 1:20; 2:12; Ps. 109:29)

9 Haman's sons (Esther 9:13-14)
10 John the Baptist (Mt. 14:8)

p What impression the scene of his enemy's death made on Barak is not known, but he could not help feeling personally robbed of the privilege to kill him, himself (v 9, 22)

q God enabled Israel to get mastery of the Canaanite enemies until they were completely destroyed (v 23-24). This was what God had in mind for every enemy of Israel as time went along and Israel submitted to Him and obeyed Him. God has always kept His part of the contract between Himself and Israel and will always do so. He has even gone further at times than what He was under obligation to do in order to prove His eternal love and providence over them as a special people with whom He had entered into covenant relationship to bring the Messiah into the world and complete His revelation to men, through them nā'im, which is by Kĕ'desh.

12 And [a]they shewed Sĭs'e-rá that Bā'răk the son of Ă-bĭn'o-ăm was gone up to mount Tā'bôr.

13 And [b]Sĭs'e-rá gathered together all his chariots, even nine hundred chariots of iron, and all the people that were with him, [c]from Hă-rō'sheth of the Gĕn'tīleş unto [d]the river of Ki'shŏn.

(3) Victory over Canaanites

*14 [e]And Dĕb'o-rah said unto Bā'răk, [f]Up; for this is the day in which the LORD hath delivered Sĭs'e-rá into thine hand: is not the LORD gone out before thee? So Bā'răk went down from mount Tā'bôr, and ten thousand men after him.

15 And [g]the LORD discomfited Sĭs'e-rá, and all his chariots, and all his host, with the edge of the sword before Bā'răk; so that Sĭs'e-rá [h]lighted down off his chariot, and fled away on his feet.

16 But Bā'răk pursued after the chariots, and after the host, unto Hă-rō'sheth of the Gĕn'tīleş: and all the host of Sĭs'e-rá fell upon the edge of the sword; and there was [i]not a man left.

(4) Death of Sisera

17 Howbeit Sĭs'e-rá fled away on his feet [j]to the tent of Já'el the wife of Hĕ'bĕr the Kĕn'īte: for there was peace between Já'bin the king of Hă'zôr and the house of Hĕ'bĕr the Kĕn'īte.

●18 ¶ And Já'el went out to meet Sĭs'e-rá, and said unto him, [k]Turn in, my lord, turn in to me; fear not. And when he had turned in unto her into the tent, she covered him with a [l]mantle.

●19 And he said unto her, Give me, I pray thee, a little water to drink; for I am thirsty. And she opened a bottle of milk, and gave him drink, and covered him.

●20 Again he said unto her, Stand in the door of the tent, and it shall be, when any man doth come and enquire of thee, and say, [m]Is there any man here? that thou shalt say, No.

21 Then Já'el Hĕ'bĕr's wife took [n]a nail of the tent, and took an hammer in her hand, and went softly unto him, and smote the nail into his temples, and fastened it into the ground: for he was fast asleep and weary. [o]So he died.

●22 And, behold, as [p]Bā'răk pursued Sĭs'e-rá, Já'el came out to meet him, and said unto him, Come, and I will shew thee the man whom thou seekest. And when he came into her tent, behold, Sĭs'e-rá lay dead, and the nail was in his temples.

23 So [q]God subdued on that day Já'bin the king of Că'năan before the children of Ĭş'ra-el.

24 And the hand of the children of Ĭş'ra-el prospered, and prevailed against Já'bin the king of Că'năan, until they had destroyed Já'bin king of Că'năan.

(5) Song of Deborah and Barak: A Praise to God for victory

THEN [a]sang [b]Dĕb'o-rah and Bā'răk the son of Ă-bĭn'o-ăm on that day, saying,

●2 Praise ye the LORD for the avenging of Ĭş'ra-el, [c]when the people willingly offered themselves.

●3 Hear, O ye kings; give ear, O ye princes; I, even I, will sing unto the LORD; I will sing praise to the LORD God of Ĭş'ra-el.

4 LORD, [d]when thou wentest out of Sē'ir, when thou marchedst out of the field of Ē'dom, the earth trembled, and the heavens dropped, the clouds also dropped water.

5 The mountains melted from before the LORD, even that Sī'nāi from before the LORD God of Ĭş'ra-el.

B Rise of Deborah and Barak when Israel was oppressed

6 In the [e]days of Shăm'gär the son of Ă'năth, in the [f]days of Já'el, the [g]highways were unoccupied, and the travellers walked through byways.

7 The inhabitants of the villages ceased, they ceased in Ĭş'ra-el, until that I Dĕb'o-rah arose, that I arose a mother in Ĭş'ra-el.

8 [h]They chose new gods; then was war in the gates: [i]was there a shield or spear [j]seen among forty thousand in Ĭş'ra-el?

●9 My heart is toward the governors of Ĭş'ra-el, that offered themselves willingly among the people. Bless ye the LORD.

●10 Speak, [k]ye that ride on white asses, ye that sit in judgment, and walk by the way.

11 They that are [m]delivered from the noise of archers in the places of drawing water, there shall they rehearse the righteous acts of the LORD, even the righteous acts toward the inhabitants of his villages in Ĭş'ra-el: then shall the people of the LORD go down to the gates.

●12 Awake, awake, Dĕb'o-rah: awake, awake, utter a song: arise, Bā'răk, and lead thy captivity [n]captive, thou son of Ă-bĭn'o-ăm.

13 Then he made him that remaineth [o]have dominion over the nobles among the people: the LORD made me have dominion over the mighty.

C Conduct of the other tribes in war on Canaanites

14 [p]Out of Ē'phrā-ĭm was there a root of them against Ăm'a-lĕk; after thee, Bĕn'ja-mĭn, among thy people; out of Mā'chĭr came down governors, and out of Zĕb'u-lŭn they that handle the pen of the writer.

h The land was full of anarchy and confusion, being everywhere infested with bandits. No public road was safe and people of the villages were forced to live in fortified places or in great numbers together to protect themselves from roving bands of wicked men (v 6-7)

i Israel forsook God for new gods that could not deliver them. Then - when they went after other gods there was war in their gates and they were totally unarmed by their enemies (v 8). This was the sole cause of their calamities as a nation. When they served the Lord they were at peace; they were prosperous and law abiding; there were no dangers from bandits; and the nation was fully armed to repel anyone who would dare attack them

j Question 7. Next, v 16

k How could an army of 10,000 without arms defeat a well armed one with 900 chariots of iron? The Vulgate gives an interesting translation to this verse, "The Lord chose a new species of war, and himself subverted the gates of the enemy." What was this new species of war? In the first place a woman gave the orders and directed the war by prophecy (4:6-14). Then, God put it into the hearts of 10,000 men to have faith without arms to overcome a greater company well armed. This was a great miracle in itself, for in Gideon's time, a little later, there were only 300 who showed evidence of this kind of faith (7:5-25). Barak retired to mount Tabor with the 10,000 men; and they were attacked by the well armed army of Sisera. Suddenly Barak and his men rushed upon them and God began to act, causing terror and confusion throughout the Canaanite army who threw down their arms to flee. The routing was instantaneous and complete, the Israelites picking up the arms of their enemies and slaying them as they ran away. Even Sisera, being no longer safe in a chariot, fled on foot. The entire army was slain by men and the captain by a woman. This was the new species of war that brought deliverance in Israel

l It was the custom in some oriental countries for judges, rulers, and men of wealth to ride on white asses. Such animals were rare and costly and to possess one classed the owner with the rich and influential. It is said that in Persia men of the law considered it suited to their dignity to ride on white asses. Here they were connected with judges in Israel (v 10)

m This refers to the custom of bandits lying in ambush near wells and springs in order that they might fall upon those who came to drink or water their flocks. When the country was governed badly this practice greatly increased. This victory gained by Israel cleared the country of such bands. Now, as intimated here, people could gather and sit by the water places without fear of bandit archers shooting at them in their robbing and plundering. Peace reigned; men could freely converse about the good things of God; and all villages were now safe from bandit attacks (v 11)

n This indicates that Israel took many captives of the Canaanites, especially girls and women who were virgins, as they were allowed to do in gathering spoils of their enemies (v 12; Num. 31:17-18)

o This verse could be trans. "Then went down the remnant of the people (Barak and his 10,000) to the mighty (against Sisera and his mighty army), and the people of Jehovah came down with me (Deborah) against the mighty ones" (v 13)

p For comments on the 10 tribes referred to in this passage see note b, v 18

a Questions 8-9, Next, v 28
b 10 statements about 10 tribes; p. 280
c These 2 tribes are mentioned again here as being the ones from which came the most of the 10,000 men who fought the Canaanites. They jeopardized their lives to fight in the thick of the battle (v 18)
d A number of kings of Canaan helped Jabin in his war on Israel, but they were defeated in Taanach by the waters of Megiddo in Manasseh (v 19)
e This suggests that these kings who fought expected to take much booty in the total defeat of Israel, but they themselves were overcome and took no spoils of war as planned (v 19). They fought for booty, but Israel fought for liberty and for their lives - not for plunder. This makes the difference many times, between armies in battle f The angels of heaven and the stars in their courses fought for Israel on this day, for it was a crisis in the history of the people of God who were the chosen ones to bring the Messiah into the world, and produce the Scriptures as a revelation from God (v 20). If they had been defeated in this battle it could have meant the extermination of those who fought as well as the tribes that did not co-operate in this struggle. This verse is just one of many scriptures teaching that wars are lost or won on earth on the basis of wars lost or won in the heavenlies between the good and bad forces of God and Satan (note p, Dan. 10:13)
g This verse with v 20 suggests that one way the stars in their courses fought for Israel was by the heavens sending great thunder, lightning, rain, and perhaps even great hail on the armies of Canaan; and by causing a great flood in the river bed of Kishon which swept away multitudes downstream to the Mediterranean (v 21). On other occasions God sent such storms to defeat the enemy (Ex. 9:18-34; Josh. 10:11; 1 Sam. 7:10; 12:18). He will do this at Armageddon (Ezek. 38:17-21; Rev. 16:18)
h The horsehoofs were broken as the animals were urged on in their flight over rough roads, their feet not being shod as in recent times (v 22)
i An unknown city or district whose inhabitants would not help Israel destroy the enemy. They were cursed by the angel of the Lord who led in this battle (v 23). He could have been one of the 3 Divine Persons of the Trinity. See The spirit world, p. 632
j This blessing upon Jael may have been one from the women of Israel referred to in v 24, not necessarily a blessing from God, it certainly could not be a blessing from the women of the Canaanites who were defeated k See 8 acts of Jael, p. 276
l Then, as now women lived in anxiety until their loved ones returned home safe from wars (v 28)
m The walls of oriental houses had very few windows to the street, and these were high above ground, made of lattice-work arranged for coolness, and gave occupants an opportunity to see without being seen. Some were out from the wall like our bay-windows and afforded a good view of what went on in the street below. Not being hung like ordinary sashes, they opened and shut like doors. The window spoken of here was evidently on the street side of the house, as were also the windows referred to in 2 Sam. 6:16; 2 Ki. 9:30-33; 13:17; Pr. 7:6; Song 2:9; Dan. 6:10; Acts 20:9
n Questions 10-13, Next, 6:13
o Sisera had usually won speedy victories with his seasoned and trained army and chariots of iron, so his mother sensed something was wrong. Jehovah had fought with Israel this time and so Sisera's chariot never came home (v 28-29) p It was customary for all pagan armies to divide the spoil and the young women among the fighting men. This was an incentive to war, Israel also was permitted to do this, except part went to those who stayed at home (Num. 31:16-54)
q Heb. riqmah, a variation of color, especially embroidery work; needlework on both sides of a cloth whether by hand or loom. All orientals were lovers of fine ornamented cloth. A garment of this kind was what caused Achan to sin

9 Fifth apostasy and servitude: 7 years to Midian

AND the children of Is'ra-el [e]did evil in the sight of the LORD: and the LORD delivered them into the hand of [f]Mid'i-an [g]seven years.

2 And the hand of Mid'i-an prevailed against Is'ra-el: and because of the Mid'i-an-ites the children of Is'ra-el [h]made them the dens which are in the mountains, and caves, and strong holds.

3 And so it was, when Is'ra-el had sown, that the [i]Mid'i-an-ites came up, and the Am'a-lek-ites, and the children of the east, even they came up against them;

4 And they encamped against them, and destroyed the increase of the earth, [j]till thou come unto Ga'za, and left no sustenance for Is'ra-el, neither sheep, nor ox, nor ass.

5 For they came up with their cattle and their tents, and they came [k]as grasshoppers for multitude; for both they and their camels were without number: and they entered into the land to destroy it.

6 And Is'ra-el was [l]greatly impoverished because of the Mid'i-an-ites; and the children of Is'ra-el [m]cried unto the LORD.

7 ¶ And it came to pass, when the children of Is'ra-el cried unto the LORD because of the Mid'i-an-ites,

8 That the LORD [n]sent a prophet unto the children of Is'ra-el, which said unto them, Thus saith the LORD God of Is'ra-el, I [o]brought you up from E'gypt, and brought you forth out of the house of bondage;

9 And I delivered you out of the hand of the E-gyp'tians, and out of the hand of all that oppressed you, and drave them out from before you, and gave you their land;

10 And I said unto you, I am the LORD your God; fear not the gods of the Am'or-ites, in whose land ye dwell: [p]but ye have not obeyed my voice.

f Midian was the son of Abraham by Keturah (Gen. 25:2-4). His descendants became bitter enemies of Israel in the days of Moses (Num. 22:4-7; 25:15-18; 31:1-12; Josh. 13:21), who himself married a Midianite woman (Ex. 2:15-3:1; 4:19; 18:1-27). The reason for such enmity is not stated. It appears from Num. 31 that the Midianites were destroyed as a nation, but they multiplied again and became the leaders of this great multitude which came against Israel in the days of Gideon (6:1-8:28; 9:17; Isa. 9:4; 10:26)
g This was the shortest of 7 servitudes of Israel during the 520 years between Joshua and king Saul

7 servitudes of Israel:
1 To Babylon 8 yrs. (3:7-8)
2 To Moab 18 yrs. (3:12-14)
3 To Philistia - time unknown (3:31)
4 To Canaanites 20 yrs. (4:1-3)
5 To Midian 7 yrs. (6:1)
6 To Philistines and Ammonites 18 yrs. (10:6-18)
7 To Philistines 40 yrs. (13:1)

h This shows the low, sinful state of Israel (v 2-6). What a contrast to the Israel under Moses and Joshua! Because of sin God allowed His people to be defeated (v 1; note t, 2:11)
i The Midianites were the leaders of the combined forces of Midian, Amalek, and other tribes of the East who defeated Israel, robbed them of new crops, took their stock, and caused them to hide in dens and caves (v 3-6), some of which were capable of holding as many as 4,000 persons j This oppression was quite general, for it reached even to Philistia (v 4). If it had continued the Israelites would have been destroyed by starvation and war, but as usual, they cried to God in their distress and He was compassionate and merciful again, saving them by raising up Gideon (6:4-7:25) p One of the shortest accusations of God to Israel (v 10). Nearly every other time God spoke in detail, making many accusations (2:1-20; Ex. 32:7-9; Num. 14:22-35; Josh. 7:11-20)

q The angel of the Lord was one of the three Persons of the Divine Trinity. This is clear from 6:14-16, 22-26, where the Angel is referred to as Jehovah, He came to confirm the words of the prophet of v 8-10. See The spirit world, p. 632
r See 12 acts of the angel - God, p. 277
s This tells of the public distress of Israel. They could not use regular threshing floors for fear of their enemies, and so they threshed grain a little at a time by flailing it instead of treading it with the use of cattle. Gideon was doing this by the winepress, a place his enemies would not suspect because Israel had no grapes left with which to make wine in such presses, the enemies having taken all the vineyards

13 And Gĭd'e-on [a]said unto him, Oh my Lord, if the LORD be with us,[b]why then is all this befallen us? and[c]where be all his miracles which our fathers told us of, saying, Did not the LORD bring us up from E'gўpt? but now the LORD hath forsaken us, and delivered us into the hands of the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes.

¶14 [d]And the LORD looked upon him, and said, Go in this thy might, and thou shalt save Iş'ra-el from the hand of the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes: [e]have not I sent thee?

15 And he said unto him, Oh my Lord, wherewith shall I save Iş'ra-el? [f]behold, my family is poor in Mā-năs'seh, and I am the least in my father's house.

¶16 [g]And the LORD said unto him, Surely I will be with thee, and thou shalt smite the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes as one man.

(2) Gideon convinced of God's personal appearance

17 And he said unto him, If now I have found grace in thy sight, then shew me a[h]sign that thou talkest with me.

¶18 Depart not hence, I pray thee, until I come unto thee, and bring forth my present, and set it before thee. And he said, I will tarry [i]until thou come again.

19 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on went in, and made ready a [j]kid, and unleavened cakes of an ephah of flour; the flesh he put in a basket, and he put the broth in a pot, and brought it out unto him under the oak, and presented it.

¶20 And the angel of God said unto him, Take the flesh and the unleavened cakes, and lay them upon this rock, and[k]pour out the broth. And he did so.

21 ¶ Then the angel of the LORD put forth the end of the staff that was in his hand, and touched the flesh and the unleavened cakes; and there rose up fire out of the rock, and consumed the flesh and the unleavened cakes. Then the angel of the LORD departed out of his sight.

(3) Gideon assured that one can see God and live (Gen. 32:30)

22 And when Gĭd'e-on perceived that he was an angel of the LORD, Gĭd'e-on said, [l]Alas, O Lord GOD! for because I have seen an angel of the LORD face to face.

¶23 And the LORD said unto him, Peace be unto thee; fear not: [m]thou shalt not die.

24 Then Gĭd'e-on [n]built an altar there unto the LORD, and called it [o]Jĕ-hō'vah–shā'lom: unto this day it is yet in [p]Ŏph'rah of the [q]Ă'bĭ–ēz'rītes.

(4) Gideon obeys God: destroys Baalism and restores true worship

¶25 And it came to pass the same night, that the LORD said unto him, [r]Take thy father's young bullock, even the second bullock [s]of seven years old, and throw down the altar of Bā'al that [t]thy father hath, and cut down the [u]grove that is by it:

¶26 And build an altar unto the LORD thy God [v]upon the top of this rock, [w]in the ordered place, and take the [x]second bullock, and offer a burnt sacrifice with the [y]wood of the grove which thou shalt cut down.

27 Then Gĭd'e-on took ten men of his servants, and did as the LORD had said unto him: and so it was, [z]because he feared his father's household, and the men of the city, that he could not do it by day, that he did it by night.

(5) Gideon protected from idolaters by his father

28 ¶ And when the men of the city arose early in the morning, behold, the altar of Bā'al was cast down, and the [a]grove was cut down that was by it, and the second bullock was offered upon the altar that was built.

29 And they said one to another, [b]Who hath done this thing? And when they enquired and asked, they said, Gĭd'e-on the [c]son of Jō'ăsh hath done this thing.

30 Then the men of the city said unto Jō'ăsh, Bring out thy son, that he may die: because he hath cast down the altar of Bā'al, and because he hath cut down the [d]grove that was by it.

31 And Jō'ăsh said unto all that stood against him, [e]Will ye plead for Bā'al? will ye save him? he that will plead for him, [f]let him be put to death whilst it is yet morning: if he be a god, let him plead for himself, because one hath cast down his altar.

32 Therefore on that day he called [g]him Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl, saying, Let Bā'al plead against him, because he hath thrown down his altar.

(6) Mobilization of Israel

33 ¶ Then all the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites and the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes and the children of the east were gathered together, and went over, and pitched in the valley of Jĕz're-el.

34 But the Spirit of the LORD came [h]upon Gĭd'e-on, and he blew a trumpet; and Ă'bĭ–ē'zĕr was [i]gathered after him.

35 And he sent messengers throughout all Mā-năs'seh; who also was gathered after him: and he sent messengers unto Ăsh'ĕr, and unto Zĕb'u-lŭn, and unto Năph'ta-lī; and they came up to meet them.

(7) Two miracle signs to confirm God's promise

36 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on said unto God, If thou wilt save Iş'ra-el by mine hand, as thou hast said,

37 Behold, I will put a fleece of wool in the floor; and if the dew be on the fleece only, and it be dry upon all the earth beside, then shall I know that thou wilt save Iş'ra-el by mine

a Gideon saw the Angel, or God, with his own eyes and both talked with audible voices as men talk, one with the other (v 11-21)

b Questions 14-15. Next, v 14. These were natural questions in view of Israel's state at this time: Why are we in such a state in view of what God has done for us in the past? Where are all His miracles our fathers told us about? Why has He forsaken us and turned us over to be oppressed by the Midianites? The answer to all such questions is sin - Israel forsaking God, not God forsaking Israel. He had told them that if they forsook Him He would turn to be their enemy and would permit other nations to conquer and oppress them (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). Why then should He not keep this part of His word as He had kept the other part by blessing them when they were in obedience?

c This proves that information regarding the miracles of God shown to past generations of Israel, was passed on, even written down so that coming generations could see and know the mighty power of God who is ready to demonstrate in every period, when men have faith for the miracles needed (v 13)

k The broth was poured out upon the meat and bread, thus soaking them (v 20). Then the Angel touched the soaked food and it was consumed by fire which miraculously came out of a rock (v 21). The fire was a token of Jehovah's acceptance (v 21; Gen. 4:4; Lev. 9:24; 1 Ki. 18:38)

It was an important stronghold in the times of Egypt, Assyria, Babylon, Medo-Persia, Greece, Rome, and Syria, but is mentioned only this once in Scripture, as being too strong for Asher to overcome (v 31). During the Christian era it was a center of struggle between the Crusaders and Saracens and s Here a bullock was considered young at 7 years old, so the estimated price of $325.00 allowed for a young bullock in figuring costs of sacrifices seems reasonable and moderate (v 25). It is a coincidence that the bullock was as old as the number of years Israel spent in bondage to the Midianites (6:1)

t It was to the shame of Israel that an important man like Joash, head of one of the chief families of Manasseh - the Abiezrites (v 24, 29-32), should become an idolater, build an altar to Baal, and forget Jehovah (v 25). It was also a shame that a man should be afraid to interfere with Baal worship and establish true worship to Jehovah in the daytime, in the nation of Israel as in v 27. This shows how far the people had gone into apostasy. All worship of Baal was a direct transgression of the law of Israel, and all such worshippers were supposed to be put to death, and the city allowing the worship was supposed to be torn down (Dt. 13) at one time was taken at the expense of 100,000 Crusaders and held for 100 years, it was the last so-called Christian stronghold in Palestine in 1291 A.D. Since then it has undergone many sieges by the Egyptians, French, English, and Turks. It is now the modern city of Acre in Israel

2 Zidon, fishing. Also called Sidon - a city of Phoenicia (note v, Josh. 11:8)

3 Ahlab, fat or fruitful. An unknown town allotted to Asher (v 31)

4 Achzib, lying or disappointing. It was 9 miles north of Accho, and a strong place and hard to conquer by a people who had no fleet. The Phoenician cities helped one another in case of attack. Tyre and Zidon became very powerful and rich, more so than Accho. Achzib is now known as Ez-Zib; it appears in Assyrian inscriptions as Akzibi

5 Helbah, an unknown town assigned to Asher but not occupied by them (v 31)

6 Aphik, another unknown town allotted to Asher, but not occupied by them (v 31). Called Aphek, strength (Josh. 12:18; 13:4; 19:30; 1 Sam. 4:1; 29:1; 1 Ki. 20:26, 30; 2 Ki. 13:17). See note p, Josh. 12:18

7 Rehob, broad. A town in Asher given to the Levites (v 31; Josh. 19:28-30; 21:31; 2 Sam. 10:8; 1 Chr. 6:75). Called Beth-rehob (18:28; 2 Sam. 10:6) a Gideon had already had one divine manifestation (v 17-21); now he asked for two more signs of confirmation which would be miraculous acts of God (v 37-40). See note h, v 17 32)

b Jerubbaal was Gideon's new name (6:

c Harod means trembling. There the army of Gideon gathered in fear and trembling in view of so many Midianites, Amalekites, and others of the East who were against them like locusts for multitude (6:33; 7:1, 12)

d The visible and bodily presence of Jehovah, as the angel of the Lord of 6:11-21 had gone out of sight, but He was still talking to Gideon and directing all preparations for battle (6:22-7:11)

e The Lord saw the pride of such oppressed and humbled people and knew that if He allowed 32,000 men to fight the Midianites they would brag on personal victory and rob Him of glory due Him. Realizing the people would not recognize Him as the One giving the victory by His mighty power, He instructed Gideon to thin out his army by announcing that all who were fearful or afraid should return home. This cut the number down to 10,000 - the number Barak had, as in chs. 5-6. The army was yet too big so these were told to come down to drink. All who did not lap up water like a dog, in getting a drink, were to go home (v 2-5)

f This indicates that God had something to do with the decision of those who were to go by putting it into their hearts to lap up water like a dog instead of kneeling down to drink (v 4-5). The number that lapped, bringing water to their mouths in their hands were 300 men. The others bowed down on their knees and sucked the water up (v 6). God promised Gideon that through the 300 He would defeat the multitudes of the enemy; and so, he sent the others home (v 7). 31,700 of the original 32,000 who had gathered at the call. To the natural man this would seem foolish - something to make a victory impossible; but with God all things are possible. The Christian believer today is told that all things are possible and nothing shall be impossible for him who has faith (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26). In Gideon's time God had in mind to perform another miracle - a new kind for His people, and it would go down in a book of records He was making. It would be among the mighty deeds performed by God to prove to men in all ages that there is nothing impossible with Him and those who will co-operate with Him

g 7th prophecy in Judg. (7:7, fulfilled, 7:16-25). Next, v 9

h No man will ever know what the 31,700 men thought of such seemingly foolish action - retaining only 300 men to fight such a multitude; neither will it be known what the 300 thought who were left to fight alone. God had made a promise that 100 would be able to put 10,000 to flight (Lev. 26:8); and there is a reference to one chasing 1,000 and two men putting 10,000 to flight, in Dt. 32:30. On this basis (as in Dt.) Gideon's 300 could have defeated 300,000 to 1,500,000 warriors. The Midianites had an army of 135,000 (8:10)

i The 300 are called the people. They took food for a day or so and went about making further preparation. The 9,700 of the second test went home (v 8)

Appearance of God (2:1)

This angel was a member of the Godhead as proved by His use of the personal pronouns and the divine authority exercised:

7 statements of the Angel:

1 I made you to go up out of Egypt (v 1)
2 I have brought you into the land which I sware unto your fathers
3 I said, I will never break My covenant with you 4 And (I said) you shall not make any league with the inhabitants of this land (v 2) and 5 You shall throw down their altars hand, as thou hast said.

38 And[a] it was so: for he rose up early on the morrow, and thrust the fleece together, and wringed the dew out of the fleece, a bowl full of water.

39 And Gĭd'e-on said unto God, Let not thine anger be hot against me, and I will speak but this once: let me prove, I pray thee, but this once with the fleece; let it now be dry only upon the fleece, and upon all the ground let there be dew.

40 And God did so that night: for it was dry upon the fleece only, and there was dew on all the ground.

CHAPTER 7 218

(8) Gideon's band of 300 men

THEN [b]Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl, who is Gĭd'e-on, and all the people that were with him, rose up early, and pitched beside the well of [c]Hă'rod: so that the host of the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites were on the north side of them, by the hill of Mŏ'reh, in the valley.

■2 And the [d]LORD said unto Gĭd'e-on, [e]The people that are with thee are too many for me to give the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites into their hands, lest Ĭs'ra-el vaunt themselves against me, saying, Mine own hand hath saved me.

●3 Now therefore go to, proclaim in the ears of the people, saying, Whosoever is fearful and afraid, let him return and depart early from mount Gĭl'e-ăd. And there returned of the people twenty and two thousand; and there remained ten thousand.

■4 And the [d]LORD said unto Gĭd'e-on, The people are yet too many; bring them down unto the water, and [f]I will try them for thee there: and it shall be, that of whom I say unto thee, This shall go with thee, the same shall go with thee; and of whomsoever I say unto thee, This shall not go with thee, the same shall not go.

5 So he brought down the people unto the water: and the LORD said unto Gĭd'e-on, Every one that lappeth of the water with his tongue, as a dog lappeth, him shalt thou set by himself; likewise every one that boweth down upon his knees to drink.

6 And the number of them that lapped, putting their hand to their mouth, were three hundred men: but all the rest of the people bowed down upon their knees to drink water.

■7 [d]And the LORD said unto Gĭd'e-on, By the three hundred men that lapped will I save you, and deliver the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites into thine hand: and[h] let all the other people go every man unto his place.

8 So [i]the people took victuals in their hand, and their trumpets: and he sent all the rest of Ĭs'ra-el every man unto his tent, and retained those three hundred men: and the host of Mĭd'ĭ-an was beneath him in the valley.

(9) Fourth: sign of victory (See note h, 6:17)

■9 ¶ [d]And it came to pass [b]the same night, that the LORD said unto him, [c]Arise, get thee down unto the host; for I have delivered it into thine hand.●

●10 But [d]if thou fear to go down, go thou with [e]Phŭ'rah thy servant down to the host:

11 And thou shalt hear what they say; and afterward shall thine hands be strengthened to go down unto the host. Then went he down with Phŭ'rah his servant unto the outside of the armed men that were in the host.

12 And the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites and the Ăm'a-lĕk-ites and all the children of the east lay along in the valley [f]like grasshoppers for multitude; and their camels were without number, as the sand by the sea side for multitude.

■13 [d]And when Gĭd'e-on was come, behold there was a man that told a dream unto his fellow, and said, Behold, I dreamed a dream, and, lo, a cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Mĭd'ĭ-an, and came unto a tent, and smote it that it fell, and overturned it, that the tent lay along.

14 And his fellow answered and said, This is nothing else save the sword of Gĭd'e-on the son of Jō'ăsh, a man of Ĭs'ra-el: for into his hand hath God delivered Mĭd'ĭ-an, and all the host.

●15 ¶ And it was so, when Gĭd'e-on heard the telling of the dream, and the interpretation thereof, that he worshipped, and returned into the host of Ĭs'ra-el, and said, Arise; for the LORD hath delivered into your hand the host of Mĭd'ĭ-an.

(10) Miraculous victory

16 And [b]he divided the three hundred men into three companies, and he put a trumpet in every man's hand, with empty pitchers, and [f]lamps within the pitchers.

●17 And he said unto them, Look on me, and do likewise: and, behold, when I come to the outside of the camp, it shall be that, as I do, so shall ye do.

●18 When I blow with a trumpet, I and all that are with me, then blow ye the trumpets also on every side of all the camp, and say, The sword of the LORD, and of Gĭd'e-on.

19 ¶ So Gĭd'e-on, and the hundred men that were with him, came unto the outside of the camp in the beginning of the [g]middle watch; and they had but newly set the watch: and they blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers that were in their hands.

20 And the three companies blew the trumpets, and brake the pitchers, and held the lamps in their left hands, and the trumpets in their right hands to blow withal: and they cried, The sword of the LORD, and of Gĭd'e-on.

a 8th prophecy in Judg. (7:9-11, fulfilled, v 13-15). Next, v 13

3 predictions to Gideon:

1 I have delivered the host of the Midianites into your hand (v 9)
2 You will bear what they say (v 11)
3 After this you will be strengthened with boldness to go down to the host

b The same night that the rest of the 32,000 were sent home (v 8) c Gideon was commanded to get down to the host that very night without delay and the host would be delivered into his hand (v 9) d Perhaps Gideon was a little fearful yet, after 3 signs of success, so the Lord condescended to strengthen him further in his unheard-of undertaking. God is always merciful and understanding, not wanting any man to go beyond his own ability in doing things for Him. Seeing that another sign to Gideon would provide adequate confidence for his mission, God told him what to do further for confirmation (v 10-15)

e Phurah. Only here (v 10-11)

f Enemies compared to 2 things in number:
1 Like grasshoppers (v 12)
2 Like sand of the sea. Such a number is impossible to estimate. Their camels also were without number, or hard to estimate

g 9th prophecy in Judg. (7:13-15, fulfilled, v 16-25). Next, 8:7

3 predictions by 3 men:

1 In dream: A cake of barley bread tumbled into the host of Midian, came into a tent, smote it, and overturned it so that it lay along (v 13)
2 In Interpretation: This is nothing else save the sword of Gideon the son of Joash, a man of Israel, for God has delivered Midian and all the host into his hands (v 14). This was full proof that God had inspired both the dream and the interpretation. All Gideon needed to do was to apply it to himself and God's plan for the defeat of the Midianites
3 In application: Arise, for the Lord has delivered the host of Midian into your hand (v 15)

h Never in history was there a more seemingly foolish plan of battle. God evidently gave Gideon these instructions and he was simply carrying them out to the letter, being content after 4 signs that God was the One to give the victory. He could now leave the matter up to Him. The plan was very simple (v 16-18): panies
1 Dividing the 300 men into 3 com-
2 Putting a trumpet in the hand of every man, with an empty pitcher, and a lamp burning within the pitcher
3 Surrounding the camp of the enemy and doing exactly as the leader did. When he blew the trumpet all should do so, breaking the pitchers, holding the lamps in their left hands, and then crying: "The sword of the Lord and of Gideon" (v 17-20)

Imagine 301 trumpets (counting Gideon's) sounding loud all at once when the whole camp of the enemy was asleep, then seeing 301 lamps burning all around the camp, and hearing the breaking of pitchers and 301 loud voices crying, "The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon." This would be startling in itself without the added confusion produced supernaturally by the Lord. The Midianites, believing that a huge army had suddenly made an attack, fled in all directions

i These lamps were torches, which would smoulder in a jar or pitcher, and burst into flame when taken out and waved j The old Jewish watches or divisions of the night were 3 in number of 4 hours each (v 19; Ex. 14:24; 1 Sam. 11:11; Ps. 63:6; 90:4; 119:148; Lam. 2:19). In the days when the Romans controlled Judea their division which numbered 4 watches of 3 hours each was recognized (Mt. 14:25; Mk. 13:35). See Watch in Index but you have not obeyed My voice. Why have you done this?

6 I also said, I will not drive them out from before you, but they shall be as thorns in your sides, and 7 Their gods shall be a snare unto you a Every man simply stood blowing a trumpet, waving a torch, and crying, "The sword of the Lord, and of Gideon" (v 19-21). The enemy ran, cried, and fled like a great invisible foe was after them, and so it was, for the invisible God was causing the unusual confusion among them (v 21). Every man's sword was against his fellow until multitudes died in the camp and others ran away (v 22). This confusion was similar to what it will be at the future battle of Armageddon (Ezek.38:21;Zech.14:13)

b Beth-shittah, house of the acacia. Perhaps a place called Shittah in the valley of Jezreel. Both this place and Zererath are not definitely identified (v 22), unless Zererath is the same as Zarthan (1 Ki.7:46; 2 Chr.4:17).Called Zaretan (Josh. 3:16), and Zartanah (1 Ki. 4:12) c Abel-meholah, meadow of dancing. The tract of land from the Jordan westward and south of Beth-shean in the territory of Issachar or west Manasseh where Elisha was born (v 22; 1 Ki. 4:12; 19:16)

d Tabbath, an unknown place further down the Jordan valley and mentioned only here (v 22)

e Men of Israel from:
1 Naphtali
2 Asher
3 Manasseh and 4 Ephraim pursued the Midianites and cut them off (v 23-25)

f Beth-barah, house of the ford; only here but called Beth-abara (v 24; Jn. 1:28). A place near the fords of Jordan where it could be crossed certain times of the year when the river was not flooded. It was the place where Israel crossed during the flooded season - located a few miles from Jericho (Josh. 3:15-17)

g Oreb and Zeeb were famous princes in Midian, and their defeat was a great victory for Israel (v 25; 8:3; Ps. 83:11; Isa. 10:26). Their names mean raven and wolf and remind us of names chosen by the American Indians

h Gideon was the recognized leader of this great victory (v 25; 8:1-32)

i The men of Ephraim being offended because they had not been called to help in the battle, chided with Gideon. He had wisdom enough to pacify them by reminding them of their accomplishment in the capture of two of the greatest princes of the Midianites (v 1-3)

j Questions 21-24, Next, v 6

k Gideon bragged on the men of Ephraim and praised them for doing more than he, himself had done, using a quaint illustration of how the mere gleanings of the grapes of Ephraim were better than the whole crop of the children of Abiezer (v 2). Such an answer generally pacifies the anger of those who find fault or criticize (v 3)

l Not one of the 300 men was lost in the confusion of battle, whereas many thousands died in the enemy's ranks by the hands of their fellows. Coming to Succoth and being faint, the 300 who had helped Gideon in the pursuit of the kings of Midian, asked for bread, but were turned down (v 4-6). For this violation of hospitality and for not cooperating with Israel in the fight against enemies, Gideon vowed to chasten the men with thorns of the wilderness, on his return (v 7)

m Question 25, Next, v 15

n 10th prophecy in Judg. (8:7, fulfilled, v 16), Next, v 9

o Expressing faith in final victory even though they had to proceed, faint and weary without food (v 7)

Judah's failure (1:19)

This reads as if Jehovah could not defeat the inhabitants of the valley because they had chariots of iron, but this was not so because:

1 The first part of v 19, "And the Lord was with Judah" should end v 18, showing the reason for the success in conquering the 8 cities of v 4-18. The remainder of v 19 refers to another time when Judah failed God and therefore He withdrew His support in the effort to drive the Canaanites out of the valley. If God had been with Judah in this effort they would have been victorious as in 21 And[a] they stood every man in his place round about the camp: and all the host ran, and cried, and fled.

22 And the three hundred blew the trumpets, and the LORD set every man's sword against his fellow, even throughout all the host: and the host fled to [b]Bĕth–shĭt'tah in Zĕr'e–răth, and to the border of [c]Ā'bel–mĕ–hō'lah, unto [d]Tăb'–bath.

23 And the [e]men of Ĭs'ra-el gathered themselves together out of Năph'ta-lī, and out of Ăsh'ĕr, and out of all Mā–nās'–seh, and pursued after the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ītes.

●24 And Gĭd'e-on sent messengers throughout all mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, saying, Come down against the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites, and take before them the waters unto [f]Bĕth–bā'rah and Jôr'dan. Then all the men of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm gathered themselves together, and took the waters unto Bĕth–bā'rah and Jôr'dan.

25 And they took two princes of the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites, Ō'reb and Zē'eb; and they slew Ō'reb upon the rock [g]Ō'reb, and Zē'eb they slew at the winepress of Zē'eb, and pursued Mĭd'ĭ-an, and brought the heads of Ō'reb and Zē'eb [h]to Gĭd'e-on on the other side Jôr'dan.

219 CHAPTER 8

(11) Second civil strife (20: 1; 2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

AND the [i]men of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm said unto him, [j]Why hast thou served us thus, that thou calledst us not, when thou wentest to fight with the Mĭd'ĭ-an-ites? And they did chide with him sharply.

2 And he said unto them, What have I done now in comparison of you? Is not [k]the gleaning of the grapes of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm better than the vintage of Ă'bĭ–ē'zēr?

3 God hath delivered into your hands the princes of Mĭd'–ĭ-an, Ō'reb and Zē'eb: and what was I able to do in comparison of you? Then their anger was abated toward him, when he had said that.

(12) Victory completed: judgment on Succoth

4 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on came to Jôr'dan, and passed over, he, and [l]the three hundred men that were with him, faint, yet pursuing them.

●5 And he said unto the men of Sŭc'coth, Give, I pray you, loaves of bread unto the people that follow me; for they be faint, and I am pursuing after Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā, kings of Mĭd'ĭ-an.

6 ¶ And the princes of Sŭc'–coth said, [m]Are the hands of Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thine army?

*7 And Gĭd'e-on said, [n]Therefore [o]when the LORD hath delivered Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā into mine hand, then I will tear your flesh with the thorns of the wilderness and with briers.

8 ¶ And [p]he went up thence to Pĕ-nū'el, and spake unto them likewise: and the men of Pĕ-nū'el answered him as the men of Sŭc'coth had answered him.

*9 [b]And he spake also unto the men of Pĕ-nū'el, saying, When I come again in peace, I will break down this tower.

10 ¶ Now Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā were in [c]Kär'kôr, and their hosts with them, [d]about fifteen thousand men, all that were left of all the hosts of the children of the east: for there fell an hundred and twenty thousand men that drew sword.

11 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on went up by the way of them that dwelt in tents on the east of Nō'bah and Jŏg'be-hah, and smote the host: for the host was secure.

12 And when Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā fled, he pursued after them, and took the two kings of Mĭd'ĭ-an, Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā, and discomfited all the host.

13 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on the son of Jō'ăsh returned from battle before the sun was up, 14 And caught a young man of the men of Sŭc'coth, and enquired of him: and he described unto him the princes ot Sŭc'coth, and the elders thereof, even [l]threescore and seventeen men.

15 And he came unto the men of Sŭc'coth, and said, Behold Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā, with whom ye did upbraid me, saying, [q]Are the hands of Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā now in thine hand, that we should give bread unto thy men that are weary?

16 And he took the elders of the city, and thorns of the wilderness and briers, and with them he taught the men of Sŭc'coth.

17 And [h]he beat down the tower of Pĕ-nū'el, and slew the men of the city.

18 ¶ Then said he unto Zē'–bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā, [l]What manner of men were they whom ye slew at Tā'bôr? And they answered, As thou art, so were they; each one resembled the children of a king.

19 And he said, They were my brethren, even the sons of my mother: as the LORD liveth, if ye had saved them alive, I would not slay you.

20 And he said unto [k]Jĕ'thĕr his firstborn, Up, and slay them. But the youth drew not his sword: for he feared, because he was yet a youth.

21 Then Zē'bah and Zăl-mŭn'nā said, Rise thou, and fall upon us: for as the man is, so is his strength. And Gĭd'e-on arose, and slew Zē'–bah and Zăl-mŭn-nā, and took away the [l]ornaments that were on their camels' necks.

(13) Gideon's rule and ruin

22 ¶ Then the men of Ĭs'ra-el said [m]unto Gĭd'e-on, Rule thou over us, both thou, and thy son, and thy son's son also: for thou hast delivered us from the hand of Mĭd'ĭ-an.

a From Succoth Gideon and his 300 men went to Penuel and asked for food. Again they were refused, so Gideon vowed to destroy the tower on his return (v 8-9) v 17).Next, 9:8

b 11th prophecy in Judg. (8:9, fulfilled, c Karkor, rest. An unknown place east of Jordan. It could have been merely a resting place for the Midianite army at this time, not necessarily a regularly inhabited place (v 10) d About 15,000 of 135,000 men were left after the battle on the west of Jordan was over. It was to conquer these that the small, invincible army of Gideon's 300 went to battle on the east side of Jordan (v 10). Gideon, as before, attacked at night and these Midianites were also completely defeated and the kings, Zebah and Zalmunna, were captured (v 11-12)

e Gideon and his small army returned from defeating the 15,000 before the sun was up (v 13). They caught a young man of Succoth and inquired of him regarding the elders whom Gideon declared he would repay with thorns and briars when he returned (v 7, 14-16)

f The eldership of Succoth was made up of 77 men (v 14). These Gideon whipped with thorns and briars, teaching them a lesson in hospitality (v 15)

g Question 26, Next, v 18

h Gideon then went to Penuel, the second place that had refused food, beating down the tower and killing the men of the city as he had said he would (v 8-9, 17)

i After showing Succoth and Penuel his prize captives, the 2 kings of Midian, Gideon asked them whom they had slain at Tabor, finding out that these kings had killed his own brothers, he then passed sentence upon both to be killed (v 18-19)

j Question 27, Next, 9:2

k Here it seems that at least one of his own sons was a member of the 300 that followed Gideon. If not, then the questioning of the kings took place, no doubt after the arrival home. This could have been the case, since the young man was afraid to kill them due to his youth and inexperience (v 20). The kings then requested Gideon to slay them; and he did (v 21)

l Heb. saharon, a round pendant for the neck; ornament - a necklace or chain (v 21, 26). Trans. round tires like the moon (Isa.3:18). Here they were chains around the necks of camels. Ordinarily, on such chains there would be gold ornaments shaped like the moon, either full or crescent, made to honor the moon-faced goddess Astarte and recognizing protection by her power. Arabs are fond of such ornaments for their camels; and the poor are said to use crescents made of shells and sewed on a band of leather or cloth

m Gideon was now approached by the men of Israel who wanted him to reign over them, even to the 3rd generation (v 22)

the conquests of v 4-18

2 Some codices read in v 19, did not instead of could not, thus revealing that Judah failed because they were afraid of the iron chariots in the lowlands, having only soldiers on foot. It shows distrust and lack of simple and firm reliance upon God and His promises, the only grounds for success. The other verses in this chapter expressing failure read did not or neither did, proving v 19 to mean did not (v 21, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 33)

3 Various translations make the verse clearer: Rotherham, "took possession of the hill country - but did not possess the inhabitnats of the vale," not because God was powerless, but because they did not put forth the proper effort. The Septuagint, "he (Judah) took possession of the mountain, for they were not enabled to drive out the inhabitants of the vale, because Rechab dissuaded them," Jonathan ben Uzziel, "they extirpated the inhabitants of the mountains; but afterwards, when they sinned, they were not able to extirpate the inhabitants of the plain country, because they had chariots of iron." When they sinned they were left to their own strength

e Heb. nezem, a ring for the nose and ears; a jewel (v 24-26; Gen. 24:22, 30, 47; 35:4; Ex. 32:2-3; 35:22; Num. 31:50; Job 42:11; Pr. 25:12; Isa. 3:20; Ezek. 16:12; Hos. 2:13)
f This parenthetical remark solves the difficulty of Gen. 37:25, 28, 36; 39:1. Ishmael and Midian were half-brothers, sons of Abraham by Hagar (Gen. 16) and Keturah (Gen. 25). All Midianites were called Ishmaelites, but not all Ishmaelites were called Midianites g 1,700 shekels of gold @ $9.69 1/2 of our money would be $16,481.50
h Besides these earrings there were many ornaments, pendants of gold, chains of gold, and purple garments that the kings of Midian had worn (v 26)
i Here we have the regrettable blot on the life of Gideon. His covetousness for the gold of the prey was no doubt related to his plan to make the ephod (v 24-26). Perhaps the priests were lax in restoring the true worship of God and Gideon really intended to help the cause along as a good judge in Israel. The ephod Moses made may have been worn out and destroyed by now. Gideon could have meant well, but what he did became a snare to himself, his own house and the nation - the ephod became an object of worship to Israel (v 27). Micah made another ephod (17:5). See notes on Ex. 28:2-43
j After this complete defeat of Midian they dared not attack Israel again, and the land had rest for 40 years during the days that Gideon was judge (v 28) k Gideon tied with Ahab in the number of sons - 70 each (v 30 with 2 Ki. 10:1-8). Which one had the most wives is not known l The old story was again repeated -- as soon as the judge died Israel turned again from Jehovah to serve other gods and experienced another period of oppression by enemies whom God permitted to defeat the nation in order to bring them back to Himself (v 33). See notes c-z, 2:1-14; a-s, 2:14-3:2
m This is to be taken in a literal sense, for many immoral rites were practiced in the idol worship of that day. See Bible facts about false gods, p. 116 n Baal-berith, lord of the covenant; the same as Jupiter and Mercury among the Romans and Greeks. He was the god that was supposed to preside over compacts, covenants, and leagues. Many Israelites accepted him as their god in the new apostasy (v 33). We have no description of Baal-berith but we know that a temple was built for him in Shechem (9:46). It is supposed that the worship was an imitation of Jehovah-worship with Baal substituted for Jehovah o 4 sins of Israel:
1 Went whoring after Baalim (v 33)
2 Made Baal-berith their god
3 Remembered not Jehovah who had delivered them (v 34)
4 Showed no kindness to the house of Gideon, or Jerubbaal (v 35) p Abimelech, father of a king; he was the son of Gideon through a concubine living at Shechem (8:31). He was one of 5 men by this name (v 1; Gen. 20 and 26; 1 Sam. 21:10-22:1; 1 Chr. 18 and 24). He aspired kingship after the death of Gideon, and did rule 3 years (v 22) after killing Gideon's 70 other sons, except Jotham (v 5-6). Working through his mother's people in Shechem, and appealing to the city elders who naturally desired their city to become great, Abimelech sought to become king with Shechem as his capital (v 2-3). He was given money by the elders which enabled him to hire assassins to destroy the other sons of Gideon thereby giving him no rival from that source (v 4-5). He was then made king (v 6). For the outcome read v 7-57

23 And Gĭd'e-on said unto them, [a]I will not rule over you, neither shall my son rule over you: [b]the LORD shall rule over you.

24 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on said unto them, [c]I would desire [d]a request of you, that ye would give me every man the [e]earrings of his prey. (For they had golden earrings, [f]because they were Ish'ma-el-ites.)

25 And they answered, We will willingly give them. And they spread a garment, and did cast therein every man the earrings of his prey.

26 And the weight of the golden earrings that he requested was a [g]thousand and seven hundred shekels of gold; [h]beside ornaments, and collars, and purple raiment that was on the kings of Mĭd'ĭ-an, and beside the chains that were about their camels' necks.

27 And Gĭd'e-on [i]made an ephod thereof, and put it in his city, even in Ŏph'rah: and all Ĭs'ra-el went thither a whoring after it: which thing became a snare unto Gĭd'e-on, and to his house.

28 ¶ Thus was Mĭd'ĭ-an subdued before the children of Ĭs'ra-el, so that they lifted up their heads [j]no more. And the country was in quietness forty years in the days of Gĭd'e-on.

29 ¶ And Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl the son of Jō'ăsh went and dwelt in his own house.

30 And Gĭd'e-on had [k]three-score and ten sons of his body begotten: for he had many wives.

31 And his concubine that was in Shĕ'chem, she also bare him a son, whose name he called Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

12 Sixth apostasy

32 ¶ And Gĭd'e-on the son of Jō'ăsh died in a good old age, and was buried in the sepulchre of Jō'ăsh his father, in Ŏph'rah of the Ă'bi-ĕz'rites.

33 And it came to pass, as soon as Gĭd'e-on was dead, that the children of Ĭs'ra-el [l]turned again, and went [m]a whoring after Bā'al-ĭm, and made [n]Bā'al-bĕ'rith their god.

34 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el remembered not the LORD their God, who had delivered them out of the hands of all their enemies on every side:

35 [o]Neither shewed they kindness to the house of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl, namely, Gĭd'e-on, according to all the goodness which he had shewed unto Ĭs'ra-el.

220 CHAPTER 9

13 Abimelech, 7th judge: 3 years (9:22). (1) Conspiracy of Abimelech: 3rd civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

AND [p]Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch the son of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl went to Shĕ'chem unto his mother's brethren, and communed with them, and with all the family of the house of his mother's father, saying,

2 Speak, I pray you, in the ears of all the men of Shĕ'chem, [q]Whether is better for you, [r]either that all the sons of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl, which are threescore and ten persons, reign over you, or that one reign over you? remember also that I am your bone and your flesh.

3 And his mother's brethren spake of him in the ears of all the men of Shĕ'chem all these words: and their hearts inclined to follow Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch; for they said, He is our brother.

4 And they gave him [s]three-score and ten pieces of silver out of the [t]house of Bā'al-bĕ'rith, wherewith Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch hired [u]vain and light persons which followed him.

5 And he went unto his father's house at Ŏph'rah, and slew his brethren the sons of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl, being [v]threescore and ten persons, upon one stone: notwithstanding yet Jō'tham the youngest son of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl was left; for he hid himself.

6 And all the men of Shĕ'chem gathered together, and all the [w]house of Mĭl'lō, and went, and [x]made Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch king, by the plain of the [y]pillar that was in Shĕ'chem.

(2) Prophetic parable of Jotham

●7 ¶ And when they told it to Jō'tham, [z]he went and stood in the top of mount Gĕr'ĭ-zĭm, and lifted up his voice, and cried, and said unto them, Hearken unto me, ye men of Shĕ'chem, that God may hearken unto you.

*8 [a]The [b]trees [c]went forth on a time to anoint a king over them; and they said unto [d]the olive tree, Reign thou over us.

9 But the olive tree said unto them, [e]Should I leave my fatness, wherewith by me they honour [f]God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

10 And the trees said to the fig tree, Come thou, and reign over us.

11 But the fig tree said unto them, [g]Should I forsake [h]my sweetness, and my good fruit, and go to be promoted over the trees?

12 Then said the trees unto the vine, Come thou, and reign over us.

13 And the vine said unto them, [i]Should I leave my wine, which [j]cheereth God and man, and go to be promoted over the trees?

14 Then said all the trees unto the [k]bramble, Come thou, and reign over us.

15 And the bramble said unto the trees, If in truth ye anoint me king over you, then come and put your trust in my shadow: and if not, let fire come out of the bramble, and devour the cedars of Lĕb'a-non.

(3) Jotham applies the parable to the men of Shechem

16 [l]Now therefore, [m]if ye have done truly and sincerely, in that ye have made Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch king, and if ye have dealt well with Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl and his house, and have done unto him

a Question 28, Next, v 9
b Israel had declared that Gideon, his son and his son's son should reign over them (8:22). Abimelech, thinking that he had this right as much as other sons, sought the support of his mother's people in Shechem (v 2-3). The men of this place gave him blood money to hire assassins to kill the 70 sons of Gideon. These evil men became Abimelech's followers and slew all but Jotham (v 4-5), leaving no rivalry from that source. The people of Shechem then made Abimelech king. He reigned 3 years before being fatally wounded by a woman (v 6, 22, 53) c If the pieces of silver were shekels the 70 would be worth $44,80 in our money, counting 64¢ to a shekel. What a cheap price on human life - 64¢ a murder!
d Baal-berith had a temple made by the Shechemites where he was worshipped as the true God instead of Jehovah. Offerings were brought to him instead of Jehovah. It was from the treasury of this false god that Abimelech received money to slay the 70 sons of Gideon. See note n, 8:33 e Literally, worthless and dissolute men, or reckless fellows who lived on the public and had nothing to lose. Such was the foundation of the government of Abimelech. By cunning use of such people many revolutions have been started among men f Slew all of the 70 sons except Jotham who escaped by hiding himself (v 7-21). Histories of all nations are full of such murders to secure wealth or earthly thrones
g See note k, 8:30
h The house of Millo must have been a fortified place near Shechem; or this could refer to a prominent man who had a fortified castle in the city, or even to the priests of the temple of Baal-berith. Whatever it was the people of the house of Millo helped the men of Shechem to make Abimelech king (v 6)
i This was the first attempt to establish a kingdom in Israel (v 6). It was 283 years after Moses, and 247 years before Saul and the kingdom's establishment under him. See list of judges and kings, p. 60

o The olive tree, which was the most useful and helpful of all the trees in Palestine, was too busy producing for God and man to rule (v 9). The fig tree, next in importance, was too busy producing good fruit to rule (v 11). The vine also was too busy producing to rule (v 13). At last, the bramble that produced only briers was chosen (v 15)
p Question 29, Next, v 11
q Both God and man were honored by the olive tree, for its oil was used in the tabernacle worship (v 9; Ex. 27:20-21; Lev. 2:1; etc.) and in many other ways - in all offerings, in homes, and in all anointings of kings, prophets, and priests
r Question 30, Next, v 13
s A full-ripe fig in its own climate has an undescribable sweetness and is, no doubt, the sweetest of all fruits
t Question 31, Next, v 28
u Like the olive oil of v 9, wine was used extensively in the worship of the tabernacle, being offered with all meat offerings and some others. It was the superstitious notion that when offered to false gods worshippers were cheered up by partaking of it
v The bramble, the most useless to help God or man, was used only for hedges; and it was dangerous to come near it - a fitting symbol of an impious, cruel, oppressive king (v 15)

according to the deserving of his hands;

17 (For my father[a] fought for you, and adventured his life far, and delivered you out of the hand of Mĭd'ĭ-an:

18 And ye are risen up against my father's house this day, and have slain his sons, threescore and ten persons, upon one stone, and have made Ă-bĭm'-e-lĕch, the son of his maid-servant, king over the men of Shĕ'chem, because he is your brother;)

19 [b]If ye then have dealt truly and sincerely with Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl and with his house this day, then rejoice ye in Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, and let him also rejoice in you:

20 But if not, let fire come out from Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, and devour the men of Shĕ'chem, and the house of Mĭl'lŏ; and let fire come out from the men of Shĕ'chem, and from the house of Mĭl'lŏ, and devour Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

21 And Jō'tham ran away, and fled, and went to [c]Bĕ'er, and dwelt there, for fear of Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch his brother.

(4) Fourth civil strife: A Plot against Abimelech by Shechem

22 ¶ When Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch had reigned [d]three years over Ĭs'-ra-el,

23 Then God sent an evil spirit between Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch and the men of Shĕ'chem; and the men of Shĕ'chem dealt treacherously with Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch:

24 [e]That the cruelty done to the threescore and ten sons of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl might come, and their blood be laid upon Ă-bĭm'-e-lĕch their brother, which slew them; and upon the men of Shĕ'chem, which aided him in the killing of his brethren.

25 And [f]the men of Shĕ'chem set [g]liers in wait for him in the top of the mountains, and they robbed all that came along that way by them: and it was told Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

26 And [h]Gā'al the son of Ē'bed came with his brethren, and went over to Shĕ'chem: and the men of Shĕ'chem put their confidence in him.

27 And they went out into the fields, and gathered their vineyards, and trode the grapes, and made merry, and went into the house of their god, and did eat and drink, and [i]cursed Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

28 And Gā'al the son of Ē'bed said, Who is Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, and who is Shĕ'chem, that we should serve him? is not he the son of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl? [k]and Zĕ'bul his officer? serve the men of [l]Hā'mor the father of Shĕ'chem: for why should we serve him?

29 And [m]would to God this people were under my hand! then would I remove Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch. And he said to Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, Increase thine army, and come out.

B Plot against Shechem by Abimelech in retaliation

30 ¶ And when Zĕ'bul the ruler of the city heard the words of Gā'al the son of Ē'bed, [a]his anger was kindled.

31 And he sent messengers unto Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch privily, saying, Behold, Gā'al the son of Ē'bed and his brethren be come to Shĕ'chem; and, behold, they fortify the city against thee.

32 [b]Now therefore up by night, thou and the people that is with thee, and lie in wait in the field:

33 And it shall be, that in the morning, as soon as the sun is up, thou shalt rise early, and set upon the city: and, behold, when[c] he and the people that is with him come out against thee, then mayest thou do to them as thou shalt find occasion.

34 ¶ And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and all the people that were with him, by night, and they laid wait against Shĕ'chem in four companies.

35 And [d]Gā'al the son of Ē'bed went out, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch rose up, and the people that were with him, from lying in wait.

C Victory of Abimelech

36 And when Gā'al saw the people, he said to Zĕ'bul, Behold, there come people down from the top of the mountains. And Zĕ'bul said unto him, Thou seest the shadow of the mountains as if they were men.

37 And Gā'al spake again and said, See there come people down by the middle of the land, and another company come along by the [e]plain of Mĕ-ŏn'e-nĭm.

38 Then said Zĕ'bul unto him, [f]Where is now thy mouth, wherewith thou saidst, Who is Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, that we should serve him? is not this the people that thou hast despised? go out, I pray now, and fight with them.

39 And Gā'al went out before the men of Shĕ'chem, and fought with Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

40 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch chased him, and he fled before him, and many were overthrown and wounded, even unto the entering of the gate.

41 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch dwelt [g]at Ă-rŭ'mah: and [h]Zĕ'bul thrust out Gā'al and his brethren, that they should not dwell in Shĕ'chem.

D Destruction of Shechem

42 And it came to pass [i]on the morrow, that the people went out into the field; and they told Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch.

43 And he took the people, and divided them into three companies, and laid wait in the field, and looked, and, behold, the people were come forth out of the city; and he rose up against them, and smote them.

44 And Ă-bĭm'e-lĕch, and the company that was with him, a 3 things Gideon should be honored for:

1 Fought for you (v 17)
2 Went far in risking his life for you
3 Delivered you out of the hand of Midian

b Jotham based his prophecy upon the fact of the sins of the Shechemites: If they have done right, let them rejoice; but if they have done wrong, then let Abimelech destroy the men of Shechem and the house of Millo who made him king, and let them destroy Abimelech (v 19-20) c Beer was a station on the march of the Israelites from mount Hor to the north of Amon (Num. 21:16). This evidently was not the place Jotham fled to; he no doubt went to Beeroth near Jerusalem in the land of Benjamin (Josh. 9:17; 18:25; 2 Sam. 4:2; Ezra 2:25; Neh. 7:29) d God allowed Abimelech to reign in Shechem for 3 years over Israel, then permitted an evil spirit to come between him and the men of Shechem, who dealt treacherously with him (v 22-23). Gaal was the one through whom the demon worked to stir up trouble between Shechemites and their king (v 26-41). See The spirit world, p. 632

e 2fold purpose of judgment:
1 That the punishment for killing the sons of Gideon might be upon Abimelech for plotting their deaths (v 24)
2 That the punishment for aiding Abimelech in carrying out his plan of murder might come upon the men of Shechem

f The men of Shechem, the very ones who had plotted with him to murder the sons of Gideon, and who helped him accomplish his crimes, were the first to turn against Abimelech in his downfall (v 25-57)

g 5 acts of jealousy by Shechemites:
1 Set liers in ambush to destroy Abimelech (v 25)
2 Robbed all that came by that way
3 Turned against Abimelech to accept and put their trust in another (v 26)
4 Plotted and promoted rebellion in themselves and others against Abimelech (v 27) 28-29)
5 Declared open war against him (v

h Gaal, an otherwise unknown man, the son of Ebed, another unknown person, who came to Shechem causing the men of that place to rebel against Abimelech (v 26-29). From v 28 it seems that he was a Canaanite descended from Hamor, the father of the founder of Shechem (v 28 with Gen. 34. A few could have escaped the massacre of Gen. 34). Gaal was defeated by Abimelech (v 39-40) and chased out of Shechem by Zebul (v 41)

i 3 years makes a great difference in the love of criminals. Now Abimelech was cursed by his associates in sin who had only 3 years before this made him chief murderer and king (v 6, 22, 27)

j Questions 32-35, Next, v 38

k Zebul, an officer of Abimelech and ruler of Shechem (v 28, 30). He was faithful to Abimelech, and worked for him on the inside of the city (v 30-41)

m Cp. this with 2 Sam. 15:4

Carved images (3:19)

Heb. piciyl. Trans. carved images (2 Chr. 33:22; 34:3-4) and graven images (Dt. 7:5, 25; 12:3; 2 Ki. 17:41; 2 Chr. 33:19; 34:7; Ps. 78:58; Isa. 10:10; 21:9; 30:22; 42:8; Jer. 8:19; 50:38; 51:47, 52; Hos. 11:2; Mic. 1:7; 5:13). By these many references we know that the word should have been trans. carved or graven images instead of quarries in v 19 and 26. Evidently when Ehud came to the graven images near Gilgal he turned back from them to give the king of Moab his so-called secret message, which proved to be a secret dagger thrust into his fat body, including the haft or handle (v 20-22). Ehud then shut and locked the doors of the summer parlor, leaving him dead (v 23). The servants of king Eglon thought he was asleep so did not open the doors to investigate for a long time which gave Ehud time to escape and call an army to fight Moab (v 24-27). Ehud immediately attacked Moab defeating this enemy and killing 10,000 men. Then the land had rest for 80 years (v 27-30) a Proving that he was faithful to Abimelech (v 30). Where the king was is not stated, but he was out of the city and it appears that he had been out for some time. He could have gone to recruit men to fight against those of Shechem, for when he came back he had an army with him (v 29). His officer inside the city sent word to Abimelech concerning what to do in attacking the city (v 30-41). A number were killed and wounded in the first battle, even up to the gates of Shechem, so that Zebul, the officer, became strong enough to cast Gaal and his brethren out (v 41). This did not destroy all the enemies of the king though, as is clear from the events of v 42-57

b The plan Zebul had for Abimelech stated: the king and his men were to march by night to reach Shechem and lie in wait in the field ready to fight by day light (v 32-33). Abimelech divided his forces into 4 companies ready to attack at the break of day (v 34)

c Gaal and his brethren with the men of Shechem who had rebelled against the king in his absence (v 29-35)

d Gaal was also up and ready to fight by daybreak. Going to the gate and seeing men moving in the early morning hours he mentioned it to Zebul, the faithful officer of the king, inside the city. Zebul suggested it might be shadows from the mountain tops, hoping to catch Gaal off guard (v 35-36). When Gaal recognized men in different companies coming against the city, which could not be denied, Zebul challenged him to go out and fight. He did so, but was defeated and driven back into the city with the loss of many either killed or wounded (v 37-40). Thus the first battle was not decisive for either side

e The plain of Meonenim is variously trans. as: the oak of the soothsayers; the direction of fortune-tellers; the house of the oak of Meonenim; the way of the conjurers' terebinth (v 37)

f Questions 36-37, Next, 10:11

g Arumah, an unknown town where Abimelech dwelled when driven out of Shechem (v 41). It could not have been far from Shechem. Perhaps the ruins of El-Ormeh, 6 miles southeast of Shechem, are those of Arumah

h Zebul finally persuaded the men of Shechem to let Gaal and his brethren go, no doubt with the plea that it would bring peace to the city again (v 41)

i On the morrow the people went out into the field, possibly to work, and they were attacked by Abimelech who slew them (v 42-44). He then fought against those in the city all day, finally taking it, slaying the people, and sowing the city with salt (v 45). The men that were left fled to the house of the god Berith. Abimelech and his army gathered wood and burned the idol house and about 1,000 men and women (v 49). In his next attempt to overcome a city a woman cast a piece of millstone upon Abimelech's head and he was mortally wounded (v 46-57). Thus the prophecy of Jotham was fulfilled in that both the men of Shechem and Abimelech were destroyed in a struggle - one caused by an evil spirit permitted of God to avenge the blood of the sons of Gideon (v 8-20)

8 acts of Jael (5:25)

1 Met Sisera in his flight (4:18)
2 Invited him into her tent
3 Gave him milk and butter and treated him royally (4:19; 5:25)
4 Gave him assurance that no man would find him with her (4:18, 20)
5 Covered him with a mantle (4:18-19)
6 Killed him while he slept peacefully in her trust (4:21; 5:26)
7 Cut off his head (5:26). There is nothing in the original to this effect, so it would be better trans. "she smote his head, then she struck and pierced his temples." The idea is that she gave his head a heavy blow with the hammer, and he tried to rise but fell at her feet. She then drove the tent peg through his temples into the ground
8 Reported his death to Barak (4:22)

a Sowing a city or any other place in salt was an ancient custom signifying perpetual desolation. Among many nations it expressed abhorrence and the wish to see the place barren forever. Abimelech wanted the desolation of Shechem to be a memorial of his achievements against his enemies. Much salt on a place would make it barren. Hadrian sowed Jerusalem with salt; and in 1162 A. D, the city of Milan, Italy was taken and sowed with salt. A custom in France was to sow with salt the property of a man who had been declared a traitor to his king b Entering into the house of the god Berith (meaning covenant) or Baal-berith (god of the covenant) was resorted to because the people thought they might be safe from attack and Abimelech would honor the god he had worshipped and made a covenant with to propagate his religion. However, Abimelech was not that reverent and merciful. In his anger he destroyed the gods as well as the people (v 46-49)

c See note n, 8:33

d Zalmon was a wooded hill near Shechem. The word means shady. Here wood was taken to start a fire to burn up the temple of Baal-berith with all the men and women in it. Setting fire to it to destroy Shechemites was a literal fulfillment of the prophecy of Jotham - "let fire come out from Abimelech, and devour the men of Shechem" (9:20). No doubt Abimelech also was burned, after his death, fulfilling the other part of the prophecy. When any portion of a prophecy is recorded as being literally fulfilled, it serves as proof that other details have also been fulfilled (v 46-49)

e Thebez, perhaps modern Tubas, near Shechem had no doubt joined in the rebellion against Abimelech, but the prophecy did not declare it should fall and be destroyed as in the case of Shechem (v 50). Abimelech, coming near to the door of the tower at Thebez to burn it with fire, met his doom. A woman dropped a piece of millstone upon his head. This ended the rebellion, for the men of Israel returned to their homes after they saw that Abimelech was dead (v 51-57)

f Compare a similar event (1 Sam. 31: 3-6; 1 Sam. 1:6-16)

g God permitted this reaping of what had been sowed. He made the law of sowing and reaping, and penalties for breaking His word and transgressing His will. God does not personally punish every time there is a reaping; He has agents who carry out His will many times, executing punishment to those who do evil. Furthermore, not all reaping is done in this life. In fact, not much of it, comparatively speaking, is reaped before death and the next life (Rom. 2:12-16; Gal. 6:7-8)

h This means to deliver Israel from enemies round about. Just whom he fought against is not stated, but he did defend them and judged Israel 23 years (v 1-2)

4 Interpreted his own parable (v 16-20)
5 Ran away (v 21)

rushed forward, and stood in the entering of the gate of the city: and the two other companies ran upon all the people that were in the fields, and slew them.

45 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch fought against the city all that day; and he took the city, and slew the people that was therein, and beat down the city, [a]and sowed it with salt.

46 ¶ And when all the men of the tower of Shĕ'chem heard that, they entered into [b]an hold of the house of the god [c]Bĕ'rith.

47 And it was told Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch, that all the men of the tower of Shĕ'chem were gathered together.

48 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch gat him up to mount [d]Zăl'mŏn, he and all the people that were with him; and Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch took an ax in his hand, and cut down a bough from the trees, and took it, and laid it on his shoulder, and said unto the people that were with him, What ye have seen me do, make haste, and do as I have done.

49 And all the people likewise cut down every man his bough, and followed Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch, and put them to the hold, and set the hold on fire upon them: so that all the men of the tower of Shĕ'chem died also, about a thousand men and women.

E Death of Abimelech: prophecy completed

50 ¶ Then went Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch to [e]Thĕ'bĕz, and encamped against Thĕ'bĕz, and took it.

51 But there was a strong tower within the city, and thither fled all the men and women, and all they of the city, and shut it to them, and gat them up to the top of the tower.

52 And Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch came unto the tower, and fought against it, and went hard unto the door of the tower to burn it with fire.

53 And a certain woman cast a piece of a millstone upon Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch's head, and all to brake his skull.

●54 Then he called hastily unto the /young man his armourbearer, and said unto him, Draw thy sword, and slay me, that men say not of me, A woman slew him. And his young man thrust him through, and he died.

55 And when the men of Ĭs'ra-el saw that Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch was dead, they departed every man unto his place.

56 ¶ Thus [g]God rendered the wickedness of Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch, which he did unto his father, in slaying his seventy brethren:

57 And all the evil of the men of Shĕ'chem did God render upon their heads: and upon them came the curse of Jō'tham the son of Jĕ-rŭb'ba-ăl.

221 CHAPTER 10

14 Tola, 8th judge: 23 years

AND after Ā-bĭm'e-lĕch there arose [h]to defend Ĭs'ra-el [i]Tō'lā the son of Pū'ah, the son of Dō'dō, a man of Ĭs'sa-char; and he dwelt in [a]Shā'mĭr in mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm.

2 And he judged Ĭs'ra-el twenty and three years, and died, and was buried in Shā'mĭr.

15 Jair, 9th judge: 22 years

3 ¶ And after him arose [b]Jā'ĭr, a Gĭl'e-ăd-īte, and judged Ĭs'ra-el [c]twenty and two years.

4 And he had thirty sons that rode [d]on thirty ass colts, and they had thirty cities, which are called [e]Hā'voth-jā'ir unto this day, which are in the land of Gĭl'e-ăd.

5 And Jā'ĭr died, and was buried in [f]Cā'mŏn.

16 Seventh apostasy: 6th servitude - 18 years to Philistia and Ammon

6 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el did [g]evil again in the sight of the LORD, and served [h]Bā'al-ĭm, and [i]Ash'ta-rŏth, and the gods of Sȳr'ĭ-ā, and the gods of Zĭ'dŏn, and the gods of Mō'ab, and the gods of the children of Ăm'mŏn, and the gods of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and [j]forsook the LORD, and served not him.

7 And the anger of the LORD was [k]hot against Ĭs'ra-el, and he [l]sold them into [m]the hands of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and into the hands of the children of Ăm'mŏn.

8 And that year they vexed and oppressed the children of Ĭs'ra-el: [n]eighteen years, all the children of Ĭs'ra-el that were on the other side Jôr'dan in the land of the Ăm'ôr-ītes, which is in Gĭl'e-ăd.

9 Moreover the children of Ăm'mŏn passed over Jôr'dan to fight also against Jū'dah, and against Bĕn'ja-mĭn, and against the house of Ĕ'phrā-ĭm; so that Ĭs'ra-el was sore distressed.

17 Repentance of Israel; God refuses to forgive mere words

10 ¶ And the children of Ĭs'ra-el [o]cried unto the LORD, saying, [p]We have sinned against thee, both because we have forsaken our God, and also served Bā'al-ĭm.

■11 And the LORD said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, [q]Did not I deliver you from the Ĕ-gȳp'tians, and from the Ăm'ôr-ītes, from the children of Ăm'mŏn, and from the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes?

12 The Zĭ-dō'nĭ-ans also, and the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes, and the Mā'on-ītes, did oppress you; and ye cried to me, and I delivered you out of their hand.

▶13 Yet ye have forsaken me, and served other gods: wherefore I will deliver you no more.

●14 Go and cry unto the gods which ye have chosen; let them deliver you in the time of your tribulation.

a Mentioned 3 times (v 1-2; Josh. 15:48)

b Jair, not the same as in note f, Num. 32:41; Dt. 3:14; Josh. 13:30; but perhaps a descendant of the earlier one. The first Jair was alive in the days of Joshua and the conquest of Canaan, and this latter one was judge at least 309 years after the entrance into Canaan. There were 5 servitudes (of the 7 in Judges) before him, and 8 of the 16 judges reigned before he did (v 3-4). He had 30 sons that rode on 30 ass colts, and he reigned over 30 cities in Gilead (v 4) c The 22 years Jair judged Israel and the 23 Tola judged made 45 years in which there was evidently no particular war with any other nation. It is said of Tola that he arose to defend Israel but we have no war recorded (v 1-3) d Riding on an ass was a mark of distinction in those days. All sons of Jair were rulers of cities and therefore prominent in the land (v 4; note 1, 5:10)

j 4 sins provoked God to anger (v 6):

3 Forsook Jehovah
4 Refused to serve Jehovah

1 We have sinned against You, because we have forsaken our God (v 10)
2 We have served Baalim

q Question 38. Next, v 18

r 12fold answer of God:
1 Did I not deliver you from the Egyptians (v 11; Ex. 1:1-15:27)
2 From the Amorites (Num. 21:21-35; Josh. 5:1-6:27; 10:5-12; 24:8-18)
3 From the children of Ammon (v 11; Josh. 13:25). No particular battle with the Ammonites is recorded before this, but they were destroyed later (11: 4, 28-40; 1 Sam. 11:11; 14:47; 2 Sam. 8:11-12; 10:1-11:1; 12:26-31)
4 From the Philistines (3:31; 10:11). See Philistines in Index
5 From the Zidonians (3:3; 10:12; Josh. 13:6)
6 From the Amalekites (3:13; 5:14; 7:12; 10:12; Ex. 17:8-16; 1 Sam. 15) 7 From the Maonites (v 12; note d, 1 Sam. 23:24)?
8 You cried to Me, and I delivered you out of their hands (v 12)
9 You have forsaken Me (v 13)
10 You have served other gods, so I will not deliver you any more
11 Go and cry to the gods which you have chosen (v 14)
12 Let them deliver you in the time of tribulation

s 5fold genuine repentance of Israel:
1 We have sinned (v 15). This is the first principle of true repentance - one must make confession or acknowledgement of his sins to be forgiven (Lk. 15: 1-5; 1 Jn. 1:9)
2 Do what You want to with us - wholehearted surrender to the will of God and to obey Him
3 Deliver us only this day we pray. This was desperation and earnestness for deliverance now, which is also necessary for full consecration
4 They put away the strange gods from among them (v 16). This was proper and necessary restitution and manifested true repentance and sincerity
5 Served the Lord. The acid test of any true repentance - actual consecration to God and truly serving Him a One can make confession and pretense of consecration with the mouth; he can pose as being truly penitent and desperate, and carry out the acts of v 15 without true repentance; but one can not do the two things of v 16 without getting results from God. Putting into practice what we say is worth more than all burnt offerings, sacrifices and superficial promises. To put away all gods and truly serve Jehovah is all that God has ever required of man. When anyone does this, he will be reconciled to God and have Him on his side in any problem

b One of many scriptures that plainly say that God has a soul. The soul of God, man, or any other being is the seat of the emotions, passions, appetites, desires, and feelings. That God has the same soul powers and attributes as angels, demons, and men is very clearly revealed in Scripture. See note r, Jn. 4:24

c Usually, when the invisible spiritual part of a being is referred to it is in connection with the feelings, as here of God (v 16). The Heb. nephesh occurs 754 times in the O. T. It is trans. soul 472 times. In the other 282 times it is trans. 44 different ways. For a complete list of these passages see soul in the Index

d Gilead was a mountainous region on the east of Jordan occupied by the tribe of Gad (Josh. 13:25). The half tribe of Manasseh is also spoken of as receiving part of Gilead (Josh. 13:30-31), as well as Reuben (Dt. 3:12). It seems that the half tribe of Manasseh had the northern part, north of the Jabbok River, which was divided between Jair and Machir. The Reubenites and Gadites possessed the part between Jabbok and the Arnon River, or the southern part of Gilead. The whole land of Gilead perhaps included the whole territory east of the Jordan

e Mizpeh, a city on the east of Jordan where Jephthah resided and mustered his army (v 17; 11:11, 29)

f Question 39, Next, 11:7

g The reward offered for one who would lead them to victory over the Ammonites was headship over all the inhabitants of Gilead (v 18)

h 23 facts concerning Jephthah:
1 He was born in Gilead of his father, Gilead, and an harlot (v 1)
2 He was a mighty man of valor
3 His father's sons cast him out and refused to give him inheritance because he was a bastard (v 2)
4 He fled from his brethren and dwelled in the land of Tob (v 3)
5 He became the leader of a band of vain men who followed him in various adventures, In these he learned and perfected the art of war
6 When war with Ammon was imminent the elders of Israel in Gilead sent for him to be captain of the army
7 He reproved them for casting him out and then seeking his help when they were in distress (v 7)
8 He refused to return home to head the army in war if he could not be the head in time of peace (v 8-9)
9 He was promised headship of all Gilead if he would come and be captain of the army in the war with Ammon (v 10)
10 He was made head over all Gilead by the people in Mizpeh (v 11)
11 He sent messengers to the king of Ammon to avoid war if possible (v 12)
12 His people, Israel, were accused by the Ammonites' king of taking their land when coming up out of Egypt about 350 years before. Jephthah was told the land should be restored
13 Jephthah denied the charge, stating the historical facts - that Israel did not take the land of Ammon or Moab, and they even went around Edom and Moab to avoid war (v 14-18)
14 He explained that Israel did not even intend to take the land of the Amorites, but were forced to fight them because they would not let the nation pass through to Canaan (v 19-22)
15 He informed the king of Ammon that the land Israel possessed did not belong to his people and they would not give it to them (v 23)
16 He told the king that Ammon should be satisfied with their possession as Moab had been with theirs, stating that Israel had not tried to enlarge their

19 Preparation for war

17 Then the children of Am'mon were gathered together, and encamped in[d]Gil'e-ad. And the children of Is'ra-el assembled themselves together, and encamped in[e]Miz'peh.

18 And the people and princes of Gil'e-ad said one to another, [f]What man is he that will begin to fight against the children of Am'mon? [g]he shall be head over all the inhabitants of Gil'e-ad.

CHAPTER 11 222

20 Jephthah, 10th judge: 6 years (12:7). (1) Jephthah disinherited flees

NOW [h]Jeph'thah the Gil'e-adite was a mighty man of valour, and he was the son of an harlot: and Gil'e-ad begat Jeph'thah.

2 And Gil'e-ad's wife bare him sons; and his wife's sons grew up, and they thrust out Jeph'thah, and said unto him, Thou shalt not inherit in our father's house; for thou art the son of a strange woman.

3 Then Jeph'thah fled from his brethren, and dwelt in the land of [i]Tob: and there were gathered vain men to Jeph'thah, and went out with him.

(2) Jephthah invited to lead war against the Ammonites

4 ¶ And it came to pass in process of time, that the children of Am'mon made war against Is'ra-el.

5 And it was so, that when the children of Am'mon made war against Is'ra-el, the elders of Gil'e-ad went to fetch Jeph'thah out of the land of Tob:

6 And they said unto Jeph'thah, Come, and be our captain, that we may fight with the children of Am'mon.

(3) Jephthah's condition of return to his people

7 And Jeph'thah said unto the elders of Gil'e-ad, [j]Did not ye hate me, and expel me out of my father's house? and why are ye come unto me now when ye are in distress?

8 And the elders of Gil'e-ad said unto Jeph'thah, [k]Therefore we turn again to thee now that thou mayest go with us, and fight against the children of Am'mon, and be our head over all the inhabitants of Gil'e-ad.

9 And Jeph'thah said unto the elders of Gil'e-ad, If ye bring me home again to fight against the children of Am'mon, and the LORD deliver them before me, shall I be your head?

(4) Condition accepted: returns as captain of Israel

10 And the elders of Gil'e-ad said unto Jeph'thah, The LORD be witness between us, if we do not so according to thy words.

11 Then Jeph'thah went with the elders of Gil'e-ad, and the people made him [a]head [b]and captain over them: and Jeph'thah uttered [c]all his words before the LORD in Miz'peh.

(5) Jephthah's first message to the king of Ammon

12 ¶ And Jeph'thah sent messengers unto the king of the children of Am'mon, [d]saying, What hast thou to do with me, that thou art come against me to fight in my land?

(6) Israel wrongly accused of taking land from Ammonites (Num. 21:24; Dt. 2:19)

13 And the king of the children of Am'mon answered unto the messengers of Jeph'thah, Because Is'ra-el [e]took away my land, when they came up out of E'gypt, from Ar'non even unto Jab'bok, and unto Jor'dan: now therefore [g]restore those lands again peaceably.

(7) Jephthah denies the charge by rehearsing 300 years of history

14 And Jeph'thah sent messengers again unto the king of the children of Am'mon:

15 And said unto him, Thus saith Jeph'thah, [h]Is'ra-el took not away the land of Mo'ab, nor the land of the children of Am'mon:

16 But when Is'ra-el [i]came up from E'gypt, and [j]walked through the wilderness unto the Red sea, and [k]came to Ka'desh;

17 Then Is'ra-el [l]sent messengers unto the king of E'dom, saying, Let me, I pray thee, pass through thy land: but the king of E'dom would not hearken thereto. [m]And in like manner they sent unto the king of Mo'ab: but he would not consent: and Is'ra-el [n]abode in Ka'desh.

18 Then they [o]went along through the wilderness, and compassed the land of E'dom, and the land of Mo'ab, and came by the east side of the land of Mo'ab, and pitched on the other side of Ar'non, but came not within the border of Mo'ab: for Ar'non was the border of Mo'ab.

19 And Is'ra-el [p]sent messengers unto Si'hon king of the Am'or-ites, the king of Hesh'bon; and Is'ra-el said unto him, Let us pass, we pray thee, through thy land into my place.

20 But Si'hon trusted not Is'ra-el to pass through his coast: but Si'hon gathered all his people together, and pitched in Ja'haz, and fought against Is'ra-el.

21 And the LORD God of Is'ra-el delivered Si'hon and all his people into the hand of Is'ra-el, and they smote them: so Is'ra-el possessed all the land of the Am'or-ites, the inhabitants of that country.

22 And they possessed all the coasts of the Am'or-ites, [q]from Ar'non even unto Jab'bok, and from the wilderness even unto

d Question 43, Next, v 23

e The king of Ammon accused Israel of taking his land when they came out of Egypt about 350 years before (v 13), and this Jephthah denied (v 15-22). In Josh. 13:25 it states that half the land of the children of Ammon was given to Gad. This means land that had been taken from the Ammonites by Sihon, king of the Amorites and later possessed by Israel by right of conquest. Sihon had also taken land from Moab which became the inheritance of Israel after they conquered him (Num. 21:26-29. Cp. Dt. 2:19)

f This was over 350 years before, as can be seen by adding up the dates from Joshua to Jephthah, p. 60. See note f, v 26

g If met, this ultimatum would have meant the loss of over half the land of Israel on the east of Jordan. To reject it meant war and this is what Jephthah chose because the Spirit of God was upon him (v 29)

h This was literally true, for they were forbidden to take the land of Ammon, because Ammonites were descendants of Lot (Dt. 2:19). The land Israel took from Sihon (from Arnon to Jabbok) had been taken from Ammon by the Amorites, from whom Israel got it by conquest (v 15; Num. 21:21-35)

i Ex. 12:37-17:2; Num. 10-20; 33:3-36

j This detail is very revealing, showing that most of the people walked, which accounts for the slowness of the travel through the wilderness (v 16; Ps. 66:6)

k Num. 13-14

l Num. 20:14-21; Dt. 2:4-8, 29

m There is no record of this so it is new information concerning what took place at the time messengers brought a similar message to Edom, as recorded in Num. 14-21; Dt. 2:4-8, 29

q The original territory of the two sons of Lot, Moab and Ammon, seems to have been from Edom on the south of the Dead Sea along the sea and the river Jordan northward to the river Jabbok, with Ammon having the northern part of the land and Moab the southern part. The warlike Amorites, invading the land under Sihon, took all the land of Ammon and Moab between the Jabbok on the north and Arnon on the south and from the Jordan on the west to the Arabian plain in the east. All this was taken by Israel's defeat over Sihon and they had held it for 350 years with the exception of periods of servitude when other nations more or less dominated Israel on the east side of Jordan. j Questions 40-42, Next, v 12

k Jephthah's brethren humbled, p. 230

a Here Jephthah related the truth of how Israel got the land claimed by the Ammonites - by conquest from the Amorites. Since they took it from them and had held it in their possession over 300 years (about 350); and furthermore, since they possessed it by inheritance from God, the Israelites were entitled to own it (v 23; Num. 34:13-15). Jephthah's questions were: Why should you Ammonites possess what we have gained by conquest and what our God has given us to possess? Why are you not satisfied with what your god Chemosh gives you to possess? (v 23-24)

b Questions 44-48. Next, 12:1

c Jephthah did not recognize Chemosh as a god, but only that he was the god of the Ammonites - thy god (v 24). He declared: We will possess the land our God gave us to possess

d Jephthah used Moab as an example of being satisfied with what they had. Content to retain the portion of land south of the river Arnon which Sihon had not taken from them, the Moabites had never fought for the land Israel took from Sihon (v 25). Why then, should the king of Ammon make himself better than Balak, king of Moab? Why had the land not been taken in the 300 years Israel had maintained absolute possession of it? These were questions Jephthah wanted answered (v 26)

e This was not to leave the impression that Moab had never fought Israel in all the 350 years, but to show that the one war between the two was not to regain any land taken by Israel. Moab did put Israelites under tribute for 18 years, even some on the west as well as the east of Jordan (2:12-14), but not because Israel took land when the nation came out of Egypt, as the king of Ammon had accused (v 13)

f Three hundred years. At first this figure seems erroneous, for there had been at least 350 years from the entrance into Canaan, according to the dates of the servitudes and the length of time the judges ruled, p. 60. However, if we deduct the actual time the eastern part of Israel beyond Jordan was under servitudes to various nations during these 350 years, we find that Israel had control of the land about 300 years; and this must be what Jephthah had in mind (v 26)

g Jephthah appealed to God as judge between the accusation of the king of Ammon and the facts in the case. God did so judge by defeating Ammon and delivering Israel by Jephthah (v 27-33)

h 10 examples of defeat through pride:
1 Lucifer (Isa. 14:12-14; Ezek. 28:11-17; 1 Tim. 3:6; Rev. 12:10-12; 20:10)
2 Pharaoh (Ex. 1:1-15:21)
3 Abimelech (Judg. 9:15, 23-57)
4 King of Ammon (Judg. 11:28-33)
5 Goliath (1 Sam. 17)
6 Benhadad (1 Ki. 20:1-21)
7 Amaziah (2 Ki. 14:7-16)
8 Israel (Dt. 8:11-20; 2 Ki. 17 and 25)
9 Nebuchadnezzar (Dan. 4) 10 Haman (Esther 3:1-7:10)

j Made a solemn vow (v 30-31):
1 If You will deliver Ammon into my hands
2 Then I will offer to You whatever comes forth of the doors of my house to meet me after I return from war

k See 2 parts of Jephthah's vow, p. 282

l The Lord delivered. Without Him Jephthah would not have been successful. He smote the Ammonites from Aroer, a river on the north bank of Arnon, to Minnith, a city 4 miles from Heshbon - a distance of 30 to 40 miles - and took 20 cities (v 32-33)

m This was the first thing to come out of his house and it was connected with his vow of v 31

n It was customary for women of a victorious army to go out with timbrels and dances to meet the returning heroes (v 34; 1 Sam. 18:6)

o Not only was Jephthah grieved that his daughter should be given wholly to the Lord for perpetual virginity, but also because it meant that his family could not be continued in Israel, for she was his only offspring and therefore the only one who could keep the family in existence (v 34-35)

Jor'dan.

23 So [a]now the LORD God of Is'ra-el hath dispossessed the Am'or-ites from before his people Is'ra-el, and [b]shouldest thou possess it?

24 [c]Wilt not thou possess that which Che'mosh thy god giveth thee to possess? So whomsoever the LORD our God shall drive out from before us, them will we possess.

25 [d]And now art thou any thing better than Ba'lak the son of Zip'por, king of Mo'ab? [e]did he ever strive against Is'ra-el, or did he ever fight against them,

26 While Is'ra-el dwelt in Hesh'bon and her towns, and in Ar'o-er and her towns, and in all the cities that be along by the coasts of Ar'non, three hundred years? why therefore did ye not recover them within that time?

27 Wherefore I have not sinned against thee, but thou doest me wrong to war against me: [f]the LORD the Judge be judge this day between the children of Is'ra-el and the children of Am'mon.

28 Howbeit the king of the children of Am'mon [h]hearkened not unto the words of Jeph'thah which he sent him.

(8) Jephthah's awful vow

29 Then the [i]Spirit of the LORD came upon Jeph'thah, and he passed over Gil'e-ad, and Ma-nas'seh, and passed over Miz'peh of Gil'e-ad, and from Miz'peh of Gil'e-ad he passed over unto the children of Am'mon.

30 And Jeph'thah [j]vowed a vow unto the LORD, and said, If thou shalt without fail deliver the children of Am'mon into mine hands, 31 Then it shall be, that whatsoever cometh forth of the doors of my house to meet me, when I return in peace from the children of Am'mon, [k]shall surely be the LORD's, and I will offer it up for a burnt offering.

(9) Victory over Ammon

32 ¶ So Jeph'thah passed over unto the children of Am'mon to fight against them; and [l]the LORD delivered them into his hands.

33 And he smote them from Ar'o-er, even till thou come to Min'nith, even twenty cities, and unto the plain of the vineyards, with a very great slaughter. Thus the children of Am'mon were subdued before the children of Is'ra-el.

(10) Jephthah's vow fulfilled (Lev. 27:1-8; Dt. 23:21)

34 ¶ And Jeph'thah came to Miz'peh unto his house, and, behold, [m]his daughter [n]came out to meet him with timbrels and with dances: and she was his only child; beside her he had neither son nor daughter.

35 And it came to pass, [o]when he saw her, that he rent his clothes, and said, Alas, my daughter! thou hast brought me very low, and thou art one of them that trouble me: for [p]I have opened my mouth unto the LORD, and I cannot go back.

36 And [q]she said unto him, My father, if thou hast opened thy mouth unto the LORD, do to me according to that which hath proceeded out of thy mouth; forasmuch as the LORD hath taken vengeance for thee of thine enemies, even of the children of Am'mon.

37 And she said unto her father, Let this thing be done for me: let me alone two months, that [r]I may go up and down upon the mountains, and bewail my virginity, I and my fellows.

38 And he said, Go. And he sent her away for two months: and she went with her companions, and bewailed her virginity upon the mountains.

39 And it came to pass at the end of two months, that she returned unto her father, who did with her according to his vow which he had vowed: [s]and she knew no man. And [t]it was a custom in Is'ra-el,

40 That the daughters of Is'ra-el went yearly to lament the daughter of Jeph'thah the Gil'e-ad-ite four days in a year.

CHAPTER 12 223

(11) Fifth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

AND the [1]men of E'phra-im gathered themselves together, and went northward, and [2]said unto Jeph'thah, Wherefore passedst thou over to fight against the children of Am'mon, and didst not call us to go with thee? we will burn thine house upon thee with fire.

2 And Jeph'thah said unto them, I and my people were at great strife with the children of Am'mon; and [3]when I called you, ye delivered me not out of their hands.

3 And when I saw that ye delivered me not, I put my life in my hands, and passed over against the children of Am'mon, and the LORD delivered them into my hand: [4]wherefore then are ye come up unto me this day, to fight against me?

4 Then Jeph'thah gathered together all the men of Gil'e-ad, and [5]fought with E'phra-im: and the men of Gil'e-ad smote E'phra-im, because they said, Ye Gil'e-ad-ites are fugitives of E'phra-im among the E'phra-im-ites, and among the Ma-nas'sites.

5 And the Gil'e-ad-ites took the passages of Jor'dan before the E'phra-im-ites: and it was so, that when those E'phra-im-ites which were escaped said, Let me go over; that the men of Gil'e-ad said unto him, [6]Art thou an E'phra-im-ite? If he said, Nay;

6 Then said they unto him, Say now Shib'bo-leth: and he said Sib'bo-leth: for he could not frame to pronounce it right. Then they took him, and slew him at the passages of Jor'dan: and there fell at that time of the E'phra-im-ites [7]forty and two thousand.

a Jephthah made known to his daughter the vow he had made concerning her, which he could not fail to keep (v 35). The law would not have allowed him to sacrifice her as a burnt offering. Not only were human beings forbidden to be sacrificed thus but all animals other than the ox, bullock, lamb, ram, goat, heifer, pigeon, or turtledove. Only these were acceptable with God
The law of vows (Lev. 27) provided that persons, beasts, and other things could be offered to God for holy uses even though all could not be used for burnt offerings. Furthermore, these could be redeemed with money, if the vow was a simple one, and the amount given to the priests and Levites (Lev. 27:1-25). Other things, as the firstborn of clean animals, all tithes, and anything dedicated to the Lord as a devoted thing could not be redeemed. Devoted things were to remain in the service of God (Lev. 27:26-29). It was this nature of vow that Jephthah made to Him, so he devoted his daughter to God by perpetual virginity - this he was under obligation to do (v 35)

b The daughter of Jephthah was willing to fulfil her part in the vow because Jehovah had given Israel victory over the Ammonites (v 36). She even made some terms which were accepted by her father (v 37)

c Her request was that she be given 2 months to bewail her virginity with other daughters of Israel. This fact alone proves that it was not the question of her being offered illegally as a sacrifice to Jehovah. She was simply to remain a virgin all her days, which in itself was a great sacrifice and a calamity in Israel. It meant that she could never carry out her part in the life of Israel, keeping her own family alive in the nation. Thus Jephthah's family was completely cut off, for he had no other child to carry on his name (v 34) She was to be devoted to the tabernacle service as a servant throughout life. That there were a number of such consecrated servants is clear from the fact that after the Midianite war certain virgins were to be devoted to God as the Lord's part (Num. 31:15-40)

d This alone settles the question of what the fulfillment of the vow consisted. As it could not be a burnt sacrifice of a human being to Jehovah, the devoting of Jephthah's daughter to perpetual virginity was the only way to fulfil the vow. Here it plainly says how it was fulfilled - she knew no man (v 39)

e A new custom was created in Israel by this devoting of a daughter to perpetual virginity - that of the daughters of Israel going to lament the sacrifice of the daughter of Jephthah whose consecration cut her off from being a mother in Israel and denied her the possibility of having a part in bringing the coming Messiah into the world. Daughters of Israel went to lament her plight 4 days out of each year from that time on (v 39-40). How long the custom was practiced is not known, but at least it continued throughout the lifetime of Jephthah's daughter and was observed in Gilead if not in all Israel

h This indicates that Jephthah did ask for help from other tribes, but did not receive it, so took the responsibility upon himself to fight the Ammonites; therefore, the accusation of Ephraim of not being called was groundless (v 1-3)

1 Question 50. Next, v 5

j A civil war between brethren simply because one group did not get as much recognition as they thought they should have received (v 4). 42,000 men on one side killed over such a foolish thing as pride (v 6)

k Question 51. Next, 13:11

l Some express doubt that 42,000 men were killed in this one battle, suggesting this would be too many for a tribe that had only 32,500 men of war in the last numbering (Num. 26:37). But such persons fail to consider that said numbering was 350 years before the loss of 42,000 men. When we realize that in 215 years Jacob multiplied from 70 souls to 600,000 men of war (Gen. 46:27 with Ex. 12:37) then we know that Ephraim with 32,500 men of war to begin with could have reached proportions great enough for the loss of 42,000 a Jephthah lived only 6 more years to enjoy his own country and the fruit of his victory over Ammon (v 7). Whether his daughter's sacrifice helped hasten his death is not stated, but it appears from 11:35-36 that his grief was deep and cutting. He died a faith-worthy, being mentioned in Heb. 11:32

b Ibzan of Bethlehem, the 11th judge in Israel. He served 7 years, one more year than Jephthah (v 7) and one year less than Abdon (v 14). He had 60 children, 30 sons and 30 daughters, whom he sent abroad. He took wives for his 30 sons from women outside his tribe and permitted his 30 daughters to marry outside the tribe (v 8-10). Whether this Bethlehem was the one in Zebulun (Josh. 19:15) or the one in Judah is a matter of opinion. The one in Zebulun is mentioned 3 times (v 8-10; Josh. 19:15), but the one in Judah 46 times and not always with a qualifying word Ephrath or Judah c Elon, the Zebulonite, 12th judge of Israel, judged for 10 years. Nothing in particular is said about his judgeship. We suppose that there was peace during all his days (v 11-12)

d Abdon, the son of Hillel, a Pirathonite of the tribe of Ephraim, judged Israel as the 13th judge for 8 years. He had 40 sons and 30 nephews that rode as distinguished men on 70 ass colts (v 13-15)

e An unknown town in Ephraim. Different sites have been suggested but without authority (v 13-15; 2 Sam. 23:30; 1 Chr. 11:31; 27:14)

3 predictions of Angel of God:

1 You shall conceive and bear a son (v 3)

2 He shall begin to deliver Israel from the band of the Philistines (v 5)

3 He shall be a Nazarite from his mother's womb

l The angel of the Lord in this passage was no doubt a member of the Godhead. According to v 22 Manoah and his wife concluded that they had seen God face to face. See The spirit world, p. 632; and 44 appearances of God, p. 63

m 5 commands to Manoah and his wife:

1 To wife: Beware, and drink no wine or strong drink (v 4, 7, 14) and

2 Eat no unclean thing

3 No razor shall come upon his (your son's) head (v 5)

4 Do not eat anything that comes of the vine (v 14). This would include grapes and raisins

5 To Manoah: All that I have commanded her, let her obey n All Nazarites were supposed to let their hair grow and to abstain from all fruit of the vine (Num. 6)

o He did begin to deliver them (14:19-15:31), but the Philistines were never wholly subdued like some of the other nations

p Manoah's wife described the Angel

1 A man of God (v 6) thus:

2 His countenance was like an angel of God, very terrible

10 statements about 10 tribes (5:17)

According to various versions the statements of v 14-17 are highly poetical. They could be rendered as follows

1 Ephraim moved into the valley whose root is in the mountains formerly possessed by Amalek (v 14). Deborah was from Ephraim, so naturally some from Ephraim followed her in this battle with the Canaanites

2 Benjamin followed Ephraim among the people to war against Sisera

3 Commanders came from Machir (eastern Manasseh)

4 From Zebulun came those who carry the pen of the writer (Sept., marshal's staff)

5 Issachar's princes rallied to Deborah (v 15)

CHAPTER 13 224

24 Eighth apostasy, 7th servitude: 40 years to Philistia

AND the children of Ĭs'ra-el [f]did evil again in the sight of the LORD; and the LORD delivered them into the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [g]forty years.

25 Samson, 14th judge: 20 years (16:31). (1) Angelic annunciation

2 ¶ And there was a certain man of [h]Zō'rah, of the family of the Dăn'ites, whose name [i]was Mā-nō'ah; and his wife [i]was barren, and bare not.

3 [j]And [k]the [l]angel of the LORD appeared unto the woman, and said unto her, Behold now, thou art barren, and bearest not: but thou shalt conceive, and bear a son.

4 Now therefore [m]beware, I pray thee, and drink not wine nor strong drink, and eat not any unclean thing:

5 For, lo, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and no [n]razor shall come on his head: [o]for the child shall be a Năz'a-rīte unto God from the womb: and he shall begin to deliver Ĭs'ra-el out of the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

(2) Prayer for guidance

6 ¶ Then the woman came and [p]told her husband, saying, A man of God came unto me, and his countenance was like the countenance of an angel of God, very terrible: but I asked him not whence he was, neither told he me his name:

7 [q]But he said unto me, Behold, thou shalt conceive, and bear a son; and now drink no wine nor strong drink, neither eat any unclean thing: for the child shall be a Năz'a-rīte to God from the womb to the day of his death.

8 ¶ Then Mā-nō'ah [r]intreated the LORD, and said, [s]O my Lord, let the man of God which thou didst send come again unto us, and teach us what we shall do unto the child that [t]shall be born.

(3) Second angelic appearance

9 And God [u]hearkened to the voice of Mā-nō'ah; and the angel of God came again unto the woman as she sat in the field: but Mā-nō'ah her husband was not with her.

10 And the woman made haste, and ran, and shewed her husband, and said unto him, Behold, the man hath appeared unto me, that came unto me the other day.

11 And Mā-nō'ah arose, and went after his wife, and came to the man, and said unto him, [v]Art thou the man that spakest unto the woman? And he said, I am.

12 And Mā-nō'ah said, Now let thy words come to pass. How shall we order the child, and how shall we do unto him?

13 And the angel of the LORD said unto Mā-nō'ah, Of all that I said unto the woman let her beware.

14 She may not eat of any thing that cometh of the vine, neither let her drink wine or strong drink, nor eat any unclean thing: all that I commanded her let her observe.

15 ¶ And Mā-nō'ah said unto the angel of the LORD, I pray thee, [w]let us detain thee, until we shall have made ready a kid for thee.

16 And the angel of the LORD said unto Mā-nō'ah, Though thou detain me, I will not eat of thy bread: and if thou wilt offer a burnt offering, thou must offer it unto the LORD. For Mā-nō'ah knew not that he was an angel of the LORD.

17 And Mā-nō'ah said unto the angel of the LORD, [x]What is thy name, that [y]when thy sayings come to pass we may do thee honour?

18 And the angel of the LORD said unto him, Why askest thou thus after my name, seeing it is [z]secret?

19 So Mā-nō'ah took a kid with a meat offering, and offered it upon a rock unto the LORD: and the angel did wonderously; and Mā-nō'ah and his wife looked on.

20 For it came to pass, when the flame went up toward heaven from off the altar, that the angel of the LORD [a]ascended in the flame of the altar. And Mā-nō'ah and his wife looked on it, and fell on their faces to the ground.

(4) Ancient superstition

a See note k, v 3

b Manoah prayed for the appearance of the Angel again and He came (v 8-23). It is scriptural to pray for angelic and divine visitations. Cp. Heb. 1:14

c 2 requests of Manoah:

1 Let the man of God You sent come again (v 8)

2 Let Him teach us what we shall do unto the child that shall be born

d This shows that both believed the prediction of the Angel that they should have a child, even before the second visit (v 8)

e God heard the prayer of Manoah, and the Angel came again to his wife while she was alone (v 9). She ran quickly, told Manoah, and brought him to see (v 10-11). The reason the Angel appeared to the woman was that the whole message pertained to her and not to her husband (v 3-7). Even when he asked for instructions he was simply told to have his wife obey all that had been commanded her (v 13-14)

f Questions 52-53. Next, v 17

g This new request was also granted, for he stayed until the meal was prepared, although he had said that he would not eat of it, and instructed that if they desired to offer a burnt offering it should be to Jehovah (v 15-16). It is thought by some that the statement about an offering to Jehovah indicates this was not a member of the Godhead speaking. See note 1, v 3; also Jehovah and God in Index

h Questions 54-55. Next, 14:3

i This was not spoken in unbelief, for they already believed what He had said (v 8, 12)

j Heb. pilly, wonderful. The root word is pala, to be separate; great; wonderful; marvelous. The Heb. for Wonderful (Isa. 9:6) is pele from the same root word. These 3 words are trans. wonder (Isa. 29:14); wonders (Ex. 3:20; 15:11; Josh. 3:5; Neh. 9:17; Job 9:10; Ps. 77:11, 14; 78:11; 88:10, 12; 89:5; 96:3; 106:7; 107:24; 136:4; Dan. 12:6); wonderful (Dt. 28:59; 2 Sam. 1:26; 2 Chr. 2:9; Job 42:3; Ps. 40:5; 78:4; 107:8, 15, 21, 31; 111:4; 119:129; 139:6; Pr. 30:18; Isa. 9:6; 25:1; 28:29); wonderfully (Lam. 1:9; Dan. 8:24); wonderously (Judg. 13:19); wondrous (1 Chr. 16:9; Job 37:14; Ps. 26:7; 71:17; 72:18; 75:1; 78:32; 86:10; 105:2; 106:22; 119:18, 27; 145:5; Jer. 21:2); and wondrously (Joel 2:26). 7 Reuben made great resolutions to help their brethren, but because of great deliberations between their factions they let opportunity slip (v 15-16)

8 Gad of the land of Gilead remained beyond Jordan (v 17)

9 Dan remained by his ships

10 Asher remained by the seashore and clung to his bays

The 1st 4 tribes - Reuben, Gad, Dan, and Asher, along with Judah and Simeon who are not mentioned, failed to help their brethren in this struggle with the Canaanites. The 10,000 men who fought came only from Ephraim, Manasseh, Benjamin, Zebulun, Issachar, and Naphtali. From some of these came but a few, the most being from Naphtali which was the tribe of Barak (4:6), and Zebulun (v 18)

First prophet sent to Israel (6:8)

This is the first time it is stated that God sent a prophet to Israel. Others are mentioned in Scripture before this - Abraham, Aaron, Moses and others who prophesied without being called a prophet; but this begins a long list of those God raised up to rebuke Israel for their sins. When they were rebuked the first time since Joshua, God, Himself came down to do the rebuking (2:1-5). Only on special occasions would God come down to deal with them, as in v 11-24; 13:2-23

a Manoah knew, when the angel ascended in the fire of the sacrifice, that he was a spirit being from heaven (v 19-21)
b It was an ancient belief that if one saw God or even an angel it was a sign of death, but many times God proved this to be pure superstition, as the Scriptures show (v 22-23; 6:22-23; Gen. 32:30). Of the 44 appearances of God, p. 63, not one caused the death of anyone.
c Manoah's wife used better logic than he did: "If the Lord were pleased to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have shewed us all these things" (v 23)

4 Samson (13:2-25)
5 Samuel (1 Sam. 1:1-28)
6 John the Baptist (Lk. 1:5-80)
7 Jesus Christ (Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 2) His was a miraculous birth and he was a Nazarite from his mother's womb. Even his mother was forbidden to eat or drink anything made from the fruit of the vine or eat any unclean thing during her pregnancy (v 2-7, 24-25). disproved (Gen. 32:30; Judg. 6:22)

21 But the angel of the LORD did no more appear to Mā-nō'-ah and to his wife. Then Mā-nō'ah [a]knew that he was an angel of the LORD.

22 And Mā-nō'ah said unto his wife, [b]We shall surely die, because we have seen God.

23 [c]But his wife said unto him, If the LORD were pleased to kill us, he would not have received a burnt offering and a meat offering at our hands, neither would he have shewed us all these things, nor would as at this time have told us such things as these.

(5) Birth of Samson

24 ¶ And the woman bare a son, and called his name [d]Săm'-son: and the [e]child grew, and the LORD blessed him.

25 And the Spirit of the LORD began to [f]move him at times in the camp of Dăn between Zō'rah and [g]Ĕsh'ta-ōl.

225 CHAPTER 14

(6) Samson's first love

AND Săm'son went down to [h]Tĭm'nath, and saw a woman in Tĭm'nath of the daughters of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes. ●2 And he came up, and told his father and his mother, and said, I have seen a woman in Tĭm'nath of the daughters of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: now therefore [i]get her for me to wife.

●3 Then his father and his mother said unto him, [j]Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes? And Săm'son said unto his father, Get her for me; for she pleaseth me well.

4 But his father and his mother knew not that it was of the LORD, that he sought an occasion against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: for at that time the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had dominion over Ĭs'ra-el.

(7) Samson and the lion

5 ¶ Then went Săm'son down, and his father and his mother, to Tĭm'nath, and came to the vineyards of Tĭm'nath: and, behold, a young [k]lion roared against him.

6 And the Spirit of the LORD came mightily [l]upon him, and he [m]rent him as he would have rent a kid, and he had nothing in his hand: but he told [n]not his father or his mother what he had done.

7 And he went down, and talked with the woman; and [o]she pleased Săm'son well.

8 ¶ And [o]after a time he returned to take her, and he turned aside to see the carcase of the lion: and, behold, there was a [p]swarm of bees and honey in the carcase of the lion.

9 And he took thereof in his hands, and went on eating, and came to his father and mother, and he gave them, and they did eat: but he told not them that he had taken the honey out of the carcase of the lion.

(8) Samson's marriage and the riddle propounded

10 ¶ So [a]his father went down unto the woman: and Săm'son made there a feast; for so used the young men to do.

11 And it came to pass, [b]when they saw him, that they brought thirty companions to be with him.

12 ¶ And Săm'son said unto them, I will now put forth [c]a riddle unto you: if ye can certainly declare it me within the seven days of the feast, and find it out, then I will give you thirty [d]sheets and thirty change of garments:

●13 But if ye cannot declare it me, then shall ye give me thirty sheets and thirty change of garments. And they said unto him, Put forth thy riddle, that we may hear it.

14 And he said unto them, Out of the eater came forth meat, and out of the strong came forth sweetness. And they could not in three days expound the riddle.

(9) Riddle answer discovered: occasion for vengeance

15 And it came to pass on the seventh day, that they said unto Săm'son's wife, [e]Entice thy husband, that he may declare unto us the riddle, lest we burn thee and thy father's house with fire: [f]have ye called us to take that we have? is it not so?

16 And Săm'son's wife wept before him, and said, [g]Thou dost but hate me, and lovest me not: thou hast put forth a riddle unto the children of my people, and hast not told it me. And he said unto her, Behold, I have not told it my father nor my mother, and shall I tell it thee?

17 And she wept before him the [h]seven days, while their feast lasted: and it came to pass on the seventh day, that he told her, because she lay sore upon him: and she told the riddle to the children of her people.

18 And the men of the city said unto him on the seventh day before the sun went down, What is sweeter than honey? and what is stronger than a lion? And he said unto them, If ye had not [i]plowed with my heifer, ye had not found out my riddle.

(10) Vengeance: 30 men slain

19 ¶ And the Spirit of the LORD [o]came [j]upon him, and he went [k]down to Ash'ke-lŏn, and slew thirty men of them, and took their spoil, and gave change of garments unto them which expounded the riddle. And his anger was kindled, and he went up to his father's house.

20 But Săm'son's wife was given to his companion, whom he had used as his friend.

a It was the custom for a proposal of marriage to come from the family of the bridegroom, but occasionally this was reversed as in Ex. 2:21; Josh. 15:16-17; 1 Sam. 18:27. There is no evidence of a religious ceremony in the early marriages. After the making of a contract concerning the dowry and any other financial or business matter, the removal of the bride to the home of the bridegroom was all that was necessary to complete the marriage. In Isaac's case he simply brought Rebekah to his mother's tent and they became man and wife (Gen. 24:67). In the case of plural wives each had a separate tent (Gen. 31:33). Later, marriages were concluded with festivities and contracts usually stated a certain length of time between the agreement and the actual marriage. The average time was about a year (Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 1:24-38, 56-57). Feasts lasting 7 days were a part of some festivities (v 12-18; Gen. 29:22; Esther 2:18; Mt. 22:1-14; Rev. 19:1-10). Also, marriage processions and noisy demonstrations took place on such occasions (Jer. 7:34; 16:9; 25:10; 33:11; Mt. 25:1-13, notes; Rev. 18:23). In N. T. times it was customary for the bridegroom to have young men companions (v 11) and the bride to have a number of virgins with her in the wedding festivities (Mt. 25:1-13, notes)
b When they saw what kind of man he was, implying that he was a very outstanding one in many ways (v 11) c Heb. chidah, a puzzle; trick; conundrum; sententious maxim. It is trans. riddle (v 12-19; Ezek. 17:2); dark speeches (Num. 12:8); dark sayings (Ps. 49:4; 78:2; Ps. 1:6); dark sentences (Dan. 8:23); hard questions (1 Ki. 10:1; 2 Chr. 9:1); and proverb (Hab. 2:6). See note a, Pr. 1:1. Hebrews and all orientals were fond of riddles, and amused themselves, especially at meals or feasts by propounding some puzzling question. Even princes competed with one another in solving such questions. The queen of Sheba tested Solomon by them. See 1 Ki. 10:1 where the plural of the word trans. riddle is trans. hard questions d These were the linen shirts worn next to the body and by people of rank or wealth. The garments refer to the outer woolen clothing (v 12)
e She yielded to this blackmail and betrayed him for fear of being burned with all her family (v 15-18). This did not save her from such destruction, for his enemies burned the whole family anyway because of Samson's deed of burning up their crops (15:3-6). If she had stayed true to him he would have protected her by his gift of power
g Note the tactics of women in both cases of getting secrets out of Samson (v 16-17; 16:6-20). There were 3 women in his life, all traitors or harlots (16:1). Besides these was his mother, perhaps the only good and true woman he ever knew h It seems from v 14-15 that she did not try to get the answer to the riddle until the 7th day, but the meaning is that they did not so threaten her until then. She sought the whole time to find the answer (v 17), but became desperate the last day for fear of death as threatened on that day. Both the Sept. and the Peshitta have 4th day instead of 7th, which would harmonize with the statement that they could not answer the riddle in 3 days (v 14). It could be that a copyist looking at a worn manuscript thought it read 7th day i An expression of unfaithfulness
j See note m, 3:10
k This was bold adventure, for Ashkelon was about 30 miles away and he had to go through Philistine land to reach it. He slew 30 men and paid his debt (v 19)

n He could keep secrets from his parents but not from a woman (14:16-17; 16:16-21). Twice he kept secrets from them, and twice he told a woman o This refers to the actual marriage, the concluding of it after the period specified by the contract. The first part refers to the betrothal (v 7), and the other to the marriage (v 8) p Bees abounded in Palestine. They are mentioned 5 times (v 8; Dt. 1:44; Ps. 118:12; Isa. 7:18)

a How long after he left her to go home is not known, but long enough for his anger to subside and for his affection for his wife to return (v 1) b The latter part of April and the first part of May the wheat was harvested and gathered in heaps on the field or on the threshing floors. Harvesting was during the dry season and the grain was very combustible (v 1) c It was the custom always to take some gift to the one visited. Now over his anger at her betraying him, Samson took a kid of the goats as a present when he wished to become reconciled to his wife. A kid was considered a great delicacy (Gen. 38:16-17; Lk. 15:29) d He said this to himself, but her father objected, having given Samson's wife to his companion or bride-man (v 2). The father then offered his younger daughter as a wife, but this could not be accepted by an Israelite, for it was incest and unlawful (Lev. 18:18)
e Question 62, Next, v 6
f Samson purposed to take vengeance on the Philistines for the trouble and sorrow they had caused him. He caught 300 foxes and after putting them in pairs with a firebrand between two tails, he set them loose to burn both the shocks of wheat and that which was not yet cut (v 4-5) g Heb, shual, jackal; fox. Both animals abound in Palestine and either one could have been used by Samson (v 4). See Neh. 4:3; Ps. 63:10; Song 2:15; Lam. 5:18; Ezek. 13:4; Mt. 8:20; Lk. 9:58; 13:32 h 4fold destruction of crops (v 5):
1 Shocks of wheat
2 Standing wheat
3 Vineyards
4 Olive yards
i Question 63, Next, v 10
j Samson got the blame for he was the only man capable of doing something like this; so his wife and family were burned when his enemies took vengeance on him (v 6)
k Samson was determined to get vengeance also, and so he smote the Philistines with a great slaughter for burning his wife and her family (v 7-8)
l The Philistines became aroused as a nation against this one man; and went up to get him in Judah (v 9-10)
m Questions 64-66, Next, v 18 n 3,000 men of Judah went to get Samson and even to them he would not submit until they swore they would not kill him, but turn him over to the Philistines (v 11-13). This gave him another occasion to destroy more Philistines

2 parts of Jephthah's vow (11:31)

1 Dedicate it to Jehovah, according to Lev. 27
2 If suitable offer it as a burnt sacrifice to Jehovah

According to the most accurate Hebrew scholars this 2fold vow reads: I will consecrate it to the Lord, or I will offer it for a burnt offering, meaning that anything fit for a burnt offering should be made one, and anything fit for the service of God should be consecrated to Him. Even if this translation is not a correct one we must understand that such a thought is implied in the vow for the reason that God would not accept a human sacrifice (Lev. 18:21; 20:2-5). Since what came out of his house (his daughter) was not suitable for a burnt sacrifice, would not have been acceptable with God, and would have caused the death sentence to be passed upon Jephthah, the only thing he could do was to offer her to the Lord by a perpetual virginity (v 36-40)

Proud and haughty Ephraim (12:1)

The men of Ephraim always seemed to be proud and haughty, causing division and strife in Israel

8 strifes caused by Ephraim:

1 He was the cause of misunderstanding even in the blessing of the sons of Joseph by Jacob (Gen. 48:3-22)
2 The tribe complained in the division of the land Josh. 17:14-18)
3 They contended with Gideon because they were not called by him to fight the Midianites (8:1-3) 4 They contended with Jephthah because they were not considered by him in the war with Ammon. In fact, they

(11) Second cause for vengeance

BUT it came to pass within[a] a while after, [b]in the time of wheat harvest, that Săm'son visited his wife[c] with a kid; and he[d] said, I will go in to my wife into the chamber. But her father would not suffer him to go in.

2 And her father said, I verily thought that thou hadst utterly hated her; therefore I gave her to thy companion: [e]is not her younger sister fairer than she? take her, I pray thee, instead of her.

(12) Vengeance: 300 foxes burn Philistine crops

3 ¶ And Săm'son [f]said concerning them, Now shall I be more blameless than the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, though I do them a displeasure.

4 And Săm'son went and caught three hundred [g]foxes, and took firebrands, and turned tail to tail, and put a firebrand in the midst between two tails.

5 And when he had set the brands on fire, he let them go into the standing corn of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and burnt up both the [h]shocks, and also the standing corn, with the vineyards and olives.

(13) Third cause for vengeance

6 ¶ Then the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes said, [i]Who hath done this? And they answered, [j]Săm'son, the son in law of the Tĭm'nite, because he had taken his wife, and given her to his companion. And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes came up, and burnt her and her father with fire.

(14) Vengeance: great slaughter

7 ¶ And Săm'son said unto them, Though ye have done this, [k]yet will I be avenged of you, and after that I will cease.

8 And he smote them hip and thigh with a great slaughter: and he went down and dwelt in the top of the rock Ē'tam.

9 ¶ Then [l]the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes went up, and pitched in Jū'dah, and spread themselves in Lē'hĭ.

10 And the men of Jū'dah said, [m]Why are ye come up against us? And they answered, To bind Săm'son are we come up, to do to him as he hath done to us.

(15) Fourth cause for vengeance

11 Then [n]three thousand men of Jū'dah went to the top of the rock Ē'tam, and said to Săm'son, Knowest thou not that the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes are rulers over us? what is this that thou hast done unto us? And he said unto them, As they did unto me, so have I done unto them.

12 And they said unto him, We are come down to bind thee, that we may deliver thee into the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes. And Săm'son said unto them, Swear unto me, that ye will not fall upon me yourselves.

13 And they spake unto him, saying, No; but we will bind thee fast, and deliver thee into their hand: but surely we will not kill thee. And they bound him with [a]two new [b]cords, and brought him up from the rock.

(16) Vengeance: 1,000 slain

14 ¶ And when he came [c]unto Lē'hĭ, the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes shouted against him: and the Spirit of the LORD came mightily [d]upon him, and the cords that were upon his arms became [e]as flax that was burnt with fire, and his bands loosed from off his hands.

15 And he found a [f]new [g]jawbone of an ass, and put forth his hand, and took it, and slew a thousand men therewith.

16 And Săm'son said, With the jawbone of an ass, heaps upon heaps, with the jaw of an ass have I slain a thousand men.

17 And it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking, that he cast away the jawbone out of his hand, and called that place [h]Rā'math-lē'hĭ.

(17) Miracle: water from the jawbone of an ass

18 ¶ And he was sore athirst, and called on the LORD, and said, [i]Thou hast given this great deliverance into the hand of thy servant: [j]and now shall I die for thirst, and fall into the hand of the uncircumcised?

19 But [k]God clave an hollow place that was in the jaw, and there came water thereout; and when he had drunk, his spirit came again, and he revived: wherefore he called the name thereof [l]Ĕn-hăk'kō-rē, which is in Lē'hĭ unto this day.

20 And he [m]judged Ĭs'ra-el in the days of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes twenty years.

227 CHAPTER 16

(18) Fifth cause for vengeance

THEN went Săm'son to Gā'zā, and saw there [n]an harlot, and went in unto her.

2 And it was told the Gā'zites, saying, Săm'son is come hither. And they compassed him in, and [o]laid wait for him all night in the gate of the city, and were quiet all the night, saying, In the morning, when it is day, we shall kill him.

(19) Vengeance: destruction of the city gates

3 And Săm'son lay till midnight, and arose at midnight, and took the doors of the gate of the city, and the two posts, and went away with them, bar and all, and put them upon his shoulders, and carried them up to the top of an hill that is before Hē'bron.

(20) Sixth cause for vengeance. Samson and Delilah:

a Probably bound his hands with one and his feet with the other (v 12)
b Heb, aboth, something entwined, as cords (v 13-14; Ps. 2:3; 118:27; 129:4) chains (Ex. 28:24; 39:17-18); and ropes (16:11-12; Isa. 5:18). Whatever it was or how large is not stated, but this much is sure - no ordinary man could have broken such cords in his own strength c Lehi, called Ramath-lehi, height of Lehi, or the lifting up of the jawbone. An unknown place where Samson slew 1,000 Philistines (v 9, 14, 17, 19)
d See note m, 3:10
e This demonstrates the power of the Holy Spirit in the material realm and shows that He is not limited to the spiritual world alone (v 14-15)
f A new bone, not a decayed, rotted one (v 15). It served Samson through the slaying of 1,000 men g See note a, 3:31 on 8 weak things
h See note c, above
i Note the prayer of God's one-man army (v 18). He thought his fighting days were over; but God was not yet through with him; He had other plans for Samson. Without the many personal promises Christians have today, and the numerous examples of answered prayer as recorded in the complete Bible, as we now have it, he believed God and was named with the faith-worthies in the N. T. list (Heb. 11:32). How much more should Christians claim and receive with the abundance promised them! (Mt. 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Lk. 11:1-13; Jn. 14:12-15; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26; Heb. 11:6; 1 Jn. 3:21-22; 5:13-14)
j Question 67, Next, 16:15
k This is one of the most outstanding miracles in the Bible - a hollow place made in the jawbone of an ass and water coming out of the bone by invisible power. This could be seen by the natural eyes and used by man l Enhakkore, the caller's fount (v 19). This implies that he prayed for water or that he called upon God in prayer. Perhaps all of his prayer is not recorded in v 18 m Very few details of his judgeship in Israel are mentioned in this story, as it relates primarily to the supernatural events which happened and not his dealings with his own people. He judged Israel 20 years (v 20) n The second woman in Samson's life other than his mother (v 1; 14:1-4; 16:4-22)
o The plot was made known to Samson, or perhaps the Lord awakened him in time to get out. He took the city gates about a mile to the top of the hill from whence there was a view of the valley leading to Hebron. If he had actually taken them to Hebron he would have carried them about 20 miles (v 1-3; note m, 14:6)

declared war on him and Israel east of the Jordan over such a trivial thing and were defeated, losing 42,000 men (12:1-6)

5 They joined others in the division of the kingdom in the days of David and Ish-bosheth (2 Sam. 2:8-11)
6 They joined the revolt against David under Absalom (2 Sam. 17:25)
7 They revolted with 10 tribes against David in the matter of jealousy over bringing him back (2 Sam. 19:43-20:26)
8 They were leaders in the final revolt against the house of David in the 2nd and last division of the kingdom of Israel; Ephraim became the name of the northern kingdom of Israel as used in many scriptures (1 Ki. 12; Isa. 7:2-17; 11:13; 28:1; Ezek. 37:16-19; Hos. 4:17; 5:3-14; 6:4, 10; 7:1-11; 8:9-11; 9:3-16; 10:6-11; 11:3-12; 12:1-14; 13:1-12; 14:8; Zech. 9:10-13; 10:7)

6 rewards to Gideon (8:24)

1 Honor from his people (v 22-23)
2 Gold earrings in the amount of 1,700 shekels of gold - $16,481.50 @ $9.69 1/2 a shekel (v 24-26)
3 Other ornaments (v 26)
4 Collars, Heb. netiyphah, pendants for the ears, especially of pearls
5 Purple raiment of the kings
6 Gold chains that were about the camels' necks

a Samson's loves always got him into trouble. He had one weakness - foreign women, and all three in his life were Philistines:
1 His wife from Timnath (14:1-4)
2 The harlot in Gath (16:1)
3 Delilah of Sorek (16:4-22)
His parents made one weak protest against his strange loves: "Is there never a woman among the daughters of thy brethren, or among all my people, that thou goest to take a wife of the uncircumcised Philistines?" (14:3). Such was permitted of God though, in His plan to deliver Israel from the Philistines (14:4). Samson went too far at times, however, and did not seek the guidance of God in his love affairs b Valley of Sorek, valley of the choice vine. Sorek means vine. It was located in the south part of Dan. A brook running through the valley emptied into the Mediterranean near Askelon (v 4) c Delilah, languishing or delicate. The only one of Samson's lovers named (4-18)

d There were 5 lords of Philistia (Josh. 13:3)

e Samson was always mismatched and found women who did not really love him. They either had other lovers or were friends of his enemies who always caused trouble between them. He seemed to love deeply and this caused the others to take advantage of him to deceive and betray him. In the first and last cases both the other lovers of the women and their people agreed together to take advantage of him (14:1-20; 16:1-22)

f Such a woman would be heartless - cooperating with men who had plainly declared that they wanted her lover to bind and afflict him (v 5) g The use of the word afflict here does not refer to giving a disease or making sick, but to tormenting and killing (v 5). See Affliction in Index

h Each one of the 5 lords of the Philistines was to give 1,100 pieces of silver (16:5). If shekels of silver at 64¢ each, then Delilah was to receive the equivalent of $704.00 from each or $3,520.00 from the 5 lords, for betraying Samson. Such an amount would be tempting to the ungodly and wicked of the world

i This first attempt to get his secret should have been a warning to Samson, but not so (v 6)

j Heb. yether, an overhanging, such as vines, twigs, willow; also any rope made from such. Ropes of great strength were made of various materials as grass and pliant wood twisted together. The Sept. reads, "seven thongs, wet, but not rotten;" the Peshitta, "seven bowstrings that were never dried;" the Berkeley, "seven fresh, wood fiber cords not yet dried." Whatever the ropes were made of we know they were very strong (v 7-9)

k He snapped the green withs as a thread of tow when it touches fire (v 9). Tow refers to the flax or hemp used for spinning. It is very inflammable (v 9; Isa. 1:31; 43:17)

l What Samson told Delilah next was that being bound with new ropes would make him as weak as other men; but when she tied him thus he snapped the bindings again as he did the 7 green withs and other ropes his brethren bound him with (15:13; 16:9)

m Delilah was coming closer to his secret all the time. The first two instances concerned the binding of his hands and feet, but now he mentioned his hair

n It is clear that v 13 ends abruptly and does not contain the full sense of the passage which, according to the Sept. reads, "If thou wert to weave these seven locks of my head with the woof, and fasten them into the wall with that pin, I should be as weak as other men." Moffat, "If you weave the seven plaits of my head into the web of the loom and twist them in with a pin, my strength shall fail." The web was the cloth of the loom which Delilah was weaving, and which she rolled up on the beam. She fastened it with a pin against the wall to hold it stationary so it would not unroll. When she had Samson's locks of hair woven in as instructed and he was asleep, she called the Philistines who were hiding in her house. They sought to capture him. Instead, he went away with the pin and the whole of the web wherein his hair was woven (v 13-14)

A Bound with seven green withs

4 ¶ And it came to pass afterward, that he[a] loved a woman in the[b] valley of Sō'rek, whose name was Dĕ-lī'lah.

●5 And the[c] lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş came up unto her, and said unto her, [d]Entice him, and see wherein his great strength lieth, and by what means we may prevail against him, [e]that we may bind him to afflict him: and we will give thee[f] every one of us eleven hundred pieces of silver.

6 ¶ And Dĕ-lī'lah said to Săm'son, [g]Tell me, I pray thee, wherein thy great strength lieth, and wherewith thou mightest be bound to afflict thee.

7 And Săm'son said unto her, If they bind me with seven green [h]withs that were never dried, then shall I be weak, and be as another man.

8 Then the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş brought up to her seven green withs which had not been dried, and she bound him with them.

9 Now there were men lying in wait, abiding with her in the chamber. And she said unto him, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş be upon thee, Săm'son. And he[i] brake the withs, as a thread of tow is broken when it toucheth the fire. So his strength was not known.

B Bound by new ropes

10 And Dĕ-lī'lah said unto Săm'son, Behold, thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: now tell me, I pray thee, wherewith thou mightest be bound.

11 And he said unto her, If they bind me fast with [j]new ropes that were never occupied, then shall I be weak, and be as another man.

12 Dĕ-lī'lah therefore took new ropes, and bound him therewith, and said unto him, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş be upon thee, Săm'son. And there were liers in wait abiding in the chamber. And he brake them from off his arms like a thread.

C Seven locks tied to a beam

13 And Dĕ-lī'lah said unto Săm'son, Hitherto thou hast mocked me, and told me lies: tell me wherewith thou mightest be bound. And he said unto her, If thou weavest[m] the seven locks of my head[n] with the web.

14 And she fastened it with the pin, and said unto him, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş be upon thee, Săm'son. And he awaked out of his sleep, and went away with the pin of the beam, and with the web.

D Samson's first haircut

15 ¶ And she said unto him, [o]How canst thou say, I love thee, when thine heart is not with me? thou hast mocked me these[p] three times, and hast not told me wherein thy great strength lieth.

16 And it came to pass, when she pressed him daily with her words, and urged him, so that his soul was[q] vexed unto death;

17 That [r]he told her all his heart, and said unto her, There hath not come a razor upon mine head; for I have been a Năz'a-rīte unto God from my mother's womb: [s]if I be shaven, then my strength will go from me, and I shall become weak, and be like any other man.

18 And when Dĕ-lī'lah saw that he had told her all his heart, she [t]sent and called for the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş, saying, Come up this once, for he hath shewed me all his heart. Then the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş came up unto her, and brought money in their hand.

19 And she [u]made him sleep upon her knees; and she called for a man, and she caused him to [v]shave off the seven locks of his head; and she [w]began to afflict him, and his strength went from him.

(21) Samson's humiliation

20 And she said, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş be upon thee, Săm'son. And he[x] awoke out of his sleep, and said, I will go out as at other times before, and shake myself. And he wist not that the LORD [y]was departed from him.

21 ¶ But the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş [z]took him, and [a]put out his eyes, and brought him down to Gā'zā, and bound him with fetters of brass; and he did [b]grind in the prison house.

22 Howbeit the [c]hair of his head began to grow again after he was shaven.

23 Then the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş gathered [d]them together for to offer a great sacrifice unto [e]Dā'gon their god, and to rejoice: for they said, [f]Our god hath delivered Săm'son our enemy into our hand.

24 And when the people saw him, they praised their god: for they said, Our god hath delivered into our hands our enemy, and the destroyer of our country, which slew [g]many of us.

●25 And it came to pass, when their hearts were merry, that they said, [h]Call for Săm'son, that he may make us sport. And they called for Săm'son out of the prison house; and he made them sport: and they set him between the pillars.

(22) Vengeance: 3,000 slain

26 And Săm'son said unto the lad that held him by the hand, Suffer me that I may feel the pillars whereupon the house standeth, that I may lean upon them.

27 Now the house was full of men and women; and all the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş were there; and there were upon the roof about three thousand men and women, that beheld while Săm'son made sport.

28 And Săm'son [i]called unto the LORD, and said, O Lord GOD, remember me, I pray thee, and strengthen me, I pray thee, only this once, O God, a Her continual urging to tell her the truth finally brought him to despair, and instead of leaving her and keeping himself free to obey God and deliver Israel from the Philistines Samson chose to tell her his whole heart

b Samson's price for his foolishness, p. 289

c Samson's strength did not lie in his hair or in his muscles, but in the relationship and contact he had with God through the Holy Spirit which was upon him (13:25; 14:6, 19; 15:14) and his faith in God (Heb. 11:32-40). His hair was a token of his vow to God and spoke of that relationship which gave him strength

d See 7 sins of Delilah, p. 288

e Whether she used some drug to put him to sleep is not known, but how he could remain thus without such while his head was being shaved is hard to understand (v 19)

f Heb. galach, to shave; poll or cut off. Trans. shave (v 19, 22; Gen. 41:14; Lev. 13:33; 14:8-9; 21:5; Num. 6:9, 18-19; Dt. 21:12; 2 Sam. 10:4; 1 Chr. 19:4; Isa. 7:20; Jer. 41:5; Ezek. 44:20) and polled (2 Sam. 14:26)

g Perhaps she bound him and cut off his hair at the same time, then began to torment him to see if his strength was gone, finally calling the lords of the Philistines. It seems that he was already bound when they came to get him (v 21). Other versions read: Sept., "she began to humble him; for his strength was gone from him;" Berkeley, "she began to control him, for his strength left him;" Peshitta, "she began to overpower him, and his strength had departed from him" (v 19)

h See Samson's new world, p. 288

i See 7 statements of God departing from man, p. 287

j Some versions are stronger here: the Philistines seized him and gouged (bored) out his eyes..., bound him with bronze chains, and put him to grinding in the prison (v 21)

k To punish him and keep him from planning any further war on them should his strength return (v 21)

l Grinding at the mill was the work of women and slaves, which shows to what low state he was reduced - that of slavery. Also among the Greeks and Romans slaves were sometimes compelled to grind as a punishment. A man could not be humbled more than this. Cp. Lam. 5:13; Mt. 24:41

m Not only did his hair begin to grow, but no doubt Samson renewed his Nazarite vow and asked God to come back into his life (v 22, 28)

n Gathered the people of Philistia together to a great religious festival honoring Dagon, their god (v 23)

o Dagon was the national god of Philistia. The name is derived from dag, a fish. It means little fish, and refers not so much to size as to affection for it, as dear little fish. From a description of it in I Sam. 5:4 and elsewhere we suppose that the idol was shaped to represent a man with the tail of a fish similar to the mermaid. Ancient Babylonians believed that a being part man and part fish emerged from the Erythraean Sea and appeared at Babylonia in the early days of its history, teaching the people the various arts necessary to their well-being. The god was supposed to represent the reproductive powers of nature, and the fish was an appropriate creature for such an idea, due to its enormous powers of multiplication. A single fish of some species can lay 30,000,000 eggs annually. Representations of this fish-god have been found among the sculptures of Nineveh. The Philistine god no doubt came from this source p What ignorance! It was not an idol made of stone, wood, or metal that did this. It was the treachery of a woman enticed with money that caused Samson to fall into their hands (v 4-22)

q Samson slew 30 the first time (14:19), many with a great slaughter the next time (15:8), and 1,000 at another time (15:16), then 3,000 the last time (16:27, 30)

r This reminds us of the gladiators who, in the days of Christ and the early church, made sport in the arena for Roman spectators

s An example of praying to God while in disgrace and humiliation, and being heard of Him. The result was a great deliverance to Israel (v 28-30) a Samson's concern was vengeance for his two eyes, but God's was the deliverance of a whole nation. Both realized their wish in the destruction of all the lords, leaders, and prominent men of Philistia (v 30). With such a great number destroyed Israel was no doubt free from Philistine oppression for many years. Philistines were in the habit of making sport of even the dead bodies of their enemies, as in the case of Saul and his sons (1 Sam. 31:8-13); but now they were so defeated they did not try to hinder Samson's relatives from taking his dead body away

b The 2 middle pillars were the key to the strength of the entire building. When these fell it brought the house down with the 3,000 people on the roof (v 27) to meet their death with Samson (v 29)

c Note the last words of Samson, the strong man. He was willing to die for the victory of Israel (v 29) d 2 men in Scripture who did more to fulfil the will of God in their death than they did in life:

1 Samson (v 30)
2 Jesus Christ (Mt. 26:28; 1 Cor. 15:3; 2 Cor. 5:15; Gal. 1:4; Col. 1:20-22; Heb. 2:9-18; 13:12; 1 Pet. 2:24)

e The many interesting events of Samson's relationship with his own people for years were omitted by the author of this book. He only recorded the dealings with the enemies of his people. For 20 years Samson judged Israel but we have no details of his judgeship (v 31)

f 7 men called "Micah" in Scripture:
1 An Ephraimite (17:1-13; 18:2-27)
2 Head of a Reubenite family (1 Chr. 5:5)
3 Son of Mephibosheth (1 Chr. 8:34-35; 9:40-41), Called Micha (2 Sam. 9:12)
4 A Levite (1 Chr. 9:15) 24-25)
5 Another Levite (1 Chr. 23:20; 24:6
6 Father of Abdon (2 Chr. 34:20)
7 A minor prophet (Jer. 26:18-19; Mic. 1:1, 14, 15)

g 1,100 shekels at 64¢ each - $704.00. This was the amount each of the lords of the Philistines gave to Delilah (note h, 16:4) h The mother of Micah had 1,100 shekels stolen from her and she spoke curses upon the thief. In hearing of these curses, Micah became afraid and came forth to acknowledge that he had taken the money. He then restored it lest the curses should come upon him. His mother blessed him for being honest enough to return the money (v 2), and told him she had dedicated it to him to make a graven image. She took 200 shekels ($128.00) and hired a silversmith to mould an idol for the home of Micah (v 3-5)

i This was strictly contrary to the 10 commandments (Ex. 20:1-6)

j 200 shekels at 64¢ each - $128.00

k 5 imitations of divine worship (v 5):
1 A house or chapel for his gods, imitating the sanctuary of God in Israel
2 A graven image, imitating Jehovah, the true God or the ark and mercy seat (v 3)
3 An ephod, imitating the sacred garments of the priests (v 5. Cp. Ex. 28)
4 A teraphim, imitating the cherubim above the mercy seat (v 5)
5 A priest, imitating the Aaronic priesthood (v 5. Cp. Ex. 28-29)

l From v 5; 18:14-20; Gen. 31:19; Hos. 3:4 we gather that a teraphim was a household god or an image m This indicates that the writer lived after the establishment of kings in Israel. Found 4 times in this book (v 6; 18:1; 19:1; 21:25). It is impossible to tell exactly when the events of chs. 17-21 took place, but it seems clear that those of chs. 17-18 happened in the lifetime of Joshua, for the same events are referred to in Josh. 19:47-48 and soon after the division of the land. If Joshua wrote the book by his name, then this would have to be the case. This story is enlarged in Judg. 17-18 as a further background and an introduction to the happenings of chs. 19-21, which seem to have been in the days of the early judges. See note h, 18:1

n This indicates there was no recognized government and everything was in confusion. This was true many times in Israel that I may be at once avenged of the Phi'lis'tines[a] for my two eyes.

29 And Săm'son took hold of the [b]two middle pillars upon which the house stood, and on which it was borne up, of the one with his right hand, and of the other with his left.

30 And Săm'son said, [c]Let me die with the Phi-lis'tines. And he bowed himself with all his might; and the house fell upon the lords, and upon all the people that were therein. So the dead which he slew at his death were [d]more than they which he slew in his life.

(23) Burial: length of reign

31 Then his brethren and all the house of his father came down, and took him, and brought him up, and buried him between Zō'rah and Ĕsh'ta-ŏl in the buryingplace of Mă-nō'ah his father. And he judged Is'ra-el[e] twenty years.

CHAPTER 17 228

III Internal disorders: 9th apostasy (Judg. 17:1-21:25).

1 Micah's idolatry

AND there was a man of mount Ĕ'phră-im, whose name was[f] Mī'cah.

2 And he said unto his mother, The [g]eleven hundred shekels of silver that were taken from thee, [h]about which thou cursedst, and spakest of also in mine ears, behold, the silver is with me; I took it. And his mother said, Blessed be thou of the LORD, my son.

3 And when he had restored the eleven hundred shekels of silver to his mother, his mother said, I had wholly dedicated the silver unto the LORD from my hand for my son, [i]to make a graven image and a molten image: now therefore I will restore it unto thee.

4 Yet he restored the money unto his mother; and his mother took [j]two hundred shekels of silver, and gave them to the founder, who made thereof a graven image and a molten image: and they were in the house of Mī'cah.

5 And the man Mī'cah[k] had an house of gods, and made an ephod, and [l]teraphim, and consecrated one of his sons, who became his priest.

2 Unstable government (18:1)

6 [m]In those days there was no king in Is'ra-el, [n]but every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

3 Apostasy of the Levite

7 ¶ And there was a young man out of [o]Bĕth-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah of the family of Jū'dah, who was a Lē'vīte, and he sojourned there.

8 And the man [p]departed out of the city from Bĕth-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah to sojourn where he could find a place: and he came to mount Ĕ'phră-im to the house of Mī'cah, as he journeyed.

9 And Mī'cah[q] said unto him, Whence comest thou? And he said unto him, I am a Lē'vīte[k] of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah, and [r]I go to sojourn where I may find a place.

●10 And Mī'cah said unto him, Dwell with me, and be unto me a father and a priest, and I will give thee [s]ten shekels of silver by the year, and a suit of apparel, and thy victuals. So the Lē'vīte went in.

11 And the Lē'vīte was content to dwell with the man; and the young man was unto him as one of his sons.

12 And Mī'cah consecrated the Lē'vīte; and the young man became his priest, and was in the house of Mī'cah.

13 Then said Mī'cah, [t]Now know I that the LORD will do me good, seeing I have a Lē'vīte to my priest.

CHAPTER 18 229

4 Unstable government (17:6)

IN those days there was [s]no king in Is'ra-el: and [h]in those days [i]the tribe of the Dăn'ites sought them an inheritance to dwell in; for [j]unto that day all their inheritance had not fallen unto them among the tribes of Is'ra-el.

5 Mission of Danite spies to seek an inheritance

●2 And the children of Dăn sent of their family five men from their coasts, [k]men of [l]valour, from [m]Zō'rah, and from Ĕsh'ta-ŏl, to spy out the land, and to search it; and they said unto them, Go, search the land: who when they came to mount Ĕ'phrā'im, to the house of Mī'cah, they lodged there.

3 When they were by the house of Mī'cah, [n]they knew the voice of the [o]young man the Lē'vīte: and they turned in thither, and [p]said unto him, Who brought thee hither? and what makest thou in this place? and what hast thou here?

4 And he said unto them, Thus and thus dealeth Mī'cah with me, and hath hired me, and I am his priest.

●5 And they said unto him, Ask [q]counsel, we pray thee, of God, that we may know whether our way which we go shall be prosperous.

●6 And the priest said unto them, Go in peace: before the LORD is your way wherein ye go.

7 ¶ Then the five men departed, and came to Lā'ish, and saw the people that were therein, how [r]they dwelt careless, after the manner of the Zī'dō'nī-anş, quiet and secure; and there was no magistrate in the land, that might put them to shame in any thing; and they were far from the Zī-dō'nī-anş, and had no business with any man.

8 And they came unto their brethren to Zō'rah and Ĕsh'ta-ŏl: and their brethren said unto them, [s]What say ye?

●9 And they said, Arise, that we may go up against them:

a Question 69. Next, 18:3

b Bethlehem-judah to distinguish it from Bethlehem in Zebulun (Josh. 19:15) c This shows the confusion and unsettled state of Israel. Levites were supposed to be the ministers of the whole 12 tribes and supported by them, but here we have them unsupported and going from place to place seeking somewhere to live where they could make a living (v 9. Cp. Neh. 13:10). All this proves that the true worship of Jehovah was being neglected and idolaters were busy making idols and turning people away from Jehovah

d This further shows how apostate even the Levites were. This one was willing to become a priest to Micah's idol for the low price of $6.40 (10 shekels at 64¢ each), room and board and one new suit of apparel each year (v 10). It was a cheap price for breaking the law and selling his soul to be lost

e Here is the case of a man feeling secure and even blessed of God in idolatry and law-breaking just because he had a god and a priest or minister from the right background, for his god. All Levites were supposed to be blessed of God, being of the tribe chosen to be ministers of God in Israel. But, as in all such cases, the good expected from a mere form of religion never came. Micah was afterward robbed both of his idol and his priest (18:14-31)

f This expression, there was no king in Israel is found 4 times, proving that the writer as well as the time referred to was before the establishment of kings in Israel (v 1; 17:6; 19:1; 21:25)

g This simply means that the period of the kings in Israel, beginning with Saul was not yet come, and that the period of the judges ending with Samuel had not yet come to a close (1 Sam. 8-9). Moses was called a king (Dt. 33:5), and Abimelech, the 7th judge of Israel also (9:6, 18, 22)

h See Chronology of chs. 17-21, p. 294

i This could not refer to the whole of Dan, but to a certain number of that tribe. Only 600 men of war are mentioned as making this invasion in the north of Palestine (v 16)

j Unto that day, meaning unto the day that the 600 Danites went to Leshem to conquer it in the days of Joshua (v 1; Josh. 19:47)

k Men of valour is found 31 times (v 2; 3:29; 20:44-46; Josh. 1:14; 6:2-3; 10:7; 2 Ki. 24:14; 1 Chr. 5:24; 7:7-11, 40; 8:40; 12:21; 25, 30; 26:6, 30-32; 2 Chr. 13:3; 14:8; 17:13-16; 25:6; 26:12; 32:21; Neh. 11:14) and man of valour is found 6 times (6:12; 11:1; 1 Ki. 11:28; 2 Ki. 5:1; 1 Chr. 12:28; 2 Chr. 17:17)

l Heb. chayil, force, wealth, virtue, valor, strength, able, active, might, power, rich, strong, valiant, worthy. These 5 men were evidently chosen because of their personal prowess, physical and mental energy, and earthly possessions. Their courage, judgment, and wisdom were needed to find a place for the Danites who, as yet, had no inheritance (v 1-2) m Samson was born in Zorah (13:2,25). His story is the last one recorded in Judges before this appendix of the history of the tribes of Dan and Benjamin (13:1-16:31). Samson was a Danite and this may be the reason for the events of chs. 17-21 being placed here instead of in the earlier chapters

f With the women, children, and animals, it no doubt took the Danites at least from 4-6 days to make the trip from Zorah to Laish. The second day they came to Mt. Ephraim where Micah had his idols (v 12-14). They stole the idols and persuaded the Levite to go with them to be their priest. for we have seen the land, and, behold, it is very good: [a]and are ye still? be not slothful to go, and to enter to possess the land.

10 When ye go, ye shall come unto a people secure, and to a large land: for God hath given it into your hands; a [b]place where there is no want of any thing that is in the earth.

6 Micah's gods stolen

11 ¶ And there went from thence of the family of the Dăn'ites, out of Zŏ'rah and out of Ĕsh'ta-ŏl, [c]six hundred men [d]appointed with weapons of war.

12 And they went up, and pitched in Kĭr'jath-jĕ'a-rĭm, in Jū'dah: wherefore they called that place [e]Mā'hă-neh-dăn' unto this day: behold, it is behind Kĭr'jath-jĕ'a-rĭm.

13 And they [f]passed thence unto mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, and came unto the house of Mĭ'cah.

14 ¶ Then answered the five men that went to spy out the country of Lā'ish, and said unto their brethren, [g]Do ye know that there is in [h]these houses [i]an ephod, and teraphim, and a graven image, and a molten image? now therefore consider what ye have to do.

15 And they turned thitherward, and came to the house of the young man the Lĕ'vite, even unto the house of Mĭ'cah, and [j]saluted him.

16 And the [k]six hundred men appointed with their weapons of war, which were of the children of Dăn, stood by the entering of the gate.

17 And the five men that went to spy out the land went up, and came in thither, and took the graven image, and the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image: and the priest stood in the entering of the gate with the six hundred men that were appointed with weapons of war.

18 And these went into Mĭ'cah's house, and fetched the carved image, the ephod, and the teraphim, and the molten image. Then said the priest unto them, [l]What do ye?

[m]19 And they said unto him, Hold thy peace, lay thine hand upon thy mouth, and go with us, and be to us a father and a priest: is it better for thee to be a priest unto the house of one man, or that thou be a priest unto a tribe and a family in Ĭs'ra-ĕl?

20 And the priest's [n]heart was glad, and he took the ephod, and the teraphim, and the graven image, and went in the midst of the people.

21 So they turned and departed, and [o]put the little ones and the cattle and the [p]carriage before them.

7 Micah fails to recover his gods

22 ¶ And when they were a good way from the house of Mĭ'cah, the men that were in the houses near to Mĭ'cah's house were gathered together, and [q]overtook the children of Dăn.

23 And they [r]cried unto the children of Dăn. And [s]they turned their faces, and said unto Mĭ'cah, [t]What aileth thee, that thou comest with such a company?

24 And he said, Ye have taken away my gods which I made, and the priest, and ye are gone away: and what have I more? and what is this that ye say unto me, What aileth thee?

[u]25 And the children of Dăn said unto him, Let not thy voice be heard among us, lest angry fellows run upon thee, and thou lose thy life, with the lives of thy household.

26 And the children of Dăn went their way: and [v]when Mĭ'cah saw that they were too strong for him, he turned and went back unto his house.

8 Conquest of Laish and building of the city of Dan

27 And they took [w]the things which Mĭ'cah had made, and the priest which he had, and came unto Lā'ish, unto a people that were at quiet and secure: and they [x]smote them with the edge of the sword, and burnt the city with fire.

28 And there was [y]no deliverer, because it was far from Zĭ'dŏn, and they had no business with any man; and it was in the valley that lieth by Bĕth-rē'hŏb. And they [z]built a city, and dwelt therein.

29 And they called the name of the city Dăn, after the name of Dăn their father, who was born unto Ĭs'ra-el: howbeit the name of the city was Lā'ish at the first.

9 Idolatry of the Danites

30 ¶ And the children of Dăn set up the graven image: [a]and Jŏn'a-than, the son of Gĕr'shŏm, the son of Mā-năs'seh, he and his sons were priests to the tribe of Dăn [b]until the day of the captivity of the land.

31 And they set them up Mĭ'cah's graven image, which he made, all the time that the house of God was in Shī'lōh.

10 Moral conditions: (1) The Levite and his concubine

AND it came to pass in [c]those days, when there was no king in Ĭs'ra-el, that there was a [d]certain Lĕ'vite sojourning on the side of mount Ĕ'phrā'ĭm, who took to him a [e]concubine out of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah.

2 And his concubine [f]played the whore against him, and went away from him unto her father's house to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah, and was there four whole months.

3 And her husband arose, and went after her, to [g]speak friendly unto her, and to bring her again, having his servant with him, and a couple of asses: and she brought him into her father's house: and when the father of the damsel saw him, he [h]rejoiced to meet him.

4 And his father in law, the damsel's father, retained him;

c Questions 78-80, Next, 19:17
d A show of strength has often enabled the wicked to be excused of wrong-doing in the eyes of men, but never in the eyes of God. We must remember that all reaping is not done in this life (Gal. 6:7-8). Micah had to yield to the custom or rule so prevalent then in many lands. The spoils belonged to those who had power to take and keep what they had taken e The ephod, teraphim, and molten and graven images which were included in my gods of v 24
f Such acts on the part of the Danites seem barbarous and exceedingly sinful according to standards of modern thinking and practice among nations, but if this was part of the permissible conquest of the land of promise it must be understood in that light. Who knows how sinful and depraved this people were and how much God had determined their destruction for their sins, as He had determined the punishment of all Canaanites? If they were worthy of destruction for their depravities then it was just that it happen this way and by the instruments of God's wrath on sin (v 27-29; Gen. 15:14; Dt. 7:1-11; 12:1-4)
g Tyre was about 25 miles to the west and since the Lesbemites had no business with any man, living isolated and unprepared for defence, they were easy prey to the well armed Danites. It was impossible to get help so quickly from Zidon even if help was available h To what extent Laish was burned is not stated; but it was rebuilt and named Dan after the 5th son of Jacob (v 28-29; Gen. 30:6). This was the second Dan in north Palestine (Gen. 14:14)
i Jonathan was the grandson of Moses. His contemporary in the high priesthood was Phinehas, the grandson of Aaron, mentioned in 20:28. Manasseh had no son called Gershom. Instead of the word Manasseh the Heb. word is Mosheh, Moses. It was altered to Manasseh in some copies, but all ancient authorities agree that it was a substitution for Moses to spare the reputation of the great lawgiver and preserve the honor of his name and memory among Israelites. Ancient Jews suspended the Heb. letter nun over the word Mosheh, which was then changed to Manasseh. To this not only agree the ancient authorities of both Jews and Gentiles, but also many of the modern translators, Rotherham, Moffatt, Berkeley and others have it son of Moses. Commentators also agree that this is correct (v 30). Shebuel, meaning he returned to God, is supposed to be the name of Jonathan after his repentance; it is used of him ever afterward (1 Chr. 23:15-16; 26:24). Called also Shubael (1 Chr. 24:20) j The sons of Jonathan were priests at Dan until the ark was taken by the Philistines, which was the last year of Eli's life, for after that the ark was returned to Shiloh no more. They had a worship which was rival to Shiloh until this time (v 31); and they continued in this priestly capacity until the captivity of the land (v 30), which refers to the time the Philistines captured the ark and destroyed the tabernacle in the 40 years of Eli (v 30-31; 1 Sam. 4; Ps. 78:60-64; Jer. 7:12; 26:6). Many think that because of this idolatry God does not name Dan in the list of the tribes saved during Daniel's 70th week (Rev. 7:1-8), but there is no proof of this. On the same basis of going into idolatry He would also cut off the other tribes, for all were guilty of this in many periods during the more than 1,053 years between Joshua and the captivity of Judah to Babylon. In fact, this was the reason for the captivity of all Israel to Assyria and Babylon (Judg. 2:11-15; 2 Ki. 17:7-23; 23:3-20). See p. 305 of N. T.

m Concubines were secondary wives and customary in those times. They differed in nothing from a first or real wife, except in the posterity not inheriting what was legal to give to sons of the first wife (v 1-2; Gen. 15:4; 21:10). They a He stayed 3 full days expecting to leave on the 4th day, but at the insistence of the father-in-law he remained until the 5th. He planned to leave early but was urged to stay until the heat of the day was over. He was then urged to stay again all night, but refused, and departed going as far as Gibeah(v 4-14). Here one of the greatest crimes on Bible record was committed (v 15-28)

b Jebus, or Jerusalem was still in the hands of the Jebusites (1:21). Not wanting to stay all night among strangers, the Levite declined to remain in Jerusalem over night (v 11-12). It would have been a great blessing if he had stayed; his wife would have lived, 65,130 known dead in Israel would have lived, and many cities and their inhabitants and stock would have been spared (20:21, 25, 35, 39, 48). Strangers could not have committed a worse crime than the men of Benjamin in Gibeah as in v 22-30 c This reads as if there was no inn or public house of entertainment in Gibeah, and travellers had to depend solely on hospitality. Or, it could be that, as in Lk. 2:7, there was an inn but it was full. From earliest times there were inns as today, but perhaps not in every place (Gen. 42:27; 43:21; Ex. 4:24; Lk. 10:34)

d The Levite did not want to lodge among strangers in Jerusalem (v 12), but here the only man that would give him lodging for the night was a stranger and a sojourner in Gibeah (v 16-21)

e Gibeah, Heb. gibhah, a hill in contrast with har, a mountain or mountain range. Two places are called Gibeah, one in Judah southeast of Hebron (Josh. 15:57; 2 Chr. 13:2), and the other in Benjamin about 4 miles north of Jerusalem and a short distance east of the main road to Shechem (v 12-16; 20:4-43; 1 Sam. 14:2-5, 16; 2 Sam. 23:29). The latter was the home of Saul (1 Sam. 10:26; 11:4; 15:34; 23:19; 26:1; 2 Sam. 21:6; Isa. 10:29). Here he fought with the Philistines and was victorious (1 Sam. 13:2, 15-16) and here his 7 sons were killed to appease the Gibeonites (2 Sam. 21)

m Heb. adon, to rule; sovereign; ruler; master; owner. Adon is used of God and trans. Lord meaning He is Sovereign and King of all; Master and Ruler of all; and Owner of all creations. It is used of God 33 times (Ex. 32:22; Josh. 3:11; 5:14; Judg. 6:13; Neh. 3:5; 8:10; 10:29; Ps. 8:1; 97:5; 110:1; 114:7; 135:5; 136:3; 147:5; Isa. 1:24; 3:1; 10:16, 33; 19:4; 51:22; Dan. 10:16-19; Hos. 12:14; Mic. 4:13; Zech. 1:9; 4:4-5, 13-14; 6:4-5; Mal. 3:1). It is used of men 156 times and is trans. lord 181 times; master 74 times (Gen. 24:9-65; 39:4-8, 32; Dt. 23:15; Judg. 19:11-22; 1 Sam. 20:38; 24:6; 25:10-17; 26:16; 29:4; 30:13-15; 2 Sam. 2:7; 1 Ki. 22:17; 2 Ki. 2:3-5, 16; 5:1, 18, 20, 22, 25; 6:5, 15, 22; 8:14; 9:7, 31; 10:9, 18; 27; 19:4-6; 1 Chr. 12:19; 2 Chr. 18:16; Job 3:19; Pr. 27:18; 30:10; Isa. 24:2; 36:8, 12; 37:4-6; Mal. 1:6); and owner (1 Ki. 16:24). n The Levite evidently thought to go home without his concubine, intending to leave her to the human beasts he thrust her out to the night before (v 27). How he could have lived with his conscience no one can say. Finding her dead he then sought for punishment of the men who had committed such a crime. This he did by cutting her body into 12 pieces and sending it to the 12 tribes to show all Israel what horrible deeds the men of Gibeah had committed (v 29-30) and he abode with him [a]three days: so they did eat and drink, and lodged there.

●5 ¶ And it came to pass on the fourth day, when they arose early in the morning, that he rose up to depart: and the damsel's father said unto his son in law, Comfort thine heart with a morsel of bread, and afterward go your way.

●6 And they sat down, and did eat and drink both of them together: for the damsel's father had said unto the man, Be content, I pray thee, and tarry all night, and let thine heart be merry.

7 And when the man rose up to depart, his father in law urged him: therefore he lodged there again.

●8 And he arose early in the morning on the fifth day to depart: and the damsel's father said, Comfort thine heart, I pray thee. And they tarried until afternoon, and they did eat both of them.

9 And when the man rose up to depart, he, and his concubine, and his servant, his father in law, the damsel's father, said unto him, Behold, now the day draweth toward evening, I pray you tarry all night: behold, the day groweth to an end, lodge here, that thine heart may be merry; and to morrow get you early on your way, that thou mayest go home.

(2) His stay at Gibeah

10 But the man would not tarry that night, but he rose up and departed, and came over against [b]Jĕ'bus, which is Jĕ-ru'-să'lĕm; and there were with him two asses saddled, his concubine also was with him.

11 And when they were by Jĕ'bus, the day was far spent; and the servant said unto his master, Come, I pray thee, and let us turn in into this city of the Jĕb'u-sites, and lodge in it.

12 And his master said unto him, We will not turn aside hither into the city of a stranger, that is not of the children of Ĭs'ra-el; we will pass over to Gĭb'e-ah.

●13 And he said unto his servant, Come, and let us draw near to one of these places to lodge all night, in Gĭb'e-ah, or in Rā'mah.

14 And they passed on and went their way; and the sun went down upon them when they were by Gĭb'e-ah, which belongeth to Bĕn'ja-mĭn.

15 And they turned aside thither, to go in and to lodge in Gĭb'e-ah: and when he went in, he sat him down in a street of the city: [c]for there was no man that took them into his house to lodging.

16 ¶ And, behold, there came an [d]old man from his work out of the field at even, which was also of mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm; and he sojourned in [e]Gĭb'e-ah: but the men of the place were Bĕn'ja-mites.

17 And when he had lifted up his eyes, he saw a wayfaring man in the street of the city: and the old man said, [f]Whither goest thou? and whence comest thou?

18 And he said unto him, We are passing from Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah [g]toward the side of mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm; from thence am I: and I went to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah, but I am now going to the house of the LORD; and there is no man that receiveth me to house.

19 Yet there is both straw and provender for our asses; and there is bread and wine also for me, and for thy handmaid, and for the young man which is with thy [h]servants: there is no want of any thing.

20 And the old man said, Peace be with thee; howsoever [i]let all thy wants lie upon me; only lodge not in the street.

21 So he brought him into his house, and gave [j]provender unto the asses: and they washed their feet, and did eat and drink.

(3) Sodomites of Gibeah abuse the concubine all night

●22 ¶ Now as they were making their hearts merry, behold, the men of the city, certain [k]sons of Bĕ'lĭ-al, [l]beset the house round about, and beat at the door, and spake to the master of the house, the old man, saying, Bring forth the man that came into thine house, [g]that we may know him.

23 And the man, the master of the house, went out unto them, and [h]said unto them, Nay, my brethren, nay, I pray you, do not so wickedly; seeing that this man is come into mine house, do not this [i]folly.

24 Behold, [j]here is my daughter a maiden, and his concubine; them I will bring out now, and humble ye them, and do with them what seemeth good unto you: but unto this man do not so vile a thing.

25 But the men would not hearken to him: so the man took his concubine, and brought her forth unto them; and they knew her, and abused her all the night until the morning: and when the day began to spring, they let her go.

(4) The concubine found dead

26 Then came [k]the woman in the dawning of the day, and fell down at the door of the man's house where [l]her [m]lord was, till it was light.

27 And her lord rose up in the morning, and opened the doors of the house, and [n]went out to go his way: and, behold, the woman his concubine was fallen down at the door of the house, and her hands were upon the threshold.

●28 And he said unto her, Up, and let us be going. But none answered. Then the man took her up upon an ass, and the man rose up, and gat him unto his place.

(5) Concubine cut in twelve pieces and sent to all Israel

29 ¶ And when he was come a He was going toward mount Ephraim, that is, the mountain range of Ephraim, and to the house of the Lord in Shiloh (v 18). Perhaps he was returning to his priestly duties there. This Levite was different from the one in 17:7; and there is no connection between this and the story of chs. 17-18. The purpose of the two is to reveal the depth of sin and apostasy in Israel at this time

b Some copies of Scripture read servant, the Levite referring to himself, for he had only one servant with him and his concubine (v 3, 19)

c Of all the men in Gibeah, the old man, the stranger, was the only one who showed any hospitality (v 20-21)

7fold custom of hospitality:

1 Saying: Peace be with you (v 20)
2 Let all your wants be supplied at my expense
3 Lodge not in the street, but come into my house for the night 21)
4 Bringing the visitor into the house(v
5 Giving food for his animals
6 Washing his feet (cp. Lk. 7:36-50)
7 Setting meat and drink before him

d In countries principally devoted to pasture there was no hay. The people did raise wheat and cut the straw into pieces and mix it with barley, beans, and pounded kernels of dates. They made this into little balls which they fed to the stock. Such was the provender of this verse (v 21)

e Sons of Belial, worthless fellows; scoundrels; sons of the devil; children of evil (v 22; 20:13; Dt. 13:13; 1 Sam. 1:16; 2:12; 10:27; 25:17, 25; 30:22; 2 Sam. 16:7; 20:1; 23:6; 1 Ki. 21:10-13; 2 Chr. 13:7; 2 Cor. 6:15)

f A repetition of the experience of Lot in Sodom, a result of moral corruption which follows backsliding and apostasy (v 22-26 with Gen. 19:4-9). However, angels did not rescue the Levite and his wife from the mob, as in Sodom (Gen. 19:10-24)

g This is sodomy or homosexuality as it is more commonly called today (v 22; Gen. 19; Rom. 1:18-32). ›See Sodomy in Index

h The stranger was more righteous and clean morally than these Benjamites. He pleaded with them like Lot, urging that they not do this wickedness to a man who had come to him as a guest. He offered his own daughter as well as the concubine of the Levite to them instead (v 23-24). Lot had offered his two daughters to the Sodomites but they were so depraved with unnatural lust they demanded the angels instead (Gen. 19:8-11). Such wickedness will always be judged by God; if not immediately as in the case of Sodom, then in hell (Rom. 1:18-32; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; Rev. 20:11-15; 21:8; 22:15). This story shows that the rights of hospitality were very sacred in the East, and most highly respected and guarded. This man was willing to sacrifice a virgin daughter to the lusts of brute men in order to protect his guest and keep the law of hospitality sacred (v 23-24)

i See 15 things that were folly in Israel, note k, Josh. 7:15

j There was no excuse for any father to sacrifice a virgin to such lustful, demonized men. To die fighting for the purity of womanhood would be better, if need be. The Levite, as well as the father, was a coward and sought to save his own body at the expense of his concubine. He took (Heb. yachazek, to seize by violence) his concubine and brought her out to the men who abused her until the morning and then let her go (v 25). This proves that the woman would not go out to them of her own accord, and his forcing her to go out to be thus abused proved his lack of real love for her. This lack could have been the cause of their recent separation (v 1-3) k The woman had been so abused all night by many men that she fell dead at the door of the house where her so-called lord was and perhaps had enjoyed a good night of sleep. The fact that he arose to go his way implies indifference to the fate of his concubine.

a The Levite sent a part of the body of his concubine to each of the 12 tribes of Israel giving full information as to how she had been murdered and perhaps pronouncing a curse upon the tribe that did not come to avenge him and destroy the sodomites who had committed this crime. The law had commanded that every sodomite be killed (Lev. 18:22-29). God, Himself had set the example of destroying all such (Gen. 19); hence, the Levite had lawful grounds for desiring vengeance

b Here we have what was the desired effect from sending parts of the murdered woman's body throughout Israel. All declared that no such deed had ever been committed in Israel since coming out of Egypt. It made true men angry and stirred them up to take vengeance and destroy such depraved men in Israel (v 29-30)

c 6 civil strifes in Joshua and Judges:
1 Strife between 2 1/2 tribes and 9 1/2 tribes in days of Joshua (Josh. 22)
2 Ephraim against Gideon (8:1-17)
3 Abimelech against sons of Gideon who might have ruled (9:1-21)
4 Abimelech and Gaal (9:22-57)
5 Ephraim against Gileadites (12:1-7)
6 Benjamin and the others of Israel (20:1-48). This should be the 2nd perhaps, as to chronology, as it took place in the early days of the judges, as proved on p. 294

d Israel gathered as one man (v 1), decided to act as one man (v 8), and did act as one man (v 11)

e The events of chs. 17-18 were already history and from Dan to Beer-sheba was already considered the northern and southern extremities of Israel. Chronology of chs. 17-21, p. 294

f 6 places called Mizpeh:
1 In Gilead (11:1,29,34; Gen. 31:49)
2 A valley in north Palestine on the slopes of Hermon (Josh. 11:2-3)
3 A town in Judah
4 A town in Moab (1 Sam. 22:3)
5 A place in the wilderness near Tekoa (2 Chr. 20:24)
6 A place in Benjamin (20:1-3; 21:1-8; Josh. 15:38; 18:26; 1 Sam. 7:5-16; 10:17)
Mizpeh in Benjamin was the convention place of Israel on this occasion. Assemblies were frequently held there afterwards (1 Sam. 7:11; 10:17). It was close enough to Shiloh that the people could go up to the tabernacle to inquire of God (v 18, 23, 26-28)

g 400,000 men of Israel were gathered to fight against only 26,700 Benjamites (v 2, 15). 40,030 men of Israel were killed and 25,100 men of Benjamin (v 21, 25, 35, 39)

b The Benjamites refused to answer the summons to the convention, but when they heard the other tribes were gathered they mobilized to fight them (v 3, 14-17) into his house, he took a knife, and laid hold on his concubine, and divided her, together with her bones, into[a] twelve pieces, and sent her into all the coasts of Iś'ra-el.

●30 And it was so, [b]that all that saw it said, There was no such deed done nor seen from the day that the children of Iś'ra-el came up out of the land of É'gypt unto this day: consider of it, take advice, and speak your minds.

CHAPTER 20 231

11 [c]Sixth civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.). (1) Mobilization of Israel

THEN all the children of Iś'ra-el [c]went out, and the congregation was gathered together [d]as one man, [e]from Dăn even to Bĕ'er-shĕ'bá, with the land of Gĭl'e-ăd, unto the LORD in [f]Miz'peh.

2 And the chief of all the people, even of all the tribes of Iś'ra-el, presented themselves in the assembly of the people of God, [g]four hundred thousand footmen that drew sword.

3 (Now the children of Bĕn'ja-mín [h]heard that the children of Iś'ra-el were gone up to Miz'peh.) Then said the children of Iś'ra-el, [i]Tell us, how was this wickedness?

(2) Sin rehearsed to Israel

4 And the Lĕ'vite, the husband of the woman that was slain, answered and said, [j]I came into Gĭb'e-ah that belongeth to Bĕn'ja-mín, I and my concubine, to lodge.

5 And the men of Gĭb'e-ah rose against me, and beset the house round about upon me by night, and thought to have slain me: and my concubine have they forced, that she is dead.

6 And I took my concubine, and cut her into pieces, and sent her throughout all the country of the inheritance of Iś'ra-el: for they have committed lewdness and folly in Iś'ra-el.

(3) War declared on Gibeah: sodomites demanded to be slain

7 Behold, ye are all children of Iś'ra-el; [k]give here your advice and counsel.

8 ¶ And all the people arose as one man, saying, [l]We will not any of us go to his tent, neither will we any of us turn into his house.

9 But now this shall be the thing which we will do to Gĭb'e-ah; we will go up by lot against it;

10 And we will take ten men of an hundred throughout all the tribes of Iś'ra-el, and an hundred of a thousand, and a thousand out of ten thousand, to fetch victual for the people, that they may do, when they come to Gĭb'e-ah of Bĕn'ja-mín, according to all the folly that they have wrought in Iś'ra-el.

11 So all the men of Iś'ra-el were gathered against the city, knit together as one man.

12 ¶ And the tribes of Iś'ra-el sent men through all the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mín, [c]saying, [b]What wickedness is this that is done among you?

13 Now therefore, deliver us the men, the children of Bĕ'lĭ-al, which are in Gĭb'e-ah, that we may put them to death, and put away evil from Iś'ra-el. But the children of Bĕn'ja-mín would not hearken to the voice of their brethren the children of Iś'ra-el:

(4) Benjamites mobilized to protect the sodomites, breaking the law of Lev. 18:22-30

14 But [c]the children of Bĕn'ja-mín gathered themselves together out of the cities unto Gĭb'e-ah, to go out to battle against the children of Iś'ra-el.

15 And the children of Bĕn'ja-mín were numbered at that time out of the cities twenty and six thousand men that drew sword, beside the inhabitants of Gĭb'e-ah, which were numbered seven hundred chosen men.

16 Among all this people there were seven hundred chosen men [d]lefthanded; every one could [e]sling stones at an hair breadth, and not miss.

17 And the men of Iś'ra-el, beside Bĕn'ja-mín, were numbered four hundred thousand men that drew sword: all these were men of war.

(5) First battle: Israel beaten

■18 ¶ And the children of Iś'ra-el arose, and [f]went up to the house of God, and [g]asked counsel of God, and said, [h]Which of us shall go up first to the battle against the children of Bĕn'ja-mín? And the LORD said, [i]Jú'dah shall go up first.

19 And the children of Iś'ra-el rose up in the morning, and encamped against Gĭb'e-ah.

20 And [f]the men of Iś'ra-el went out to battle against Bĕn'ja-mín; and the men of Iś'ra-el put themselves in array to fight against them at Gĭb'e-ah.

21 And the children of Bĕn'ja-mín came forth out of Gĭb'e-ah, and destroyed down to the ground of the Iś'ra-el-ĭtes that day [k]twenty and two thousand men.

(6) Second battle: Israel beaten

22 And the people the men of Iś'ra-el encouraged themselves, and set their battle again in array in the place where they put themselves in array the first day.

■23 (And the children of Iś'ra-el went up and wept before the LORD until even, and asked counsel of the LORD, [f]saying, Shall I go up again to battle against the children of Bĕn'ja-mín my brother? And the LORD said, Go up against him.)

24 And the children of Iś'ra-el came near against the children of Bĕn'ja-mín the second day.

25 And Bĕn'ja-mín went forth against them out of Gĭb'e-ah a The men of Israel were just and fair regardless of their anger against the wicked men of Gibeah. They sent to inquire about the wickedness (v 12), asking Benjamin to deliver the men who had committed this crime to be punished with death, and thus put away such evil in Israel (v 13). The tribe of Benjamin rebelled and would not hear their brethren, so made themselves a party to the crime by shielding the criminals. They, by their act, told the other tribes that they would stand by the sodomites in what they had done. This proves the whole tribe was morally depraved, wicked, guilty and worthy of punishment

b Question 84, Next, v 18

c The term children of Benjamin here is used to distinguish them from the children of Israel, not because they were any less Israelites than the others but simply for the sake of distinction between the two groups (v 14-48). The same principle holds true in the great division of the tribes into the children of Judah, composed of 2 tribes and many of the other tribes that remained true to David, and the children of Israel, composed of the majority of the 10 tribes. These terms were used during the time of the division of the kingdom from Jeroboam and Rehoboam to the captivities, but not with the idea that the Israelites in Judah, Benjamin, and the other tribes who remained in the southern kingdom were now non-Israelites because the nation was divided, or that the only Israelites were those of Israel in the northern kingdom who were in the majority. How could the division of a nation make some to cease being Israelites and others to continue being Israelites? Divided or not, they were all of the same nationality

d All left-handed men mentioned in Scripture were from the tribe of Benjamin (v 16; 3:15)

e See note on sling (1 Sam. 17:40)

f They left Mizpeh and went up to Shiloh to the house of God to inquire of Phinehas, the high priest (v 18, 27-28)

g The high priest had the Urim and Thummim whereby inquiry from God could be made. See Urim and Thummim, p. 118

h Question 85, Next, v 23

i Just why Judah was to go up first to fight against Benjamin is not revealed, but the all-wise God had His reason as He has in all things ordered by Him

j Here Judah is called the men of Israel (v 18, 20). They have always been and always will be Israelites along with the other tribes

k Of the men of Judah and others with them 22,000 were lost the first day (v 21), 18,000 were killed the second day (v 25), and only 30 the last day (v 39), while 25,000 of Benjamin were killed on this day (v 35)

4 Before the 4th servitude (4:1-3)

7 Before the 6th servitude (10:6-18)
8 Before the 7th servitude (13:1)
9 Before Dan's invasion (17:1-18:30) a Instead of asking God for help and trusting in Him, it seems the tribes trusted in their own numbers and strength, and in the justice of their cause against Benjamin at first. God permitted them to be greatly humbled the first two days, before going to battle again they spent the third day in fasting and prayer, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before God (v 26). He then assured them of victory for the next day (v 28), and outlined their strategy which was like that which enabled Israel to take Ai (v 29-46; Josh. 8)

e Not the 3rd day in succession, or the 3rd day after the war began, but the 3rd of 3 days they fought with Benjamin. They fasted and prayed on what would have been the 3rd day and this was the 4th (v 19-21, 25, 26, 30)
f The strategy on the 3rd day of fighting was to draw Benjamin away and let liers in wait fall upon the city as Israel did at Ai (v 32-34; Josh. 8)
g They knew not that destruction from the Lord was ready to fall upon them for their sin of protecting sodomites and refusing to turn them over for execution as the law of Moses demanded (v 34; Lev. 18:22-29). Even rape and adultery were punishable by death (Lev. 18:20; 20:1-17; Dt. 22:22-26)
h 40,030 men had been killed in the 11-tribe army when they fought without God fighting with them; now, when the Lord moved against Benjamin, practically the whole tribe was destroyed in one day (v 35)
i How many in the city were destroyed is not known, but 24,100 soldiers of Benjamin on the field of battle were killed (v 35-37)
j This was the same sign that the soldiers at Ai used (v 38; Josh. 8:20-21)

6 Taking advantage of a man in his weakness, while asleep, to destroy him (v 19-25)

2 He was no longer a Nazarite
3 He was as weak as other men, for his strength had left him (v 17-19)
4 His new lover had betrayed him (v 18) 19-21)
5 His enemies had power over him (v
6 He was not at all like he had been at other times when he shook himself (v 20)
7 The Lord had departed from him
8 He was helpless to fight back as at other times (v 20-21) the second day, and destroyed down to the ground of the children of Iṣ'ra-el again [d]eighteen thousand men; all these drew the sword.

(7) Israel's prayer and fast

26 ¶ Then all the children of Iṣ'ra-el, and all the people, went up, and came unto the house of God, and wept, and sat there before the LORD, and fasted that day until even, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings before the LORD.

27 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el enquired of the LORD, (for the ark of the covenant of God was there in those days, 28 [b]And [c]Phin'e-has, the son of Ĕ-le-a'zar, the son of Aâr'on, stood before it in those days,) saying, [d]Shall I yet again go out to battle against the children of Bĕn'ja-min my brother, or shall I cease? And the LORD said, Go up; for to morrow I will deliver them into thine hand. ●

(8) Third battle: Benjamin almost totally destroyed

29 And Iṣ'ra-el set liers in wait round about Gĭb'e-ah.

30 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el went up against the children of Bĕn'ja-min on the [e]third day, and put themselves in array against Gĭb'e-ah, as at other times.

31 And the children of Bĕn'ja-min went out against the people, and were drawn away from the city; and they began to smite of the people, and kill, as at other times, in the highways, of which one goeth up to the house of God, and the other to Gĭb'e-ah in the field, about thirty men of Iṣ'ra-el.

32 And the children of Bĕn'ja-min said, They are smitten down before us, as at the first. But the children of Iṣ'ra-el said, [f]Let us flee, and draw them from the city unto the highways.

33 And all the men of Iṣ'ra-el rose up out of their place, and put themselves in array at Bā'al-tā'mar: and the liers in wait of Iṣ'ra-el came forth out of their places, even out of the meadows of Gĭb'e-ah.

34 And there came against Gĭb'e-ah ten thousand chosen men out of all Iṣ'ra-el, and the battle was sore: [g]but they knew not that evil was near them.

35 And the LORD [h]smote Bĕn'ja-min before Iṣ'ra-el: and the children of Iṣ'ra-el destroyed of the Bĕn'ja-mites that day twenty and five thousand and an hundred men: all these drew the sword.

36 So the children of Bĕn'ja-min saw that they were smitten: for the men of Iṣ'ra-el gave place to the Bĕn'ja-mites, because they trusted unto the liers in wait which they had set beside Gĭb'e-ah.

37 And the liers in wait hasted, and rushed upon Gĭb'e-ah; and the liers in wait drew themselves along, and [i]smote all the city with the edge of the sword.

38 Now there was [j]an appointed sign between the men of Iṣ'ra-el and the liers in wait, that they should make a great flame with smoke rise up out of the city.

39 And when the men of Iṣ'ra-el retired in the battle, Bĕn'ja-min began to smite and kill of the men of Iṣ'ra-el about thirty persons: for they said, Surely they are smitten down before us, as in the first battle.

40 But [k]when the flame began to arise up out of the city with a pillar of smoke, the Bĕn'ja-mites looked behind them, and, behold, the flame of the city ascended up to heaven.

41 And when the men of Iṣ'ra-el turned again, the men of Bĕn'ja-min were amazed: for they saw that evil was come upon them.

42 Therefore they turned their backs before the men of Iṣ'ra-el unto the way of the wilderness; but the battle overtook them; and them which came out of the cities they destroyed in the midst of them.

43 Thus they [l]inclosed the Bĕn'ja-mites round about, and chased them, and trode them down with ease over against Gĭb'e-ah toward the sunrising.

44 And there fell of Bĕn'ja-min [c]eighteen thousand men; all these were men of valour.

45 And they turned and fled toward the wilderness unto the rock Rĭm'mon: and they gleaned of them in the highways five thousand men; and pursued hard after them unto Gĭ'dom, and slew two thousand men of them.

46 So that all which fell that day of Bĕn'ja-min were twenty and five thousand men that drew the sword; all these were men of valour.

(9) 600 Benjamites escape

47 But [d]six hundred men turned and fled to the wilderness unto the rock Rĭm'mon, and abode in the rock Rĭm'mon four months.

48 And the men of Iṣ'ra-el turned again upon the children of Bĕn'ja-min, and smote them with the edge of the sword, as well the men of every city, as the beast, and all that came to hand; also they set on fire all the [e]cities that they came to.

232 CHAPTER 21

(10) Mourning for a lost tribe

NOW the men of Iṣ'ra-el had [f]sworn in Miz'peh, saying, There shall not any of us give his daughter unto Bĕn'ja-min to wife.

2 And the people came to [g]the house of God, and abode there till even before God, and [h]lifted up their voices, and wept sore;

3 And said, O LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, [i]why is this come to pass in Iṣ'ra-el, that there should be to day one tribe lacking in Iṣ'ra-el?

4 And it came to pass on the morrow, that the people rose a Compare this with Josh. 8:20-21

b Surrounded them; and in their confusion and amazement they were easy to overcome with God's help (v 43)
c The 25,000 of v 46 were made up of the 18,000, the 5,000, and the 2,000 of v 44-45 that were killed the last day. The extra 100 of v 35 were perhaps killed before the last day when the total reached 25,100. 600 more fled to the rock Rimmon (v 47), and 1,000 escaped elsewhere, which made the total of 26,700 men in the army to begin with (v 15) d These 600 with the 1,000 which no doubt escaped as individuals, made only 1,600 left of an army of 26,700 which started the war (v 15). Some versions read 25,700 in v 15; if this is correct only 600 escaped instead of 1,600
e How many cities were burned is not stated; and how many people were killed in each city is not known (v 48)
f Many rash vows have been made which men have regretted. This one was not necessary any more than the vow of Jephthah in ch. 11. The better policy is not to vow but to believe God will answer prayer on the right basis of faith and absolute confidence in Him. We never merit anything; and we must learn that He answers regardless of vows, not because of them. God would have heard these Israelites and Benjamin would have been defeated without this kind of vow. When vows are made, however, they must be kept unless they are so ridiculous and unjust that they have to be repented of. One characteristic of a righteous man is that he swears to his own hurt and will not change or go back on his own word (Ps. 15:4). If this vow had not been made, the wrong of destroying Jabesh-gilead and taking the virgins of that place for the Benjamites (v 10-14), and the wrong of kidnapping wives would not have been done (v 19-24) g Some versions read Bethel, in place of the house of God, which is what the Heb. Bethel means h The second time they lifted up their voices and wept on this occasion:
1 The first time was when they had been defeated by Benjamin and had lost 40,000 men (20:21, 25)
2 Now they were weeping because one tribe was almost exterminated in Israel (v 2-3)
In revenge they were satisfied, but when they had time to reflect on what they had done in almost destroying a whole tribe with whom God had made a contract to bless forever, as in the case of the other tribes, if they would be obedient, they were brought to repentance and sought to make amends within their vows for such wanton destruction. The sin of Gibeah was great, but to exterminate a whole tribe under contract with God was no small matter. Such was the result of "no king in Israel; every man did that which was right in his own eyes" (v 25)
i Question 88, Next, v 5. This question was unnecessary, for they knew full well what had happened. It was right that the murderers be punished. This was legal and necessary, but the manner in which punishment was carried out was beyond reason - trying to destroy the whole tribe and their cities, including man and beast (20:48) early, and [d]built there an altar, and offered burnt offerings and peace offerings.

5 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el said, [b]Who is there among all the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el that came not up with the congregation unto the LORD? For they had made a [c]great oath concerning him that came not up to the LORD to Miz'peh, saying, [d]He shall surely be put to death.

6 And the children of Iṣ'ra-el [e]repented them for Bĕn'ja-min their brother, and said, There is one tribe cut off from Iṣ'ra-el this day.

(11) Problem of wives solved

7 [f]How shall [g]we do for wives for them that remain, seeing we have sworn by the LORD that we will not give them of our daughters to wives?

8 ¶ And they said, What one is there of the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el that came not up to Miz'peh to the LORD? And, behold, there came none to the camp from Ja'besh-gil'e-ad to the assembly.

9 For [h]the people were numbered, and, behold, there were none of the inhabitants of Ja'besh-gil'e-ad there.

●10 And the congregation sent thither twelve thousand men of the valiantest, and commanded them, saying, Go and smite the inhabitants of Ja'besh-gil'e-ad with the edge of the sword, with the women and the children.

●11 And this is the thing that ye shall do, Ye shall utterly destroy every male, and every woman that hath lain by man.

12 And they found among the inhabitants of Ja'besh-gil'e-ad four [i]hundred young virgins, that had known no man by lying with any male: and they brought them unto the camp to Shi'lōh, which is in the land of Ca'naan.

(12) Peace made with Benjamin

13 And the whole congregation sent some to speak to the children of Bĕn'ja-min that were in the [j]rock Rim'mon, and to call peaceably unto them.

14 And Bĕn'ja-min came again at that time; and they gave them [k]wives which they had saved alive of the women of Ja'besh-gil'e-ad: and yet so they sufficed them not.

15 And the people repented them for Bĕn'ja-min, [l]because that the LORD had made a breach in the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el.

(13) Wife problem still unsolved

16 ¶ Then the elders of the congregation said, [m]How shall we do for wives for them that remain, seeing [n]the women are destroyed out of Bĕn'ja-min?

17 And they said, [o]There must be an inheritance for them that be escaped of Bĕn'ja-min, that a tribe be not destroyed out of Iṣ'ra-el.

18 [d]Howbeit we may not give them wives of our daughters: for the children of Iṣ'ra-el have sworn, saying, [p]Cursed be he that giveth a wife to Bĕn'ja-min.

(14) Wife problem fully solved

19 Then they [i]said, Behold, there is a [q]feast of the LORD in Shi'lōh [k]yearly in a place which is on the [l]north side of Bĕth'-el, on the east side of the highway that goeth up from Bĕth'-el to Shĕ'chem, and on the south of Lĕ-bō'nah.

20 Therefore they commanded the children of Bĕn'ja-min, saying, [m]Go and lie in wait in the vineyards;

21 And see, and, behold, if the daughters of Shi'lōh come out to [n]dance in dances, then come ye out of the vineyards, [o]and catch you every man his wife of the [p]daughters of Shi'lōh, and go to the land of Bĕn'ja-min.

22 And it shall be, when their fathers or their brethren come unto us to complain, that we will say unto them, Be favourable unto them for our sakes: because we reserved not to each man his wife in the war: for ye did not give unto them at this time, that ye should be guilty.

23 And the children of Bĕn'ja-min did so, and took them wives, according to their number, of them that danced, whom they caught: and they went and [q]returned unto their inheritance, and repaired the cities, and dwelt in them.

24 And [r]the children of Iṣ'ra-el departed thence at that time, every man to his tribe and to his family, and they went out from thence every man to his inheritance.

(15) Moral and civil conditions when judges ruled

25 [s]In those days there was no king in Iṣ'ra-el: every man did that which was right in his own eyes.

a The congregation went to the house of God and built an altar. It would seem from v 12 that the house of God was at Shiloh and, if this be the case, why they did not use the brazen altar in the tabernacle is not explained. It could be that some of the enemies of Israel, during one of the servitudes in the period of the Judges, destroyed the brazen altar and even other parts of the tabernacle

c 2 rash vows of Israel:
1 That no man in Israel give his daughter to a Benjamite for a wife (v 1, 7)
2 To kill anyone in all the tribes who refused to come to the convention of Israel (v 5)

d This was perhaps why they determined to kill everyone in the tribe of Benjamin (v 5; 20:48)

e The Israelites changed their mind about wanting to destroy the tribe of Benjamin totally, as according to their oath (v 5-6)

f Questions 90-91. Next, v 16

g Israel became concerned and felt responsible for getting wives for the 600 men of Benjamin who had fled to the rock Rimmon (v 7, 13-24). They should have thought of this before when they made the vow not to give their daughters to the Benjamites (v 1, 5-7)

h The people were numbered to see if there were any parts of Israel not represented. They had vowed that whoever would not come up to the convention should be put to death (v 5). This would pass the death sentence on both Benjamin and the inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead (v 8-9; 20:13). They decided to kill the men and women of Jabesh-gilead and save only the virgins to be wives for the remnant of Benjamin (v 10-12). There was no excuse for this any more than for sparing the Benjamites, for their vow would be broken either way i 400 virgins were all that could be found in Jabesh-gilead to be wives for 600 men of Benjamin (v 12). The tribe was next consulted and peace was made with the remnant that was left (v 13-15)

j The rock Rimmon was about 15 miles north of Jerusalem. Many such caves were to be found in Palestine. In them a few men could hold our many days. Among the caves many Israelites took refuge during the times of servitude to other nations who, at times, even took all their weapons and crops - and yet they were sustained over long periods (6:1-7; 1 Sam. 13:6, 19)

k There were not enough wives for all, so Israel fell upon another plan for the remaining 200 Benjamites (v 16-24)

l Like many today, Israel thought God was responsible for the things which they, themselves had caused. They had been to blame for vowing to destroy all the Benjamites; and here they believed the Lord had made this breach in the tribes (v 15). It is regrettable how many accuse God of being responsible for the sicknesses, deaths, accidents, and various calamities of mankind, when there are demons, fallen angels, and Satan to blame. The truth is that it is not God but Satan and his evil forces, sin, and the continued rebellion of man which cause curses on the earth at the present time (Dt. 28; Lev. 26; 2 Ki. 17; Job 1:12-22; 2:7; 42:10; Ps. 91:3-13; Mt. 4:23-24; 8:16-17, 28-34; 9:1-8, 32-38; 10:1-20; 12:22-30; 15:21-28; 17:14-21; Mk. 5:7-13; 16:15-20; Lk. 9:1-9; 10:1-20; 13:16; Jn. 10:10; Acts 5:12-16; 10:38; 19:11-18; 1 Jn. 3:8)

as good as their own, and now the few Benjamites left possessed the whole of the inheritance originally given to many thousands. The matter may have had a happy ending, for there is no record of any complaint from either side (v 24)

p It appears here that the army did not disband and return home until all these events were finished (v 24)

q This ends the book of Judges and explains why such unlawful acts took place in Israel. There was no king or legal authority in the whole land, and every man did what which was right in his own eyes (v 25). The facts show what the natural man thinks is right when not following God's law. The sacred writer does not sanction the unlawful acts of these chapters; but in writing them faithfully he gives the strongest proof of the truth of the whole by his impartial recording of facts that were such a discredit to his people

Samson's price for his foolishness (16:17)
Samson betrayed himself and his God and dearly paid for his foolishness and sin. He could have easily seen that Delilah was determined to ruin him, but the weakness of his heart was stronger than the strength of his body. He lied to Delilah 3 times and (if not married to her) committed adultery with her as well as the harlot of Gaza (16:1-22). His very soul would have been lost if he had not been brought to his senses and prayed to God in his closing days (v 28-30; Heb. 11:32) a Question 29. Last in Judges

b Not only men of the army but wives, children, and stock were destroyed with the cities of Benjamin (v 16; 20:48)

c If they had been half as concerned about saving a tribe in Israel before now, as they seemed to be here, war could have been averted and many thousands of lives could have been spared

d They still would not relent and break their vow about not giving their daughters to Benjamites (v 18), but they would break the one about killing every Benjamite (21:1, 5)

e It seems that in those days men were so superstitious they believed if one bound himself to a curse with a vow, as here, the curse would come upon the one who vowed, if he broke the vow. When men make vows that are not right the proper thing to do is to repent to God for them, making restitution wherever possible and doing only what is right from then on (v 18). All sin is to be repented of and put away, including vows that cause one to sin (Mt. 12:31-32; 1 Jn. 1:9)

f Introducing a new plot to obtain wives for the 200 men not yet supplied. They were to go to the yearly feast at Shiloh where each would kidnap a wife; and if any father or brethren objected the Israelites of other tribes would intercede for them (v 19-24)

g What a place and a time to plot the kidnapping of 200 virgins!

h The 3 yearly gatherings of Israel (Ex. 23:14-17) had dropped off to one, another indication of the great apostasy of Israel in the days of the judges (v 19)

i This detailed description of the place where the feast was to be held indicates that Shiloh, the tabernacle worship, and the feasts of the Lord were so neglected that such instructions were necessary to enable the wife-hunters to find the place

j Lebonah, about 4 miles west of Shiloh

k 5fold instructions to Benjamites: 20)
1 Go, lie in wait in the vineyards (v
2 See if the daughters of Shiloh will come out to dance (v 21)
3 Come out of the vineyards
4 Catch every man one of these daughters for a wife
5 Go to the land of Benjamin

l This is what religion had degenerated to in these days of apostasy (v 21)

m This was a command by the elders of Israel to steal or kidnap a virgin, take her home and consider her a wife from then on (v 21). Kidnapping was a death-penalty sin (Ex. 21:16; Dt. 24:7), but rape of an unbetrothed virgin bound a man to take her as his wife all the days of his life without ever putting her away (Dt. 22:28-29). Rape of a betrothed virgin in a field carried the death penalty (Dt. 22:25-27)

n These daughters of Shiloh were virgins of Israel from the same men that vowed they would not give any to Benjamin. There is no hint that they were Canaanites who had no part in the feasts of Israel. That they were of Israel seems clear from v 22 which indicates that the elders would assure the fathers and brothers, if any complained, that their vow being broken by force and not wilfully of their own accord, made them free. Many versions confirm this and read thus: Sept., "Seeing you have not given them, you have, as it were, accidently transgressed"; Berkeley, "nor did you give them any, because you would have been doing wrong"; Peshitta, "it is not you who gave them to them, that you should be guilty"; Moffatt, "Pardon the men for carrying off their wives by force, for if you had given them the girls, you would be guilty of breaking your oath"; Rotherham, "ye yourselves gave them not unto them, as now to be guilty." The whole thought is that the men of Israel would not be held accountable for breaking the vow because they did not give their daughters to Benjamites - they were taken by force to be wives, and so no vow was broken

o The kidnapped daughters by having these for husbands shared one of the largest and best inheritances in all Israel. They were taken to homes equally

God keeps covenants (2:1)

God has kept and always will keep His part of any contract with any people. Israel did not go under the curse of defeat, captivity, dispersion, and judgment from God because He broke the covenant. The people were to blame. He told them plainly what He would do if they broke it, so He could not do otherwise (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). Even yet, God promises that when they come back to repentance and keep His covenant that He will restore them as in days of old (Dt. 4:25-31; 30:1-10; Isa. 11:10-16; Jer. 23:1-8; 30:1-31:40; 32 37-44; 33:3-26; Ezek. 34:11-31; 36:1-38; 37:1-28; Amos 9:9-15; Zeph. 3:8-20; Zech. 8:3-8, 20-23; 12:10-13:9; 14:4-21; Mt. 24:31; Rom. 11:25-29) God is as quick to accuse and judge when the time comes to do so, as He is to bless. It is God who charges anyone who transgresses with sin, not man (Rom. 8:33-34; 14:4; 1 Cor. 11:32). If we are as persuaded as Paul to permit nothing to separate us from God we are secure (Rom. 8:35-39), and if we practice Paul's method of keeping the body under subjection we shall never be a castaway (1 Cor. 9:27); but if we go into sin we shall die spiritually; and if we persist in sin refusing to repent and live right we shall be cut off from God forever (Rom. 6:16-23; 8:12-13; 11:11-29; 1 Cor. 3:16-17; 6:9-11; Gal. 5:19-21; 6:7-8; Heb. 6:4-9; 10:26-29; 2 Pet. 2:20-21). See Backsliding, p. 237.

Summary of Judges

Date and place: written in Palestine about 1126 B.C.

Author: from all indications Samuel was the author. Jewish tradition assigns authorship to him; or, the book may have been written by Isaiah (note k, 2 Chr. 32:32)

Proof of authorship: facts regarding events of the book were perhaps written by the men whose exploits are recorded, or by some scribe in the tribe to which each judge belonged, then afterward collected and put in the present form when the nation became welded together under a king. From the book itself it is clear that it was written after Israel had kings, for twice the author states he was writing of events and things happening in the days before there was a king in Israel (18:1; 21:25). The book further reveals that it was written before the time of David, for the tabernacle was at Shiloh where it was set in the days of Joshua (18:31; 21:12, 19-21), it remained there until the 40th year of Eli when it was destroyed (1 Sam. 4). It was heard of no more until David was made king and he brought the tabernacle to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 6; 1 Chr. 21:29; 2 Chr. 1:3). Samuel was the most likely person to collect all the records of the judges and compile them into one book, in view of these facts

Theme: the book is a record of Israel's failure during the rule of the judges. It records 9 apostasies, 7 servitudes, 14 judges and their exploits (not including those of Eli and Samuel, the 15th and 16th judges, which facts are in 1 Sam.), and 5 civil wars. The events of Judges cover at least 440 years. See Chronology, p. 60

Statistics: 7th book of the Bible; 21 chapters; 618 verses; 18,976 words; 585 verses of history; 33 verses of fulfilled prophecy; 92 questions; 23 messages from God (1:2; 2:1, 20; 4:6; 6:8, 12, 16, 20, 23, 25; 7:2, 4, 7, 9; 10:11; 13:3, 11, 13, 16, 18; 20:18, 23, 28); 71 commands; 26 predictions; and 5 promises

History of Ruth, the Gentile, the Great-grandmother of David - Israel under the Judges (Judg. 1:1-1 Sam. 7:17)

a This expression: now it came to pass in the days, is used 5 times in Scripture; and in each case it denotes impending trouble, followed by deliverance and a happy ending (v 1; Gen. 14:1; Esther 1:1; Isa. 7:1; Jer. 1:3)
b Time of the events of Ruth, p. 294
c See 13 famines (note r, Gen. 12:10) d Moab held Israel in servitude 18 years in the days of the judges (Judg. 3:14)
e Elimelech means my God is king (1:2-3; 2:1-3; 4:3, 9)
f Naomi means my pleasant one. Found 21 times and only in Ruth g Mahlon means sick (v 2-5; 4:9-10)
h Chilion means pining (v 2-5; 4:9)
i Ephrath was the ancient name of Bethlehem, where Rachel was buried (Gen. 35:19; 48:7) and where David lived (1 Sam. 17:12). Called Ephratah (4:11; 1 Chr. 4:4; Ps. 132:6; Mic. 5:2)
j Marrying Moabites is no where expressly forbidden, but it is generally held that such comes under the law of Dt. 7:3 which forbids Israelites marrying Canaanites. Cp. Dt. 23:3
k Orpah means hind or fawn (v 4, 14)
l Ruth means beauty. Found 12 times in this book and in Mt. 1:5
m Naomi lost a husband and 2 sons in 10 years. The Targum says that the sons died for transgressing the law in marrying foreign women, but this is hardly likely unless they also went into idolatry with the Moabites (v 4-5). One thing is clear from the law - that long life was promised if the law was obeyed, and the cutting off of life if it was disobeyed (Lev. 26; Dt. 28)
n They went to sojourn in Moab because of famine (v 1) and now they returned because the Lord had again blessed His people with food (v 6)
o The Targum says that an angel spoke to her and gave this information p The two daughters-in-law started to go with Naomi toward the land of her people, but one returned when given the opportunity to do so (v 7-22)
q 2fold blessing of daughters-in-law:
1 May Jehovah deal kindly with you, as you have been kind to me and my sons (v 9)
2 May Jehovah grant you rest in the house of new husbands r There must have been great affection between this Israelite woman and the two Gentiles that had come into her home. Such closeness could be followed by others with great profit (v 9) s They had been advised to go back to their homes and to the Moabite life of paganism (v 8), but their first decision was to go with their mother-in-law by all means (v 10). They were again admonished to remain in Moab, for there was no promise of husbands in Israel (v 11-13). They wept again and Orpah went back; but Ruth clung to Naomi (v 14). After being exhorted another time to return with her sister-in-law to Moab and the life of her own people and their gods (v 15), Ruth made her eternal consecration to follow the God of Israel and live the life of a new convert to Jehovah (v 16-17). For this she was greatly rewarded by being in the line of the Messiah (1:18-4:22; Mt. 1:1-6)
t 4 admonitions to return to Moab:
1 Go, return to your own homes (v 8), invitation rejected - Surely, we will return with you to your people (v 10)
2 Turn again; why will you go with me? I have no more sons to be your husbands (v 11)
3 Turn again, go your way, I have no husband and am too old to have sons. Even if I could have sons it would not be wise to wait for them to become grown and sacrifice happy lives with new husbands all those years (v 12-13). This third admonition caused one to go back, but the other stayed on (v 14)
4 Return after your sister-in-law who has gone back to paganism (v 15). This last admonition for Ruth to depart brought her to one of the most perfect and complete surrenders and consecration to God ever known (v 16-17)

233 CHAPTER 1

I Elimelech's family: 1 Famine in Canaan: sojourn in Moab aNOW it came to pass in the days bwhen the judges ruled, that there was a cfamine in the land. And a certain man of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah went to sojourn in the dcountry of Mō'ab, he, and his wife, and his two sons.

2 And the name of the man was eE-lĭm'e-lĕch, and the name of his wife fNā-ō'mi, and the name of his two sons gMäh'lon and hChĭl'i-on, iEph'rathites of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-jū'dah. And they came into the country of Mō'ab, and continued there.

2 Death of Elimelech and his two sons

3 And E-lĭm'e-lĕch Nā-ō'mi's husband died; and she was left, and her two sons.

4 And they took them jwives of the women of Mō'ab; the name of the one was kOr'pah, and the name of the other lRuth: and they dwelled there about ten years.

5 And Mäh'lon and Chĭl'i-on died also mboth of them; and the woman was left of her two sons and her husband.

3 Naomi prepares to return to her own people

6 ¶ Then she arose with her daughters in law, that she might nreturn from the country of Mō'ab: for she had oheard in the country of Mō'ab how that the LORD had visited his people in giving them bread.

7 Wherefore she went forth out of the place where she was, and pher two daughters in law with her; and they went on the way to return unto the land of Jū'dah.

4 Ruth tested to return to her former pagan life (v 15)

●8 And Nā-ō'mī said unto her two daughters in law, Go, return each to her mother's house: qthe LORD deal kindly with you, as ye have dealt with the dead, and with me.

9 The LORD grant you that ye may find rest, each of you in the house of her husband. Then she kissed them; and they lifted up their voice, and wept.

10 And they said unto her, Surely rwe will return with thee unto thy people.

●11 And Nā-ō'mī said, sTurn again, my daughters: twhy will ye go with me? are there yet any more sons in my womb, that they may be your husbands?

●12 Turn again, my daughters, go your way; for I am too old to have an husband. If I should say, I have hope, if I should have an husband also to night, and should also bear sons;

13 Would ye tarry for them till they were grown? would ye stay for them from having husbands? nay, my daughters; for it grieveth me much for your sakes that uthe hand of the LORD is gone out against me.

5 Ruth's consecration

14 And they lifted up their voice, and wept again: and Or'pah kissed her mother in law; but Ruth clave unto her.

●15 And she said, Behold, thy sister in law is gone back unto her people, and unto her gods: return thou after thy sister in law.

●16 And Ruth vsaid, Intreat me not to leave thee, or to return from following after thee: for whither thou goest, I will go; and where thou lodgest, I will lodge: thy people shall be my people, and thy God my God:

17 Where thou diest, will I die, and there will I be buried: the LORD do so to me, and more also, if ought but death part thee and me.

6 Naomi's return to Israel

18 wWhen she saw that she was stedfastly minded to go with her, then she left speaking unto her.

19 ¶ So they two went until they came to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm. And it came to pass, when they were come to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm, that all the city was xmoved about them, and they said, yIs this Nā-ō'mī?

●20 And she said unto them, zCall me not Nā-ō'mī, call me Mā'rā: afor the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with me.

21 I went out full, and bthe LORD hath brought me home again empty: why then call ye me Nā-ō'mī, seeing the LORD hath testified against me, and cAlmighty hath bafflicted me?

22 So Nā-ō'mī returned, and Ruth the kMō'ab-īt-ess, her daughter in law, with her, which returned out of the country of Mō'ab: and they came to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm in the beginning of barley harvest.

234 CHAPTER 2

II Naomi's plan for kinsman redemption (Lev. 25:25-34; Num. 27:1-11; 36:1-13; Jer. 32:1-5). 1 The kinsman: Boaz

AND Nā-ō'mī had a'kinsman of her husband's, a mighty man of wealth, of the family of E-lĭm'e-lĕch; and his name was Bō'ăz.

2 The plan executed

2 And Ruth the Mō'ab-īt-ess said unto Nā-ō'mi, Let me now go to the field, and glean ears of mcorn after him in whose sight I shall find grace. And she said unto her, Go, my daughter.

3 And she went, and came, and ogleaned in the field after the reapers: and her phap was to light on a part of the field belonging unto Bō'ăz, who was of the kindred of E-lĭm'e-lĕch.

a Naomi, like many others, considered the trouble she had gone through as personal and directly from God against her (v 13). However, famines, wars, pestilences, and general calamities are not personal curses or they would affect only the person involved. Such misfortunes show no respect of persons and affect the righteous as well as the wicked. In Israel such general conditions were the result of breaking the law; the people were promised immunity from such curses for conscientious obedience to it (Lev. 26; Dt. 28). When God found it necessary to punish apostate Israel the righteous naturally suffered along with the majority who were wicked
b 7fold consecration of Ruth:
1 Her plea not to be hindered: Intreat me not to leave you, or to return from following after you (v 16)
2 Where you go, I will go
3 Where you lodge, I will lodge
4 Your people shall be my people
5 Your God shall be my God
6 Where you die, I will die, and there will I be buried (v 17)
7 Jehovah do so to me, and more also, if anything but death should separate us c Ruth's outburst of affection and her consecration to Jehovah and a life in Israel assured Naomi of her serious intentions and ability to adjust herself in a strange land among strange people. Ruth was then permitted to go along (v 18-19)
d Evidently the family of Elimelech were well known and liked in Bethlehem. He was of the tribe of Judah and in the direct line through whom the Messiah was to come. At that time however, it was not known which particular family of Judah Messiah would come from (Mt. 1:1-18)
e Questions 5-6. Next, 2:5
f Call me not Naomi (pleasant), but Mara (bitter) - appropriate for one whose life was grievous and full of sorrow (v 20)
g The second time she accused God of being personal and singling her out to make her life bitter and unbearable (v 13, 20-21). One of the worst kinds of slander against God by His so-called people is that of blaming Him for all the human sorrows and failures which they bring upon themselves by their own sins. We do not mean personal sins in every case, but general sin and apostasy which make it necessary for God to bring judgment upon a people. The righteous become automatically involved in such curses and suffer along with the wicked, and often do not understand that God is not punishing them for any particular sin. See lessons from the book of Job, p. 430
h 5 unfounded accusations against God:
1 The hand of the Lord is gone out against me (v 13)
2 The Almighty has dealt very bitterly with me (v 20)
3 I went out full (had plenty), but the Lord has brought me home again empty (v 21)
4 The Lord has testified against me
5 The Almighty has afflicted me i Heb. El Shaddai, Almighty God, the All-bountiful (note m, Gen. 17:1) j Naomi was not diseased, but poverty-stricken, showing that affliction here is not used of bodily sickness. See Affliction, p. 620 k Ruth is called a Moabitess 5 times (1:22; 2:2, 21; 4:5, 10). Cp. 2:6; 2 Chr. 24:26. The word Moabite is used of men of Moab 3 times (Dt. 23:3; 1 Chr. 11:46; Neh. 13:1). The curse of Dt. 23:3 does not apply to Ruth as a proselyte and a mother in Israel l See note e, 4:6
m Wheat, not the Indian corn of America n Not necessarily Boaz, but anyone who would be friendly and permit her to glean in his field. As it happened it was Boaz who owned the field where she worked; and it was he who showed her favor (v 3-23)
o It was a custom in Israel and commanded in the law that the corners of the fields be left for the poor, and a sheaf left in the field was to remain there for them (Lev. 19:9-10; 23:22; Dt. 24:19). Job 24:10 refers to this. The experience a Boaz was a mighty man of wealth. He was of the tribe of Judah and in the direct line of the Messiah. He is mentioned 19 times in the book of Ruth (2: 1-23; 3:2, 7; 4:1-21) and in 1 Chr. 2: 11-12. Called Booz in Mt. 1:5; Lk. 3:32

b See Daily greeting in Israel, p. 294 c This was an overseer over the other laborers (v 5). He was the same as the steward of Lk. 16:1-12
d Question 7, Next, v 8
e The overseer and the reapers had already met Ruth; and she had already requested to be permitted to glean in the field of Boaz (v 7). Perhaps this was the working out of a plan made by Naomi for Boaz and Ruth to meet, a plan involving kinsman redemption obligations. Boaz, himself had heard of Ruth and her love for Naomi, her people and her God (v 11)
f This perhaps refers to the fact that the reapers were taking a noon rest in their tent and Ruth herself had also rested some with them (v 7)
g 6fold charge to Ruth by Boaz, p. 294
h Questions 8-9, Next, v 10
i The young men of Israel were as those of all other nations in all ages - ready to tease or take advantage of young women, especially strangers as unprotected as Ruth (v 9)
j At this sudden friendliness of Boaz and his charge to her, she fell on her face, bowing herself to the ground in humble acknowledgement of this notice of one who was a Gentile and a total stranger (v 10). This was customary to show respect when inferiors were addressed by superiors k Question 10, Next, v 19
l Boaz made it clear that he had already been informed of her consecration as a proselyte to the Hebrew faith, of her decision to leave her own people, her native land and its gods to live with people who were strangers to her. He then pronounced a blessing from the God of Israel upon her (v 11-12). The Targum adds to this answer of Boaz to Ruth, "It has been certainly told me by the word of the wise, that what the Lord hath decreed (Dt. 23:3), He hath not decreed concerning the women but the men. And it hath been surely said to me by prophecy, that kings and prophets shall proceed from thee because of the good which thou hast done"
m This is figurative of trust in God, proving that she had already come to love the Jewish God and had attached herself to the Jewish faith (v 12)
n Flee for refuge
o Ruth's 2 requests of Boaz, p. 294 p Heb. chomets, a beverage consisting generally of wine or strong drink turned sour; vinegar. It was made by pouring water into grape juice and allowing it to ferment. Nazarites were forbidden such drink (Num. 6:3). See Pr. 10:26; 25:20 where chomets is used (v 14)
q Parched corn was prepared from grains of wheat not yet fully ripe. They were roasted in a pan or iron plate, or sometimes the stalks of wheat were tied together in small bundles and the ears held in a blazing fire until roasted. Grain thus parched could be eaten with or without bread. In Lev. 23:14 it is classed with bread and green ears. In Lev. 2:14 it is called green ears of corn dried in the fire. It was a common article of food in Palestine and Egypt. Jesse sent an ephah (1 bu, 3 pts.) to the army (1 Sam. 17:17). Abigail gave 5 measures of it to David's men as a present (1 Sam. 25:18). David was supplied with it in his flight from Absalom (2 Sam. 17:23)
r She left some of the parched corn after having plenty to eat (v 14) s This was a rare privilege - to be able to glean among the sheaves. Ordinarily, no person was allowed to glean until the sheaves were all bound and the shocks set. This shows the interest Boaz had in the Moabitess. His blessings were upon her and she was not to be reproached (v 15) or rebuked (v 16) and his young men were to drop handsful on purpose for her t This was the most primitive method of threshing. The poor still beat out the grains of barley or wheat at the close of the day by using sticks or stones. Ruth threshed at the end of the day and had about an ephah of barley (v 17)

3 Ruth wins the favor of Boaz

4 ¶ And, behold, [a]Bō'ăz came from Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm, and said unto the reapers, [b]The LORD be with you. And they answered him, The LORD bless thee.

5 Then said Bō'ăz unto [c]his servant that was set over the reapers, [d]Whose damsel is this?

6 And the servant that was set over the reapers answered and said, [e]It is the Mō'ăb-ĭt-ish damsel that came back with Nā-ō'mī out of the country of Mō'ăb:

7 And she said, I pray you, let me glean and gather after the reapers among the sheaves: so she came, and hath continued even from the morning until now, [f]that she tarried a little in the house.

●8 [g]Then [h]said Bō'ăz unto Ruth, Hearest thou not, my daughter? Go not to glean in another field, neither go from hence, but abide here fast by my maidens:

●9 Let thine eyes be on the field that they do reap, and go thou after them: have I not charged the young men [i]that they shall not touch thee? and when thou art athirst, go unto the vessels, and drink of that which the young men have drawn.

10 [j]Then she fell on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, and [k]said unto him, Why have I found grace in thine eyes, that thou shouldest take knowledge of me, seeing I am a stranger?

11 And Bō'ăz answered and said unto her, [l]It hath fully been shewed me, all that thou hast done unto thy mother in law since the death of thine husband: and how thou hast left thy father and thy mother, and the land of thy nativity, and art come unto a people which thou knewest not heretofore.

12 The LORD recompense thy work, and a full reward be given thee of the LORD God of Is'ra-el, [m]under whose wings thou art come to [n]trust.

13 Then she said, [o]Let me find favour in thy sight, my lord; for that thou hast comforted me, and for that thou hast spoken friendly unto thine handmaid, though I be not like unto one of thine handmaidens.

●14 And Bō'ăz said unto her, At mealtime come thou hither, and eat of the bread, and dip thy morsel in the [p]vinegar. And she sat beside the reapers: and he reached her [q]parched corn, and she did eat and was sufficed, and [r]left.

4 Boaz secretly commands a blessing on Ruth

●15 And when she was risen up to glean, Bō'ăz commanded his young men, saying, [s]Let her glean even among the sheaves, and reproach her not:

●16 And let fall also some of the handfuls of purpose for her, and leave them, that she may glean them, and rebuke her not.

17 So she gleaned in the field until even, and [t]beat out that she had gleaned: and it was about an [u]ephah of barley.

18 ¶ And she [v]took it up, and went into the city: and her mother in law saw what she had gleaned: and [a]she brought forth, and gave to her that she had reserved after she was sufficed.

5 Naomi's inquiry and advice

19 And her mother in law said unto her, [b]Where hast thou gleaned to day? and where wroughtest thou? blessed be he that did take knowledge of thee. And she [c]shewed her mother in law with whom she had wrought, and said, The man's name with whom I wrought to day is Bō'ăz.

20 And Nā-ō'mī said unto her daughter in law, [d]Blessed be he of the LORD, who hath not left off his kindness to the living and to the dead. And Nā-ō'mī said unto her, The man is near of kin unto us, one of our next kinsmen.

●21 And Ruth the Mō'ăb-ĭt-ess said, He said unto me also, Thou shalt keep fast by my young men, until they have ended all my harvest.

22 And Nā-ō'mī said unto Ruth her daughter in law, It is good, my daughter, that thou go out with his maidens, that they meet thee not in any other field.

6 Naomi's advice heeded

23 So [e]she kept fast by the maidens of Bō'ăz to glean unto the end of barley [f]harvest and of [g]wheat harvest; and dwelt with her mother in law.

235 CHAPTER 3

7 Naomi claims for Ruth the right of kinsman redemption

THEN Nā-ō'mī her mother in law said unto her, [h]My daughter, [i]shall I not seek rest for thee, that it may be well with thee?

2 And now is not Bō'ăz of our kindred, with whose maidens thou wast? [j]Behold, he winnoweth barley [k]to night in the threshingfloor.

8 Naomi advises Ruth how to get her kinsman redemption

●3 Wash thyself therefore, and anoint thee, and put thy raiment upon thee, and get thee down to the floor: but make not thyself known unto the man, until he shall have done eating and drinking.

●4 And it shall be, when he lieth down, that thou shalt mark the place where he shall lie, and thou shalt go in, and uncover his feet, and lay thee down; and he will tell thee what thou shalt do.

9 Ruth obeys Naomi

5 And she [l]said unto her, All that thou sayest unto me I will do.

6 ¶ And she went down unto the floor, and did according to all that her mother in law bade her.

7 And when Bō'ăz had eaten and drunk, and his heart was merry, he went [m]to lie down at the end of the heap of corn:

a As Ruth had received a good portion of food from Boaz at the noon meal, some of which she had left (v 14), she brought it home to her mother-in-law as here related (v 18). This showed marks of good training and how much she really cared for Naomi
c Here, after Ruth had related to Naomi all the events of the day, she received her next instructions regarding how to proceed in bringing Boaz to a point of action to redeem the inheritance of Naomi and claim Ruth herself as part of the transaction (v 19-22) d Naomi, knowing the customs of her people, took the acts of Boaz as a good sign that her plan for Ruth and her own inheritance was working out perfectly. She informed Ruth that Boaz was of near kin and could fulfil the law of kinsman redemption (v 20), then advised her regarding the next step - keeping close to the maidens of Boaz throughout the entire harvest, never being found in another's field (v 21-22)
e Ruth respected the advice of Naomi and followed the maidens of Boaz through the whole harvest of both the barley and wheat, living in all purity with her mother-in-law (v 23; 3:10)
f Harvest time in Israel, p. 294
g The wheat harvest would be near the feast of Pentecost, and according to tradition, the book of Ruth was read at that time in later years
h Questions 13-14, Next, v 9
i Naomi revealed to Ruth her plan of definitely seeking to bring Boaz and her together as man and wife through the law of kinsman redemption. According to this law whoever redeemed the inheritance must also take the wife of a dead brother and raise up seed for him in Israel to keep his family alive
j The next steps in Naomi's plan for Ruth in pursuing Boaz for a husband were now revealed to her, as follows:

10fold plan of Naomi to Ruth:
1 Telling where and when to make the next contact with Boaz (v 2)
2 Wash yourself (v 3)
3 Anoint yourself with perfumes
4 Get dressed for the occasion
5 Go down to the threshingfloor where he will be found this night
6 Do not make yourself known to him until he is through eating and drinking
7 Mark the place where he shall lie down for the night (v 4)
8 Go in and uncover his feet
9 Lay yourself down at his feet
10 Listen to what he tells you to do

k It was the custom to winnow (separate the chaff from the wheat) at night, because it was cooler than the day, and there was an increase of the wind which enabled the workers to do a better job. Winnowing was done by throwing the wheat up into the air so that the wind could blow away the chaff. The wheat being heavier would fall to the ground. Then a sieve was used, by which means particles of earth, and other impurities clinging to the grain during the process of threshing, were separated from it (v 2; Isa. 30:24; Amos 9:9; Mt. 3:12; Lk. 22:31). See note g, Lk. 3:17
l As usual, Ruth willing and obedient, promised to do all Naomi said (v 5-18)
m It was the custom to keep watch over the wheat or barley lying in piles on the threshingfloor which was unenclosed and exposed to robbers. It was necessary that the master and certain trusted servants watch throughout the night against such men. All grain was so taken care of until the entire harvest was threshed, winnowed, and garnered or gathered into safe storehouses (Mt. 3:12)

u An ephah was 1 bushel and 3 pints v A bushel of barley was rather heavy for a young woman to carry into the city - about 60 pounds. However, the field was no doubt near Bethlehem; and furthermore, she may have had help. Perhaps Boaz had it carried for her a It is said that women of the East, when going to be with their lawful husbands would, through modesty, and in token of subjection to them, go to the foot of the bed, gently raise the covers, and creep under them up to their place. In the case of Ruth she merely was to uncover the feet of Boaz and lie down there until he should discover her presence and tell her what to do. Naomi evidently knew the moral character of Boaz and could safely advise this. She must have known also that it would require such bold means on their part for him to take action in the matter of kinsman redemption. At least, the plan worked and even Boaz recognized that Ruth and Naomi had been more righteous than he by causing him to do the right thing by them (v 7-18)

b Boaz was afraid when he discovered her at his feet, being unaware of who it was and why she was there (v 9)

c Question 15, Next, v 16

d Ruth's answer clearly revealed to Boaz why she was there, and it was a gentle reproof to him for not doing his duty in kinsman redemption which the law required (Dt. 25:5-10). This brought him to action to fulfil his duty to her and Naomi e Spreading the skirt over a woman was a symbol of taking her under one's protection and entering into marriage with her. Ruth's act was the proper way of saying to him, "Take me for your wife, let your name be called on me, and fulfil your lawful duty to me, for you are my kinsman redeemer to whom the right of redemption belongs" (v 9). When marriages were solemnized among the Jews the man threw the skirt of his talith or robe over his wife and covered her head with it

f Boaz blessed Ruth and recognized her legal right to act as she did in requiring him to fulfil the part of a kinsman

g This refers to her being willing to take him, an older man, instead of rejecting him for a younger one, rich or poor (v 10). Since she was willing to have him he vowed to settle the matter that very day (v 11-18)

h This indicates that Ruth was within her legal rights and Boaz had been the one at fault in not fulfilling the law sooner (v 11; Dt. 25:5-10)

i All in Bethlehem knew that Ruth was a virtuous woman, for remaining a widow was one of the greatest proofs of purity to Jews. No doubt many young men, rich and poor, had sought her hand in marriage (v 10), but she had refused them; so when she made known her desire and rights to this godly man he knew that it must be of the Lord. He made it clear though that there was one other man who was closer kin than he was. If he did not want to be the kinsman redeemer Boaz would do so without delay (v 12-18)

j Kinsman redemption, p. 294

k Ruth was told to lie down until morning, so she lay at his feet and arose to depart before daylight lest it should be known that she was there (v 14). Before leaving she brought her veil and it was filled with some barley to take home (v 15)

l Heb. mitpachath, called a wimple in Isa. 3:22. It was a large outer cloak, in one corner of which Ruth received the barley. This is not the ordinary word for veil (or vail), referring to a face covering, as in Song 5:7; Isa. 3:23. See also Gen. 24:65; 38:14, 19

m In the Hebrew it merely reads six. We have to supply the word measures. Any amount would be a measure, but exactly what kind or how big those were, we do not know. One Targum renders it six seahs, a seah being about 2 gallons or 1 peck n Question 16. Last one in Ruth o Naomi told Ruth that this day would not pass until Boaz had completed the redemption of her inheritance one way or the other (v 18)

p Then, when Boaz had let Ruth go he went to the gate of the city where judgment was given and sat down until the man who was nearer kin to Naomi and Ruth should come by. He then stated the proposition to him, concerning the redemption of the inheritance of Naomi and Ruth. The nearer kinsman refused to redeem it, so Boaz was free to do so and take Ruth as his wife (4:1-12) and she came softly, and [e]uncovered his feet, and laid her down.

8 ¶ And it came to pass at midnight, that [b]the man was afraid, and turned himself; and, behold, a woman lay at his feet.

9 And he said, [c]Who art thou? And she [d]answered, I am Ruth thine handmaid: spread therefore thy [e]skirt over thine handmaid; for thou art a near kinsman.

III Kinsman redemption fulfilled (Lev. 25:25-34; Num. 13:1-11). 1 The negotiations

10 And he said, [f]Blessed be thou of the LORD, my daughter: [g]for thou hast shewed more kindness in the latter end than at the beginning, inasmuch as thou followedst not young men, whether poor or rich.

11 And now, my daughter, fear not; I will do to thee all that [h]thou requirest: for all the city of my people doth [i]know that thou art a virtuous woman.

12 And now it is true that I am thy near [j]kinsman: howbeit there is a kinsman nearer than I.

10 Boaz recognizes Ruth's claim to kinsman redemption

[k]13 Tarry this night, and it shall be in the morning, that if he will perform unto thee the part of a kinsman, well; let him do the kinsman's part: but if he will not do the part of a kinsman to thee, then will I do the part of a kinsman to thee, as the LORD liveth: [k]lie down until the morning.

[k]14 ¶ And she lay at his feet until the morning: and she rose up before one could know another. And he said, Let it not be known that a woman came into the floor.

11 Boaz promises kinsman redemption to Ruth

15 Also he said, Bring the [l]veil that thou hast upon thee, and hold it. And when she held it, he measured [m]six measures of barley, and laid it on her: and she went into the city.

16 And when she came to her mother in law, she said, [n]Who art thou, my daughter? And she told her all that the man had done to her.

17 And she said, These six measures of barley gave he me; for he said to me, Go not empty unto thy mother in law.

[o]18 Then said she, [o]Sit still, my daughter, until thou know how the matter will fall: for the man will not be in rest, until he have finished the thing this day.

236 CHAPTER 4

12 Ruth waits for kinsman redemption

[p]THEN went Bō'āz up to the gate, and sat him down there: and, behold, the kinsman of whom Bō'āz spake came by; unto whom he said, Ho, such a one! turn aside, sit down here. And he turned aside, and sat down.

[k]2 And he [e]took [b]ten men of the elders of the city, and said, Sit ye down here. And they sat down.

3 And he [c]said unto the kinsman, Nā-ō'mī, that is come again out of the country of Mō'ab, selleth a parcel of land, which was our brother Ē-lĭm'e-lĕch's:

[g]4 And I thought to advertise thee, saying, Buy it before the inhabitants, and before the elders of my people. If thou wilt redeem it, redeem it: but if thou wilt not redeem it, then tell me, that I may know: for there is none to redeem it beside thee; and I am after thee. And he said, [d]I will redeem it.

5 Then said Bō'āz, What day thou buyest the field of the hand of Nā-ō'mī, thou must buy it also of Ruth the Mō'ab-ĭt-ess, the wife of the dead, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance.

6 ¶ And the kinsman said, I cannot redeem it for myself, lest I [f]mar mine own inheritance: redeem thou my right to thyself; for I cannot redeem it.

7 Now [f]this was the manner in former time in Iṣ'ra-el concerning redeeming and concerning changing, for to confirm all things; a man plucked off his shoe, and gave it to his neighbour: and this was a testimony in Iṣ'ra-el.

2 Kinsman redemption completed by Boaz

8 Therefore the kinsman said unto Bō'āz, [g]Buy it for thee. So he drew off his shoe.

9 ¶ And Bō'āz said unto the elders, and unto all the people, Ye are witnesses this day, that I have bought [h]all that was Ē-lĭm'e-lĕch's, and all that was Chĭl'ĭ-on's and Mäh'lon's, of the hand of Nā-ō'mī.

10 Moreover Ruth the Mō'ab-ĭt-ess, the wife of Mäh'lon, have I purchased to be my wife, to raise up the name of the dead upon his inheritance, that the name of the dead be not cut off from among his brethren, and from the gate of his place: ye are witnesses this day.

3 Blessing of the elders

11 And [i]all the people that were in the gate, and the elders, said, We are witnesses. [i]The LORD make the woman that is come into thine house [k]like Rā'chel and like Lē'ah, which two did build the house of Iṣ'ra-el: and do thou worthily in Ĕph'ra-tah, and be [j]famous in [m]Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm:

12 And let thy house be [n]like the house of Phā'rĕz, whom Tā'mar bare unto Jū'dah, of the seed which the LORD shall give thee of this young woman.

4 Blessings of kinsman redemption

13 ¶ So Bō'āz took Ruth, and she was his wife: and when he went in unto her, [o]the LORD gave her conception, and she bare a son.

14 And the women said unto Nā-ō'mī, [p]Blessed be the LORD, which hath not left thee this a 7 steps in kinsman redemption, p. 294

b Witnesses: kinsman redemption, p. 294

c Boaz stated the proposition of redemption to his kinsman who had the first right in this matter - one who was a nearer relative to Naomi and Ruth than he was. The man agreed to redeem the inheritance, but when it was said that he would have to buy it also of Ruth and marry her to raise up seed in the place of the dead, he refused to proceed under such terms (v 4-6). This gave Boaz the right, for he was next in line (v 4) d Here the nearest kinsman agreed to redeem the inheritance and if he had done so it would have taken away from Boaz the right to have Ruth as a wife. This part, the marriage to Ruth, the first redeemer did not take into consideration in the beginning; and when it was called to his attention that the transaction also included this, he changed his plans (v 4-6)

e The first redeemer, realizing that the redemption involved producing children through Ruth which should be counted as the offspring of Mahlon, the deceased kinsman, pleaded that he could not redeem under these circumstances, for it would mar his own inheritance. It could not be that the addition of more land could mar his inheritance, so it must be that he had a wife already and meant that taking another would cause trouble in his home. Thus, an agreement was reached, Boaz was to take Ruth as his wife, and the matter of redemption regarding her was witnessed by the elders of Bethlehem (v 6-7)

f It was a custom in Israel that when a man gave up a piece of property he took off his shoe in the gate before the elders as a sign that the one to whom he sold it had the only legal right to walk on the property (v 7). A transfer of the shoe symbolized the transfer of the property. This is what is referred to in Ps. 60:8; 108:9

g This settled the matter between Boaz and his relative who had the first right of redemption, when he pulled off his shoe and gave it to the elders as a sign of the property rights passing to Boaz, the elders witnessed the transaction and blessed Boaz and Ruth (v 9-12)

h All that was Elimelech's, all that was Chilion's, and all that was Mahlon's were bought by paying the redemption price to the one who had bought it from Elimelech when he left Bethlehem to go to Moab (1:1). The land was thus redeemed and Ruth, the Moabitess became the wife of Boaz and one of the mothers in the line of David and Messiah (v 9-10)

i This indicates that the court trials in the gates of cities were witnessed by the public who desired to attend them. Many people had gathered by this time and they, together with the elders, became witnesses. There were 10 official witnesses (v 2), but all present witnessed the transaction and sanctioned what was done (v 11)

j Note the blessing pronounced upon Boaz and Ruth. The Lord was called into the marriage and invoked to make a fruitful house like that of Jacob and his wives, to make the new family worthy of being inhabitants in Israel, to make them famous in Bethlehem, and like the house of Pharez (v 11-12)

k See Gen. 29:21-30:24; 35:16-20

l The blessing of v 11-12 came true to the letter. Especially did this family become famous by producing David and the Messiah in Bethlehem. Both David and Messiah were not only famous but will have eternal responsibility over all nations to come (Isa. 9:6-7; Jer. 30:9; Ezek. 34:23-33; Rev. 11:15)

m Bethlehem became famous because the Messiah was born there (Mic. 5:1-2; Mt. 2; Lk. 2)

n From Pharez came the families of of Bethlehemites and Elimelech (v 18-22; Gen. 38:28-30)

o Here we have the beginning of the blessing pronounced in v 11-12 p This was a joyful ending to the life of Naomi who had accused God of taking her loved ones and of making her poverty stricken and hopeless in life (v 14-21 with note h, 1:21)

a Referring to Boaz, not the infant Obed of v 17 b Still referring to Boaz, not the infant Obed of v 17. Boaz did become famous in Israel (v 14), and did restore the life and hopes of Naomi, nourishing her in old age (v 15). Her daughter-in-law, Ruth, did love her and was better than 7 sons who would have married and scattered to different parts away from her. Ruth cleaved to her in great affection, while sons may not have done so c This simply means that she became a nurse to the child and helped in caring for it d That is, the neighbors recommended a name suitable to the circumstances of the case; and the parents and grandmother agreed to it (v 17)
e Born to Naomi through Boaz and Ruth who were fulfilling the law by raising up seed for the dead and keeping his name alive. Their seed was reckoned or counted to take the place of the dead to carry on his place and name in Israel (Dt. 25:5-10)
f Obed means serving, and suggests the life of service and devotion which they believed he would give to his grandmother (v 17)

Time of the events of Ruth (1:1)

This is as near as we can determine the time when the events of Ruth transpired. Only one thing is clear - they took place in the early days of the judges, for in 4:21-22 we have the fact that Boaz was the son of Salmon who married Rahab the harlot of Jericho (Mt. 1:5). If Salmon married Rahab soon after the conquest of Jericho the events would have to occur at least during the first 50 to 75 years of the 520 from Joshua to Saul (see chronology of this period, p. 60). If Boaz was born to Salmon late in life and Boaz himself married late in life the events would still have to take place in the first 100 years of the 520, during the judgeship of Othniel perhaps (Judg. 3:9-11), the 18 years of servitude to Moab (Judg. 3:12-14), or at the latest, during the time of Ehud (Judg. 3:15-20). Should this be true we must acknowledge that the names of all men in the genealogy of Christ are not given at this point, for we have only 4 names in the list from Salmon to the birth of David, and the lives of 4 men would not cover that long a period, with the usual span of life being what it was at that time. It would have required Salmon, Boaz, Obed, and Jesse to have their children in this genealogy at the average age of 125 which is very unlikely. It is agreed by Bible scholars that all the names of royal genealogies are not always given, nor are they necessary; so it seems wise to recognize that some names have been omitted (4:20-22; Mt. 1:4-6; Lk. 3:31-32). See notes q and w, Mt. 1:8, 11

Daily greeting in Israel (2:4)

This was the daily greeting of godly men and their servants in Israel. The master would say, The Lord be with you and the servants would answer, The Lord bless you (v 4). It was equal to the master asking for the presence of God with the workers, and for their divine protection and preservation as they labored; and the same as the servants expressing a desire for the master to be blessed of God that he might enjoy the increase of the field and have wisdom regarding how to use it for His glory. If such mutual love and respect were shared alike by employer and employees in all lands it would be as near the days of heaven on earth as possible. Cp. Ps. 129:6-8

2 Go not to glean in another field
3 Go not from here, but abide in my field close to my maidens day[a] without a kinsman, that his name may be famous in Is'-ra-el.

15 And[b] he shall be unto thee a restorer of thy life, and a nourisher of thine old age: for thy daughter in law, which loveth thee, which is better to thee than seven sons, hath born him.

16 And Nā-ō'mī [c]took the child, and laid it in her bosom, and became nurse unto it.

17 And the women[d] her neighbours gave it a name, saying, There is a son[e] born to Nā-ō'mī; and they called his [f]name Ō'bed: [g]he is the father of Jĕs'-se, the father of Dā'vid.

IV Generations of Pharez

18 ¶ Now[h] these are the generations of Phā'rĕz: Phā'rĕz begat Hĕz'rŏn, 19 And Hĕz'rŏn begat Răm, and Răm begat Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb,

20 And Ăm-mĭn'a-dăb begat Năh'shŏn, and Năh'shŏn begat Săl'mŏn,

21 And Săl'mŏn begat Bō'ăz, and Bō'ăz begat Ō'bed, 22 And Ō'bed begat Jĕs'se, and Jĕs'se begat Dā'vid.

Summary of Ruth

Date and place: written in Palestine in its original form, as a record in Israel, between 1600-1500 B.C., but in its present form perhaps by Samuel between 1163-1123 B.C, or by Isaiah 743-683 B.C. (note k, 2 Chr. 32:32)

Author: perhaps Samuel or Isaiah to show the ancestry of David

Proof of authorship: there is no definite proof of authorship of Ruth; it is only supposed that the book was written by Samuel. It was put in its present form after the rule of the judges (1:1)

Theme: the book of Ruth is a simple historical record of life in Israel during the judges, illustrating the law of kinsman redemption, recording the story of a Gentile woman in the genealogy of Jesus Christ, and bringing the genealogy of David up to date - from Pharez to David

Statistics: 8th book of the Bible; 4 chapters; 85 verses; 2,578 words; 16 questions; 1st book of the Bible without a prophecy or any particular message from God by a prophet to Israel; 30 commands and 2 promises

4 Let your eyes be on the field that they reap, and go after them
5 Do not be afraid of my young men, for I have charged them not to touch you
6 When you are thirsty, go to the vessels and drink that which the young men have drawn

Ruth's 2 requests of Boaz (2:13)

She requested his favor and grace, acknowledging 2 important things:
1 You have comforted me. The Heb. for comforted is nacham, to sigh; breathe strongly; be sorry in a favorable sense; to pity; console; comfort by speaking kind and endearing words (v 13; 2 Sam. 12:24; Isa. 49:13; 52:9; 66:13)
2 You have spoken friendly to me though I am as unworthy of your regard as any of your maid-servants. The Heb. for friendly is leb meaning the heart. Boaz spoke to her heart and said endearing things to her. The word is used in this sense here (v 13) and in Judg. 19:3 where the Levite went to speak to his concubine and win her back to himself. Boaz invited Ruth to dine with his reapers and himself and he personally gave her some food with his own hands (v 14)

Harvest time in Israel (2:23)

The harvests were the most important times of the year in Israel. Events were reckoned from harvest times (1:22; 2:23; Gen. 30:14; Josh. 3:15; Judg. 15:1; 1 Sam. 6:13; 2 Sam. 21:9; 23:13). The 3 great yearly gatherings of Israel took place at the time of the 3 harvest seasons (Ex. 23:16; 34:21-22):
1 The feasts of the passover, first-fruits, and unleavened bread were held every April in connection with the barley harvest (1:22; 2:17,23; Lev. 23:4-15)
2 The feast of Pentecost was held 7 weeks later at the time of the wheat harvest (Ex. 34:22; Lev. 23:15-22)
3 The feast of tabernacles was held at the end of the year at the time of the fruit harvest. The feast of trumpets and the day of atonement preceeded that of tabernacles and Israel could gather and remain at all three, which were held in October (Lev. 23:23-44)

Between the barley harvest in April and the wheat harvest in June, most of the other cereals were reaped. The grapes began to ripen in August, but the gathering to make wine, molasses, and raisins was at the end of September. Figs and other fruits were also gathered about this time. Then Israel was ready to attend the last of the great annual feasts. Between the barley and wheat harvests a few showers of rain fell, helping to ripen the wheat, but from the wheat harvest to the fruit harvest there was no rain (2 Sam. 21:10; Jer. 5:24). The harvesters longed for cool weather during the reaping season (Pr. 25:13)

Kinsman redemption (3:12)

Heb. ga'al, next of kin and therefore the one to buy back a relative's property and marry his widow (2:20; 3:9-13; 4:1-14; Num. 5:8; 1 Ki. 16:11). Such a man was not only the one to redeem, but to take vengeance for a slain relative (Num. 35:12; Dt. 19:6, 12; Josh. 20:3-9). When a Hebrew was forced to sell his inheritance because of poverty, the nearest relative was to redeem it for him (Lev. 25:25). In case one acted as a kinsman redeemer of one who had died without a son, he was obliged to marry the widow. Should he refuse to take possession of the property he was not under obligation to marry the widow. Boaz had no right to redeem the property until the nearer kinsman refused

7 steps in kinsman redemption (4:2)

1 Getting witnesses to confirm every transaction between all parties involved as possible redeemers (v 2)
2 Agreement on which man shall be the redeemer (v 3-6)
3 Taking off the shoe of the one who gives his right of redemption to another, as a witness that he gives up such rights (v 7-8) self (v 9)
4 Redemption of the inheritance itself
5 Marriage between the redeemer and the wife of the dead one to raise up seed to continue his name (v 10)
6 Confession of witnesses to the transaction (v 11)
7 Blessing of the married couple

Witnesses kinsman redemption (4:2)

Though it was not a fixed law, 10 men were chosen as witnesses in this case. The law required 2 or 3 witnesses and allowed any other number above this (Num. 35:30; Dt. 17:6-7; 19:15. Cp. Mt. 18:16; 26:60; 2 Cor. 13:1; 1 Tim. 5:19; Heb. 10:28). In the matter of witnesses to the death, burial, resurrection of Christ, and His teachings there were 12 witnesses, or 6 times more than the number required by law to confirm anything (Acts 1:22; 2:32; 3:15; 4:33; 5:32; 10:39,41). In the future tribulation only 2 witnesses will be sent to men (Rev. 11:1-11)

a He was an ancestor of Jesse and David, the king, as listed in v 18-22; 1 Chr. 2:3-17; Mt. 1:1-5; Lk. 3:31-32
b These are the generations (v 18). Of the 14 times this term is used in the whole Bible, this is the 13th and last time in the O.T.

15 Lists of generations in Scripture:

1 The generations of the heavens and the earth (Gen. 2:4)
2 The generations of Adam (Gen. 5)
3 The generations of Noah (Gen. 6:9)
4 The generations of the sons of Noah (Gen. 10:1-32) 10)
5 The generations of Shem (Gen. 11:
6 The generations of Terah (Gen. 11:27) 25:12)
7 The generations of Ishmael (Gen.
8 The generations of Isaac (Gen. 25:19) 1-8)
9 The generations of Esau (Gen. 36:
10 The generations of the sons of Esau (Gen. 36:9-43) 2) 11 The generations of Jacob (Gen. 37:
12 The generations of Aaron and Moses (Num. 3:1) 18)
13 The generations of Pharez (Ruth 4:
14 The generations of Abraham (Mt. 1:1-18), or the family history of Jesus Christ, showing how He descended through Abraham and David. This list gives Joseph's line through Solomon
15 The generations of Adam (Lk. 3:23-38), or the family history of Jesus

First allegory in the Bible (Judg. 9:8)

This is the first allegory in the Bible, and perhaps the most ancient parable on record. An allegory is a story in which a meaning is conveyed other than that of the words themselves; a story to illustrate truth in which one thing is said and something else is meant. Here the trees are spoken of as persons holding a convocation to elect a king over them

Jotham's interpretation (Judg. 9:16)

Jotham's interpretation and application of this allegory to the present anointing of one like Abimelech, makes clear the purpose of the speech. It was prophetical of the curse upon the reign of Abimelech and of the destruction of the men of Shechem and Millo (v 19-20)

Chronology of chs. 17-21 (Judg. 18:1)

1 According to Josh. 19:40-48 the inheritance of Dan was too small for the whole tribe so some went and fought against Leshem and possessed it. It was also called Laish (Josh. 19:7,14,27,29), and afterwards called Dan after the name of the father of the tribe (v 29; Josh. 19:47-48). The taking of Leshem by the Danites is dealt with more fully here than in Josh. 19:47
2 The fact that Israel served the Lord all the days of Joshua and the elders that outlived him, proves that the terrible moral depravity of chs. 19-21 could not have taken place while these men were alive (Josh. 24:31)
3 In Judg. 18:1 it is clear that at least chs. 17-18 refer to a time before all the tribe of Dan was fully settled in an inheritance; and this would take us back to the days of Joshua and the time immediately following his death. At the very latest the events should be connected with 1:34 when all the tribes were becoming adjusted among their neighbors, from then to the first apostasy of Israel which made the institution of judges necessary (2:1-3:8)
4 When the events of chs. 19-21 took place Phinehas was still alive (20:28), and since he was the 3rd high priest and a grown man at the end of the wilderness wanderings (Num. 25), the events of Judg. 19-21 had to be early

I Israel under the judges (Judg. 1:1-1 Sam. 7:17). Eli and Samuel, 15th and 16th judges: over 80 years (1 Sam. 1:1-7:17). 1 Samuel's parents

NOW there was a certain man of[a]Rā-math-ā'im-zō'phim, of mount Ē'phrā-ĭm, and his name was [b]Ĕl'kā-nah, the son of Jĕr'o-hăm, the son of Ē-lī'hū, the son of Tō'hu, the son of Zŭph, an Ĕph'rath-īte:

2 And he had[c]two wives; the name of the one was[d]Hăn'nah, and the name of the other[e]Pĕ-nĭn'nah: and Pĕ-nĭn'nah had children, but Hăn'nah had no children.

3 And this man went up out of his city yearly to worship and to sacrifice unto the [f]LORD of hosts in Shī'lōh. And the two sons of[g]Ē'lī,[h]Hŏph'nī and[i]Phĭn'e-has, the priests of the LORD, were there.

4 ¶ And when the time was that Ĕl'kā-nah offered, he gave to Pĕ-nĭn'nah his wife, and to all her sons and her daughters, portions:

5 But unto Hăn'nah he gave[j]a worthy portion; for he loved Hăn'nah: but [k]the LORD had shut up her womb.

2 Hannah's problem: barrenness

6 And[l]her adversary also provoked her sore, for to make her fret, because the LORD had shut up her womb.

7 And as he did so year by year, when she went up to the house of the LORD, so she provoked her; therefore she wept, and did not eat.

8 Then said Ĕl'kā-nah her husband to her, Hăn'nah,[m]why weepest thou? and why eatest thou not? and why is thy heart grieved? am not I better to thee than ten sons?

3 Hannah's vow to give her child to God as a Nazarite (Num. 6:1-21)

9 ¶ So Hăn'nah rose up after they had eaten in Shī'lōh, and after they had drunk. Now Ē'lī the priest sat upon a[n]seat by a post of the[o]temple of the LORD.

10 And[p]she was in[q]bitterness of soul, and prayed unto the LORD, and wept sore.

11 And she vowed a[r]vow, and said, O LORD of hosts, if thou wilt indeed look on the affliction of thine handmaid, and remember me, and not forget thine handmaid, but wilt give unto thine handmaid a man child, then I will give him unto the LORD all the days of his life, and there shall no razor come upon his head.

4 Hannah misjudged by Eli

12 And it came to pass, as she continued praying before the LORD, that Ē'lī [a]marked her mouth.

13 Now Hăn'nah, she spake in her heart; only her lips moved, but her voice was not heard: therefore Ē'lī thought she had been drunken.

14 And Ē'lī [b]said unto her, How long wilt thou be drunken? put away thy wine from thee.

15 And Hăn'nah answered and said, No, my lord, I am a woman of a sorrowful spirit: I have drunk neither wine nor strong drink, but have [c]poured out my soul before the LORD.

16 Count not thine handmaid for a daughter of Bē'lĭ-al: for out [d]of the abundance of my complaint and grief have I spoken hitherto.

5 Hannah's blessing and faith

●17 Then Ē'lī answered and said, [e]Go in peace: and the God of Ĭs'ra-el grant thee thy petition that thou hast asked of him.◂

18 And she said, Let thine handmaid find grace in thy sight. [f]So the woman went her way, and did eat, and her countenance was no more sad.

19 ¶ And they rose up in the morning early, and[g]worshipped before the LORD, and returned, and came to their house to[h]Rā'mah: and Ĕl'kā-nah [i]knew Hăn'nah his wife; and [j]the LORD remembered her.

6 Birth of Samuel (v 17)

20 Wherefore it came to pass, when the[k]time was come about after Hăn'nah had conceived, that she bare a son, and called his name [l]Săm'u-el, saying, Because I have asked him of the LORD.

21 And the man Ĕl'kā-nah, and[m]all his house, went up to offer unto the LORD the yearly sacrifice, and his vow.

●22 But Hăn'nah went not up; for she said unto her husband, I will not go up until the child be weaned, and then I will bring him, that he may appear before the LORD, and there abide for ever.

23 And Ĕl'kā-nah her husband said unto her,"Do what seemeth thee good; tarry until thou have weaned him; only the LORD establish his word. So the woman abode, and gave her son suck until she weaned him.

7 Hannah's vow fulfilled (Num. 6:1-21)

24 ¶ And when she [o]had weaned him, she took him up with her, with[p]three bullocks, and[q]one ephah of flour, and a bottle of wine, and brought him unto the house of the LORD in Shī'lōh: and the child

h Hophni, pugilist. A wicked priest at the time of Samuel (v 3; 2:34; 4:4-17)
i Phinehas, serpent's mouth. A wicked priest in the days of Samuel (v 3; 2:34; 4:4-17; 14:3). See Phinehas, son of Eleazar, 3rd high priest of Israel (Ex. 6:25; Num. 25:7-11; 31:6; Josh. 22:13-32; 24:33; Judg. 20:28; 1 Chr. 6:4, 50; 9:20; Ezra 7:5; Ps. 106:30). There was also a priest in the time of Ezra by this name (Ezra 8:2, 33)
j Elkanah offered peace offerings to Jehovah, pouring out the blood at the foot of the altar, burning the fat with fire, leaving the breast and right shoulder for the priest, and taking the rest for himself and family to eat during the feast. Of the family's part each one received a portion, but Hannah a double portion. The Levite, the poor, the widow, and orphan were permitted to eat of this kind of offering, if invited (Dt. 16:11)
k It was customary in those days to attribute all such conditions to God, but in reality they could have been caused by a number of things, as in cases today
l Peninnah was considered her adversary because of provoking Hannah by being able to have sons and daughters while she, herself could have none. It was the experience of Rachel and Leah all over again (v 4-8 with Gen. 30:1-2). Perhaps there were many taunting remarks from the adversary, gloating over her many children. This went on from year to year and caused Hannah to weep, fast, and pray when they went up to the house of the Lord in Shiloh (v 7). This sorrowful spirit disturbed her husband who loved Hannah in particular, and he inquired about her grief, pointing out that he was better to her than 10 sons (v 8)

s The tabernacle was still in Shiloh 440 years after it was put there by Joshua (v 3, 9, 24; 2:14; 3:21; 4:3-12; 14:3 with Josh. 18:1-10; 19:51; 21:2; 22:9-12; Judg. 18:31; 21:12-21)

a Eli noticed that her lips moved, but her voice was not heard, so he thought she was drunk (v 12-13)
b Question 5, Next, 2:23
c This is one of the best definitions of prayer in Scripture (v 15-16)
d Prayer should come from the abundance of the heart, from which come the issues of life (v 16 with Mt. 12:34; 15:19-20; Lk. 6:45) e The high priest here was speaking as a representative of God - speaking comfort, faith, and assurance to a burdened soul. In a sense this was a promise and a prophecy to Hannah (v 17). It was fulfilled (v 19-23) f She had the witness in herself as well as from the high priest that her prayer would be answered, so she went her way without any more sadness, knowing that she would have a son as she had prayed. This is true faith (v 18. Cp. Mk. 11:24)
g They worshipped at the starting of the day which is the proper thing for all who believe in God (v 19)
h Ramah, high place. The word is a contraction of Ramoth-gilead (2 Ki. 8:20; 2 Chr. 22:6). There are 5 Ramah's in Scripture:
1 A city in Naphtali (Josh. 19:36)
2 A city on the border of Asher, 13 miles southeast of Tyre (Josh. 19:29)
3 A city of Benjamin about 6 miles north of Jerusalem (Josh. 18:25; Judg. 19:13)
4 A city in Judah south of Hebron which was allotted to Simeon (Josh. 19:8)
5 A city in Ephraim, the home of Elkanah and Hannah, and birthplace of Samuel (1:19; 2:11; 7:17; 8:4; 15:34; 16:13; 19:18-23; 20:1; 22:6; 25:1; 28:3). It was about 30 miles northwest of Jerusalem and called Arimathea in the N.T.(Mt. 27:57; Mk. 15:43; Lk. 23:51; Jn. 19:38)
i An idiom meaning co-habitation and fatherhood (v 19; Gen. 4:1, 17, 25; 19:5; Mt. 1:25)
j 7 miraculous conceptions:
1 Sarah (Isaac, Gen. 21:1-2; Heb. 11:11-12) 21-26)
2 Rebekah (Jacob and Esau, Gen. 25:3 Rachel (Joseph, Gen. 30:22) 24)
4 Manoah's wife (Samson, Judg. 13:3-5 Hannah (Samuel, 1:19-20) 58)
6 Elizabeth (John the Baptist, Lk. 1:24-7 Mary (Jesus Christ, Mt. 1:18-25; Lk. 1:31-35) in v 19 k 9 months after the happenings recorded l Heb. Shemuel, asked of God, or God-heard (v 20) m His wives, sons and daughters of v 2, 4. Hannah decided not to go up to the house of God until Samuel was weaned at which time she expected to take him and leave him there as a devoted child to the Lord, according to her vow of v 11 (v 22-23). Her mother-heart was no doubt pondering the loneliness she would later experience without him, and this made her want to be with him all that she could before the parting time came n Elkanah was consecrated to the Lord enough to permit her vow to be fulfilled (v 23). He could have legally cancelled it but thought it best to let it stand (Num. 30:6-8, 10-16). From v 21 it seems that Elkanah himself had made some kind of vow concerning Samuel also (v 23)
o There are 3 opinions regarding what age children were weaned:
1 That they were weaned at the age of 3 years, for Hezekiah made provision for the Levites from 3 years old and upward (2 Chr. 21:16)
2 That they were weaned at the age of 5 years, as in the case of Isaac (Gen. 16:16; 21:1-8)
3 That they were not fully weaned until the age of 12. Cp. Lk. 2:41-52 p The Septuagint, Peshitta, Berkeley, Moffatt, Rotherham, and some other versions read, a three year old bullock, and this seems to be the right idea, for the next verse reads a bullock q An ephah was 1 bushel and 3 pints. This a A bullock, 3 years old perhaps, instead of 3 bullocks as explained in note p, v 24

b Heb. adon, sovereign, master, lord, owner, ruler (note m, Judg. 19:26-27)

c As you are a living soul, so surely I am the woman that stood by you here praying for a child. The Lord has given what I asked of Him; therefore, I lend him to Jehovah all the days of his life (v 26-28)

d It is not likely that Hannah was the only woman ever to stand by the high priest and pray; but asking for a child in the manner she did (v 10-11) must have impressed him so that he could never forget e We must learn to ask for definite things instead of so many general things, and not be satisfied with any substitute for what we have prayed about. If she had not received a boy she would have continued praying yearly. It was not only a child, but a boy that she wanted; and it would not have been an answer otherwise. What we want is promised - anything good and within the bounds of the promises and goodness of God (Ps. 34:9-10; 84:11; Mt. 7:7-11; 17:20; 21:22; Mk. 9:23; 11:22-24; Lk. 11:13; Jn. 14:12-13; 15:7, 16; 16:23-26)

f Note the continued reference to the words of her vow as in v 11

g From 2:11 it seems that the child Samuel was old enough to minister to the Lord at the direction of Eli, so he was old enough to worship the Lord (v 28). The pronoun he, however, according to some versions is they, referring to the parents and Samuel, and others if they were present at this consecration j 4 personal references of Hannah (v 1):

1 My heart rejoices in Jehovah
2 My horn is exalted in Jehovah
3 My mouth is enlarged over my enemies
4 I rejoice in Thy salvation

k Some say this is a reference to the long horns which women used to wear on their heads to hold their veils. These were from 6 to 30 inches in length being several inches wide at the base and tapering to a point. Surely this cannot be the reference though, in view of uses of the word in many other places. Here Hannah's horn was exalted. The same word is used in connection with horns of others See "Horns", p. 326

l 3fold character and greatness of God (v 2):
1 None as holy as Jehovah
2 None as great and powerful
3 None as solid, stable, immovable and dependable as God

m 2 warnings to wicked enemies (v 3):
1 Talk no more so exceeding proudly
2 Let no arrogancy come out of your mouth

n 2 reasons for warning the wicked (v 3):
1 Jehovah is a God of knowledge
2 By Him all actions are weighed

r Heb. sheol, the unseen world; the place of departed spirits. God is the one who made hell for the devil and his angels, and all men who follow Satan; He is the one who sends to hell and confines rebels there for eternity (v 6; Dt. 32:22; Ps. 9:17; Isa. 14:9; 66:22-24; Mt. 25:41, 46; Rev. 20:10-15) s All men will be brought out of hell. The righteous were brought out at the resurrection of Christ when He led them captive from Satan to heaven (Ps. 16:10; Eph. 4:8-10; Heb. 2:14-15). The wicked will be brought out to face judgment at the great white throne at the end of the Millennium (Rev. 20:11-15)

t The reason given here for God being able to do all the things of v 3-8 is that He has laid the foundations of the earth, and set the earth upon them; and, by virtue of creation He is the owner of all things (v 8; Heb. 1:3, 10-12)

8 Hannah's prophetic prayer

[h]AND Hăn'nah [i]prayed, and said, [j]My heart rejoiceth in the LORD, [k]mine horn is exalted in the LORD: my mouth is enlarged over mine enemies; because I rejoice in thy salvation.

2 There is [l]none holy as the LORD: for there is none beside thee: neither is there any rock like our God.

3 [m]Talk no more so exceeding proudly; let not arrogancy come out of your mouth: [n]for the LORD is a God of knowledge, and [o]by him actions [p]are weighed.

4 [q]The bows of the mighty men are broken, and they that stumbled are girded with strength.

5 They that were full have hired out themselves for bread; and they that were hungry ceased: so that the barren hath born seven; and she that hath many children is waxed feeble.

6 The LORD killeth, and maketh alive: he bringeth down to the [r]grave, and [s]bringeth up.

7 The LORD maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up.

8 He raiseth up the poor out of the dust, and lifteth up the beggar from the dunghill, to set them among princes, and to make them inherit the throne of glory: [t]for the [u]pillars of the earth are the LORD's, and he hath set the world upon them.

9 [v]He will keep the feet of his saints, and the wicked shall be silent in darkness; for by strength shall no man prevail.

10 The adversaries of the LORD shall be broken to pieces; out of heaven shall he thunder upon them: the LORD shall judge the ends of the earth; and he shall give strength unto his [w]king, and exalt the horn of his [x]anointed.

9 Samuel begins his ministry

11 And Ēl'kă-nah went to Rā'-mah to his house. And the child did [y]minister unto the LORD before Ē'lī the priest.

10 Tenth apostasy under judges: 5 sins of priests (v 22)

12 ¶ Now the sons of Ē'lī were [z]sons of Bē'lī-al; they knew not the LORD.

13 And the priest's custom with the people was, that, when any man offered sacrifice, [a]the priest's servant came, while the flesh was in seething, with a fleshhook of three teeth in his hand;

14 And he struck it into the pan, or kettle, or caldron, or pot; all that the fleshhook brought up the priest took for himself. So they did in Shī'lōh unto all the Iṣ'ra-el-ites that came thither.

15 Also before they burnt the fat, the priest's servant came and said to the man that sacrificed, Give flesh to roast for the priest; for he will not have sodden flesh of thee, but raw.

16 And if any man said unto him, Let them not fail to burn the fat [b]presently, and then take as much as thy soul desireth; then he would answer him, Nay; but thou shalt give it me now: and if not, I will take it by force.

17 Wherefore the sin of the young men was very great before the LORD: for men abhorred the offering of the LORD.

11 Samuel becomes priest (v 11, 20-21, 26)

18 ¶ But Săm'u-el ministered before the LORD, being a child, girded with a [c]linen ephod.

19 Moreover his [d]mother made him a little coat, and brought it to him from year to year, when she came up with her husband to offer the yearly sacrifice.

12 Hannah's reward for giving Samuel to God

20 ¶ And Ē'lī blessed Ēl'kă-nah and his wife, and said, The LORD give thee seed of this woman for the loan which is lent to the LORD. And they went unto their own home.

21 And the LORD visited Hăn'nah, so that she conceived, and bare [e]three sons and two daughters. And the child Săm'u-el [f]grew before the LORD.

13 Tenth apostasy: sins of the priests and people (v 12)

22 ¶ Now Ē'lī was [g]very old, and heard all that his sons did unto all Iṣ'ra-el; and how they lay with the [h]women that assembled at the door of the tabernacle of the congregation.

23 And he [i]said unto them, Why do ye such things? for I hear of your evil dealings by all this people.

24 Nay, my sons: for it is no good report that I hear: ye make the LORD's people to transgress.

25 [j]If one man sin against another, the judge shall judge him: but if a man sin against the LORD, who shall intreat for him? [k]Notwithstanding they hearkened not unto the voice of their father, because the LORD would slay them.

26 And the [l]child Săm'u-el grew on, and was in favour both with the LORD, and also with men.

14 Prophecy against Eli: 8 great judgments a Considering the strictness of the law, there were many irregularities in the tabernacle program. No child was supposed to minister to the Lord, and no man of any other tribe besides Levi; even then one was supposed to be 25-30 years of age (Num. 4:3, 23, 30, 39; 8:24-25). Ordinary servants of the priests were not to be in the tabernacle, as recorded here (v 13-17). Non-Israelites were not to come near the tabernacle (Num. 3:10, 38). Only certain parts of the offerings were to be given to the priests and not just any part a servant would take out of the pot (Ex. 29:24-27; Lev. 7:34; 10:14-15). Taking things by force was not permitted, as in v 16-17

b Meaning now, immediately, and without delay

c This was not the same as the ephod of the high priest, but a linen robe of the ordinary priests and Levites (v 18; 22:18; Ex. 28:4-6; Lev. 6:10; 2 Sam. 6:14)

d The last reference to Hannah, the mother of Samuel (v 19-21)

e Hannah had 3 sons and 2 daughters after Samuel, so the barren did bring forth, as she predicted in v 5. It could be that she had a seventh child which did not live, making the seven of v 5 literal

f Further proof that Samuel was only a growing boy when he was presented to the Lord (v 21; 1:24-28)

g This indicates that Samuel was brought to Eli toward the end of his 40 years as high priest, or at least toward the middle of this judgeship. This would give Samuel several years in which to be properly trained and become known in Israel by the time he began his judgship of 40 years at the death of Eli, as implied in v 22-26; 4:18

h These women were those of a special class which devoted themselves to the tabernacle service. They had relinquished all worldly connections and home life to be devoted as holy women. This class began in the time of Moses (Ex. 38:8), and continued to the time of Christ (Lk. 2:37). It would have been better for these of Eli's time not to offer themselves for the tabernacle work because of permitting the priests to commit sin with them

i Questions 6-7. Next, v 27

j Meaning: all sins of men against men can be settled by the proper judge, but who will reconcile a man to his Maker and the Supreme Judge if one sins against Him? The Bible answers this question. Christ is the One who can mediate man's cause with God and He is the covering for the sins of all men should they avail themselves of such services of reconciliation (Mt. 26:28; Jn. 3:16; Rom. 1:16; 5:1-21; 8:1-13; 1 Cor. 6:9-11; 2 Cor. 5:14-21; Col. 1:20-21; 1 Tim. 2:4-5; 1 Jn. 1:7-9)

k The priests persisted in continuing in sin, so God determined to destroy them (v 25; 4:11)

l Samuel was still called a child after being with Eli a long time. He grew on and was in favor with both God and man (v 26) rael. It seems however, it definitely refers to Messiah x Heb. Mashiyach, anointed, referring usually to a consecrated person, as a king, priest, or saint, especially the Messiah. This is the first reference to the Messiah where this term is used (v 10). From this point on others take up the theme of God's Anointed One - the Messiah (v 35; Ps. 2:2; 45:7; Isa. 61:1; Dan. 9:25-26; Jn. 1:41; 4:25)

y In what ways the child Samuel ministered is not stated, but at the direction of Eli he could have done a number of things (v 11; 3:1)

z 5 sins of the priests
1 They were sons of Belial (v 12). This means that they chose to serve the devil (2 Cor. 6:15). See note f, Dt. 13:13
2 They knew not the Lord (v 12). This is the sin of refusing to obey the Lord, which becomes the root of all sin
3 Made men abhor the offering of the Lord by forcibly taking sodden and raw flesh from offerers contrary to the law (v 13-17). This robbed the offerers of meat that belonged to them (Lev. 7:31-35; Dt. 18:3), which was contrary to Lev. 3:16; 7:23, 25, 30, 31
4 Committed adultery with women who gathered at the door of the tabernacle of worship (v 22)
5 Refused to obey truth and quit sin even when found out (v 25) a 2nd prophecy in 1 Sam. (2:27-36, fulfilled, 4:1-22; 1 Ki. 2:27, except v 35, which was partially fulfilled in Zadok, 1 Ki. 2:26-27, and will be completely fulfilled in the Millennium and forever, Ezek. 44:9-31). Next, 3:11. See 7 predictions of Eli, p. 328

b See Man of God, p. 328

c Questions 8-11, Next, 3:17

d 3fold work of priests (v 28):
1 To offer upon My altar
2 To burn incense
3 To wear an ephod before Me

e Heb. ba'at, to trample down; despise (v 29; Dt. 33:15). They disdained the part allowed to them by the law and took the parts they wanted and as much as they pleased (v 13-16)

f God promised to dwell among Israel in the tabernacle (Ex. 25:8; 29:45-46, Cp. 2 Ki. 13:15; Ps. 80:1; Isa. 37:16)

g Honoring his sons above God was by permitting them to dishonor Him and His law, and by transgressing in those things which caused God's people to despise the worship of Jehovah and lose respect for the priesthood (v 13-17, 22-29)

h See God's promise, p. 327

i See But now, p. 327

j This is an expression of impossibility. God cannot possibly bless men whom He has promised to curse should they backslide and live in sin and rebellion (v 30, Cp. Gen. 18:25; Job 34:10). The same term is used of men in 1 Sam. 20:9; 22:15; 2 Sam. 20:20; 23:17; Mt. 16:22

k This principle is stated of God in both testaments (v 30; 2 Tim. 2:12). It holds true regarding all men, under law or grace, as proved in the stronger expression of 2 Tim. 2:12

l This was fulfilled in the death of the only sons of Eli (4:11). All his posterity died young (v 31-34)

m Eli was to see personally the defeat of Israel and the death of his sons (v 32; 4:1-22, Cp. Ps. 78:60-64) n The posterity of Eli continued to be high priests until the time of Solomon. Then the judgment of God on Eli was completed (1 Ki. 2:26-27)

o See note a, above

p See note x, v 10

q This shows the extreme poverty and what was the utter opposite of the prosperity and authority enjoyed by the priests as in v 12-17

r The Heb. for piece of silver here is used only once, and is thought to be the same as the gerah, which was 1/20 part of a shekel or about 3 1/5 cents, the smallest Hebrew coin. The smallness of it shows the poverty of the asker s A mouthful that might keep body and soul together. This was punishment for pampering themselves and lording it over the Israelites in the matter of sacrifices as in v 12-17

t Heb. na'ar, a child from the age of infancy to adolescence; babe; damsel; lad. Used of Samuel in 1:22, 24, 25, 27; 2:11, 18, 21, 26; 3:1, 8. It is used of other children in the baby stage (4:21; Judg. 13:5-8, 12, 24; 2 Sam. 12:16; 1 Ki. 11:17; 14:3, 17; Pr. 20:11; 22:6, 15; 23:13, 24; Isa. 7:16; 8:4). This emphasizes the youth of Samuel in the days of his training under Eli

u See 25 "precious" things of Scripture, p. 327

v The word of the Lord was precious in those days, because revelations, prophecies, visions, and contact with Jehovah was scarce and therefore valuable (v 1). This implies that in the days of the author they were more plentiful and common, and men had prophets to whom they could go at any time (v 1)

w No public accredited prophet with whom the revelations and secrets of the Lord were known to dwell, and to whom anyone could go for help in time of need and in public crisis (v 1)

x See Vision, p. 327

y These verses (2-18) indicate that there were living quarters built in connection with the tabernacle for the high priest and others who were immediately employed in the tabernacle. In one of these both Eli and Samuel lived z The lamps were taken care of each morning and evening (Ex. 27:21; Lev. 24:3), so this revelation to Samuel came before the early morning snuffing of the light of the candlestick and preparation for relighting (v 3-18)

27 ¶ [a]And there came a [b]man of God unto Ē'lī, and said unto him, Thus saith the LORD, [c]Did I plainly appear unto the house of thy father, when they were in Ē'gypt in Phā'raŏh's house?

28 And did I choose him out of all the tribes of Iş'ra-el to be my priest, [d]to offer upon mine altar, to burn incense, to wear an ephod before me? and did I give unto the house of thy father all the offerings made by fire of the children of Iş'ra-el?

29 Wherefore [e]kick ye at my sacrifice and at mine offering, which I have commanded in my [f]habitation; and [g]honourest thy sons above me, to make yourselves fat with the chiefest of all the offerings of Iş'ra-el my people?

30 Wherefore the LORD God of Iş'ra-el saith, [h]I said indeed that thy house, and the house of thy father, should walk before me for ever: [i]but now the LORD saith, [j]Be it far from me; for [k]them that honour me, I will honour, and they that despise me shall be lightly esteemed.

31 Behold, the days come, that [l]I will cut off thine arm, and the arm of thy father's house, that there shall not be an old man in thine house.

32 And [m]thou shalt see an enemy in my habitation, in all the wealth which God shall give Iş'ra-el: and there shall not be an old man in thine house for ever.

33 And [n]the man of thine, whom I shall not cut off from mine altar, shall be to consume thine eyes, and to grieve thine heart: and all the increase of thine house shall die in the flower of their age.

34 And this shall be a sign unto thee, that shall come upon thy two sons, on Hŏph'nī and Phĭn'e-has; in one day they shall die both of them.

35 And [o]I will raise me up a faithful priest, that shall do according to that which is in mine heart and in my mind: and I will build him a sure house; and he shall walk before mine [p]anointed for ever.

36 And it shall come to pass, that [q]every one that is left in thine house shall come and crouch to him for a [r]piece of silver and a [s]morsel of bread, and shall say, Put me, I pray thee, into one of the priest's offices, that I may eat a piece of bread.

239 CHAPTER 3

1 Samuel becomes the next named prophet after Joshua (Cp. Judg. 6:7)

3 AND the [t]child Săm'u-el [u]ministered unto the LORD before Ē'lī. And the word of the LORD was [v]precious [w]in those days; there was [x]no open [y]vision.

2 And it came to pass at that time, when Ē'lī [z]was laid down in his place, and his eyes began to wax dim, that he could not see;

3 And [z]ere the lamp of God went out in the temple of the LORD, where the ark of God was, and Săm'u-el was laid down to sleep;

4 That the LORD [a]called Săm'u-el: and he answered, Here am I.

5 And he ran unto Ē'lī, and said, Here am I; for thou calledst me. And he said, I called not; lie down again. And he went and lay down.

6 And the LORD called yet again, Săm'u-el. And Săm'u-el arose and went to Ē'lī, and said, Here am I; for thou didst call me. And he answered, I called not, my son; lie down again.

7 Now Săm'u-el did not yet know the LORD, neither was the word of the LORD yet revealed unto him.

8 And the LORD called Săm'u-el again the third time. And he arose and went to Ē'lī, and said, Here am I; for thou didst call me. And [b]Ē'lī perceived that the LORD had called the child.

9 Therefore Ē'lī [c]said unto Săm'u-el, Go, lie down: and it shall be, if he call thee, that thou shalt say, Speak, LORD; for thy servant heareth. So Săm'u-el went and lay down in his place.

10 And the LORD [d]came, and stood, and called as at other times, [e]Săm'u-el, Săm'u-el. Then Săm'u-el answered, Speak; for thy servant heareth.

16 Samuel's first prophecy: judgment on Eli's house

11 ¶ And the LORD said to Săm'u-el, Behold, I will do a thing in Iş'ra-el, at which both the ears of every one that heareth it shall tingle.

12 In that day I will perform against Ē'lī all things which I have spoken concerning his house: when I begin, I will also make an end.

13 For I have told him that I will judge his house for ever for the iniquity which he knoweth; because his sons made themselves vile, and he restrained them not.

14 And therefore I have sworn unto the house of Ē'lī, that the iniquity of Ē'lī's house shall not be purged with sacrifice nor offering for ever.

17 Samuel tells Eli the prophecy against his house

15 ¶ And Săm'u-el lay until the morning, and [f]opened the doors of the house of the LORD. And Săm'u-el [g]feared to shew Ē'lī the vision.

16 Then Ē'lī called Săm'u-el, and said, Săm'u-el, my son. And he answered, Here am I.

17 And he said, [h]What is the thing that the LORD hath said unto thee? I pray thee hide it not from me: [i]God do so to thee, and more also, if thou hide any thing from me of all the things that he said unto thee.

18 And Săm'u-el told him every [j]whit, and hid nothing from him. And he said, [k]It is the LORD: let him do what seemeth him good.

a Jehovah spoke with an audible voice so strong it woke Samuel out of his sleep; he thought he had been called by Eli (v 3-14). Not only did He speak thus, but God actually came and stood bodily at a certain place (v 10)

b It took three calls from the Lord to make Eli know that He was speaking to Samuel (v 4-8). This was the first revelation of God to Samuel, so he was not acquainted with the way He spoke and revealed Himself (v 7) c Evidently God had spoken to Eli in similar ways, so he was able to see that Jehovah was seeking to make Himself known to Samuel. Eli advised him what to do and it proved to be as he had supposed (v 9-10)

d 7 things Jehovah did:
1 Called to Samuel (v 4)
2 Called again to Samuel (v 6)
3 Called a third time to him (v 8)
4 Came from another place to where Samuel was, in the same way that others go from place to place (v 10)
5 Stood like any other person who has a personal body, soul, and spirit
6 Called Samuel by his name, as on three previous occasions (v 4, 6, 8, 10)
7 Said something to Samuel in an audible voice as someone else would speak to another (v 11-14)
Thus repeatedly it is made clear in Scripture that God is a person with a body, soul, and spirit like others, and that He can walk, talk, stand, and go from place to place as other persons do (note r, Jn. 4:24). See God in Index

e See 10 double callings, note c, Gen. 22:11

f 3rd prophecy in 1 Sam. (3:11-14, fulfilled, 4:1-22; 1 Ki. 2:26-27). Next, 9:16

4 predictions by Samuel:

1 I will do a new thing in Israel, at which all ears will tingle (v 11). When Israel shall hear of it they shall be astounded and it shall continue to ring in the ears of all men

2 In that day I will perform against Eli all things which I have spoken concerning his house (v 12). What God had spoken is recorded in 2:27-36. This bold prophecy would make all Israel astonished, for it affected their high priest, his house, and the change of priesthoods entirely to another line of men of Levi (1 Ki. 2:26-27)

3 When I begin, I will also make an end (v 12). This began as in 4:1-22 with the immediate destruction of the tabernacle, the defeat of Israel, the killing of the priests of the house of Eli, the capture of the ark, and the subjugation of Israel to the Philistines; and it continued with partial fulfillment of certain punishments upon the house of Eli until it came to an end in the days of Solomon (1 Ki. 2:26-27). The reason for this judgment is stated again in v 13-14. See 2:12-17, 22-26, 29-30

4 The house of Eli shall not be purged of their iniquity with sacrifice and offering forever (v 14)

g This reveals one of the duties in the ministry of Samuel. He was a doorkeeper in the house of the Lord (v 15, Cp. I Chr. 15:23-24). One psalmist expressed his desire to be a doorkeeper in God's house, a position he much preferred to dwelling in the tents of wickedness (Ps. 84:10)

h Samuel loved Eli and was afraid to tell him the message, not from fear of punishment, but because he did not want to distress the old priest whom he reverenced as a father and spiritual guide. God did not tell Samuel to deliver the message and he did not until he was commanded of Eli to do so (v 15-18)

i Question 12, Next, 4:3

j Whatever judgments were to fall upon Eli and his house were pronounced by him upon Samuel, if he would not tell all the message of God (v 17)

k Every particle; every detail. The Anglo-Saxon whit means every bit. In Heb. it means all the words

l Eli was godly enough personally to acknowledge the message of God and submit to His judgment pronounced upon his house (v 18). He knew Jehovah would do nothing but what was right even in judgment. This afforded him time to prepare to meet God and set his house in order. Genuine repentance and turning to righteousness on the part of Eli and his sons would have averted the judgment a See 12 facts: Samuel's life story, p. 327

b See 12 examples of God being "with" men, note m, Gen. 28:15 c Spoke only as God inspired him, so that every prediction was literally fulfilled. He also gave only sound and divine advice to Israel, so that all his counsels were received as coming from Jehovah (v 19-20; 7:3-17; 8:7-22; 9:15-10:27; 12:1-25; 13:11-15; 15:13-35; 16:1-13)
d All Israel knew Samuel, p. 327
e This refers to a second appearance of God to Samuel in Shiloh, of which nothing more is said (v 21. Cp. v 1-18)
f This expression by the word of the Lord simply means by the spirit of prophecy, as in Rev. 19:10 g Here the word of the Lord of 3:21 is called the word of Samuel because it was a revelation to him and through him. On these grounds Paul called the gospel which he received as a special revelation, my gospel (Rom. 2:16; 16:25)
h This war between Israel and the Philistines was the one which was to fulfil part of the prophecy of the destruction of Eli's house (2:31-36; 3:11-14)

7 results of the war:

1 In one day 4,000 killed (v 2)
2 On another day 30,000 killed (v 10)
3 The ark of God was captured (v 11)
4 Hophni and Phinehas, priests and sons of Eli were killed
5 Eli's death (v 17-18)
6 Birth of I-chabod whose name means: the glory is departed from Israel (v 19-22)
7 Israel served the Philistines over 20 years (7:1-14)

i Ebenezer, stone of help. So-called by Samuel later when Israel defeated the Philistines here after the ark had abode at Kirjath-jearim for 20 years (v 1; 5:1; 7:2, 12)
j Aphek, fortress. 4 Aphek's:
1 A city in Judah (v 1; Josh. 12:18). Called Aphekah (Josh. 15:53)
2 A city in Issachar (29:1)
3 A city in Asher (Josh. 13:4; 19:30). Called Aphik (Judg. 1:31)
4 A city east of Jordan (1 Ki. 20:26, 30; 2 Ki. 13:17)
k Israel was smitten before their enemies because of the sin, rebellion, and apostasy of the nation (v 2; Lev. 26:14-17; Dt. 28:15, 25). If Israel had obeyed God she never would have been defeated; 5 men would have chased a hundred, and 100 would have put 10,000 to flight (Lev. 26:8); or, one would have chased a thousand, and 2 would have put 10,000 to flight (Dt. 32:30) l Question 13, Next, v 6. This is answered in note k, above m Their plan now was to bring the ark of God into their midst, thinking that Jehovah would be with them and give them victory (v 3). But they were to learn that a mere material symbol in the camp would not atone for their evils or guarantee the presence and blessing of God. Jehovah permitted the ark to be captured and the tabernacle destroyed in Shiloh, fulfilling the prophecy of 2:32-34. God took care of the ark in Philistia and did miracles there until the Philistines had to send it back to Israel (5:1-7:2) n This was God's way of bringing Hophni and Phinehas into battle to fulfil the prophecy of 2:31-34
o Here is an example of empty religious shouting and noise-making, and a great lesson to all men (v 5-6). God is not in every shout in honor of Himself; when sin is involved He will not respect it. See Shout in Index p To Israel the shout was an outburst of religious enthusiasm; but to the Philistines it was only noise (v 6)
q Question 14, Next, v 8
r They understood through spies, as is always the case in war (v 6) s The Philistines were afraid when they heard the ark of God had come into the camp of Israel, for they remembered what this meant in the working of miracles for Israel before. They had no reason to fear though, because God had not planned to work for Israel this time, due to the nation's backslidings and sins (v 5-8)
t Question 15, Next, v 14
u Heb. Elohim, the plural of Eloah, Deity. These pagans knew and understood the correct way to refer to God - by using the plural form which indicates more

18 Samuel established as the prophet of the Lord

19 ¶ And Săm'u-el[a] grew, and the LORD was [b]with him, and did let none of his words fall to the ground.

20 And [d]all Is'ra-el from Dăn even to Bĕ'er-shĕ'bă knew that Săm'u-el was established to be a prophet of the LORD.

21 And the LORD [e]appeared again in Shī'lōh: for the LORD revealed himself to Săm'u-el in Shī'lōh [f]by the word of the LORD.

CHAPTER 4 240

19 War with the Philistines: (1) Israel defeated: 4,000 slain

AND the [g]word of Săm'u-el came to all Is'ra-el. Now Is'ra-el went out against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [h]to battle, and pitched beside [i]Eb'en-ē'zēr: and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes pitched [i]in A'phek.

2 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes put themselves in array against Is'ra-el: and when they joined battle, [k]Is'ra-el was smitten before the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and they slew of the army in the field about four thousand men.

(2) Inquiry: the ark sent for

3 ¶ And when the people were come into the camp, the elders of Is'ra-el said, [l]Wherefore hath the LORD smitten us to day before the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes? [m]Let us fetch the ark of the covenant of the LORD out of Shī'lōh unto us, that, when it cometh among us, it may save us out of the hand of our enemies.

4 [m]So the people sent to Shī'lōh, that they might bring from thence the ark of the covenant of the LORD of hosts, which dwelleth between the cherubims: and the two sons of Ē'lī, Hŏph'nī and Phĭn'e-has, were there with the ark of the covenant of God.

(3) Empty religious shouting

5 And when the ark of the covenant of the LORD came into the camp, [o]all Is'ra-el shouted with a great shout, so that the earth rang again.

6 And when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes heard the [p]noise of the shout, they said, [q]What meaneth the noise of this great shout in the camp of the Hĕ'brews? And they [r]understood that the ark of the LORD was come into the camp.

(4) Israel defeated: 30,000 slain, ark captured, prophecy of 1 Sam. 2:34 fulfilled

7 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [s]were afraid, for they said, God is come into the camp. And they said, Woe unto us! for there hath not been such a thing heretofore.

8 Woe unto us! [t]who shall deliver us out of the hand of these mighty [u]Gods? these are the Gods [v]that smote the Ē-gўp'tians with all the plagues in the wilderness.

9 [q]Be strong, and quit yourselves like men, O ye Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, that ye be not servants unto the Hĕ'brews, as they have been to you: quit yourselves like men, and fight.

10 ¶ And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes fought, and Is'ra-el was smitten, and they fled every man into his tent: and there was a very great slaughter; for there fell of Is'ra-el [b]thirty thousand footmen.

11 And [c]the ark of God was taken; and the two sons of Ē'lī, [d]Hŏph'nī and Phĭn'e-has, were slain.

(5) Report of battle: Eli dies. (End of the 450 years of Acts 13:20)

12 ¶ And there ran a man of Bĕn'ja-mĭn out of the army, and [e]came to Shī'lōh the same day with his clothes rent, and with earth upon his head.

13 And when he came, lo, Ē'lī sat upon a seat by the wayside watching: for his heart trembled for the ark of God. And when the man came into the city, and told it, all the city cried out.

14 And when Ē'lī heard the noise of the crying, he [f]said, What meaneth the noise of this tumult? And the man came in hastily, and told Ē'lī.

15 Now Ē'lī was [g]ninety and eight years old; and his eyes were dim, that he [h]could not see.

16 And the man said unto Ē'lī, I am he that came out of the army, and I fled to day out of the army. And he [i]said, What is there done, my son?

17 And the messenger answered and said, [j]Is'ra-el is fled before the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and there hath been also a great slaughter among the people, and thy two sons also, Hŏph'nī and Phĭn'e-has, are dead, and the ark of God is taken.

18 And it came to pass, when he made mention of the ark of God, that he fell from off the seat backward by the side of the gate, and his neck brake, and he died: for he was an old man, and [k]heavy. And he had judged Is'ra-el [l]forty years.

(6) Birth of I-chabod

19 ¶ And his daughter in law, Phĭn'e-has' wife, was with child, near to be delivered: and when she heard the tidings that the ark of God was taken, and that her father in law and her husband were dead, she bowed herself and travailed; for her pains came upon her.

20 And about the time of her death the women that stood by her said unto her, Fear not; for thou hast born a son. But she answered not, neither did she regard it.

21 And she [m]named the child I'-cha-bŏd, saying, The glory is departed from Is'ra-el: because the ark of God was taken, and because of her father in law and her husband.

22 And she said, The glory is departed from Is'ra-el: for the ark of God is taken.

a A similar expression is used by Paul in 1 Cor. 16:13 - quit you like men, be strong. Many are the commands of God to be strong, and of good courage

6 examples of this in Scripture:

1 Moses to Israel (Dt. 31:6)
2 Moses to Joshua (Dt. 31:7, 23)
3 Jehovah to Joshua (Josh. 1:6, 7, 9, 18)
4 Joshua to Israel (Josh. 10:25)
5 David to Solomon (1 Chr. 22:13; 28:20. Cp. 1 Ki. 2:2; 1 Chr. 28:10) 6 Hezekiah to Israel (2 Chr. 32:7)

b This made 34,000 killed (v 2, 10) c This was the first time the ark was captured in over 500 years (v 11); and, in fact, the only time it was ever captured. Note the results (5:1-6:21). The ark remained in the temple of Solomon until the Babylonian captivity, at which time Jeremiah is supposed to have taken it and hid it in a cave. There, it was supposed to remain, it is said, until the coming of the Messiah (Jer. 3:16; 2 Macc. 2:1-7). We never read of the worship of God at Shiloh after this, as before. The ark was never brought back to Shiloh and the tabernacle. It remained in Kirjath-jearim 20 years (7:1-2), it is mentioned once in the record of Saul's reign (1 Sam. 14:18), in David's reign it was brought to Jerusalem from Gibeah (2 Sam. 6; 1 Chr. 6:31; 13:1-14; 15:1-29; 16:1-37; 17:1; 2 Chr. 1:4). The tabernacle was also in Jerusalem at that time (2 Sam. 7:2; 11:11). The ark was taken with David in his flight from Absalom and then brought again to Jerusalem (2 Sam. 15:24-29). Solomon brought it into the temple after its completion (1 Ki. 8; 1 Chr. 22:19; 28:2, 18; 2 Chr. 5:1-10; 6:11, 41; 8:11; 35:3) d A fulfillment of 2:31-34
e The battlefield could not have been far from Shilob, for the young man reached it the same day after the defeat of Israel (v 12). The Philistines no doubt followed to Shiloh, for the prophecy reads of an enemy in the tabernacle or God's habitation (2:32). The Philistines perhaps burned the place of worship; and Samuel moved to Ramah (note h, 1:19)
f Question 16, Next, v 16
g The span of life has shortened much since the Antediluvian Age when men lived to be almost 1,000 years old (Gen. 5; 9:29). Immediately following the flood they lived 500 to 600 years (Gen. 11:10-17); then 200 to 230 years (Gen. 11:18-23). Later the span dropped to 140 to 205 years (Gen. 11:24-32; 25:7, 17; 35:28; 47:28; Job 42:16); and then to 110 to 120 years (Gen. 50:26; Dt. 34:7; Josh. 24:29). Finally, the average ages became 80 to 100 (1 Sam. 4:15; Lk. 2:37); and now, with modern living, they are less than that

241 CHAPTER 5

20 Ark in captivity. (1) Judgment on Ashdod

AND the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş [a]took the ark of God, and brought it from [b]Ĕb'en-ē'zĕr unto [c]Ash'dŏd.

2 When the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş took the ark of God, they brought it into the house of Dā'gon, and set it by Dā'gon.

3 ¶ And when they of Ash'dŏd arose early on the morrow, behold, [d]Dā'gon was fallen upon his face to the earth before the ark of the LORD. And they took Dā'gon, and set him in his place again.

4 And when they arose early on the morrow morning, behold, Dā'gon was fallen upon his face to the ground before the ark of the LORD; [e]and the head of Dā'gon and both the palms of his hands were cut off upon the threshold; only the stump of Dā'gon was left to him.

5 Therefore neither the priests of Dā'gon, nor any that come into Dā'gon's house, tread on the threshold of Dā'gon in Ash'dŏd unto this day.

6 But [f]the hand of the LORD was heavy upon them of Ash'dŏd, and he destroyed them, and smote them with [g]emerods, even Ash'dŏd and the coasts thereof.

(2) Judgment on Gath

7 And when the men of Ash'dŏd saw that it was so, they said, The ark of the God of Iş'ra-el shall not abide with us: for [h]his hand is sore upon us, and upon Dā'gon our god.

8 They sent therefore and gathered all the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş unto them, and said, [i]What shall we do with the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el? And they answered, [j]Let the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el be carried about unto Gāth. And they carried the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el about thither.

9 And it was so, that, after they had carried it about, the hand of the LORD was against the city with a very great destruction: and he smote the men of the city, both small and great, and they had emerods in their secret parts.

(3) Judgment on Ekron

10 ¶ Therefore they sent the ark of God to Ĕk'rŏn. And it came to pass, as the ark of God came to Ĕk'rŏn, that the Ĕk'ron-ites cried out, saying, They have brought about the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el to us, to slay us and our people.

●11 So they sent and gathered together all the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş, and said, [k]Send away the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el, and let it go again to his own place, that it slay us not, and our people: for there was a deadly destruction throughout all the city; the hand of God was very heavy there.

12 And the men that died not were smitten with the emerods: and the cry of the city went up to [l]heaven.

242 CHAPTER 6

(4) Counsel of the wise men

AND the ark of the LORD was in the country of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş [m]seven months.

2 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş called for the priests and the diviners, saying, [n]What shall we do to the ark of the LORD? tell us wherewith we shall send it to his place.

●3 And they said, [o]If ye send away the ark of the God of Iş'ra-el, send it not empty; but in any wise return him a trespass offering: [p]then ye shall be healed, and it shall be known to you why his hand is not removed from you.

4 Then said they, [q]What shall be the trespass offering which we shall return to him? [r]They answered, Five golden emerods, and five golden mice, according to the number of the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş: [s]for one plague was on you all, and on your lords.

●5 Wherefore ye shall make images of your emerods, and images of your mice that mar the land; and [t]ye shall give glory unto the God of Iş'ra-el: peradventure he will lighten his hand from [u]off you, and from off your gods, and from off your land.

6 [v]Wherefore then do ye harden your hearts, [w]as the Ē-gўp'tians and Phā'raōh hardened their hearts? when he had wrought wonderfully among them, did they not let the people go, and they departed?

●7 [x]Now therefore make a new cart, and [y]take two milch kine, on which there hath come no yoke, and tie the kine to the cart, and bring their calves home from them:

●8 And take the ark of the LORD, and lay it upon the cart; and put the jewels of gold, which ye return him for a trespass offering, in a coffer by the side thereof; and send it away, that it may go.

9 And see, if it goeth up by the way of his own coast to Bĕth-shē'mesh, then he hath done us this great evil: but if not, then we shall know that it is not his hand that smote us; it was a chance that happened to us.

21 Ark in Beth-shemesh. (1) Journey from Philistia

10 ¶ [z]And the men did so; and took two milch kine, and tied them to the cart, and shut up their calves at home:

11 And they laid the ark of the LORD upon the cart, and the coffer with the mice of gold and the images of their emerods.

12 And the kine took the straight way to the way of Bĕth-shē'mesh, and went along the highway, lowing as they went, and turned not aside to the right hand or to the left; and the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnĕş went after them unto the border of Bĕth-shē'mesh.

(2) Ark welcomed by Israel a Little did they realize what was in store for them for taking Israel's symbol of the glory of God. They were playing with trouble and divine judgment when they took sacred and consecrated things to dedicate to their own gods and thereby gloat over the powerlessness of the God of the Hebrews

b See note 1, 4:1

c At Ashdod, one of the 5 main cities of Philistia, there was a temple of Dagon, the national god whose shape was like that of a man at the upper part and that of a fish at the lower part (v 2-6). Here is where they brought the ark and set it by Dagon, and where God began to perform miracles of judgment upon the Philistines (5:2-6:21)

d 8 great miracles because of the ark:
1 The overthrow of Dagon. God evidently sent an angel who toppled Dagon from his pedestal on his face before the ark of the Lord as if in homage to the God of Israel. He was restored to his place by the Philistines (5:2-3)
2 The destruction of Dagon. The next morning instead of merely being overthrown he was again fallen on his face before the ark with his head and hands cut off. Only the lower part was still on the pedestal. This manifested the work of a definite person who had power to cut the idol into parts (5:4-5)
3 Supernatural plague of emerods in all of Ashdod and surrounding country (v 6)
4 Supernatural plague upon Gath, of emerods in the secret parts (5:7-9)
5 Supernatural plague of deadly destruction upon people in Ekron (5:10-11)
6 Supernatural plague of emerods upon the people of Ekron who did not die in the plague of death (5:12)
7 The 2 cows with calves shut up at home, going of their own accord from their calves to take the cart and ark of God back to Israel (6:7-12)
8 Supernatural destruction of men of Beth-shemesh (6:19)

e The man part of the half-man, half-fish god was cut off and fallen on the threshold and only the fish stump was left on the base. Because the broken-off head and hands were on the threshold it was afterward considered sacred and priests and other people would not walk on it any more (v 4-5). Thus, the curse on Dagon was perpetuated and the superiority of the God of Israel was manifest

f The hand of the Lord, as used in both testaments, expresses the power of God (v 6-11; 7:13; Ex. 3:20; 9:3; 32:11; Num. 11:23; Dt. 2:15; Judg. 2:15; Acts 4:28-30; 11:21). God's power was manifest in a miraculous way upon the Philistines through the bringing of emerods on all their bodies - a great plague so unnatural and unheard-of that there was no other explanation for it (v 6, 9, 11-12). The supernaturalness of this was made clear by the sudden appearance of the plague, and by the sign of the cows going from their calves direct to a certain place with the ark. Such would be absolutely miraculous (v 7-12). These pagans recognized the supernatural nature of the events of chs. 5-6 and even designed the test of the cows and calves themselves

g Heb. ophel, tumor; emerod. From aphal, to swell. Emerods is an old spelling of the modern hemorrhoids (bleeding piles, v 6, 9, 12; 6:4-5, 11, 17; Dt. 28:27)

h They recognized that God was miraculously cursing them (v 7, 9, 10-12)

i Question 18, Next, 6:2

j Taking the ark from place to place did not solve their problem. It only spread the plague to other places (v 6, 8-12). They saw they had not prevailed against Israel by their god being more powerful, as supposed, than Jehovah; they now realized He could destroy their whole nation without any harm to Israel. Carrying the ark about only proved that the trouble in Ashdod was not from a natural cause. Perhaps the purpose of God at this time was to teach them and other nations not to touch the ark or take it captive as a prize to prove their gods greater than Jehovah k The final counsel was to send Israel's ark of God back to its place, so that the plague would leave Philistia (v 11-12)

a Whether they prayed to the God of heaven, or God (in heaven) heard their crying out in agony because of their affliction, is not clear (v 12)

b It took the Philistines 7 months to learn their lessons and conclude what was best to do (v 1). They really wanted to keep the ark if possible, for it was a prize of prizes to dedicate to their national god, Dagon. They wished to glory in their defeat of Israel, especially over the fact that the very thing which had wrought so many miracles in Israel and which represented the presence of God, was now helpless and in their hands

d They were so accustomed to making offerings to their deities that they thought it best not to send the ark back without some kind of offering to atone for their trespass (v 3)

e If we give a trespass offering and we are healed, then it shall be confirmed that we have trespassed against the God of the Hebrews and that His hand would not be removed from us until we did this (v 3)

f Question 20, Next, v 6

g After concluding that they had trespassed, the next question to settle was what kind of trespass offering they should offer Jehovah. They decided on 5 golden emerods and 5 golden mice, one for each of the 5 lords of the Philistines, since the same plague was upon them all (v 4) h The reason for giving golden emerods and mice was because both had been a part of the plague upon them - the emerods marred their bodies and the mice marred their land (v 4-5). In both the Septuagint and the Vulgate we have information in 6:5 that the country swarmed with mice during this plague of emerods upon the people i How glory was to be given is not stated but it perhaps included acknowledgement that God had been the one bringing the judgment, confession that they had trespassed against Him, and their attempt to make restitution (v 5-9)

j 3 objects of God's judgment:
1 You (v 5; 5:6, 9, 11-12)
2 Your gods (v 5; 5:1-3, 7)
3 Your land (v 5)

k Questions 21-22, Next, v 20

l The wise men of Philistia warned the people not to harden themselves in heart to resist the God of Israel, as did Pharaoh and the Egyptians who were destroyed (v 6) m The advice to make a new cart to carry the ark back to Israel was contrary to the law of Moses. The ark was to be borne by priests only who were consecrated and otherwise qualified to do so (Num. 4:15; 7:9; 10:21). Philistia had no such priests who could carry the ark; in fact, it is doubtful that they knew of such law, so they escaped judgment for this act. Cp. note on the new cart of David (2 Sam. 6:3)

n This test by the Philistines was a wise one if they were to prove beyond doubt whether God was really punishing them. If 2 milch cows having their calves shut up at home, would go of their own accord direct to Israel with the cart, that would be proof enough. Philistines would then have to acknowledge that the hand of the God of Israel had been against them (v 8-9)

o The test was carried out and the cows went straight for Israel and that, regardless of their lowing for their calves every step of the way (v 10-12). This truly proved the supernatural more than anything else. Imagine 2 cows going thus of their own accord about 20 miles under these circumstances!

4fold appeal of David to Saul (26:19)

1 I pray you, let my lord the king hear the word of his servant (v 19)
2 If Jehovah has stirred you up to seek my life, let Him accept an offering from you as proof of it
3 If men have stirred you up against me, cursed are they before Jehovah, for they have been the cause of my being driven from my inheritance and my rights to serve Jehovah as He requires 4 Do not let my blood fall to the earth before Jehovah

a Beth-shemesh was about 20 miles from Ekron where the ark was sent back to Israel on a new cart drawn by 2 cows lowing all the way for their calves kept at home. The 5 lords of the Philistines followed the cart near enough to see where it went in order to make the test complete (v 7-12, 16). Beth-shemesh was on the border between Judah and Philistia (Josh. 15:10; 21:16; 1 Ki. 4:9; 2 Chr. 28:18). Judahites were harvesting wheat in the valley when the ark made its appearance (v 13)

b The same supernatural and invisible force that caused the cows to leave their calves and go of their own accord to Judah also caused them to stop at this certain place near a great stone in the field of Joshua, a native of Beth-shemesh. The men of the place rejoiced to see the ark, and sacrificed the 2 cows as a burnt offering to God, using the wood of the cart (v 14)

c Levites took the ark, the gold emerods and mice and put them on the great stone (v 15)

d The 5 lords of the Philistines were convinced that God had been the cause of their trouble and that it was not chance that had brought their affliction; so they went back to their people to make a report, after following the cart and seeing it stop in Judah among the Israelites (v 16). No such miracle could have been performed by anyone other than God e 5 cities offered trespass offerings:

1 Ashdod - one each of the golden emerods and mice (v 4-5, 17)
2 Gaza - one each
3 Askelon - one each
4 Gath - one each
5 Ekron - one each

f It seems that one golden emerod was offered for each of the 5 main cities only, but golden mice were given from all the cities (including these 5), even small villages where the curse of mice had been (v 17-18)

g The stone was called Abel, perhaps because of the many deaths caused at this place for looking into the ark. Abel was the first man to be slain because of religion and a sacrifice (Gen. 4); and so, this was a fitting name (v 18-21)

h This is in italics, meaning the words were supplied by the translators who were no doubt right in stating that it was the stone that remained in the field and not the ark itself. The ark, we know, was not left in the open field, for it was soon taken to Kirjath-jearim (v 19-21; 7:1-2)

i Beth-shemesh being but a very small village, some say that 50,070 men could not have been killed. The Sept. reads, "He smote among them seventy men, including fifty of the men's thousand." Perhaps this is the way it was and some copyist mistakenly reported it otherwise. The Berkeley version throws similar light on the matter thus: "seventy of the people, fifty to the thousand;" and Young says "seventy men - fifty chief men." Even 70 slain in such a small place would be a great slaughter (v 19). Fenton translates this passage: "seventy persons, and fifty bullocks," because the Heb. for thousand here is the same word for ox, which is aleph or eleph. Acceptance of this would clear up the difficulty immediately, making the record show 50 bullocks instead of 50 thousand men besides the 70 men

k This was the 5th moving of the ark 1 Shiloh to Ashdod (5:1-7)
2 Ashdod to Gath (5:8)
3 Gath to Ekron (5:10)
4 Ekron to Beth-shemesh (6:1-20)
5 Beth-shemesh to Kirjath-jearim (6:21-7:2). It remained here 20 years

l Kirjath-jearim was about 8 miles northeast of Beth-shemesh. The ark was brought to the house of Abinadab, and Eleazar, his son, was sanctified to keep it (v 1). It remained there 20 years during which time Israel was more or less under the Philistines, for the people lamented after Jehovah and this was not likely unless they were in trouble (v 2)

13 And they of [a]Bĕth-shĕ'-mesh were reaping their wheat harvest in the valley: and they lifted up their eyes, and saw the ark, and rejoiced to see it.

14 And the[b]cart came into the field of Jŏsh'u-á, a Bĕth-shĕ'-mīte, and stood there, where there was a great stone: and they clave the wood of the cart, and offered the kine a burnt offering unto the LORD.

15 And the[c]Lē'vītes took down the ark of the LORD, and the coffer that was with it, wherein the jewels of gold were, and put them on the great stone: and the men of Bĕth-shĕ'mesh offered burnt offerings and sacrificed sacrifices the same day unto the LORD.

(3) Trespass offerings of the Philistines

16 And when[d]the five lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had seen it, they returned to Ĕk'rŏn the same day.

17 And these are the golden emerods which the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes returned for a trespass offering unto the LORD; [e]for Ash'dŏd one, for Gā'zā one, for Ăs'kelŏn one, for Gath one, for Ĕk'rŏn one;

18 And the [f]golden mice, according to the number of all the cities of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes belonging to the five lords, both of fenced cities, and of country villages, even unto the great stone of [g]Ā'bĕl, whereon they set down the ark of the LORD: which [h]stone remaineth unto this day in the field of Jŏsh'u-á, the Bĕth-shĕ'mīte.

(4) 50,070 men killed by a plague for looking in the ark

19 ¶ And he smote the men of Bĕth-shĕ'mesh, because they had looked into the ark of the LORD, even he smote of the people[i]fifty thousand and threescore and ten men: and the people lamented, because the LORD had smitten many of the people with a great slaughter.

20 And the men of Bĕth-shĕ'mesh said, [j]Who is able to stand before this holy LORD God? and to whom shall he go up from us?

●21 ¶ And they sent messengers to the inhabitants of Kĭr'-jath-jē'a-rĭm, saying, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes have brought again the ark of the LORD; [k]come ye down, and fetch it up to you.

CHAPTER 7 243

22 Ark at Kirjath-jearim: 8th servitude: 20 years to Philistia

AND the men of [l]Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm came, and fetched up the ark of the LORD, and brought it into the house of Ă-bĭn'a-dăb in the hill, and sanctified Ĕ-le-ā'zar his son to keep the ark of the LORD.

2 And it came to pass, while the ark abode in Kĭr'jath-jē'a-rĭm, that the time was long; for it was twenty years: and all the house of Ĭs'ra-el lamented after the LORD.

3 ¶ And[a]Săm'u-el spake unto all the house of Ĭs'ra-el, saying, If ye[b]do return unto the LORD with all your hearts, then put away the strange gods and Ash'ta-rŏth from among you, and prepare your hearts unto the LORD, and serve him only: and he will deliver you [c]out of the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

23 War with Philistia. (1) Religious revival at Mizpeh

4 [d]Then the children of Ĭs'ra-el did put away [e]Bā'al-ĭm and [f]Ash'ta-rŏth, and served the LORD only.

●5 And Săm'u-el said, Gather all Ĭs'ra-el to Mĭz'peh, and I will pray for you unto the LORD.

6 And they gathered together to Mĭz'peh, and drew water, and poured it out before the LORD, and fasted on that day, and said there, We have sinned against the LORD. And Săm'u-el judged the children of Ĭs'ra-el in Mĭz'peh.

(2) Mobilization of Philistines makes Israel fear

7 And [g]when the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes heard that the children of Ĭs'ra-el were gathered together to Mĭz'peh, the lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes went up against Ĭs'ra-el. And when the children of Ĭs'ra-el heard it, [h]they were afraid of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

8 And the children of Ĭs'ra-el said to Săm'u-el, Cease not to cry unto the LORD our God for us, that he will save us out of the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

(3) Miraculous victory of Israel over the Philistines

9 ¶ And Săm'u-el [i]took a sucking lamb, and offered it for a burnt offering wholly unto the LORD: and Săm'u-el cried unto the LORD for Ĭs'ra-el; and [i]the LORD heard him.

10 And as Săm'u-el was offering up the burnt offering, the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes drew near to battle against Ĭs'ra-el: but [k]the LORD thundered with a great thunder on that day upon the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and discomfited them; and they were smitten before Ĭs'ra-el.

11 And the men of Ĭs'ra-el went out of Mĭz'peh, and pursued the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and smote them, until they came under [l]Bĕth'-căr.

12 Then Săm'u-el took a stone, and set it between Mĭz'peh and Shĕn, and called the name of it [m]Eb'en-ē'zĕr, saying, Hitherto hath the LORD helped us.

13 ¶ So the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes were subdued, and they came no more into the coast of Ĭs'ra-el: and the [n]hand of the LORD was against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes [o]all the days of Săm'u-el.

14 And the cities which the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had taken from Ĭs'ra-el were restored to Ĭs'-ra-el, from Ĕk'rŏn even unto Gath; and the coasts thereof did Ĭs'ra-el deliver out of the hands of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes. And there was peace between Ĭs'-ra-el and the Ăm'ŏr-ītes.

a This is the first reference to Samuel in the 20 years or more Israel had lived in defeat in the days of Eli (4:1-22). Samuel was now 20 years older - perhaps as much as 40 years of age (v 3-13)

b 6 conditions of deliverance (v 3):
1 Return to God with all the heart
2 Put away all strange gods
3 Put away Ashtaroth. See p. 115
4 Prepare hearts unto God
5 Serve Him only

c 8th servitude (v 1-3. See 7 servitudes in the book of Judges, note g, Judg. 6:1)

d 10fold preparation of Israel for victory:
1 They put away Baalim and Ashtaroth (v 4)
2 They served the Lord only
3 Gathered together for prayer (v 5)
4 Poured out water as a symbol of pouring out their hearts to God in prayer (v 6; 1:15; Ps. 22:14; 62:8; Lam. 2:19; note a, Jn. 7:37)
5 Fasted before Jehovah (v 6)
6 Confessed sins against God
7 Received judgment by Samuel - made all things right with one another
8 Depended upon the prophet and God for deliverance from their enemies (v 8)
9 Offered sacrifice (v 9)
10 Cried to God in danger

e Baalim, plural of Baal. National God of Phoenicia and other nations surrounding Israel. See p. 115

f Ashtaroth, female god of Sidon and other nations surrounding Israel. See p. 115

g Evidently Israel had been forbidden by the Philistines to have national gatherings, so when they heard of this assembly they knew their treaty with them as a servant nation had been broken; hence, the mobilization of Philistia

h Israel had been under Philistia over 20 years (6:1; 7:1-2), and were perhaps unarmed compared to their enemies; who kept them stripped as much as possible (13:19; 14:11, 22). In this unprepared state Israel would naturally be somewhat afraid, so they begged Samuel to plead with God for them, for deliverance (v 8-9)

i Samuel was a Levite, and according to 1 Chr. 23:27-32 could offer sacrifices here; but according to Num. 18:3 he could not act in the holy place. Samuel made several sacrifices to God (v 9; 9:12; 10:8; 16:1-11)

j God heard Samuel - not the people who had been living in sins of all kinds, and therefore, had no confidence that God would hear them (v 9)

k 22 ways God gave miraculous victories and protected His chosen people:
1 By plagues (Gen. 12:17; 20:17-18; Ex. 5:1-12:30)
2 Confederates (Gen. 14:13)
3 Angels (Gen. 19:1-24; 2 Ki. 19:35)
4 By dreams (Gen. 20:6-9; 31:24; Mt. 2)
5 Terror of God (Gen. 35:5; Dt. 2:25)
6 Favor with civil rulers (Gen. 41:38-44; Ezra 1; 6; Neh. 1; Esther 4:1-10:3)
7 Favor with men (Ex. 12:36; Dan. 2:5)
8 Personal presence (Ex. 13:21-22)
9 Personal power (Ex. 14:19-31; Josh. 6:20)
10 Miraculous supply (Ex. 16:13-22, 35; 17:6; Num. 11:31-35; 20:8-11)
11 Symbol of cross (Num. 21:8; Jn. 3:14)

o About 40 years (v 13; note b, v 15). This means all the days of his judgeship or government before they asked for a king, and not all the days of his life, as in v 15 a As we have seen, there were 16 judges during the 450 years of Israel's history after the division of Canaan to the time of Samuel (Acts 13:20). Of these, 14 are recorded in the book of Judges and 2 - Eli and Samuel - in 1 Samuel (4: 18; 7:6, 15)

b That is, about 40 years, or all the days of his life from the time he began to judge them as in 7:1-8, when he was about 20 years of age. It could be that the 20 years of 7:2 were a part of the judgeship of Samuel or about half of his reign before Saul was made king. He continued to be judge after Saul was chosen until the kingdom was established (8:1-10:27). He judged Israel and exercised the office of a prophet; but the military leadership was in the hands of Saul when he became king. Samuel was used of God to choose the king, outline the terms of the kingdom, and oversee Saul in his conquests (9:1-10:27; 11:12-15; 12:1-24; 13:1-15; 15:1-35). He also anointed David as the successor of Saul (16:1-13). David reported to him about his mistreatment at the hands of Saul (19:18-24). Samuel continued to be highly esteemed as a prophet and judge in Israel until his death about 38 years after Saul became king (25:1) c Samuel could be called the first circuit judge on Bible record

4 courts in his circuit (v 16-17):

1 Bethel in Ephraim, about 12 miles north of Jerusalem. See Index

2 Gilgal in Judah, about 18 to 20 miles east of Jerusalem, where Israel first entered Canaan. See Index

3 Mizpeh, the one in Benjamin about 8 miles north of Jerusalem, or the one in Gilead about 40 miles from Jerusalem on the east of Jordan where the eastern tribes could come to be judged in their own territory

4 Ramah, See note h, 1:19

d Samuel always returned to Ramah, his old home place and where he was born and lived until he was weaned e Samuel built an altar at Ramah where it seems he offered regular sacrifices to God. The commands of Dt. 12:5-26; 14:23-25; 15:20; 16:2-16; 18:6; 23:16 and 26:2 were not obeyed to the letter. It seems also that the ark was at Shiloh all this time (14:3, 18-19)

f If Samuel was about 20 years old when Eli died and when he began his judgeship, he must have been about 60 years old at this time - when he started making his sons judges in Israel (v 1). He continued to judge and exercise the office of a prophet during most of Saul's reign. He is supposed to have died about 2 years before the death of Saul (25:1), which would have made him about 98 years old at death

i 4 sins of Samuel's sons (v 3):
1 Walked not in Samuel's ways
2 Turned aside after lucre
3 Took bribes
4 Perverted judgment

j Stooped to commit extortion

k Heb. betsa, plunder; gain; covetousness; dishonesty; lucre; profit. Lucre is found only here in the O. T. but 5 times in the N. T. (1 Tim. 3:3, 8; Tit. 1:7, 11; 1 Pet. 5:2)

l This was contrary to Dt. 16:19

m All the elders of Israel concluded that a change in government was necessary (v 4). It is noticeable that both the sons of Eli and Samuel were wicked men, illustrating the truth that often the most godly have ungodly sons, and sometimes the ungodly have godly ones. Both common experiences are referred to in Ezek. 18:4-19

n Up to this time - from Abraham to Samuel, about 1,400 years - the children of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob had been under a theocracy, a God-rule. Now they desired to have a king like other nations to judge and lead them in battle (v 5-6). The Hebrew monarchy thus began with the choosing of Saul.

o Samuel was naturally displeased because this request was a personal rejection of God and himself, for he was at that time their recognized judge (7:6, 15-17)

16 And he went from year to year in [c]circuit to Bĕth'-el, and Gĭl'găl, and Mĭz'peh, and judged Ĭs'ra-el in all those places.

17 And [d]his return was to Rā'mah; for there was his house; and there he judged Ĭs'ra-el; and there he [e]built an altar unto the LORD.

244 CHAPTER 8

II Change of government in Israel from a theocracy to a kingdom (1 Sam. 8:1-10:27). Beginning of Israel under kings (1 Sam. 7:17-2 Chron. 36:23). 1 Israel demands a king like all nations, fulfilling Dt. 17:14-20

AND it came to pass, when Săm'u-el was [f]old, that he made his sons judges over Ĭs'ra-el.

2 Now the name of his firstborn was [g]Jō'el; and the name of his second, [h]Ă-bī'ah: they were judges in Bĕ'er-shĕ'bà.

3 And his sons [i]walked not in his ways, but [j]turned aside [k]after lucre, and [l]took bribes, and perverted judgment.

4 Then [m]all the elders of Ĭs'ra-el gathered themselves together, and came to Săm'u-el unto Rā'mah,

5 And said unto him, Behold, thou art old, and thy sons walk not in thy ways: now [n]make us a king to judge us like all the nations.

2 The theocracy rejected

6 ¶ But the thing [o]displeased Săm'u-el, when they said, Give us a king to judge us. [p]And Săm'u-el prayed unto the LORD.

7 And the LORD said unto Săm'u-el, Hearken unto the voice of the people in all that they say unto thee: for they have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them.

8 According to all the works which they have done since the day that I brought them up out of Ē'gўpt even unto this day, wherewith they have forsaken me, and served other gods, so do they also unto thee.

9 Now therefore hearken unto their voice: howbeit yet protest solemnly unto them, and shew them the manner of the king that shall reign over them.

10 ¶ And Săm'u-el told all the words of the LORD unto the people that asked of him a king.

3 Kind of kingdom revealed

11 And he said, [q]This will be the manner of the king that shall reign over you: He will take your sons, and appoint them for himself, for his chariots, and to be his horsemen; and some shall run before his chariots.

12 And he will appoint him captains over thousands, and captains over fifties; and will set them to [r]ear his ground, and to reap his harvest, and to make his instruments of war, and instruments of his chariots.

13 And he will take your daughters to be confectionaries, and to be cooks, and to be bakers.

14 And he will take your fields, and your vineyards, and your oliveyards, even the best of them, and give them to his servants.

15 And he will take the tenth of your seed, and of your vineyards, and give to his officers, and to his servants.

16 And he will take your menservants, and your maidservants, and your goodliest young men, and your asses, and put them to his work.

17 He will take the tenth of your sheep: and ye shall be his servants.

18 And [s]ye shall cry out in that day because of your king which ye shall have chosen you; and the LORD will not hear you in that day.

4 The kingdom granted Israel

19 ¶ Nevertheless [t]the people refused to obey the voice of Săm'u-el; and they said, Nay; but we will have a king over us;

20 That we also may be like all the nations; and that our king may judge us, and go out before us, and fight our battles.

21 And Săm'u-el heard all the words of the people, and he rehearsed them in the ears of the LORD.

22 And the LORD said to Săm'u-el, [u]Hearken unto their voice, and make them a king. And Săm'u-el said unto the men of Ĭs'ra-el, Go ye every man unto his city.

CHAPTER 9 245

5 Saul chosen king. (1) Saul described (Cp. 10:9, 22 with 15:17-35; 16:1)

NOW [v]there was a man [w]of Bĕn'ja-mĭn, whose name was [x]Kĭsh, the son of [y]Ă-bī'el, the son of [z]Zĕ'rôr, the son [aa]of Bĕ-chō'rath, the son of [ab]Ă-phī'ah, a Bĕn'ja-mite, [ac]a mighty man of power.

2 And he had a son, whose name was Saul, [ad]a choice young man, and a goodly: and there was not among the children of Ĭs'ra-el a goodlier person than he: from his shoulders and upward he was higher than any of the people.

(2) Saul seeking his father's asses inquires of Samuel

3 And the asses of Kĭsh Saul's father were [ae]lost. And Kĭsh said to Saul his son, Take now one of the servants with thee, and arise, go seek the asses.

a To ear was the old English term for plowing (v 12; Gen. 45:6; Ex. 34:21; Dt. 21:4) b Heb. ṭaqach, to perfume; apothecary; to compound or make ointments and perfumes. Only here (v 13) c Israel was free from taxes and other terms which would be imposed upon them if they wanted a kingdom. It would be necessary to create and support armies, officers, a king with all his royal requirements; and the people would need to give the best of their sons, daughters, land, stock, and crops. Besides this there would be ungodly and oppressive kings who would make them cry out because of the trouble they would be in (v 18)

d All the warning of Samuel about losing their sons, daughters, servants, crops, stock, lands, and wealth to support a kingdom did not make the slightest impression on the Israelites. All they could see now was their own way in the matter, so they ignored Samuel's warning (v 19)

e Here God gave the final word to Samuel that he should listen to the people and give them a king (v 22)

f God always finds His man, and when one fails Him as Saul did, He finds another. After God gave Saul another heart and the Holy Spirit (10:9-13; 11:6), he sinned by intruding into the priest's office and was rejected; then God took the Holy Spirit from him, and an evil spirit came upon him instead (13:8-14; 15:11, 23-26; 16:14-23). Saul died in sin against God (1 Chr. 10:13-14). Thus he remained in God's grace and favor only as long as he obeyed. When he sinned he incurred the death penalty like all other men of all other ages who sin, whether under law or grace. See p. 284 of N. T.

g Benjamin was not chosen of God to be the ruling tribe through whom the Messiah was to come. This right belonged to Judah (Gen. 49:10; Mt. 1:1-17; Heb. 7:14; Rev. 5:5). Saul's seed could not have fulfilled the Scripture in this respect, so a change somewhere after this to the tribe of Judah was necessary. It no doubt came about sooner when Saul sinned; if he had remained true and godly the change may not have come in his day

h 4 men named Kish in Scripture:
1 Father of Saul (v 1-3; 10:11, 21; 14:51; 2 Sam. 21:14; 1 Chr. 8:33; 9:39; 12:1; 26:28). Called Cis (Acts 13:21)
2 Another Benjamite (1 Chr. 8:20; 9:36)
3 A Levite (1 Chr. 23:21-22; 24:29)
4 Another Benjamite (Esther 2:5)

i 2 men named Abiel in Scripture:

2 One of David's men (1 Chr. 11:32). Called Abi-albon (2 Sam. 23:31)

j Zeror, Only here (v 1)

k Bechorath. Only here (v 1)

m Kish was a mighty man of power; that is, a strong man physically, and this may account for the extraordinary size of his son, Saul who was, from his shoulders upward, higher than all the other men of Israel (v 2). This seemed to be the outstanding thing about Saul, but mere physical goodness is never as good as high quality of character and mind. He proved to be a dwarf or midget in manliness and character. Saul was one of the most insanely jealous persons on record and he permitted this trait to damn his soul and make him despised by men of all ages. He made one attempt after another to kill David who was his best friend. See 21 attempts to kill David, p. 313

n 2 things said of Saul (v 2):
1 He was a choice young man
2 He was a goodly man
Both of these had to do with physical or bodily powers, as explained here (v 2). No manly trait or characteristic of a moral, spiritual, or mental nature is ever emphasized concerning Saul. He was simply big physically and, according to man's standard of the outward appearance, he was a choice young man o Sometimes in divine providence even lost things are made to work out the will of God in human lives. This was one way, and perhaps the only way Saul could have been induced to go see Samuel, for when he was chosen king he was so timid that he hid himself amid the baggage (10:22)

k We are not to believe that the prophets charged for their services, took money to predict future events, or demanded gifts to give the people God's messages. The reference is only to the general custom of approach to a superior, as in note i, above l Heb., nabi, one who spoke for, or was moved upon by God to give a message - something direct from Jehovah to the people. See 78 prophets and prophetesses, p. 731
m Heb., roeh, a seer of visions. Another word for seer was chozeh, which referred rather to the spiritual comprehension of what was seen. All three words - nabi, roeh, chozeh - are used together in 1 Chr. 29:29, which see. All seers were prophets but all prophets were not seers. One who saw in vision or otherwise what he predicted, was a seer; whereas, a prophet would sometimes speak as the Holy Spirit moved him, without seeing anything, as in v 15
n Question 27. Next, v 20
o God had His prophet ready to meet His man whom He wanted to make king of Israel (v 12-14). Jehovah had already spoken to Samuel about the coming of Saul (v 15-16). He now confirmed to Samuel that this was the man (v 17). God had been working at both ends of the line, speaking to Samuel who knew His voice, and leading Saul (through some lost asses) who did not know His voice and perhaps would not have listened even if he had known Jehovah and His ways of speaking. This reminds us of the case of Paul and Ananias (Acts 9:10-16) and of Peter and Cornelius (Acts 10:1-6, 9-22)
p This was one way God gave messages - He would speak with an audible voice or a whisper in the ear, so that the prophet would hear in the same sense he would hear any other voice (v 15). This is no doubt the way many prophets received the revelation of God

4 And he passed [a]through mount Ĕ'phrā-ĭm, and passed through the land of [b]Shăl'i-shā, but they found them not: then they passed through the land [c]of Shā'lĭm, and there they were not: and he passed through the land of the Bĕn'ja-mītes, but they found them not.

5 And when they were come to the land of [d]Zûph, Saul said to his servant that was with him, Come, and let us return; lest my father leave caring for the asses, and take thought for us.

6 And he said unto him, Behold now, there is in [e]this city [f]a man of God, and he is an honourable man; all that he saith cometh surely to pass: now [g]let us go thither: peradventure he can shew us our way that we should go.

7 Then said Saul to his servant, But, behold, [h]if we go, what shall we bring the man? for the bread is spent in our vessels, and there is not [i]a present to bring to the man of God: what have we?

8 And the servant answered Saul again, and said, Behold, I have here at hand the [j]fourth part of a shekel of silver: that will I give [k]to the man of God, to tell us our way.

●9 (Beforetime in Iṣ'ra-el, when a man went to enquire of God, thus he spake, Come, and let us go to the seer: for he that is now called a [l]Prophet was beforetime called [m]a Seer.)

●10 Then said Saul to his servant, Well said; come, let us go. So they went unto the city where the man of God was.

11 ¶ And as they went up the hill to the city, they found young maidens going out to draw water, and said unto them, [n]Is the seer here?

12 And they answered them, and said, He is; behold, he is before you: make haste now, for [o]he came to day to the city; for there is a sacrifice of the people to day in the high place:

13 As soon as ye be come into the city, ye shall straightway find him, before he go up to the high place to eat: for the people will not eat until he come, because he doth bless the sacrifice; and afterwards they eat that be bidden. Now therefore get you up; for about this time ye shall find him.

14 And they went up into the city: and when they were come into the city, behold, Săm'u-el came out against them, for to go up to the high place.

(3) Saul welcomed by Samuel

■15 ¶ Now the LORD had told Săm'u-el [p]in his ear a day before Saul came, saying,

★16 [q]To'morrow about this time I will send thee a man out of the land of Bĕn'ja-min, and thou shalt anoint him to be captain over my people Iṣ'ra-el, that he may save my people out of the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: for I have looked upon my people, because their cry is come unto me.

■17 And when Săm'u-el saw Saul, the LORD said unto him, Behold the man whom I spake to thee of! this same shall reign over my people.

●18 [r]Then Saul drew near to Săm'u-el in the gate, and said, Tell me, I pray thee, where the seer's [s]house is.

★19 [t]And Săm'u-el answered Saul, and said, [u]I am the seer: go up before me unto [v]the high place; for ye shall [w]eat with me to day, and to morrow I will let thee go, and will tell thee [x]all that is in thine heart.

20 And as for thine [y]asses that were lost three days ago, set not thy mind on them; for they are found. [z]And on whom is all the desire of Iṣ'ra-el? Is it not on thee, and on all thy father's house?

21 And Saul answered and said, Am not I a Bĕn'ja-mīte, of the [a]smallest of the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el? and my family the least of all the families of the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn? wherefore then speakest thou so to me?

22 And Săm'u-el took Saul and his servant, and brought them into the [b]parlour, and made them sit in the chiefest place among them that were bidden, which were about thirty persons.

●23 And Săm'u-el said unto the cook, Bring the [c]portion which I gave thee, of which I said unto thee, Set it by thee.

24 And the cook took up the shoulder, and that which was upon it, and set it before Saul. And Săm'u-el said, Behold that which is left! set it before thee, and eat: for unto this time hath it been kept for thee since I said, I have invited the people. So Saul did eat with Săm'u-el that day.

25 ¶ And when they were come down from the high place into the city, Săm'u-el communed [d]with Saul upon the top of the house.

●26 And they arose early: and it came to pass about the spring of the day, that Săm'u-el called Saul to the top of the house, saying, [e]Up, that I may send thee away. And Saul arose, and they went out both of them, he and Săm'u-el, abroad.

27 And as they were going down to the end of the city, Săm'u-el said to Saul, Bid the servant pass on before us, (and he passed on,) but stand thou still a while, [f]that I may shew thee the word of God.

a Then - at the time of the fulfillment of the prophecy of v 16 (v 18) c 5th prophecy in 1 Sam. (9:19-20, fulfilled). Next, 10:2

d To acknowledge God's gift and calling is not a show of pride (v 19)
e The high place was where Samuel had built an altar to Jehovah, which shows that Dt. 12:5-6; 14:23-25; 15:20; 16:2-16; 18:6; 23:16; 26:2 were not obeyed
f The sacrifice had already been made and the parts cooked for the guests to eat by the time Saul appeared, proving that God was not only working in Ramah, but He also arranged for Saul to be there in time for the feast (v 12-19)
g Samuel knew all about Saul, or at least he would know, for the Lord would speak in his ear on the morrow (v 19), He already had the revelation from Jehovah that the asses were found and how long they had been lost, so as to relieve Saul of any anxiety and make it possible for him to enjoy the feast and wait for the morrow before leaving (v 20)
h Asses served instead of horses, and were ridden by kings and princes of that day (v 20)
i Questions 28-32. Next, 10:1
j These first two of the five questions here were asked by Samuel and were understood by Saul as referring to his being chosen king of Israel. The last three asked by Saul himself makes this clear (v 20-21) k In the last count of the tribes, in Num. 26, Benjamin outnumbered the tribes of Reuben, Simeon, Gad, Ephraim, and Naphtali; but since then it became almost extinct as a tribe because of the sins of sodomy and rape (Judg. 20-21). It had not yet regained its former numbers, so was truly the least of all the tribes (v 21). In this Saul was very humble and if he had stayed that way it would have been good, but he became exalted through the calling and blessing of God and lost not only his kingdom but his very life (1 Chr. 10:13-14)
l The hall attached to the chapel of the high place where the sacrifices were cooked and eaten (v 22)
m Samuel had already told the cook to set by the special portion of the shoulder which was the priest's portion. He intended to give it to Saul as a mark of honor and distinction (v 23-24) n After the feast Samuel and Saul had a long conversation on the housetop before retiring (v 25). Houses then had flat roofs on which people walked, talked and slept because of the fresh, cool air. These two likely talked of all the past and present state of Israel and of the establishment of the kingdom with Saul as its first king. They also agreed on the coming assembly of all Israel to choose officially the king and proclaim the kingdom itself (10:8)
o Samuel called Saul early the next morning. As they travelled together to the outskirts of the city, Samuel had Saul's servant to proceed a little ahead so he could have a private talk with Saul and anoint him king (v 26-27; 10:1) p Samuel's purpose of this private conversation was to show Saul the word of the Lord (v 27). What all was said is perhaps not recorded, but certain signs were predicted to take place that day as a confirmation that Saul was divinely chosen to be king over Israel (10:1-13)
q Then - when Saul's servant had gone on a little way, Samuel took a vial of oil and anointed Saul and kissed him (v 1)

4 Send - what God will do
5 Thee - to whom he will be sent
6 A man - who will be sent
7 Out of Benjamin - from where he will come sent 8 You shall anoint - why he will be 9 He shall save Israel - purpose of the anointing
10 This same shall reign over My people, Israel (v 17)

Bĕn'ja-mĭn at [a]Zĕl'zah; and they [b]will say unto thee, The asses which thou wentest to seek are found: and, lo, thy father hath left the care of the asses, and sorroweth for you, saying, [c]What shall I do for my son?

3 Then shalt thou go on forward from thence, and thou shalt come to the [d]plain of Tā'bōr, and there shall meet thee three [e]men going up to [f]God to Bĕth'-el, one carrying [g]three kids, and another carrying three loaves of bread, and another carrying a bottle of wine:

4 And they will salute thee, and give thee two loaves of bread; which thou shalt receive of their hands.

5 After that thou shalt come to the [h]hill of God, where is the garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and it shall come to pass, when thou art come thither to the city, that thou shalt meet a [i]company of prophets coming down from the high place with a [j]psaltery, and a [k]tabret, and [l]a pipe, and a [m]harp, before them: and [n]they shall prophesy:

6 And [o]the Spirit of the LORD will come upon thee, and thou shalt prophesy with them, and shalt be [p]turned into another man.

7 And let it be, when these signs are come unto thee, that thou do as occasion serve thee; for God is [q]with thee.

8 And [r]thou shalt go down before me to Gĭl'gāl; and, behold, I will come down unto thee, [s]to offer burnt offerings, and to sacrifice sacrifices of peace offerings: [t]seven days shalt thou tarry, [u]till I come to thee, and shew thee what thou shalt do.

(6) Prophecy of v 2-8 fulfilled; signs come to pass

9 ¶ And it was so, that when he had turned his back to go from Săm'u-el, God gave him another heart: and [v]all those signs came to pass that day.

10 And when they came thither to the hill, behold, a company of prophets met him; and the Spirit of God came upon him, and he prophesied among them.

11 And it came to pass, when all [w]that knew him beforetime saw that, behold, he prophesied among the prophets, then the people [x]said one to another, What is this that is come unto the son of Kĭsh? Is Saul also among the prophets?

12 And one of the same place answered and said, But [y]who is their father? Therefore it became a proverb, Is Saul also among the prophets?

13 And when he had made an end of prophesying, he came to the high place.

(7) Saul and Abner (14:50)

14 ¶ And Saul's uncle said unto him and to his servant, Whither went ye? And he said, To seek the asses: and when we saw that they were no where, we came to Săm'u-el.

●15 And Saul's uncle said, [z]Tell me, I pray thee, what Săm'u-el said unto you.

16 And Saul said unto his uncle, [a]He told us plainly that the asses were found. But of the matter of the kingdom, whereof Săm'u-el spake, he told him not.

(8) King chosen by lot

17 ¶ And Săm'u-el called the people together unto the LORD to [b]Mĭz'peh;

■18 And [c]said unto the children of Ĭs'ra-el, Thus saith the LORD God of Ĭs'ra-el, I brought up Ĭs'ra-el out of Ĕ'gўpt, and delivered you out of the hand of the Ĕ-gўp'tians, and out of the hand of all kingdoms, and of them that oppressed you:

●19 And ye have this day rejected your God, who himself saved you out of all your [d]adversities and your [e]tribulations; and ye have said unto him, Nay, but set a king over us. Now therefore present yourselves before the LORD by your tribes, and by your thousands.

20 And when Săm'u-el had caused all the tribes of Ĭs'ra-el to come near, the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn [f]was taken.

21 When he had caused the tribe of Bĕn'ja-mĭn to come near by their families, the family of Mā'trĭ was taken, and Saul the son of Kĭsh was taken: and when they sought him, [g]he could not be found.

(9) Coronation of the king

■22 Therefore they [h]enquired of the LORD further, if the man should yet come thither. And the LORD [i]answered, Behold, he hath hid himself among [j]the stuff.

23 And they ran and fetched him thence: and when he stood among the people, [k]he was higher than any of the people from his shoulders and upward.

●24 And Săm'u-el said to all the people, [l]See ye him whom the LORD hath chosen, that there is none like him among all the people? And all the people shouted, and said, [m]God save the king.

(10) First record of the kingdom of Israel

25 Then Săm'u-el told the people the manner of the kingdom, and [n]wrote it in a book, and laid it up before the LORD. And Săm'u-el [o]sent all the people away, every man to his house.

(11) Opposition to Saul

26 ¶ And Saul also went home to Gĭb'e-ah; and there went with him a [p]band of men, whose hearts God had touched.

27 But the children of Bĕ'lĭ-al said, [q]How shall this man save us? And they despised him, and brought him no presents. But [r]he held his peace.

CHAPTER 11 247

(Saul's reign, 1 Sam. 11:1-31:13)

III The kingdom established (1 Sam. 11:1-12:25). 1 Saul's victory over Ammon a Zelzah, clear shade (v 2). Only here b To know what men would say or do would have to be by revelation of God or by satanic spirits, and in Samuel's case it was the Holy Spirit (v 2)

c Question 34. Next, v 11
d Plain of Tabor. This was the plain by mount Tabor (v 3; Josh. 19:22; Judg. 4:6, 12, 14; 8:18; 1 Chr. 6:77; Ps. 89:12; Jer. 46:18; Hos. 5:1)
e See 30 prophetic details, p. 327
f There was evidently an altar and place of worship in Bethel as well as in Ramah (v 3, 5); and, if so, there must have been other places in Israel contrary to the law of Dt. 12
g It would be more difficult to carry 3 kids of the goats than 3 loaves of bread. The bottle of wine could be as heavy as the kids, but the man with the loaves had it comparatively easy. But this only goes to magnify the truth of the prophecy, for ordinarily the men would have helped one another (v 3) h It is thought this refers to Gibeah where Saul lived, and that there was a high place there also where God was worshipped (v 5, 11). A garrison of Philistines was there to hold the people in check, which Saul knew about as well as Samuel i This was a school of the prophets, perhaps founded by Samuel. From here on we find a number of such schools (2 Ki. 2:3-5; 4:38; 6:1-7)
j See note k, Ps. 33:2; note a, Ps. 150:3
k Tabret, drum. Same as timbrel in point 4, note a, Ps. 150:3
l Pipe, a plain reed instrument played like the modern flute (v 5; 1 Ki. 1:40; Isa. 5:12; 30:29; Jer. 48:36; Mt. 11:17; Lk. 7:32; 1 Cor. 14:7; Rev. 18:22)
m Harp. See note j, Ps. 33:2
n Prophecy and music seemed to go hand in hand (v 5; 1 Chr. 25:1-3; Ps. 49:4). Even demon spirits were soothed and made quiet with music (16:16, 23)
o See Saul's conversion and backsliding, p. 327 p The same idea expressed by Paul in 2 Cor. 5:17-18 - being made a new creature. God gave another heart, as expressed in v 9 is the same also. Men were born again by faith through grace in O. T. times as well as they are now (Dt. 32:18-19; Rom. 4; Gal. 3:8; 4:28-29; Heb. 4:1) q God was with Saul as long as he stayed with God; but when Saul sinned and rejected Him (13:8-14; 15:16-30), the Lord departed and took the Holy Spirit from him (16:14; 18:12). God promises to deny, forsake, and cast off anyone who denies and forsakes Him; and this is stated to Christians (2 Tim. 2:12), as well as it was to O. T. saved men (Dt. 31:17; Josh. 24:20; 2 Ki. 21:14; 1 Chr. 28:9; 2 Chr. 15:2). See p. 237
r Samuel and Saul agreed to meet each other in Gilgal where Israel first entered the land and where Saul was made king officially before Israel (v 8; 11:15). Cp. Josh. 5:2-10 s Again showing that sacrifices were made in many places, not only in the one place prescribed by law (Dt. 12)
t These 7 days are not to be confused with the 7 days of 13:8, for one year had passed between the two periods (13:1) u Samuel was still directing every activity and did so for some time, until Saul was rejected of God; then Samuel left him and didn't see him again (v 8, 17, 25; 11:14-15; 12:1, 6, 16-25; 13:10-15; 15:10-35)
v 4 signs of v 2-8
w This indicates that he was now back home in Gibeah among his neighbors (v 5, 11) x Questions 35-39. Next, v 24
y The leaders of the schools of the prophets were called fathers (v 12; 2 Ki. 2:12; 6:21; 13:14). The question concerned who was their leader in the office of a prophet. In this case it was Samuel; in other cases the leader was Elijah or Elisha as in above passages. Here the idea is: What kind of leader is it to have such a man as Saul in their company? This suggests that Saul had been just the opposite of a prophet in life and conduct before he obtained a new heart and became a new man (v 5, 9) z Abner, Saul's uncle had a feeling that Samuel and Saul had some understanding between them; hence, this inquiry. Saul kept it secret, again showing his humility and modesty before he became exalted, selfish, and jealous a This was truth, but not all the truth that could have been told. His reason for not telling his uncle is not given. It could have been modesty, or an agreement between him and Samuel to keep it secret until the proper time b Mizpeh was a famous place for the gatherings of Israel (v 17; 7:5-16; Judg. 20:1-3; 21:1-8). It was one suitable for such national gatherings. This was not the same meeting of Samuel and Saul agreed upon as in v 8, which must refer to a previous time of instruction for Saul
c See 4fold message of God to Israel, p. 327 d The adversaries of Israel were the Egyptians, and the many nations of Palestine and surrounding countries. God had given victory over all of them, but Israel failed Him and He permitted various nations to chasten them. They were at this period of time oppressed by the Philistines (v 5), the Ammonites (11:1-15), the Amalekites (15:1-35), and the Moabites, Edomites, Syrians, and others (14:47-48)
e The tribulations of Israel consisted of judgments of God and oppressions by other nations because of their backslidings and continued apostasy (v 19. Cp. 26:24; Dt. 4:30; Judg. 10:14)
f The lot fell upon Benjamin. When the families of Benjamin were caused to pass by the lot fell upon the family of Matri. When the individuals of the family of Matri passed by the lot fell upon Saul, but he could not be found; that is, none present were chosen and therefore the absent one was the chosen one. When inquiry was made the Lord said that Saul was the one (v 21). This is exactly what happened regarding the choice of a king from the family of Jesse, David, the missing one, was chosen (16:1-13)
g This revealed his humility after God had given him another heart and made a new man of him (v 6, 9). It was the opposite of the spirit he showed when he was backslidden - when he was not small in his own sight as on this occasion (15:16-17)
h It will be noted how God answered all inquiries in those days and there was no delay in an answer (v 22). Should N. T. believers expect less under the new covenant, which is a better one based upon better promises and when each believer has access to the holiest by the blood of Christ? (2 Cor. 3; Eph. 2:18; Heb. 4:14-16; 8:6; 10:19-23)
i Answers of God consisted of more than a word, a Yes or a No. Whole sentences and long answers were given by God through prophecy. Here the answer was clear and complete - "he hath hid himself among the stuff" (v 22)
j Heb. kĕliy, the baggage; carts; wagons. All the material things brought for the encampment of Israel (v 22; 25:13; 30:24; Gen. 31:37; 45:20; Ex. 22:7; Josh. 7:11; Neh. 13:8; Ezek. 12:3-7) k This is one time God seemed to make a choice as men would make it - from the outward appearance (v 23-24). He saw, however, more than what was on the outside; and if Saul had remained humble many good things would have been recorded of him. Now, nearly all we see is self-exaltation, smallness, jealousy, and pride which brought him to a sad end
l Question 40. Next, v 27
m Heb. is: Let the king live. An expression desiring for him every good thing in life, and in the world to come, eternal life (v 24) n Here we have proof that Samuel made records of current events in Israel, from which a later writer compiled the books of Samuel. See Summary, p. 326
o Samuel, God's prophet blessed the people and sent them to their homes to await further events that would be truly forthcoming (v 25; 11:1-13:24) p This was the first band of men in Israel who were to make the officers and leaders in government of the kingdom. They were those whom God had inspired to help Saul (v 26)
q Question 41. Next, 11:5
r He again demonstrated his humility as a new born soul will always do (v 27)

a The inhabitants of Jabesh-gilead had been destroyed because they would not obey the summons of Judg. 21:8. The daughters were given to the remaining Benjamites (Judg. 21:6-14). Men had multiplied again in Jabesh-gilead and now they appealed to the new king of Israel for help against the Ammonites (v 1-4) b Nahash, serpent, 3 in Scripture:

1 An Ammonite king (v 1-2; 12:12)
2 Another Ammonite king (2 Sam. 10:2; 17:27; 1 Chr. 19:1-2)
3 Mother of David and Abigail (2 Sam. 17:25 with 1 Chr. 2:13-17)

c Nahash was a very proud and haughty man, a bitter enemy of Israel, and wanted the land back which Sihon and Og had taken from his people, the Ammonites before Israel came out of Egypt (Num. 21:21-35; Dt. 2:19, 37; 3:11, 16; Josh. 12:2; 13:10, 25; Judg. 3:13). The Ammonites had helped oppress Israel in the 6th servitude for 18 years and were then defeated by Jephthah (Judg. 10-11). Feeling strong enough to take vengeance now they imposed terms of putting out the right eyes of all the Jabesh-gileadites as a perpetual reproach against Israel (v 2-3). Messengers were sent to Saul telling of their fate, and when he heard the terms the Spirit of God came upon him; and he assured the men of Jabesh they would have immediate help. He took a yoke of oxen, cut them in pieces, and warned Israel that this would be the fate of their oxen if they did not come at once to help him against the Ammonites (v 4-7). He acted in his own name and that of Samuel who also went with the army in this war (v 12-15). The fear of God fell upon Israel, so they came with one accord to do their duty. 330,000 men of Israel fought under Saul against Ammon and God gave them complete victory (v 8-11)

d The purpose of putting out the men's right eyes was to destroy their usefulness as effective soldiers the rest of their lives. The right eye was used in looking at the enemy over the shield. Israel would have been easy to conquer had such injury come to their soldiers, and the enemy would have reproached them and made slaves out of them all their days (v 2)

e Only 7 days were given for Jabesh to seek help; and in less time than that Saul had his army mobilized and on the field of battle (v 3-9)

f Question 42, Next, v 12

g The Holy Spirit inspired Saul with a desire to help his brethren, and gave absolute confidence of success (v 6). The Spirit never came upon anyone recorded in Scripture to do a work without it being fully accomplished. See note m, Judg. 3:10

h This means he was stirred up to the point of action and filled with zeal to do or die in the attempt to save his brethren (v 6)

i Saul was free to use the name of Samuel who had anointed him and promised him that God would be with him in what he undertook for the good of Israel (10:6-8)

j This was God's method of getting both friends and enemies to obey Him at times. See Fear in Index k Bezek. See note k, Judg. 1:4-5

l This was about half the number of fighting men that came out of Egypt some 490 years before, so if these were all the soldiers in Israel the nation had become smaller during this time. The men of Judah here were not half as many as came out of Egypt (v 8; Num. 1:27, 46 with Ex. 12:37)

m This meant a march of about 18 miles from Bezek, and the crossing of the Jordan. They either marched part of the way the day before, or arose in the night and marched early enough to be at Jabesh by the time the sun was hot - about 9:00 or 10:00 o'clock in the morning (v 9)

n Instead of telling the Ammonites that help was on the way, the men of Jabesh said they would surrender tomorrow. This was done to conceal the movement of Saul and his army and surprise the Ammonites. They came to Jabesh, and rested until the time of the morning watch, which would be from 3:00 to 6:00 in the morning. Saul divided the army into 3 companies, over

THEN Nā'hăsh the Ăm'monīte came up, and encamped against [a]Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd: and all the men of Jā'besh said unto Nā'hăsh, Make a covenant with us, and we will serve thee.

2 And [b]Nā'hăsh the Ăm'monite answered them, [c]On this condition will I make a covenant with you, that I may thrust out all your [d]right eyes, and lay it for a reproach upon all Ĭs'ra-el.

3 And the elders of Jā'besh said unto him, Give us 'seven days' respite, that we may send messengers unto all the coasts of Ĭs'ra-el: and then, if there be no man to save us, we will come out to thee.

4 ¶ Then came the messengers to Gĭb'e-ah of Saul, and told the tidings in the ears of the people: and all the people lifted up their voices, and wept.

5 And, behold, Saul came after the herd out of the field; and Saul said, [f]What aileth the people that they weep? And they told him the tidings of the men of Jā'besh.

6 And the [g]Spirit of God came upon Saul when he heard those tidings, and [h]his anger was kindled greatly.

7 And he took a yoke of oxen, and hewed them in pieces, and sent them throughout all the coasts of Ĭs'ra-el by the hands of messengers, saying, Whosoever cometh not forth after Saul and after [i]Săm'u-el, so shall it be done unto his oxen. And the [j]fear of the LORD fell on the people, and they came out with one consent.

8 And when he numbered them in [k]Bĕ'zĕk, the children of Ĭs'ra-el were [l]three hundred thousand, and the men of Jū'dah thirty thousand.

9 And they said unto the messengers that came, Thus shall ye say unto the men of Jā'besh-gĭl'e-ăd, To morrow, [m]by that time the sun be hot, ye shall have help. And the messengers came and shewed it to the men of Jā'besh; and they were glad.

10 Therefore the men of Jā'besh said, [n]To morrow we will come out unto you, and ye shall do with us all that seemeth good unto you.

11 And it was so on the morrow, that Saul put the people in three companies; and they came into the midst of the host in the morning watch, and slew the Ăm'mon-ītes until the heat of the day: and it came to pass, that they which remained were scattered, so that two of them were not left together.

2 Saul's forgiving spirit (Cp. with 21 attempts to kill David, 1 Sam. 18:8, refs.)

12 ¶ And the people said [o]unto Săm'u-el, [p]Who is he that said, Shall Saul reign over us? [q]bring the men, that we may put them to death.

13 And Saul said, There shall not a man be put to death this day: for to day the LORD hath wrought salvation in Ĭs'ra-el.

3 Kingdom renewed at Gilgal: (1) Assembling for the feast

14 Then said Săm'u-el to the people, Come, and let us go to Gĭl'găl, and [a]renew the kingdom there.

15 And all the people went to Gĭl'găl; and there they made Saul king before the LORD [b]in Gĭl'găl; and there they sacrificed sacrifices of peace offerings before the LORD; and there [c]Saul and all the men of Ĭs'ra-el rejoiced greatly.

CHAPTER 12 248

(2) The king presented: Samuel resigns. Israel's witness of his blameless life

AND [d]Săm'u-el said unto all Ĭs'ra-el, Behold, I have hearkened unto your voice in all that ye said unto me, and have made a king over you.

2 And now, behold, the king walketh before you: and [e]I am old and grayheaded; and, behold, [f]my sons are with you: and I have walked before you from my childhood unto this day.

3 Behold, here I am: witness against me before the LORD, and before his anointed: [g]whose ox have I taken? or whose ass have I taken? or whom have I defrauded? whom have I oppressed? [h]or of whose hand have I received any bribe to blind mine eyes therewith? and I will restore it you.

4 And they said, Thou hast not defrauded us, nor oppressed us, neither hast thou taken ought of any man's hand.

5 And he said unto them, The LORD is witness against you, and his [i]anointed is witness this day, that ye have not found ought in my hand. And they answered, He is witness.

(3) Samuel reviews God's faithfulness: charges Israel of rejecting God as King

6 ¶ And Săm'u-el [j]said unto the people, It is the LORD that advanced Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, and that brought your fathers up out of the land of Ĕ'gўpt.

7 Now therefore stand still, that I may reason with you before the LORD of all the righteous acts of the LORD, which he did to you and to your fathers.

8 When Jā'cob was come into Ĕ'gўpt, and your fathers cried unto the LORD, then the LORD sent Mō'şeş and Aâr'on, which brought forth your fathers out of Ĕ'gўpt, and made them dwell in this place.

9 And when they forgat the LORD their God, he sold them into the hand of Sĭs'e-rà, captain of the host of Hā'zôr, and into the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and into the hand of the king of Mō'ab, and they fought against them.

10 And they [k]cried unto the LORD, and said, We have sinned, because we have forsaken the LORD, and have served Bā'al-ĭm and Ash'ta-rŏth: but now deliver us out of the hand a See The kingdom renewed, p. 327

b It was appropriate for the kingdom of Israel to be started and accepted by all Israel at Gilgal, for this was their first place of entrance into Canaan (Josh. 5:2-10) c Saul and all Israel could have continued rejoicing for many years if he had not permitted pride, selfishness, and jealousy to dominate his life and cause him to break the laws of human decency and relationship with fellowmen. He began as a most promising king, but proved to be a most disappointing leader. His magnificent physical appearance was dwarfed by his smallness of character in seeking the life of David, his best friend, and the one who would have done more to make his kingdom great than any other man. Such childish acts caused the rejoicing of both Saul and Israel to be short-lived

d See 7fold statement of Samuel's blameless life before Israel, p. 328

e Samuel was about 60 years of age at this time, when he resigned as leader of Israel and charged them regarding their responsibility to the king, the new kingdom and Jehovah (v 2; notes b and f, 7:15; 8:1)

f This statement of Samuel concerning his sons indicates that he had, at the request of Israel, deprived them of their public duties and they were now among the people as common men. They had not walked in the ways of their godly father, but in their short time of public trust had turned aside after lucre, taken bribes, and perverted judgment. Had they not done this they could have continued all their lives in public service, as their father did, since they began in such sins the people demanded a change in government - one wherein the nation would be ruled by a king (8:1-6)

g Questions 44-48, Next, v 17

h 5 things made Samuel blameless (v 3):
1 Not one ox did he steal, take by force or any other means
2 Not one ass did he take
3 He defrauded no man
4 He oppressed no man
5 He refused to take any bribe, great or small, from any man or group of men to blind him in any act of judgment Samuel was a true and just judge and a godly leader, one without a recorded sin - an ideal character of right living, like Joseph of the book of Genesis. The Bible has been faithful to tell of the goodness as well as the failures of men. This proves it has been divinely inspired, for no man would record his own deeds of failure and evil without being inspired of God to do so i The word anointed is from the same Heb. word used of the Messiah in note x, 2:10, which see

It is used of men and Messiah:
1 Messiah (2:10, 35; Ps. 2:2; Isa. 61:1)
2 Saul (10:1; 12:3, 5; 24:6, 10; 26:9, 11, 16, 23; 2 Sam. 1:14, 16, 21)
3 David (2 Sam. 19:21; 22:51; 23:1; Ps. 18:50; 20:6; 28:8; 132:10, 17)
4 Solomon (2 Chr. 6:42)
5 Cyrus of Persia (Isa. 45:1)
6 Joshua (Hab. 3:13)
7 Several unidentified men (Ps. 84:9; 89:38, 51; 105:15; Lam. 4:20)

100,000 to each company, and attacked the Ammonites suddenly in the dark, smiting them with a great slaughter until the heat of the day. The whole army of Ammon was destroyed or scattered, not any two remaining together (v 11)

o Indicating that Samuel had come along with the army to advise and help in every way he could, so Saul was really speaking for Samuel in v 7 (v 12-15)

p Question 43, Next, 12:3

q Certain sons of the devil had rejected Saul and made fun of his kingship (10:27); so now the victors wanted them killed (v 12). Saul acted wisely and forgave them, not permitting anyone in Israel to be killed, for the Lord had been so good and wrought a great salvation for them that day (v 13)

a Gideon (Judg. 6:32; 7:1; 9:1-57)
b The Sept., Peshitta, and Arabic have Barak for Bedan (v 11; Judg. 4-5). Both words are so near alike in Heb. it would be easy for a copyist to make a mistake
c See story of Jephthah (Judg. 11) d See Samuel's deliverance (7:1-14)
e There had been about 20 years of peace since the victory over the Philistines as in 7:2-14; then came the threat of invasion from the Ammonites which had just been stopped by Saul and Samuel (v 12; 11:1-14)
f It appears from this statement that the impending invasion of Israel by the Ammonites was one of the reasons the people wanted a king - someone to fight their battles as the other nations had (v 12; 8:20). Another reason was the sins of Samuel's sons; the people did not want to go through what they did with Eli's sons (8:1-6)

These verses (14-15) are a clear example of what may be termed conditional prophecy, the fulfillment of which depends upon men as to whether they obey or disobey God. There are many such prophecies. In fact, all prophecy is based upon conditions of one kind or another, even though they are not stated in connection with the prophecies. The blessings are based upon the condition of obedience, and the curses upon disobedience
i Samuel now spoke of a great sign he was going to bring immediately to confirm the fact of their sin in asking for a king at that time. He would pray to Jehovah and He would answer with thunder and rain so Israel would know their asking had displeased God. This was called a great thing (v 16-17), because raining thus in the time of harvest was so exceptional that it would be taken as a divine act of judgment. Cp. Pr. 26:1; Gen. 8:22

IV Saul's rejection as king (1 Sam. 13:1-15:35). 1 Saul's standing army

SAUL reigned one year; and when he had reigned two years over Ĭs'ra-el,

2 Saul chose him three thousand men of Ĭs'ra-el; whereof two thousand were with Saul in [a]Mĭch'mash and in mount Bĕth'-el, and a thousand were with [d]Jŏn'a-than in Gĭb'e-ah of Bĕn'ja-mĭn: and the [e]rest of the people he sent every man to his tent.

2 Jonathan's first exploit

●3 And [f]Jŏn'a-than smote the garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes that was in Gĕ'bā, and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes heard of it. And Saul blew the trumpet throughout all the land, saying, Let the Hē'brews hear.

4 And all Ĭs'ra-el heard say that Saul had smitten a garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and that Ĭs'ra-el also was had in abomination with the Phĭ-lĭs'-tĭnes. And the people were called together after Saul to Gĭl'gāl.

5 ¶ And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes gathered [g]themselves together to fight with Ĭs'ra-el, thirty thousand chariots, and six thousand horsemen, and people as the sand which is on the sea shore in multitude: and they came up, and pitched in Mĭch'mash, eastward from Bĕth-ā'ven.

3 Fear and hiding of Israel

6 When the men of [h]Ĭs'ra-el saw that they were in a strait, (for the people were distressed,) then the people did hide themselves [i]in caves, and in thickets, and in rocks, and in high places, and in pits.

7 And some of the Hē'brews went over Jŏr'dan to the land of Gād and Gĭl'e-ăd. As for Saul, he was yet in Gĭl'gāl, and all the people followed him trembling.

4 Saul's self-will; intrudes into the priests' office

8 ¶ And he tarried [j]seven days, according to the set time that Săm'u-el had appointed: but Săm'u-el came not to Gĭl'-gāl; and the people were scattered from him.

9 And Saul said, Bring hither a burnt offering to me, and peace offerings. And he offered the burnt offering.

10 And it came to pass, that as soon as he had made an end of offering the burnt offering, behold, Săm'u-el came; and Saul went out to meet him, that he might salute him.

5 God rejects Saul as king

f Jonathan smote the garrison of Philistines in Geba near Gibeah, Saul's home town. It was the first act in the war for independence from Philistia and probably the first feat at arms. This was the occasion for general mobilization of Israel (v 3-4), which never fully materialized (v 6-7)
g The Philistines numbered 30,000 chariots, 6,000 horsemen, and footmen as the sand of the sea for number (v 5) - all opposing Jonathan and Saul who had a few hundred footmen (v 1, 15)

1 You have done foolishly (v 13)
2 You have not kept the commandment of the Lord (v 13-14)
3 Your kingdom will not continue
4 Jehovah has sought Him a man after His own heart (v 14)
5 He has commanded him to be captain over His people

d Samuel left Saul abruptly, not sacrificing, peace offerings or giving him advice concerning the gathering of Israel and fighting the vast army of the Philistines (v 15)

e Saul's 3,000 of v 1 had scattered until there were only 600 men to oppose the might of the Philistines. Those sent to their tents (v 2) were hiding in every possible place to escape the Philistines (v 6-7). Think of it! 600 men to oppose 30,000 chariots, 6,000 horsemen, and innumerable soldiers on foot (v 5). Such was the background of war preparations of the 2 countries. It seemed to be a one-sided war, but with God to help Israel the outcome was certain. Saul had no assurance of such help though; and when victory did come it was because God gave it to Jonathan, not Saul (14:1-52)

f Saul also went to Gibeah, following Samuel there; but whether he saw Samuel is not known (v 15-16)

g There were 3 companies of raiders who went in 3 directions from the camp of Philistia to plunder and kill (v 17-18). This at least divided the army of Philistia and scattered them so that Israel could better catch them in the different places when confusion came. It also made it easier for Jonathan to attack the remaining part of the army

h The Philistines had taken all the smiths from Israel lest they should make swords and spears for an army. All the Israelites were permitted to have were files and they even had to go down to Philistia to get any work done on their farm tools. It can be seen from this what lack of preparation Israel experienced when trying to fight such a large and well equipped army as mentioned in note e, above. Not even the few hundred with Saul and Jonathan had swords or spears, none except the 2 leaders (v 19-23). Under these circumstances it seemed absolutely impossible for Israel ever to be a free and victorious people again; and they would not have been if it had not been for Jehovah who supernaturally helped them and gave the victory (v 12-46). It is not hard to see why the army of Saul hid themselves in dens, caves, and other places. Even with bows, arrows, and slings to throw stones they could not hope to win, looking at things from the natural viewpoint. How Israel got in such a low state under Samuel is not stated; they had defeated the Philistines over 20 years before (7:1-14). It may be that Philistia began to take over Israel again little by little without being opposed by them and Samuel until they were in such a destitute condition. It would also seem that Israel would have been well equipped, having defeated the Ammonites and taken all their weapons (11:1-15), unless we conclude that the events of 13:1-14:52 were before the war with the Ammonites, which is entirely possible. If so, then Israel got army equipment from the Philistines here, to fight the Ammonites with later i Jonathan no doubt received a special inspiration from God to go up to the Philistines and start the war of liberation from them. By the help of God he accomplished the first defeat of the Philistines in this war, and gave God occasion to move supernaturally and destroy the whole army (v 1-46) people were scattered from me, and that thou camest not within the days appointed, and that the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes gathered themselves together at Mĭch'mash;

12 Therefore said I, The Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes will come down now upon me to Gĭl'găl, and I have not made supplication unto the LORD: [a]I forced [b]myself therefore, and offered a burnt offering.

[a]13 And Săm'u-el said to Saul, Thou hast done foolishly: thou hast not kept the commandment of the LORD thy God, which he commanded thee: for now would the LORD have established thy kingdom upon Ĭs'ra-el for ever.

14 But now thy kingdom shall not continue: the LORD hath sought him a man after his own heart, and the LORD hath commanded him to be captain over his people, because thou hast not kept that which the LORD commanded thee.

6 Saul's army and equipment

15 And [d]Săm'u-el arose, and gat him up from Gĭl'găl unto Gĭb'e-ah of Bĕn'ja-mĭn. And Saul numbered the people that were present with him, [e]about six hundred men.

16 And [f]Saul, and Jŏn'a-than his son, and the people that were present with them, abode in Gĭb'e-ah of Bĕn'ja-mĭn: but the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes encamped in Mĭch'mash.

17 ¶ And the [g]spoilers came out of the camp of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes in three companies: one company turned unto the way that leadeth to Ŏph'rah, unto the land of Shu'al:

18 And another company turned the way to Bĕth-hŏ'rŏn: and another company turned to the way of the border that looketh to the valley of Zĕ-bō'ĭm toward the wilderness.

19 ¶ Now there was [h]no smith found throughout all the land of Ĭs'ra-el: for the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes said, Lest the Hē'brews make them swords or spears:

20 But all the Ĭs'ra-el-ites went down to the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, to sharpen every man his share, and his coulter, and his ax, and his mattock.

21 Yet they had a file for the mattocks, and for the coulters, and for the forks, and for the axes, and to sharpen the goads.

22 So it came to pass in the day of battle, that there was neither sword nor spear found in the hand of any of the people that were with Saul and Jŏn'a-than: but with Saul and with Jŏn'a-than his son was there found.

23 And the garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes went out to the passage of Mĭch'mash.

250 CHAPTER 14

7 Jonathan's second exploit

NOW it came to pass upon a day, that [i]Jŏn'a-than the son of Saul said unto the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over to the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' garrison, that is on the other side. But [c]he told not his father.

2 And Saul tarried in the uttermost part of Gĭb'e-ah under [a]pomegranate tree which is in Mĭg'rŏn: and the people that were with him were about six hundred men;

3 And [c]Ă-hī'ah, the son of Ă-hī'tub, I'-cha-bŏd's brother, the son of Phĭn'e-has, the son of Ē'lī the LORD's priest in Shī'lōh, wearing an ephod. And the people knew not that Jŏn'a-than was gone.

4 ¶ And between the passages, by which Jŏn'a-than sought to go over unto the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes' garrison, there was a sharp [b]rock on the one side, and a sharp rock on the other side: and the name of the one [c]was Bō'zĕz, and the name of the other [f]Sē'neh.

5 The forefront of the one was situate northward over against Mĭch'mash, and the other southward over against Gĭb'e-ah.

●6 And Jŏn'a-than said to the young man that bare his armour, Come, and let us go over unto the garrison of these uncircumcised: [g]it may be that the LORD will work for us: for there is no restraint to the LORD to save by many or by few.

7 And his armourbearer said unto him, [h]Do all that is in thine heart: turn thee; behold, I am with thee according to thy heart.

8 Then said Jŏn'a-than, Behold, [i]we will pass over unto these men, and we will discover ourselves unto them.

9 If they say thus unto us, Tarry until we come to you; then we will stand still in our place, and will not go up unto them.

10 But if they say thus, Come up unto us; then we will go up: for the LORD hath delivered them into our hand: and this shall be a [j]sign unto us.

11 And both of them discovered themselves unto the garrison of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes said, [k]Behold, the Hē'brews come forth out of the holes where they had hid themselves.

●12 And the men of the garrison answered Jŏn'a-than and his armourbearer, and [l]said, Come up to us, and we will shew you a thing. And Jŏn'a-than said unto his armourbearer, Come up after me: for the LORD hath delivered them into the hand of Ĭs'ra-el.

13 And Jŏn'a-than climbed up upon his hands and upon his feet, and his armourbearer after him: and they fell before Jŏn'a-than; and his armourbearer slew after him.

14 And that first slaughter, which Jŏn'a-than and his armourbearer made, was about twenty men, within as it were an [m]half acre of land, which a yoke of oxen might plow.

b The pomegranate tree is a small one, 10 to 15 ft. high, having oval leaves which fall in winter, and brilliant, scarlet blossoms in the spring. Its fruit, which is ripe in September, is apple-shaped, yellowish brown with a blush of red. The rind is hard and the fruit consists of hundreds of juicy white and purplish seeds packed together with white partitions like an orange. The juice was used in ancient times as a syrup for flavoring drinks, and also made into wine (Song 8:2). The rind was used for medicine, and tanning hides, particularly in the making of genuine Morocco leather. An orchard in bloom was counted beautiful as well as the fruit itself when broken open (Song 4:3, 13; 6:7; 7:12). The tree grows wild in Palestine, Syria, Persia, Arabia, Egypt, and parts of Europe and Africa. It is referred to in Scripture 31 times. The design of pomegranates was alternated with gold bells on the bottom of the priest's garment (Ex. 28:33-34; 39:24-25). Hiram worked metal pomegranates into the temple art work (1 Ki. 7:18-20, 42; 2 Ki. 25:17; 2 Chr. 3:16; 4:13; Jer. 52:22-23). Pomegranate fruit was brought back from Canaan by the spies (Num. 13:23). It is mentioned along with other fruits of that land in a number of places (Num. 20:5; Dt. 8:8; Joel 1:12; Hab. 2:19)

g Note Jonathan's faith in God. He believed the Lord could save them from the Philistines regardless of how many there were and how few were with him. He was expecting to act in faith and let come what would (v 6). If he had not done so that day Israel would not have been victorious on this occasion. Saul was backslidden and living in fear, but God had another man ready for the need

h Jonathan had a man of faith for his armourbearer, one willing to go with his master in any venture. To have coworkers who always say, I am with you according to your heart is worth much in times of crisis, as here (v 7)

i Jonathan manifested works with his faith. His plan, which he told to the armour-bearer, was to make themselves known to the enemy. The sign of further action would depend upon the answer the enemy gave. If one would say, Tarry until we come to you, they were to stand still and not advance; but if the enemy would say, Come up unto us, then they were to go fight with them. It would be a sign from God that He would deliver the enemy into their hands (v 8-10). About 389 years before this another man was in a similar crisis and had only 300 men with him to defeat the Midianites who had a vast army as did these Philistines. He was likewise strengthened by what the enemy said, so went forward to victory (Judg. 7:7-18). God worked in both cases delivering vast armies into the hands of a few hundred men

j Signs are always good to have and they encourage and strengthen faith in God; but this does not mean we are not to act without signs in any matter which is definitely made clear by the Word of God

k This was boastful slander from a self-confident and proud people; but they were soon to be humbled by 2 men of faith even if they did come out of a hole (v 11-14)

l The sign was right, so Jonathan advanced and engaged the whole garrison in battle. The 2 men slew 20 in the first attack (v 12-14)

m Land was measured by the portion that could be plowed in a day by a yoke of oxen. This means half the plot that could be so plowed in a day (v 14)

n At the same time Jonathan attacked, Jehovah acted to cause a great trembling or shaking in the rest of the Philistine army, among the rest of the garrison, and the 3 bands of spoilers that had already left the camp (13:17; 14:15) a The spoilers or raiders were the 3 bands who left the camp of Philistia to plunder, rob, and murder Israelites (v 15; 13:14)

b 5 things that trembled and shook (v 15):

5 The earth itself - by a great earth-

c These were men who kept a constant view of the Philistines to see and report their movements to Saul (v 16)

d 5 things happened to the Philistines:
1 They trembled (v 15)
2 Melted away (v 16)
3 Beat one another down
4 Had a great noise among them (v 19)
5 Had a great discomfiture (v 20)

e It must be the result of something supernatural when sane, normal men of a common cause begin destroying one another (v 16). This was likely the result of the unearthly noise and confusion

3 examples of supernatural confusion:
1 Midianites in Gideon's day (Judg. 7:22)
2 Philistines here (v 20)
3 At future Armageddon (Ezek. 38:21; Zech. 14:12-14)
It will be noticed that in each of these cases there were or will be an overwhelming multitude against a few people, and this is one of God's methods of destroying many f Saul was in the process of asking counsel of the high priest; but when the noise of the tumult in the camp of the Philistines increased he broke off his conversation and went into battle (v 18-20)

g It had always been with Israel except for the 7 months when it was captured and taken to Philistia (6:1)

h See 2 Sam. 5:24; 2 Ki. 7:6; 19:7

i This indicates that Saul was in the process of inquiring by the Urim and Thummim, but the priest was commanded to stop before he was finished (v 19; Ex. 28:30). Evidently the priest was at the point of putting his hand into the bag to get the answer when he was interrupted by Saul who, with his men, went immediately to battle before the message was completed (v 20) j Heb. mehuwmah, confusion; uproar; destruction; trouble; tumult; vexation. Trans. discomfiture only here (v 20), but tumult (Amos 3:9; Zech. 14:13); vexation (Dt. 28:20; 2 Chr. 15:6); and vexed (Ezek. 22:5)

6 other words trans. "discomfited":
1 Chalash, to prostrate; overthrow; decay; waste away; weaken (Ex. 17:13)
2 Kathath, to bruise; strike violently; beat down; break in pieces; crush; destroy; smite; stamp (Num. 14:45)
3 Huwm, to make an uproar; agitate greatly; destroy; make a noise (Josh. 10:10; 1 Sam. 22:15)
4 Humam, put in commotion; disturb; drive; destroy; trouble; vex (Judg. 4:15; 1 Sam. 22:15)
5 Charad, to shudder; terrorize; fear; tremble; quake (Judg. 8:12)
6 Mac, to burden; tax; force to labor; levy; make tributary (Isa. 31:8)

k This is to distinguish the Israelites from the Philistines among whom they lived (v 21). It implies that many Israelites joined the Philistines against their brethren in order to escape death. But now, since God was giving His people deliverance, they rejoined their brethren. Like many today they wished to go along with the victors and the majority, then change again when it was convenient l Another group were those who dared not take a stand against the Philistines, but hid themselves in fear. They came out of hiding and destroyed Philistines (v 22; 13:5-6) and the [a]spoilers, they [b]also trembled, and the earth quaked: so it was a very great trembling.

16 And the [c]watchmen of Saul in Gib'e-ah of Ben'ja-min looked; and, behold, the multitude [d]melted away, and they went on [e]beating down one another.

●17 Then said Saul unto the people that were with him, Number now, and see who is gone from us. And when they had numbered, behold, Jon'a-than and his armourbearer were not there.

●18 And Saul said unto A-hi'ah, Bring [f]hither the ark of God. For the ark of God was at that time [g]with the children of Is'ra-el.

●19 ¶ And it came to pass, while Saul talked unto the priest, that the [h]noise that was in the host of the Phi-lis'tines went on and increased: and Saul said unto the priest, [i]Withdraw thine hand.

20 And Saul and all the people that were with him assembled themselves, and they came to the battle: and, behold, every man's sword was against his fellow, and there was a very great [j]discomfiture.

21 Moreover the [k]He'brews that were with the Phi-lis'tines before that time, which went up with them into the camp from the country round about, even they also turned to be with the Is'ra-el-ites that were with Saul and Jon'a-than.

22 [l]Likewise all the men of Is'ra-el which had hid themselves in mount E'phra-im, when they heard that the Phi-lis'tines fled, even they also followed hard after them in the battle.

23 So the LORD [m]saved Is'ra-el that day: and the battle passed over unto [n]Beth-a'ven.

9 Saul's foolish oath

24 ¶ And the men of Is'ra-el were distressed that day: for Saul had [o]adjured the people, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth any food until evening, that I may be avenged on mine enemies. So none of the people tasted any food.

25 And all they of the land came to a wood; [p]and there was honey upon the ground.

26 And when the people were come into the wood, behold, the honey dropped; but no man put his hand to his mouth: for the people feared the oath.

10 Jonathan's sin of ignorance

27 But Jon'a-than [q]heard not when his father charged the people with the oath: wherefore he put forth the end of the rod that was in his hand, and dipped it in an [r]honeycomb, and put his hand to his mouth; and his [s]eyes were enlightened.

28 Then answered one of the people, and said, Thy father straitly charged the people with an oath, saying, Cursed be the man that eateth any food this day. And the people were faint.

29 Then said Jon'a-than, [t]My father hath troubled the land: see, I pray you, how mine eyes have been enlightened, because I tasted a little of this honey.

30 [q]How much more, if haply the people had eaten freely to day of the spoil of their enemies which they found? for had there not been now a much greater slaughter among the Phi-lis'tines?

31 And they smote the Phi-lis'tines that day [b]from Mich'mash to Ai'ja-lon: and the people were [t]very faint.

11 The sin of Israel

32 And the people [d]flew upon the spoil, and took sheep, and oxen, and calves, and slew them on the ground: and the people did [e]eat them with the blood.

33 ¶ Then they told Saul, saying, Behold, the people sin against the LORD, in that they eat with the blood. And he said, Ye have transgressed: roll a great stone unto me this day.

●34 And Saul said, Disperse yourselves among the people, and say unto them, Bring me hither every man his ox, and every man his sheep, and slay them here, and eat; and sin not against the LORD in eating with the blood. And all the people brought every man his ox with him that night, and slew them there.

12 Jonathan saved from death by the army

35 And Saul built an altar unto the LORD: the same was [f]the first altar that he built unto the LORD.

●36 ¶ And Saul said, [g]Let us go down after the Phi-lis'tines by night, and spoil them until the morning light, and let us not leave a man of them. And they said, Do whatsoever seemeth good unto thee. Then said the priest, Let us draw near hither unto God.

37 And Saul asked counsel of God, [h]Shall I go down after the Phi-lis'tines? wilt thou deliver them into the hand of Is'ra-el? But he answered him not [i]that day.

●38 And Saul said, Draw ye near hither, all the chief of the people: and know and see wherein this sin hath been this day.

39 For, as the LORD liveth, which saveth Is'ra-el, though it be in Jon'a-than my son, he shall surely die. But there was not a man among all the people that answered him.

40 Then said he unto all Is'ra-el, [j]Be ye on one side, and I and Jon'a-than my son will be on the other side. And the people said unto Saul, Do what seemeth good unto thee.

41 Therefore Saul said unto the LORD God of Is'ra-el, [k]Give a perfect lot. And Saul and Jon'a-than were taken: but the people escaped.

42 And Saul said, Cast lots between me and Jon'a-than my son. And [l]Jon'a-than was taken.

●43 Then Saul said to Jon'a-

b From Michmash where the battle began to Aijalon where they ceased fighting that day was about 20 miles (v 31)

c See the reason in v 24, 27-30

d 8 great evils of Saul's foolish curse:
1 Caused the innocent to suffer (v 24-30, 37-46)
2 Helped to defeat his own cause (v 30)
3 Caused the people to be so faint that they committed sin in eating flesh of animals improperly killed (v 32-34)
4 Caused God to refuse to answer him that day (v 37)
5 Caused all Israel to refuse to answer their king (v 39) (v 45)
6 Caused all Israel to defy their king
7 Caused a great victory to be cut short, making it necessary to fight the Philistines later (v 46-52; 17:1-58)
8 No doubt caused his own death, for if he had crushed the Philistines when he had the opportunity they perhaps would not have fought him at the time he died (28:1-31:13)

e They did not take time to bleed the animals on which they fed (v 32-34), as required by the law of Moses (Dt. 12:23) f Saul built his first altar; but before this he intruded into the priest's office (13:1-15). See note f, Gen. 8:20

g Under normal circumstances this would have been the proper thing to do so that the Philistines could be crushed while they were defeated; but God thought best, under the circumstances, not to have the people continue through the night. He would not answer Saul to assure victory (v 36-37)

h Questions 53-54. Next, v 45

i The Lord answered him not that day, but He did the next day (v 37-46). Saul continued to sin until the next time God answered him not at all (1 Sam. 28:6; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)

j Saul evidently had an idea that it was Jonathan and that is perhaps why he spoke as he did, as recorded in v 39-40

k This indicates how Saul originally started to inquire of the priest (v 18-19). It was by Urim and Thummim. See p. 118 l Jonathan had not committed any sin in the sight of the Lord; the lot was being taken to decide who broke the king's word. This was no proof of Divine displeasure or that Jonathan was to blame for any wrong. The only sin committed was that of the people eating flesh with blood; and that may be part of the reason God did not answer Saul the first day (v 32-37). Instead of being worthy of blame, Jonathan had been responsible for the great victory and this is why he was rescued by the people from Saul's wrath (v 44-45)

David and Jonathan (18:1)

David and Jonathan became fast friends from this time on. Jonathan was possibly 40 years when he met David and 55 when he died with Saul (31:1-13). Ish-bosheth, the youngest son of Saul was 40 when he began to reign (2 Sam. 2:10). The love of Jonathan and David was like that of a father and son, and as true brothers in the same nation - not the low, depraved, unnatural homosexual and demonized love which some have sought to attach to this story based on v 1; 2 Sam. 1:26. Theirs was a genuine affection which was pure and normal, as it should be with all men a In face of a death sentence, Jonathan told his father the truth. He was not guilty of breaking God's law, but of innocently breaking his father's command (v 24-27, 43-44)

b The people saw the injustice of Saul's curse as well as his decision to destroy the man who had brought victory to Israel; so they rose up as one man to prevent the execution of Jonathan (v 45)

they saved the good animals in order to sacrifice to the Lord (v 15)
v Here Samuel gave the real reason for disobedience - Saul had become proud, exalted, and independent of God, big in his own eyes so that he could reject the authority of even God, and act in himself (v 17)

47 ¶ So Saul took the kingdom over Is'ra-el, and fought against all his enemies on every side, against Mō'ab, and against the children of Am'mŏn, and against E'dom, and against the kings of Zō'bah, and against the Phi-lis'tines: [h]and whithersoever he turned himself, he [i]vexed them.

251 CHAPTER 15

15 War with Amalek: (1) Saul's commission to destroy Amalek, fulfilling Ex. 17:14-16; Num. 24:20

SAM'U-EL also said unto Saul, The LORD sent me to anoint thee to be king over his people, over Is'ra-el: [r]now therefore hearken thou unto the voice of the words of the LORD.

■2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, I remember that which Am'a-lĕk did to Is'ra-el, how he laid wait for him in the way, when he came up from E'gypt.

●3 [s]Now go and smite Am'a-lĕk, and utterly destroy all that they have, and spare them not; but slay both man and woman, infant and suckling, ox and sheep, camel and ass.

(2) Saul's incomplete obedience

4 And Saul gathered the people together, and numbered them in [a]Tĕl'a-im, [b]two hundred thousand footmen, and ten thousand men of Jū'dah.

5 And Saul came to [c]a city of Am'a-lĕk, and laid wait in the valley.

●6 ¶ And Saul said unto [d]the Kĕn'ites, Go, depart, get you down from [e]among the Am'a-lĕk-ites, lest I destroy you with them: [f]for ye shewed kindness to all the children of Is'ra-el, when they came up out of E'gypt. So the Kĕn'ites departed from among the Am'a-lĕk-ites.

7 And Saul smote the Am'a-lĕk-ites [g]from Hăv'i-lah until thou comest to Shūr, that is over against E'gypt.

8 And he took A'găg the king of the Am'a-lĕk-ites alive, and utterly destroyed all the people with the edge of the sword.

9 [h]But Saul and the people spared [i]A'găg, and the best of the sheep, and of the oxen, and of the fatlings, and the lambs, and all that was good, and would not utterly destroy them: but [j]every thing that was [k]vile and refuse, that they destroyed utterly.

(3) God repents for choosing Saul king of Israel

10 ¶ Then [l]came the word of the LORD unto Săm'u-el, saying,

■11 [m]It repenteth me that I have set up Saul to be king: for he is turned back from following me, and hath not performed my commandments. And it grieved Săm'u-el; [n]and he cried unto the LORD all night.

(4) Saul's lie to Samuel

12 And when Săm'u-el rose early to meet Saul in the morning, it was told Săm'u-el, saying, Saul came to Cär'mel, and, behold, he [o]set him up a place, and is gone about, and passed on, and [p]gone down to Gĭl'găl.

13 And Săm'u-el came to Saul: and Saul said unto him, Blessed be thou of the LORD: I [q]have performed the commandment of the LORD.

14 And Săm'u-el said, [r]What meaneth then this [s]bleating of the sheep in mine ears, and the lowing of the oxen which I hear?

15 And Saul said, [t]They have brought them from the Am'a-lĕk-ites: for the people spared the best of the sheep and of the oxen, [u]to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God; and the rest we have utterly destroyed.

(5) Samuel reproves Saul

16 Then Săm'u-el said unto Saul, Stay, and I will tell thee what the LORD hath said to me this night. And he said unto him, Say on.

17 And Săm'u-el said, [r]When h 6 things in which Saul failed God:

1 Saving Agag alive (v 8-9)
2 Sparing the best of the sheep
3 The best of the oxen
4 The best of the fatlings
5 The best of the lambs
6 All else that was good
This was in direct disobedience to the command of God, which was to destroy utterly all that the Amalekites had, not sparing any man, woman, infant, suckling, ox, sheep, camel, or ass (v 1-3). See Saul inexcusable, p. 328
i Agag seems to have been the common name for the kings of Amalekites, as Pharaoh was for Egyptian kings. The word is first used in a prophecy of Balaam which suggests an Agag was a mighty king in the earth (Num. 24:7, 20). Another Agag is mentioned here as the leader of the people who had been Israel's first enemy after leaving Egypt (v 8-9, 20, 32-33; Ex. 17:8-16; Dt. 25:17-19)
j 2 things Saul did destroy: 9)
1 The common people of Amalek (v
2 Everything vile and refuse (v 9) k This means all the stock that was worthless and all the goods that were not fit to save (v 9). A selfish and covetous man, as Saul, would save only the beautiful and useful things

l The word of the Lord was no doubt spoken in his ear, as before (v 10; 9:15) m God repenting here simply means that He had changed His purpose or plan concerning Saul. Had he been obedient then his kingdom would have been established (13:13); but because he had been disobedient his kingdom would not continue with him (v 11). God's reason for changing His plan was that Saul had turned back from following Him, and had not performed the commandments (v 11). This is also the reason given elsewhere (v 13-14, 17-19, 22-23, 26; 13:13-14; 28:18; 1 Chr. 10:13-14). God always will change His plan for an individual or a race if He is faced with their refusal to obey Him. See p. 284 of N. T. and Backsliding in Index

1 Did not obey the voice of Jehovah
2 Did fly upon the spoil

f This could refer to sparing the best of all things that they found among the Amalekites (v 9)
g 4 ways Saul claimed obedience: 20) 1 I have obeyed the voice of God(v
2 I have gone the way in which the Lord sent me lek alive
3 I have brought Agag, king of Amalekites
4 I have utterly destroyed the Amalekites
The nearest one of these to truth is point 2. Saul did go the way God sent him, but he did not obey the voice of the Lord to destroy all the Amalekites. Saving the king alive was not full obedience h There were some Amalekites spared also, for some are mentioned as still in existence long after Saul (27:8; 30:1,13; 18; 2 Sam.1:8,13; 8:12; 1 Chr.4:43)
i This was the excuse for sparing the best of the flocks and herds of the Amalekites (v 21), but Samuel stated that obedience to God is better than all sacrifices (v 22)

k Obedience is more important than all forms of religion - sacrifices, offerings, rituals, ceremonies. It is the chief end of all true religion; and rebellion and stubbornness are a manifestation of failure in conforming to truth (v 22-23)

r 5 times it is stated that God rejected Saul (v 23, 25-26, 28-29; 13:11-14; 16:1) s 2 times Saul said I have sinned and once I have transgressed the commandment of the Lord (v 24, 30). He also confessed he had transgressed Samuel's words w Samuel made it clear that he would not turn again to Saul or seek to persuade God to change His plan concerning the man. This much Samuel would do: permit Saul to worship so that the public would not turn against him and make matters worse (v 30-31). Samuel did not break with him outwardly and before the people at this time x Saul's laying hold of the mantle of Samuel and rending it became a sign that God would rend the kingdom from him and give it to another man (v 27-29). Cp. 1 Kl. 11:30-31 a God will not lie and will not change His plan concerning you again, for He is not a man that he should keep changing every time you change. This is the substance of v 29. Saul's repentance was not thorough or from the heart; he feared the punishment of sin, but he did thou wast [a]little in thine own sight, [b]wast thou not made the head of the tribes of Iṣ'ra-el, and the LORD anointed thee king over Iṣ'ra-el?

18 And the LORD sent thee on a journey, and [c]said, Go and utterly destroy the sinners the Am'a-lĕk-ites, and fight against them until they be consumed.

19 [d]Wherefore then didst [e]thou not obey the voice of the LORD, but [d]didst fly upon the spoil, and didst evil in the sight of the LORD?

(6) Saul's twofold excuse: the people and need of sacrifices

20 And Saul said unto Săm'u-el, Yea, [f]I have obeyed the voice of the LORD, and have gone the way which the LORD sent me, and have brought Ă'găg the king of Am'a-lĕk, and [h]have utterly destroyed the Am'a-lĕk-ites.

21 But the people took of the spoil, sheep and oxen, the chief of the things which should have been utterly destroyed, [i]to sacrifice unto the LORD thy God in Gĭl'găl.

(7) Obedience better than sacrifices and offerings

22 And Săm'u-el said, [j]Hath the LORD as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the LORD? Behold, [k]to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams.

23 For [l]rebellion is as the [m]sin of [n]witchcraft, and [o]stubbornness is as [p]iniquity and [q]idolatry. Because thou hast [r]rejected the word of the LORD, he hath also rejected thee from being king.

(8) Saul's repentance

24 ¶ And Saul said unto Săm'u-el, [s]I have sinned: for I have transgressed the commandment of the LORD, and thy words: [t]because I [u]feared the people, and [v]obeyed their voice.

25 Now therefore, I pray thee, pardon my sin, and turn again with me, that I may worship the Lord.

(9) Final rejection of Saul

26 And Săm'u-el said unto Saul, [w]I will not return with thee: for thou hast rejected the word of the LORD, and the LORD hath rejected thee from being king over Iṣ'ra-el.

27 And as Săm'u-el turned about to go away, he [x]laid hold upon the skirt of his mantle, and it rent.

28 And Săm'u-el said unto him, The LORD hath rent the kingdom of Iṣ'ra-el [y]from these this day, and hath given it to a neighbour of thine, that is better than thou.

29 And also [z]the Strength of Iṣ'ra-el [a]will not lie nor repent: for he is not a man, that he should repent.

(10) Saul pleads to be honored before the people

30 Then he said, I have sinned: yet [a]honour me now, I pray thee, before the elders of my people, and before Iṣ'ra-el, and turn again with me, that I may worship the LORD thy God.

31 So Săm'u-el turned again after Saul; and Saul worshipped the LORD.

(11) Samuel completes Saul's commission of v 1-3

32 ¶ Then [b]said Săm'u-el, Bring ye hither to me Ă'găg the king of the Am'a-lĕk-ites. And Ă'găg came unto him delicately. And Ă'găg said, Surely the bitterness of death is past.

33 And Săm'u-el said, As thy sword hath made women childless, so shall thy mother be childless among women. And Săm'u-el hewed Ă'găg in pieces before the LORD in Gĭl'găl.

34 ¶ Then [c]Săm'u-el went to Ra'mah; and Saul went up to his house to Gĭb'e-ah of Saul.

35 And Săm'u-el came no more to see Saul until the day of his death: nevertheless Săm'u-el mourned for Saul: and the LORD repented that he had made Saul king over Iṣ'ra-el.

252 CHAPTER 16

V David chosen king (1 Sam. 16:1-17:58). 1 Samuel sent to anoint David king

AND the Lord said unto Săm'u-el, [d]How long wilt thou mourn for Saul, seeing I have rejected him from reigning over Iṣ'ra-el? [e]fill thine horn with oil, and go, I will send thee [f]to Jĕs'se the Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-ite: for I have provided me a king among his sons.

2 And Săm'u-el said, How can I go? [g]if Saul hear it, he will kill me. And the LORD said, [h]Take an heifer with thee, and say, I am come to sacrifice to the LORD.

3 And call Jĕs'se [i]to the sacrifice, and I will shew thee what thou shalt do: and thou shalt anoint unto me him whom I name unto thee.

4 And Săm'u-el did that which the LORD spake, and came to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm. And the elders of the town [j]trembled at his coming, and said, Comest thou peaceably?

5 And he said, Peaceably: I am come to sacrifice unto the LORD: [k]sanctify yourselves, and come with me to the sacrifice. And he sanctified Jĕs'se and his sons, and called them to the sacrifice.

2 Experienced and godly Samuel still looks on outward appearance

6 ¶ And it came to pass, when they were come, that [l]he looked on [m]Ĕ-lī'ab, and said, Surely the LORD's anointed is before him.

7 But the LORD said unto Săm'u-el, Look not on his countenance, or on the height of his stature; because I have refused him: for the LORD seeth not as man seeth; for man looketh on the outward appearance, but the LORD looketh on the heart.

a Samuel could, for the sake of the kingdom and the people, honor Saul before them to the extent of permitting him to worship, or go through the outward form of religion as carried on in sacrifices (v 30-31). He turned again to Saul in this respect, but not as to a forgiven man, restored to Jehovah in grace and plan b Samuel executed divine wrath on Agag here; but as far as the stock and material plunder was concerned nothing is said about it. We suppose that he permitted these things to remain the spoil of the people, Agag thought the death penalty had passed and that he would be spared, but for the crime of v 33 he had to be executed (v 32) c Samuel now departed from Saul going to his home in Ramah, never to minister to the king again. He did continue mourning over him, and God continued in His regret over making Saul king, so planned a change in kingship, as in ch. 16
d Questions 60-62, Next, v 11
e It seems that horns were used in ancient times as drinking vessels by all nations, and most people carried one while travelling so as to take up water from the fountains to quench their thirst. Samuel had such a horn and on this occasion was commanded to fill it with oil for the purpose of anointing David as king (v 1, 13. Cp. 1 Kl. 1:39)
f God knows the names of all men. Many times He has called to some personally with an audible voice. See 10 double callings (note e, Gen. 22:11). On other occasions He has named some who were to have a part in His plan, as here (v 1). God has even foreknown men by name as long as 175 to 325 years before they were born; others have been named by Him before birth (note i, Mt. 1:21)
g This shows the true nature of Saul and partially explains why God's plan was so absolute when it came to him. If Saul had genuinely repented God would have forgiven him and renewed His blessings on him, for His mercy is open to all (v 2) h From all outward appearances Samuel was going to Bethlehem for ordinary worship. This was true, for he did offer a sacrifice, and the work he went to perform was done in this connection. For the elders of the nation to know of the forthcoming anointing would have done more harm than good, for when Saul heard of it he no doubt would have made war on Bethlehem or tried to destroy the household of Jesse to get rid of the new king. Offering the sacrifice gave Samuel the occasion to call the local elders, Jesse and his sons together as instructed by the Lord (v 2-3) i It was the custom to eat the flesh of such sacrifices after the blood had been poured out before God and the fat burned in the fire. This was true of all offerings except the whole burnt offerings, which were entirely consumed j This sudden appearance of Samuel caused the town elders to tremble. Perhaps they wondered if he had come to pronounce a curse upon their city (v 4) k Note again that to sanctify simply means to set apart to holy uses. Here the elders sanctified themselves; that is, made proper preparation to set themselves aside for worship. Samuel sanctified Jesse's sons for the same purpose l Samuel, like other natural men, was prone to judge by human standards of outward appearance instead of the heart, as God does (v 6-7)
m 6 Eliab's in Scripture: 29)
1 A Zebulunite (Num. 1:9; 2:7; 7:24, 2 A Reubenite (Num. 16:1,12; 26:8-9; Dt. 11:6)
3 Eldest son of Jesse (16:6; 17:13, 28)
4 A Levite (1 Chr. 15:18-20; 16:5)

not shrink from sin itself. He dreaded the outward humiliation before the people more than the wrath of God. If he could have retained his power apart from Samuel he would have cast Samuel off altogether. God knew this, so determined to abandon Saul and continue His plan with someone else who would obey Him i One thing is clear in Scripture - that the Holy Spirit has come upon, in, unto, and moved and anointed men on definite days, giving them experiences which they did not have previously. 2 A mighty valiant man

3 A man of war
4 Prudent in matters of business
5 A comely (common) person,
6 The Lord with him
These facts, which are in addition to those of note e, above, prove v 14-23 refer to a later time than v 1-13 when David was a lad. Here he was a mighty man of war and prudent in business, as seen in note j, above p See note m, Gen. 28:15
q David had been with Saul before this as his armourbearer, and since the destruction of Goliath; but Saul had become jealous and sought to kill him on 5 occasions. David had now gone back home to take care of the sheep again. Jonathan reconciled Saul and David and so he was sent for to play music for the king (17:1-19:9)
r It took grace for a man to send his son back to the person who had made 5 attempts to kill him. This Jesse did with a gift to Saul - a large skin of wine, much bread, and a kid of the goats, to show that he held no enmity against him (v 20). Saul was yet to be the responsible one causing Jesse and his wife to flee from Bethlehem to Moab (22:3). The man became so insane with jealousy that he would have killed David's parents in seeking to kill him s This second time with Saul was for the purpose of relieving him of the evil spirit by music; and for this he loved David for the time being (v 21-23)

v He was advanced in years in behavior, but still a youth (v 12, 33). The Heb. for youth in v 33 is na'ar, a boy, from infancy to adolescence. He was probably still in his teens. Na'ar is trans. lad 33 times compared to youth 5 times, or one too young to be a man and act like a man (v 33, 42, 56; Judg. 8:20). The word lad is applied to Ishmael when he was 18 or 19 years of age (Gen. 21:12-20), to Isaac when he was offered as a sacrifice (Gen. 22:5, 12), to Joseph when he was 17 years old (Gen. 37:2)
w David's oldest brothers - Eliab, Abinadab, and Shammah, were in Saul's army; so by destroying Goliath, David not only saved the many thousands of sons from other families, but no doubt also saved his own brothers from death

8 Then Jĕs'se called [a]Ă-bĭn'-a-dăb, and made him pass before Săm'u-el. And he said, Neither hath the LORD chosen this.
9 Then Jĕs'se made [b]Shăm'-mah to pass by. And he said, Neither hath the LORD chosen this.
10 Again, Jĕs'se made [c]seven of his sons to pass before Săm'-u-el. And Săm'u-el said unto Jĕs'se, The LORD hath not chosen these.

3 David anointed king

11 And Săm'u-el said unto Jĕs'se, [d]Are here all thy children? And he said, There remaineth [e]yet the youngest, and, behold, he keepeth the sheep. And Săm'u-el said unto Jĕs'se, Send and fetch him: for [f]we will not sit down till he come hither.
12 And he sent, and brought him in. Now he was ruddy, and withal of a beautiful countenance, and goodly to look to. And the LORD said, Arise, anoint him: for this is he.
13 Then Săm'u-el took the horn of oil, and [g]anointed him in the midst of his brethren: and the Spirit of the LORD [h]came upon Dā'vid from that day forward. So Săm'u-el rose up, and went to Rā'mah.

4 The Holy Spirit departs from Saul and a demon enters him

14 ¶ [i]But [k]the Spirit of the LORD [l]departed from Saul, and an evil spirit [m]from the LORD troubled him.

5 Saul's servants recognize his condition and offer advice

15 And Saul's [n]servants said unto him, Behold now, an evil spirit from God troubleth thee.
16 Let our lord now command thy servants, which are before thee, to seek out a man, who is a cunning player on an harp: and it shall come to pass, when the evil spirit from God is upon thee, that he shall play with his hand, and thou shalt be well.
17 And Saul said unto his servants, Provide me now a man that can play well, and bring him to me.
18 Then answered one of the servants, and said, Behold, I have seen a son of Jĕs'se the Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm-ite, that is [o]cunning in playing, and a mighty valiant man, and a man of war, and prudent in matters, and a comely person, and the LORD [p]is with him.

6 Saul sends for David

19 ¶ Wherefore Saul [q]sent messengers unto Jĕs'se, and said, Send me Dā'vid thy son, which is with the sheep.
20 And Jĕs'se [r]took an ass laden with bread, and a bottle of wine, and a kid, and sent them by Dā'vid his son unto Saul.
21 And Dā'vid [s]came to Saul, and stood before him: and he loved him greatly; and he became his armourbearer.
22 And Saul sent to Jĕs'se, saying, Let Dā'vid, I pray thee, stand before me; for he hath found favour in my sight.
23 And it came to pass, when the evil spirit [t]from God was upon Saul, that Dā'vid took an harp, and played with his hand: so Saul was refreshed, and was well, and the evil spirit [k]departed from him.

253 CHAPTER 17

7 David and Goliath. (1) Goliath defies Israel

NOW the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes gathered together their armies to battle, and were gathered together at [a]Shō'choh, which belongeth to Jū'dah, and pitched between Shō'choh [a]and Ă-zē'kah, in [b]Ĕ'phes–dăm'mim.
2 And Saul and the men of Is'ra-el were gathered together, and pitched by the [c]valley of Ĕ'lah, and set the battle in array against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.
3 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes stood on a mountain on the one side, and Is'ra-el stood on a mountain on the other side: and there was a valley between them.
4 ¶ And there went out a champion out of the camp of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, named [d]Gō-lī'ath, of Gāth, whose height was six cubits and a span.
5 And he had an [e]helmet of brass upon his head, and he was armed with a [f]coat of mail; and the weight of the coat was five thousand shekels of brass.
6 And he had [g]greaves of brass upon his legs, and a [h]target of brass between his shoulders.
7 And the [m]staff of his [n]spear was like a weaver's beam; and his [o]spear's head weighed six hundred shekels of iron: and one bearing a [p]shield went before him.
8 And he stood and cried unto the armies of Is'ra-el, and said unto them, [q]Why are ye come out to set your battle in array? am [r]not I a Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne, and ye servants to Saul? [s]choose you a man for you, and let him come down to me.
9 If he be able to fight with me, and to kill me, then will we be your servants: but if I prevail against him, and kill him, then shall ye be our servants, and serve us.
10 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne said, I defy the armies of Is'ra-el this day; give me a man, that we may fight together.
11 When Saul and all Is'ra-el heard those words of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne, [t]they were dismayed, and greatly afraid.

(2) David's mission to the army

12 ¶ Now Dā'vid was the son of that Ĕph'rath-ite of Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm–jū'dah, whose name was Jĕs'se; and he had [u]eight sons: and the man went among men for an old man in the days of Saul.

c Chronologically this follows 16:13; and 16:14-23 comes in between 19:9 and 10 to show the contrast between the two spirits of Saul and David and the success of one and failure of the other d Shochoh was a place about 15 miles southwest of Jerusalem (v 1). It is called Shocho (2 Chr. 28:18), Shoco (2 Chr. 11:7), Sochoh (1 Ki. 4:10), and Socob (Josh. 15:35, 48)
e Azekah was about 3 miles northwest of Shochoh (v 1; Josh. 10:10-11; 15:35; 2 Chr. 11:9; Neh. 11:30; Jer. 34:7)
f Ephes-dammin, the place between Shochoh and Azekah where the Philistines were camped when making war on Saul (v 1). Called Pas-dammin (1 Chr. 11:13). So - called because of the red-brown earth at this place g Valley of Elah was a valley running east and west from the Mediterranean to a few miles south of Jerusalem, through which the river of Elah flows into the sea (v 2). All three of the places of v 1 were in this valley. The Philistines were on a mountain on one side of the valley and Israel on a mountain on the other side (v 3). In the valley between the two armies Goliath paced up and down, defying Israel and challenging them to send a man to fight with him, offering to settle the war according to the outcome of their combat, the losing man's people serving the other nation (v 4-11)
h Goliath and his brothers were of the remnant of giants left in the country to test Israel in the settlement of Canaan. He was 13 ft. 4 in. tall, counting 25 in. as a cubit and 10 in. as a span. David and his men killed the last of the races of giants (v 49; 2 Sam. 21:16-22; 1 Chr. 20:4-8). See Giants, p. 62
i Helmets have been made from the earliest times in various shapes, and from many materials - quilted linen cloth, leather, metal scales, brass, and iron (v 5, 38; 2 Chr. 26:14; Jer. 46:4; Isa. 59:17; Ezek. 23:24; 27:10; 38:5. Cp. Eph. 6:17; 1 Th. 5:8)
j Coat of mail (v 5, 38). In ancient times it was made of quilted linen with rows of metal plates secured by brass pins. Iron rings closely locked together were also made. Pieces of horns and hoofs were sometimes sewed on cloth. In other instances plates of metal were buttoned together and overlapped (1 Ki. 22:34; 2 Chr. 18:22). Goliath's coat of mail was scale armour weighing around 194 1/2 lbs. troy, counting 224 grains to the shekel. This kind of armour consisted of metallic scales rounded at the bottom and square at the top, sewed on felt or linen which reached down to the knees. Such pieces of armour are called habergeons in 2 Chr. 26:14; Neh. 4:16 k Greaves (v 6). These were coverings for the front of the legs made of leather, wood, or brass and bound with thongs around the calves and ankles. The ones here were of brass l Target of brass between the shoulders refers to a plate of brass covering the chest. Not the same as shields called targets in 1 Ki. 10:16; 2 Chr. 9:15; 14:8. Cp. Eph. 6:14; 1 Th. 5:8. The Heb. kiydown for target in v 6 is trans. shield (v 45; Job 39:23); spear (Josh. 8:18, 26; Job 41:29; Jer. 6:23); and lance (Jer. 50:42)
m This refers to the wooden handle or part of the spear to which the end spearhead was attached. What size it was is not known but it was like a weaver's beam; that is, the part on which the warp is rolled on or which the cloth was rolled in weaving (v 7)
n Heb. chaniyth, trans. spear (v 7, 45) and javelin (18:10-11; 19:9-10; 20:33)
o His spearhead was of iron and weighed 600 shekels or almost 23 1/2 lbs. troy, counting 224 grains to the shekel
p The shield which was large enough to cover his whole body was carried by a man who went before him. This made Goliath free to throw a spear or fight otherwise with both hands b Twice a day, morning and evening. Goliath taunted Saul and his army for 40 days before David arrived (v 16-33)

c David took an ephah (1 bu, 3 pts.) of parched wheat, 10 loaves of bread, and 10 cheeses for his brethren and the captain of 1,000 men (v 17-18)
d What kind of loaves these were is not explained. Generally, the loaves were flat. See Bread in Index. Some were made in large sizes, as those offered to God, which were about 16 by 28 in. and 7 in. deep (note m, Lev. 23:17)
e Cheese was made from fresh curdled milk by separating the water from the curds (Job 10:10) which were salted and often made into small cakes which were soft when new, but soon became hard and dry. Some cheese was made out of coagulated milk or buttermilk which was dried until it became quite hard, then ground. The Arabs mixed it with butter
f David was sent to see how his brethren fared and to bring back a pledge that they were all right (v 18). This is why he had to go to the front lines of the army to get this information. He found the 2 armies in battle array, perhaps ready to go into combat and Goliath taunting Israel again (v 18-21). Leaving the carriage in the hands of a servant David went into the army to salute his brethren; and while he talked Goliath made his appearance, speaking loudly enough, taunting Israel, that David heard what was said (v 22-23). He saw all Israel flee from the giant, and was told the reward for killing him (v 24-27). David's brother, Eliab, became angry at his coming and making inquiry about Goliath. He accused him of pride and haughtiness of heart in leaving the sheep and coming to see the battle (v 28-29), but David turned to others for information, making further inquiry and being told of the reward (v 30). When Saul heard of David's inquiry he sent for him (v 31-32); and being convinced by him of his ability and faith in God, permitted David to go on his way to meet the giant and bring complete victory to Israel (v 33-58)
g To take a pledge meant to bring back some token from his brothers that they were yet alive and well. In some oriental countries a ring, a lock of hair, or piece of a finger nail would be a sufficient token of the truth (v 18)
h They had not yet engaged in actual combat, but were perhaps ready to do so when David arrived and accepted the challenge of Goliath (v 19-37) i David arose early (this would mean before dawn) and went the 15 miles to the army. Whether he arrived in time for the usual taunt of Goliath is not stated, but he lost no time in carrying out his purpose when he did arrive (v 20-37)
j His baggage, the asses, and what he had brought with him for his brothers and the captain (v 17, 18, 22)
k Champion, duelist, the man between the 2 hosts (v 4, 23, 51)
l Question 66, Next, v 26
m 3 rewards for killing the giant (v 25):
1 Giving him great riches
2 Giving him the king's daughter
3 Making his father free from taxes and exempting his sons and daughters from military, court, and other services n Questions 67-70, Next, v 29
o Eliab was a tall, well-built man; and to hear his little brother question why someone had not accepted the challenge made him very angry (v 28. Cp. 16:6-7) plaited work of wool, rushes, hair, or sinews with a wider middle piece (about 2 in. wide) to hold the stone to be flung out. Stones were collected from dry river beds or brooks and kept in the shepherd's bag. In one end of the sling there was a loop which was placed over the thumb in order to hold it when the stone was thrown. The sling was used by the shepherds to keep wild beasts away from the flock and to keep the sheep from straying. Stones could be thrown that could pierce a helmet or a shield (v 40, 50; 25:29; Pr. 26:8; Jer. 10:18; Zech. 9:15). Men of Israel could sling stones "at an hair breadth, and not miss" (Judg. 20:16) went to the battle were E-li'ab the firstborn, and next unto him A-bin'a-dăb, and the third Shăm'mah.

14 And Dă'vid was the youngest: and the three eldest followed Saul.

15 But Dă'vid [a]went and returned from Saul to feed his father's sheep at Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm.

16 And the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne drew near [b]morning and evening, and presented himself forty days.

●17 And Jĕs'se said unto Dă'vid his son, Take now for thy brethren an [c]ephah of this parched corn, and these [d]ten loaves, and run to the camp to thy brethren;

●18 And carry these [e]ten cheeses unto the captain of their thousand, and [f]look how thy brethren fare, and [g]take their pledge.

19 Now Saul, and they, and all the men of Is'ra-el, were in the valley of E'lah, [h]fighting with the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

20 ¶ And Dă'vid [i]rose up early in the morning, and left the sheep with a keeper, and took, and went, as Jĕs'se had commanded him; and he came to the trench, as the host was going forth to the fight, and shouted for the battle.

21 For Is'ra-el and the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes had put the battle in array, army against army.

(3) David inquires of Goliath

22 And Dă'vid left his [j]carriage in the hand of the keeper of the carriage, and ran into the army, and came and saluted his brethren.

23 And as he talked with them, behold, there came up the [k]champion, the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne of Găth, Gō-lī'ath by name, out of the armies of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and spake according to the same words: and Dă'vid heard them.

24 And all the men of Is'ra-el, when they saw the man, fled from him, and were sore afraid.

25 And the men of Is'ra-el said, [l]Have ye seen this man that is come up? surely to defy Is'ra-el is he come up: and it shall be, that [m]the man who killeth him, the king will enrich him with great riches, and will give him his daughter, and make his father's house free in Is'ra-el.

26 And Dă'vid spake to the men that stood by him, [n]saying, What shall be done to the man that killeth this Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne, and taketh away the reproach from Is'ra-el? for who is this uncircumcised Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne, that he should defy the armies of the living God?

27 And the people answered him after this manner, saying, So shall it be done to the man that killeth him.

(4) David accused of haughtiness by his elder brother

28 ¶ And E-li'ab his eldest brother heard when he spake unto the men; and [o]E-li'ab's anger was kindled against Dă'vid, and he said, Why camest thou down hither? and with whom hast thou left those few sheep in the wilderness? I know thy pride, and the naughtiness of thine heart; [p]for thou art come down that thou mightest see the battle.

29 And Dă'vid said, [b]What [c]have I now done? Is there not a cause?

(5) David brought to Saul: promises to champion Israel

30 ¶ And he turned from him toward another, and spake after the same manner: and the people answered him again after the former manner.

31 And when the words were heard which Dă'vid spake, they rehearsed [d]them before Saul: and he sent for him.

32 ¶ And Dă'vid [q]said to Saul, Let no man's heart fail because of him; thy servant will go and fight with this Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne.

33 And Saul [r]said to Dă'vid, Thou art not able to go against this Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne to fight with him: for thou art but a youth, and he a man of war from his youth.

(6) David gives proof of his ability to champion Israel

34 And Dă'vid [s]said unto Saul, Thy servant kept his father's sheep, and there came a lion, and a bear, and took a lamb out of the flock:

35 And I went out after him, and smote him, and delivered it out of his mouth: and when he arose against me, I caught him by his beard, and smote him, and slew him.

36 Thy servant slew both the lion and the bear: and this uncircumcised Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne shall be as one of them, seeing he hath defied the armies of the living God.

●37 Dă'vid said moreover, The LORD that delivered me out of the paw of the lion, and out of the paw of the bear, he will deliver me out of the hand of this Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne. And [b]Saul said unto Dă'vid, Go, and the LORD be with thee.

(7) The wrong kind of armour

38 ¶ And Saul [i]armed Dă'vid with his armour, and he put an helmet of brass upon his head; also he armed him with a coat of mail.

39 And Dă'vid girded his sword upon his armour, and he assayed to go; for he had not proved it. And Dă'vid said unto Saul, I cannot go with these; for I have not proved them. And Dă'vid put them off him.

(8) His human weapons plus his faith in God (v 34-37)

40 And he [t]took his [k]staff in his hand, and chose him five smooth stones out of the brook, and put them in a shepherd's bag which he had, even in a scrip; and his sling was in his hand: and he drew near to the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭne.

(9) Haughtiness of Goliath a Everything said of David in this chapter indicates his youth, proving that here he was not the mighty valiant man of war, as described in 16:18. This only confirms the fact that 16:14-23 must refer to a later time, after the events of ch. 17. His brother spoke to him and of him in terms befitting a mere lad looking for adventure in seeing a battle, if he had been 20 years old or more he could have been in the army as this was the age in Israel when men thus served (Num. 1:3, 18-45; 14:29; 26:2-4; 32:11). He is referred to as a na'ar, boy (note v, v 12)

b Questions 71-72, Next, v 43
c What have I done or said to cause you to take offence? Are not Saul's promise and the insults to God and His people by this uncircumcised man sufficient cause for me to act as I am about to do? You should have done something about this yourself, before now. Thus David turned from Eliab, his overbearing brother, to others that he might fully understand what the whole problem was (v 29-30)
d They told Saul of this unusual youth who was offering to fight the Philistine, so he sent for him (v 31)
e When David came before Saul he immediately made it clear that no man in Israel needed to fear any longer, for he would fight the giant (v 32)
f What Saul thought of this boyish person before him is reflected in what he said - "You are not able to fight this giant, for you are but a boy, and he is a man of war from his boyhood" (v 33)
g David proceeded to give Saul his qualifications for fighting the giant and knowing the outcome (v 34-37)

3fold qualification of David:

1 Your servant killed a lion that came after my father's sheep. I went after him and smote him and took the lamb out of his mouth (v 34-35)
2 I also killed a bear that took a lamb out of the flock. I caught him by the beard, smote him, and slew him
3 I have faith in God. I killed both the lion and the bear, and I will do the same to this uncircumcised Philistine, seeing he had defied the armies of the Living God. Jehovah delivered me out of the paws of the lion and the bear; He will deliver me out of the hands of this Philistine (v 34-37)

h David won the argument, though Saul could not believe this was the way God would deliver Israel and give them victory. He merely said, "Go, and Jehovah be with you" (v 37) i Saul dressed David with his own armour which was perhaps too large for him. If not, David still opposed the use of it saying he had not proved it, He put it off and laid the sword aside (v 38-39)
j 5fold armour of David (v 40):
1 His shepherd's staff or club
2 5 smooth stones out of the brook
3 His shepherd's bag to hold stones
4 His sling in his hand
5 Faith in God (v 36-37)
Contrast this with the armour of Goliath (v 4-7, 51) and that of Saul (v 38-39) k 4 items of shepherd's equipment:
1 A club, Usually made of oak 2 to 3 ft. long with a knob on one end about the size of an orange and a loop attached to the other end which enabled him to put it over his arm or on his girdle for carrying. Heb. shebet, a rod or club (Ex. 21:20; Lev. 27:32; 2 Sam. 23:21; 1 Chr. 11:23; Ps. 2:9; 23:4)
2 A staff or crook about 6 ft. long and generally made of a peeled vine branch. It was used when climbing, walking, slashing twigs and leaves, rescuing sheep fallen into a pit, and for straining lingering or fighting goats. Heb. maqqel, a staff (v 40; Gen. 32:10; Ex. 12:11; Num. 22:27; Hos. 4:12; Zech. 11:10, 14), and rod (Jer. 1:11; 48:17). About the same as Heb. mattah, a staff (Gen. 38:18, 25; Isa. 10:5, 15, 24; 14:5; 28:27; Jer. 48:17) and rod (Ex. 4:2, 4, 17, 20; 7:9-20; 8:5, 16-17; 9:23; 10:13; 14:16; 17:5, 9; Num. 17:2-10; 20:8-11; 1 Sam. 14:27, 43)
3 A bag or scrip made of leather and thrown over the shoulder to carry provisions (v 40; Mt. 10:10; Mk. 6:8; Lk. 9:3; 10:4; 22:35-36)
4 A sling. It was made of leather,

6 predictions of David:

1 This day will Jehovah deliver you into my hand (v 46)
2 I will smite you
3 I will take your head off
4 I will give the bodies of the Philistines to the birds and beasts, this day
5 All this assembly shall know that God does not save by carnal means (v 47)
6 He will give you into my hands

These are the first predictions of David. He was in reality one of the greatest of prophets in Israel, 327 verses of prophecy in 1 and 2 Sam., 1 KL., 1 Chr., and Psalms are by David. See p. 731. He could be classed with the major prophets in number of verses of prophecy, having 188 more than Daniel, and many more verses than any of the minor prophets f Note the chief end of David's acts of faith - that all the earth (v 46) and all this assembly (v 47) may know

2 major truths:

1 That there is no god in all the earth like the God of Israel (v 46)
2 That men may know that God does not save by carnal weapons (v 47)

g This indicates that he was sitting down resting. He was carrying at least 278 lbs. of armour besides his own big body which could have weighed 400-600 lbs., being 13 ft. tall h Heb. mahar, to be liquid or flow easily; to hurry; act promptly; go swiftly like a charging lion. Before the slow thinking giant knew what was happening he had a stone in his forehead and was dead (v 48-49)
i Contrary to popular opinion that on his way to the giant he picked up stones from a brook, he had done this before and now simply put his hand in the bag to get one of the stones already there. Shepherds always kept stones in their bags, not waiting for an emergency to arrive before getting one. The stones were smooth and round so they would go to their mark and not sail out of course j Men of Israel were adept at slinging stones and many hundreds could throw at a hairbreadth and never miss (Judg. 20:16). David must have been among the best who used a sling, in this much practice was required, but once it was mastered it could be as deadly as a musket or bow. The Achaeans were so expert that they principally used slings in warfare, and by long practice from childhood could hit any spot aimed at k Except for his face the giant was heavily covered with armour. The Sept. reads, "the stones pierced through the helmet, into his forehead." This is entirely possible, for we have records of the ancients having thrown stones with a sling with such force as to break in pieces the shields, helmets, and even pieces of armour covering the body l The second time it says David ran (v 48, 51). Not knowing whether the giant was stunned or killed, he ran for the sword of the giant to cut off his head. Where the man was who held the shield is not stated; perhaps he was in the background since Goliath thought he could take care of this boy without such help
m This indicates that Goliath had not attempted to draw his sword, perhaps wanting to use his bare hands to tear David apart (v 51) n Being unwilling to fulfil their part of the agreement to serve Israel if their champion was defeated, they fled (v 9). This gave Israel the opportunity of routing them, so they took up the chase to the gates of Ekron and Gath (v 52)
o Shaaraim, two gates. A city in the lowland of Judah (v 52; 1 Chr. 4:31). Called Sharaim (Josh. 15:36), and Sharuhen (Josh. 19:6)

41 And the [a]Phi-lis'tine came on and drew near unto Da'vid; and the man that bare the shield went before him.

42 And when the Phi-lis'tine looked about, and saw Da'vid, he disdained him: for he was but a youth, and ruddy, and of a fair countenance.

43 And the Phi-lis'tine [b]said unto Da'vid, Am I a dog, that thou comest to me with staves? And the Phi-lis'tine cursed Da'vid by his gods.

●44 And the Phi-lis'tine said to Da'vid, Come to me, and I will give thy flesh unto the fowls of the air, and to the beasts of the field.

(10) The faith and sevenfold prophecy of David

45 Then [c]said Da'vid to the Phi-lis'tine, Thou comest to me with [d]sword, and with a shield: but I come to thee in the name of the LORD of hosts, the God of the armies of Is'ra-el, whom thou hast defied.

*46 [e]This day will the LORD deliver thee into mine hand; and I will smite thee, and take thine head from thee; and I will give the carcases of the host of the Phi-lis'tines this day unto the fowls of the air, and to the wild beasts of the earth; [f]that all the earth may know that there is a God in Is'ra-el.

47 And all this assembly shall know that the LORD saveth not with sword and spear: for the battle is the LORD's and he will give you into our hands.

(11) David's victory over Goliath, fulfilling v 46

48 And it came to pass, when the Phi-lis'tine [g]arose, and came and drew nigh to meet Da'vid, that Da'vid [h]hasted, and ran toward the army to meet the Phi-lis'tine.

49 And Da'vid [i]put his hand in his bag, and took thence a stone, and [j]slang it, and smote the Phi-lis'tine [k]in his forehead, that the stone sunk into his forehead; and he fell upon his face to the earth.

50 So Da'vid prevailed over the Phi-lis'tine with a sling and with a stone, and smote the Phi-lis'tine, and slew him; but there was no sword in the hand of Da'vid.

51 Therefore Da'vid [l]ran, and stood upon the Phi-lis'tine, and took his sword, and [m]drew it out of the sheath thereof, and slew him, and cut off his head therewith. And when the Phi-lis'tines saw their champion was dead, [n]they fled.

(12) Victory of Israel

52 And the men of Is'ra-el and of Ju'dah arose, and shouted, and pursued the Phi-lis'tines, until thou come to the valley, and to the gates of Ek'ron. And the wounded of the Phi-lis'tines fell down by the way [o]to Sha-a-ra'im, even unto Gath, and unto Ek'ron.

53 And the children of Is'ra-el returned from chasing after the Phi-lis'tines, and they [p]spoiled their tents.

54 And Da'vid took the head of the Phi-lis'tine, and brought it to [a]Je-ru'sa-lem; but [b]he put his armour in his tent.

(13) David brought to Saul

55 ¶ And when Saul saw Da'vid go forth against the Phi-lis'tine, he [c]said unto Ab'ner, the captain of the host, [d]Ab'ner, whose son is this [e]youth? And Ab'ner said, As thy soul liveth, O king, I cannot tell.

●56 And the king said, Enquire thou whose son the [f]stripling is.

57 And as Da'vid [g]returned from the slaughter of the Phi-lis'tine, Ab'ner took him, and brought him before Saul with the head of the Phi-lis'tine in his hand.

58 And Saul [h]said to him, Whose son art thou, thou young man? And Da'vid answered, I am the son of thy servant Jes'se the Beth'-le-hem-ite.

CHAPTER 18 254

VI David at Saul's court (1 Sam. 18:1-20:42). 1 Love covenant of Jonathan and David (20:1)

AND it came to pass, when he had made an end of speaking unto Saul, that [i]the soul of Jon'a-than was knit with the soul of Da'vid, and Jon'a-than loved him as his own soul.

2 And Saul [j]took him that day, and would let him go no more home to his father's house.

3 Then Jon'a-than and Da'vid made a covenant, because he loved him as his own soul.

4 And Jon'a-than stripped himself of the robe that was upon him, and gave it to Da'vid, and his garments, even to his sword, and to his bow, and to his girdle.

5 ¶ And Da'vid went out whithersoever Saul sent him, and [k]behaved himself wisely: and Saul set him over the men of war, and [l]he was accepted in the sight of all the people, and also in the sight of Saul's servants.

2 Song of David's victory

6 And it came to pass as they came, when Da'vid was returned from the slaughter of the Phi-lis'tine, [m]that the women came out of all cities of Is'ra-el, singing and dancing, to meet king Saul, with [n]tabrets, with joy, and with [o]instruments of musick.

7 And the women [p]answered one another as they played, and said, [q]Saul hath slain his thousands, and Da'vid his ten thousands.

3 Saul's 1st and 2nd of 21 attempts to slay David (1 Sam. 18:11, 17, 21-25; 19:1, 10, 11, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22; 20:24-31; 23:11-25; 24:2; 26:2)

8 And Saul was [r]very wroth, and the saying displeased him; and he said, They have ascribed unto Da'vid ten thousands, and to me they have ascribed but thousands: and a Jerusalem west of Moriah, had been taken and occupied by the tribe of Judah who still lived there. The Jebusites were yet holding Jebus or Zion, the mount immediately south of Moriah (v 54. Cp. Josh. 15:63; Judg. 1:7-8). Zion was not taken by Israel until David came to the throne (2 Sam. 5:7) b David owned the armour of Goliath by virtue of his victory over him, so he put it in his own tent. What he did with it after this is not certain. Perhaps all of it was put in care of the priests in Nob where David later got the sword of Goliath to use for himself (21:1-9) c This is definite proof that Saul had not met David other than for a brief conversation with him when he wanted to fight Goliath (v 31-39), and that the calling of David to Saul's court to play music that would ease the king of the demon spirit, as recorded in 16:14-23 must have been at a later time and certainly after the experience of slaying Goliath. Here Saul inquired of Abner regarding whose son David was; and Abner replied that he did not know (v 55). Again, after David came back from killing the giant Saul asked whose son he was (v 57-58). Such inquiry would not have been made if David had previously been at Saul's court playing music for him, and had become his armour-bearer as in 16:14-23. Once we recognize that 16:14-23 is parenthetical recording events that come in between v 9 and 10 of ch. 19, and that this was the first introduction of Saul and David, the difficulty is solved. See True chronological events, p. 328

e David is called a youth (Heb. na'ar, boy, a person from babyhood to adolescence, v 33, 42, 55; 2 Sam. 19:7), and could not be the mighty valiant man, and a man of war here. Abner would have remembered him had he been such a man and a musician as well as Saul's armour-bearer as recorded in 16:14-23 f Heb. elem, something kept out of sight, that is, a lad not grown up enough to enter public life (v 56). This further emphasizes David's youth and boyishness. See note v, v 12
g With the head of the giant in his hand David returned immediately to Saul who asked whose son he was. The inquiries of v 55-58 concern David's father. Saul perhaps wanted to know about a man who had such a son; it may be that he wanted the father in his service
h Question 75, Next, 18:8
i See David and Jonathan, p. 307
j There would have to be some understanding between Saul and Jesse before the king could take David to be with him. The meaning here is that David became a servant of Saul, going in and out with the other men of war, over whom he was exalted as captain (v 2, 5) k This is how the men recognized David, through his business ability and God being with him, as they so stated when Saul drove him away - the musician whom he needed (16:14-23)

o Heb. shalishim, meaning instrument of 3 strings. It was perhaps the ancient Egyptian musical instrument made of brass with 3 rods across it which, being loose in their holes, made a jingling noise when shaken. Or, it could refer to the triangular harp of strings which originated in Syria and was used by the Hebrews (v 6) p Responsive singing was a custom. One group likely sang, Saul has slain his thousands, and another replied, and David his ten thousands. Over 500 years before this Miriam and the women of Israel sang a responsive chorus of victory when the Egyptians were destroyed (Ex. 15:21). Such singing is supposed to have originated in Egypt. Cp. b If David continued as he had begun, Saul feared he would soon have the kingdom, so he eyed the young man from that day forward, hoping to prevent this (v 8-9) c The day after Saul's triumphant return from his victory over the Philistines and after David had killed Goliath (v 10). This marks the day that the evil spirit which was permitted of God to come upon Saul, began to manifest such jealous hatred in him that it moved him to slay David. The evil spirit not only fostered jealousy and insanity - it was also a spirit of prophecy and caused the king to prophesy

j Saul demoted David from being general over all his armies (v 5), to being captain over only 1,000 (v 13); and yet there was no complaint from the man. He went out and came in before the people as usual, behaving himself so wisely in the demotion and new responsibilities that Saul became all the more afraid of him (v 14-16)
k Failing to kill David in the two attempts, Saul now planned a new one through his eldest daughter; but before the scheme was completed, she was given to another. Saul's hope was to make David fall by the hands of the Philistines and he thought the only way to get him to be rash and go against them would be to give him Merab, his oldest daughter (v 17-19)

[a]what can [b]he have more but the kingdom?

9 And Saul eyed Dā'vid from that day and forward.

10 ¶ And it came to pass [c]on the morrow, that the evil spirit from God came upon Saul, and he [d]prophesied in the midst of the house: and Dā'vid played with his hand, [e]as at other times: and there was a javelin in Saul's hand.

11 And Saul [f]cast the javelin; for he said, [g]I will smite Dā'vid even to the wall with it. And Dā'vid avoided out of his presence twice.

4 Third of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

12 ¶ And Saul was afraid of Dā'vid, because the LORD [h]was with him, and [i]was departed from Saul.

13 Therefore Saul [j]removed him from him, and made him his captain over a thousand; and he went out and came in before the people.

14 And Dā'vid behaved himself wisely in all his ways; and the LORD was with him.

15 Wherefore when Saul saw that he behaved himself very wisely, he was afraid of him.

16 But all Iṣ'ra-el and Jū'dah loved Dā'vid, because he went out and came in before them.

17 ¶ And Saul [k]said to Dā'vid, Behold my elder daughter Mē'-răb, her will I give thee to wife: only be thou valiant for me, and fight the LORD's battles. For Saul said, Let not mine hand be upon him, but let the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes be upon him.

18 And Dā'vid [l]said unto Saul, Who am I? and what is my life, or my father's family in Iṣ'-ra-el, that I should be son in law to the king?

19 But it came to pass at the time when Mē'răb Saul's daughter should have been given to Dā'vid, that she was given unto [m]Ā'drĭ-el the [m]Mê-hŏl'-ath-ite to wife.

5 Fourth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

20 And [n]Mī'chal Saul's daughter loved Dā'vid: and they told Saul, and the thing [o]pleased him.

21 And Saul said, I will give him her, that she may be a snare to him, and that the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes may be against him. Wherefore Saul said to Dā'vid, Thou shalt this day be my son in law in the[p]one of the twain.

22 ¶ And Saul commanded his servants, saying, Commune with Dā'vid secretly, and say, Behold, the king hath delight in thee, and all his servants love thee: now therefore be the king's son in law.

23 And Saul's servants spake those words in the ears of Dā'-vid. And Dā'vid said, [q]Seemeth it to you a light thing to be a king's son in law, seeing that I am a poor man, and lightly esteemed?

24 And the servants of Saul told him, saying, On this manner spake Dā'vid.

25 And Saul said, Thus shall ye say to Dā'vid, The king desireth not any dowry, but [a]an hundred foreskins of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, to be avenged of the king's enemies. But Saul thought to make Dā'vid fall by the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

26 And when his servants told Dā'vid these words, it pleased Dā'vid well to be the king's son in law: and [b]the days were not expired.

27 Wherefore Dā'vid arose and went, he and his men, and slew of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes two hundred men; and Dā'vid brought their foreskins, and they gave them in full tale to the king, that he might be the king's son in law. And Saul gave him Mī'chal his daughter to wife.

28 ¶ And Saul saw and knew that the LORD was with Dā'vid, and that Mī'chal Saul's daughter loved him.

29 And Saul was yet the more afraid of Dā'vid; and Saul became Dā'vid's enemy continually.

30 [c]Then the princes of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes went forth: and it came to pass, after they went forth, that Dā'vid behaved himself more wisely than all the servants of Saul; so that his name was much set by.

CHAPTER 19 255

6 Fifth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.). First reconciliation of Saul and David (24:16; 26:21)

AND Saul spake to Jŏn'a-than his son, and to all his servants, that they should kill Dā'vid.

2 [d]But Jŏn'a-than Saul's son delighted much in Dā'vid: and Jŏn'a-than told Dā'vid, saying, Saul my father seeketh to kill thee: now therefore, I pray thee, take heed to thyself until the morning, and abide in a secret place, and hide thyself:

3 And I will go out and stand beside my father in the field where thou art, and I will commune with my father of thee; and what I see, that I will tell thee.

4 ¶ And Jŏn'a-than [e]spake good of Dā'vid unto Saul his father, and said unto him, Let not the king sin against his servant, against Dā'vid; because he hath not sinned against thee, and because his works have been to thee-ward very good:

5 For he did put his life in his hand, and slew the Phĭ-lĭs'tine, and the LORD wrought a great salvation for all Iṣ'ra-el: thou sawest it, and didst rejoice: [f]wherefore then wilt thou sin against innocent blood, to slay Dā'vid without a cause?

6 And [g]Saul hearkened unto the voice of Jŏn'a-than: and Saul sware, As the LORD liveth, he shall not be slain.

7 And Jŏn'a-than [h]called Dā'-vid, and Jŏn'a-than shewed him all those things. And Jŏn'-a-than brought Dāvid to Saul, and he was in his presence, as in times past.

a This would mean the death of 100 Philistines. Saul was thinking that David would get killed through making a raid to kill this many men (v 25)
b The day when he was to receive Merab, or one of the twain as promised (v 17, 21, 26). David was so rapid in his attack that he not only brought 100 foreskins of the Philistines, but 200 of them; and thus Michal was given to him (v 27). Saul was so astonished at the failure of this plan to kill David that he became still more afraid of David, and plotted some further means to get rid of him (v 28-29) c The Philistines gathered together to make war on Israel, probably to avenge themselves for David's killing of 200 countrymen. Of this war we know nothing more than that David was more skilful and successful than all others. He is described here as behaving himself more wisely than all the servants of Saul, so that his name was much talked about (v 30). Thus Saul's 3rd and 4th attempt to kill David ended in failure. This did not stop him from proceeding with his diabolic scheme though, for immediately he plotted to kill him by having Jonathan and all the servants alerted to do away with him at the first opportunity (19:1) d Saul spoke to Jonathan about killing David, but he was not the kind to break a covenant or kill without a cause (v 1). He revealed to David that his father was still determined to kill and advised hiding himself until he would plead with his father to spare him; he would then tell David of the outcome (v 2-3)
e 8fold plea of Jonathan for David:
1 Spoke good of David unto Saul, his father (v 4)
2 He said: Let not the king sin against his servant David
3 David has not sinned against you
4 His works have always been to you-ward very good
5 He took his life in his own hands and slew the giant (v 5)
6 The Lord wrought a great victory and salvation in Israel, through him
7 You, yourself saw it and rejoiced
8 Why then will you sin against innocent blood, to slay without a cause?
This is one of the most appealing pleas for righteousness, from a son to a father on record. It struck right at the root of the matter and covered every general principle involved between the two men. It cleared David of any wrong-doing and indicted Saul of extreme selfishness and jealousy, before God and man. It made clear the injustice regarding an innocent, blameless, faithful man to the king and nation. It showed what a godly man will do for God and his country, being an example for all to follow. It was a most touching defense of a friend, a man of God, and a true patriot who had risked his life for the good of his people and saved them in a desperate crisis
g Saul hearkened to his son after such an appeal, proving that there was a little spark of manhood left in him, and that he was not completely in the hands of the devil. He promised Jonathan that David would not be slain (v 6) h Jonathan, according to previous arrangements with David (v 2-3), called him from hiding and gave him the good tidings of his father's changed attitude. He brought David to Saul and he was in the king's presence as in times past (v 7)

b The 7th mention of the evil spirit from God coming upon Saul (16:13-23; 18: 10; 19: 9)
c Why Saul sat around with a javelin in his hand is not explainable except it was for the purpose of slaying David and he was waiting for an opportune time (v 9; 18:10-11)
d 3 times it is said that David played with his hand for Saul (v 9; 16:23; 18:10) e The 3rd time Saul sought to kill David with the javelin (v 10; 18:10-11). Once he sought to slay Jonathan with the same weapon because of his love for David (20:32-33). It was before this event in v 10 that the happenings of 16:14-23 took place (note j, 16:14). According to an Asiatic custom, when a dart was thus thrown at a servant and he escaped it by flight, he was thereby absolved from all allegiance to his master. Thus, Saul had given David his freedom on more than one occasion; and any acts of war against Saul after this could not have been considered rebellion against him. Without any charge of being a rebel or an outlaw, David could have killed Saul; but he did not seek to destroy his enemy, even when God gave him into his hand two times (chs. 24 and 26)
f This was the last time David played for Saul or was in the presence of the king as a servant (v 10)
g Saul had made 6 attempts to kill David, 3 times by javelin, and had failed; so now he sent soldiers after him to slay him when he came out of his home in the morning (v 11). Michal, his wife and the daughter of Saul, knew of the plot so enabled him to escape through a window in the night (v 12). Taking an image and placing it in his bed, she reported that he was sick (v 13-14). Saul was so determined to slay David that he sent men to bring him back in bed so he could be slain even though sick (v 15-16)

7 Sixth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

8 ¶ And there was[a] war again: and Dā'vid went out, and fought with the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, and slew them with a great slaughter; and they fled from him.

9 And the[b] evil spirit from the LORD was upon Saul, as he sat in his house[c] with his javelin in his hand: and Dā'vid[d] played with his hand.

10 And Saul[e] sought to smite Dā'vid even to the wall with the javelin; but[f] he slipped away out of Saul's presence, and he smote the javelin into the wall: and Dā'vid fled, and escaped that night.

8 Seventh of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

11 Saul also[g] sent messengers unto Dā'vid's house, to watch him, and to slay him in the morning: and Mĭ'chal Dā'vid's wife told him, saying, If thou save not thy life to night, to morrow thou shalt be slain.

12 ¶ So Mĭ'chal let Dā'vid down[h] through a window: and he went, and fled, and escaped.

13 And Mĭ'chal took an[i] image, and laid it in the bed, and[j] put a pillow of goats' hair for his[k] bolster, and covered it with a cloth.

14 And when Saul sent messengers to take Dā'vid, [l] she said, He is sick.

9 Eighth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

15 And Saul sent the messengers again to see Dā'vid, saying, [m] Bring him up to me in the bed, that I may slay him.

16 And when the messengers were come in, behold, there was an image in the bed, with a pillow of goats' hair for his bolster.

10 Ninth, tenth, and eleventh of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

17 And Saul said unto Mĭ'chal, [n] Why hast thou deceived me so, and sent away mine enemy, that he is escaped? And Mĭ'chal answered Saul, He said unto me, [o] Let me go; why should I kill thee?

18 ¶ So Dā'vid[p] fled, and escaped, and[q] came to Săm'u-el to Rā'mah, and told him all that Saul had done to him. And he and Săm'u-el went and dwelt in[r] Nā'ioth.

19 And it was told Saul, saying, Behold, Dā'vid is at Nā'ioth in Rā'mah.

20 And Saul[s] sent messengers to take Dā'vid: and when they saw the company of the prophets prophesying, and Săm'u-el standing as appointed over them, the Spirit of God was upon the messengers of Saul, and they also prophesied.

21 And when it was told Saul, he sent other messengers, and they prophesied likewise. And Saul sent messengers again the third time, and they prophesied also.

11 Twelfth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

22 Then went he also to Rā'mah, and came to a great well that is in Sĕ'chu: and he asked and said, [t] Where are Săm'u-el and Dā'vid? And one said, Behold, they be at Nā'ioth in Rā'mah.

23 And he went thither to Nā'ioth in Rā'mah: and the[b] Spirit of God was upon him also, and he went on, and[c] prophesied, until he came to Nā'ioth in Rā'mah.

24 And he[d] stripped off his clothes also, and prophesied before Săm'u-el in like manner, and[e] lay down naked all that day and all that night. Wherefore they say, [f] Is Saul also among the prophets?

CHAPTER 20 256

12 New love covenant of Jonathan and David (18:1-5)

AND Dā'vid[g] fled from Nā'ioth in Rā'mah, and came and[h] said before Jŏn'a-than, [i] What have I done? what is my iniquity? and what is my sin before thy father, that he seeketh my life?

●2 And he said unto him, [j] God forbid; thou shalt not die: behold, my father will do nothing either great or small, but that he will shew it me: and why should my father hide this thing from me? it is not so.

3 And Dā'vid[k] sware moreover, and said, Thy father certainly knoweth that I have found grace in thine eyes; and he saith, Let not Jŏn'a-than know this, lest he be grieved: but truly as the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth there is but a step between me and death.

4 Then said Jŏn'a-than unto Dā'vid, [l] Whatsoever thy soul desireth, I will even do it for thee.

5 And Dā'vid said unto Jŏn'a-than, [m] Behold, to morrow is the new moon, and I should not fail to sit with the king at meat: but let me go, that I may hide myself in the field unto [n] the third day at even.

6 If thy father at all miss me, then say, Dā'vid earnestly asked leave of me that he might run to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm his city: for there is a [o] yearly sacrifice there for all the family.

7 If he say thus, It is well; thy servant shall have peace: [p] but if he be very wroth, then be sure that evil is determined by him.

8 Therefore thou shalt deal kindly with thy servant; for thou hast brought thy servant into a [q] covenant of the LORD with thee: notwithstanding, [r] if there be in me iniquity, slay me thyself; [s] for why shouldest thou bring me to thy father?

9 And Jŏn'a-than said, Far be it from thee: [t] for if I knew certainly that evil were determined by my father to come upon thee, then would not I tell it thee?

10 Then said Dā'vid to Jŏn'a-than, Who shall tell me? or what if thy father answer thee roughly?

a Question 83, Next, v 24
b The Holy Spirit, to save David, came upon Saul for the moment and then departed again never to return, for God would not answer him by any means (28:1-5; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)
c He prophesied while going from the well of Sechu to Naioth (v 22-23) d This means that he stripped off his armour and kingly robes, and was under the influence of the Spirit for a whole day and night. A person was considered naked when he laid aside his outer garments, leaving nothing on but his tunic and girdle. David was thus naked (2 Sam. 6:14, 20). Isaiah walked naked by simply removing his mantle (Isa. 20: 2), and in the same sense others were naked - the young man of Lk. 15:51-52, and Peter as in Jn. 21:7, Cp. Amos 2:16
e See Religious emotionalism, p. 152
f Question 84, Next, 20:1
g In the experience of 19:18 David fled from his home, from Saul to Ramah. Here he fled from Ramah to Jonathan, his friend with whom he had an eternal covenant relating to their families when David would become king (v 1). He inquired of Jonathan what his sin was that made it necessary for him to flee from Saul constantly. Jonathan could not believe his father was so intent upon killing David, but agreed upon a plan whereby the two men could determine what the king's plans were in the matter (v 4-7)
h Questions 85-88, Next, v 8
i 3 questions of David (v 1):
1 What have I done?
2 What is my iniquity?
3 What is my sin before your father, that he seeks my life?
j 3fold answer of Jonathan (v 2):
1 God forbid. You will not die
2 My father will do nothing either great or small without telling me. Jonathan had the oath of his father that David would not be slain (19:6), but he did not know how deep the depravity of such a backslider could be - one forsaken by God and under the power of demons
3 Why should my father hide this thing from me? It is not so k David declared it was so that Saul intended to kill him, but he was keeping it a secret from Jonathan because of the love and friendship of the two - Jonathan and David (v 3). There was proof, David thought, because of 12 attempts to kill him being made up to that time - 3 times by throwing a javelin at him (18:11; 19:10), 2 times by making marriage arrangements with a plan for the Philistines to kill him (18:17-30), 6 times by sending soldiers after him, and once by Saul going after him in Ramah (19:1, 11-24). Was this not enough proof that he was sentenced to die?
l Jonathan agreed to do anything that would be necessary to find out the truth, and then inform David (v 4-42)
m David, knowing the custom, realized that Saul would expect him at the feast of the new moon, one of the monthly feasts of Israel (note g, Num. 28:11); so, he proposed a plan which would make it possible for Jonathan to find out the truth regarding his father's attitude and determination (v 5-7). Jonathan was then to inform David so he could continue the life of one cast out from his inheritance, if necessary (v 8-42)
n The new-moon feast evidently lasted for 2 or 3 days, after which Jonathan could be free to take care of the business of protecting David (v 5, 25-27)
o No doubt there was a yearly sacrifice among David's family during this monthly new-moon feast, so this was a good excuse for being absent from Saul's court (v 6) p This proved to be a sure test. He was wroth enough to attempt to slay even his own son because he had given David permission to be away (v 7, 25-31)
q See 18:1-5. This was renewed (v 16-17)
r David was ready to die at the hands of Jonathan if he was worthy of death, but he did not want to die at the hands of an enemy, and for no just cause (v 8)
s Question 89-92, Next, v 27
t Jonathan vowed to tell David the truth - not to deceive him, if evil was determined against him (v 9-23)

a They did this so as to be alone and agree on a place for their next meeting (v 11, 19-24, 35-42)
b Jonathan was so true to David, so open and honest, that he called Jehovah to witness his vow about telling the truth as he learned it from Saul (v 12-15) c God was with Saul at one time, but had now departed from him since his backsliding and sin (note 1, 16:14); so Jonathan could only refer to it as a past experience (v 13)
d Jonathan here referred to the time David would become king and have power to cut him and his family off, if he so desired; so, in return for sparing the life of David by saving him from Saul, Jonathan asked him to make a vow to show kindness to his house forever (v 14-16). David was ever mindful of this after he did become king. He kept Jonathan's son the rest of his life and showed kindness to all the house of Saul. Even in insults from his house, David showed mercy and kindness (2 Sam. 4:1-12; 16:1-14; 19:15-30)
e See v 41; 18:1
f The months of the Hebrews were lunar months, being reckoned from new moons. They offered sacrifices on days of the new moons, and had a feast (note g, Num. 28:11). The feasts were based upon these, especially the passover, so they were very strict in observing the new moons. Not only did the king feast on such days, but no doubt every family offered some kind of sacrifice and feasted together. This would be a family reunion day, but the gathering together as a whole tribe was only once a year, and to this David was referring, in v 6, 29
g Certain seats were reserved for certain ones at all feasts of court (v 18)
h The day when Jonathan was to report to David what he had learned from Saul (v 7-12)
i Ezel, departure. Only here (v 19)
j The sign between them was that Jonathan would shoot 3 arrows on the side of the rock Ezel. If he told the lad the arrows were on this side of the rock it would mean that David could come home as no harm was intended; but if he said beyond the rock, then David was to go his way, for Saul intended to kill him as soon as he returned (v 20-22). Evidently there was a hiding place or cave in the rock Ezel where David could stay until it was known what was determined toward him k The matter of the covenant between them forever (v 14-17; 18:1-6; 23:16-18)
l On his seat by the table where it seems that only 4 people were served - Saul, Jonathan, Abner, and David. Naturally, David's absence was known but the first day Saul concluded that he might be unclean and not ceremonially fit for the feast; so he held his peace (v 24-26). On the morrow he spoke of his absence and Jonathan learned what he was to report to David (v 27-34)

10 acts of the witch of Endor (28:21)

1 Informed Saul of his own acts and accused him of plotting against her life (v 9)
2 Inquired of him whom he wanted brought up (v 11)
3 Claimed she saw Samuel and then protested to Saul of his deception (v 12)
4 Claimed to see gods coming out of the earth (v 13)
5 Told Saul that what she saw was an old man covered with a mantle (v 14)
6 Relayed a message from the familiar spirit to Saul as if Samuel were actually speaking personally to him (v 15-19)
7 Came to Saul with a 2fold message:
(1) I put my life into your hands and have obeyed you (v 21)
(2) Hear me, it is wise of you to take nourishment to receive strength for what faces you when you leave (v 22)
8 Together with his servants, persuaded him to eat food (v 23)

10 Set the meal before him (v 25)

Dā'vid, Come, and let us go out into the field. And they went out both of them [m]into the field.

12 And Jŏn'a-than said unto Dā'vid, [b]O LORD God of Iş'ra-el, when I have sounded my father about to morrow any time, or the third day, and, behold, if there be good toward Dā'vid, and I then send not unto thee, and shew it thee;

13 The LORD do so and much more to Jŏn'a-than: but if it please my father to do thee evil, then I will shew it thee, and send thee away, that thou mayest go in peace: and the LORD be with thee, as he [c]hath been with my father.

14 And thou shalt not only while yet I live shew me the kindness of the LORD, [d]that I die not:

15 But also thou shalt not cut off thy kindness from my house for ever: no, not when the LORD hath cut off the enemies of Dā'vid every one from the face of the earth.

16 So Jŏn'a-than made a covenant with the house of Dā'vid, saying, Let the LORD even require it at the hand of Dā'vid's enemies.

17 And Jŏn'a-than caused Dā'vid to swear again, because he loved him: [e]for he loved him as he loved his own soul.

18 Then Jŏn'a-than said to Dā'vid, To morrow is the [f]new moon: and thou shalt be missed, because [g]thy seat will be empty.

19 And when thou hast stayed three days, then thou shalt go down quickly, and come to the place where thou didst hide thyself [h]when the business was in hand, and shalt remain by the stone [i]Ē'zĕl.

20 And [j]I will shoot three arrows on the side thereof, as though I shot at a mark.

21 And, behold, I will send a lad, saying, Go, find out the arrows. If I expressly say unto the lad, Behold, the arrows are on this side of thee, take them; then come thou: for there is peace to thee, and no hurt; as the LORD liveth.

22 But if I say thus unto the young man, Behold, the arrows are beyond thee; go thy way: for the LORD hath sent thee away.

23 And as touching [k]the matter which thou and I have spoken of, behold, the LORD be between thee and me for ever.

13 Thirteenth, fourteenth, and fifteenth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

24 ¶ So Dā'vid hid himself in the field: and when the new moon was come, the king sat him down to eat meat.

25 And the king [l]sat upon his seat, as at other times, even upon a seat by the wall: and Jŏn'a-than arose, and Ăb'nĕr sat by Saul's side, and Dā'vid's place was empty.

26 Nevertheless Saul spake not any thing that day: for he thought, Something hath befallen him, he is not clean; surely he is not clean.

27 And it came to pass on the morrow, which was [m]the second day of the month, that Dā'vid's place was empty: and Saul said unto Jŏn'a-than his son, [n]Wherefore cometh not the son of Jĕs'se to meat, neither yesterday, nor to day?

28 And Jŏn'a-than answered Saul, Dā'vid earnestly asked leave of me to go to Bĕth'-lĕ-hĕm:

29 And he said, Let me go, I pray thee; for our family hath a sacrifice in the city; and my brother, he hath commanded me to be there: and now, if I have found favour in thine eyes, let me get away, I pray thee, and see my brethren. Therefore he cometh not unto the king's table.

30 [c]Then Saul's anger was kindled against Jŏn'a-than, and he [o]said unto him, [c]Thou son of the perverse rebellious woman, do not [p]I know that thou hast chosen the son of Jĕs'se to thine own confusion, and unto the confusion of thy mother's nakedness?

31 For [q]as long as the son of Jĕs'se liveth upon the ground, thou shalt not be established, nor thy kingdom. [h]Wherefore now send and fetch him unto me, for he shall surely die.

32 And Jŏn'a-than answered Saul his father, and said unto him, [i]Wherefore shall he be slain? what hath he done?

33 And Saul cast a javelin at him to smite him: whereby Jŏn'a-than [j]knew that it was determined of his father to slay Dā'vid.

34 So Jŏn'a-than arose from the table [k]in fierce anger, and did eat no meat the second day of the month: for he was grieved for Dā'vid, because his father had done him shame.

14 Parting of Jonathan and David (23:17-18; 18:1)

35 ¶ And it came to pass [l]in the morning, that Jŏn'a-than went out into the field [m]at the time appointed with Dā'vid, and a little lad with him.

36 And he said unto his lad, Run, find out now the arrows which I shoot. And as the lad ran, he shot an arrow beyond him.

37 And when the lad was come to the place of the arrow which Jŏn'a-than had shot, Jŏn'a-than cried after the lad, and said, [p]Is not the arrow beyond thee?

38 And Jŏn'a-than cried after the lad, Make speed, haste, stay not. And Jŏn'a-than's lad gathered up the arrows, and came to his master.

39 But the lad knew not any thing: only Jŏn'a-than and Dā'vid knew the matter.

*40 And Jŏn'a-than gave [o]his artillery unto his lad, and said unto him, Go, carry them to the city.

41 ¶ And as soon as the lad was gone, Dā'vid arose out of a place toward the [p]south, [q]and fell on his face to the ground, and bowed himself three times: and they kissed one another, and wept one with another, a The 2nd day Saul could not hold his peace when he saw David's place empty. He asked Jonathan about him as if he should know where he was (v 27). Jonathan answered that he had permitted David to attend a feast at home (v 28-29). This could have been and no doubt was literally true. His brother could have demanded that he attend the family gathering that year. David had 3 days to go home to such a feast, as he was not to meet Jonathan until the 3rd day. It does not say that he hid in the field the whole 3 days; it only indicates that he was to be in hiding on the 3rd day when it was time for them to meet

b Question 93, Next, v 30
c When Saul heard that his son had given David leave to depart, his anger was greatly kindled against him, and this was evidence that it was burning hotter against David, with intentions of killing him (v 30)
d Question 94, Next, v 32
e This was a favorite oriental mode of abuse. An indignity spoken about a man's mother was greater than if spoken against himself (v 30) f Because of Jonathan's friendship with David, Saul had kept his intentions secret. He planned to kill David suddenly, without anyone knowing of it g Saul wanted his kingdom to pass on to Jonathan; he rebelled against the fact that God had already predicted the downfall of his line as kings in Israel (v 31; 13:13-14)
h David's best friend was here given command to go get him so that he could be executed (v 31). Jonathan demanded to know what he had done that merited death (v 32). This so angered Saul - that his own son would not co-operate with him to hold the kingdom for himself, that the king sought to slay him with a javelin, as he had attempted to slay David on 3 previous occasions (v 33, Cp. 19:10)
i Questions 95-96, Next, v 37
j Jonathan knew the truth now, though he had declared his father could not and would not do such a thing in view of his vow not to (19:6; 20:2). Evidently, Saul was insane at times, as here; and the demon that possessed him made him determined to kill the best man in all his kingdom (v 33)
k Jonathan was finally convinced, though greatly ashamed of his father for plotting the life of an innocent man who had saved his own life as well as that of many thousands in Israel. It was hard to realize that his own father, who was at one time a new man with a change of heart, one filled with the Holy Spirit, godly and consecrated, small in his own eyes, and used of God to prophesy and bring victories to Israel, was now in such a depraved, backslidden, ungodly state. Jonathan could eat no more of the feast, and spent the time in fasting, prayer and genuine grief for David, because his father had brought such shame upon him (v 34)
l This was the morning of the 3rd day, the day they were to meet in the field (v 35). David, who was evidently back from his father's feast, ready for any event of the 3rd day, was to remain in the field until evening (v 5) m They perhaps had agreed on a definite time of day to meet, but in the event something went wrong David was to wait until evening (v 5, 35) n Question 97, Next, 21:1. This was the sign that David must flee and go from Saul's court to whatever place he might be led of Jehovah (v 22, 36-37)
o Heb, keliy, trans, artillery only here. See note j, 10:22. It refers to his bow, quiver, and arrows used in practice p His hiding place on the south side of the rock Ezel (v 19, 41)
q Bowing down and falling on the face to the ground was a token of homage to a king or prince. After David did this, the 2 men forgot rank in the full flow of the purest brotherly love and affection. They kissed each other and wept, knowing that this was perhaps the end of what could be the most wonderful years of close friendship and mutual interests for the protection of Israel, their beloved nation (v 41)

a See David's distress, p. 329

b The interview being a dangerous one and every stolen moment precious, it was only a gesture of love and kindness on the part of Jonathan to hasten his friend's departure to wherever Jehovah would lead him (v 42)

c 3fold sum of their covenant (v 42):
1 Made the solemn contract between them in the name of Jehovah, the covenant-keeping God of Israel. See Jehovah in Index
2 Jehovah and His all-wise providence to watch between them
3 Jehovah and His providence to watch between their seed eternally

d They parted, never to be as they would have been, had Saul been a normal person. They were never to see each other again, except for one brief meeting before Jonathan would die in battle (23:16-18; 31:1-13)

e David, as his custom was, fled first to God's prophets and priests for guidance and advice, not knowing the sufferings he would cause the family of priests by his visit (v 1-9; 19:18-24; 22:9-10)

f Ahimelech, brother of the king, 3 Ahimelech's 1 The 10th high priest in Aaron's line. Saul killed him and all his house for assisting David (22:9-23; 23:6; 30:7). See 86 high priests, p. 236
2 A Hittite officer of David (26:6)
3 Son of Abiathar (2 Sam. 8:17; 1 Chr. 18:16; 24:6, 31)

g Priests were not accustomed to having kings, princes, and high officials of government coming to them, so when it happened it made them fear and tremble. This shows how divorced from each other the rulers and religion were during the reign of the backslider-Saul. It had been years since he had called on the priests to make inquiry of God. The last time was during the first of 7 Philistine wars (14:36-45). Even Samuel had turned from Saul and would not give him any more advice (15:35)

h Question 98, Next, v 3

i Ahimelech knew nothing of the differences between Saul and David, and considering him to be faithful and the king's son-in-law, he wondered why he was travelling alone (v 1). It seems here that David had left the men of v 4-5 elsewhere for the time being j What David said to Ahimelech (in v 2) was untrue and unexcusable; he certainly was not under the inspiration of the Holy Spirit when he made these statements. He was no doubt laboring in fear of Doeg, the Edomite, who was there and would take a report of his whereabouts back to Saul; so, David sought to avoid any delay in flight with such an answer (v 2; 23:6-23)

3fold lie of David (v 2):
1 The king has commanded me a business
2 He told me to let no man know anything of the business on which he sent me
3 He has appointed his servants to such and such a place

k Question 99, Next, v 8 (v 4)

l Common bread was unhallowed bread

m Perhaps David left his companions nearby while he went to get bread and weapons (v 4); and for that reason he seemed to be entirely alone as in v 1. His men could have been hidden in caves to avoid pursuit by enemies. That there were men with David at this time is clear from Mt. 12:3-4 n From this we gather that the priests who ate of the hallowed bread were to live separated from their wives during the time of such feasts (v 4. Cp. Ex. 19:15)

o In David's case he had not been with his wife since his flight from home to go to Samuel (19:11-17). The others with him were also blameless from this standpoint, and therefore free to eat of such bread

p Wallets and other articles that might need ceremonial cleansing (Ex. 19:10; Lev. 13:58; Dt. 22:5)

q Meaning: Though giving the hallowed bread to me and my men might be treating it as common, there is fresh showbread baked and put on the table in the place of what you give us (v 5)

r It seems the high priest consulted God about the matter and found he was permitted to do this (22:10). Christ recognized that it was not sinful in David's until Dā'vid [q]exceeded.

42 And Jŏn'a-than said to Dā'vid, [b]Go in peace, forasmuch as we have [c]sworn both of us in the name of the LORD, saying, The LORD be between me and thee, and between my seed and thy seed for ever. And [d]he arose and departed: and Jŏn'a-than went into the city.

CHAPTER 21 257

VII David's adventures and wanderings (1 Sam. 21:1-30:31). 1 Flight to Nob

THEN came Dā'vid to Nŏb [e]to Ā-hĭm'e-lĕch the priest: and [f]Ā-hĭm'e-lĕch [g]was afraid at the meeting of Dā'vid, and said unto him, [h]Why art thou [i]alone, and no man with thee?

2 David deceives the priest

2 And Dā'vid said unto Ā-hĭm'e-lĕch the priest, [j]The king hath commanded me a business, and hath said unto me, Let no man know any thing of the business whereabout I send thee, and what I have commanded thee: and I have appointed my servants to such and such a place.

3 [k]Now therefore what is under thine hand? give me five loaves of bread in mine hand, or what there is present.

4 And the priest answered Dā'vid, and said, There is [l]no common bread under mine hand, but there is hallowed bread; [m]if the young men have kept themselves [n]at least from women.

5 And Dā'vid answered the priest, and said unto him, [o]Of a truth women have been kept from us about these three days, since I came out, and [p]the vessels of the young men are holy, and [q]the bread is in a manner common, yea, though it were sanctified this day in the vessel.

3 David eats showbread (Matt. 12:2-6)

6 [r]So the priest gave him hallowed bread: for there was no bread there but the shewbread, that was taken from before the LORD, to put hot bread in the day when it was taken away.

4 David's flight endangers lives of priests (22:7-23)

7 Now a certain man of the servants of Saul was there that day, detained before the LORD; and his name was [s]Dō'eg, an E'dom-ite, the chiefest of the herdmen that belonged to Saul.

5 David takes Goliath's sword

8 ¶ And Dā'vid said unto Ā-hĭm'e-lĕch, [t]And is there not here under thine hand spear or sword? for I have neither brought my sword nor my weapons with me, [u]because the king's business required haste.

9 And the priest said, The sword of Gō-lī'ath the Phĭ-lĭs'-tine, whom thou slewest in the valley of E'lah, behold, it is here wrapped [v]in a cloth behind the ephod: if thou wilt take that, take it: for there is no other save that here. And Dā'vid said, There is [w]none like that; give it me.

6 David flees to Gath and feigns madness to escape death (27:1)

10 ¶ And Dā'vid arose, and fled that day for fear of Saul, and [x]went to [y]Ā'chish the king of Gāth.

11 And the servants of Ā'chish said unto him, [z]Is not this Dā'vid the king of the land? did they not sing one to another of him in dances, saying, [a]Saul hath slain his thousands, and Dā'vid his ten thousands?

12 And Dā'vid laid up these words in his heart, and [b]was sore afraid of Ā'chish the king of Gāth.

13 And he changed his behaviour before them, and feigned himself mad in their hands, and scrabbled on the doors of the gate, and let his spittle fall down upon his beard.

14 Then said Ā'chish unto his servants, Lo, ye see [c]the man is mad: [d]wherefore then have ye brought him to me?

15 Have I need of mad men, that ye have brought this fellow to play the mad man in my presence? shall this fellow come into my house?

CHAPTER 22 258

7 David gathers his mighty men (2 Sam. 23:8-13)

DA'VID therefore departed thence, and escaped to the [e]cave Ā-dŭl'lăm: and when his brethren and all his father's house heard it, they [f]went down thither to him.

2 And every one that was in distress, and every one that was in debt, and every one that was discontented, gathered themselves unto him; and he became a captain over them: and there were with him [g]about four hundred men.

8 David leaves parents in Moab

3 ¶ And Dā'vid [h]went thence to Mĭz'peh of Mō'ab: and he said unto the king of Mō'ab, Let my father and my mother, I pray thee, come forth, and be with you, till I know what God will do for me.

4 And [i]he brought them before the king of Mō'ab: and they dwelt with him all the while that Dā'vid was in the hold.

9 God protects David by the prophet Gad

5 ¶ And the prophet [j]Gād said unto Dā'vid, Abide not in [k]the hold; depart, and get thee into the land of Jū'dah. Then Dā'vid departed, and came into [l]the forest of Hā'reth.

10 Saul's plea for David's life

6 ¶ When Saul [m]heard that Dā'vid was discovered, and the a It was customary to wrap all valuable or sacred articles in cloths. Sacred books were wrapped in silk and costly velvet. Money was sometimes put away in similar manner (Lk. 19:20). The sword of Goliath was wrapped because it stood as a symbol of a mighty victory in Israel (v 9)

b It was no doubt true that there was none like it from several standpoints - weight, design, and workmanship (v 9)

c Why David would go to the Philistines in his flight from Saul is hard to understand, after having fought with them several times, unless it was that he thought they would be glad to have such a mighty warrior on their side (v 10)

d Achish, serpent charmer. 2 Achish's 1 King of Gath with whom David took refuge (v 10-15; 27:2-12; 28:1-2; 29:2-9)

l These 400 men of David, and later the 600 (23:13) were composed of some of the most mighty in all Israel - men that would be equal to Saul and his men anytime, especially with the help of God who would be with David in any crisis because of his being chosen to be king and the one through whom the Messiah should come (Gen. 49:10; 1 Chr. 5:2; 28:4; Mic. 5:2; Mt. 1:1-17; Lk. 3:23-38)

q It had been some time since David had fled the court of Saul. Now, when he heard where David was he plead with his servants of Benjamin to help him kill David, accusing them of rebellion since none had helped him in his vengeance on the man (v 6-8). t Question 100, Next, v 11

u Why he did not bring his sword and other weapons from home, or get some from Jonathan, is not clear (v 8). The true king's business for Saul, himself was to kill David as soon as possible; this caused David's business to require haste, that of making his flight from Saul men that were with him, (now Saul abode in[a]Gib'-e-ah under a tree in Ra'mah, having his spear in his hand, and all his servants were standing about him;)

●7 Then Saul[b]said unto his servants that stood about him, Hear [c]now, ye Ben'ja-mites; will the son of Jes'se give every one of you fields and vineyards, and make you all captains of thousands, and captains of hundreds;

8 That [d]all of you have conspired against me, and [f]there is none that sheweth me [g]that my son hath made a league with the son of Jes'se, and there is none of you that is sorry for me, or sheweth unto me that my son hath stirred up my servant against me, to lie in wait, as at this day?

11 First betrayal of David (1 Sam. 21:7; 22:9; 23:19; 26:1)

9 ¶ Then answered Do'eg the E'dom-ite, which was set over the servants of Saul, and [h]said, I saw the son of Jes'se coming to Nob, to A-hi'me-lech the son of A-hi'tub.

10 And [i]he enquired of the LORD for him, and gave him victuals, and gave him the sword of Go-li'ath the Phi-lis'-tine.

13 And Saul [k]said [l]unto him, Why have ye [m]conspired against me, thou and the son of Jes'se, in that thou hast given him bread, and a sword, and hast enquired of God for him, that he should rise against me, to lie in wait, as at this day?

14 Then A-hi'me-lech [n]answered the king, and said, And who is so faithful among all thy servants as Da'vid, which is the king's son in law, and goeth at thy bidding, and is honourable in thine house?

15 Did I then begin to enquire of God for him? be it far from me: let not the king impute any thing unto his servant, nor to all the house of my father: for thy servant knew nothing of all this, less or more.

16 And the king said, [o]Thou shalt surely die, A-hi'me-lech, thou, and all thy father's house.

●17 ¶ And the king said unto the footmen that stood about him, Turn, and slay the priests of the LORD; [p]because their hand also is with Da'vid, and because they knew when he fled, and did not shew it to me. But the servants of the king would [q]not put forth their hand to fall upon the priests of the LORD.

●18 And the king said to [r]Do'eg, Turn thou, and fall upon the priests. And Do'eg the E'dom-ite turned, and he fell upon the priests, and slew on that day fourscore and five persons that did wear a linen ephod.

14 David's victory at Keilah

THEN they told Da'vid, saying, Behold, the Phi-lis'-tines fight against Ke'i'lah, and they [w]rob the threshingfloors.

▮2 Therefore Da'vid [x]enquired of the LORD, saying, [y]Shall I go and smite these Phi-lis'tines? And the LORD said unto Da'vid, Go and smite the Phi-lis'tines, and save Ke'i'lah.

3 And Da'vid's men said unto him, Behold, we be afraid here in Ju'dah: [z]how much more then if we come to Ke'i'lah against the armies of the Phi-lis'tines?

▮4 Then Da'vid enquired of the LORD yet again. And the LORD answered him, and said, Arise, go down to Ke'i'lah; for I will deliver the Phi-lis'tines into thine hand.

▸5 So Da'vid and his men went to Ke'i'lah, and fought with the Phi-lis'tines, and brought away their cattle, and smote them with a great slaughter. So Da'vid saved the inhabitants of Ke'i'lah.

15 Sixteenth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

6 And it came to pass, when A-bi'a-thar the son of A-hi'me-lech fled to Da'vid to Ke'i'lah, that he came down with an ephod in his hand.

7 ¶ And it was told Saul that Da'vid was come to Ke'i'lah. And Saul said, God hath delivered him into mine hand; for he is shut in, by entering into a town that hath gates and bars.

8 And Saul called all the people together to war, [a]to go down to [b]Ke'i'lah, to besiege Da'vid and his men.

16 Saul's plot discovered

9 ¶ And Da'vid [c]knew that Saul secretly practised mischief against him; and he said to a Gibeah, hill, was evidently the capital of Israel during the reign of Saul. It was first allotted to Judah (Josh. 15:57), but given to Benjamin in the further division of the land (Judg. 19:12-16; 20:4-43). It was the home of Saul before becoming king which likely caused him to desire it as his capital (10:26; 11:4; 13:2, 15-16; 14:2-5, 16; 15:34; 22:6; 23:19; 26:1; 2 Sam. 6:3-4; 21:6; 23:29; 1 Chr. 11:31; 2 Chr. 13:2; Isa. 10:29; Hos. 5:8; 9:9; 10:9). Called Gibeath (Josh. 18:28). It was only about 4 miles north of Jerusalem. One of the most wicked cities in all Israel, it was destroyed because of sex perversion (Judg. 19:1-20:48). Cp. Hos. 9:9; 10:9

b Saul was obsessed with the idea of murdering David. It was all he could think and talk about. 12 whole chapters of 22 in 1 Samuel which record the life of Saul, are devoted mainly to stories relating to this one thing. Jealousy, hatred, murder, insults, lying, and other major sins were a part of Saul's life because of this one obsession. He now spoke his mind and accused all his servants of conspiring against him in the matter of David (v 7-8) c Question 106, Next, v 13. This question, containing 88 words, is one of the longest in Scripture

d He kept the idea of David becoming king fresh in the minds of his subjects; and played the age-long game of politics, appealing to the people from the standpoint of benefits received under him. What could they expect under David which they were not receiving now? (v 7)

e This was not literally true, but almost so; for how could sane men go along with a seemingly insane king who was out of God's will and determined to destroy the best man and the anointed future king of Israel? Men did not want to offend their king for fear of death, but neither did they want to commit sin against an innocent man who had saved their nation from military defeat thus sparing many of their lives, as well as the lives of their women and children

f Saul was whining like a spoiled child, seeking sympathy for his cause (v8)

g 3 accusations against his servants (v 8):
1 None of you have told me about the covenant between David and Jonathan
2 None of you are sorry for me
3 None of you have told me that Jonathan has stirred up David against me, to lie in wait to kill me, as at this day

h Doeg betrayed David and exposed the lives of 85 priests and a whole city to destruction (v 9-23). He became the executioner of those priests, who had ministered to him a short time before (v 18; 21:7) lech

i 3 accusations of Doeg against Ahimelech:
1 He inquired of the Lord for David
2 He gave him bread (v 10; 21:6)
3 He gave him the sword of Goliath
These acts were not sinful - only what any man would have done under the circumstances; but to an insane man they were unpardonable and led Saul to commit one of his greatest crimes in one of his fits of jealousy (v 11-19)

j Saul sent for the priests, planning to kill them all since he could not get David (v 11-19)

k Questions 107-109, Next, 23:2

l First came the unjust accusation of innocent men, then their destruction through jealousy (v 13-19) lech

m 4 accusations of Saul against Ahimelech:
1 You have conspired with David against me (v 13)
2 You have given him bread to sustain him in his rebellion against me
3 You have given him a sword so that he could kill me
4 You have inquired of God for him, so that he should rise against me, to lie in wait to kill me, as at this day

n 7fold defense of Ahimelech to Saul:
1 I believed that David was the most faithful of all your servants (v 14)
2 I was only seeking to do good to your son-in-law
3 I believed that he was about your business, as he plainly told me (21:2)
4 I, as well as all Israel, considered him to be honorable in your house
5 Under these circumstances it was only right to inquire of God for him, as I would do for you (v 15)

o Saul determined this before he called them, so anything they could say would not change him. He was one of the most contemptible despots of history, showing how far back a one-time man who was filled with the Spirit, can go. He is an example of one becoming worse in his backslidings than he ever was before conversion (Heb. 6:4-9; 10:26-29; 2 Pet. 2:20-22). See 35 sins of Saul, p. 329 p 2 reasons here for death of priests:

1 Because they had rebelled against the king with David (v 17). Even David did not do this; Saul was to blame for all differences
2 Because they did not inform Saul of the flight of David q Saul's soldiers would not kill the priests, knowing there was not the slightest justice in such an execution. These were priests of Jehovah but it made no difference to Saul; he would have even sought to destroy Jehovah, Himself if such had been possible, anything to give vent to his hatred of David (v 17) a Doeg, anxious. One of the most heartless executioners in history, he sought the momentary favor of Saul. Murdering one man is a horrible crime, but deliberately killing 85 men of God for a little favor with another is unthinkable (v 18)

b 35 sins of Saul the backslider, p. 329

c Saul would destroy every person and animal of the priests through jealousy, but he would not obey the command of God to do this to the enemies of both God and Israel (v 19; 15:1-35)

d Only one of the line of priests of Eli's line escaped to carry on his priesthood (v 20-23). Cp. the only one that was saved in the line of kings to carry on the royal line of the Messiah (2 Ki. 11)

e Abiathar, excellent father. The son of Ahimelech and 12th high priest in Israel (v 20-23; 23:6-9; 30:7; 1 Ki. 1:7, 19, 25; 42; 1 Chr. 27:34; Mk. 2:26). He was joint priest with Zadok who was with Saul's party (2 Sam. 8:17; 15:24-36; 17:15; 19:11; 20:25; 1 Chr. 15:11). He had a son who was also joint priest with Zadok for a while (1 Chr. 18:16; 24:6). Solomon deposed Ahimelech because he espoused his brother's cause to become king; and Zadok became sole high priest (1 Ki. 1:7-42; 2:22-25). Thus the prophecy to Eli of the cutting off of his house as priests, was fulfilled (1 Sam. 2:31), for Abiathar was the last of his line to be sole high priest. Eli and Abiathar were of the house of Ithamar and Zadok was of the house of Eleazar. By this act of Saul he caused the transfer of Urim and Thummim to David (23:2, 4, 6, 9-12)

f It was a favorite custom of the near-by pagan nations to wait until the wheat was ripe and threshed, then invade the country to carry off the harvest (v 1; Judg. 6:4)

g Abiathar brought the Urim and Thummim with him from Nob when he fled from Saul who killed all the priests of that place (22:20-23; 23:6). David inquired of the Lord many times by this method (v 9)

h Question 110, Next, v 3

i God commanded David to fight the Philistines and deliver Keilah (v 2, 4); the people would have betrayed him if he had not moved into action (v 10-12)

j Question 111, Next, v 11 (v 7-8)

k The 16th attempt of Saul to kill David l Keilah, enclosed; now called Kela, was situated 8 miles west of Hebron, near the borders of Philistia (v 1-13; Josh. 15:44; 1 Chr. 4:19; Neh. 3:17-18)

m David was not only a great warrior but a great commander, being always alert and ahead of the enemy in tactics. Again he inquired of God by the Urim and Thummim and followed His leading to escape Saul another time (v 9)

6 I have done no wrong; be it far from me. Let not the king impute sin to your servant, or to my father's house, for I only did that which was right

7 I was innocent, and knew nothing more or less about any difference between you both, or that he was fleeing from you a This proves that the Urim and Thummim were with David and not Saul (v 9) b Note that prayers of the O. T. were addressed directly to God as in the N. T. but without closing them in the name of Jesus Christ (v 10-12). This additional instruction - to pray in the name of Jesus Christ - was given for the N. T. followers of God (Jn. 14:13-15; 15:16; 16:23-26)

c 11th prophecy in 1 Sam. (23:11-12). Next, 24:4

2 conditional predictions:
1 He will come down (v 11)
2 They will deliver you up (v 12)
Both predictions were based upon David's remaining in Keilah

d Questions 112-114. Next, v 19
e It seems that when one was inquiring of the Lord by the Urim and Thummim, prayers and questions of any length would be uttered to Jehovah; then He would give the answer, as in v 10-12
f This would be the reward of David and his men for delivering Keilah from the Philistines (v 1-5, 12)
g David had gained about 200 men since he first went to the cave of Adullam (v 13; 22:1-2). Some were the most mighty of all Israel
h This searching after David daily was the 17th attempt to kill him, but God was with him and prevented Saul from finding him (v 13-15)
i This only emphasizes the protection of God over David - Jonathan could easily find his friend, but Saul could not, even after many days of searching (v 14, 16-18)
j 4fold assurance of Jonathan to David:
1 Fear not, for the hand of Saul, my father shall not find you (v 17)
2 You will be king over Israel
3 I shall be next to you
4 Even my father knows all this k Both Jonathan and David were men of principle, with qualities of faithfulness and unselfishness in all their dealings with fellowmen. Jonathan was the rare type who was willing to recognize the will of God and be content in the second place to a superior (v 17). David was of the rare type to refuse to hurt others even if it would bring him prosperity. He had the legal and customary right, the divine permission, and the actual opportunity to kill his enemy, Saul, so that he could live free from the life of an outcast. By doing so he could have regained his home, his family inheritance, and had the respect of his fellowmen, as well as the kingship and other worthwhile things; but he would not violate the principle of refusing to harm any man who had at one time been anointed of God and used by Him. The only regrettable part of the whole story is that, if he had killed Saul when he had him in his hands, Jonathan no doubt would have been spared from death in battle with the Philistines, and he and David could have had a wonderful record of exploits and unity in government between the two ever widening factions of Israel l They had already made a covenant together, so this was in reality a confirmation of the same (v 18; 18:1-4; 20: 16-18; 22:8)
m It will be noted here that Jonathan did not go with his father's selected men but stayed at home, refusing to have anything to do with the unjust acts of Saul in seeking David to slay him (v 18). He had made his position clear almost losing his life at the hands of Saul for befriending David (v 20:9, 30-34) n The Ziphites and Kellahites were like the average depraved man of today, always seeking favors even at the expense of betraying others. The Keilahites, after being saved by David and his men from the Philistines, betrayed him to Saul (v 1-12). The Ziphites were not harmed by David's men, but rather protected by them from enemies, as were the herds of Nabal (25:15-17). Nevertheless, they could not be satisfied to keep David's whereabouts a secret from Saul, so they told him what he wanted to know (v 19-29)

Â-bī'a-thär the priest, [c]Bring hither the ephod.

10 Then said Dā'vid, [b]O LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, thy servant hath certainly heard that Saul seeketh to come to Kē'i'lah, to destroy the city for my sake.

●11 [c]Will the men of Kē'i'lah deliver me up into his hand? [d]will Saul come down, as thy servant hath heard? [c]O LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, I beseech thee, tell thy servant. And the LORD said, He will come down.

■12 Then said Dā'vid, Will the men of Kē'i'lah deliver me and my men into the hand of Saul? And the LORD said, [f]They will deliver thee up.

17 Seventeenth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.): 7th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

13 ¶ Then Dā'vid and his men, which were about [g]six hundred, arose and departed out of Kē'i'lah, and went whithersoever they could go. And it was told Saul that Dā'vid was escaped from Kē'i'lah; and he forbare to go forth.

14 And Dā'vid abode in the wilderness in strong holds, and remained in a mountain in the wilderness of Zīph. And [h]Saul sought him every day, but God delivered him not into his hand.

15 And Dā'vid saw that Saul was come out to seek his life: and Dā'vid was in the wilderness of Zīph in a wood.

18 Last love covenant of Jonathan and David (18:1; 20:1)

16 ¶ And Jŏn'a-than Saul's son arose, and [i]went to Dā'vid into the wood, and strengthened his hand in God.

●17 And he [j]said unto him, Fear not: for the hand of Saul my father shall not find thee; and thou shalt be king over Iṣ'ra-el, and I shall be [k]next unto thee; and that also Saul my father knoweth.

18 [l]And they two made a covenant before the LORD: and Dā'vid abode in the wood, and Jŏn'a-than [m]went to his house.

19 Eighteenth of 21 attempts to slay David: second betrayal of David (21:7; 22:9; 26:1)

19 ¶ Then [n]came up the Zīph'ites to Saul to Gĭb'e-ah, [o]saying, Doth not Dā'vid hide himself with us in strong holds in the wood, in the hill of [p]Hăch'i-lah, which is on the south of [q]Jĕsh'i-mŏn?

20 Now therefore, O king, come down according to all the desire of thy soul to come down; and [r]our part shall be to deliver him into the king's hand.

21 And Saul said, [s]Blessed be ye of the LORD; for ye have compassion on me.

20 Nineteenth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.)

●22 [t]Go, I pray you, prepare yet, and know and see his place where his [u]haunt is, and who hath seen him there: for it is told me that [o]he dealeth very subtilly.

●23 See therefore, and [b]take knowledge of all the lurking places where he hideth himself, and come ye again to me with the certainty, and I will go with you: and it shall come to pass, if he be in the land, that I will search him out throughout all the thousands of Jū'dah.

24 And they arose, and went to [c]Zīph before Saul: but Dā'vid and his men were in the wilderness of [d]Mā'on, in the plain on the south of [e]Jĕsh'i-mŏn.

25 Saul also and his men went [f]to seek him. And they told Dā'vid: wherefore he came down into a rock, and abode in the wilderness of Mā'on. And when Saul heard that, he pursued after Dā'vid in the wilderness of Mā'on.

26 And Saul went on this side of the mountain, and Dā'vid and his men on that side of the mountain: and Dā'vid made haste to get away for fear of Saul; for Saul and his men compassed Dā'vid and his men round about to take them.

21 David escapes Saul

27 ¶ But [g]there came a messenger unto Saul, saying, Haste thee, and come; for the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes have invaded the land.

28 Wherefore Saul returned from pursuing after Dā'vid, and went against the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: therefore they [h]called that place Sē'lā-hăm-mah-lē'koth.

29 ¶ And Dā'vid went up from thence, and dwelt in strong holds at [i]Ĕn-gĕ'dī.

260 CHAPTER 24

22 Twentieth of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.): 8th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

AND it came to pass, [j]when Saul was returned from following the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, that it was told him, saying, Behold, Dā'vid is in the wilderness of Ĕn-gĕ'dī.

2 Then Saul took three thousand chosen men out of all Iṣ'ra-el, and went to seek Dā'vid and his men upon the rocks of the wild goats.

23 David spares Saul (26:4)

3 And he came to the sheepcotes by the way, where was a cave; and Saul went in to cover his feet: and Dā'vid and his men remained in the sides of the cave.

■4 [k]And the men of Dā'vid said unto him, Behold the day of which the LORD said unto thee, Behold, I will deliver thine enemy into thine hand, that thou mayest do to him as it shall seem good unto thee. Then Dā'vid arose, and cut off the skirt of Saul's robe privily.

5 And it came to pass afterward, that [l]Dā'vid's heart smote him, because he had cut off Saul's skirt.

6 And he said unto his men, The LORD forbid that I should do this thing unto my master, a Is very cunning, subtle, shrewd; practices wiles (v 22)

b Be sure you find his hiding place and where he moves about; and I will come myself and search him out regardless of where he is among the thousands of Judah (v 23)
c Ziph, flowing. A city about 4 miles southeast of Hebron. The country round about was called the wilderness of Ziph (v 14-24; 26:1-2; Josh. 15:55; 1 Chr. 2: 42; 4:16; 2 Chr. 11:8). The inhabitants were called Ziphites (v 19; 26:1), and Ziphims (Ps. 54, title). Ps. 54 was written on this occasion. There were 2 cities called Ziph (Josh. 15:25, 55)
d Maon, habitation. A city in Judah about 7 miles southeast of Hebron which gave name to a large pasture land called the wilderness of Maon (v 24-25; 25:2; Josh. 15:55; 1 Chr. 2:45). The inhabitants were called Maonites (Judg. 10:12). The hills in the vicinity of Maon had many caves where David and his men could easily hide. Some could take care of 100 to 200 men e See note q, v 19
f 19th attempt to slay David (v 25-26)
g This was a divine intervention to protect David when Saul was about to overtake him (v 26-29)
h Sela-hammah-lehoth, rock of divisions or separations, because the mountain separated the army of Saul from that of David, and because it was here that Saul was obliged to separate himself from David and his men in order to go after the Philistines. God raised up the Philistines to occupy Saul at the exact time he was about to surround David. He also kept Saul in ignorance of how close he was to David, so that he would not persist in finding the man before going after the Philistines
i See En-gedi, p. 329
j When Saul had returned from following the Philistines (23:27-29), he was told that David was in the wilderness of Engedi; so he set out with a selected army to kill him (v 1-2). He went into a certain cave to cover his feet; that is, "to answer the call of nature" (Berkeley); "to relieve himself" (Moffatt); or "to prepare himself" (Septuagint). Afterward he lay down to rest; and while he was asleep David cut off a part of his outer garment. Since David and his men were in the sides of the cave they could have killed Saul, but David refrained them from touching their king. The rabbins explained that Saul did not expect anyone to be in there because of a web over the mouth of the cave. Seeing this, they said he became careless and did not examine the place before resting k 12th prophecy in 1 Sam. (24:4, fulfilled). Next, 26:10. Merely a repetition by David's men of a prophecy God gave him at another time. The prediction was that the day would come in which Jehovah would deliver Saul into the hand of David to do with him whatever he saw fit at the time l David was so godly that his heart smote him because he had cut off Saul's skirt; and he loved the king so much that he stayed his men from killing him. As soon as Saul left the cave David followed him and made himself known, showing how he had spared his life. He made it clear that Saul had been listening to false reports about him, as he could see with his own eyes (v 6-16). This act of mercy and bravery on David's part woke Saul up to his own wickedness; when he saw that his life had not been taken, he left off following David and went home (v 17-22) wilderness of Judea (v 19, 24; 26:1, 3; Num. 21:20; 23:28) r What was their part? Nothing but an eternal record of being a traitor to God's chosen king, the one through whom the Messiah came s How a man could consider traitors to be of Jehovah and bless them is hard to conceive, but we do know that backsliders and murderers will do anything that will tend to promote their own wicked plans (v 21)

t Not only did the Ziphites prove to be betrayers and busybodies, but active spies in the plot to murder a most godly and just man (v 22)
u Hiding place, or trail (v 22)

a This means a man anointed with oil to be king, not anointed with the Holy Spirit, although Saul had the Spirit of God also from the time he was converted and given another heart (10:6, 9-13) to the time he was rejected of God; then the Holy Spirit departed from him (16:13-23). See 22 examples of anointing, p. 95

b David had such a principle of respect for a man who had been anointed that it almost cost him his life more than once. God gave him permission to kill Saul or do with him whatever he wished; but he refused to harm him in the least (24:4, 6)

c This eagerness on the part of David's servants proved that they were not afraid of Saul's 3,000 picked mighty men of all Israel who were on the outside of the cave waiting for Saul. Their great leader had so inspired them with his acts of faith and bravery that they also had faith in God that He was on their side and would give them the victory over any army regardless of the number (v 7)

d When Saul arose from rest and left the cave to go on his way, David followed him outside and addressed him as his lord and king. Saul looked back and saw David bowing before him to the earth with face down (v 8). To prove that he did not wish to hurt the king, and make it clear that Saul had been listening to evil reports about his servant being in rebellion against him, David showed the part of Saul's outer garment that he had cut off, revealing that he could have just as easily killed (v 9-15), Saul wept and left off seeking the life of David for the time being, but did not invite him back to his court (v 16-22)

e Question 116, Next, v 14

f This day you have seen that the Lord delivered you into my hands to kill you if I wanted to. In fulfillment of a previous prophecy. See note k, v 4

g This term was one of respectful address of a junior and an inferior to a superior (v 11, 16; 2 Ki. 5:13)

h This proverb as applied to David would mean that if he had been wicked and had conspired to take the throne, he would have killed Saul instead of merely cutting off a piece of his garment

i David told Saul plainly that he was not wicked as wicked men had reported him to be; he had demonstrated the fact that he would not touch the king to harm him in the least (v 13)

k These terms, as used by the Hebrews, signified the most sovereign contempt (17:43; 2 Sam. 16:9)

l Though considered a breach of etiquette now for a speaker to mention himself first, in that day it was customary. Cp. Gen. 16:5; 23:15; 31:49

m Question 119, Next, v 19

n See Saul's acknowledgement, p. 329

o This must have been hard for a man like Saul to acknowledge, even when in such a changed and broken spirit. He had lived so long with an obsession that David was his enemy, seeking his hurt, that now to acknowledge his own wickedness and the righteousness of David was surely not easy (v 17-22)

p David had been fair with Saul and demonstrated one unfailing law of God in human relationship - do good to them that despitefully use you and persecute you and overcome evil with good - and the results were rewarding. Saul recognized that it was unusual for a man to have an enemy in his hands, and then let him go (v 19)

the LORD's anointed, to stretch forth mine hand against him, seeing he is the anointed of the LORD.

7 So Dā'vid stayed his servants with these words, and suffered them not to rise against Saul. But Saul rose up out of the cave, and went on his way.

24 David reproaches Saul

8 Dā'vid also arose afterward, and went out of the cave, and cried after Saul, saying, My lord the king. And when Saul looked behind him, Dā'vid stooped with his face to the earth, and bowed himself.

9 ¶ And Dā'vid said to Saul, Wherefore hearest thou men's words, saying, Behold, Dā'vid seeketh thy hurt?

10 Behold, this day thine eyes have seen how that the LORD had delivered thee to day into mine hand in the cave: and some bade me kill thee: but mine eye spared thee; and I said, I will not put forth mine hand against my lord; for he is the LORD's anointed.

11 Moreover, my father, see, yea, see the skirt of thy robe in my hand: for in that I cut off the skirt of thy robe, and killed thee not, know thou and see that there is neither evil nor transgression in mine hand, and I have not sinned against thee; yet thou huntest my soul to take it.

12 The LORD judge between me and thee, and the LORD avenge me of thee: but mine hand shall not be upon thee.

13 As saith the proverb of the ancients, Wickedness proceedeth from the wicked: but mine hand shall not be upon thee.

14 After whom is the king of Is'ra-el come out? after whom dost thou pursue? after a dead dog, after a flea.

15 The LORD therefore be judge, and judge between me and thee, and see, and plead my cause, and deliver me out of thine hand.

25 Second reconciliation of Saul and David (19:1-8; 26:21)

16 ¶ And it came to pass, when Dā'vid had made an end of speaking these words unto Saul, that Saul said, Is this thy voice, my son Dā'vid? And Saul lifted up his voice, and wept.

17 And he said to Dā'vid, Thou art more righteous than I: for thou hast rewarded me good, whereas I have rewarded thee evil.

18 And thou hast shewed this day how that thou hast dealt well with me: forasmuch as when the LORD had delivered me into thine hand, thou killedst me not.

19 For if a man find his enemy, will he let him go well away? wherefore the LORD reward thee good for that thou hast done unto me this day.

20 And now, behold, I know well that thou shalt surely be king, and that the kingdom of Is'ra-el shall be established in thine hand.

21 Swear now therefore unto me by the LORD, that thou wilt not cut off my seed after me, and that thou wilt not destroy my name out of my father's house.

22 And Dā'vid sware unto Saul. And Saul went home; but Dā'vid and his men gat them up unto the hold.

CHAPTER 25 261

26 Death of Samuel: David wanders in Paran

AND Săm'u-el died; and all the Is'ra-el-ites were gathered together, and lamented him, and buried him in his house at Rā'mah. And Dā'vid arose, and went down to the wilderness of Pā'ran.

27 David and Nabal. (1) Nabal, his wife and wealth

2 And there was a man in Mā'on, whose possessions were in Cär'mel; and the man was very great, and he had three thousand sheep, and a thousand goats: and he was shearing his sheep in Cär'mel.

3 Now the name of the man was Nā'bal; and the name of his wife Ăb'ī-gail: and she was a woman of good understanding, and of a beautiful countenance: but the man was churlish and evil in his doings; and he was of the house of Că'leb.

(2) David's message to Nabal

4 ¶ And Dā'vid heard in the wilderness that Nā'bal did shear his sheep.

5 And Dā'vid sent out ten young men, and Dā'vid said unto the young men, Get you up to Cär'mel, and go to Nā'bal, and greet him in my name:

6 And thus shall ye say to him that liveth in prosperity, Peace be both to thee, and peace be to thine house, and peace be unto all that thou hast.

7 And now I have heard that thou hast shearers: now thy shepherds which were with us, we hurt them not, neither was there ought missing unto them, all the while they were in Cär'mel.

8 Ask thy young men, and they will shew thee. Wherefore let the young men find favour in thine eyes: for we come in a good day: give, I pray thee, whatsoever cometh to thine hand unto thy servants, and to thy son Dā'vid.

9 And when Dā'vid's young men came, they spake to Nā'bal according to all those words in the name of Dā'vid, and ceased.

(3) Nabal's insolent answer

10 ¶ And Nā'bal answered Dā'vid's servants, and said, Who is Dā'vid? and who is the son of Jĕs'se? there be many servants now a days that break away every man from his master.

11 Shall I then take my bread, and my water, and my flesh

a It is easy to beg and accept mercy from an enemy when he has the advantage as here (v 1). Saul knew that if he could get David to swear not to destroy his family the oath would be honored, and he could rest assured that they would be well taken care of, even though his own vow to protect David had been a lie (v 21; 19:6) 21):

b 2 things Saul wanted David to vow (v
1 That after his death, David would not cut off his seed, upon becoming king
2 That David would not destroy his name out of his father's house

c David could easily swear all that Saul wanted him to, for he had no intentions of harming Saul or his family (v 22)

d Saul went home from pursuing David without offering him the right to return to his wife and country

e The Peshitta says David went up to Mizpeh, but which one is not stated. The Septuagint says they went up to the straits of Messara, Wherever they went it was some stronghold, for David could not trust Saul with his life and that of his faithful men and their families. The most he could expect from him would be to cease persecuting him; but even this was too much for such a wicked, depraved, demon-possessed backslider to come to. Saul was soon to be seeking for David again (ch. 26)

f Samuel died at a ripe old age and all Israel mourned for him as they did for Moses, Joshua, and other great, recognized leaders (v 1). It is supposed that he died about 2 years before Saul did, and when he was about 98 years of age (note b, 8:1)

g This does not mean he was buried in the house he had lived in, in Ramah but in a tomb. It was the custom to build tombs and seal them up after one died; they were called houses of the dead (Job 30:23; 1 Ki. 2:34). In some places in the East small houses were built over the place of burial, many being large enough for the rest of the family to be buried there. In such cases the tomb would have to be opened and the seal broken to receive the bodies of others. These houses of the dead were kept in good repair and often decorated in various ways (Mt. 23:29)

h Whether David went to the funeral of Samuel is not known, but to him it was clear that with Samuel's death came the removal of the last restraining power in Saul's life; so he departed further from Saul. He went down to the wilderness of Paran, which was south out of Judea and into the country of the Amalekites in the Negeb or Negev, a triangular shaped region from Beer-sheba on the north to the Gulf of Aqaba in the south and Egypt on the west

i This was not mount Carmel which was further north on the Mediterranean, but a small village about 2 miles north of Maon and south of Hebron (2-7, 40; 15:12; 30:5; 2 Sam. 2:2; 3:3; Josh. 12:22; 15:55; 19:26). This indicates that David was in the north part of the wilderness of Paran

j Very great in wealth:

3,000 sheep @$20.00	$60,000.00
1,000 goats @$20.00	20,000.00
Estimated total	80,000.00

He had also vast lands, asses, cattle, and other stock, and many servants, so he would be classed as very great (v 2)

k Nabal, foolish; a churlish, evil Judahite (v 3-39; 27:3; 30:5; 2 Sam. 2:2; 3:3)

l Abigail, father of exultation, 2 Abigail's:
1 Wife of Nabal who became David's wife (v 3-42; 27:3; 30:5; 2 Sam. 2:2; 3:3; 1 Chr. 3:1)
2 Sister of David and mother of Amasa (2 Sam. 17:25; 1 Chr. 2:15-17)

m Note the contrast between man and wife. She was sensible, clever and very beautiful; and he was churlish and evil

n See Churlish, p. 329

o That a man could become so far from Caleb as this in traits is regrettable (v 3, Cp. Ezek. 18 and 33)

p David learned early that his name was not respected by everyone (v 5, 10-11)

q 7 fold greeting of David to Nabal:
1 Peace to you and your house (v 6)
2 Peace to all that you have 3 I have heard of your prosperity
4 Your shepherds were with us and we did not hurt them
5 We did not steal a thing all the time a See 1st act of judgment by David, p. 329

b It was in divine providence that the young man should tell the wife of Nabal about the insulting remarks made regarding David and his men, thus informing her that the whole household was in danger of being destroyed (v 14-17)
c 4fold report to Abigail:
1 David sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our master, and he railed on them (v 14)
2 The men with David were very good to us. They did not hurt us. We did not miss anything by theft as long as we were with them in the fields with our flocks (v 15)
3 They protected us night and day all the while we were with them keeping the sheep (v 16)
4 You should do something at once, for evil is determined against our master and all his household because of his unbearable insults (v 17)
d Flew at them, or stormed at them in a rage (v 14)
e Son of worthlessness, wickedness, evil, or Satan (note f, Dt. 13:13)
f This emphasizes the thought, care, and rapidity of Abigail in seeking to protect her family and keep David from committing wrong toward innocent people (v 18-20)
g Abigail's gift of peace to David:
200 loaves of bread
2 bottles (whole skins) of wine
5 sheep ready-dressed
5 measures (5 pecks) of wheat
100 clusters of raisins
200 cakes of figs
It would be difficult to estimate how much these food items would cost, but they were only a partial supply for 600 men and a number of wives and children
h The largest common loaf of bread was about 5 or 6 in. in diameter and about 1 in. thick (note k, Mt. 6:38), 200 such loaves would give a piece of bread to each one in David's army i The bottles for wine were made of whole goat skins, the hide being peeled from the animal without splitting it, and the legs sewed up to hold liquid. This was the Eastern bottle (v 18); and such would hold a number of gallons j 5 sheep would cost about $120.00 today k 5 measures (Heb. seah, about 1 peck each) of wheat would be about $7.50 worth l These were bunches of grapes that had been dried in the sun and left on the stems. They were evidently large bunches and enough to serve David's men (v 18) m The figs were those that had been pressed into cakes and dried. How large is not known but likely large enough to cut or slice with a knife. 200 cakes would make plenty for David and his men for a special feast (v 18) n See Figs, p. 324
o Had she told him Nabal would have forbidden her to do this and much blood would have been shed (v 19) p This gives David's side of the story. He had protected all that this man had in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed; and he was too ungrateful to offer even a little food when the men were hungry (v 21 with v 10-11,14-17). There was no excuse for David doing this; and when he came to his senses as in v 32-35, he acknowledged his wrong q This was a peculiar expression among Hebrews for males. It is used 6 times (v 22, 34; 1 Ki. 14:10; 16:11; 21:21; 2 Ki. 9:8). The meaning here is that no males would be left alive
r Here we have an instance of a good wife pleading for the life of her husband and taking the responsibility of his evil ways (v 23-31)

cent people who were no more responsible for the acts of Nabal than God, Himself; and it would have been one of the blackest spots in the record of the king's life
o It seems evident that David intended to destroy only the males in the household of Nabal, so the hurt that he would have caused Abigail would be the sorrow over the death of her husband and other men of her trusted servants, no doubt p 3 acts of David (v 35):
1 Received her gift
2 Accepted her person
3 Sent her away in peace to her home that I have killed for my shearers, and give it unto men, whom I know not whence they be?

12 So Dā'vid's young men turned their way, and went again, and came and told him all those sayings.

(4) David plans vengeance

●13 And Dā'vid said unto his men,[a]Gird ye on every man his sword. And they girded on every man his sword; and Dā'vid also girded on his sword: and there went up after Da'vid about four hundred men; and two hundred abode by the stuff.

(5) Abigail warned of danger to her husband

14 ¶[b]But one of the young men told Ăb'ĭ-gail, Nā'bal's wife, saying, Behold, [c]Dā'vid sent messengers out of the wilderness to salute our master; and he[d]railed on them.

15 But the men were very good unto us, and we were not hurt, neither missed we any thing, as long as we were conversant with them, when we were in the fields:

16 They were a wall unto us both by night and day, all the while we were with them keeping the sheep.

17 Now therefore know and consider what thou wilt do; for evil is determined against our master, and against all his household: for he is such a son of [e]Bē'lĭ-al, that a man cannot speak to him.

(6) Abigail secretly provides for David and keeps him from shedding innocent blood

18 ¶ Then Ăb'ĭ-gail [f]made haste, and [g]took [h]two hundred loaves, and [i]two bottles of wine, and [j]five sheep ready dressed, and [k]five measures of parched corn, and an [l]hundred clusters of raisins, and [m]two hundred cakes of [n]figs, and laid them on asses.

●19 And she said unto her servants, Go on before me; behold, I come after you. But she[o]told not her husband Nā'bal.

20 And it was so, as she rode on the ass, that she came down by the covert of the hill, and, behold, Dā'vid and his men came down against her; and she met them.

21 Now Dā'vid had said, Surely [p]in vain have I kept all that this fellow hath in the wilderness, so that nothing was missed of all that pertained unto him: and he hath requited me evil for good.

22 So and more also do God unto the enemies of Dā'vid, if I leave of all that pertain to him by the morning light [q]any that pisseth against the wall.

23 And when Ăb'ĭ-gail saw Dā'vid, she hasted, and lighted off the ass, and fell before Dā'vid on her face, and bowed herself to the ground, 24 And fell at his feet, and said, [r]Upon me, my lord, upon me[s]let this iniquity be: and let thine handmaid, I pray thee, speak in thine audience, and hear the words of [t]thine handmaid.

25 Let not [c]my lord, I pray thee, regard this man of [d]Bē'lĭ-al, even Nā'bal: for as his name is, [e]so is he; Nā'bal is his name, and folly is with him: but I thine handmaid saw not the young men of my lord, whom thou didst send.

26 Now therefore, my lord, as the LORD liveth, and as thy soul liveth, seeing the LORD hath withholden thee from coming to shed blood, and from avenging thyself with thine own hand, now let thine enemies, and they that seek evil to my lord, be as Nā'bal.

27 And now this blessing which thine handmaid hath brought unto my lord, let it even be given unto the young men that follow my lord.

28 I pray thee, forgive the trespass of thine handmaid: for the LORD will certainly make my lord a sure house; because my lord fighteth the battles of the LORD, and [f]evil hath not been found in thee all thy days.

29 Yet a man is risen to pursue thee, and to seek thy soul: but the soul of my lord shall be bound in the [g]bundle of life with the LORD thy God; and the souls of thine enemies, them shall he[h]sling out, as out of the middle of a sling.

30 And it shall come to pass, when the LORD shall have done to my lord according to all the good that he hath [i]spoken concerning thee, and shall have appointed thee ruler over Iṣ'ra-el;

31 That [j]this shall be no grief unto thee, nor offence of heart unto my lord, either that thou hast shed blood causeless, or that my lord hath avenged himself: but when the LORD shall have dealt well with my lord, then [k]remember thine handmaid.

(7) David spares Nabal

32 ¶ And Dā'vid [l]said to Ăb'ĭ-gail,[m]Blessed be the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el, which sent thee this day to meet me:

33 And blessed be thy advice, and blessed be thou, which hast kept me this day from coming to shed blood, and from avenging myself with mine own hand.

34 For in very deed, as the LORD God of Iṣ'ra-el liveth, which hath[n]kept me back from hurting thee, except thou hadst hasted and come to meet me, surely there had not been left unto Nā'bal by the morning light [o]any that pisseth against the wall.

●35 So Dā'vid [p]received of her hand that which she had brought him, and said unto her, Go up in peace to thine house; see, I have hearkened to thy voice, and have accepted thy person.

(8) Death of Nabal

36 ¶ And Ăb'ĭ-gail came to Nā'bal; and, behold, he held a a 10fold plea of Abigail to David:

1 Let this iniquity be upon me (that is, let me suffer the judgment of the iniquity of my husband, v 24)
2 Let your handmaid, I pray you, speak (or address you)
3 Hear the words of your handmaid
4 Let not my lord regard the folly of my husband, for he is a man of Belial (Satan) and rightly named Nabal (foolish, v 25)
5 I did not see your young men when they came making your request known
6 As the Lord liveth, seeing He has withheld you from shedding innocent blood, and from avenging yourself with your own hand, let your enemies be as Nabal (v 26)
7 Your handmaid has brought a blessing for my lord and your young men that follow the Lord (v 27)
8 I pray you to forgive the trespass of your handmaid, for the Lord will certainly make you a sure house because you fight the battle of the Lord and evil has not been found in you all your days (v 28)
9 Yet a man (Saul) is risen to pursue you and seek your soul; but it shall be bound in the life of God and all your enemies shall be cast out as a stone from a sling (v 29)
10 When the Lord has fulfilled all that He has promised you, and shall make you king over Israel, then remember your handmaid who has plead with you not to shed innocent blood so that you will not have regrets in time to come over your wrong deeds (v 30-31)
b 6 times Abigail called herself thine handmaid in addressing David (v 24-25, 27-28, 31) c 14 times she addressed David as my lord. The Heb. adon in each case means sovereign, lord, master, owner
d See note f, Dt. 13:13
e Nabal means foolish, and so this man was (v 25)
f Evil would have been found in David if he had carried out his plan in this instance, so he was providentially stopped from doing the wrong thing by one of the very persons he would have sinned against (v 28, 32-34)
g Heb. tsror, parcel as packed up; kernel; bag; bundle. Used of a bundle of money (Gen. 42:35); bag of money (Pr. 7:20); bundle of myrrh (Song 1:13); and bag of transgression (Job 14:17). Here it refers to the bundle of life wrapped up in the life of Jehovah. It is an oriental expression of perfect security from all enemies under the protection of Jehovah (v 29)
h Instead of the lives of David's enemies being bound and kept in the life of God, He would cast them off from Himself with force and violence like throwing a stone out of a sling (v29)
i It seemed to be common knowledge in Israel that God had chosen David as king, had made certain promises to him for good, and that He was the protector in all his trials brought on because of Saul. Even this isolated woman of Judah knew all this (v 30)
j Here Abigail appealed to David to keep his record clear of all injustice and the seeking of personal vengeance on others, so that he would not have any regrets in time to come when God would fulfil His promises to him and he would become king of Israel and be free from those who sought his life (v 31)
k Abigail had no idea how soon it would be that David would remember her. In about 10 days Nabal was dead and David sent servants to take her to be his wife soon afterward (v 37-42)
l Impressed no doubt, by the wisdom and humility of Abigail, David at once accepted her plea and blessed her for being an instrument of God in keeping him from sinning against innocent blood. He recognized her as an agent of God to turn him aside from his bloody purpose (v 32-35) 33):
m 3 statements of blessing by David (v 32-1 Blessed be the Lord God of Israel
2 Blessed be your advice
3 Blessed are you for keeping me this day from shedding innocent blood and seeking vengeance n This illustrates how far one will go in injustice to others who are innocent, when he seeks to avenge personal ills. David would have killed many innofeast in his house, [a]like the feast of a king; and Nā'bal's heart was merry within him, for he was very drunken: wherefore she [b]told him nothing, less or more, until the morning light.

37 But it came to pass in the morning, when the wine was gone out of Nā'bal, and his wife had told him these things, that his [c]heart died within him, and he became as a stone.

38 And it came to pass about ten days after, that the LORD smote Nā'bal, that he died.

(9) David marries Abigail

39 ¶ And when Dā'vid heard that Nā'bal was dead, he said, Blessed be the LORD, that hath pleaded the cause of my reproach from the hand of Nā'bal, and [d]hath kept his servant from evil: for the LORD hath returned the wickedness of Nā'bal upon his own head. And Dā'vid [e]sent and communed with Ăb'ĭ-gail, to take her to him to wife.

40 And when the servants of Dā'vid were come to Ăb'ĭ-gail to Cär'mel, they spake unto her, saying, Dā'vid sent us unto thee, to take thee to him to wife.

41 And [f]she arose, and bowed herself on her face to the earth, and said, Behold, let thine handmaid be a servant to wash the feet of the servants of my lord.

42 And Ăb'ĭ-gail hasted, and arose, and rode upon an ass, with five damsels of hers that went after her; and she went after the messengers of Dā'vid, and became his wife.

28 David takes another wife

43 Dā'vid also took Ă-hin'o-ăm of Jĕz're-el; and they were also [g]both of them his wives.

44 ¶ But Saul had given Mī'chal his daughter, Dā'vid's wife, to Phăl'tĭ the son of Lā'ish, which was of Găl'lim.

262 CHAPTER 26

29 Third betrayal of David (21:7; 22:9; 23:19)

AND the [a]Zĭph'ites came unto Saul to Gĭb'e-ah, [i]saying, Doth not Dā'vid hide himself in the [b]hill of Hăch'i-lah, which is before Jĕsh'i-mŏn?

30 Twenty-first of 21 attempts to slay David (18:8, refs.): 9th civil strife (2 Ki. 25:25, refs.)

2 [c]Then Saul arose, and went down to the wilderness of Zĭph, having three thousand chosen men of Is'ra-el with him, to seek Dā'vid in the wilderness of Zĭph.

3 And Saul pitched in the hill of Hăch'ĭ-lah, which is before Jĕsh'i-mŏn, by the way. But Dā'vid abode in the wilderness, and he saw that Saul came after him into the wilderness.

31 David spares Saul a second time (24:3-22)

4 Dā'vid therefore [d]sent out spies, and understood that Saul was come in very deed.

5 ¶ And Dā'vid [e]arose, and came to the place where Saul had pitched: and Dā'vid beheld the place where Saul lay, and Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, the captain of his host: and Saul lay in the [f]trench, and the people pitched round about him.

6 Then answered Dā'vid and said to [g]Ă-hĭm'e-lĕch the Hĭt'tīte, and to [h]Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī the son of [i]Zĕr-u-ī'ah, brother to [j]Jō'ăb, saying, [k]Who will go down with me to Saul to the camp? And Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī said, [l]I will go down with thee.

7 So Dā'vid and Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī came to the people by night: and, behold, Saul lay sleeping within [m]the trench, and his spear stuck in the ground at his bolster: but Ăb'nēr and the people lay round about him.

8 Then said Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī to Dā'vid, [n]God hath delivered thine enemy into thine hand this day; now therefore [o]let me smite him, I pray thee, with the spear even to the earth at once, and I will not smite him the second time.

●9 And Dā'vid said to Ă-bĭsh'ă-ī, [p]Destroy him not: for who can stretch forth his hand against the LORD's anointed, and be guiltless?

●10 Dā'vid said furthermore, As the LORD liveth, the LORD shall smite him; or his day shall come to die; or he shall descend into battle, and perish.

11 The LORD forbid that I should stretch forth mine hand against the LORD's anointed: but, I pray thee, take thou now the [q]spear that is at his [r]bolster, and the cruse of water, and let us go.

12 So Dā'vid took the spear and the [q]cruse of water from Saul's bolster; and they gat them away, and no man saw it, nor knew it, neither awaked: for they were all asleep; because a [s]deep sleep from the LORD was fallen upon them.

32 David reproaches Abner

13 ¶ Then Dā'vid went over to the other side, and stood on the top of an hill [t]afar off; a great space being between them:

14 And Dā'vid cried to the people and to Ăb'nēr the son of Nēr, saying, [u]Answerest thou not, Ăb'nēr? Then Ăb'nēr answered and said, Who art thou that criest to the king?

15 And Dā'vid said to [v]Ăb'nēr, Art not thou a valiant man? and who is like to thee in Is'ra-el? wherefore then hast thou not kept thy lord the king? for there came one of the people in to destroy the king thy lord.

16 This thing is not good that thou hast done. As the LORD liveth, ye are worthy to die, because ye have not kept your master, the LORD's anointed. And now see where the king's spear is, and the cruse of water that was at his bolster.

33 David reproaches Saul

17 And Saul [w]knew Dā'vid's a Though Nabal could kill many sheep and spend much on a great feast for himself, his servants, and friends, he was so mean and selfish that he would not consider the request of David who no doubt was in desperate need of food for his men and the women and children with them (v 26)

b 20 good qualities of Abigail:
1 She was a woman of good understanding (clever and wise, v 3)
2 Beautiful but not proud, self-exalted (v 3)
3 Humble and godly - unspoiled regardless of her riches (v 2, 6, 23-35)
4 She had a sense of appreciation for anything others did to aid her household in any degree (v 14-19)
5 She was reasonable, listened to her servants, and sought to protect her unworthy husband as well as all her household from danger (v 14-35)
6 Quick to act in time of danger to protect her own (v 17-19)
7 Did not nag at her husband for his mean and churlish disposition, but patiently lived with him, tolerating the abuse which she no doubt received from such a man (v 3, 19, 36)
8 Was generous of spirit, seeking to help meet the needs of others (v 18)
9 Was independent enough to act without the consent of her husband when it was to his good and the good of others concerned (v 19, 36)
10 Was bold and businesslike in meeting the problems of life; did not become panic-stricken (v 17-35)
11 Was brave and willing to face danger, which might involve her own life and certainly that of others. Alone she faced an entire army that was coming to destroy her household (v 19-35)
12 Was gracious, and pliable when it was necessary (v 23-35)
13 Was willing to take blame and be personally responsible for the acts and sins of another whom she sought to reconcile to the one offended (v 24-25, 28)
14 Courteous in her dealings with an enemy and one who had already passed the death sentence on all men of her household (v 23-35)
15 Had wisdom enough to recognize the kind of disposition her husband had, and put him in the proper class while, at the same time, she loved him and tried to save him from harm (v 25)
16 Was diplomatic in her approach and appeal to the enemy of her household, turning his wrath to mercy and leniency (v 26-35)
17 Had faith in God and recognized His plan in Israel concerning the one who sought to do her harm (v 28-35)
18 Was zealous to keep even an enemy spotless in life and conduct (v 28-31)
19 She wisely kept from her husband the report of the great danger he had been in until he was sober and sensible enough to discuss it (v 36-38)
20 She was willing to forgive the wrongs intended against her and her house, and soon afterward accepted the very man as a husband who was responsible for these plans of evil (v 39-42)

c His heart was confounded; he became paralysed with fear, and pined away so that he died in 10 days (v 37-38)

d This was the second time David recognized that God had kept him from evil in killing Nabal (v 33, 39)

e According to custom, David sent friends, called servants in v 40, who made his wishes known to Abigail. She arose and came immediately (v 41-42)

f 4 acts of Abigail (v 41-42):
1 She arose and bowed herself on her face to the servants of David
2 She offered to wash their feet, which she no doubt did immediately, as the custom was with travellers
3 She hasted, arose, and rode on an ass being accompanied by 5 damsels
4 She went after the messengers of David and became his wife

g At this time David took a third wife, Ahinoam of Jezreel, having taken Michal, the daughter of Saul, some years before (v 42-44; 18:20-30)

h This was the third time David was betrayed by his countrymen, twice by these same Ziphites (v 1; 23:1-29)

a Having heard that Saul had come to the wilderness of Ziph, David sent out spies to see for sure, so he would not be taken unaware (v 3-5)

b Instead of fleeing from Saul, David arose and went boldly to the place where he had pitched his camp. Saul and his best advisors did not expect this, so the bold move caught them wholly unprepared. David found Saul and his army in a deep sleep; not one man was awake to guard the king. Evidently divinely led, David had perhaps inquired of the Urim and Thummim which was in his company, and not Saul's. He acted at the precise moment when the Lord had caused a deep sleep to fall upon the enemy and his army (v 7, 12)

4 Another post-exile Jew (Ezra 8:9)
5 Son of Zeruiah, David's sister. He was the over-ambitious commander of David's army and did every conceivable thing including murder to get first place next to David (v 6; 2 Sam. 2:13-32; 3:22-31; 8:16; 10:7-14; 11:1-25; 12:26-27; 14:1-33; 17:25; 18:1-29; 19:1-13; 20:9-23; 23:18-37; 24:2-9; 1 Ki. 1:7, 19, 41; 2:5-33; 11:15-21; 1 Chr. 2:16; 11:6-39; 18:15; 19:8-15; 20:1; 21:2-6; 26:28; 27:7, 24, 34; Ps. 60, title)

It contained honey. That the cruse here was not a flat saucer seems clear, for it contained water; it was a flask of some kind praved, jealous disposition, and began to seek the life of David after vowing once that he would not do so (19:6), and after having his own life spared by David (24:1-22)

a Questions 132-135, Next, 27:5
b Not only did Saul have the answers to these questions, but all Israel knew them. It was common knowledge that it was because of jealousy that he was stirred up against David. Israel in general loved and respected David, for he had always proved faithful to them in fighting the battles of the Lord and in conducting their business as he went in and out among them (18:13-16, 30)
c 4fold appeal of David to Saul, p. 299
d It was wise of David not to blame Saul for his jealousy, but to suggest that it was evil men stirring him up, if not Jehovah; and they should be punished for driving others from the worship of Jehovah (v 19)
e This was the greatest sin of all against David and his men - driving them away from the worship of the true God and virtually telling them to go, serve other gods (v 19)
f 2 figures used by David (v 20):
1 To seek a flea, David compared the importance of his own life to that of one flea on a dog. Why would the great king of Israel bring an army to hunt one small flea not worth bothering with?
2 To seek a partridge. Here he compared his life to a lone partridge in the mountains. Partridges being flushed several times soon became weary and not able to fly, and men could kill them easily with a stick. David thus referred to himself as being chased from place to place until he was weary of running and would prefer being killed now if be was worthy of death
g David's strategy of going boldly to Saul for a settlement was a success, for it caused the king to acknowledge several things (v 21)
h See 6 things Saul finally acknowledged, p. 330
i Before this Saul would not be frank to say that he had sinned; now under the pressure of being overwhelmed by the mercy, love, and justice of David he freely confessed his sin (v 21)
j This was the first invitation for David to return from exile to his own right to serve God in the place and way Jehovah had ordained; to return to his own inheritance, and his own people to live freely among them, and to his own privileges as a citizen of Israel (v 21)
k In the former experience of David sparing his life Saul did not promise never to harm David; he merely went home, holding reservations in his heart as to the future (v 21; 24:16-22)
l For the first time Saul acknowledged the love which he knew to be in the heart of David. Before this he merely said he could not understand why a man would spare his enemy (24:19); here he confessed the reason (v 21)
m It takes grace and manhood to acknowledge sin, error, and that one has played the fool; but Saul did this, which is the nearest to coming clean with God and man since he became exalted and the Holy Spirit left him (v 21; 16:14-23)
n In view of your changed attitude, you may send a young man for your spear and other things I have taken from you (v 22)
o Here David committed his case into the hands of Jehovah to judge righteously, and made an appeal to Saul to have as much respect for his life as he, himself had had for the king's (v 23-24)
p Saul blessed David and again acknowledged that he would do great things and prevail in all he undertook in life (v 25)
q David went his way, and Saul returned from following him to kill him, never to see him again; Saul was soon to fall at the hands of enemies and meet his God whom he had rejected and sinned against so many years (v 25; 31:1-13; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)
r Thought in his own mind and resolved in his own heart that he must do something else to protect himself from Saul (v 1) s This was a hasty conclusion of unbelief. God had so often delivered him that he should have concluded the opposite and continued to inquire of Him regarding which steps to take. This lack of faith brought him into a false position and caused him to act for the time being contrary to God and His will for him. Perishing at the hands of Saul would have been impossible according to God's word, for the Lord had anointed voice, and said, [a]Is this thy voice, my son Dā'vid? And Dā'vid said, It is my voice, my lord, O king.

18 And he said, Wherefore doth my lord thus pursue after his servant? [b]for what have I done? or what evil is in mine hand?

19 [c]Now therefore, I pray thee, let my lord the king hear the words of his servant. If the LORD have stirred thee up against me, let him accept an offering; [d]but if they be the children of men, cursed be they before the LORD; for they have driven me out this day from abiding in the inheritance of the LORD, saying, [e]Go, serve other gods.

20 Now therefore, let not my blood fall to the earth before the face of the LORD: for the king of Iṣ'ra-el is come out [f]to seek a flea, as when one doth hunt a partridge in the mountains.

34 Third reconciliation of David and Saul (19:1; 24:16)

●21 ¶[g]Then said Saul, [h]I [i]have sinned: [j]return, my son Dā'vid: for[¶] I will no more do thee harm, because [k]my soul was precious in thine eyes this day: behold, I [m]have played the fool, and have erred exceedingly.

22 And Dā'vid answered and said, [n]Behold the king's spear! and let one of the young men come over and fetch it.

23 [o]The LORD render to every man his righteousness and his faithfulness: for the LORD delivered thee into my hand to day, but I would not stretch forth mine hand against the LORD's anointed.

24 And, behold, as thy life was much set by this day in mine eyes, so let my life be much set by in the eyes of the LORD, and let him deliver me out of all tribulation.

25 Then Saul [p]said to Dā'vid, Blessed be thou, my son Dā'vid: thou shalt both do great things, and also shalt still prevail. So Dā'vid went on his way, and [q]Saul returned to his place.

263 CHAPTER 27

35 David goes again to Gath (21:10)

AND Dā'vid [r]said in his heart, [s]I shall now perish one day by the hand of Saul: there is nothing [t]better for me than that I should speedily escape into the land of the Phī-lĭs'tĭnes; and Saul shall despair of me, to seek me any more in any coast of Iṣ'ra-el: so shall I escape out of his hand.

2 And Dā'vid arose, and he passed over with the six hundred men that were with him unto Ā'chish, the son of Mā'ŏch, king of Gāth.

3 And Dā'vid dwelt with Ā'chish at Gāth, he and his men, every man with his household, even Dā'vid with his two wives, Ā-hĭn'o-ăm the Jĕz'reel-ĭt-ess, and Ăb'ĭ-gail the Cär'mel-ĭt-ess, [u]Nā'bal's wife.

4 And it was [a]told Saul that Dā'vid was fled to Gāth: and he sought no more again for him.

5 ¶ And Dā'vid said unto Ā'chish, If I have now found grace in thine eyes, let them give me a place in some town in the country, that I may dwell there: [b]for why should thy servant dwell in the royal city with thee?

6 Then Ā'chish gave him Zĭk'lăg [c]that day: wherefore [d]Zĭk'lăg pertaineth unto the kings of Jū'dah unto this day.

37 David deceives Achish

8 ¶ And Dā'vid and his men went up, and [f]invaded the Gĕsh'u-rītes, and the Gĕz'rītes, and the Ăm'a-lĕk-ītes: for those nations were of old the inhabitants of the land, as thou goest to Shūr, even unto the land of Ē'gўpt.

9 And Dā'vid smote the land, and left neither man nor woman alive, and took away the sheep, and the oxen, and the asses, and the camels, and the apparel, and returned, and came to Ā'chish.

10 And Ā'chish said, [g]Whither have ye made a road to day? And Dā'vid said, [h]Against the south of Jū'dah, and against the south of the Jĕ-räh'me-ĕl-ītes, and against the south of the Kĕn'ītes.

11 And Dā'vid saved neither man nor woman alive, to bring tidings to Gāth, saying, [i]Lest they should tell on us, saying, So did Dā'vid, and so will be his manner all the while he dwelleth in the country of the Phī-lĭs'tĭnes.

12 And Ā'chish believed Dā'vid, saying, He hath made his people Iṣ'ra-el utterly to abhor him; therefore he shall be my servant for ever.

264 CHAPTER 28

38 David among Israel's enemies

AND it came to pass in [j]those days, that the Phī-lĭs'tĭnes gathered their armies together for warfare, to fight with Iṣ'ra-el. And Ā'chish said unto Dā'vid, Know thou assuredly, that thou shalt go out with me to battle, thou and thy men.

2 And Dā'vid said to Ā'chish, Surely thou shalt know what thy servant can do. And Ā'chish said to Dā'vid, Therefore will I make thee keeper of mine head for ever.

3 ¶ Now Săm'u-el [k]was dead, and all Iṣ'ra-el had lamented him, and buried him in Rā'mah, even in his own city. And Saul had [l]put away those that had familiar [m]spirits, and the wizards, out of the land.

4 And the Phī-lĭs'tĭnes gathered themselves together, and came and [n]pitched in Shu'nem: and Saul gathered all Iṣ'ra-el a Saul either had someone always spying on David who told him; or else there was one seeking personal favor from the king who was willing to betray his fellowmen. See note a, 14:1; Pr. 6:16-19, Cp. 7 times someone told Saul about David (v 4; 19:19, 21; 23:7, 13, 22; 24:1)

b Question 136, Next, v 10
c For a better understanding of 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles there are 115 harmonies of events noted in the headings of the text in these books. Like the 4 Gospels - Matthew, Mark, Luke, and John - they can be and should be harmonized. The books of Chronicles, originally one book, and written from a different standpoint, are entirely independent of the books of Samuel and Kings. Bible critics create their own difficulties many times, and have done so with these books by assuming that they should be alike; because they are not it is supposed there are descrepancies. In Samuel and Kings we have the events from the human, historical, and chronological standpoint as viewed by the natural man; whereas, in Chronicles we have the Divine, moral, and spiritual viewpoint - things viewed by God without regard to chronology which is sometimes ignored to emphasize the moral, religious, and spiritual causes or consequences of the historical facts. The former is intended to give Israel's complete history of both kingdoms, while the latter is designed to give only history as related to the house of David and the ruling tribe of Judah, as being founded on Jehovah's covenant with David and his seed. See p. 423 d Ziklag, a city about 10 miles north of Beersheba and about 20 miles southwest of Hebron. It was first given to Judah and then to Simeon (Josh. 15:31; 19:5). The Philistines had retaken it and made it an ourpost (v 5-6; 30:1-26; 2 Sam. 1:1; 4:10; 1 Chr. 4:30; 12:1, 20; Neh. 11:28)
e All the events of 27:1-31:13; 2 Sam. 1:1-27 took place during this year and four months (v 7)
f No cause is given here for David doing this (v 8), although there may have been one. There was no excuse for lying to Achish about where he had been; this was wrong (v 9-12)
g Question 137, Next, 28:9
h Achish thought that David had raided his own country and thereby caused the people to hate him, so he would be his servant forever (v 10-12). He put his whole trust in David to the point of making him his own keeper (28:1-2)
i This was a poor excuse to kill men and women. It certainly was not worth the price that he had to pay (v 11)

7 wrong results of David's act:
1 It caused him to cease depending upon God for deliverance (v 1)
2 Caused him to leave his own country when Saul invited him to return (v 1; 26:21)
3 Caused him to join enemies of Israel (v 1; 28:1-2; 29:1-11)
4 Caused him to destroy the Gesburites, Gezrites, and Amalekites with whom he had no apparent quarrel or reason for war (v 8-9)
5 Caused him to lie to Achish and kill in order to cover up his acts (v 10-12)
6 It put him in a wrong position of having to fight his own people (28:1-2; 29:1-11)
7 Caused the Amalekites to destroy Ziklag seeking revenge for David of his invasion of Amalek (30:1-31; 27:8)

t There were plenty of things better than falling God in unbelief (v 1-2)
u Still called Nabal's wife to identify her (v 3; 30:5 with 25:2-42)

a Gilboa, bubbling fountain. A mountain about 25 or 30 miles southwest of the sea of Galilee. Mentioned only in connection with the defeat of Saul (v 4; 31:1, 8; 2 Sam. 1:6, 21; 21:12; 1 Chr. 10:1, 8). The Philistines had either gone up the Mediterranean coast or through the middle part of Samaria. Just what their strategy was in attacking Israel that far north is not known. Ordinarily, they would attack near their own bases, but here they were many miles north before they chose a battlefield

d 3 ways God did not answer Saul (v 6):
1 By dreams or visions
2 By Urim and Thummim
3 By prophets. Cp. v 15; 14:37; 1 Chr. 10:13-14

e This would indicate that Saul and the priests of the branch that was yet alive in his kingdom, also had a Urim and Thummim (v 6). Ablathar had taken the one at Nob to David who inquired of it several times (22:20-23; 23:6, 9; 30:7)

f David was answered by a prophet at the time referred to in 22:5

g Saul, at the end of his desperation, became willing to inquire of a witch contrary to the law of God (v 3, 7, 9)

h Endor was about 12 miles northeast of mount Gilboa (v 7)

i Saul disguised himself so the witch would not know him and to make her free to inquire of the familiar spirit for him (v 8-9)

j Saul and his men made the trip to Endor and back the same night, and he was naturally tired before going into battle the next day (v 8, 25; 31:1-13)

k Saul knew well that he was inquiring of a familiar spirit and not of God, for God had ceased to answer him by any means (v 3-6; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)

l Question 138. Next, v 11

o Saul wanted to contact Samuel who had anointed him king, given him advice on several occasions, and refused to advise him during his last years. Samuel had been dead now for at least 2 years. Since God would not answer him by ordinary means, Saul hoped in vain to get an answer through a demon who imitated Samuel (v 3-9; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)

q Questions 140-142. Next, v 15 s Heb. Elohim, the word used of the supreme God of Israel. Here it could not mean the Divine Trinity was seen coming out of the earth, but merely a manifestation of demon spirits (v 13)

39 Saul seeks God: no answer

5 And when Saul saw the host of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, he [b]was afraid, and his heart greatly trembled.

6 And when [c]Saul enquired of the LORD, the LORD [d]answered him not, neither by dreams, nor by [e]Ū'rĭm, nor by [f]prophets.

40 Saul seeks demon information (1 Chron. 10:13-14)

●7 [g] Then said Saul unto his servants, [g]Seek me a woman that hath a familiar spirit, that I may go to her, and enquire of her. And his servants said to him, Behold, there is a woman that hath a familiar spirit [h]at Ĕn'-dōr.

8 And Saul [i]disguised himself, and put on other raiment, and he went, and two men with him, and they came to the woman [j]by night: and he said, I pray thee, divine unto me [k]by the familiar spirit, and bring me him up, whom I shall name unto thee.

9 And the woman said unto him, Behold, thou knowest what Saul hath done, how he hath cut off those that have familiar spirits, and the wizards, out of the land: [l]wherefore then layest thou a snare for my life, to cause me to die?

41 Saul swears to disobey God (Ex. 22:18)

10 And Saul [m]sware to her by the LORD, saying, As the LORD liveth, there shall no punishment happen to thee for this thing.

●11 Then [n]said the woman, Whom shall I bring up unto thee? And he said, [o]Bring me up Săm'u-el.

42 Answer of the familiar spirit (1 Chron. 10:13-14; Isa. 8:19)

12 And when the woman [p]saw Săm'u-el, she cried with a loud voice: and the woman spake to Saul, saying, [q]Why hast thou deceived me? [r]for thou art Saul.

●13 And the king said unto her, Be not afraid: for what sawest thou? And the woman said unto Saul, I saw [s]gods ascending out of the earth.

14 And he said unto her, What form is he of? And she said, An old man cometh up; and he is covered with a mantle. And Saul [t]perceived that it was Săm'u-el, and he stooped with his face to the ground, and bowed himself.

15 [u] And [u]Săm'u-el said to Saul, [v]Why hast thou disquieted me, to bring me up? [w]And Saul answered, I am sore distressed; for the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes make war against me, and God is departed from me, and answereth me no more, neither by prophets, nor by dreams: therefore I have called thee, that thou mayest make known unto me what I shall do.

16 Then [x]said Săm'u-el, Wherefore then dost thou ask of me, seeing the LORD [a]is departed from thee, and [b]is become thine enemy?

17 And the LORD hath done to him, as he spake by me: [c]for the LORD hath rent the kingdom out of thine hand, and given it to thy neighbour, even to Dā'vid:

18 Because thou obeyedst not the voice of the LORD, nor executedst his fierce wrath upon Ăm'a-lĕk, therefore hath the LORD done this thing unto thee this day.

★19 [d]Moreover the LORD will also deliver Ĭs'ra-el with thee into the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes: and to morrow shalt thou and thy sons [e]be with me: the LORD also shall deliver the host of Ĭs'ra-el into the hand of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes.

43 Saul entertained by a witch

20 Then Saul [f]fell straightway all along on the earth, and was sore afraid, because of the words [g]of Săm'u-el: and there was no strength in him; [h]for he had eaten no bread all the day, nor all the night.

21 [i] And the woman [i]came unto Saul, and saw that he was sore troubled, and said unto him, Behold, thine handmaid hath obeyed thy voice, and I have put my life in my hand, and have hearkened unto thy words which thou spakest unto me.

●22 Now therefore, I pray thee, hearken thou also unto the voice of thine handmaid, and let [j]me set a morsel of bread before thee; and eat, that thou mayest have strength, when thou goest on thy way.

23 But he [k]refused, and said, I will not eat. But his servants, together with the woman, compelled him; and he hearkened unto their voice. So he arose from the earth, and sat upon the bed.

24 And the woman had a fat calf in the house; and she hasted, and [l]killed it, and took flour, and kneaded it, and did bake unleavened bread thereof:

25 And she brought it before Saul, and before his servants; and they did eat. Then they rose up, and went away that night.

44 David saved from fighting Israel (1 Chr. 12:19-22)

NOW the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes gathered together all their armies to [m]Ă'phĕk: and the Ĭs'ra-el-ites pitched by a fountain which is in Jĕz're-el.

2 And the [n]lords of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes passed on by hundreds, and by thousands: but Dā'vid and his men passed on in the rereward with Ă'chish.

3 Then said the [o]princes of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, [p]What do these Hē'brews here? And Ă'chish said unto the princes of the Phĭ-lĭs'tĭnes, Is not this Dā'vid, the servant of Saul the king of Ĭs'ra-el, which hath been with a Several times we read of the Lord departing from Saul, proving that such is possible with any individual who, like Saul, goes into sin and disobedience. See note 1, 16:14

b Not only did the Lord depart from Saul and take the Holy Spirit from him (16:13-14), but He became an enemy of Saul and cut him off in his sins (v 16; 1 Chr. 10:13-14). If such facts were stated by a demon only, we might question their truthfulness; but since they are recorded a number of times by inspiration as well as being mentioned by a demon, then they must be accepted as truth. Fallen angels, demons, and wicked men can and do tell the truth regarding some things. It is the lies they tell which must be rejected and not the truth they may utter along with lies c This was determined by God a number of years before, when Saul rejected Him (v 17-18; 15:26-28; 16:1-13)

d 14th prophecy in 1 Sam. (28:19, fulfilled, 31:1-13). Next, 30:8. This prophecy was by the familiar spirit, which reveals the fact that demons know much in the spirit realm which man does not find out until later except by revelation. Demons in this case knew of the defeat of Israel. No doubt it was an accomplished fact ahead of time between the spirit forces in the heavenlies (note p, Dan. 10:13). It is taught in Dt. 13:1-3 that demons and false prophets can predict some things that are true

2 predictions by the demon:
1 The Lord will deliver Israel with you into the hands of the Philistines
2 Tomorrow you and your sons will die

e Samuel was not in the place Saul went to at death. He was in the compartment of the righteous, whereas Saul went to the compartment of the wicked, a great gulf being between the two places. See Where are the dead? and Hell, p. 620

f This information of his death tomorrow was such a blow to Saul that he fell down to the ground, being overcome with fear (v 20)

g Because of the words of the familiar spirit impersonating Samuel. It must be remembered that the witch or medium was the one through whom this information came to Saul. He did not see or hear anything himself. He merely accepted the message regarding appearance of an old man and what he said to her. See 9 proofs that this was not Samuel, p. 330

h Saul had fasted all day and night up to this point, which was perhaps near midnight, for they came and went back by night (v 8, 25). This proves that fasting in itself does not bring an answer from God

i See 10 acts of the witch of Endor, p. 315

j The witch was practical and used better judgment in facing the future than Saul (v 22-25)

k Thinking he could make the return trip to the army and lead them on the morrow without food shows the extreme desperation of the man without Jehovah in his life during the last hours. It reveals the pitiable state of a backslider facing the end without God and hope of eternal life. Finally, after much persuasion, Saul got up off the ground and sat on a bed, ready to receive food and go through the last day of his life on earth (v 23-25)

l This last night of Saul on earth was full of unusual events. He had inquired regarding where he could find a witch, and when he learned of one about 12 miles away, he set out with his men by night, to find her. She threw herself into a trance by yielding to the familiar spirit which possessed her, then discovered that it was Saul who had come to her; but she went through the seance, receiving the message he sought. Arising from her vision and communication with the demon, the woman finally persuaded Saul to eat. It took several hours for her to kill the calf and prepare the meal, and for Saul to eat and return to the army that same night (v 8-25)

a Achish found no fault with him, but God did, and recorded his failures during this year and 4 months among the enemies of Israel. He had deceived and lied to Achish about his raids and had killed every person who could report to him so Achish did not really know the truth (27:7-12)
b This was God's way of separating David and his men from the Philistines so they would not be forced to fight their own people. Such a thing could not be, if David was to be king over Israel (v 4) c They reasoned that David and his men could turn against them in the thick of the battle and help Israel, and no doubt they reasoned rightly, for it would not be like David to fight against his own people in behalf of a lifelong enemy (v 4)
d Questions 147-149. Next, v 8
e Should not David become reconciled to Saul if he should bring back some of the heads of his Philistine enemies?
f You have favor in my eyes, but not in the eyes of the princes of Philistia (v 6). In view of this, you will have to go back to Ziklag and not with us to war against Israel (v 7)
g Questions 150-151. Next, 30:8
h It makes us wonder just what the strategy of David was here. He may have known that all protest against not being permitted to go along would not cancel the decision of the princes; and so he was making it appear to Achish that he was loyal to him even to the extent of fighting Israel. David had already made him believe that he had raided his own people (27:8-12). Or, he may have actually desired to go along in order to help Israel against the Philistines. Whatever his motive, providence saw to it that he did not go. It was best for him, so he could be received as king by Israel. He was dismissed to go back home (v 8-11)
i A reference perhaps to the 600 Israelite men of Judah, Manasseh, and other tribes that had deserted Saul to go to David (22:1-2; 23:13; 25:13; 30:10; 1 Chr. 12:19-20) j These were part of the people David had made a raid against, as recorded in 27:8-12. Now they invaded Philistia, burned Ziklag and captured the women and children of David and his men (v 1-3). It may be that the people had some knowledge of the ones who had previously invaded their country, or it could be this was only a routine invasion, which was common in those days k Note the effect such loss had upon David and his men (v 4). Not only did they weep, but the men experienced such despair that they spoke of stoning David (v 6). This was averted by inquiring of the Lord and receiving His assurance that they would recover all (v 6-8)

20 acts of Saul in his last few days (28:5)

1 Gathered Israel to battle (v 4)
2 Made camp in Gilboa
3 Saw the host of Philistines (v 5)
4 Became afraid, and his heart greatly trembled answer (v 6)
5 Inquired of the Lord, but got no
6 Spoke to his servants to seek for him a witch to inquire of her (v 7)
7 Disguised himself (v 8)
8 Went to Endor at night, about 12 miles from mount Gilboa
9 Asked her to inquire by the familiar spirit to bring up Samuel (v 8-11)
10 Sware by the Lord not to kill the witch (v 10, 13)
11 Bowed before the evil spirit imitating Samuel (v 14; 1 Chr. 10:13-14)
12 Answered the evil spirit (v 15)
13 Fell straightway on the ground and was sore afraid (v 20) me these days, or these years, and [c]I have found no fault in him since he fell unto me unto this day?

●4 And the princes of the Phi-lis'tines[b] were wroth with him; and the princes of the Phi-lis'tines said unto him, Make this fellow return, that he may go again to his place which thou hast appointed him, and let him not [d]go down with us to battle, lest in the battle he be an adversary to us: [d]for wherewith should he reconcile himself unto his master? [e]should it not be with the heads of these men?

5 Is not this Da'vid, of whom they sang one to another in dances, saying, Saul slew his thousands, and Da'vid his ten thousands?

6 ¶ Then A'chish called Da'vid, and said unto him, Surely, as the LORD liveth, thou hast been upright, and thy going out and thy coming in with me in the host is good in my sight: for I have not found evil in thee since the day of thy coming unto me unto this day: nevertheless [f]the lords favour thee not.

●7 Wherefore now return, and go in peace, that thou displease not the lords of the Phi-lis'tines.

8 ¶ And Da'vid said unto A'chish, [g]But what have I done? and what hast thou found in thy servant so long as I have been with thee unto this day, [h]that I may not go fight against the enemies of my lord the king?

9 And A'chish answered and said to Da'vid, I know that thou art good in my sight, as an angel of God; notwithstanding the princes of the Phi-lis'tines have said, He shall not go up with us to the battle.

10 Wherefore now rise up early in the morning with [i]thy master's servants that are come with thee: and as soon as ye be up early in the morning, and have light, depart.

11 So Da'vid and his men rose up early to depart in the morning, to return into the land of the Phi-lis'tines. And the Phi-lis'tines went up to Jez're-el.

266 CHAPTER 30

45 David avenges Ziklag:
(1) Ziklag destroyed by fire

AND it came to pass, when Da'vid and his men were come to Zik'lag on the third day, that the [j]Am'a-lek-ites had invaded the south, and Zik'lag, and smitten Zik'lag, and burned it with fire;

2 And had taken the women captives, that were therein: they slew not any, either great or small, but carried them away, and went on their way.

3 ¶ So Da'vid and his men came to the city, and, behold, it was burned with fire; and their wives, and their sons, and their daughters, were taken captives.

4 Then Da'vid and the people that were with him [k]lifted up their voice and wept, until they had no more power to weep.

5 And Da'vid's two wives were taken captives, [g]A-hin'o-am the Jez're-el-it-ess, and Ab'i-gail the wife of Na'bal [b]the Car'mel-ite.

(2) David's great distress

6 And Da'vid was [l]greatly distressed; for the people spake of stoning him, because the soul of all the people was grieved, every man for his sons and for his daughters: but Da'vid encouraged himself in the LORD his God.

(3) Answer from God

●7 And Da'vid said to A-bi'a-thar the priest, A-him'e-lech's son, I pray thee, [d]bring me hither the ephod. And A-bi'a-thar brought thither the ephod to Da'vid.

8 [m]And Da'vid enquired at the LORD, saying, [f]Shall I pursue after this troop? shall I overtake them? And he answered him, Pursue: for thou shalt surely overtake them, and without fail recover all.●

(4) David pursues his enemies

9 So Da'vid went, he and the six hundred men that were with him, and came to [n]the brook Be'sor, where those that were left behind stayed.

10 But Da'vid pursued, he and four hundred men: for two hundred abode behind, which were so faint that they could not go over the brook Be'sor.

11 ¶ And they found [h]an E-gyp'tian in the field, and brought him to Da'vid, and gave him bread, and he did eat; and they made him drink water;

12 And they gave him a piece of a cake of figs, and two clusters of raisins: and when he had eaten, his spirit came again to him: for he had eaten no bread, nor drunk any water, three days and three nights.

13 And Da'vid [i]said unto him, To whom belongest thou? and whence art thou? [f]And he said, I am a young man of E'gyp't, servant to an Am'a-lek-ite; and my master left me, because three days agone I fell sick.

14 We made an invasion upon the south of the [k]Cher'e-thites, and upon the coast which belongeth to Ju'dah, and upon the south of [l]Ca'leb; and we burned Zik'lag with fire.
